INGLESIDE RACES.

Closing Days of a Successful Meeting Wherein Many Long-Shots Won—The Events in Detail.

SIXTY-SECOND DAY—FRIDAY, MARCH 5.

The mud horses were right in the hunt this afternoon, and the public picked them all right, four favorites winning out of the seven races run. The surprises were Montgomery and San Marco, the former being as good as 20 to 1 in the betting, San Marco 5½ to 1. Montgomery is a horse recently purchased by Barney Schreiber at the Burns & Waterhouse weeding-out sale and presented to his idolized ex-jockey, Felix Carr. This was the first time the Hanover gelding had run in the colors of his new owner. A curious feature of the race was that Montgomery just beat Yemen, the odds-on favorite, a nose, and Yemen is one of Schreiber's cast-offs. The mile and a half race was won by Argentina, who opened up a daylight gap on her rivals early in the action, but was forced to a drive at the finish. In fact, old Morte Fosse would have won in a couple more strides, so fast was he coming.

In the first, six furlongs, selling, fourteen lined up and got a good start. Lizzie H. went to the front and led by half a length at the half, Riot second, lapped by Tulare. Lizzie H. was a half length to the good at the three-quarters, Tulare second, a length before Franco. Lizzie H. was not headed, and won easily by two lengths from Treachery, who came from sixth place. Tulare third, four lengths further away and a length before Franco. Time, 1:17½. Lizzie H. was at 6 to 5 (played from 2 to 1), Treachery and Tulare (coupled) 3 to 1, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The second race, seven furlongs, selling, had eight starters. Off to a good start, Tar and Tartar led for nearly a furlong. Then San Marco got to the front, leading Tar and Tartar a head at the quarter and half, Doctor G. third at the latter point, a length away. He was a head to the good at the three-quarters, Tar and Tartar three lengths away. San Marco, well-riden, collared Dr. G. near the finish and won by a head, driving, Doctor G. second, a head from Tar and Tartar, who was coming strongest at the finish. Hermanita was fourth, two lengths off. Time, 1:32½. San Marco was at 4 to 1 (5 once), Doctor G. 10, Tar and Tartar 6, Hermanita 7 to 5, others 7 to 200 to 1.

A six-furlong race came next. Applause broke away in front to a poor start, and led by four lengths at the half. Tuxedo second, a length from Cash Day. Nearing the three-quarter pole Applause began to stop and Cash Day to move up very fast. He got up to Applause about eighty yards of the finish, and won driving by a neck. Applause second, sixteen lengths from Tuxedo, who beat Play Boy three. It was a great race for Cash Day, who ran the route in 1:16½. Cash Day was at 4 to 5, Applause even money (played down from 3 to 2), Tuxedo 250 to 1, others 25 to 200.

Four horses lined up in the fourth, one and a half miles. To a good start they ran hunched for about a furlong, then Argentina passed to the front, leading by half a length at the stand, three lengths at the quarter, two and a half at the half, Morte Fosse second. Argentina was four lengths to the good at the three-quarters. Morte Fosse came very fast the last quarter, and forced Argentina to a drive to win by half a length. Morte Fosse second, sixteen lengths before Lohengrin, Julia O. a bad last. Time, 2:41½. Argentina was at 6 to 5, Morte Fosse 14 to 5, Lohengrin 9 to 5 (played from 11 to 5), Julia O. 20 (40 once).

In the fourth, seven furlongs, Gutta Percha was off first to a good start and led Mobalaska one and a half lengths past the quarter, Frank K. third. At the half it was Gutta Percha first by two lengths, Mobalaska and Frank K. heads apart, second and third. The order was unchanged in the run to the homestretch. Here Willie Martin cut Frank K. loose, but he could not catch Gutta Percha, who won handily by one and a half lengths, Frank K. a handy second, four lengths from Mobalaska. Elmer F. was fourth. Time, 1:31. Gutta Percha was at 3 to 1 (played from 4), Frank K. 13 to 5 (played down from 4 to 1), Mobalaska 11 to 5, Elmer F. 5, others 10 to 60 to 1.

A mile race came fifth. To a good start George Palmer showed in front to the first turn. All swung out wide there except Stentor, who saved four or five lengths and got the lead. At the quarter he was half a length in front of Basquill, he two lengths in front of a bunch. Basquill's head was in front of Stentor's at the half, but at the three-quarters Stentor was leading by a small margin. Coming on good and true, he took a decided lead in the homestretch and won handily by two lengths from the driving Barquill, who beat George Palmer half a length, Inflammator and Harold Lindsay following, very close up. Time, 1:45½. Stentor was at 4 to 5, Basquill 3½, Palmer 2½, others 20 to 1.

In the last, five furlongs, they were away to a good start. Fly, first to show, was passed by Yemen near the three-quarters, where Montgomery was looming up dangerous. Fly was beaten at the head of the homestretch, Montgomery joined Yemen half-way down the straight, and in a most exciting drive to the wire Montgomery just landed the money by a scant nose, Yemen sixteen lengths before Fly. Time, 1:02½, a remarkable run in such going. Montgomery was at 15 to 1, Yemen 9 to 10, Fly 6 to 1, others 5 to 40 to 1.

SIXTY-THIRD DAY—SATURDAY, MARCH 6.

In the first, six furlongs, they were off to a good start except the cunning Hymn, who was left. George Miller and The Sinner ran heads apart, at the half, two and one-half lengths before Roy Carruthers. Good Times was last. At the three-quarters it was Miller, Sweet William and Roy Carruthers, heads apart, Good Times one and one-half lengths away. The latter drew up close to Miller in the homestretch, the others dropping back, and when Cash Sloan let the Rosington colt have his head near the finish he shot in a winner by that margin, George Miller ten lengths before Roy Carruthers, he two from Sweet William. Time, 1:18½. Good Times was at 7 to 10, George Miller 6, Sweet William 16 to 5, others 12 to 50 to 1.

The second was at a mile, selling. To a good start D. J. Tobin was taken to the front, the favorite almost to the extreme rear. Tobin led Encino one and one-half lengths at the half, Blue Bell third, at the latter point, another length away. Tobin was still half a length to the good at the three-quarters. Encino second, lapped by Two Cheers and Blue Bell. Two Cheers, on the outside, gradually forged to the fore, and won handily by two lengths from Soniro, seventh at the head of the homestretch. Encino was third, but a head behind Soniro and a head from Blue Bell. Time, 1:49½. Two Cheers was at 2 to 1 (13 to 5 for a time), Soniro 8 to 5, Encino 6 to 1, others 12 to 60.

The third was a mile and a furlong handicap. Can't Dance showed slightly in advance of Lincoln at the quarter, Greyhurst about two lengths away. Greyhurst's head was just a shade in front of Can't Dance's at the half, Lincoln three lengths off. Can't Dance had Greyhurst beaten by the time the homestretch was reached and galloped in a winner by two lengths, Lincoln second, three lengths from Greyhurst. Time, 2:02. Can't Dance was at 6 to 5 (8 to 5 once), Lincoln 5 to 1, Greyhurst 8 to 5, Palomacita 40 to 1.

The Crocker Stakes, half a mile, for two-year-olds, was next. The association added $1,000, entrance $10, $25 additional to start, $200 to the second and $100 to third horse. Miss Rowena, second away to a fair start, sailed away and led by two lengths at the three-quarters, Estro second, as far from Alumnium. Miss Rowena was not headed, but was forced to drive to beat Alumnium a length, and Estro was lapped on Mr. Spreckels' gelding. Time, 0:51½. The B. & W. pair (Miss Rowena and Duckling) were at 3 to 5, Alumnium 6 to 1, Estro 5, others 9 to 50 to 1.

A mile and a quarter hurdle had five starters. Reddington soon went to the front, with Tuxedo his nearest attendant. Both jumped well. Reddington was much the best, and won under a pull by two lengths, Tuxedo second, a block in front of Gov. Budd. Time, 2:24½. Reddington was at 2 to 5, Tuxedo 3½ to 1, Gov. Budd 10, other two at long prices.

The sixth was at a mile. Babe Murphy showed first to a good start. At the quarter it was Babe, Palmerston, Adam Andrew and Basquill, heads apart as named. Adam Andrew, Palmerston and McLight ran heads apart past the half, three lengths before Babe Murphy. Andrew led Palmerston a head at the three-quarters, Basquill a length further away, lapped by McLight. Palmerston drew ahead in the homestretch, and won driving by a length from Babe Murphy, she about four lengths from Collins, who was last at the three-quarters. Time, 1:47½. Palmerston was at 6½ to 1 (15 at one time) Babe Murphy 2 to 1, Collins 3 (4 once), Basquill 3, others 8 to 150 to 1.

The seventh and last race of the present meeting at Ingleside was at seven furlongs, with four starters. To a poor start Dunboy, led Salisbury by a small margin past the quarter, where David was last. The latter began moving up near the half, and three furlongs from home had "daylighted" Dunboy. It was no race from this out, and David won pulled up to a common canter by six lengths, Dunboy, hustled along a bit at the end, second, a length before Salisbury, who beat Simmons a head for the show. Time, 1:33½. David was at 1 to 3, Dunboy 8 to 1, Simmons 30, Salisbury 6 to 1.

OAKLAND RACES.

Racing Begins Anew Under Auspicious Circumstances—How the Events Were Run.

FIFTY-SECOND DAY—MONDAY, MARCH 8.

The re-opening at Oakland was a success from every point of view, the racing being excellent and the attendance far above the ordinary. Sixteen hooks cut in in the big ring and did a regular Oklahoma land office business. Favorites were successful four times out of six. From a spectacular standpoint the third race, won by Morte Fosse, was the best. Perseus gave the old horse all he could do to win by half a length. Salvable won the $1,500 Gunst Stake away off by his lonely, Cash Day et al. being nothing like a match for the son of Salvador and Lydia. Double Quick's win was a very close one, so close that very many not in position to see the finish were sure that Judge Denny had won by from a neck to three parts of a length. They were mistaken, however, as Double Quick came again after tiring and won by a nose in the very last stride. David took the last race rather easily from Summertime, Midnight and Latah. Summertime was clearly in need of a work-out and Midnight, backed by his wise players as if it were all over, finished up third, quitting in the final furlong.

In the first, six furlongs, for three-year-olds, they got away to a good start, all but Siegfried, who was slow to get under way. At the half it was Sweet William first by a length, under a pull, Roselle second, Siegfried third and coming fast. Sweet William now drew away, leading by five lengths at the final turn, Siegfried second. Schreiber's recent purchase was not headed and won with ease by three lengths, Altamex finishing very strong and getting the place from Siegfried by four lengths, Roselle was beaten but a head for the show. Time, 1:18½. Sweet William was at 7 to 5, Altamex 2½, Siegfried 6 to 1, Lost Girl 4½, others 15 to 100 to 1.

The second race was for two-year-olds, three and one-half furlongs. To a fair start St. Philip dashed to the front, attended closest by Jim Brownell. At the three-quarters it was St. Philip first by three lengths Jim Brownell second, four from Swanbilda. St. Philip took it easy, and not headed, won by three lengths from Jim Brownell, who was one and one-half in front of Swanbilda, Lona Marie a good fourth. Time, 0:44½. St. Philip was at 7 to 5, Jim Brownell 3 to 1, Swanbilda 20 (backed down from 60), Eroica 6, Moringa 7, others 12 to 100 to 1.

A mile and an eighth race brought seven to the post. To a good start Doctor G. led past the quarter by three lengths and to the half by two, Persens and Morte Fosse following. Can't Dance was carried wide on the first turn. Doctor G. was done for three furlongs from home and Morte Fosse assumed command. Perseus was driven hard to catch Morte Fosse, who lapsed out and won by half a length, Persens second, four lengths from the eased-up Can't Dance. Time, 1:5½. Morte Fosse was at 2½ to 1 (backed from 3), Persens 16 to 5, Can't Dance even money (backed from 2 to 1), Doctor G. 7, others 60 to 300 to 1.

The Gunst Selling Stakes, one and one-sixteenth miles, came next. The stake was $1,500, of which $250 to second and $150 to third. They were away to a good start, Salvable taking the track and leading Cash Day four lengths at the quarter, Loydal three parts of a length further away. At the half it was Salvable first by three and a half lengths, Cash Day second, with Salvation close up. Salvable led by four lengths into the homestretch, and won by that distance easily, Cash Day, driven out, second, seven lengths from Salvation, on whom Loydal was just lapped. Time, 1:50½. Salvable was at 4 to 5 (7 to 5 once), Cash Day 8 to 5, Salvation 7 and Loydal 30 to 1.

The fifth, one mile, selling, bad eight starters. To a good start Ransom led by a length passing the quarter, Road Runner, Frank Joubert and Double Quick heads apart as named. Double Quick soon thereafter got through, leading by a head at the half, Judge Denny second, as far from Ransom, at whose heels came Road Runner. Double Quick was three lengths in front of Denny at the three quarters and drew away still further in the homestretch, but Denny came very fast, passing Double Quick about forty yards of the finish. The latter came again, however, and won by a short head in the last stride, Judge Denny second, lapped by Collins. Time, 1:46. Double Quick 7 to 5, Judge Denny 6, Collins 5, Frank Joubert 100.

The last race, six furlongs, selling, was first to show, but was not a very exciting race, the old fellow leading half and into the homestretch. David was not headed, and lengths, Summertime second, as far from light. Time, 1:17. David was at 2 to 1 (played from 2 to 1) Summertime 3 to 1, Latah 200 to 1.

FIFTY-THIRD DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 9.

The first race brought fourteen to the post to run five and a half furlongs. To a good start, made quickly, Bourbon went out in front. Pecksniff was second to show. At the half Bourbon was first by three lengths, Iron Jacket second, with Pecksniff at his heels. Bourbon was two lengths to the good at the three-quarters, Iron Jacket second, a head before Pecksniff, latter under a pull. Pecksniff came to the front in the final eighth, and Marty Bergen took no chances, riding him out to a six-length victory amid great cheers. The cheering began when he was over a sixteenth from home and did not cease until he had gotten out of sight after weighing in. Iron Jacket was second, two lengths from Monterey, who had come from the clouds. Time, 1:15. Pecksniff was at 3 to 1, Iron Jacket 20, Monterey 30. Eventide 5, Ahi P. and Franco 7, Bourbon 8, others 10 to 100 to 1.

The second event, half a mile, for two-year-olds, had eight starters. To a good start Col. Dan showed first, Valencianna second and Espirando next. Valencianna and Col. Dan ran close together to the homestretch, three lengths in front of Morana, who came through in the last furlong and won with ease by three lengths, Col. Dan an easy second, one and a half lengths from Espirando, on whom Valencianna was lapped. Time, 0:53. Morana was at evens (3 to 5 once), Col. Dan 3 to 1 (opened at 8 to 5) Espirando 15, On Gus Nita 4, others 8 to 30 to 1.

The third was at six furlongs, selling. To a good start Roselle and Col. Wheeler ran in close order to the half, with Mrs. Shade a length off, third. Wheeler was half a length to the good turning for home, Roselle second, a length from Mrs. Shade, who fell back in the homestretch, then came like a shot. She joined Col. Wheeler about sixty yards of the finish, and in a hot drive Jones landed Col. Wheeler a winner by a head, Mrs. Shade second, four lengths in front of Roselle, who beat Jack Martin two lengths. Time, 1:21. Col. Wheeler was at 1 to 2, Mrs. Shade 15 to 1, Roselle 25, Encino 6, others 20 to 100 to 1.

The fourth was at a mile. To a good send-off Dunboy went to the front, closely attended by old Logan. They were heads apart at the quarter, Logan a head in front at the half, Aquinas one and one-half lengths off. Dunboy led by a neck at the three-quarters and up to the final sixteenth, where he was beaten, Aquinas then coming on to a handy victory by three parts of a length, Logan second, five lengths from Dunboy, he a dozen in front of Basquil. Time, 1:50. Aquinas was at 1 to 4, Logan 20 to 1, Dunboy 4, Basquil 25 to 1.

A seven-furlong race came fifth. To a good send-off Tulare was first at the quarter by a head, Moreno second, lapped by St. Distaff. The latter, Tulare, Adam Andrew and Moreno ran heads apart as named past the half, a block in front of Atticus. Adam Andrew was first by one and a half lengths at the three-quarters, St. Distaff second, as far from Moreno. Atticus turned close coming into the homestretch, saving four or five lengths and looking dangerous half-way down. He was soon anchored in the mud, however, and Adam Andrew came on to a handy two-length victory, Tulare in a hot drive beating St. Distaff out half a length, Atticus a distant fourth. Time, 1:35. Adam Andrew was at 3 to 1 (opened at 7 to 5), Tulare 5 to 1, St. Distaff 4 to 5 (opened at 7 to 5), Atticus 6 to 1, Moreno 40 and Jay Wheeler 150 to 1.

The last race was at six furlongs. After a break and a recall they got away to an excellent send off. Peixotto, one of the last away, led by half a length at the half, with Sallie Cliequot second, clear of Mainstay. Peixotto was soon thereafter joined by Sallie Cliequot, and the pair ran as a team into the homestretch, with Mainstay at their heels. Mainstay made a closer turn than the other two, and assuming command over a sixteenth of a mile from home, won handily by two lengths, Sallie Cliequot second, four lengths before Senator Grady, who beat Peixotto a head. Time, 1:19. Mainstay was at 15 to 5, Sallie Cliequot even money, Senator Grady 5 to 1, Peixotto 3, others 25 to 100.

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10.

The first race was at five and a half furlongs, for three-year-olds. To a good start Fanny S. showed first and Fortunata second. Fortunata led Fanny half a length at the half, Major Fludd third, another half-length away. There was no change in the run to the homestretch. Here Fortunata drew away until he was leading by ten lengths, and, eased up, he won by three lengths, Defender lasting long enough to beat the fast-moving Lena a head, Major Fludd fourth, a length further off. Time, 1:11. Fortunata was at 3 to 5 (opened at 9 to 10), Defender 5 to 1, Lena 15, Latah 5, others 15 to 300 to 1.

In the second, half a mile, for two-year-olds, The Cheat showed first to a good start, but was passed by Hermoso when he had gone a sixteenth of a mile, the latter leading him three lengths at the three-quarters and as far in the homestretch, but stopping badly. The Cheat assumed command half-way down and won in a canter by three lengths from Little T. G., coming strongly, Thorpe third, another length away, and three lengths in front of Hermoso. Time, 0:50. The Cheat was at 8 to 5 (played from 2 to 1), Little T. G. 15 to 1, Thorpe 13 to 5, Hermoso 2 to 1, others 20 to 100 to 1. The third was at a mile. They were off to a fair start, except Benamela, who was last and rather tangled up. At the quarter it was Applause and Sir Philip half a length apart, Benamela two and one-half lengths further away. Applause led Benamela a scant length at the half, Sir Philip third, one and one-half lengths further off. In the homestretch it was Applause first by half a length, Benamela second, three lengths from Lobengula. The latter got to the post over a sixteenth from home, Benamela trying to cut in toward the inner rail and getting an all-around poor ride. Lobengula went on and won handily by three lengths, Applause second, three lengths before Benamela, who was two from Walter J. Time, 1:44. It was a very bad race for such a horse as Benamela to run. Lobengula was at 5 to 1 (played down from 7), Applause 3 to 1, Benamela 5 to 5.

The Piedmont Handicap, seven furlongs, came next. The purse was $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. Peril got to the fore early, and led Caspar three lengths past the half, Lincoln at Caspar's heels. Peril was done for by the time the homestretch was reached, and Caspar appeared to be winning. Lincoln made two runs at Caspar, and the second time got up and won driving by three parts of a length, Caspar second, half a dozen lengths before Instigator. Time, 1:31. Lincoln was at 5 to 1 (backed from 8), Caspar even money, Instigator 25 (40 once), Yankee Doodle 4 to 5. Colorado 5 (15 once), Hallelnah 50 and Peril 50 to 1.

The fifth, five and a half furlongs, had nine starters. Siegfried easily got to the fore, and led a bunch around to the homestretch by from two to three lengths. Mercutio came like a shot the last furlong and catching Siegfried about a sixteenth from home, bumped him, then came on and won handily by half a length, Siegfried second, five lengths before Queen Nubia. Time, 1:11. Mercutio was at 8 to 1, Siegfried 5 (7 once), Queen Nubia 4, Woodland Belle 5 to 5, others 6 to 20 to 1.

In the last event, a six-furlong race, they got a good start except Woodchopper. Candor, third away, led Red Will a head past the half, while at the three-quarters it was Candor first by a length, Miss Ross second, a head before O'Fleeta. Hazard, on the outside, was coming very fast around his field. Miss Ross, led half-way down the homestretch, but Hazard passed one after another, got up in the last few yards, and beat her out three parts of a length very cleverly, Candor, third, lapped on Miss Ross, and a length before Edge-mont. Time, 1:17. Hazard was at 13 to 5 (backed from 4 to 1), Miss Ross 2 to 1 (3 once), Candor 5, Fortuna 3, Woodchopper 6 (backed from 12), others 15 to 300 to 1.

FIFTY-FIFTH DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 11.

The first race was at a mile, selling. To a fair start for all but Grandenzia, Woodchopper assumed command, leading Sooladain by about two lengths past the quarter and half, Coda third, lapped on Sooladain. Coda went up second nearing the three quarters, where Woodchopper stopped in the homestretch and Coda came on and won handily by two lengths from the badly-ridden Doctor G., who was as far from the unfortunate Grandenzia. Woodchopper wound up fourth. Time, 1:43. Coda was at 3 to 1, Doctor G. 5 to 5 (2 to 1 once), Grandenzia 12, Philip H. 4, Woodchopper 7, others 25 to 100 to 1.

A half-mile race for two-year-olds came next. To a good start Daisy showed first, On Gus Nita second, Dalion third. Gypceiver, sixth away, led by a head at the final turn, and drawing away in the homestretch, won ridden out by three lengths, Rey Salazar in a hard drive beating Moringa half a length for place. Morana and Jim Brownell showed no speed. Time, 0:50. Gypceiver was at 8 to 1, Rey Salazar 12, Moringa 20, Morana 7 to 10, Jim Brownell 2 to 1, others 12 to 80 to 1.

Third on the programme was a mile selling race. Off to an excellent start, Roselle, third away, soon showed first, leading Encino half a length at the quarter, two lengths at the half and three at the three-quarters, Tempestuous lapped on Encino all the way. Hermanita, fifth into the homestretch, came very fast in the last furlong, and getting up to Roselle about forty yards of the finish, won driving by a neck, Roselle second, two lengths before Tar and Tartar, who in turn beat Tempestuous three. Time, 1:44. Hermanita at 11 to 5, Roselle 5 to 1 (6 for some time), Tar and Tartar 4, Tempestuous 3 (played from 4), others 12 to 150 to 1.

The fourth race was at a mile and a furlong. They broke to a good start after McLight had broken the barrier, and Perens led McLight by nearly a length passing the stand, by over a length at the quarter and by two lengths at the half. At the latter point Morte Fonse joined McLight, but was cut off a little further on, Perens leading by about two lengths into the stretch and winning by about two handily, Morte Fonse second, driven on over three lengths in front of McLight. Time, 1:56. Perens was at 3 to 5 (4 to 5 once), Morte Fonse 4 to 1, McLight 3 to 5 and Ransom 25 to 1.

The fifth race was at fifteen-sixteenths of a mile. To a good start, after quite a delay, occasioned principally by Devault, Simmons at once assumed the lead, attended closely by Caliente past the quarter. Going the next quarter Caliente, dead "short," began dropping back, Double Quick running up second. Simmons turned for home about three lengths to the good, Double Quick second and Morven third. Double Quick came very strong the last furlong, but Simmons' rider went to work on his mount, and taking no chances, won by two lengths, Double Quick second, three and a half before Morven. Time, 1:36. Simmons was at 4 to 1, Double Quick 3, Morven 25, Caliente 5 to 5 (played from 9 to 5), others 10 to 300 to 1.

The last race of the afternoon was at six furlongs, and for three-year-olds. To a good start Roltaire showed first and Orsic II second. Eta H. fifth away, was leading a length by the time the half was reached, by four lengths into the homestretch (where Lost Girl took second place from Orsic), and won easily by three, Lost Girl second, four in front of Orsic II, he ten from Roltaire. Orsic was clearly in need of some work. The time was 1:15. Eta H. was at 13 to 5 (4 to 1 once), Lost Girl 7 to 1, Orsic 9 to 10, Roltaire 5 to 1, others 200.

GREAT SENSATION IN TURF CIRCLES.

Caused by the Resignation of President A. B.

Spreckels, W. S. Leake, Directors Hobart and Crocker, and the Expected

Withdrawal of Others From the P. C. J. C.

Like lightning from a clear sky came the announcement last night of the resignation of A. B. Spreckels as President of the P. C. J. C., also that of Secretary W. S. Leake, while Directors Walter S. Hobart and Henry J. Crocker are to have their's tendered to the board to-day, M. F. Tarpey, now in Mexico, is also expected to leave the directorate of the famous and flourishing organization at an early date. Along with the resignation of A. B. Spreckels from the club comes the announcement that his stock is for sale at a discount. As matters look now, Joseph Ullman and Ed Corrigan will purchase his interest in the institution, if indeed the sala has not already been consummated. Mr. Spreckels has contemplated retiring for over a week past, having opinions as to how affairs should be conducted at variance with those of his associates from Chicago, Messrs. Corrigan and Ullman, and as there did not appear to be any likelihood of effecting a compromise, the resignation and complete retirement from the club of which he has been the head followed.

At a meeting of the directors yesterday Mr. Spreckels handed in his resignation, and insisting upon its acceptance at once. The board did not desire his retirement to be so abrupt, but argument proved unavailing, and it will probably be accepted to-day. Mr. S. would leave the management in the hands of those that he was at variance with, to conduct as they saw fit, and, further, asserted that his racing stock would be sacrificed, if necessary, to the extent of $30,000, and he would retire from the turf. Immediately thereafter Secretary Sam Leake resigned, in connection with the resignation coming the statement to the directors that he did so with a kindly feeling for all of them, and giving as a reason that he had been given a splendid position with the firm of John D. Spreckels & Brother.

Later Mr. Leake stated that he had in his pocket the resignation of W. S. Hobart and Henry Crocker as directors, and would present them at today's meeting of the board. Mr. Tarpey would also send in his, leaving but two directors on the board—Senator S. N. Andrews and Ed Corrigan.

Mr. Corrigan, when interviewed last night, said that there was nothing in the story as to the disagreement. "When we bought the Ingleside track the money market was not in the best shape, and we gave a note, and when it became due Mr. Spreckels took it up without consulting us. Last week Mr. Spreckels said that he would like to have the money paid, and we promptly raised the money, $73,000, which will be turned over to Mr. Spreckels to-day in return for the mortgage which he holds. The money was there yesterday in a certified check.

"Everything was satisfactory to the President, who then stated that his business interests were so extensive that he could not spare the time he had devoted to racing, and he would like to resign. He was assured by all the Directors present that everything he had done officially had been heartily indorsed, and that we hoped he would reconsider his determination, even if he could not give up so much time and attention. Mr. Spreckels promised to consider the matter, and every one parted amicably without any feeling except the best in the world. My opinion certainly was that Mr. Spreckels will not sever his connection with us.

No sensation like this has ever been known in America, in all probability. Mr. Spreckels has been the head of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club since its inception, and it was largely due to his efforts that beautiful Ingleside was fitted up to its present scale of magnificence and such high-class racing given in California as to challenge the admiration of all lovers of the sport of kings in America. The retiring Secretary, W. S. Leake, has gained for himself and the club he virtually managed a host of friends. The aptitude he showed at a business entirely new to him and the innovations introduced during his management stamp him not only as an energetic and persevering official, but one possessing a mind far above the ordinary. There will probably be many changes made in the list of employees, and it seems to be settled that Harry Kuhl, ex-Secretary at Hawthorne, will be Mr. Leake's successor. The changes will be duly chronicled in this journal, and the affairs of the great racing club of the Coast will be watched with interest by the host of people interested in such matters in this part of the world.

Facts Are Facts.

The facts are that no matter how carefully you groom and feed your horses, they will get out of condition sooner or later. Stall feed contains no tonic properties such as a horse would seek when on pasture, and if horseman take our advice they will see that a liberal amount of Manhattan Stock Food, Red Ball Brand, is mixed with their feed. We know of horsemen that have been feeding this food for the past 12 years, with success and profit, and in every case it has given entire satisfaction. The Drs. Masero, Egan, Creely, Archibald, Spencer, Morison, Wadams and the best horsemen of America recommend it. This brand of food regulates the bowels, improves the appetite, destroys milkworms, bots etc., cures cough, distemper, hidebound, strengthens the kidneys, conditions horses, cures and prevents colic and produces a handsome glossy coat.

Success With Spavin and Ringbone.

HEBRON, N. Dak., Dec. 10, 1894.

The Lawrence-Williams Co., Cleveland, O.

I have used your Caustic Balsam with good success both for spavin and ringbone, both cases being over one year's standing. I also used the Balsam for swellings of different kinds with good result.

D. C. Walker, Baltimore, Md., says: I am using "Absorbina" on a very valuable trotter. So far it has been good. W. H. Fleisher, Brownwood, Texas, says: "Absorbina" has proved very satisfactory and shall recommend it in all cases that come under my observation for Winchells.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

INASMUCH as millions of people are now cognizant of the "big event" to be decided in Cerson next Wednesday, every prominent newspaper in the country devoting a large amount of space to chronicle the preparatory movements of the principals, and, other matters, major and minor, relating to the affair, I also am inclined to have something to say. Mainly for the purpose of justifying the action of the Nevada Legislature in passing the bill governing glove-hoxing contests and its Governor who gave it his sanction and made it law.

For very many years I have cherished the belief that the true way to regulate all kinds of sport, at least these departments of sport which many people reprehend by licensing and with conditions attached to the license which will be a safeguard, one obstacle in the way of misuse.

In regard to this particular question it must appear to thinking people who can overcome former impressions, and the pressure of the multitude who ere in opposition, after due consideration, that no great harm can come from legalizing the exhibition of two men in a glove-boxing contention.

Similar shows all over the country with the difference that some of them are restricted to a certain number of rounds, though in gymnasiums the contestants can box from morning till night if so inclined.

Not at all surprising that the fights of former days awakened the most determined hostility. Even the few quotations elsewhere will show abhorrent brutality and the instances, some worse, some nearly as bad, so numerous that a volume could be filled with them.

Compare the fight between Morrissey and Sullivan, in fact any of the big fights of the past, with that between Corbett and Jackson, or any of the glove contests since that kind of fighting was substituted for bare knuckled pommelling, and the difference is so great that the most virulent denouncer of modern practices cannot fail to admit that the most serious objections have been overcome.

Under legal guardianship the affair will, without doubt, be conducted in a manner which will be as free from reprehensible features as if it were a political convention or any other large gathering of people. In place of the platoon of prize-fighters clearing the track for Fashion and Boston (and the best these doughty knights of hardened fists could do then was only a narrow passage way for the horses to finish the heat) duly qualified officers, deputy sheriffs, constables, and back of them everyone connected with the affair. Then to frustrate the crooks who may gather (though the large expense attending the journey from the head-centers of the rogues is a partial guard) Pinkerton men from all the large towns will be in attendance. Safe to promise that it will be an orderly assembly, and though there may be high excitement when the champions are engaged even the evidence thereof will be kept in the due bounds, and no greater tumult than tokens of Applause.

PROOF.—The claim made in another article that the old-time prize-fighting was different, in very many respects, from what may be termed the boxing contention of the present day, can be amply verified, and it is also within bounds to say that former practices were the cause of determined opposition which would not have been raised by modern exhibitions of the "manly art." Compare the account of the Morrissey-Sullivan fight, which took place 103 miles from New York, on the Harlem Railroad, Boston Four Corners, October 12, 1853, with any of the contentions which have come off here in the past twenty or more years, and it will not be difficult to come to a conclusion. For instance: "Round 4. This was a terrible round. Sullivan, cool and calculating, went at his men determinedly, and succeeded in planting three blows in succession upon his adversary's sore spot, without a return. (At this stage of the fight, Morrissey's face exhibited the most revolting appearance imaginable—his eye was dreadfully swollen and the blood was flowing in a perfect stream from each nostril). 100 to 75 offered on Sullivan, etc., etc." The betting opened at 100 to 80 on Morrissey, but after the 30th round $100 to $50 on Sullivan.

"Round 32. Sullivan commenced at the face and Morrissey countered him; several head counter hits were exchanged. Then Sullivan broke away and put in three or four smacks of Morrissey's face, as he followed him and fell. It was a sickening sight to see Morrissey at the end of this round—the blood gushing in streams from nose, mouth and a half-dozen gashes on his face. The left side of Sullivan's head was very large."

At the end of the 36th round Morrissey's "knees shook and his hands were low and his mind bewildered."

"Round 37 and last. Sullivan came to the scratch very fresh, and opened at once on Morrissey's face, hitting and getting away. Morrissey followed him wildly and at last succeeded in throwing his arm around Sullivan's neck, and, getting him back against the ropes, lifted Sullivan entirely off the ground, Sullivan keeping his feet drawn up meanwhile. The seconds of both parties now rushed to their men, and shut out for a time the view of what was going on. In a moment afterwards the seconds were fighting among themselves. Sullivan was striking Gardner, and Wilson was fighting with O'Donnell. Morrissey was next seen on his knees, waiting for his seconds to lift him up. The ring was then filled by outsiders, and before they were put out the referee had decided that Morrissey had won the fight."

The referee would not give a reason in the ring for his decision, but afterwards stated to a reporter that Sullivan was taken out of the ring before he gave his decision, which was false.

The concluding paragraph of the account is: "It was perhaps fortunate that the fight terminated at the point it did, otherwise we might probably have had a repetition of the Lilly and McCoy affair (McCoy was killed in the ring) judging from appearances, as the blood streamed from Morrissey's wounds, and nearly choking him every instant, and had to be taken from his throat with an instrument in a coagulated state."

There was a sequence to this battle which is not generally known, at least a portion of the story. Morrissey told a close friend, who was my informant, that had the battle been given to Sullivan he (Morrissey) would have sunk into a "dock loafer," but stimulated by the victory, and others attracted by the heroic gameness displayed assisted him, so that in time he was elected to Congress and showed marked ability in a working capacity. Sullivan came to California, got into the hands of the Vigilantes and committed suicide in the San Francisco jail.

By the way, Charles Duane, who died here a few years ago, was the first man who took Morrissey in charge. Morrissey came to New York from Troy, where he worked in an iron foundry, got in a fight with a gang of city toughs, who beat him nearly to death. Duane (or Dutch Charlie as he was then called) noting his unflinching courage, endurance, readiness and capacity to stand punishment, took care of him until he recovered. A big difference between the California Duane shuffling through the streets, just able to put one foot before the other, his head thrown back and body oscillating, and the stalwart, handsome man who was one of the "terrors" of the big city to those who opposed him.

Only during the last few years of his life, however, that he was in this sad plight, as he was equally as noted here for his good looks as he was in his early manhood the other side of the continent.

NEVADA LAW.—Our neighbors on the other side of the Sierras are receiving a vigorous castigation, a large portion of the press and pulpit applying the lash, the alleged crime, licensing prize-fighting.

In differing with these inquisitors I do not feel as though I was on the wrong side, and have full faith that it will not be very long until quite a proportion of people will agree in the proposition that so long as there is no violation of the purely moral law it is better to guard by license, and, consequently secure governmental supervision, than prohibition.

In the old days fighting for a prize was a very different affair from the present boxing with gloves.

The first named was nearer akin to the contests in the Roman Amphitheatre, the second to the Olympian practice. Bare fists roughened and hardened by applications which produced that effect while far less dangerous than the deadly cestus were more potent to injure than padded gloves, the latter being more after the pattern of the straps of leather encircling the wrists and hands of the Grecian boxer. Then while the wooden amphitheater at Carson is far from being a counterpart of the magnificent Coliseum, there is a still wider difference between it and the arena where Hyer and Sullivan fought.

Descriptions, worded and pictorial, have made thousands of people familiar with the Nevada arrangement, a couple of sentences will give an idea of the contest.

"Finally a landing was effected at Rock Point, and trudging through the snow a foot deep, a house was reached, where all found refuge and good fires. The ring was then formed with pine hillets and the topgallant halyards of the smacks, after which the snow was cleared away and a suitable arena completed."

Even that was preferable to some other locations where "Champion battles" were decided, as there was a restricted company as another quotation will show.

"A rat having been smelt on Tuesday, the principal backers of the men, seconds, bottle holders, and about a couple of a hundred of the right sort embarked on two oyster smacks."

In another fight the ring was surrounded by hundreds of toughs ready to take a hand, and at the Morrisson-Sullivan imbroglio the ring was broken into and a general melee resulted.

Not at all surprising that the whole community should demand the suppression of such brutal exhibitions and the present opposition is largely due to the obloquy of the past in place of the present day features.

Comparatively a harmless spectacle. Not more so than a bicycle race when the number of contestants render collisions nearly inevitable, and decidedly more humane than football.

Two men in perfect health and in admirable condition to endure the fatigue and whatever punishment may be inflicted; so nearly matched in skill and in all the other requirements that the danger of serious injury is reduced to the lowest point, and then the padded gloves while competent to blacken eyes, split the lips, or even put the recipient of a hard knock on the chin or other vulnerable spot, "to sleep" for a few minutes, a bagatelle in comparison with the hardened, corrugated fists of the oldtime fighters.

Rough as a majority of them were, they were ready to lend a hand to keep a crowd in check as was shown at the Fashion and Boston race in 1842.

It was estimated that from fifty to seventy thousand spectators and the nearness of course to New York gave the opportunity for a "hard lot of customers" to be a part of the multitude. The account states:

"For a time it seemed impossible for the march to take place at all. A crowd of loafers make a rush up the stairs leading to the Club Stand, but they were summarily ejected. At length Yankee SULLIVAN, JEROLYMAN RYNAS, and several other distinguished members of THE FANCY, undertook to clear the course, which they did in an incredibly short time, by organizing a party of their friends, who formed in a line, with clasped hands, quite across the track, and marched from one end to the other, thereby driving outside of the gate every person without a hedge. Of course there were among this mob several very ugly customers but Yankee Sullivan had only to 'let fly with his right,' or Jerolyman gives any one of them 'a teaser on his smeller' to fix the business."

Their day is gone, however, and every person must admit, that the genteel pugilism of the present is a great improvement over the bloody boxing of the past.

* * *

EXCEEDING REGRET.—Since the slaughter of the Pacific Coast Blood Horse Association nothing has occurred in connection with the California Turf which I regret as poignantly as the resignation of the president of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, Mr. A. B. Spreckels, and the statement that the vice-president, secretary and the California directors will also resign.

There is some consolation for the death of the P. C. B. H. A. as it is altogether unlikely that the two magnificent racecourses which now adorn both sides of the bay, would have been constructed under other conditions than those which governed.

I cannot see any compensation, however, for the withdrawal of the popular element of the P. C. J. C. and there are good reasons to fear that the effect will be in a measure disastrous.

It may be that some difference of opinion regarding the business management is the cause of the trouble, and while that is had enough, until there is reliable information, the public will ascribe the rupture to a far more serious disagreement.

At this time I can only lament that the shadow has fallen, the mere announcement in the daily papers, this morning, Thursday, being my only information.

With the hope that the umbra may be averted, and that there will again be sunshine, will await further development.

Far from being a pessimist, as my past course will show, I can not overcome gloomy forebodings over the withdrawal of so many Californians from the highly popular club.

Ormonde.

Ormonde has not been very productive in the stud since Mr. W. O'B. Macdonough brought him from South America and located him at Menlo Park, California, but for three years he was close to the failure line. In 1894 he had one colt, Orestes, and in 1895 one filly, Rosomonde, out of imp. Fairy Rose, by Kieher. In 1896 he had two colts and two fillies, and this spring nine mares are fertile to him. His condition has been improved by intelligent treatment. A writer says:

When Mr. Macdonough engaged James McDonnell, formerly in charge of the stallions at Rancho del Paso, to superintend his stud farm and the handling of Ormonde in particular, he made an excellent selection, and there cannot be a doubt that to McDonnell's experienced care the change already brought about is mainly due. The horse is no longer coddled and stuffed like a prize ox, but is given feed and exercise, each in rational and suitable quantities, with the result that he is as fit and well as he can be, not gross, but clean and lusty, as a stallion needs to be to do himself full justice. Ormonde is now 14 years of age, and therefore, if all goes well with him, he still has a moiety of his natural life before him. His own brother, Orelia, is expected to face the starter for the three-year-old classic races in England this year, and, if he should distinguish himself, it will reflect favorably on his great relative in California. It has been my good fortune never to have lost sight of Ormonde since I saw him win the Derby at Epsom, save for the short time which he spent in South America; and if the enthusiasm which his own individuality compels in me, sustained by personal acquaintance with his sire, Beud Or, his peerless dam, Agnes, and his famous sons, Orme and Goldfinch, should in the near future be enhanced by one or more of his get, born and reared within my view in this beautiful State, there will for me have been more than reward for my studies and experience of the thoroughbred horse as existing in our times.

It is gratifying to learn that a horse of the renown of Ormonde, and who cost his present owner $150,000, is rising above the suspicion of impotence. You cannot keep a stallion as you would a stall-fed ox without impairing his vigor. Diet and exercise are necessary to the preservation of health. Mr. Macdonough deserves success. No other man that we can recall would have put so much money in a stallion, especially so far from home. After purchase he had to take the risks of a voyage from South America to the United States and of a railroad journey across the continent.

BECAUSE of the love for the horse, the excitement attending breeding, the element of chance and the hope of realizing, this industry has drifted out of the hands of the farmers into centers of breeding establishments. The past two years have practically closed the doors of a great majority of these and it is well now to emphasize the fact that the farmer is the natural horse breeder, the one best fitted for the work and prepared to grow colts at least expense. It is removed from the breeding establishments. It is fortunate for the farm and farmer that this is so, because of the many factors entering into the problem. Back to the farm the breeding of horses is to go, and conducted there upon sound business principles it is to be one of the best lines of stock breeding to follow.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

MONROE SALISBURY is investigating some mining properties at Mercur, U. S.

OHIO now boasts three of the very greatest sons of George Wilkes—Goy Wilkes, Wilton and Simmons.

D. B. STEWART has bought the stallion Roswood from Sam Crowell, Roswood is by Eros, dam Meggie E, 2:19½, by Nutwood.

Don't forget the colt stakes advertised by the P. C. T. H. B. Association in this issue. Every horseman should make an entry.

The sale of Dr. Powell Reeves' fancy bred trotting stock at Portland, Oregon, next Monday, will attract a large crowd of buyers.

RICHARD HAYES, starter at the Ingleside racetrack, has been engaged to drive the horses at Palo Alto this year. He will have some good material to handle.

SENATOR McCARTY, of Brooklyn, who bought Fred Kohl, 2:12½, and Fred S. Moody, 2:14, at the San Mateo sale, will have them raced on the Grand Circuit.

IRA RAMSDALL will send his choice mare, Luella (dam of Prince Ira 2:19½) by Sultan—dam Ella 2:27 (dam of Saladin P. 2:05½), by Vermont, to be mated with Boodle 2:12½.

A GENTLEMAN'S road race is to be one of the features of the meeting at Overland Park, Denver. The race will be to wagon end no horse competing in other races during the meeting will be eligible.

WHAT is the breeding of Maximilian, sire of Colton Maid 2:24½, that was the first California trotter to enter the charmed circle in the United States this year. She won handily at San Bernardino last week.

MR. E. F. GREFF of Dublin, formerly with Blake, Moffitt & Towne of San Francisco, is now handling trotting horses and is the owner of some of the best bred colts in America some of Directum 2:05½ and Direct 2:05½.

PALO ALTO STOCK FARM has booked to the great Boodle, 2:12½, their hay mare Rosemont, by Piedmont, 2:17½, dam Beautiful Bells, 2:29½. Rosemont is the dam of Montrose (3), 2:13; Sweet Rose (1), 2:23½; Mezzalten, 2:26½.

ED A. TIPTON has given it as his opinion that the match races arranged for two and three-year-olds by Marcus Daly and E. H. Herriman should be trotted over one of the good mile tracks rather than over the half-mile ring at Goshen.

DR. J. R. CURNOW, chairman of the Board of Health of San Jose, lost by death last week a beautiful filly sired by Iran Alto 3 2:09½ dam Fanny (dam of Claudius 3, 2:24½), by Menlo 2:21½. The doctor has bred the aforesaid mare to Boodle 2:12½.

DID you ever hear of a successful merchant who locked his goods up in an alley and then waited for the public to search for him. If you own a first-class stallion, the only successful way to make him a breed winner is to tell the horse public about him in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN.

THE question was raised in New York in regard to Goy Wilkes' prepotency and his value as a sire. We are collecting data about this end will, in our next issue, give facts and figures to prove that his percentage of mares got in final last year is as large if not larger than any other stallion in California.

A PERUSAL of the 1896 catalogue just issued by Palo Alto farm shows that the knife has always been used there extensively, and that if good or even fair prices have been obtained for the bulk of the colts sold at private sale the investment must have paid well, for an immense number have been sold.

THE two fastest consecutive heats ever trotted in a race were the second and third heats made by Alix, at Terre Haute, Ind., August 17, 1894, in 2:06½ and 2:05½. The same race furnished the fastest three consecutive heats ever trotted, when Alix went the first, second and third miles in 2:06, 2:06½ and 2:05½.

THE two fastest consecutive heats ever trotted in a race by a gelding were the second and third heats made by Azote at Fleetwood Park, New York city, August 28, 1895, in 2:05½ and 2:07. This same race furnished the three fastest consecutive heats ever trotted by a gelding, as Azote won the first heat in 2:09½.

EVERY stallion in France standing for public service must have a Government veterinary certificate. Veterinary inspection will drive out no sound stallions by requiring every stallion in our own country to have a State certificate, and farmers will, as a class, readily pay more for the service of a horse warranted to be sound.

THE DuBois brothers of Denver now have about forty five looking colts at their stock farm, nearly all of which will be entered at the Overland meeting. Among the most promising is a two-year-old, sire Superior end dam Red Wilkes mare, that is showing truly phenomenal going ability and they are expecting great things from this youngster.

A SEVERE driver hailing from Indiana gives a new interpretation to a much-discussed question when he says in a letter to "The Horseman," (Chicago): "The question is discussed which is entitled to the credit, 'The horse for making the driver, or vice versa.' Were I asked the question as to what makes great drivers I should have to say that printers ink enters largely into the competition."

A PERUSAL of the list of foals dropped at Palo Alto during the month of February shows that some great youngsters are making their debut on the grassy lawns of Palo Alto. Columbine has a filly by Dexter Prince and has been bred to Azote. Ella by Piedmont out of Ether by Express is one of the handsomest large mares in this famous farm. Her filly by Advertiser 2:15½ is the "Queen of the Nursery," as it is observed of all observers.

EXPRESSIVE 2:12½ the greatest racing three-year-old that ever lived has a colt by Boodle 2:12½ that is destined to be one of the best horses ever seen in California. His bloodlines include those of Goldsmith Maid, Lady Thorne, Expression three of the greatest mares that ever won races on the circuit. The foal is a beauty and satisfies the Palo Alto people.

FRANK ROCKEFELLER, of Cleveland, O., who is one of the most disinterestedly devoted of trotting breeders and owners, has lately bought a number of choice trotters, including a sister of the first yearling trotter, Freedom, 2:29½, a sister of Hazel Wilkes, 2:11½, and a brother of Beron Rogers, 2:10½. Oberley Lyon will train his horses this year, with the exception of Fanny Foley, who will remain in Gus Macey's bands.

C. F. BUNCH, the popular reinsman, and A. Hebles, owner of Our Boy 2:15, have leased the San Jose race track, and will keep the grounds in order for the holding of picnics and the two tracks in first-class condition for the runners and trotters respectively. These gentlemen thoroughly understand their business and we look for a number of horsemen to take their training stables to San Jose as soon as the weather moderates.

THE Oregonian has announced that it will devote one column every week to the harness horse industry. We are glad that the big daily has at last awakened to a sense of duty, as its influence will be appreciated by the breeders of Oregon who have been struggling along against adversities for several years past, until at last the tide has turned in their favor. The Oregonians begin to see the "passing of the horse" is a failure.

J. L. DINWIDDIE, the Commissioner appointed by the Superior Court sold the property known as Agricultural Park, in East Petaluma, to satisfy a mortgage held by the Petaluma Savings Bank, last Wednesday. There was but one bidder—Colonel D. B. Feirhenks, representing the plaintiff—to whom the property was sold for $10,270, the amount of the judgment. All improvements, as well as the racetrack, are in fine condition, and expectations are that the usual fair and races will be held this year.

THE bay stallion Lawrence, which C. Crittenden, the well-known livery stable keeper, purchased at one of the Palo Alto sales and sold to F. Ojeda of Guatemala, got a record of 2:28 at that place last fall, but as it was outside of the jurisdiction of the National Trotting Association, this record will not be recognized. After he won the race and got this mark Mr. Ojeda was given $600 to have this horse trot an exhibition mile. Lawrence was sired by Gen. Benton out of Laura C, 2:29½, by Electioneer; second dam Fennie Lewis, by imp. Buckskin, etc.

COLONEL B. F. SHAW, of Vancouver, has two very promising young Altamont-Tecora colts and has placed the oldest, a 3-year-old stallion, in the hands of Gey Hayden for breaking. In appearance he is merely another edition of Chehalis, Del Norte, end Touchet, but, unlike his illustrious trio of brothers, he is a trotter. The younger colt is a pacing filly; in fact, Jey Beech asserts that she was born pacing. None of the female portion of the Altamont-Tecora family have showed as great speed as the males, thus far, but if she continues to improve with age, the "little sister" may even up records with some of her brothers.

MR. ADOLPH SPRECKELS has leased Dexter Prince to the Palo Alto Stock Farm for 1897. The wonderful speed shown by his representative on this farm was one reason why the managers of Palo Alto secured this great sire. The more Dexter Princes come the greater the desire to get more of his representatives. They seem to be born e-trotters. Mr. Spreckels has several very good ones by him also, and those of his descendants sent East will not be discreditable to this great son of Kentucky Prince and Lady Dexter, sister to Dictator, Dexter, 2:17, etc.

It is not generally known that the handsome bay stallion Alfred 2:25 now at Alex. Brown's Walnut Grove Stock Farm Walnut Grove, Sacramento County, was the fastest and best gaited yearling ever handled at the Palo Alto Stock Farm. He trotted a half in 1:10 and defeated such great ones as Sally Benton, Rhode Rose and others quite easily. He is royally bred and all of his progeny are noted for size, style, pure gait, speed and splendid dispositions. Frank W. Covey, Superintendent of Palo Alto Stock Farm says, "This stallion should be one of the best sires of handsome horses in California."

THE bill to establish a Bureau of Highways and to inaugurate a system of State highways has passed the Legislature. It contemplates the construction of a system of roads that will connect every country seat in the State by good macadamized roads, and it is supposed the system will be about twenty-five years in its completion. There is a provision that every county may go ahead and have her State road laid out, with the consent of the State commission, and proceed to its completion. It also provides that the county thus building the road shall be paid back the cost, without interest, when the State system connects on to it.

At the Overland track, Denver, Col., James Wellece is caring for a number of Superior colts owned by George Eastbrook; and Jim Anthony, formerly with DuBois Bros., has a large string among which are Jule Steller and some Leedville horses. Francis Smart's stock farm has a goodly number of youngsters, and the old-timer Lew Hickley, has in charge twelve colts and a number of old campaigners. A novel feature of the spring races will be the appearance of Frank Smith with his celebrated pole team, Jet and Le Gratitude. Tom Johnson has Romey I. and Belinda O. end Charles Roberts' stable is also quartered at the track.

A MEETING of the stockholders of the Sixth District Agricultural Fair Association, Los Angeles, for the annual election of a Board of Directors was held at the chambers, 107½ North Main street, recently. About one hundred of the stockholders were present. The affairs of the association were stated to be in an excellent condition. The following Board of Directors was elected: C. E. De Camp, H. J. Fleischman, Chas. M. Baker, N. A. Covarrubias, S. N. Andrews, Y. Thorne, J. C. Lynch, E. T. Wright. The board will meet in a few days to complete their organization. A committee was appointed to amend the by-laws of the association composed of N. A. Covarrubias, C. E. De Camp and W. G. Kerckhoff.

SOME time ago H. S. Henry sued Monroe Selishory for damages, alleging that he sold him the famous broodmare Mey Dev, dam of Margaret S, 2:12½ end Incas, 2:14½, as an eighteen-year-old, whereas she was really twenty-two. He secured a verdict, but the case was carried up, and last week the Supreme Court of New York reversed the verdict and remanded the case for another trial.

OVERLAND PARK is nowadays the scene of great activity notwithstanding the earliness of the season. A dozen or more stables are quartered at the park and speedy youngsters that are expected to develop into world beaters before the close of 1897 may daily be seen slowly working off surplus flesh under the bands of careful trainers. All have but one object in view end that is to have their charges absolutely fit for the great summer meeting, June 5-12. The stables are slowly filling up, the well-known crowd of bangers on and old horsemen are seen two or three times a week, better care is being taken of the track, and even the colts feel the under-tow of excitement, end make phenomenal time for being as high in flesh as they necessarily are at this time of the year.

THE six-year old mare Aerolite, by Palo Alto, 2:08½, out of Menette, was bred last week to Adbell, 2:23, end the produce should receive the name Great Lines, for in its pedigree the following appear: Adbell, 2:23, the champion yearling; Beautiful Bells, 2:29½, the queen of broodmares (dam of Hinde Rose, 2:19½, and three other holders of world's records); Palo Alto, 2:04½, world's champion stallion; Manette, dam of Arion, 2:10½, holder of the world's record, champion; Lule Wilkes, Minnehabe, Dame Winnie, Addie Green Mt. Maid, Miss Russell—all great broodmares; Electioneer (twice) The Moor, Palo Alto, Belmont, Geo. Wilkes and Nutwood—all great sires. There are few, if any better, bred animals ever foaled than this one will be.

ONE of our thoughtful subscribers from Selitas writes: "I would like to make a suggestion through the columns of your highly esteemed paper which, if adopted, might prove quite a drawing card to the meeting where light harness horses are raced on, it is this: Every association should offer two saddle races at least during the meeting, a 2:15 class for trotters and a 2:15 class for pacers, also a two-mile race for trotters, 2:25 class end a two-mile race for pacers 2:25 class these to be to sulkies, make them dashes. If the owners are notified in time that each race would be given, horses could be taught to be ridden and a field of ten would draw better than any four mile running event ever seen on the turf. Many of our best drivers rode runners in their youth end many jockeys now over-weight would gladly ride trotters or pacers in these races."

DR. ELLIS MCLAN'S pacer Altas (2:25) is at the Vancouver track in the hands of Doc Sperry. He is looking well and going fast, end if started this season will no doubt give a good account of himself. Mett Mann still contends that Altas is a son of Altas, but Jey Beach, in a recent communication to the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN, effectively disposes of this claim, by the presentation of dates end figures which prove Altamont to be his sire. Secure in the knowledge that Altamont would come in for all the glory in either case, Beach winds up his communication in the following sensible manner: "Altas is an extremely good pacer, but as a grandson would reflect fully as much credit upon Altamont as though he were a son, hence I have no individual preference in the matter, and would have credit given where it is properly due."

THE "passing of the horse" continues to be a pleasant theme for some writers, and we regret to say that this class do not all write for bicycle papers. Yes, the horse is "passing." That portion of the family designated as "hoochgrass cayuses" is "passing" from the succulent range which he has wasted for so long, to the slaughter-house, and no tears are shed at his "passing." The big, stocky, beefy European coach horses are "passing," and their place is being taken by—not the bicycle, but by American trotters which can travel farther in an hour than the "hefty" onads can in a day. Then the harness-horse sired by Unknown, and damned by Everybody, is also "passing." He never won a race, and bankrupted his owner paying entrance fees. Too long has he lumbered the earth, and let him "pass." Meanwhile the good, sound, standard-bred harness-horse, from a good family, is going faster, looking finer, and will soon be bringing more money than ever before. He will be passing—the 2-minute mark—before the season ends.

GEORGE MISNER of Portland, Oregon, is getting together a good class of horses and from the lot should be able to pick a stable good enough to travel with. Pathmont, 2:09½, has wintered well end will come out big end strong. He should merch down the line in the heat of company this year. Bill Frazier, 2:14, has just been added to his stable. While he is not as flashy as a stallion should be, he is healthy and in good condition to take on flesh end undergo the hardening process. Frazier is expected to carry a very low mark to his winter quarter this fall. Kitties Renger, 2:13½, the horse of unknown breeding and unknown quantity, is expected to have an account on the right side of the ledger this year. The Renger had light work last season and should be in his prime now. Hamrock, 2:17½, has just been taken up and will be put in condition if his leg will stand the work. Frank O'Neil, 2:19½, has been jugged all winter and is in good shape for work outs. Sleepy Tom has had his usual string end blistering this winter and it is hoped that he will get to the races this year.

A WRITER in an Eastern paper truthfully says: "For the past ten years I have owned Altitude, 2:28, by Altamont, sixteen and one half hands, weight 1370 pounds, a typical sire of coach and carriage horses, as well as trotting, just the sort of horses the markets demand at present, and the horse is as popular to-day as he ever was. From 1887 to 1892 inclusive I bred on an average with Altitude 57 mares per year; from 1893 to 1896, inclusive, I bred 9. In 1892 and 1893 there were thirty stallions standing for public service in Whitewater; now there are not to exceed ten, and most of those are for sale. In driving across the country from Whitewater to Columbus, in Dodge county—a trip I take every fall—five years ago after leaving Lake Mills, for a distance of twenty miles, almost every farm had its complements of any where from five to forty unbroken colts. On my last trip, in 1896, I did not see a colt in the whole distance. I predict that within three years the horse that cannot be given away to day will bring $50, and prices generally that much better all around, on the average, if not more."

THE SADDLE.

IMP. SATIN has been temporarily thrown out of training. He is now at Pleasanton, where he is to be mated to six fashionable-bred mares.

DR. L. R. ROWE has leased from Chas. H. Congle the 1897 racing qualities of Elsie Ferguson, Jim Farrell, Last Fellow, Abe Fashion, Dick Fordham and Siddeolus.

EUGENE LEIGH, who has just returned from a visit to Rancho del Paso, considers imp. Goldfinch, son of Ormonde and Thistle, the grandest-looking horse he ever set eyes upon.

SWEET WILLIAM changed hands again last Saturday. Barney Schreiber purchasing the son of Fitz James and Olive of H. T. Griffin. The consideration was not made public.

THE Rancho del Paso-bred horse Deerslayer has been assigned here on the 20th of the present month, on business in connection with the coming big race meeting at Ansonda and Bunte.

MR. AIR has been fired by Dr. G. W. Stimpson, and is doing well. Crescendo and Dolce, who has also been operated upon by this veterinarian, are doing finely and will stand training.

ED TIPTON, the manager of the Montana circuit, is expected here on the 20th of the present month, on business in connection with the coming big race meeting at Ansonda and Bunte.

A NEW YORKER has read about Todd Sloan's promise to quit betting. He has written the jockey about a scheme by which he can make $30,000 a year outing with a capital of $3,000 if Todd will furnish the backing.

RICHARD HAYES has decided to continue on as a starter at Ingleside until the end of the spring racing season there. It appears that the newspaper folks erred in stating that he had sent in his resignation, for such is not a fact.

ARCHIE BURNS sold the Regent gelding Tuxedo to Sam Hildreth Friday for $3.0. Burns has bet on Tuxedo on a great many occasions, but never cashed a ticket on the horse, invariably failing to back him when he finished in the money.

THOMAS E. BUTLER, the Ansonda newspaper man, has purchased from Marcus Daly the bay two-year-old colt Negligence. The youngster is to be placed in training for the Montana circuit races. He is by imp. Inverness, dam Namoia, by Sir Modred.

GARNETT FERGUSON not only owns Mrs. Shade, who came within an ace of beating Col. Wheeler Tuesday, but he trains her. His many friends warmly congratulated him upon his maiden effort in the line of conditioning race horses. Mrs. Shade is a half-sister to the good mud horse, Glockner.

EL RIO REY's get won $11,865 during the year 1896, that of his elder brother, Emperor of Norfolk, $18,832, the other brothers, Duke and Prince of Norfolk, $3,990 and $6,440 respectively. This is a pretty good showing for a family. The total amount won by the get of the four brothers during 1896 was $46,127.

GEORGE GRASSMUCK's promising two-year-old Judge Murphy, by imp. Kegate, picked up a nail recently and had to be thrown out of training. He is considered one of the most likely youngsters at the St. Louis Fair Grounds. On account of the accident, Grassmuck will hardly be able to get him ready for any early racing.

GARNETT FERGUSON, son of Starter J. B. Ferguson, will shortly receive from the Kingston stud, Kentucky, five yearlings by imp. St. George and Prince Royal. One is a full brother to St. Lee and another a full brother to Dr. Warmley. This will form the nucleus of a stable which Garnett Ferguson will train and race in 1898.

JAMES WOODS has sold to a farmer of Alameda County named Roland the four-year-old fillies Lady Gray and Mollie Bawn, winners. Lady Gray is by imp. Suwarrow—Muta, by Wildside, and Mollie Bawn by Sinfax—Shannon Berna, by Shannon. The consideration was private. The mares will be mated with some well-bred horse in the near future.

ONE of the best judges of horseflesh at Memphis writes Daily Racing Form as follows: "F. F. V., one of last year's sensational colts, was breezed three furlongs last Thursday in 44 seconds. He pulled up very lame. The trouble is in the front ankle that bothered the colt last season and caused what inconsistency there was in his racing. The trouble may be curable.

THE first American foal by the New Zealand-bred stallion Foul Shot, by Musket, made her appearance at Naglee Burk's ranch near San Jose on March 3d. The dam of the new-comer is Why Not, by Three Cheers—Nellie Collier. Why Not is the dam of Bravura. Barney Schreiber now owns Foul Shot, and has him at his stock farm ("Woodland"), just out of St. Louis, Mo.

JIMMY MCAULIFFE, the well-known Australian jockey that rode here a couple of years ago, and who was reported as meeting with an accident a short time since, that caused his death, is very much alive and riding at Sydney, N. S. W., and vicinity, having been granted a license by the A. J. C. His brother Joe imparted this information last Saturday, and vouches for its correctness.

THE black Australian mare Candid, by Splendor—Canary, winner of the four-mile race in such sensational style at Ingleside last year, has a foal by Eolo at the Spreckels ranch near Napa. Abbie F., by Judge McKinstry, and Florence R., by Major Ban, also have foals by Eolo. These are the first California foals by the celebrated son of Eolus, brother to Eolo, Eon and St. Saviour. Galen Brown is training the following list of two-year-olds for A. B. Spreckels: Idrace, br g, by Idalium—Annie Race; Kummel, ch f, by Chesterfield—Zurs; Znfandel, b f, by Idalium—Annabie; Imperious, b c, by Morelio—Helen Scratch; Maxlone, br c, by Maxim—Abalone, Salvail, ch c, by Salvator—Aile; Aluminum, ch g, by Idalium—Glitter; Little T. G., ch f, by Idalium—Nellie Ball.

DIARKA, the American horse now favorite for the Lincolnshire handicap, is a four-year-old bay colt by The Sailor Prince, dam Rizpah.

THE ex-Californian, James R. Keene, has four two-year-olds by Sir Modred's greatest son, Tournament, in training around New York, as follows: Queen of Beauty, b f, by Tournament—Miss Miller; Tent Pin, h f, by Tournament—Dart Maiden; Follow the Flag, h f, by Tournament—Blue Grass Belle; Come Quick, h f, by Tournament—Orchis. He also has a two-year-old colt named Field Lark, by the Ormonde horse Goldfinch, now at Rancho del Paso.

It is doubtful if Marty Bergen ever in his life, even when he rode Salvator a mile in 1:35, got such an ovation as when his champion counterfeit, Pecksniff, crossed the line yesterday a winner by six lengths. On his way to the jockeys' room a friend remarked: "Marty, you'd better get a trainer's license now." "Don't need to," said the dry humorist, "for I've got the public at my back."

THE Supreme Court has refused to grant the release of John Glynn, under a sentence of three months' imprisonment for pool selling. Glynn conducted a poolroom at 862 Mission and was arrested for taking bets on the Ingleside races. He was convicted without delay, but his attorneys contended that the ordinance under which he was prosecuted was unconstitutional. A writ of habeas corpus was applied for on this ground, with the result stated.

BARNEY SCHREIBER has received a telegram from St. Louis notifying him that the ninety day racing bill had passed the Assembly of the Legislature. It provides that there can be ninety days' racing between April and October. It closes poolrooms by making every bookmaker pay a license. Of course the license collector won't grant poolroom men the privilege. The bill also prohibits night racing. Judge Murphy expresses the opinion that another track will be built at St. Louis this summer.

There is a great case of "Dutch luck" at the Oakland track. A saloon-keeper of San Francisco that has given the subject of how to draw an extra sharp "steam" more thought than the dope book is over $5,000 ahead of the game in the last week. On Monday his business called him to the Frisco side of bay, and departing from the track, he left $200 with a friend to place on David, who won at odds of 2 to 1. Yesterday he left $300 with instructions to put it on Mainstay, winner at odds of 3 to 1. It's better to be born lucky than rich.

A MEMPHIS special says: Ornament, the favorite for the Kentucky Derby, was worked four furlongs in 52 seconds. He was held well in hand, and could have gone it faster had his jockey not restrained him. Algol, the three-year-old for whom $20,000 was demanded from Charley Hughes, was worked half a mile in 0:52, under the same restraining conditions as in the case of Ornament. Other horses at the park are being sent right along these bright mornings, and several of the two-year-old divisions in many of the stables have worked quarters in 24 seconds.

MONTACE, who was purchased from Richard Croker by W. Shary, met with his first defeat over hurdles in the Wimbledon hurdle race, two miles, at Hurst Park recently. With 154 pounds on his back he started at the prohibitive odds of 8 to 1 on, and running out of half the journey had been covered, he was beaten in the end by eight lengths. His weight in the international hurdle race to be run at Gatwick is 165 pounds, an unusually heavy impost for a four-year-old. Chandos, the crack of the timber-toppers on the other side, is asked to shoulder 185 pounds.

BOOKMAKER JOHNNY COLEMAN and Jockey Todd Sloan were the principals in an interesting pigeon shoot yesterday at Ingleside. The match was for $50 a side, and each man shot at twenty-five birds. Coleman proved the winner, killing thirteen against eleven for Sloan. J. S. Fanning shot between the two men as a pacemaker, and, from the thirty-one-yard mark, killed twenty-four out of twenty-five, losing his one bird dead out of bounds. Following the special match Sloan pulled himself together and scored eleven consecutive kills, a creditable performance indeed for a non-professional.

LUKE FLOWERS, the well-known ex-jockey, has purchased of T. Wilson the famous racer of a couple of years ago, Despot, formerly the property of Ed Corrigan. It is thought he will race again. Despot (who by the way is an own brother to The Bachelor) is a brown horse six years old, by Judge Murray (son of Ten Broeck and Bertha B., by imp. Buckden), dam Spinster, by Springbok; second dam Helen Wallace, by Gov. Hampton, third dam Fanny Fisher, by Charley Ball; fourth dam by imp. Monsrch; fifth dam Kate Leyton, by Argyle, etc. Despot's last races were in 1895, when he started three times, winning once and running second twice.

THE Oakland judges have settled the Summertime run-up matter. On February 19 Summertime, running in the name of A. J. Stemler, won a selling race, with Torsina, carrying George Rose's colors, finishing second. Mr. Rose boasted the winner a few hundred, but the run-up money was protested on the ground that Torsina was not owned by Mr. Rose. The owner of Una Que Amo then stepped in and protested payment of the purse to Summertime, stating in his protest that Summertime was not owned by Mr. Stemler. After investigating the matter the Oakland track stewards have disqualified both horses, awarding the purse to Una Que Amo. The run-up money, however, stands in favor of Torsina.

FOLLOWING are the weights assigned by the official handicapper for the Oakland handicap, one mile and a quarter, to be decided on Saturday next: Nebuchadnezzar 100, Claudius 98, Peter II 102, The Roman 96, Claudiana 80, Una Colorado 85, Tar and Tartar 89, Miss Ruth 80, Sly 80, Gamecock 80, Judge Denny 102, Semper Lex 110, Scarbrough 80, Double Quick 108, Casper 100, B. & W. 86, Kings-street 90, Orsic II. 97, Redskin 109, Earl Cochran 86, Buckwa 124, Rey del Banditos 120, Yankee Doodle 110, Twinkle Twink 80, Sir Play 110, Lobengula 107, Msmie Scott 90, Cash Day 115, (scurian 102, St. Lee 116, All Over 101, Service 100, Lincoln II. 93, Thelma 86, Dura 80, Salvator 114, Senator Grady 100, Hard Task in England 85, Arapahoe 100, Aquinas 104 Howard S 108, Devault 92, Major Fludd 80, Josephine 80, Zylpha 80, Fullerton Lass (imp.) 85, Gratify 80.

THE H. T. COMiskey horses sold by Killip & Co., last Saturday at Ingleside track brought very good prices. Road Warner, ch g. 4, (by Frank Rhoads—Dell), went to William Short at $120; Sally Sensible, (ch f, by Salvator—Sentiment), to Ed Gresney, $500; Eocino, ch c, by (imp. Brutus—May D. II.), to Farrar and Tuberville, $405; Bodacia, ch f (by Silver King—Bygoose), to J. Harris, $250; Riot, br g (by Portland—Rebuke), to J. McCarthy, $100; Ollie M., h f (by Fresno—Sophie) to D. J. Lynch, $15, and Lop Ear, br g (by Sobraraj—Queen U.) to T. Tobin, $20.

THE following dispatch came from Louisville (Ky.) March 4th: Secretary Price has compiled the list of three-year-olds that have qualified for the Kentucky Derby, Clark stakes and Kentucky Oaks, to be run at the spring meeting of the jockey club. The Derby field promises to be the most sensational of the year. The eligibles are: Ornament, Dr. Catlett, Typhoon II, Meadowthorpe, Carnero, Ben Brown, Buckvidere, Arlington, Moncreith, Lord Zeni, Cavalero, Green Jacket, Dr. Shepsrd, Fleischman, Vatesco, Goshen, Clifford Jr., Wahsoo, Homburg, Dominica, Maddalo, Penmore and Uncle Joe. It is expected that at least twelve or fifteen will go to the post. The Clark stakes, which will be run six days after the Derby, has pretty much the same field in it. The Kentucky Oaks eligibles are headed by Winged Foot. The others are: Eugenia Wickes, Alverde, Lon Bramble, Rosinette, Performance, Florides, Cathay, Confession, White Frost, Fife, Ondina, Taluca, Belzara, Turtle Dove, Peuting Sister, Stella, Sister Clara, Blitzes's Sister, Maxine Elliot and Faunette.

EO CORRIGAN's mares that survived the recent railroad wreck in Arizona have reached Sacramento. Hester Skelter, a mare that won many good races and for which he paid $4,000, was killed outright. The others were more or less damaged. Mr. Corrigan cannot say what his loss is, but it is safe saying that $10,000 would not square accounts. Experts will estimate the damage this week and report to the railroad company, who will probably bear the burden. The accident was caused by the caboose jumping the track. The train was running fast and when the last car bounded off the rails it jerked the horse car with it. One mare got loose from the wreck and ran away into the country. She ran off nearly fifty miles and was captured by an Indian, who brought her back to the station. He demanded something like $50 for his pains. The company pronounced this an exorbitant fee, but the red face could not be moved and held on to the mare. Finally the company caved in and took the mare and put her on a separate car and sent her on. The others had gone on in advance.

HARRY W. DIMOND, the well-known young racing man, owner of Horatio, Bohemian Lass, Atticus and others not unknown to fame, has retired from the turf and presented his string of racers to Matt Storn, the well known horseman that has handled the Dimond gallopers since they were yearlings. Mr. Dimond has prepared a bill of sale transferring his horses to his trainer, "in consideration of efficient services rendered" by that horseman during his career on the turf. Mr. Dimond for some time past has not liked many of the actions of turfmen and racing officials, and it is his opinion that there is little honor to be secured from racing the children of the winds as racing is at present conducted and not a bit of profit to accrue from it. But what made him determine to retire was a recent order of the Ingleside judges suspending from riding Summerfield, a stable lad in whom he had the utmost confidence—this after a number of well-known riders had had the monotonous Gov. Budd, the jumper. This suspension of Summerfield caused the retirement from the turf of Mr. Dimond, one of the most popular young men in California.

THE horses Harry Dimond presented to Matt Storn when he retired from the turf the other day are Horatio, Defiant, Travencore (half-brother to Horatio), Benicia (by imp. Crighton—Mistake) and Low Jinks (by El Rio Rey—Joanna). Mr. Storn says Travencore is just as promising as Horatio was at his age and he expects Defiant to make an excellent sprinter. It is to be deplored that a young man like Mr. Dimond should leave the turf. He owned racers for the love of racing and the glory of winning alone. It was not "a business" with him, for he had ample means and would doubtless have gone in for racing on a large scale if the action of the Ingleside judges in suspending the stable boy, Summerfield, had not so disgusted him. Summerfield was in Mr. Storn's employ, and while not a crack rider, was considered a thoroughly honest one. Mr. Dimond says that it is generally the "poor owner" or the comparatively inexperienced rider that is generally held up for example, while the honor of the "big owner" and the crack jockey is not questioned. In consequence he retires from the ranks of owners of race horses.

THERE is an old saying that "comparisons are odious," but this morning's Chronicle has the following interesting article, and it is well worth reprinting: "There is no comparison between the racing game in San Francisco and New Orleans in any particular. The horses performing here are of a much superior class. There are no jockeys riding in New Orleans of the caliber of Thorpe, Sims, Sloan, Martin and Doggett. More money is bet here in one day than in three at New Orleans. There are twice as many books doing business here, and there is almost twice as much money hung up every day for horses to race for. Notwithstanding all this, a jalous writer on the New Orleans Picayune says: 'A number of racegoers who were dabbling with the game in California this winter put in an appearance at the Fair grounds during the past few days, and if what they say be true the game is not what it is cracked up to be on the Coast. Pittsburgh Phil is reported to have shaken the dust of California from his shoes, and it is more than likely that next winter will find him at this point. And there are many more like him.' This is very rich. No prominent racing man has yet left California for New Orleans. Pittsburgh Phil is still here. The same paper also publishes a list of winning owners. G. C. Bennett heads the list with $6441 to his credit. E. S. Gardner & Son is second, with $5204, and H. McCarren Jr. third, with $3363 to his credit. Such a showing would be something to boast of for Bardsdale or Iron Hill, but out here in California Burns & Waterhouse, who lead, have already won $26,000, while Pat Dunne has over $15,000 to his credit. In a nutshell, the aggregate winnings of five stables now racing in California foot up more than forty leading winners at New Orleans. The game at New Orleans is a very small potato compared with the California game."

To the Public.

THE old book accounts owing the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN which remained in the possession of F. W. Kelley, administrator of the J. P. Kerr estate, were not purchased by Messrs. Layng & Moore when the paper was bought by them May 9th, 1896, because the price asked was deemed too exorbitant. Mr. Kelley, at the administrators sale last Saturday, disposed of them to a collection agency. In reply to many inquiries from those notified by this agency, the undersigned wishes it understood that he has nothing to do with the collection of these accounts, either directly or indirectly, and desires to inform all subscribers that the largest amount they can possibly owe him for subscription is $3.00, while very few of the advertisers are in arrears.

WM. G. LAYNG,

Editor and Proprietor

San Francisco, Feb. 13, 1897.

THIS is the last notice our readers will receive of the closing of entries for the Old Fleetwood meeting to be given by the Driving Club of New York, September 6th to September 11th inclusive. The races are to be decided for purses ranging from $1,000 to $3,000. The method of paying entrance money is so arranged that those who make entries will not find it a hardship to pay them. Entries will close next Monday, March 15th, and as the meeting will be given under the auspices of the leading association in New York State, and all who bring horses there are assured they will receive every courtesy. Read the advertisement carefully and notice the splendid opportunities offered for all owners of trotters and pacers to make money.

WE are waiting patiently for that appropriation bill to pass. It has had its third reading, the Ways and Means Committee has cut down the amount from $170,000 to $124,000, and it is in better shape than ever. That it will pass both houses and receive Governor Budd's signature is a foregone conclusion. The measure would have been acted upon long ago were it not that the time of the legislators has been taken up in investigating newspaper charges, and trying to get newspaper men to "talk out in meetin'."

BREED your good mares NOW. Good trotting horses are becoming very scarce. What will the situation be three years from now if this scarcity continues? The list of stallions advertised in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN was never surpassed, and every owner of a good mare should endeavor to get her with foal this year. Money cannot be made easier and the return of the tidal wave of prosperity will make every seeker after a good driving animal more liberal. Again we say, BREED NOW!

If you own a good colt do not overlook the stakes offered by the P. C. T. H. B. Association. See advertisement in this issue.

Enter Your Colts.

It is to be hoped that all of those who have two and three year old trotters and pacers will enter them in the Colt Stake for the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association's meeting this year. The meeting will take place after the Stockton Fair, which usually follows the State Fair. Should Stockton not give a Fair this year the Breeder's meeting will take place on the circuit and immediately follow the State Fair.

In the past, California has been famous for its fast youngsters, having held at different times all of the world's records for colts. Its reputation for speed at an early age has done much toward making it a famous country for breeding the best and in securing big prices for its young stock in the Eastern markets. It is to be hoped that more breeders will train their two and three year olds this year than they did in 1896.

The Breeders' Association has done much to keep up the interests in harness horses during the dull times and it can be counted on for giving, at least, one big meeting this year, which will probably be held on the track of the California Jockey Club. At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors a resolution was passed that new members should not be charged the annual dues for the year that they join the Association, and that the payment of the membership fee entitles them to all privileges for the first year. The Association will soon announce a list of purses for all classes of trotters and pacers and also a series of Futurity Stakes to close on June 1st.

Hot For the Montana Races.

Fifty-four days of continuous racing should be inducement enough to draw every good thoroughbred, trotter and pacer in California. Ed. A. Tipton, the best rustling Secretary in America, seems to be gifted with that magnetism which made Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, and other mighty men of old so popular. The gift of offering something novel and attractive every time the occasion demanded it. Read the big advertisement and see what it offers at Anaconda and Butte. Twelve thoroughbred stakes, $13,000, guaranteed value, and $150,000 will be distributed among winners. Everyone who visited Montana, the home of the racehorse and the most energetic men in America, will want to go again in 1897, for the splendid welcome always accorded them is not soon forgotten. We will have entry blanks which we will distribute among all horsemen before entries close April 1st. When you are looking for a place to make money don't overlook Montana.

The Horse Show.

That reliable (?) newspaper, The Evening Post, published a long article in its columns on Wednesday about the passing of the Horse Show, that no more horse shows would be held under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Horse Show Association etc. President Henry Crocker of this organization, in an interview, said: "There is not a word of truth in this report. We considered it a useless expenditure to keep our office in the Mills Building with its attendant expenses, salary of secretary etc., all the year, when in one month prior to the holding of a show we can make arrangements that will meet with the approval of all. Just as soon as the members of the Committee of P. C. T. H. B. are ready to start, we will help them and go more than half way to make the next horse show a success. The Horse Show has not gone out of existence and will be in evidence when the time comes."

To Horsemen.

The Speed Committee of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association is at work preparing a programme for this year. You are urgently requested to forward a list of the classes for which you have horses that you expect to enter on the circuit. This information should be sent to F. W. Kelley, Secretary, 22 1/2 Geary street, San Francisco, at an early date, giving a list of the classes to which they are eligible; and specifying whether they are trotters or pacers. It is the aim of the committee to arrange classes so as to accommodate all, and the amount of money that the Association can give in purses will depend upon the number of horses that are likely to be entered. It is to the interest of everyone who intends to race their horses this year to give this matter their attention.

NOW IS THE TIME for seekers after first-class brood-mares, colts and fillies to send commissions to Portland, Oregon, and purchase some that are to be sold Monday, by S. C. Reeves, corner of Third and Alder streets. The lot comprises some splendid individuals, and among them are many that would pay trainers to secure, for good racing material is getting scarcer every month and the supply is not being replenished very rapidly.

Off for Honolulu.

A shipment of horses, mares, colts and fillies will leave the Agnew Stock Farm next week for Honolulu, and it will afford the inhabitants of this far-away island of the sea to get a superior class of well-bred animals. Mr. Agoew was one of our most liberal horse-keepers and secured the finest bred and best trained horses in the State. After breeding them to Dawn, 2:15 1/2, the greatest son of Nutwood, 2:18 1/2, and Countess (dam of three by Whipple's Hambletonian) and Boswell Jr., 2:19, son of Boswell, son of Almont 83, and Mand 2:20 by Bertrand Black Hawk, he got colts and fillies that, when exhibited at the three horse shows in San Francisco, won prizes against high fields of competitors, the pick of the leading stock farms.

Among those to be shipped we noticed the following: Lena Monroe by Monroe Chief 2:16; dam Lena Bowles by Ethan Allen Jr., Lena Bowles was a great prize winner having been shown for years and always getting a prize. Lena Monroe was bred to Eros a son of Electioneer and the produce showed a mile in 2:26. She has a filly at her side by Boswell, that is a beauty.

Veronica by Mambrino Wilkes is the dam of Gay Dawn, a three-year-old that took the Blue Ribbon at the Horse Show and was sent to Guatemala and sold for a big price. She with three of her produce will be taken.

Nettie B. by Altimont out of Lizzie R. (dam of Emma Temple), by Emigrant, a fine trotting mare.

A filly by Dawn 2:18 1/2, out of Angie Wilkes 2:15 1/2, second dam Mand 2:20 (dam of To order 2:12 1/2, and Boswell 2:19) the famous champion that started in 21 of the first 22 of them.

A few young stallions by Dawn 2:18 1/2, and Boswell 2:19, yearlings and two year olds, out of mares by Guy Wilkes, and other famous stallions. These will leave for Honolulu next week.

Santa Teresa by Sable Wilkes 2:19, out of Lyla by Arthurton, and Lucy and Dolly, a perfect team, also go.

ORRIN A. HICKOK in an interview at the Palace Hotel the other evening, said: "I have just returned from the Palo Alto Stock Farm and the remarkable showing made by the youngsters that are to be sent East, Friday, has set me to thinking. I have seen many a colt and filly led to halter, but I must confess that I never saw any to equal those I saw to-day. I am sorry I cannot be at Madison Square when they are to be sold. I know of a number of those which I would like to try. If Senator Stanford lived he would hesitate about selling such money-making material." When asked which he thought was the best, replied: "I confess, that is a question I hardly feel capable of answering; there is not a 'cull' in the lot, not a blemish to be seen anywhere; they have style, breeding, size, and speed; why, I never saw a speedier lot, from yearlings up. There is an Electricity there out of Ellen that is the handsomest mare in America, Donchka is a very good one. The Norris representatives are all good. The Dexter Prince's move like comets and can run away trotting. My favorite's representative, (Altivo) Ela is a yearling that is the fastest of her age in America. She is a marvel. The Azmoors are all good, and among the yearlings I rather fancy the one out of Marion; she should bring a good price, and all that are older, are enough to create excitement, at the auction sale. The Advertisers will please everyone there and whoever buys any of these will know they have something worth training. If horses were worth as much as they were three years ago the average received from these would surpass that of any ever consigned to an auction in America. The trotting strais based on a known thoroughbred foundation are the kind all horsemen will be seeking hereafter."

A NEW YORK dispatch of March 11th was as follows: Breeders of thoroughbreds were informed recently that an amicable arrangement had been arrived at between Colonel Sanders D. Bruce and the Jockey Club regarding the future handling of the Stud Book. Notices have been sent out for circulation from the headquarters of the Governing Turf Board in this section that the Stud Book, in its entirety, had been purchased from Colonel Bruce for $35,000. It has now transpired that the relations between Colonel Bruce and the Jockey Club are more strained than ever. The $35,000 transaction is off, and breeders are in a worse quandary than before as to the proper recipient for the registration of foals and pedigrees of horses and mares yet unregistered. In the absence of August Belmont no member of the Jockey Club felt justified in expressing an opinion. Colonel Bruce said: "I received an offer of $35,000 from the Jockey Club for the Stud Book and accepted it. Since then, however, the leading turf body has made demands which have given me no other alternative than to repudiate the transaction. Apart from this side of the question, the Jockey Club has received the reports of foals in 1896, for which, under the original agreement, I was to receive one-half of the $2 fee charged for each registration. Not only have I not received a cent, but I have failed to obtain duplicates of the reports in order to complete Volume VII. This has compelled me to enter suit against the Jockey Club and send notices to all breeders in the country."

Notice.

By an order from the Probate Court on Feb. 5th, 1897, I sold at public sale all of the book accounts due the Estate of James P. Kerr for subscription and advertising in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN up to May 6th, 1896, on which date the paper was sold and passed out of the hands of said estate. These accounts were purchased by the Pacific Law and Collection Agency, they being the highest bidders for same. I would say to all concerned that these accounts having passed out of my hands by process of law and in the performance of my duties as administrator in closing up the affairs of said estate, I am no longer connected with the collection of them; and that all business relating to same is in the hands of the purchasers; and that neither the present owner of the paper, Wm. G. Layng, nor the undersigned have anything to do with the collection of, or interest in these old accounts.

F. W. KELLEY,

Administrator Estate Jas. P. Kerr.

JAMES McDONNELL, stud groom at the Menlo Park Stock Farm, has played in luck. When McDonnell left Rancho del Paso to take charge of Ormonde he had a young mare, purchased from Barney Schreiber, called Geneva, with a foal at her side by Sir Modred and bred to imported Watercress. She has now a yearling by the English horse and on Monday last dropped a filly by Ormonde. Mr. McDonough gave McDonnell permission to breed the mare under agreement that if a colt it became Mr. McDonough's property, if a filly, McDonnell's. A few weeks ago Barney Schreiber offered $1,000 for the mare, but of course McDonnell could not sell.—Examiner.

THEIR LAST DAYS AT PALO ALTO.

An Account of a Visit to This Famous Place
This Week From Whence Lots of Horses
Were Shipped Yesterday—How the Horses Are Cared for During Their Long Journey.

There is no pleasure more delightful than watching a number of trotters being led alongside of a running horse. Unnumbered with harness or hoots they slip along at any gait the attendant wishes to let them go. Knowing my weakness, F. W. Covey, Superintendent of the Palo Alto Stock Farm wrote: "Come down to-morrow, Wednesday, first train, and see what we are going to ship East." A second invitation was not needed, and at the depot Mr. Covey had his buggy in waiting to convey me to the long level stretch of smooth roadway where the youngsters were to take their exercise.

On the road over we inspected the four cars which have been fitted up to carry the splendid trotters across the continent. An experience of bringing 800 horses East, without the loss of a single animal, has taught Mr. Covey how to have everything prepared for his horses, and perhaps it would be of interest to our readers to know how these cars are fitted up and how the horses are prepared for the trip and cared for on the road. Twelve stalls are made in each car, they are arranged in rows of three. The horses are backed into the stalls at both ends of the car, in the center division the horses are placed in the stalls so that they face those in the ends. A space of five feet separates them in which the grain and hay is stored, water barrel, etc. The horses are kept in place by a bar across the front of the stalls and this bar supports a feed box in which ground oats, bran, and a little ground flaxseed is placed before each horse, with all the fine oat hay they can eat. The back of the stalls are heavily padded so that the jolting of the trains will not hurt the horses which are kept standing during the long journey. Underneath each horse a little straw is placed and every day this is renewed. Water is given them as often as they will drink and the temperature of the cars is kept as near even as possible. The attendants, and there are three to each car, divide the time into three watches, so that two men are on duty while one is resting. After the first day's riding the horses become used to their surroundings and do not fret. Before being placed on board, Mr. Covey makes it a rule to give his horses a few days run in the alfalfa fields of the farm, for the succulent forage there a beneficial effect upon the horses' kidneys, and with the addition of ground flax seed in the feed each day, no trouble is experienced from that much dreaded ailment, retention of urine. Every stall has its number and the horses are placed according to the plan made for them by Mr. Covey. At Denver, the horses are led off the cars and given a chance to trot and walk at the Overland Park.

After inspecting these cars we drove up to the barns behind which the road extends to the foot of the embankment enclosing Palo Alto lake, where the horses are to be led, and that is all the work they will have. The work of training horses on this immense farm has almost been suspended. Only twelve horses are being prepared for the California circuit, hence there was no opportunity with the few men employed to handle any of those consigned to this great sale.

With an eye single to the present needs of all seekers after horses in the East and Europe, the greatest care has been exercised to have every animal free from hemorrhoids, purgated, well-broken single and double, and placed in as perfect order as possible. The conformation and condition being attended to, the bloodiness of those to be sent were not overlooked and a glance over the list will convince anyone that if Senator Stanford lived it would take some powerful persuasion to convince him that they should leave California. But the times and circumstances are changed now, and they must go to join the hundreds of others from far-famed Palo Alto that are immortalizing Electioneer and the name of the great founder of this farm, Leland Stanford.

To select them and say which is best is an undertaking that would cause many a better judge than I, to take under advisement, and then give it up as a hopeless task. Such an exhibition of individuality, high form, quality, intelligence, color, speed and breeding is not to be equaled on any farm in America.

There was Donchka, 2:24—will get a mark of 2:10 this year easily; large, handsome and game as a pebble. Tiny, 2:28, the sweetest-moving big mare one would want to see, sound as a dollar and fit to race for a kingdom; Hunyadi, 2:26, heavy made, strong limbed, perfect in action or repose; these are the only one with records earned in races last season. Colma, 2:25, a grand broodmare by Electioneer, out of Sontag Mohawk. What a mare she is for some one owning a good Wilkes stallion! Parlon and Palomero, both by Palo Alto, 2:08, the gamest horse that ever trod the earth, and as these are from great broodmares they will carry on the good work of breeding speedy ones.

Adabelle, by Advertiser, 2:15, out of Beautiful Bella, is a sweet-looking filly. She has a sprinkling of grey hairs on her high hind leg exactly like those on her famous mother. There will be no other one of this family sold, and as she is a sister to the champion yearling, Adbell, should prove a treasure to anyone wanting a great race mare and a matron that will always be worth her weight in gold. Adhine, by Advertiser, out of Columbine; Expresso, by Advertiser, out of Esther (dam of Expressive, 3, 2:12, etc.), stands 15.2 and weighs 1000 pounds; perfect in form and a trotter from the old home. What a sire he would make to cross on mares by Nutwood!

Every great broodmare on the farm is represented. Manette, Orphan Girl, Telie, Lady Ellen, Beautiful Bella, Elaine (the mare whose produce are noted for their iron legs and feet), Wildmont, Ashby, Ahwaga, Marion, Bonnie, Esie (the dam of race horses), Tirzah, Jennie Benton, Clarabel, Lulu Wilkes, Flushing Belle, Consolation, Mollie Cobb, May Day, Gertie, Lillie Thorne, etc., the creme de la creme of Palo Alto matrons, and they have descendants by Dexter Prince, the greatest sire of extreme speed for his opportunities in the world; Azmoor, the only descendant of Electioneer that resembles him in form, action and disposition, and who is destined to be classed among the greatest of sires; Altivo, 2:18, the brother to Palo Alto, 2:08, and as Monroe Salisbury stated, "He is the gamest stallion I ever saw;" Whips, 2:27, who can say a word against him? Electricity, the sire of handsome and speedy ones; Norris, 2:22, one of the greatest losses this farm experienced was the sale of this horse; Advertiser, the coming sire, and others that have become famous.

The Electricity filly out of Ellen is the handsomest piece of horseflesh ever handled. There will be lively competition when she is led into ring. Nina Whips, what a mare she will be to catch the eye of some European buyer; and she is a second Azote. Aseo by Azmoor out of Elden by Nephew; Ziller, by Norris, the fastest gelding ever seen at Palo Alto; Lillioor by Norris, a woman can drive her and she has been driven by one lately.

The yearling Ariosa by Advertiser, out of Ashby entered for $63,000 in stakes and will win nearly all of them. Elia, "the fastest yearling in the world!" sired by Altivo 2:18, out of Elaine 2:20, and the most level-headed little one ever led alongside of a running horse. Adiado a colt yearling by Advertiser out of Wildmont, 2:27, another good one, but the one by Azmoor out of Marion 2:26, is not to be passed by. What a perfectly formed youngster she is! All these babies are entered in the big stake events in the East.

There were so many led out, one showing as well as the other, that it made one feel miserable to be so poor that they could not all be bought and trained for the California circuit this year. The only consolation to be derived from looking at them was that this consignment will do more to prove the worth of the Palo Alto bred horses than any heretofore sent East. Every good one on the farm has been selected and if they do not bring good prices it will not be their fault. It is earnestly hoped there will be a large attendance of critical horse-buyers at this sale, for we know they are the men who will pay the highest price for those they like.

Mr. Chas. Lathrop, Capt. N. T. Smith and Mr. Geo. Montgomery, a wealthy mine owner came to the farm while I was there, and after inspecting the youngsters, Capt. Smith gravely remarked: "There is one peculiarity about looking at such horses, it gives one the hiving fever, which cannot be cured until it is allayed by owning and driving horses like these; they are far superior in every way to any I have ever seen on the farm," and Mr. Lathrop said "he wished he had the room and the opportunities to have them raced, he would never let them be sold, but it would be a difficult matter to handle so many."

Mr. Montgomery purchased a team of geldings, and would have purchased some of those in the consignment, but they were all listed to be sold at auction in New York, and there could be no deviation from the rule.

After enjoying a splendid dinner in the oldest cottage on the farm, a 49er in which at one time the first superintendent of the farm, H. W. Covey, dwelt, we inspected the new crop of foals and departed for the city delighted with our visit; our only regret being that we could not be at the salesring in Madison Square Garden, New York City, one week from Thursday when these handsome representatives of the most fashionable trotting family of America are to be sold.

ARNAREE.

Humans Treatment.

Dr. Frank Thatcher, of Fort Worth, Texas, a leading veterinary surgeon and a graduate from one of the largest English colleges, writes under date of March 10th, as follows: "After giving Quinn's Ointment a thorough test, I think it my duty to express my candid opinion as to its merits. I have abandoned all other blisters, as Quinn's Ointment is more effective and by all means more humane in its action. Though this statement is not very professional (that is, to recommend patent medicines), I do this, hoping that all intelligent persons will take advantage of so valuable a remedy, and save many a noble horse the inhuman practice of the firing iron and likewise the abusive use of strop blisters. I advocate humanity, and in Quinn's Ointment we have something that will relieve any lameness without torture." For cuts, splints, spavins, windpuffs, and all bruises, use Quinn's Ointment, the highest endorsed of any remedy ever placed on the market. For sale by druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of $1.50. Address W. B. Eddy & Co., 8 Broad Street, Whitehall, N. Y.

TOD SLOAN will not grace another horse in California this season, says the Bulletin. It was strongly intimated that when he announced he "was done" it was a mere slip of the tongue, meaning not a word of it. But it appears that he was serious after all. On Tuesday he stayed in the city all day importuning Charley Dwyer to start East right away, not even to stop over in Carson to take in the scrap. But Dwyer is not so impulsive; he urged moderation. He pleaded with Sloan to tarry and see the fight, and eventually he won the day. Sloan was at the track yesterday; so was Dwyer. "Yes, Charley has induced me to stay here until the fight," said Tod. "I wanted to go to New York yesterday, but he would not listen to the proposition. Charley is loser, but he wants to see the fight all the same. I like to see boxing, but I got so discouraged over my hard luck that I wanted to get out of the country at once." It was suggested to Sloan that his hard luck had not been so awful in light of the dismal success Sam Doggett has experienced. "What are you talking about?" retorted the popular lightweight. "Doggett has been riding skates, and I've had the pick of the bunch and rode only two winners in a week. I that is not hard luck I never saw any." Sloan will go to New York, and when the Washington meeting opens may possibly ride there. Marty Bergen tried to prevail upon Tod to remain over a few weeks. "I will let you ride Peckaniff if you will stay," was the inducement Marty hung out. Tod saw the humor of the remark.

JOCKEY PEDRO ENOS' friends are hard at work trying to get him reinstated by the Oakland judges (or judge, for it is understood Judge Burke is the only one that refuses to consent to the rider's reinstatement). His suspension came from a ride on Elmer F. they did not like and it is said they did not fancy the showing of Howard S. in some races. It has since been shown that both horses are decidedly erratic, no matter who has the mount.

GYPSYRIVER, the bay colt that won the second race yesterday, is a strapping, racy-looking fellow, and the way he came away from his field in the last furlong Thursday makes one think he will make a stake horse. His sire is imp. Deceiver, his dam Gypsy Queen, by imp. Rayon D'Or; second dam the grand race mare Liatunah, by War Dance.

W. H. Stimson of Los Angeles, Cal., used DeHuy's "Balmoline" on Agitato's heels who now holds the World's Record for three-year-old pacers.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the club was held on Tuesday evening, but for the third time Dr. Gilbert was compelled to disappoint his audience.

There were forty-seven members present, W. D. Mansfield in the chair. J. S. Turner reported that the club could secure a locker in the Peerless Cylery for a nominal rental where the rods could be kept and would not be injured by dampness. The report was accepted and a motion to that effect was carried. The keys to the club locker at the boat house will be kept in the cyclery locker. A member desiring to use the rods must produce his membership card and sign a receipt for the rods taken.

It was ordered that the rods and tackle be insured for $200. Ties occurring at any contest must be cast off at the termination of the same contest if both members are present. If both are present the ones refusing to cast are out of the contest.

J. P. Bahcock announced that at some future meeting of the club he would offer a resolution that the club give $150 toward paying the expenses of the member who makes the best average in the next few months, to the open to all casting tournament at Chicago next July or August.

W. W. Foote and A. T. Vogelsang cast several long lines and spoke earnestly and well on the good work done by the Fish Commission and the great aid that the club might become to them in their work of protecting fish and game. W. D. Mansfield talked of the possibility of new clubs being formed at Napa, San Jose and Stockton and on various other matters of vital interest to the club. A practice casting platform will be erected at once, 250 feet south of the old one.

Jules Berges, Mat Berges and I. Philippson of the Shellville Rod and Gun Club, were fishing at Embarcadero last Sunday, and each of them caught a large mess of young salmon. George Walker, and Wm Cooper, guests of the above named club had a good deal of sport. Cooper landed a 24 pound salmon, after losing a 10 pounder through a defective line, and Walker after losing a large fish, caught a nice mess of smaller fish, which were nicely cooked by Mr. Cooper for supper at the club house.

Sunday afternoon a heavy rain storm set in, and Monday morning Sonoma Creek was bank high and still rising. Fishing in Sonoma Creek will be impossible for some time to come.

The Sebastopol Times regrets that there is no legal machinery that can be set in motion to stop illegal fishing in the Laguna by Chinese.

F. M. Haight is a unanimously acknowledged the best judge of accuracy that has ever judged at a meet of the Fly Casting Club.

Good catches of salmon and yellowtail have been made recently in Monterey Bay. Three hundred were caught on the 1st.

W. D. Mansfield is said to have cast 110 feet on Tuesday last.

Mr. Vredenburg; There is another report from the Pacific Advisory Board, as follows:

Resolutions adopted by the Pacific Advisory Board at its regular monthly meeting on February 2, 1897:
Whereas, The duty of the Pacific Kennel Club opens the door for the organization of a first-class dog show association, composed of a STABLE ELEMENT, than has heretofore been conducted with the suggestion of kennel exhibitions in San Francisco; and
Whereas, The Olympic Gun Club, an organization to which dog shows will be only a secondary consideration, is a seceding faction on the largest and most popular athletic and social club in the state, and is held by said athletic club in disrepute and discredit; and

Resolved, Should the said Olympic Gun Club become a member of the American Kennel Club, its dog shows would be under the control of the SAME MEN whose efforts have not been employed to enter the welfare of kennel matters—in fact being detrimental instead of beneficial—therefore be it

Resolved, That in the opinion of this board it would be a stroke of mis policy on the part of the American Kennel Club to grant a franchise to the said Olympic Gun Club or to any other organization whose view of policy and purposes would necessitate the making of dog shows a secondary and minor feature.

Resolved, That the American Kennel Club be and it is hereby requested by the Pacific Advisory Board—in the fulfillment of what it owes to its duty—to refuse admission to the Olympic Gun Club, in order that a kennel club pure and simple may be organized and limited to membership, and the holding of annual dog shows added in the hands of an organization whose best efforts will be centered in the advancement of the kennel interests of San Francisco and the whole coast.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this board be instructed to forward to each a copy of these resolutions to the American Kennel Club, test,
H. T. PAXNE,
Sec. Pac. Ad. Board.

[In the previous report of the Advisory Board the names of the delegates present are given, in the above they are carefully omitted.]

Mr. Burritt moved that these resolutions be laid upon the table.

Mr. Vredenburg: In connection with this I will read the report of the committee of membership:

New York, February 23, 1897.
The American Kennel Club.
Gentlemen:—Your committee begs to report the reception of three applications for admission to the American Kennel Club from clubs located in California, to wit: The Olympic Gun Club of San Francisco; the San Francisco Kennel Club of San Francisco; the Santa Clara Valley Poultry and Kennel Club of San Jose.

Two of these applications are approved by your committee, namely, the San Francisco Kennel Club and the Santa Clara Valley Club. In withholding its approval from the application of the Olympic Club, it deems it best to state its reasons to your body, to enable you to act intelligently in casting your votes for the clubs you believe will best serve the kennel interests of both the Pacific Coast and the American Kennel Club.

The Pacific Kennel Club, through its secretary-treasurer, wired, under date of January 19, as follows: "Pacific Kennel Club disbanded, joining Olympic Gun Club, see letter." This was followed by a letter confirming the telegram, and signed by C. A. Haight, secretary-treasurer, which was in turn followed by a letter confirming both the foregoing, and signed by Horace W. Ostrander, Secretary.

The Olympic Gun Club wired, January 27: "Olympic Gun Club applies for membership American Kennel Club. Letter to follow. Reserve dates," signed, M. C. Allen.

The Pacific Advisory Board wired, February 2: "Reserve action on Olympic Gun Club application; resolution mailed." "San Francisco Kennel Club organized, formal application, constitution a d money forwarded by mail. If admitted, wire, as press d for time." Signed, J. F. De Ruyter, President.

On February 6th, the formal application of the Olympic Gun Club was received, which, however, did not comply with our rules, in that no copy of the constitution was filed. No action was promptly mailed to its secretary requesting a copy of said constitution, which has just come to hand, but in it there is no provision for the holding of dog shows.

On February 11th the formal application of the San Francisco Kennel Club was received, complying in all particulars with the requirements of our club.

On February 6th, the Pacific Advisory Board forwarded a copy of the proceedings of its regular meeting held February 2d, recommending that the admission of a kennel club pure and simple would best advance the interests of San Francisco and the whole Coast. As the report of the Pacific Advisory Board on this subject will be submitted at this meeting, it would be unnecessary to quote from it. Several letters are also in the favoring the admission of a kennel club in preference to a gun club.

Your committee therefore reports that technically it can do nothing else than disapprove of the admission of the Olympic Gun Club, for the reason that its application is not complete. It does approve of the admission of the San Francisco Kennel Club, for the reason that it being a club organized solely for the purpose of holding dog shows in the city of San Francisco, and indorsed by the Pacific Advisory Board, it is deemed to be the best for kennel interests.

The application of the Santa Clara Valley Poultry and Kennel Club of San Jose, Cal. being filed in proper form, its admission is therefore recommended.

Respectfully submitted, E. M. OLDHAM, Chairman.
A. P. VREDENBURGH,
CHARLES D. BERNHEIMER.

Mr. Barga said the feeling was very strong in San Francisco over this matter; that he had been written to by members of the old Pacific Kennel Club to use his best endeavors in behalf of the admission of the Olympic Gun Club, and that he thought it was wrong to characterize it exclusively as a gun club.

Mr. Knicker: It is exclusively a gun club.

The Chairman: The committee on membership has reported that their constitution is not in form with the requirements of the American Kennel Club.

Mr. Vredenburg: As the application now stands the Olympic Gun Club is not eligible to election in this club.

Mr. Schellhass: In view of those facts I move the adoption of the report of the membership committee.

The Chairman: The first business in order is the adoption of the letter of the Pacific Advisory Board.

Captain Knicker asked that the correspondence on both sides be read.

Mr. Schellhass: I desire to state that this matter is thoroughly understood by the membership committee. They had all the details of the controversy that has been going on before them, and they have thoroughly threshed the matter out. They recommend the admission of the San Francisco club, and they had the report of the Pacific Advisory Board, which recommends the same thing, and Captain Knicker favors the San Francisco Kennel Club.

The Chairman: I do not think it is necessary to go into that, particularly as we have the report. It was not organized for the purpose of giving dog shows.

Moved and seconded that the report of the Pacific Advisory Board be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

Mr. Burritt moved the acceptance of the report of the Membership Committee, and the adoption of its recommendations. Seconded and carried.

The applications of the San Francisco Kennel Club and the Santa Clara Valley Club for admission were then hallored upon, and they were subsequently declared elected to membership.

[Italics are ours. Mr. Barga is the delegate of the St. Bernard Club of California. Capt. Knicker is the delegate of the Fox Terrier Club and was instructed to vote as he did.]

When the above resolutions were passed every member who attended the meeting of the P. A. B. knew that the San Francisco Kennel Club had been formed and the absent members did not, any of them, know of such a club being even talked of. The first meeting of the S. F. B. was at Dr. D'Evelyn's office, the President of the Board; the Secretary, knew all of the particulars of the meeting, and his personal denial of all knowledge of the affair to L. D. Owens was only another falsehood added to the myriads gone before.

This malignant slanderer presumes to state to the American Kennel Club, a body of gentlemen, and is seconded in his statement by his infamous partners, Dr F W D'Evelyn and J G Barker, that the death of the P K C opened the door for the organization of a first class association (The San Francisco Kennel Club) composed of a better element, etc. Let us compare the personnel of the two clubs as they existed at the time of the organization of the San Francisco, and the disbandment of the Pacific.

Were there ever more upright, honorable gentlemen connected with a kennel club than E T Allen, W J Golcher, H C Golcher, C A Haight, E W Briggs, F H Bushnell, Thos H Browne, T J Watson, H Bier, and thirty others we might name? Was ever a word whispered against the good name of any of these men? Are they not gentlemen one and all of them in every sense of the word? Have they not held the best shows ever given on this coast? Unquestionably the P K C made mistakes, who has not, but have they not worked and put their hands down deep into their pockets for years, to assist the good work, at best a thankless job.

So much for the Pacifics. Can we say as much for the set of traitors who won recognition by fraud and misrepresentation; the men who have antagonized the entire kennel world and ruined the kennel interests of this city for months, if not for years?

The record of the "mischief maker" is too well known to need comment. The short-comings of one J. G. Barker we fully exposed in our last issue. Dr D'Evelyn, we are informed, was made acquainted with the entire story of Barker's little less months ago, and men are known by the company they keep. When D'Evelyn and Barker found that they could not run the Pacific Kennel Club on the lines mapped out for them by their mentor, the "mischief maker," they resigned from the committee. When their dogs were defeated at the show they raised one of the most disgraceful howls ever heard at a show, and when they assisted in organizing the new club they had no other object then to work out their spite against the Pacifics and get the power in their own hands, by fair means or foul. They accomplished their ends by fraud and misrepresentation, and, in consequence, the whole kennel world is up in arms against them. J. W. Keene and J. E. de Ruyter are new comers in this section, both interested in English setters, hence, through this connection have been thrown in the company of the "mischief maker," who, with his clique, have filled their ears with lies and only of late have they begun to realize that there are two sides to every question. They should not be confounded with the class of men who have led them into this thing, as they are as far above them as the sun is from the earth. Each and every one of these men have consciously or unconsciously been doing the monkey act for the "mischief maker," and now that they are getting their fingers burned by raking the chestnuts out of the fire, they are beginning to realize that they were being used as tools.

The second preamble is a falsehood from beginning to end. Thirty-eight sportsmen seceded from the Olympic Club and formed the Olympic Gun Club, now consisting of nearly 200 members. The two clubs are on friendly terms and the president of the Olympics is a member of the Olympic Gun Club.

As some of our readers may not know what element makes up the O G C we give below a partial list of the membership, showing its financial and social strength and standing in the community, and from the number and breeds of dogs owned by these members our readers can see at a glance that the club is more interested in dogs than any club that we have had in this city for years. This list also answers the first resolution:

M C Allen, pointers; S T Allen, English setters; I W Bourdette, setters; I M Brown, Petaluma, several breeds; W Burlingame, English setters; W C Brown, pointers; F H Bushnell, St. Bernards; E Bosqui, English setters; H Bier, pointers; E W Briggs, pointers; John Bradbury, Los Angeles, English setters; H Black, Irish setters; R Brown, Petaluma, setters; T H Browne, St. Bernards; A Cummings, Irish Water spaniels; J E Chesley, cockers; C Carr, pointers; F Drinkhouse, Irish setters; Golcher Bros., pointers; W H Hynes, Irish setters; C A Haight, pointers; A Hamilton, pointers; Dr E N Lowry, Irish and English setters; C C McMahon, pointers and setters; F Maskey, pointers; C Naman, Great Danes; W H Nenstadter, fox terriers and English setters; L D Owens, pointers; H Oelrichs, English setters; C M Osborne, pointers; S T Scovern, cockers; Dr F W Skaffe, collies; T Sloan, English setters; H S Smith, fox terriers; S A Sharp, Irish Water spaniels; F W Tallant, pointers; H Vernon, pointers; Dr F W Vowinckle, pointers; L Weloman pointers; F R Webster, cockers and Yorkshires; R B Woodward, Gordon Setters; H J Wicker, foxhounds; H. Wagner, retrievers, and D. Winders, Stockton, cockers and English setters.

Add to the above the other influential members of the club such as Prince Poniatowski, E. T. Allen, T. R. Baimey, Gen. J. H. Dickinson, F. W. Eaton, H. F. Emerig, F. W. Fuller, J. Homer Fritch, A. B. Jerome, J. Downey Harvey, Dr. S. E. Knowles, P. P. Moore, Geo. A. Newhall, E. B. Rambo, Achilles Roos, I. Rottazzi and Geo. L. North, and where can be found a body of men in whose hands kennel matters could find better preceptors.

The third preamble states that "its dog shows would be under the control of the same men whose efforts have not been employed to better the welfare of kennel matters, etc." We are sure that the gentlemen whom we named in the first portion of this article will feel complimented at this hooket thrown at them by the Advisory Board, but the fact remains that the gentlemen referred to would not have had anything to do with the show as the Olympics had fully decided that the Board of Directors should handle it. The Board consists of the following gentlemen:

H. H. White, A. A. Brilini, M. C. Allen, L D Owens, F. W. Eaton, A. H. Whitney, F. R. Webster, Ed Bosqui and S. C. Scovern.

Every man who voted for the resolution quoted above should be ostracized as a traitor to the kennel world of central California. Every club that authorized its delegate to vote for any such measure should be let severely alone until it apologizes, and every club whose delegate voted for such a measure without its authority should not receive the entry of a dog from this section until such delegate is removed.

Regarding the A. K. C. end of the question, our readers should remember that the delegates took their cue from the secretary, A. P. Vredenburg. This infamous action must be laid at his door, as he, and possibly the membership committee, are the only one fully acquainted with both sides of the question. To this man Vredenburg may be laid the entire success of the scheme which was so cleverly laid at this end of the line. Afraid of the lash of the "mischief maker," and only too glad to seek his vengeance against the P. K. C. for a fauced wrong, he not only presented the report of the Advisory Board in as favorable a light as possible but hoodwinked the membership committee and deliberately withheld the correspondence of the Olympics.

M. C. Allen, secretary of the O. G. wrote to Vredenburg (in the same enclosure that contained the constitution of the club), that holding a bench show was not the object of the club when it was first organized but that circumstances had arisen which had caused the members as lovers of the dog to desire to incorporate bench shows with their other objects and that the Board of Directors would add any clause suggested by the A. K. C. or its secretary. Yet in the face of this Vredenburg deliberately states that as their constitution does not call for bench shows they are not eligible. Will Mr. Vredenburg state through any medium that he chooses that the various county fairs that hold bench shows all contain a clause in their constitution that calls for their holding an annual bench show? Did that of the San Joaquin Valley Agricultural Association contain such a clause?

This subterfuge was only used to blind the delegates that they would not insist on the whole correspondence being read. Had the correspondence been produced Vredenburg and his clique would have been turned down instead of the Olympic Gun Club and the fanciers of this city would not now be smarting under the injury done them and reviling the A. K. C. as a clique, run in the East by Vredenburg and on this end by the "mischief-maker."

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

Premium lists and entry blanks of the Stockton show can be obtained at this office.

The collie fanciers should all show at San Jose and assist in forming the California Collie Club.

Don't forget that the entries to the San Jose show close on the 18th with Charles R. Barker, Secretary, San Jose.

The "Babies" are rapidly growing into elephants.

D. W. Donnelly's collies will probably be seen on the circuit again this year.

H. C. B. Gill is making arrangements to publish a monthly journal in Fresno in the interest of the breeding of thoroughbred dogs.

Charles Klein advertises in this issue a pointer pup by Honest John, out of a bitch by Glenbeigh. This should be a good combination.

The exhibitors at Sacramento are making many inquiries at this office regarding the medals and diplomas won at that show. They are not yet in evidence.

The American Field calls C. H. Mason a "cowardly lying cur" we thought our little would-be contemporary in this city had a monopoly in that line of argument.

Jas. Moll shipped the St. Bernard bitch Olive by Lord Hualpa—Bohemian Girl to Presidio Kennels on Wednesday to be bred to Reglov Jr., the best son of Reglov.

The Southern California Kennel Club's premium lists arrived just as we are going to press. Diplomas are offered in all classes. Silver, gold and bronze medals are offered as specials in all classes. Entry fee for large dogs $3; medium sized dogs $2.50; small dogs $2. Entries close April 6 with R. B. Funk, 113 West First street, Los Angeles.

H. McCracken has added to his kennel a collie bitch pup whelped January 30th by Capt. Clifton out of Rixie by Strathmore Ben out of Princess by Lad out of Kiowilla Queen, Strathmore Ben by Ch. Dublin Scott out of Effie Dean II; Capt. Clifton by Hero out of Fannie of Nesseldown by Wellesbourne Charlie out of Adila Wonder; Hero by Clifton Hero out of Madge Wildfire. Good stock this.

At the meeting of the San Francisco Kennel Club of the 11th instant the hench show committee was increased by the addition of W. S. Kittle, Dr. F. W. D'Evelyn and S. F. Hughes. The club will offer cash prizes of $10, $5 and $3 in the principal classes and $5, $3 and diploma in the less popular classes. Jas. Mortimer has been invited to act as delegate to the A. K. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Bernard Club of California was held at this office on Wednesday evening, Thomas H. Browne in the chair. The resignation of Franz Frey as delegate to the Pacific Advisory Board was accepted and Dr. W. R. Ciness Jr. was elected to fill the vacancy for the balance of the term. Communications were read from George Bargate, the club's delegate to the A. K. C., and J. E. de Ruyter, president of the San Francisco Kennel Club, and action taken on the same. Several important resolutions were adopted, but it is not deemed advisable to make them public property at present.

There is a movement on foot to organize a kennel club in Oakland. The Alameda County Sportsman's Association disbanded last week and a good live club would be well supported by fanciers on this side of the bay.

The Only DIRECT Stallion Standing in the State!

ARTHUR L., 3, 2:15 1-4

WILL MAKE THE SEASON OF 1897 AT

Direct Stables, Alameda, Cal.

TERMS, $50.

(WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES)

ARTHUR L., 2:15 1-4 (at three years of age) was sired by DIRECT, 2:05½, out of NELLIE BLY (dam of Della S., 2:21, and Toots), by GEO. M. PATCHEN JR., 2:27; second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Della S., 2:19). He is one of the best young stallions in this State, and as it is the intention to prepare him for all races, he will be allowed to serve only a limited number of mares. His record, 2:15½, is no mark of his, as he has shown his ability to get a mark of 2:05. ARTHUR L. is a coal black in color, stands 15.2 hands, weighs 1,000 pounds. He is perfectly level-headed and one of the best-gaited horses on earth.

TOOTS

WILL MAKE THE SEASON AT THE SAME PLACE AT $25, WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

TOOTS was sired by MONBARS, 2:10¼, trotting, 2:16 pacing. His dam was NELLIE BLY (dam of Arthur L., 2:15½, and Della S., 2:21); second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Della S., 2:19). TOOTS is a handsome young horse, undeveloped, but has shown very fast in his short work. After the mares he will be prepared for the races. TOOTS is a black colt, stands 15.2½ hands, weighs 1,075 pounds, without a weak spot anywhere. His breeding is of the best, his sire, MONBARS, being by that great ROSE WILKE's stallion, JAY BIRD, 2:31¾, dam LADY MAUD, 2:18¾, by GEN. KNOX, etc. An extra inducement to owners of good mares, I agree to break all horses to harness sired by ARTHUR L. and TOOTS, and present to the owner of any colt sired by either of the above horses the sum of $100 that is a yearling record of 2:30 or better; also $200 to the owner of a two-year-old that obtains a record of 2:20, or a cash, or satisfactory Note at time of service. Good Pasturage at Reasonable Rates.

The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address,

The Standard-Bred Stallion

DUDLEY

RÉCORD, 2:14.

— SIRED BY —

ANTEROS 6920, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellen; third dam Belle Mahoue (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:16½, Antevolo, 2:19¼, etc., being by Electoneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is sire of Antidote, 2:10¼, Nelly F., 2:13¼, and seventeen others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twopeny-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellen 1st sire Dan Voorhees, 2:21¾; St. Helena, 2:27½, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14½, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. rnia. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Trilby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of handsome, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address —

Leading Sire of 2:10 Performers

By Almont 33

Altamont 3600

Sire of

Will make the season of 1897, at Oakland or Alameda

AT $100 THE SEASON,

WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost breeding sires of the country under conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacel mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendent of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTS.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a son, all of his rolls having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable. Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

Breeding unexcelled. Sired by Dictator, first dam Kelly W., by Electioneer (full sister to W., 2:20, sire of Little Albert, 2:10; second dam sister, by John Nelson; third dam Lamott mare, Aurora, 2:17, and Hazel, 2:28. WALDSTEIN's first, second and third dams are all producers. He is one of the best producing sons of Dictator, and in combination a grand individual; took first prize at State Fair over best horses as Knight, 2:22, and Zumbo, three year old record 2:13½. He is the five-mile race record of the world, 13:05 1-2, and never sired a colt that was not sired by WALDSTEIN (sire of Lady Waldstein, 2:15; Humboldt Mail, 2:17; Jack W., 2:19; Nativia Son, 2:20; Swiftbird, 2:29½, both three years old). The dams of all these have no records nor did they ever produce any in the 2:30 list. Come and see WALDSTEIN's colts go before booking your mares elsewhere.

TERMS, $50 FOR THE SEASON

(SEASON CLOSING JULY 1st.)

Usual return privileges if I still own the horse. He will be kept at Sacramento race track days and Woodland twodays.

The King of All Large Trotting Stallions

JAMES MADISON, 2:17 3-4

Trial 2:12, driven by W. Mahen.

Sired by ANTEEO, 2:16 1-4, out of LUCY PATCHEN, by Geo. M. Patchen; second dam Fanny Branham, by American Boy Jr.; third dam P. by Lance. He sired Addieon, 2:18 1-4, Lelia S., 2:20 1-2, Bet M. son, 2:20, Emma Nevada (trial 2:18), Dolly Madison (trial 2:21 3-4).

JAMES MADISON is sixteen hands high and weighs over 1,300 pounds. He is one of the best proportioned horses of his size living and his progeny have style, size, finish, perfect legs and feet, iron constitutions, splendid dispositions and the purest gait imaginable. They are all speed. There never was a James Madison that cannot show a 2:30 clip, and they need little or no boots.

TERMS FOR THE SEASON, $50.

DIABLO, 2:09 1-4

THE CHAMPION FOUR-YEAR-OLD IN CALIFORNIA

Sire, CHAS. DEKEY, 2:20 (son of Steln ay, 2:25½, son of dam of 4 in 2:30, by Electioneer), dam BERTHA (dam of 4 in 2:30, by Electioneer), Ed Caffery, 2:16½, trial 2:10, sister to B. Wilkes 2:13½, and Almie, sire of four in 2:30, by Alcantara, 2:23 (son of George Wilkes and Almie Mater); dam B. reena (dam of Bayard Wilkes, 2:13½), by Bayard (son of Pilot Jr.); third dam Blandina (dam of King Gene and four other producing sires), by Mambrino Chief II; fourth dam Birch mare (dam of Lind, 2:21½, and Donald, 2:27), by Parker's Brown Pilot (sire of fourth dam of Nancy Hanks, 1:54), a son of Wick's Copperbottom, and out of a thoroughbred mare. To show how well Diablo's colts have shown it is necessary to say that five were banded for speed in 1896. Following are their trials: Two-year-old quarter, 36 seconds; a two-year-old, one-quarter, 31 seconds; a two-year-old, one-half, 1:09; a yearling quarter, 35 seconds; a two-year-old, six weeks' work, one quarter, 38 seconds, and El Diablo, trial mile, 2:24. DIABLO will make the season of 1897 at Pleasanton. Serv fee, $50. Address,

HART BOSWELL

No. 13,699. This splendidly formed trotting stallion sired by CONWARD, 2:25 1-4 (son of GEO. WILKES and DOLLY, dam of DIKTATOR, 2:17, THORNDALE, 2:21, etc.), sire of 113 in 2:30 list; dam NANCY LEE (dam of NANCY HANKS, 2:01, and DIKTATOR WILKES, sire of 2:30 list), by Dictator; second dam SOPHY (grandam of Mike Wilkes, 2:15½, Ira Wilkes, 2:2½, at sires Aerial Wilkes and Ira Wilkes), by Edwin Forrest 49; third dam Sophronia, by Brown Pilot; fourth dam Bertrand; fifth dam by Lance, son of American Eclipse; sixth dam by Gray Duganmum. This is the soma of fashionable breeding. In conformation, disposition, color and pure trotting action, HART BOSWELL is perfect. He has never been worked for speed. His progeny are strong limbed, level-headed and very promising, and are conceded by competent judges to be the finest-formed youngsters in California. Terms $50 for the season. Address K. O'GRADY, Laurel Creek Farm, San Mateo. Splendid pasturage, and mares kept in any manner owners may desire.

THE HORSE WITHOUT A "BUT."

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12½

ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M, 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING unexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12½, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable bull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

his game and consistent stallion will make the SEASON OF 1897, ending July 1st, at W. E. MEEK'S STABLE, near the Haywards Station, at $50 THE SEASON, With usual return privileges.

WELCOME was sired by Arthur Wilkes, 2:29½, out of Letty (dam of Wayland W., 2:12; Welcome (p) 2:10½, trotting 2:37½; Mand Singleton, 2:23½, by Wayland Forrest (son of Edwin Forrest (p) and a mare by Sir Charles, thoroughbred); second dam Mary (dam of Apex, 2:36; Sterling, sire of four and one sire of one.) Grace, dam of Creole, 2:15; Eagle, 2:19½, by Flaxtail 8132; third dam by Bright Eyes, son of Boacorges, Arthur Wilkes, 2:29½, sire of Welcome, was sired by the mighty Guy Wilkes, 2:11½, out of Gracie, by Arthurton 3651; second dam Old Lady, by David Hill Jr.

WELCOME comes from speed producing lines on both sides and his reputation as the "gamest race horse ever Andy McDowell handled" shows that he is far superior to many that have extreme speed, but are lacking in courage. WELCOME is a bay horse, stands 16 hands, and is one of the best-formed horses in California. He earned a trotting record of 2:27½ when a four-year-old, and was put to pacing last year. He started in Montana without a record and won money in every race he started. He won some of the most stubbornly-contested races seen in 1896.

WILL MAKE THE SEASON OF 1897

— AT —

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.

TERMS—$25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:14, dam Early Bird, by Placental (brother to Barney, 2:34); second dam Lucy, b. O. d. Fellow (son of Chibroe (p)); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont, fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmate was by Mike 343 (he by Vermont 322, out of the Feulner mare), out of Kate McDonough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Saladin, 2:34).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands high and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrical of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy racer are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and in his maternal side traces to the very best of blood and bone. He has an iron constitution, and allows even the most strenuous and extreme use of his service to be placed at a very low figure considerably, his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

For further particulars apply to

THOS ROACH, Lakeville, Cal.

Mares can be shipped direct to the ranch via Steamer Gold. The best of care taken if them on the farm, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $3 per month.

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcyone (sire of George Wilkes, and Alma Mater, the famous out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/4, Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, Wilmar, 2:29 1/4), by Hambletonian 10; granddam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great granddam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15.2 1/2 hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect-made horses in America, having plenty of bone and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention.

SEASON 1897
WILKES Kohlan King 28,295 SIDNEY

HERE IS ROYAL BREEDING INDEXED.

Sired by that great race horse (SIMMECOLON, 2:13 3-4) that won nine out of 11 races, and second in the other two that he started in through the Grand Circuit of the East, the season previous to entering the stud, and who is now becoming noted as a producer from the great performances of his first colts, being the sire of the phenomenal fast and game colt Dan Q., three-year-old record 2:11 1/4 last season, Meridian, 2:13, and several more in the 20 list. Dam SYBIL, 2:27 1-2 (by Sidney, the greatest sire of his age); second dam MAUD R., (by Whipple's Hambletonian), which alone should produce speed and race horses if there is anything in breeding, but to go farther, it will be found that Kohlan King has six crosses of old Hambletonian 10, that produced George Wilkes, Electioneer, and most of our great sires, which is nicely intermingled with the blood of Mambrino Patchen and Mambrino Chief (sire of dam of Director) two great sources of speed, which are second to none, and Simmucolon, is forage the greatest producing sire of George Wilkes and noted as a sire that produces great race horses.

KOHLAN KING is a black horse, five years old, 15 1/2 hands high, weighs 1,150 pounds, and, according to critics, he is not excelled as an individual, and having been allowed to mature without his vitality being sapped by training, he should be more sure to produce in keeping with his blood lines. He is, however, very speedy and pure-gaited, and now that he is well matured it is the intention to campaign him the coming summer after the season closes.

SEASON, $50.

FROM MARCH 1st TO JUNE 1st.

WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES, TO A LIMITED NUMBER OF APPROVED MARES ONLY.

Care taken, but no responsibility assumed. Pasturage, $5 per month. For further particulars address G. W. STIMPSON, V. S., 222 Twelfth Street, Oakland.

SAN MATEO STOCK FARM

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15 1/2 hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stake, and in his four-year-old form, until he met the great Azote, 2:01 1/4 (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen Mayhew, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hubbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26 3/4). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfect in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 6:37 1/2. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, dam Chantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:55), by Nutwood, 2:18 1/2; second dam Crocon (dam of Loveless, 2:20, and Betsy Britton, 2:25 1/4), by Princeps 346; third dam Crane Lisse (dam of Bazarrie, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $110, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred ones sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo County. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

SACRAMENTO

AT THE LOW FEE OF

$75

For the Season with Usual Return Privileges

Payable on Removal of Mares.

With a limited chance in the end, True Briton has already shown himself to be a great sire. Rey del Baidos, from a non-producing mare that had already had five foals, holds the Pacific Coast record, 3:57 1/4, 2 1/2 miles; Her Majesty (dead), won 11 out of 14 start; Walter J., (also out of a non-producer), a horse with great turn of speed, has finished outside the money but a very few times out of nearly one hundred start; Virgie A. and Zeta, both winners, being the only ones to represent this royally-bred stallion on the racing turf this year.

From this showing there is but one inference to be drawn, and that is, that True Briton is a sure getter; winners; mares that have never thrown a winner any other stallion, bred to True Briton, get winners and class horses at that.

OAKLAND.

Excellent Racing Over a Very Fast Track—
Some Records Established and Stakes Decided.

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY—FRIDAY, MARCH 12.

There was plenty of racing at Oakland this afternoon, seven races being carded. They were well contested, too, there being only one race won easily during the day. Four favorites and three long shots gathered in the desirable portion of the purses, hence the speculating public had no dismal howl to emit over the running of the various events. The surprises were in the first and last races. Bourbon, a horse bred in the southern part of the State, led from the rise of the barrier to the sighting-rod in the first. He was as good as 30 to 1 in the betting, but was backed to 10's at post time. Rey El Salto, winner of the third, was at 5 to 1, and in the last Sallie Clicquot's $2,100 brother (supposed to be the rankest counterfeit ever thrown on the public) made every post a winning one, and though all out at the finish, was a length in front at the right spot. The mile and a furlong race between Judge Denny and Morte Fonce was one of the prettiest ever seen here, not over a neck separating the pair for over a mile, while for about a quarter they ran stride for stride as one horse, there not being any discernible advantage. Cash Day's easy win in such fast time stamps him a rare good one, and Lincoln won the mile handicap in his usual game fashion.

The first race, five furlongs, brought eleven to the post. Off to a fair start, Bourbon early got to the fore, leading by a length at the half and two lengths at the three-quarters. Iron Jacket second, lapped by Monitor. Woodland Belle came out of the hunch in the last furlong, but could not catch Bourbon, who won driven out by a scant length. Woodland Belle second, three lengths before Adam Andrew, who came very fast the last part of it. Time, 1:02½. Bourbon was at 12 to 1 (backed from 30), Woodland Belle 12 to 5, Adam Andrew 5 to 1, Miss Ross 3½ (6 once), Siegfried 4, others 12 to 150 to 1.

The second race was for three-year-olds, six furlongs. Dolore got a shade the best of the send-off and led Lena by two lengths past the half and into the homestretch, Cavallo third. Dolore's lead was cut to a length half-way down the homestretch, but she drew away again. Cavallo was catching her at the finish, but Dolore won by a length, Cavallo second, four lengths from Lena, who beat imp. Mistral a small margin. Time, 1:17. Dolore was at 16 to 5, Cavallo 5 to 1, Lena 8, Tom Smith 4, others 8 to 50 to 1.

The third race, three and one-half furlongs, brought twelve to the barrier. Off to a good start, Little T. G., on the fly, was in front by over a length turning into the straight, Rey El Salto second, a block in front of Thorpe. Rey El Salto drove hard all the way down the homestretch, and getting up in the last forty yards, won by a neck, Little T. G. second, eight lengths before Thorpe, who was nearly as far in front of Charles Le Bel. Time, 0:42½. Rey El Salto was at 5 to 1, Little T. G. 3 to 1, Thorpe 11 to 5, Charles Le Bel 3½ (played from 6 to 1), others 12 to 100 to 1.

The fourth was a mile and a furlong, with five starters. Morte Fonce ran a head in front of Judge Denny past the quarter, Adolph Spreckels three lengths away. It was the same passing the half. Denny and Fonce ran stride for stride until nearing the three quarters, where Fonce showed a neck to the good. Denny, against the rails, got up to Morte about a sixteenth from home, and in a hair-raising finish won by nose, Morte Fonce four lengths before Adolph Spreckels. Time, 1:55. Judge Denny was at 3 to 2, Morte Fonce 4½ to 1 (as good as 8), Adolph Spreckels 4½, Palomacita 11 to 5, Hotspur 300 to 1.

The fifth race was at seven furlongs. Sallie Clicquot broke in front to a bad start, in which Installator was practically left. Sallie Clicquot led George Miller two lengths past the quarter. At the half it was Sallie first by two and a half lengths, Cash Day second, a head before Miller. Cash Day ran up very fast nearing the three-quarters, and on the final turn he and Clicquot were head and head. The mare was beaten when over a sixteenth from home, and Cash Day won easily by one and a half lengths, Sallie Clicquot six lengths before George Miller, on whom Salvation was lapped. Time, 1:27½—a great run. Cash Day was at 6 to 5, Sallie Clicquot 3 to 1, George Miller 6, Installator 6½, Salvation 10, Zylola 200 and Charles A. 300 to 1.

A mile selling race came next. They were away to a good start, except Benamela, who was seven or eight lengths behind when he got going. Nebula and Yankee Doodle ran head and head past the quarter and half, about three lengths in front of Lincoln, who gained steadily from the half pole, and was but little over a length behind the leader, Yankee Doodle, turning for home. Doodle and Nebula turned wide, Lincoln close, and getting up between the eighth and sixteenth posts in the homestretch, Lincoln won driven out by two and a half lengths, Yankee Doodle second, half a length before Benamela, who beat Summertime a head. The former ran a much better race than the winner. Time, 1:41½. Lincoln was at evens (backed from 9 to 5), Summertime 2 to 1 (opened at 6 to 5), Yankee Doodle 6½, Nebula 10 and Benamela 15 to 1.

The last race of the day was at six furlongs, for three-year-olds. M. Clicquot went to the front and was never headed winning all out by a length, Tulare second, four lengths from May R., on whom Naranja was just lapped. Time, 1:15½. St. Distaff was prominent for nearly half a mile. Mrs. Shade showed no speed. M. Clicquot was at 15 to 1 (20 once), Tulare 10, May R. 50, St. Distaff 8 to 5, Naranja and Mrs. Shade 3 to 1, others 10 to 60 to 1.

FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY—SATURDAY, MARCH 13.

In the first, six and one-half furlongs, they were away to a good start. Grover C. led past the half by half a length, Mulberry second, a head before Billy Ayres. Mulberry was leading Billy Ayres at the final turn, Grover C. a length away, two lengths from Baron. Rapido, sixth into the homestretch, came very strong, and getting up near the finish, won driving by a head, Mulberry second, two lengths from Podiga, on whom Baron was lapped. Time, 1:23½. Rapido was at 40 to 1, Mulberry 2½, Podiga 40, Baron 3½, others 8 to 100 to 1.

The second was a split of the first race, and fifteen came to the post. They were sent away to an excellent start, Carrie U., Eventide and Vera being 1-2-3. Lovdal's head showed in front of Senator Grady's at the half, Franco lapped on the Senator, Vera close up. At the three-quarters it was Senator Grady first by a head, Lovdal second, two lengths from Midas. The leaders ran head and head down the homestretch, Senator Grady winning cleverly by a nose, Lovdal second, a dozen lengths from Midas, third. Franco was fourth, three lengths further away. Time, 1:21½—a fast run. Senator Grady was at 3 to 2 (9 to 5 once), Lovdal 7 to 5, Midas 4½ to 1, others 30 to 300 to 1.

The Racing Stakes, half a mile, came next. The value of the stake was $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. They were off to a good start, but Free Lady was on her stride best and opened up a gap of four lengths in the first sixteenth, leading The Cheat by three lengths at the three-quarters. The Cheat, under the whip, closed up on Free Lady and over a sixteenth from home got up to her. She came again, however, and won driving by a length, The Cheat second, as far from Thorpe. Roxey Murphy was fourth, five lengths further away. Time, 0:48½, the track record. Free Lady was at 2½ to 1, The Cheat 3 to 5, Thorpe and Col. Dan (coupled) 7 to 1, Roxey Murphy 25 to 1.

The Oakland Handicap, one and a quarter miles, was fourth on the programme. The stake was $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. Howard S. set the pace for nearly a quarter, then Thelma and Lincoln took up the running, being heads apart past the quarter and half, Howard S. and Judge Denny together, one and a half lengths away. Thelma was done for three furlongs from home, and Lincoln led at the final turn by three lengths, Howard S. second. Lincoln drew away even further half-way down the stretch, but Howard S. was now driven, and eating up daylight very fast, got up to Lincoln a few yards of the finish, and won by the shortest of noses, Lincoln eight lengths before Judge Denny. Thelma was a distant fourth and Peter the Second absolutely last. Time, 2:07½. Howard S. was at 6 to 5, Lincoln 11 to 5, Judge Denny 15 to 1, Thelma 8 (played from 10), Peter the Second 55 to 1.

The fifth race was at a mile. They were off to a very poor start, David in front. David and True Blue ran lapped past the quarter and half, Aquinas two and a half to three lengths away. David led by three lengths into the homestretch, where Aquinas turned very wide, losing three or four lengths, and when Clawson did get Aquinas straightened away he did not ride him with any sense for judgment. David won by one and a half lengths from Lost Girl, who beat Aquinas half a length for place. Time, 1:42½. David was at 9 to 5 (2 to 1 for some time), Lost Girl 50 to 1, Aquinas 3 to 5, True Blue 12 and Little Scott 30 to 1.

In the sixth, six furlongs, there was a delay of about half an hour, and finally, after two recalls, the barrier went up to a very straggling start, Toano showing first and Col. Wheeler second. Col. Wheeler and Toano ran head and head past the half, Applause two and a half lengths away. Col. Wheeler turned into the homestretch a length in front of Toano, on whom Applause was lapped. Applause got to the front about a sixteenth from home and won by a length, Col. Wheeler second, a length from McLight, who came from the clouds. Time, 1:14. Applause was at 8 to 5, Col. Wheeler 10 to 1, McLight 15, Mainstay 6, others 10 to 500 to 1.

The last race was one and a half miles over six hurdles. Flashlight, away about fourth, got to the front in the first furlong, led Tuxedo six lengths at the stand, two lengths at the quarter and half, eight lengths at the three-quarters. Arundel was third for about a mile and a furlong. Tuxedo and Anteuil finished up very strong, and Flashlight appeared to be dying away. He won by a short head from Tuxedo, but we are of the opinion that Peters could have made the margin considerably larger had he wished. Anteuil was third, about two lengths away and ten lengths before Hello, who broke down. The time was 2:46½—a good run. Flashlight was at 3 to 5, Tuxedo 10 to 1, Anteuil 30 (50 once), Hello 4½, others 10 to 50 to 1.

FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY—MONDAY, MARCH 15.

The first race was for three-year-old maidens, six furlongs. Lupula was first to show and led by a head past the half, Halsey and Seven Up coming next. Seven Up was first at the final turn by half a length, Halsey and Velox head and head. Velox came out of the hunch in the last sixteenth and won with ridiculous ease by two lengths, Cogent second, one and a half lengths before Argestes. Schweitzer smeared Whitman on the track near the five-furlong pole, but he was not injured. The time was 1:17½. Velox was at 2½ to 1 (16 to 5 once), Cogent 10 (played from 12), Major Flind 3, Lupula 7, others 10 to 60 to 1.

The second race was at six furlongs. Off to a good start, Altamex showed in front for about a furlong, then Peril, who was sixth away, passed him, leading past the half by four lengths, Altamex second, two from Edgemount, Big Chief and Installatrix, heads apart. Peril was six lengths to the good at the three-quarters, but Altamex came fast, and the black mare tiring, he got up to her about a sixteenth from home and won by nearly four lengths, Peril four from Don Clarence, who was fourth at the final turn. Big Chief was fourth, a head behind the Don. Time, 1:15½. Altamex was at 9 to 10 (backed from 6 to 5), Peril 5 to 1, Don Clarence 5, others 10 to 100 to 1.

The third was six furlongs. To a good start Fanny S. dashed away in front, leading Tulare four lengths at the half and three lengths at the final turn, Rosalbra third. Tulare had Fanny S. beaten a sixteenth from home, and Hennessy became over-confident, St. Distaff coming like a streak on the outside and stealing the race, which he won by a head, Tulare second, a length from Fanny S. Time, 1:16. St. Distaff was at 3½ to 1 (5 once), Tulare 9 to 5 (played from 11 to 5), Fanny S. 25 to 1, others 10 to 40 to 1.

The fourth, half a mile, brought nine two-year-olds to the post. They got a good start. Rey El Salto went to the front and opened up two lengths of daylight in the first eighth, and was one and one half lengths to the good at the final turn, Little T. G., Los Prietos and Gypceiver close together. Rey El Salto was not headed, winning handsily by two lengths, Little T. G., just lasting to beat Gypceiver half a head for the place, Los Prietos fourth. Time 0:49. Rey El Salto and Los Prietos (coupled) were at 9 to 5, Little T. G. 5 to 1, Gypceiver 12 to 5, Hermoso 5 to 1, others 8 to 100 to 1.

The fifth, one mile, brought out seven. To a fair start Logan showed first and led Encino a head at the quarter, Miss Ruth lapped on Encino. Lovdal was badly bumped on the first turn by Castanette. Encino was first by a length at the half and two lengths at the three-quarters, Logan second, a length from Miss Ruth. Lovdal was sixth at the latter point, but getting through in the homestretch, came on and won gamely by half a length from Eocino, who beat Logan a head, Instigator fourth. Time, 1:43½. Lovdal was at even (7 to 5 once), Encino 7½ to 1, Logan 3, Instigator 4, St. Aignan 7, Castanette and Miss Ruth 100 to 1.

In the sixth, five furlongs, for three-year-olds, after quite a delay, they got a poor send-off. Scotch Rose, second away, led by four lengths at the half, Chenille second, five lengths from Fortune, on whom Etta H., off badly, was lapped. Scotch Rose led by four lengths at the three-quarters, Chenille six lengths from Fortune and Etta H., close together. Scotch Rose was not headed, winning handily by three lengths, Chenille second, a head before Etta H., Fortune a distant fourth. Time, 1:01½. Scotch Rose was at 6 to 5, Etta H. 9 to 5, Chenille 4½ to 1, others 30 to 200 to 1.

The last race of the afternoon, six furlongs, turned out to be a surprise party. Mercutio, Caliente, Roltaire was the order to a good send-off. Caliente was humped when nearing the half-mile mark and Howard shot to the front, leading by a length, by fully three at the three-quarters and in the homestretch, and won handily by two lengths from Caliente, who was coming fast, Mercutio third, six lengths away, pulled up. Time, 1:14½. Howard was at 8 to 1 (20 once), Caliente 7 to 10, Mercutio 30 to 1, Hazard 7, Trappeau 8, others 20 to 30 to 1.

FIFTY-NINTH DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 16.

The first race, seven furlongs, brought sixteen to the post. To a good, quick start, Billy Ayres and Red Will ran close together past the quarter and half, then Billy Ayres drew away, leading by three lengths into the homestretch, where Little Scot was well up, followed by Miss Ruth. Ayres was done for when over a sixteenth from home, and Little Scot looked a winner until near the finish, where Miss Ruth came strong and won on the post by a head cleverly, Little Scot second, a length before Tar and Tartar. Time, 1:30½. Miss Ruth was at 20 to 1, Little Scot 15 (played from 60), Tar and Tartar even money, the L. 3 (4 once), others 12 to 100 to 1.

The second race, three and a half furlongs, brought nine youngsters to the post. To a good start for all but Appropriation Potente led Sadie Schwartz nearly a length to the homestretch. Here Sadie came through against the inner rails and won handily by a length, Potente second, four lengths from the fast-coming Andrea. Don Luis showed no speed. Time, 0:44. Sadie Schwartz was at 20 to 1, Potente 6, Andreas 15, Don Luis 3 to 5, Stoic 8, others 15 to 20 to 1.

In the third, seven furlongs, for three-year-old fillies, they got away to an excellent send-off after a lot of cutting up at the post. Lady Hurst showed first for a little over a sixteenth, then Grandezia took up the running, leading past the half by about two and a half lengths, Apto and Dolore together. Grandezia was clear of her field turning for home, the rest, except Woodland Belle, pretty well bunched. Altanera came very fast the last furlong, and looked like a winner, but Clawson had been reserving Grandezia a little, and had enough left to stave off the rest and win by half a length, Altanera second, two lengths from Queen Nubia. Time, 1:31. Grandezia was at 6 to 1, Altanera 3½, Queen Nubia 6, Woodland Belle 2, others 12 to 100 to 1.

Ten two-year-olds came out in the fourth, three and a half furlongs. They broke to a fair start after one recall had been made, Col. Dan showing in front. Col. Dan was half a length in front of Martha at the final turn, and a pretty race ensued down the homestretch, Martha winning cleverly by half a length, Col. Dan second, six lengths from Moringa, Rey Salazar fourth, another length away. Time, 0:42½. The American record at the distance, we believe. Martha was at 3½ to 1 (5 to 1 once), Col. Dan 18 to 5, Moringa 12, Rey Salazar 11 to 5, others 10 to 50 to 1.

The fifth race, six furlongs, had seven starters. To a good start Cash Day showed first, Amelia Fonso next, Santa Bella third. Cash Day was soon taken back, being sixth at the half, where Bellicoso, Towerst and Una Que Amo were running heads apart, half a length before Peixotto. Santa Bella made her move when three furlongs from home, Bellicoso leading her one and one-half lengths into the homestretch, Peixotto third, another length away, lapped by Cash Day. Bellicoso was done for when over a sixteenth from home, and Santa Bella appeared to be winning. Cash Day stole up swiftly on the outside, however, and though he appeared to most of those in the press stand not to have quite gotten up, he was given the verdict, Santa Bella placed second. Bellicoso was third, eight lengths away. Time, 1:15½. Cash Day was at even, Santa Bella 3 to 1, Bellicoso 13 to 5 (18 to 5 once), others 50 to 600 to 1.

The last race was at a mile. To an excellent send-off Perseus went right to the front, leading Nehula nearly a length at the quarter. At the half it was Perseus first by a length, McLight second, as far from Walter J. The leader had increased his advantage to three lengths by the time the homestretch was reached, McLight being second, with Nehula at his heels. Perseus was not headed, and won easily by three lengths, Palomacita (fifth turning for home) second, a short head before McLight. Rienzi was a poor fourth. Time, 1:42½. Perseus was at 4 to 5 (6 to 5 once), Palomacita 10, McLight 6, Walter J. 6, others 8 to 300 to 1.

SIXTIETH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17.

The first race was for three-year-olds, six furlongs. Cavallo, Defender, Scarborough was the order to a poor start. Cavallo and Reel ran heads apart past the half, a length before Scarborough. Reel's gray head was just in front of Cavallo's bay one at the head of the homestretch, Ezekiel two lengths away. The leaders ran head and head until over a sixteenth from home, when Cavallo drew away and won by two lengths, ridden out, Widow Jones coming from the clouds and getting the place by a length, Reel third, just lapped by Scarborough. Cavallo was at 9 to 5, Widow Jones 20, Reel 8 (15 once), Scarborough 2½, others 7 to 200 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, selling, they got away to a good start, Montgomery going to the front, closely attended by Mainstay. At the half Montgomery and Mainstay were running lapped, four lengths in front of Una Que Amo and Ricardo, head and head. At the three quarters Montgomery was a length to the good, Mainstay second, three lengths from Una Que Amo, at whose heels came Hazard. Montgomery drew away another length in the homestretch, and won handily by one and one-half lengths, Hazard coming up and heating Mainstay a scant length for place. Ricardo was a distant fourth. Time, 1:15½. Montgomery was at 3 to 5 (hacked from 4 to 5), Hazard 7 to 1, Mainstay 3, others 40 to 150 to 1.

The third was at six furlongs, for three-year-olds. To a good start Dunhoy got to the front when they had gone a furlong and led Rosalbra a length at the half, Hohenzollern close up. Dunhoy led around to the homestretch by a length, Rosalbra second, two lengths from Hohenzollern. Rosalbra stopped some the last part of it and Dunhoy won ridden out by two lengths, Hohenzollern second, driving, five lengths before Roselle. Time, 1:16½. Dunhoy was at 6 to 5, Hohenzollern 3 to 1 (played from 6), Roselle 10, Tulare 5, others 10 to 100 to 1.

The Golden Gate Handicap, fifteen and a half furlongs, came next. The stake was $1,000, of which $200 to second, $100 to third. Candelaria and Scarf Pin ran close together for about a furlong, then Scarf Pin took the lead, attended closely by California and Trappeau. At the half California was first by a head, Scarf Pin second, three lengths from Candelaria, at the head of a bunch. Scarf Pin was first by a length at the head of the homestretch, Installer second now, a head before California, Candelaria, three lengths further away. Candelaria came like a shot in the stretch, and collaring Scarf Pin about a sixteenth from home, won handily by two lengths, Scarf Pin second, a neck from the fast-coming Lincoln, at whose heels came Lohengula. Time, 1:34½. Candelaria was at even (played from 2 to 1), Scarf Pin 4, Lincoln 5, others 9 to 60 to 1.

The fifth race was for three-year-olds, one mile. To a fair start Ray del Tierra ran into the lead at once, and Col. Wheeler went around the hunch into second place when they had gone a quarter. Ray del Tierra, Stentor and Col. Wheeler ran heads apart as named past the half. Stentor got to the fore soon after this, but Ray del Tierra held on gamely, being but a head behind at the head of the homestretch, Lost Girl two lengths off, third. Stentor assumed a length lead in the homestretch, but went to pieces about half-way down, Ray del Tierra coming along on the outside and winning cleverly by a length, Col. Wheeler, Don Clarence and Lost Girl finishing heads apart in the order named. Time, 1:43. Ray del Tierra was at 40 to 1, Col. Wheeler 7 to 5, Don Clarence 40, Stentor 3 to 2, others 60 to 150 to 1.

The last race was at one and one-half miles, hurdle. Thirteen lined up. Flashlight went right to the front and was never headed, winning by eight lengths from Tuxedo, who beat the driven-out Reddington as far. Three Forks, J. O. C., and Tortoni fell at the first jump, and it looked for a time as if Hennessy, rider of the first named, had been killed. He was only stunned, however, and no bones were broken. Wilkins, rider of Tortoni, was badly shaken up and said to be injured internally. Roh Roy and Silverado fell at the second fence, but their riders were not seriously injured. The time was 2:19. Flashlight was at 7 to 5, Tuxedo 9 to 1, Reddington 4, Three Forks 4, others 15 to 100 to 1.

SIXTY-FIRST DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 18.

The first race, four and one-half furlongs, had seven starters. To a good send-off Blue Bell took a slight lead. At the half she and Billy Ayres were necks apart. There was little change in the run to the homestretch. Billy Ayres took a decided lead when they straightened away, but Sea Spray came like a shot from behind, and gaining at every stride, just missed winning, Billy Ayres getting the verdict by a nose, Gold Bug third, five lengths off. Time, 1:10½. Billy Ayres was at 6 to 1, Sea Spray 2½, Gold Bug 10, Zamloch 2½, Monitor 8 (12 once), Blue Bell 15 to 5, Spry Lark 60 to 1.

The second was at six furlongs, for three-year-olds. Ten lined up, and all got away well except Nehula, who was left. Rienzi, Fort Augustus and Mercutio ran in close order past the half. At the three quarters it was Rienzi first by half a length, Mercutio second, a head before St. Distaff, who led Fort Augustus and Altamax by a small margin. Altamax got up to the leader over a sixteenth from home, and won driving from St. Distaff by half a length, Rienzi third, four lengths off and a head in front of Mercutio. Time, 1:16½. Altamax was at 4 to 5, St. Distaff 12 to 1, Rienzi 8, Nehula 3½, others 8 to 100 to 1.

In the third, one mile, all got away to a good start except Tar and Tartar, who had been acting badly. Baron went to the front, leading Leonville's small margin past the quarter and Una Colorado a head at the half, Leonville third, close up, at the latter point. Una Colorado had a head lead of Biron in the homestretch, but H. Martin put up a good ride on the latter, Spencer a poor one on Colorado, and Baron won, driving hard, by a head, Una Colorado four lengths before Peter the Second, who could never get any closer. Time, 1:44½. Baron was at 7 to 1 (10 at the opening), Una Colorado 8, Peter the Second 7 to 5, Devault 4, others 57 to 150.

The fourth was at five and one-half furlongs, a split of the first. Major Cook went right to the front, and at the half, and three-quarters was a length in front of Amelia Fonso, who led Miss Ross from one to two lengths. Cook experienced no trouble in winning by three lengths, while Candor came up and beat the quitting Amelia Fonso half a length. Time, 1:09½. Major Cook was at 13 to 10, Candor 12, Amelia Fonso 4, (backed from 7), Toano 2½, Miss Ross 12 and Sir Richard 50 to 1.

The fifth was at seven furlongs. Off to a good start, except Laura Burt, Grandezia showed in the lead for about a furlong, then Apto took up the running, leading Grandezia three lengths at the half and a little less than that at the final turn. Apto stopped badly and Joan, coming very strong, won easily by six lengths, Grandezia heating Claudiana half a length for place, Apto a poor fourth. Time, 1:30. Joan was at 3½ to 1, Grandezia even money, Claudiana 6 to 1, others 7 to 100 to 1. The hookmakers' sheets were called for after the race.

The last race of the day was at six and a half furlongs, selling. Applause led Peril half a length around to the three-furlong pole. Here Peril fell back and Caliente moved up from fourth to second place. He could not catch Applause, however, the mare winning driving by two lengths, Caliente ten before Midlo, third. Time, 1:21½. Applause was at 7 to 10 (hacked from even money), Caliente 2½ to 1 (3½ once), Midlo 3, others 12 to 500 to 1.

L. ROCKMAN, secretary Fresno Jockey Club, writes: "Horsemen will get very low rates over the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railroad to Fresno for our meeting in April. Henry Schwartz will make a hook there."

Dates for Stake Races.

The current number of the "Racing Calendar" contains the schedule of dates on which the Washington Jockey Club, the Westchester Racing Association and the Coney Island Jockey Club will run off their stake events. The Brooklyn Jockey Club will probably announce its dates next week. Brighton and Saratoga will probably not announce their's until the racing season is well under way, as their meetings do not begin until well in July.

It was originally intended to begin the Washington meeting on April 10th, and dates were accordingly allotted. The management, however, has wisely decided not to avail itself of all the dates allotted, because it would be almost impossible to have a sufficient number of horses ready so early in the season. The feature of the meeting, the Washington Handicap, will not be run off until the last day of the meeting, so as to give trainers every opportunity to thoroughly wind up their horses. The schedule is:

April 17—The Arlington; half a mile; for two-year-olds.
April 19—The Federal; six and a half furlongs; for three-year-olds.

SAN MATEO STOCK FARM.—A very prominent place in harness horse history is occupied by the establishment which bears the above title. More appropriate now to call it the Burlingame, as it is a part of that gilt-edge town, the house, stables and paddocks only a few hundred yards from the handsome depot, and that being the postoffice address.

Whatever the name, however, it is beyond successful contention that from San Francisco to San Jose it is the most attractive point on the bay, about the only place where the high land reaches the water edge in a bluff, bold bank, and consequently, high and dry land, every acre of the four hundred and odd available.

The whole of this article could be used in describing the farm and its beauties, its adaptability for the purpose it was purchased for by Mr. Corbitt and the "improvements" he has made. A model breeding farm in every respect, and though the value has become too great to permit its being used for so many barns, stables, paddocks, fields, training track and the other adjuncts of breeding, rearing and training horses, it seems "too bad" that so desirable a location should be diverted to other uses.

Still when stately villas, handsome cottages, beautiful grounds, all that wealth and taste can accomplish to enhance the natural loveliness, comes, there should be no repinings over the dethronement of equine kings and queens.

Some eight years ago Mr. Schults, the very wealthy Eastern breeder of horses, offered Mr. Corbitt half a million of dollars for the farm and stock. Quite a handsome sum over the cost to Mr. Corbitt, but now the land alone is worth a greater sum and with a prospect of still larger appreciation. When the contemplated route around the hills in place of the present heavy grade is utilized there is little hazard in saying that Burlingame will be the most attractive suburb of San Francisco, and with an absolute certainty that the character of its residents will ensure the very highest consideration. As Mr. Corbitt purchased it for a breeding farm, it is altogether unlikely that the place would have been if he had not resolved to engage in that business, and hence if even there should be a margin on the wrong side when expense and receipts, immediately due to the horse, are brought into juxtaposition, the credit side in all will show a huge profit. But even if the unprecedented "slump" in horse values has shown heavy losses for the past few years there are reasons, unnecessary to give, why the profits should have been far larger, the expenses much smaller.

And now I anxiously hope that Mr. Corbitt will reconsider his determination so far as to retain one stallion and a few of his colts, and in order to do away with the impression that he is "holding out" the best, sell all the mares, all of the colts excepting three foals of 1896 and the same number of 1897. Buy a few mares of the right breeding and form to take the place of those which have gained renown but untried (which seems like nonsensical advice, though as my object is to furnish recreation there will be the additional gratification of proving that the judgment was correct), though making a special point of beauty.

Like myself, Mr. Corbitt is a little beyond the meridian of life. Too old at least to forego habits and pursuits which have become a "second nature," and, do as we may, there will be a void if the old routes are entirely forsaken.

The stallion must be taken out of any future sale catalogue and the announcement made that he is not to be disposed of, however tempting the offer. That is Oro Wilkes. The first time I saw him was Saturday last, and it may be possible that surprise caused over-estimation.

I was aware that he was a great trotter, one of the improving sort, from 2:21 as a two-year-old, 2:15 when three, a second heat in 2:11 when four, bang up the third and fourth in 2:10 and 2:09½ with Azote and other good ones behind him, but was not prepared to see such a magnificent specimen of the "truly American horse" as this son of Sahle Wilkes and Ellen Mayhew. I took copious notes of his conformation from feet to withers, from muzzle to setting on of his tail, and his image is stamped on that convolution of the brain which has been allowed to those kinds of pictures. Thousands of impressions. Some that more so deeply indented in the long, long ago that they are reproduced with startling distinctness, others of recent date, vague shadows, ghosts of horses like the streets of Oslan. Oro Wilkes is well worthy of being cherished as a fine specimen of the race, and his colts show that they have inherited their sire's form in a marked degree, and those I saw taking their first lessons by the side of saddle horse that they were also endowed with the right sort of action to ensure speed. The oldest are yearlings. Oro was mated with eight mares in 1895, all proved in foal, four of them sent to New York and the others at home. One included in the sale catalogue could not be sent owing to sickness, from which he has recovered, and having received some tuition before, it was reasonable to expect that he would do better than others which were taking their first instructions.

He is from Roseate, a bay with four white feet and white atrip. He reminds one of Dexter, not only in appearance, his action being as nearly similar as could be expected from a baby. The sucklings by Oro are also a high type, and as his breeding combines the blood of George Wilkes, Dictator and Speculation, giving him three strains of Hambletonian, united with these, The Moor, Mambrino Patchen, American Star, Vermont Blackhawk etc. Combined with high form, such trotting speed and racehorse qualities, intelligence, great beauty, docility, handsome color, black, with coat as fine as a thoroughbred, there is no hazard in predicting a great career for him in the stud.

Now that the attention of people are directed to the importance of breeding fine carriage horses, size, style, color and action being the prime factors, the stallion Prince Airlie by Gny Wilkes, from Chantilly by Nutwood, should secure attention. A beautiful shade of bay without white, fully sixteen hands, immensely powerful, without coarseness, commanding appearance whether at rest or in motion, and judging from what could be seen outside of a driving test, of such action that he should trot fast himself and his get trot fast. His colts indicate their sire as distinctly as those of his stable companion, in fact, after a little study, it would not be a difficult task to select the progeny of Gny, Sahle, Oro or Prince Airlie as they run in fields or paddocks, without hints from their attendants. A decided likeness between the colts (sire, sons and grandson), and yet different. A something which to a close observer reveals the parentage, though to a casual examiner all picked from the same hush.

In connection with this it will be well to correct a falsehood which undoubtedly had an injurious effect on the sale of Gny Wilkes. It was authoritatively stated that he was impotent. That, owing to an injury, he had not got a foal in two years, and his appearance in the sale ring, owing to the long and, to him, disastrous journey, corroborated the statement.

There are thirty-four yearlings at Mr. Corbitt's place, fully half of them being by Guy. I saw several of his foals and mares in foal to him, even Sahle (the dam of Sahle Wilkes), though twenty-three years old, has every mark of being not far from foaling time.

I doubt if Guy ever got better-looking colts than are now at San Mateo Stock Farm. Of the yearlings I saw a big strapping filly from Blanche, by Arthurton, has all the racing points; another big one is a sister to Prince Airlie, and as their dam, Chantilly, is by Nutwood, the fast trot should be in evidence. Then a bay filly from a mare by Del Sur, and colts from Susie Hunter, Glenite, Sproule and others are all so strongly made as to prove that there was no lack of vigor in the sire.

Mary Best has a foal by her side by Oro Wilkes. Mr. Corbitt has tried several experiments in the way of in-breeding, and judging from the present outlook the result will be successful.

The parents in this case are of the right stamp, the dam not very far behind the sire in conformation and still closer in speed, 2:11 and 2:12½. Both had a liberal endowment in the shape of speed and endurance, and unless there is some accident to the offspring I shall be greatly disappointed if it does not prove of any high class. A closer case of inbreeding is the foal by Oro Wilkes from Lucina Wilkes, by Regal Wilkes, her dam by Guy Wilkes—three strains of Guy. The foal a strong, good-looking colt, and his dam an extra fine-looking mare.

The wild oats on the sunny side of the farm which encloses the track were fully two feet high, and this succulent herbage and the other grasses, which grow so luxuriantly on the elevated plateau, will ensure plenty of milk for the foals. Mr. Corbitt has long been noted as a firm believer in the Yorkshire motto that "half the horse goes down his throat," and this has done its full share in producing the celebrities which have brought glory to the San Mateo Stock Farm.

No RECALL.—"Once the starter's flag has fallen, the drum been tapped, or the starting-gate been raised, there shall be no recall."

Good logic as well as good law in rule 102, California Jockey Club, from which the above sentence is copied, and the second quotation is warranted by the importance of the subject.

The only question in relation thereto is shall the clause "or the starting gate been raised" be eliminated?

With the right to call it a start or not, after the elevation of the barrier, the great value of the "Australian system" is rendered nugatory.

With a distinct understanding that the law shall govern, that under no circumstances will the mandate be disregarded, the trouble is ended. Very true that there will be grumbling and growling. Noisy losers, "squealing" over their losses, though the rigid observance of the rule will afford no just room for complaint.

Plainly stated. However stupid a person may be he can not fail to understand the words, and then disasters at the post are merely accidents, such as may occur at any period of the race, and which should be taken into consideration when investing on the contest.

Impossible to divest racing of contingencies. Favorable and unfavorable. Bad luck to one side, the other benefits. Whether it be at the start or any yard of the course until the finish line is past it should have the same bearing.

But there is still an important point to consider. Flag, drum, starting gate or hybrid, such as the gate recall, which the best? Bettors are not the only people who are interested. An assurance of a "square race" under the rules and conditions cover that point. So long as speculators have full faith in the honesty of the officials, and every care taken to prevent rascality, those who do not seek other than a "square deal" will wager under any of the plans of starting. In all probability small difference in the amount on each race, but in the aggregate more when the starting-gate, unhampered, is the method, as that permits augmentation of the races run during day, week or meeting. The "general public" must be taken into consideration, and while I am aware that a large proportion of the attendance, now-a-days, wagers, though by far the largest number will be better suited when there is little delay at the post. I have only been an occasional visitor to the races, though present a good many times since the gate was adopted, and there were few, indeed, when the start was not good.

Far better than under the old systems, drum or flag. The worst start I ever saw to the best of my recollection, was when gate and recall were conjoined.

Two horses, eight recalls, nearly an hour at the post, two horses left.

The gravity of the issue warrants liberal discussion and, therefore, I do not apologize for frequently recurring to the subject. With the firm belief that the gate is by far the best method of starting, when properly handled, and that it would be a serious drawback to racing were it abolished, or its usefulness impaired, there is eager anxiety to see all objections removed.

"Left at the post" is the dominating bug-a-boo. There is little question in my mind that the jockeys are at fault, and whether it is designed to get the best of the start or not break or, for worse purpose, to have the horse beaten, when taught that punishment will surely follow, and that so severe as to more than counterbalance the looked-for advantage, there will be rare instances of transgression. It may be well to punish a jockey who is left, whatever the excuse, modulating the penalty in accordance with the evidence. It may seem hard to correct for a misfortune, but if apparent that the offender was not to blame, then a light fine would do. If through negligence, quite proper to impose a heavier mulct, if to embarrass the starter and gain an undue advantage, still weightier, and should it be plainly apparent that it was a device to lose the race the extremity of punishment would be none too severe.

On many occasions I have witnessed wonderfully good starts with the gate. Better than could possibly be given under the old method when there were so many participants, eight or more not a neck apart. That the starting when I was present did not vary greatly from the usual course is verified by the S. F. Turf Guide, February 27th. The first week of the last legleside meeting 33 races were run. The Guide classifies them "good starts" 20, "poor starts" 5, fair starts 2, had 1. The week preceding at Emeryville 35 races, 30 good starts, 3 fair and 2 bad.

Open the book at random and it is long odds the page will give good starts from top to bottom. The week quoted at Emeryville the recall was in vogue.

In order to make a test the book was opened with the week commencing December 19, 1896, when there was no recall. The testimony from the Guide shows that 33 races were run, good starts 29, perfect starts 3, fair 1. From this data it is certainly fair to argue that the recall edict was not necessary, and when compared with the old doings it is all on one side. In the olden time if a person had predicted that 33 races would be run with large fields to start, and rated as above, he might as well have preached that asses would beat thoroughbreds.

The trouble is that one bad start, one horse left at the post, raises more of an outcry than a hundred good and perfect starts can overcome.

Racing at San Bernardino.

Between 400 and 500 were at the race track yesterday afternoon to attend the first race meeting held in nearly two years, and sport was enjoyed accordingly. Not since the race meeting in 1895 has anything in the racing line been attempted, but yesterday's program was a success, says the San Bernardino Sun of February 27th.

The feature of the afternoon was the performance of Colton Maid, owned by Ed Roberts, in the second race. The mare was not in training, her owner having worked out a quarter only a few times, but notwithstanding this fact, her owner, who weighed 210 pounds, drove her to a heavy hike, and thus handicapped, she did a mile in 2:24½, and came under the wire lengths, not having been pushed a bit. And the time announced was half a minute slower than several watches marked. Horsemen who saw the performances says the Maid was easily good for a mile in 2:15. All things considered, the performance was phenomenal. Colton Maid was sired by Maximilian, dam unknown, but she is now standard bred by her own performances.

When the result of the race was announced, Mr. Roberts at once made known his intention to divide the purse which he won in the race, and agreed to give half of it to Orphans' Home fund. The value of the purse will be announced later.

The time in this race was much the best, but the one which followed it was a more exciting finish, although the time was much slower. The horses made a pretty spurt down the stretch, coming in heads apart.

J. A. Cole acted as starter, while Ben Davis and Lester Shaw of Redland officiated as judges. The summaries are as follows:

WE have received complimentary tickets for the Colusa meeting which is to take place May 4th.

BEN CHABOYA is handling a splendid lot of young trotters and pacers at the Oakwood Park Stock Farm.

MILO KNOX is getting some good mares for his splendid stallion Dudley 2:14, in end around Heywards.

HAVE you noticed the splendid programme of harness races offered by the Montana Racing Association.

THE trotting track at Alameda is in splendid condition. A large number of trainers will take their places there.

WE will be able to furnish the new Year Book to all inquirers next week. Only one copy has arrived to date.

JASPER PAULSON has a magnificent two-year-old by Almontion 2:19½ out of Camma (dam of Jasper Paulson, 2:16½) by Norway.

FOR the best horse boots, harnesses, blankets etc., go to J. A. McKerron's, 204-206 Mason street. His prices are very reasonable.

GLENVIEW BELLE (3), 2:20½, by Nutwood, who lost twins recently, is to be trained. She showed a mile better than 2:15 a few years ago.

THE sale of Palo Alto horses at the farm next month is attracting considerable attention among seekers after material for the races this year.

STRANGER (sire of Boodle 2:12½), son of Goldsmith Maid 2:14, was driven a mile in 2:28 in his exercise last year, and trotted quarters in 35 seconds.

D. M. ANGIER has two very fine-looking colts at Mad-dox ranch, Davisville, that are sired by Director Jr., son of Director and Brainy by Echo.

THE Axtells are evidently in demand. Fourteen of the get of the former stallion king sold at auction at Terre Haute last week brought an average of $585.

THE caoard that Santa Claus, 2:17½, is dead, has been exploded. A reporter for the Trotter and Pacer saw the old fellow last week and he is looking well.

CHARLES GRIFFITHS' Direct stallion On Stanley, has shed his name changed to Rect. This is one of the best young horses ever seen on the Pleasanton course.

PALO ALTO FARM has thirteen Nutwood mares among its matrons. Forty-five daughters of Electioneer have also been reserved by the farm for breeding purposes.

W. DUFFEE has seven McKinneys at the Los Angeles track, and a horseman who saw them says they are all so promising it would be hard to pick a favorite.

NELLY CLOUN, by Hawthorne, will be one of Cherley Lyon's stable from the Rockefeller farm this year. She trotted a mile in 2:13 and a half in 1:07 last year.

RUBIC, by McKinney, 2:11½, out of a Christmas mare, is trotting well in Mr. Winship's string. She is one of the many green ones by this great horse that will "ripen" well.

CHAS. DAWSON of Salinas has a splendid yearling colt by Goldnut (son of Nutwood 2:18½) which competent judges say will get a fast two-year-old record. He is a hummer.

CAN any of our readers give us information about a stallion called Ripton that came from Rochester, N. Y., a number of years ago. He was claimed to be by Hambletonian 10.

MORRIS J. JONES reports that more mares have already been booked to Pactolus, 2:12½, for 1897 than for three years past. Slowly but surely the breeding business is reviving.

MONROE SALISBURY returned from Utah last week and paid a visit to Pleasanton. Every one was glad to see him at the track. He seemed to be delighted with the showing made by the horses there.

AT J. Parrott's, San Mateo, a half-thoroughbred mare foaled a colt by Green's Rufus, the prize-winning stallion, that is said by horsemen to be the largest foal they ever saw, and it shows plenty of quality as well.

IN the Year Book for 1896 under Steinway appears the following array, all pacers: W. Wood 2:07, Agitato 2:8½, Algrezor 2:11, Free Coinsge 2:11½, Promise Me 2:16½, Allan-dora 2:17½ and Seble Steinway 2:23½.

THE Steinway-Electioneer cross is a most excellent one if we are to judge by the splendid lot to be seen at the Oakwood Park Stock Farm. They are all speedy, good-looking and level headed, and show plenty of quality.

ON April 15th Messrs. Killip & Co. will sell about 100 trotting bred horses that were purchased and bred by D. J. McCarty and were taken as security by Thos. Brown of the California Bank for money loaned the well known horseman.

KOHLAN KING is the only worthy representative of the great Wilkes-Sidney cross on the coast and those desiring the services of this grandly bred horse should not overlook booking to him before too late, as he stands only to a limited number.

NEARLY all who are advertising stallions in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN are delighted with their investment. Last week we issued four hundred extra copies and will continue to circulate more among the leading horse owners in California.

A SPLENDID boulevard 100 feet wide and two end a half miles long, which is to extend from Golden Gate Park to Ingleside was commenced last Tuesday. When it is finished it will furnish another smooth driveway for our trotters and pacers.

T. J. CROWLEY has sent four of his horses to J. M. Nelson, Alameda. They are Ed Lafferty 2:16½, Madcap by Steinway, and two grand-looking sons of Ches. Derby out of a mare by Frank Medley; they are pacers that will prove to be money-makers.

DR. THOS. BOWHILL, the well-known veterinarian, left California for Edinburgh, Scotland, last Friday. He has taken plenty of data with him regarding the trotting horses of California and we should not be surprised to hear that he is sending orders on for a few.

SAVILLE 2:17½, by Hambletonian Wilkes, dam Merker, by Volunteer, and owned by A. E. Perrine, Newark, O., is being fitted for racing this season, after completing a short season in the stud, and it is expected that he will very materially lower his present record.

THE Columbus Driving Association on March 6th decided to offer $25,000 in purses for the grand circuit meeting. Six purses were decided upon, entries to close April 15, guaranteed to be $1,500 each, as follows: 2:30, 2:34, and 2:14 pacers 2:24, 2:17 and 2:12 trotters.

LAST July a three-year-old gelding paced a mile on the Davenport, Iowa track in 2:20, and was priced at $1000, the owner being anxious to sell. He was bought at $1200 or thereabouts later, and $2500 has since been refused for him. The horse business, it should not be forgotten, is not dead.

CHAS. A. DUFFEE, who has McKinney, at Renletts, says the pedigree of Maximilian was by Echo, out of the dam of Madame Baldwin, by Ben Lippincott, a great two-mile race horse by Williamson's Belmont. He says the mere Colton Maid that got a record of 2:26½ at San Bernardino is owned by C. D. Roberts, Vice-President of the San Bernardino Bank.

THE neglect of a horse's teeth often becomes a serious matter, therefore it is essential to stable management to have the horse's mouth examined at stated intervals. Then a competent and reliable dentist should be employed; Dr. I. Barker Dalzell, whose card appears in this issue, is now considered one of the best in California, if not in the United States.

THERE was an error which we copied from the Sacramento papers regarding the amount asked to be appropriated to District Fairs. Instead of reducing the amount from $173,000 to $124,000; it should have read "raised the amount from $113,000 to $124,000." There is no doubt the bill will pass now and Gov. Budd will affix his signature if he has not done already.

THE Legislature passed the bill allowing the State Agricultural Society the privilege of disposing of the present property where the State Fairs have, for so many years, been held. THE BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN has called attention to the necessity of this change many times and we congratulate President Chase and the Board of Directors on their success in having it made.

ATLANTIC 2:21, the famous son of Almont who was exported to Italy in 1888, where several of his colts have performed well in the last few seasons, has been leased by the Vienna (Austria) Trotting Association, and will stand for mares this year at Kregon, limited to forty mares at a fee of $60 for Austrian and $120 for foreign-bred ones. Nominator 2:17½ and Prince Werwick will also be at the stud there.

T. H. MERRY of Hueneme, Ventura county, secretary of the 31st Agricultural Association, was a visitor at Sacramento last week and gives a very favorable report of the outlook for the agricultural appropriation bill. He says the prospects for a good year in his section of the county were never better, and as soon as it is known that fairs will be held in California many a good trotting colt will be taken in hand and prepared for the races.

ANYONE who wants horses prepared for the races will find that Det Bigelow who developed and raced so many horses for the late Geo. Woodard, of Woodland, is now at Walnut Grove, thirty miles this side of Sacramento, where he has on Alex. Brown's stock farm, one of the finest and safest mile tracks in California. For climate, feed, location and stall room there is no place its equal, while every one who knows "Det" can vouch for the excellent care he gives his horses.

JAMES A. MURPHY of Chicago bought the famous pacer Star Pointer, record 2:02½, for $15,600 last week at the horse sale in Madison Square garden. Bidding was lively until the $10,000 mark was reached. After that Mr. Murphy's only opponent was "Bob" Palmer of Boston. The bidders raised the price first $1000, then $500 a clip, until $15,500 was reached. Mr. Murphy bid $15,600 and Mr. Palmer refused to bid any more. The total for the day was sixty-five head, selling for $33,450, an average of $513.

THE question as to what shall be done with Oregon horses is being effectively settled on the Eastern Oregon ranges, where animals are perishing by hundreds and even thousands this winter. Roaming over the ranges are numberless herds of horses dying through starvation and exposure. The ranges are barren and it passes the memory of the settlers when the conditions were such as they now are. The horses have gnawed their tails and manes off in their starved condition. They are so weak that they can scarcely walk. Cattle owners have plenty of hay to feed their cattle this year, but the ranchers do not recall a time when the wild horses have suffered as much.

A CORRESPONDENT from Anaconda writes: "Mr. John Wall, the driver of Fellfare, 2:10½, who holds the Montana record, has a large stock of horses in training at Butte, which are considered the best lot of harness horses ever trained by a public trainer in this State. I will give you a list of his horses: Fellfare, 2:10½, by Bay Bird, Billy D., 2:21½, by Tarantula; Almax, 2:21½, by Almont Medium; Tom Tucker, 2:21½, by Fieldmont; Domitien, 2:27½, by Mascot; Montana Union, by Bay Bird; Speculum, by Prodigal; Sinbad, by Melcolm; Reliant, 2:28, by Reliance; Mildred M., by Copper King. I consider his green horses as good as the horses with records after the Montana meetings are over. Well will go East with the best of his string. Speculum is entered in the Kentucky Futurity. He is by Prodigal, out of Red Cherry, 2:14½, and is a good colt. We wish Well good luck.

THE inability of the members of the Vallejo Driving Park Association to get together and levy an assessment to pay existing claims against them caused a hearing in Justice Ryan's court Wednesday. One of the creditors collected as many bills as could be found and made them into one and sued thereon. The plaintiff gave notice that although each member was responsible for the whole indebtedness he would release each one who would pay his share. Ten of the members thought this a good proposition and paid up. Final proof will be made next Wednesday as to the accounts, and the balance collected by execution against the delinquents. The appropriation of $3,000 by the Legislature for a District Fair has aroused some interest and the horsemen are not so willing as they were to let the fine track upon which $20,000 have been expended be sold to pay a few thousand dollars of debt.

"THE Northwestern Breeders will give no more trotting and pacing meetings at Washington Park so long as the laws stand as now," said Mr. F. S. Gorton yesterday. "No," he continued, "that postponed meeting of ours has never reached a head, it having been postponed again and again. We simply get together and, after bemoaning the present condition of affairs, always arrive at one conclusion—that we have lost money enough trying the experiment of making race meetings profitable with no pool selling. I was thinking the other day of how Washington Park guaranteed $60,000 for the World's Fair Derby, and of how the horse market has fallen off (way outside the natural drop through herd times), since then. Now, I know nothing about the passage of any pool bill, but it seems ridiculous that all around us there are held both trotting and running meetings, while here in Illinois we are shut out, even though many of our people go inside the State to spend their money. There is but one way to place matters on a paying basis, and that is by the passage of a bill allowing pool selling, and so restricting the duration of race meetings as to place all in the hands of horsemen and lovers of sport of the better class."—Chicago Tribune.

EVEN the men who have sickened with "the hope deferred" must admit a decided upward tendency in horse-breeding. The facts of the situation have finally burned themselves home on the understanding of farmers and there are evidences in plenty of a tendency toward horse-breeding. We are of the firm conviction that a tangible return of industrial prosperity would make our desirable horse stocks of a value that would prove very profitable to their owners. The backward season is much against the spring trade for nearly all sorts of horses and yet the large supplies emptied onto the market the past ten days have been swallowed up at strong prices. Not a few reports reach us of the revival of interest in breeding. Men are not only inquiring about the purchase of stallions but are buying them. More stallions are being purchased this season than for several years past, and this presupposes any intention on the part of farmers to breed their mares. Those now investing in stallions are the shrewd, far-seeing men who are looking ahead and who have figured out from the facts that the time is now ripe for returning to the production of good horses. The "crowd" has not yet started to follow in their wake; it will wait till the "boom" comes. But it is beginning to watch closely and seems to be waiting to see "which way the old cat is going to jump," evidently impressed with the fact that a "jump" is among the probabilities.

JOHN I. SNEDEKER, who was long the proprietor of probably the best known roadhouse in the country and a noted horseman, died on Tuesday, March 2, at his home, 148 Seventh avenue, Brooklyn, in his eightieth year. He belonged to the old Snedeker family which settled in New Utrecht over three hundred years ago, and John Snedeker, one of his ancestors, was a member of the committee chosen to organize the first church in Flatbush in 1645. In 1812 his father, John E. Snedeker, became the proprietor of the old Union course and the adjoining roadhouse on the Jamaica plain road, and for nearly half a century he and his son, John I. Snedeker, who succeeded him, catered for the generations of horsemen and other visitors to the popular resort. In its palmy days the place was known from one end of the country to the other as "John I.'s." It was at the Union course that the famous horse-racing contests between the north and south fifty years ago were decided, and some of them are said to have been witnessed by 50,000 spectators. Many prominent men in the ante-bellum days were visitors to "John I.'s," and to his famous asparagus dinners. The names of Commodore Vanderbilt, the Astors, Daniel Webster, Sam Houston, Senator Foote, of Mississippi, Charles Tiffany, and hundreds of other conspicuous men are still found in the records of the old roadhouse. A drive to "John I.'s" along the old plank road was the favorite pastime in those days for both New York and Brooklyn horsemen. Among the widely known horses which was stabled there were Lady Thorne, Wilkes, Fashion, Lady Washington and Dexter. Mr. Snedeker himself owned some noted horses, including Lady Suffolk and Murdock.

THE SADDLE.

JOCKEY WILLIE SIMS left for the East Tuesday. He is to ride a colt for W. McGuigan in the Tennessee Derby next month.

SAM DOGGETT, the celebrated horse-pilot, who has been riding out of luck this winter, leaves to-night for the East. Willie Simms expects to leave Tuesday night.

IS THIS a joke? The following ad appeared in a Santa Rosa paper: "A BULL DOG.—For sale cheap, will eat anything and is very fond of children. Inquire at Jack Woodward's cigar store for it and also for the best smoke in town."

ED. CORRIGAN, Barney Schriber and a large party of horsemen visited Rancho del Paso last Sunday. They state that the grant never looked better, over ninety foals are already in sight, prominent among them being a Midlothian from Miss Woodford.

WOODLAND BELLE was kicked in the stifle joint by Lady Hurst at the post Tuesday, and will not survive, in the opinion of Dr. Rowell. An awful gash was cut. It is a great wonder that she was able to run a yard under such circumstances, yet she finished.

THE Capital Jockey Club held a meeting last night at the Golden Eagle Hotel and elected Daniel Flint President and Wilber F. Smith Secretary. It was decided to hold a spring racing meeting in this city, but the details were not acted on.—Sacramento Record Union.

AL SMITH, stakeholder of the championship fight at Carson, attends the races these days and thinks it an easy game. Another attendant is Thomas Smith, a big Tammany man of New York that came within an ace of being a Congressman and who ran away ahead of the Bryan ticket at the recent election.

ABOUT 1 P. M. Tuesday, at Oakland track, Louis Ezell's The Cheat and Barron Newton's Sir William ran a match race at nine-sixteenths of a mile. The former won very easily in 0:57 by four lengths, with Willie Martin in the saddle. They ran head and head for about a quarter, then The Cheat began drawing away. The match was for $500 a side.

FREE LADY, winner of the Racing Stakes in 0:48½, demonstrated that she is the fastest two-year-old shown here thus far in 1897. The Cheat appeared to have the race won when a little over a sixteenth from home, but the brown daughter of Free Knight and Fanna III. was as game as she was fleet, and coming again, outgamed and outran the Deceiver colt.

THERE were two two-year-olds running Tuesday by the same sire (Morello) and from mares of the same name (Miss Pickwick). The youngsters are Sadie Schwartz and El Moro. The Miss Pickwicks are by imp. Mr. Pickwick, too, the dam of Sadie Schwartz owned by W. M. Murray, the dam of El Moro by the estate of Simeon G. Reed, the late Portland millionaire.

M. CLIQUOT, winner of the last race yesterday, was as good as 20 to 1 in the betting. He is an own brother to Sallie Cliquot, but is a chestnut in color and not a bay, like Sallie. M. Cliquot cost young Mr. Hobart $2,100 as a yearling at the Haggin sale of 1895, and has been a rank disappointment—a "morning glory" that would break a national bank if owned by a plunger.

THE Pacific Coast Jockey Club announces the dates for the following stakes: The Andros Stakes will be run Monday, March 22d; the Ullman Stakes, Saturday, March 27th; the California Derby, Saturday, April 3d; the Corrigan Stakes, Monday, April 19th; the Spreckels Cup, Saturday, April 24th; the California Hurdle, Wednesday, April 28th; the Ingleside Stakes, four miles, Saturday, May 1st.

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON, the veteran turf writer and horseman, escorted Mr. Gocher, Secretary of the National Trotting Association, through the California Jockey Club grounds Monday, and introduced him to the members of the press. The Secretary was highly pleased with the up-to-date track, and hoped that the trotters would have a chance to try conclusions over the course this summer.

DAN HONIG says H. ("Skeets") Martin is the greatest lightweight jockey in this country, and he has seen them all. "That boy can ride the grandest finish I ever saw," said the veteran horseman after Martin put St. Distaff over. He does not wait for them to run home, he picks them up and plants them right over the plate. That boy ought to go East this summer; he would make a fortune back there. Sloan can't beat him one bit."

ED A. TIPTON, Secretary of the Anaconda and Butte Racing Associations, writes that he will be here next Saturday and offer special inducements to horsemen for the summer season in Montana. Mr. Tipton made a great record as Secretary of the Lexington Trotting Association, and has not let the grass grow under his feet since taking up his residence in Montana. Judging from the present outlook, Montana will make a great bid for the Western stables, and will capture most of them.

A JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., dispatch of March 5th, was as follows: "The Missouri Legislature has passed a bill which prohibits individuals from engaging in the business of hook-making and pool-selling, unless they procure a license from the State Auditor. No license shall be issued for a longer period than ninety days, and the State Auditor is given authority to determine the good character of the applicant and the good repute of the racetrack or the fair grounds where the business is to be carried on, before he shall grant a license. A penalty for a violation of the law is imprisonment for one year or a fine of $1,000 or both. The State Breeders' Association indorsed the measure.

A SURPRISE was created in the New Jersey House Tuesday afternoon by the introduction of a race track bill. The bill is an exact counterpart of the Gray racing law, now in force in New York. It does not in exact words authorize or legalize betting or bookmaking on race tracks, but it does relieve the managers or owners of race tracks from personal liability for any bookmaking or betting done on their tracks after they have posted notices that bookmaking and betting are illegal and have employed policemen to see that this rule is enforced. The bill has practically no show of passing.

GENERAL JACKSON will spend three months in England and France next summer, and if he can find a good son of St. Simon over there that is for sale he will probably have him shipped to Belle Meade in time for the season of 1898. The General will be accompanied by W. H. Jackson, Jr. They will not sail in time to see the Derby, but will be in Paris at the time the Grand Prix is run.

THE good race mare Flirtilla, by Peel out of Faustine by Flood, second dam imp. Flirt, dam of Gorgo, Flambeau, Flirtation and Salisbury II., by Hermit, is expected to drop a foal in a few days by the trotter Iran Alto, 2:19½. There are few better-bred mares in the country than Flirtilla, and it seems very strange that the owner could not find a better mate for a Pacific Derby winner. Iran Alto is all right as a trotter, but Flirtilla, bred to a good thoroughbred, should throw a stake-winner.

THE Messrs. Gardner have recently sold to Mr. E. C. Cowdin, of New York, the fourteen-year-old mare Spinnette, by Reform, dam Megara, dam of Spinaway, for $1,500. Algot is a good colt; there is no doubt about that. Many think he is a better colt than Typhoon II., but he doesn't look it. Mr. Schorr will probably become a breeder as well as a racing man next year. John Carter has been offered the presiding judgeship at Toronto, Memphis and Nashville. L. N. Schoenfeld will send imp. Somersault over the jumps at Memphis, shipping his other horses to Newport. Somersault and Subito are almost ready and the others in the stable are not far behind.—Nashville Cor. N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

A LEXINGTON, Ky., dispatch of March 15 was as follows: W. Wallace, with his wife and Frank Ireland of Paris, returned to-night from San Francisco. He said that he had quit the season considerable loser. "In fact all the big bettors," he said, "have lost heavily." He left all his horses in California, save Argentina. She is now on the way to Kentucky. Asked concerning the fight, he said: "You can get any kind of a bet you are looking for out in California. But I don't want any of it in mine." Wallace has a number of good yearlings at the Kentucky Association course, and he will give them his whole time and attention. Jockey "Soup" Perkins stands an excellent chance to spend a few days in the County Jail. He was arrested last night and charged with carrying concealed a pistol and drawing the same on a number of newboys with whom he had a few words. A jail sentence accompanies the fine in concealed-weapon cases in Kentucky.

J. W. BROOKS, official handicapper of the C. J. C., announces the following weights for the Rancho del Paso Handicap, one mile, down for decision next Saturday at Oakland: Scarborough, 98; Altamex, 105; Alma, 92; B. & W., 105; Casper, 118; Candelaria, 110; Fig Leaf, 100; Parthenox, 104; Shasta Water, 105; Rey del Tierra, 100; Scarf Pin, 107; Modestia, 85; Tom Smith, 92; Horatio, 97; Bohemian Lass, 85; Fleur-de-Lis, 110; Greyhurst, 110; Lumius, 112; Installatrix, 85; The Roman, 105; Twinkle Twink, 80; Nonchalance, 96; Personne, 100; Flamella, 80; Sir Andrew, 90; Queen Nohis, 90; Zamar II, 108; Grandezza, 90; Suisse, 105; Good Times, 118; Arrezzo, 105; Joe Maxim, 100; Midnight, 107; Lincoln II, 115; Dura, 85; Dolore, 90; Aquinas, 110; Estaca, 110; El Deleado, 96; Bernardillo, 100; Altanera, 90. Winners after date will carry five pounds extra.

BLITZEN, the "Iron Horse," has broken down and is for sale. Blitzen is a brown horse, foaled 1889, by Blazes, dam Germania, by imp. Glengarry; 2d dam Henrietta, by Harry of the West; 3d dam Kate Fisher, by Bill Cheatham; and has had a phenomenal career on the turf, justly entitling him to the sobriquet of "Iron Horse." As a two-year-old he started in thirty-two races, of which he won seven; at three-year-old he started fifty-eight times and won twenty-two; at four started forty-one times and won fourteen races; at five started eleven times and won once; at six years old started five times and did not win, and at seven started, up to February 25, 1895, seven times and won once. During his turf career, up to February 25, 1896, he started in 154 races and won forty-five. He has run on every kind of a track and at all seasons of the year, and as a specimen of stamina and endurance he is at the top of the heap.

COL. ROBERT C. PATE, the promoter and manager of racing at the Indisnilla track, near the City of Mexico, is visiting the city. Colonel "Bob" reports the racing outlook in the Mexican capital is first class, but deplores the fact that the supply of horses is so limited that they are unable to race more than once a week. With a greater number of horses they would race at least twice and probably three times a week. The day Col. Pate left the City of Mexico, Lulu Fry, ch. m., 5 (by imp. Albert—Mollie McCreary), beat Articus a head in a hard drive; and she is considered the best animal down there. Articus was ridden by Tommy Butler. Should Colonel Pate be able to induce the owners of hurdle and steeplechase horses to go to his track, he will arrange races that would give them a chance of attaching purses. The present meeting at the Mexican capital will last until May 15th, and the fall meeting will begin about the 1st of November. Col. Pate will probably purchase a number of well-bred brood mares ere he returns to Mexico. The government is fostering the industry of breeding race horses, and it will be a great institution in our sister republic.

JOCKEY "DOC" TURBIVILLE has signed a contract to ride for John Huffman, the St. Louis turfman, the coming season. His retainer, it is understood will be $5,000. Turbiville is considered one of the best jockeys on the American turf. He rode for Marcus Daly, the millionaire Montana copper king and turfman, last year, and piloted Ogden, Mr. Daly's representative, to victory in the great Futurity, the richest two-year-old event of the year. Afterward Turbiville came West and finished out the season at the Fair Grounds. Huffman has one of the largest string in training on the Western circuit. His band of three-year-olds, over thirty strong, included some promising youngsters. In the older division of his stable are Harry McCouch, Dare II., Forsythe, Remember Me and other noted campaigners. Huffman formerly trained for Chris Smith, the plunging owner of the Kendall stable. Johnny and Jockey Charlie Thorpe made Smith rich, but his luck turned after the pair left him. W. L. Cassidy, one of the most prominent St. Louisans on the turf, is associated with Huffman. Songer, the young Canadian lightweight, has also been engaged by Huffman. The latter is wintering his stable near Greenville, Ill.—St. Louis Republic.

SINCE the publication of the last of Montana stake races recently the following have been added: The Ravalli stake, $1,000; for three-year-olds. Entrance $10, $30 additional to start. Guaranteed value, $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. Colts to carry 122 pounds, geldings 119 pounds, fillies 117 pounds. One and one eighth miles. The Yellowstone handicap, $1,000; a handicap for three-year-olds and under. Entrance $10, $30 additional for horses not declared by 5 p. m. of day before the race. Guaranteed value $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. One mile. The Ravalli is to be run at Anaconda and The Yellowstone handicap at Butte.

MARTHA, the good filly that won the fifth race at Oakland Tuesday and broke the record for three and a half furlongs when she went in 0:42½, is by imp. Dandie Dimont (sire of the big winner, Ajax) from Louise T. (dam of Commission), by imp. Bayon d'Or; second dam the good race mare Spark, by imp. Leamington; third dam Mrs Clark (dam of Preciosa, Pure Rye and Grey Gown); fourth dam Eagles (dam of the famous Lizzie Lucas and Grey Planet), by imp. Glencoe, etc. No wonder Martha is a good one, coming from such a great racing family. Imp. Dandie Dimont is by Silvio (winner of Derby and St. Leger in England), from Meg Merrilies, by Macgregor (sire of imp. Brutus).

At a meeting of the directors of the P. C. J. C. Tuesday at their rooms in the Palace Hotel, J. E. Tade tendered his resignation as Secretary of the club, which position he only accepted a few days ago. Mr. Tade was the assistant and confidential adviser of ex-Secretary Leake. He resigned his position as Assistant Postmaster at Sacramento to become an employee of the jockey club, and he was looked upon as a valuable assistant. An effort was made to induce him to reconsider his resignation, but he did not care to assume the responsibilities he had shared with Mr. Leake, and when the jockey club officials were notified of his intention to resign F. H. Green was selected to succeed him. Mr. Green is a brother-in-law of Henry J. Crocker, Vice President of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, and is said to be a very capable and genial gentleman. His father was for several years the manager of the Mills property at Milbrae, and F. H. Green was the Superintendent of the Milbrae Dairy. He married a sister of H. J. Crocker.

In the P. C. J. C. rooms, Parlors A and B, Palace Hotel, this city, met the directors of that organization Mar. 12th to elect officers. A. B. Spreckels and W. S. Leake having resigned their positions. Henry J. Crocker, Vice-President was in the chair, and by unanimous vote Senator S. N. Andros of Pomona, was elected to succeed Adolph B. Spreckels as president. J. E. Tade, assistant secretary under Mr. Leake, was appointed to the secretaryship. The resignation of Walter Hobart was withdrawn and General John Malowansky was elected as a director to fill the place made vacant by the withdrawal of President Spreckels. Senator Andros, of Pomona, the new President, has been a director of the P. C. J. C. since it was first organized, and has for some time been prominent in the affairs of the Los Angeles Fair Association, of which he is a director. He is a courtly, polished gentleman of some means and an enthusiast over the sport of kings. J. E. Tade, the new Secretary, has been assistant secretary of the P. C. J. C. since last May, and thoroughly understands all the details of the position he assumes. He is considered a first class business man, and makes friends readily. That he will make a model secretary there can be little doubt.

COURT COMMISSIONER J. L. DINWIDDIE sold the property known as the Petaluma Agricultural Park, on Tuesday of this week, to satisfy a mortgage held by the Petaluma Savings Bank. Col. D. B. Fairbanks hid in the property for the bank at $10,250, the amount of the debt. It is the general opinion that if the bill recently passed by the Legislature relating to District Fairs should be signed by the Governor, the property will be redeemed by the agricultural association, and another old-time District Fair will be held this fall. A small expenditure of money in filling up the stalls and draining the grounds, and another coating of good dirt on the track would make this one of the best and most popular racing and fair grounds in the country. With these improvements made it would be a great winter track and the stalls would be filled by the trainers of San Francisco during the whole year. Over 2,000 thoroughbreds are trained for the winter racing at the bay, and hundreds of horses are kept at San Jose and other points not so accessible as Petaluma. Trainers have informed us that if the Petaluma track was made good for winter use they would prefer to come here because they could ship horses back and forth by steamer, avoiding the danger of loading and unloading on railroad cars. It is greatly to the interest of Petaluma and vicinity to have a winter track and Agricultural Park continued as originally intended. It would furnish a home market—Petaluma Argus.

A LONDON, Eng., dispatch of March 14th was as follows: Five of the Judges of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice to-day delivered judgment in the case of Dunn, the bookmaker of Tattersall's, deciding that ring betting is illegal. This decision will wipe out the bookmakers and effect a revolution in betting. This case, originally styled the Anti Gambling League vs. Richard Dunn, has occupied the attention of the English courts for the past six months. The betting permits a bookmaker or professional betting man to carry on his business on a racetrack in an "inclosed space," provided he confines himself to a fixed spot for the purpose of carrying on his business. Dunn was charged by the Anti-Gambling Society with having violated this and other portions of the act, inasmuch as he had used the Hurler Park racetrack, of which he was part owner, for purposes of betting. The case has worked its way up from the first decision of the Kingston magistrates, through all the various appeal courts, each in turn quashing the decision of the court below. The respondent may yet go higher and ask for a judicial opinion from the House of Lords. From this court there is no appeal. The so-called anti-gambling crusade has been going on in England for the past two or three years. When it first assumed menacing proportions the "Sporting League" was organized. In the famous horse racing district of Newmarket the league put up H. McCalmont, a prominent turfman, and one of the wealthiest commoners in England, to run against Sir George Newnes, who was supposed to be lending his support to the "crusaders." McCalmont was elected by an overwhelming majority. The anti-gamblers joined hands in a way, with the "social purity" reformers, but the combined forces met with poor success and were beaten time and again on cases they took to court.

THERE never was a more opportune time than the present for owners of good two-year-olds and three-year-olds to make money with them. The Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association advertises a list of stakes in this issue which should appeal to every horse owner. There are six of them, viz: Palo Alto stake for two-year-old trotters, Oakwood Park Stock Farm stake for three-year-old trotters; Palace Hotel stake for two-year-old trotters; Western stakes for two-year-old pacers; Pacific stakes for three-year-old pacers. Entrance in these stakes which will close April 1st with $5 payable on that date, $10 June 1st; $10 August 1st, and the final payment $25 to be made before 4 p. m., the day before the race. See advertisement.

WITH the assurance of an unprecedented yield of fruit and grain in every county in California and the certainty of getting good prices for everything harvested, the prospects for this year are exceedingly bright. The revival of District Fairs and the increase in the prices of horses and all other live stock, leaves no clouds to darken the sun of prosperity as it shines on this, the fairest land in all the world.

DR. LEWIS LEACH, one of the most highly respected citizens of Fresno, and for many years President of the Fresno Fair Association, died last Thursday, aged 74 years. The deceased was an enthusiastic friend of the light harness horse industry and ever since the district association was formed, acted as presiding judge.

SECRETARY M. NATHANSON telegraphs "Racing on Indiana tracks begins April 15th. Ready for stabling applications." This is good news, and will be welcome to all who have made entries there this year.

MESSRS. KILLIP & Co. will sell on or about May 12th, over one hundred head of draft, harness horses and Shetland ponies from the J. B. Haggin ranches. Further particulars hereafter.

NOW THAT the Carson "mill" is over we hope the pugilistic fever will be allayed and the public be given a breathing spell.

ON Monday racing will commence at Ingleside.

In Governor Budd's Hands.

The bill for appropriations for district fairs has passed both houses; the Assembly has concurred in a few Senate amendments and the general appropriation bill is now ready for Governor Budd's signature.

The farmers, stock-raisers, orchardists and vineyardists, as well as everyone engaged in business in all the agricultural districts in California are anxiously waiting for that signature. The wives and children are all interested in this one measure, and when it becomes a law they will be ready to join with the husbands, parents and friends in rejoicing over the happy event. Everyone will take hold of the district fairs with renewed energy and these annual expositions in California will omen for an era of prosperity and better times.

The District Fair appropriations are the ONLY items of all moneys appropriated by this session of the Legislature that have been cut down to meet Governor Budd's views of economy. The amount two years ago was $200,000, the present bill calls for only $124,000, a saving of $76,000. The districts were left as they were, excepting a few minor changes that were made to suit the convenience of some districts; and if Governor Budd will have them re-established they will be restored to usefulness, and especially the communities in the outlying districts, that are hundreds of miles from Sacramento and San Francisco; in many places far away from railroads or even water communication with these large cities. It will bring glad tidings to these homes when they hear that the Governor has signed this bill, for to these hard-working, honest, law-abiding, tax paying people the District Fair is what the Mechanics' Fair, the theatres, the art galleries, and all places of instruction and amusement are to the residents of the large cities. It is their one, their only annual carnival, and we earnestly trust that now that the bill has received the sanction of the Legislature, Governor Budd will sign it, and forever after receive the highest praise of that class of people who pay the heaviest taxes and receive the least tangible benefits.

We leave this bill in his hands, and have every assurance that he thoroughly appreciates the importance of this measure and will not cast it aside or veto it. The past two years' experience has demonstrated how rapidly the leading interests of the people in the interior have deteriorated on account of the fair appropriations being cut off. The Governor can restore all these by making this much-needed measure a law, and we believe he will.

Montana Racing for 1897.

Secretary Ed A. Tipton, the manager of the Montana racing circuit, is expected to arrive in this city to day. He has forwarded to this office a large package of entry blanks which we will distribute among the various owners of thoroughbreds at both tracks. The advertisement of the stakes offered appear in our business columns, and to all owners of thoroughbreds who are anxious to take their horses to a country where money is plentiful, betting liberal, tracks and appointments excellent, and where cordially reigns supreme, we can heartily recommend Montana. All owners who brought horses there last season have signified their intention to repeat that visit this year, and their labors in behalf of Montana will be amply rewarded, for the more good horses that go there the better. There are twelve guaranteed stakes offered, value, $13,000; besides these, there will be, during the fifty-four days of continuous racing, from June 26th to August 28th, races of all kinds over all distances and for good purses. Entries will close April 1st.

The programme of light-harness events is also published in this issue, and it is only necessary to call the attention of all horse owners to the announcement to have them respond liberally. Notice the big percentage owners will get. Entries for these will close April 10th.

What They are Doing at Sacramento.

The Daily Union (Sacramento) in its Wednesday edition published the following account of the work accomplished in the Senate on Tuesday on the subject which is interesting so many at present:

"Then the general appropriation bill again came up the question being on Withington's substitute, to strike out all appropriations for State and District Fairs.

"Withington said if the appropriations were to be denied, the action ought to come from the Legislature instead of the Governor.

"Jones protested against the adoption of the substitute. Pedlar also spoke, and the substitute was lost by a vote of 9 to 25.

"The question being on the committee amendment, reducing the appropriation for the State Agricultural Society from $40,000 to $30,000, Braunhart offered a substitute for the amendment, proposing a reduction to $10,000 instead of $10,000. Lost. The committee amendment was declared adopted, although Doty made strenuous efforts for a division.

"Doty afterwards handed in an amendment to the committee amendment, which had been adopted, increasing the appropriation for the State Fair from $30,000 to $35,000. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 23 to 9.

"Braunhart offered a further amendment, proposing to strike out all appropriations for District Fairs. Lost."

WORK on the new boulevard from Golden Gate Park to the entrance of the Ingleside race track is progressing finely. It is being constructed by hundreds who have been out of employment all winter, and they are receiving their pay from a fund collected by popular subscription. The road will go through lands owned by the Spring Valley Water Works Company and Adolph Sutro. It will be two and a half miles long and one hundred feet wide. As an outlet from the Park and a magnificent addition to the many driveways constructed during the past five years on this peninsula, it will be one over which our fastest as well as our slowest horses may be driven. Its location is unsurpassed for beauty, and as the market for first-class horses in San Francisco is brightening, by the time this road is finished, there will be more road horses in use in this city than there ever was; for, with the return of prosperous times, the desire to drive good horses, enjoying the pleasure which this healthful exercise gives, becomes stronger, everyone will be seeking to get the fastest and most useful trotter or pacer possible.

BREED your mares now. There never was a better opportunity to secure the services of the best stallions in California than the present, and with the outlook from this time on, owners of mares should not hesitate to take advantage of the chances for making ready money that are offered. There need be no fear of an over-supply of good trotters or pacers. Many of the largest stock farms in America which, a few years ago, were breeding hundreds of colts and fillies, have gone out of the business and the small breeder who uses good judgment in the selection of his mares and stallions, can depend upon getting a good paying price for every colt he raises. Never in the history of the light-harness horses have the prospects been so bright. From all parts of the United States, and California, in particular, the absence of first-class light harness horses is noted. And if this is the case this spring, what it will be in 1898 and 1899? Hence we say, breed your mares now.

VOLUME XII of the year book, issued the past week from the office of Secretary J. H. Steiner, of the American Trotting Register Association, is an exact counterpart of the two preceding volumes both as to size and in the general arrangement. It contains a few less pages than Volume XI, as that volume contained a few less than its predecessor. The additions to the list of 2:30 trotters for 1896 number 1076, which shows something of a falling off from the preceding year when there were 1850 new trotters, and even greater disparity with the figures of 1894, when there were 1437 trotters who managed to stay inside the 2:30 line for the first time. The pacers have held their own gallantly in spite of the fact that last year was a race campaign rather than one of onslaughts against the watch. The pacers number 847 who took records of 2:25 and better for the first time, which is but two behind the showing for the preceding year and is much in advance of the showing for 1894, when but 735 new names were added to the standard pacing division. There are now 12,945 trotters and 4302 pacers with accredited standard records. The new year book shows that there was a slight falling off in the number of 2:15 performers for last year from the year before. There were six less additions to the 2:15 list in 1896 than in 1895, and this is apparently due to the weakness of the fast trotters. Last year furnished but 84 new 2:15 trotters, while the year previous had rolled up a total of 114. The pacers, however, have marched steadily on. In 1894 they furnished 150 additions to the 2:15 list, in 1895 the figures were increased to 179 and last year gave 203. There are now 468 trotters and 779 pacers with accredited records of 2:15 and better.

"SEND me a copy of the extended pedigree of Boodle, 2:12 1/2, the horse without a 'but' as per your advertisement in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN." The above is a sample of one of the letters received from all over the United States by Messrs. Geo. K. Hostetter & Co., owners of Boodle, 2:22 1/2. These gentlemen say, "With a horse like Boodle to advertise, and a paper like the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN in which to advertise, we are meeting with great success and we can conscientiously recommend your great equine journal as an excellent advertising medium."

BOOZE, the Cheviot horse Lou White used to race here and later sold to Tom Kiley, won a mile and a quarter race at New Orleans Wednesday in 2:09 1/2. It was his second victory in the Crescent City within a week. Booze is pretty nearly as much of an iron horse as Logan or Blitzen. He's run pretty much all over the country and been in many a hard race.

GEO. E. THOMAS of San Jose has booked his brown mare Nettie, by Altamont, 2:26 1/2, and her two daughters, Camilla, by Antevola, 2:19 1/2, and Cilla, by Eros, 2:28 1/2, to Boodle, 2:12 1/2.

The Palo Alto String.

John Phippen has the following horses in his string at Palo Alto, and in a few weeks he will begin to prepare them for the California Circuit:

Hunyadi, record 2:26½ as a three-year-old, by Hugo 2:24 out of Orphan Girl, by Piedmont.
Alla 2:21½, a five-year-old by Palo Alto 2:08½, out of Lulu Wilkes (dam of Advertiser 2:15½), by George Wilkes.
Adhell, the champion yearling, who set the mark at 2:23 in 1894, by Advertiser 2:15½, out of Beautiful Bells 2:29½. A better-looking horse than his sire, and will be much faster. As a stock horse he should found a family second to none in America.

Peko 2:21, a model of equine symmetry, by Electioneer out of Penelope (dam of the great ten-beat winner Pedlar 2:18½) by Mohawk Chief.
Anselor, a three-year-old bay colt by Electricity out of Anselma 2:29½, by Ansel 2:20, second dam the valuable broodmare Elaine 2:20. This is a good one.

Pasonte, a four-year-old bay filly by Palo Alto out of Son-tag Dixie (dam of four) by Toronto Sontag.

Morocco, a powerful built colt showing plenty of quality for a three-year-old, sired by Electricity out of Mano (dam of Monaco 2:19½) by Piedmont. It is a great pity he is a gelding. For he is bred and shaped right to make a good stallion.

Whips Jr., a chestnut two-year-old, son of the great Whips, 2:27½, out of Marion, 2:26½, by Piedmont. A perfect model for his size, and as a trotter he is not to be considered anywhere but in the first rank. He will be kept as a sire and seekers after elegant, perfect-limbed stylish trotters that have all the qualities so much sought after now, will be wanting to breed to him.

Nazote, brother to Azote, 2:04½, is only a three-year-old and will not be worked hard this year. He is superior in many respects to his illustrious brother, and if he is not as fast there will be many disappointed judges of good trotters in California. Nazote is a king among the rest that are here.

Galeno, a three-year-old, by Monaco, 2:19½, of whom great hopes were entertained last year, but sickness knocked him out at the most critical period of his two-year-old form and he was sent to the farm. He will achieve all that he promised last season and make some of the three-year-olds hustle to beat him.

Nordeau is another three-year-old that will bear watching. He is by Norris (one of the best sires ever sold from this farm) out of Miss Naude by Electioneer.

Mr. Phippen has his horses in perfect shape and will have them "on edge" when it is time to score for the world. It is hoped nothing will happen them in the way of sickness or accidents this season.

Overland Racing Association.

We have added three or four extra classes, believing that many will not fill, and in the event they all fill we will give an eight-day meeting instead of seven.

Colorado Springs will immediately precede us with a four-day meeting beginning Saturday, May 29, and closing Wednesday, June 2, thereby giving the horsemen two days to reach Denver, which is a ship of only 75 miles. Although not definitely known, Salt Lake City will likely give a meeting following ours, which will be right in line for the opening of the Montana Circuit at Anaconda, June 26th.

Horsemen who do not expect to race on the Montana Circuit will find it an easy trip from here to Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., whose meetings also follow ours.

This association was organized since the first of the year and is composed of some of the best business men in Denver. They have leased the Overland Park grounds, which has a first-class mile track for the harness horses and a seven-eighths mile inside track for the runners.

We will give two or more running races daily; purses averaging $200 each. Prospectively speaking, I think we will have a good meeting.

We wish to be liberal with the horsemen, and to that end we will do our utmost to make their visit both pleasing and profitable.

Our entries will name and close May 10th. Entrance 5 per cent and 5 per cent additional from money winners.

Yours, etc., T. J. FRAZIER,
Secretary.

Guidon, the Son of Almont Patchen.

There were few stallions in California that sired a better class of fast horses than Almont Patchen 2:15. He was an extremely fast and game campaigner and his sudden death last September was a serious blow to the light harness horse industry of California. He left few sons to perpetuate his name, but the horse Guidon 0346, now owned by Wm. J. Hill, of Salinas, is one on which the mantle of greatness which Almont Patchen held so well, has fallen. Guidon is out of Minnie L. by Anteros (brother to Anteeo 2:15½, Antevolo 2:19½, Coral 2:18, etc.) and as a sire stands among the most promising living. He is by the great Electioneer out of Columbine by A.W. Richmond. Gideon's second dam is M'iss by Nephew sire of Beauty M. 2:14½, Vina Belle 2:15½ and eighteen others in the list. Guidon is a large sized brown horse and will weigh 1180 pounds. He is a natural pacer requiring no hobbles; it is hoped he will be given an opportunity to show his speed this year. In disposition he is perfect and seekers after good large salable horses in Monterey County would do well to inspect this horse carefully before breeding their mares elsewhere.

VASSAR, Kan., April 16, 1896.
Please send me directions for using Gombault's Caustic Balsam. I bought a bottle and it had no directions on it, but I cured a curd and splint by putting on a couple of times. Now I want to try it on a sweeney.

Our New York Letter.

Rigby Park will hang up $78,000 this year.
Considerable newspaper talk has been prominent since the death of Manager John Stetson. A suit is now being instituted in Boston by Adah Richmond, who claims to be his widow, and is suing to obtain her dower rights in his estate, valued at about $2,000,000.

It is reported that A. H. Moore of Cloverdale Stock Farm, Philadelphia, will have three theatrical companies out this coming season.

Aggie Norton, whose beauty was famous on the stage a few years ago, has been sent to the County Insane Asylum.

Captain Annie Hughes and Henry C. Smith of the Salvation Army, by consent of Mr. Hammerstein appeared at the Olympia Wednesday evening. Their "turn" consisted in a hymn sang by the gentleman, accompanied on the piano by Annie, and the popping of wine corks. At the conclusion they demurely retired—apparently satisfied.

In the theaters at Brest, gentlemen bring with them cushions, which they use in order to see over the large hats worn by ladies.

The famous whippet Tim Tiddle was poisoned at Newark, N. J., last week. He was three years old, and for two years has been the champion of American whippets.

The Dog Show is over and, of course, there is some "kicking." It would appear this is impossible to avoid in either dog or horse shows. Of course the St. Bernards and Great Danes attracted the most attention and the display was grand. A sad was the Boston terriers, they certainly are pretty ugly, but good natured and well behaved. The English judges, Messrs. Astley and Rapir, gave good satisfaction. Cardona, who for two years has won the Challenge Cup in the bull terrier class, exhibited some disappointment over the prize this year going to another. Some surprise was manifested over the award to Mr. Winthrop Rutherford's fox terrier Claudius, for which he is said to have paid $1,000. He has a very long nose, which heretofore has not been regarded favorably by judges. The show was a great success in every particular. The principle controversy was over the battered French bull dogs. At the next show they will no doubt, be recognized in a separate class. His enemies claim he gets his ears from terrier ancestry. Mr. Astley declares the rose-eared dog is the model of his race. The dog sale at the American Horse Exchange did not realize very high prices; forty-six head brought $350.50. Billy Bulger, a bull terrier, proved the star of the sale; price $32.

William C. Daly will start the racing season with a string of twenty-one horses, among them Gen. Maceo II. who has not yet been beaten.

Jockey Tuberville will ride for John Huffman the coming season, reported salary $5,000. Jockey Coyle will ride Maurice in the Brooklyn Handicap. Jockey Powers who ran away from R. Bradley some time ago, has thought better and returned. "Lonnie" Clayton will ride Ornament.

The steamer Angloman was recently wrecked when within seven hours of Liverpool and 180 American horses on board were lost, partly covered by insurance.

Peter Curren has purchased the Canadian stallion Geneva 2:11½ by Leland and he will be shipped to Europe. Geneva was formerly owned by Cope Stinson. The price paid was $3,600.

At the three days horse sale this week, at Madison Square Garden, good stock brought good prices. With the exception of the consignment of E. B. Harriman, the offerings were not of the highest order, a few were very ordinary.

The result of the San Francisco Horse Show is a disappointment, of course, and is in a great measure due, as Mr. Crocker says, to the depressed mercantile condition of the country, but it is to be hoped the discouragement may not prove fatal. It is well to remember that our Horse Show, which now pays about $50,000 net profit, was for a time a failure, and suspended at one time from lack of support. Very much more assistance could be rendered by the daily press of your city, if they would write of the matter with as much vigor and interest as they do of other events of much less importance to the people.

Very few new novelties are offered to the theatre-goers this week. The production of "La Faloite," an operetta which amused Paris, was a failure at the Casino. It was far below the standard of New York attractions. It is spiritless. Many left the house at the conclusion of the second act, and at the conclusion of the third they left by scores.

The funeral of Nelson Wheatcroft took place on Friday. Mr. Wheatcroft's death is a great loss to the theatrical world.

The schedule for the baseball games for 1897 is published. This sport is decidedly on the wane in this portion of the country, and little interest is manifested in the coming contests. Basket ball is becoming more prominent, in fact more interest is taken in the latter than the former in this city and vicinity. The creation of "Baseball Inspector" it is hoped will put an end to the disgraceful scenes which often characterized the game last year, I understood his duties are to report to President Young the guilty parties in case of a disturbance, that certainly will be an easy matter, always was, the trouble is the baseball professional has become "tough," and he will as usual propound the question, "what are yeas going to do about it?"

At Gravesend Bay on Sunday, Professor Donaldson won the 300 yard swimming match, and then dived from a sixty foot flagstaff. Wessman swam 100 feet under water, Grace Darling, 12-year-old, made a twenty-foot dive, swam fifty yards under water, and dived thirty feet from a flag pole. Rather cool sport. This reminds me of the latest attraction, the diving horse which jumps from a height of 40 feet diving in a tank of water. J. O. M.

W. H. STIMSON, of Los Angeles, writes: "Challenger Chief is as fat as a truck horse and will be a good one this year. I have set El Diablo to pacing, and he will be among the best green ones out. Sophia R. by Roy Wilkes, is in fine order, and can show a Del Norte clip. Mnskegon is being bred to all my mares except Ellwood and Miss Lollie, by Dictator. Good green horses are very scarce in this part of the country. I only know of two, and they cannot be bought at any price. I hope I will be able to get a good string this season."

DE HUY'S "Balmoline" cured "Ogden's" heels at Anaconda, Montana, and enabled him to win for Marcus Daly the great "Futurity" Stake at Sheepshead Bay.

The Fly-Casting Club.

The regular semi-monthly Saturday and Sunday contests of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, held at Stow Lake last Saturday and Sunday, brought out more entries than ever before. W. D. Mansfield made 102 feet on Saturday and on Sunday broke all world's records with a cast of 108½ feet. He used a 9½ ounce rod, 10 ft. 8 inches in length, a double tapered D. line, ⅞ ft. gossamer leader and single fly. The record of his casting kept by the judges is as follows: 90½, 96, 108½, 102, 104, 105, 100, 108½, proving conclusively that it was not a fluke cast. The wind was blowing from the northwest and the casting was in a southwesterly direction. This beats H. C. Golcher's world's record of 103 feet by 5½ feet and R. C. Leonard's Eastern record by 6 feet. The win was a very popular one and Mr. Mansfield was carried from the casting platform on the shoulders of his friends.

A. T. Vogelsang's cast of 94 feet was also a remarkable cast for a novice at this style of casting.

The scores in full were as follows:

The Trout and Steelhead Law.

It is very evident that the San Francisco Fly Casting Club has the material for making world's record-breakers galore. For comparison we publish below the best scores made in May and June 1896 and the best made so far this season.

We would suggest to the San Francisco Fly Casting Club that a set of rules governing judges be formulated and printed. Not alone for the benefit of the judges but for the casters that they may know what is required of them. All anglers know that a delicate cast is one that causes the fly to strike the water before the leader and line, and in such a manner as not to splash or disturb the water, but it is very evident that this kind of a cast does not always win the highest percentage at the contests. Other elements are taken into consideration, such as the manner of lifting the line from the water; the back cast and general style. How can the caster improve if he does not know what is required of him?

The fish hatchery proposed by Alfred La Motte, with the sanction of the San Francisco and North Pacific R. R. Co., is an assured fact. The aquarium and hatchery will be located on Gibson creek, a short distance above the reservoir. The hatchery will be a unique frame building 50x30 feet in dimensions. A boulevard to follow the meanderings of the creek from this city to the hatchery will be constructed by the municipal authorities. The Board of Supervisors will be asked to contribute $500 at their next meeting. That sum, however, has been guaranteed by local business men, so work on the hatchery is under way, the bill for lumber having already been made out.

The Ukiah sportsmen's Club will pay a reward of ten dollars for the arrest and conviction of all persons caught catching trout before the first day of April, 1897, in any of the tributaries of the Russian river, from the headwaters of said river on the north, to the Largo bridge on the south in Mendocino county; and twenty-five dollars for the arrest and conviction of all persons using dynamite in the waters of any of said tributaries for the purpose of killing fish. By order of the club. F. C. HANDY, Secretary.

Steelhead fishing at Point Reyes is quite good now and many small fish are caught every day. John Butler caught three large fish on Sunday and many small ones. C. Cate failed to land any big fish but through his expert casting was able to cast his line across the creek and wash down his lunch with a bottle of beer. Geary, Libby, Precht and Pockman were among the anglers at the White House Sunday. Red fly, shrimp and spoon were the lures.

There is a rumor abroad that fly casting clubs will be formed in Napa, San Jose and Stockton. This sport is becoming very popular both East and West and the time is not far distant when a grand tournament will bring together members of clubs from all parts of the State.

Now that the 1st of April is near at hand remember that John Benn's flies and those made by his daughter Mrs. Ca Alderwood are unsurpassed. They can now be found at any time at 402 Montgomery Street, room 15.

The Fly Casting Club will meet on Tuesday evening to hear that lecture from Dr. Gilbert on the fresh water fishes of California. Other matters of importance will come before the club.

Our attention has been called to an error in the score of H Smyth in event No. 3, contest of Febroary 27. The total should be 79 2-3 per cent instead of 78 5-6 per cent.

The Salinas Owl states that salmon are being speared in great numbers on the San Antone and Nacimiento near King City.

Game in Alaska

From the manuscript of the late Harrison R. Thornton, written at Cape Prince of Wales, Alaska:

DUCKS AND DUCK SHOOTING IN ARCTIC ALASKA.

The ducks are mainly of two kinds, the "metik" (native name), called by the sailors the eider duck, and the "shahung-it," which we believe is sometimes known as the "old squaw" duck. We are not certain whether the "metik" is really the eider duck or not. It is a large bird, weighing, when full grown, from five to six pounds. Its plumage is very thick—a sort of mottled dark brown in color, and looks something like a large "puddle" or "domestic" duck, though its coloring is several shades darker. They come north in great flocks in the month of May; when they are brought down by the natives with slings made on the principle of the Patagonian "bola," and consisting of five or six bone or ivory cubes about an inch and a quarter in diameter, attached to pieces of thong or cords made of deerskin sinew thread. All the thongs are knotted together at one end, of course, and when thrown, wind around the birds and prevent their flight.

Most of these elder ducks go farther north to breed—comparatively few remaining in these parts throughout the summer. They fly with exceeding swiftness, and it is no easy matter to bring them down as they nest overhead at an elevation of forty or fifty yards. These flocks generally follow each other in quick succession, apparently making it a point to keep each other in sight. The hunter hides behind some convenient ice-block on the edge of the shore, and frequently a boy is posted on some elevated point to give warning of their approach. Sometimes all along the ice will be heard the cry, "Ki-woot! Ki-woot!" with which thunders in front warn their fellow hunters of the approach of a flock.

On the tundra in summer, one may have some very fair duck shooting if he is willing to wade through marsh-grass and water for it—a proceeding that is not very disagreeable if he wears native water-proof boots. There is no cover, of course, but he can generally creep up near enough to get in both barrels as the ducks fly off. Some times we made a bag of fifteen or twenty in a morning in this way.

Last summer we bagged a good many ducks in our front yard, so to speak. There are little ponds all around the house at that season fed by the melted snows from the mountain. In the morning we would hear one of the native boys at the window whispering "Mit Rut!" "Mit Rut!" "Ducks!"

Hastily jumping up, rushing into a few clothes and seizing our guns standing ready loaded by our bedside, we would sally forth, rubbing the mists of sleep from our eyes as we went. Peering thro' the morning fog we would creep upon the game. In a twinkling they would be off at a fifty mile rate. Bang! Bang! would go the guns, and we generally got two or three for our ladder. One morning we bagged six this way before breakfast.

The name "ah-hung-it" is mimetic, being derived from the cry of this duck. It is a small bird, weighing only about two pounds, grey on the back, and white underneath. Its most remarkable peculiarity is its speed in flight. We are almost persuaded that it flies at the rate of one hundred miles an hour when in full career. If you shoot one flying over a pond it will ricochet on the water forty or fifty feet in several successive leaps, and bound upon the bank perhaps stone dead.

THE PTARMIGAN.

The ptarmigan is one of the most beautiful of all game birds. It is thickly feathered to its very toes, and snowy white in winter, except its short bill and the under tail feathers, which are jet black; but the whole plumage has a beautiful pearly lustre which the adjective "snowwhite" but poorly indicates. There is something so indescribably suggestive of immaculate purity about its spotless plumage, that the heart of even a veteran sportsman smites him as he sees one of these handsome birds living at his feet. In summer its plumage is a mottled brown, very much like that of its cousins, the quail and the ruffed grouse. As winter approaches it turns white, until in October only a few brown feathers are left to simulate the brown beads of the marsh gress rising above the snow, and thus protect it from its enemies, the fox, the mink and the Great Snowy Owl. In keeping with the solemn solitude of the snow-clad solitude in which it dwells, it gives forth no startling whirr when flushed, as do its noisy southern relatives. All at once the snow in front of the hunter seems to be filled with life and moving as the birds see that he is about to step on them. Looking more closely, he sees the black tail feathers spread out in their alarm and excitement. They run along in front of him a few seconds, and being a true sportsman he presses them to rise. All at once there is a great rustle, and the whole covey goes off, like so many snowwhite leaves scurrying before the wind in a storm. They fly swiftly and straight and he must be quick to get in both barrels. Being exactly like the snowy background in color, they are exceedingly difficult to mark down with accuracy, and we must confess that we have never been able to find again the few covies we were fortunate enough to flush.

About the middle of May the ptarmigan begin to pair off and you may hear them calling to each other on the mountains. Like some other beautiful birds the male has an excruciating voice. His notes sound very much as we imagine those of Barnaby Rudge's raven did when he was "drawing corks," but he is a wonderfully handsome bird at that season. His head and neck are of a beautiful burnished coppery or red gold brown. The rest of his plumage, except his black tail feathers, and his short black bill, snow white, and above each eye there rises a magnificent rose pink comb about three quarters of an inch long and one third of an inch high.

Another exception to the prevailing sober colors among Arctic birds is the elder dreke. In the breeding season he is one of the most beautiful birds in the world. The top of his head is dove color; in front of his eyes and on top of his bill is a large circular fleshy protuberance of a brilliant lemon yellow. This is set off by a jet black border about an eighth of an inch wide. His eyes are jet black, and on each side of his head there is an olive green triangle, shading into the delicate salmon or fawn color of his neck on the upper part of his breast. Underneath his throat you will see black ornamental marking in the shape of an arrow-head, and the rest of his plumage is a tasteful combination of black and white.

The colors of both these birds are undescribably fresh and brilliant, and yet combined with unexaggerated delicacy of taste. Beside them your gaudy parrot and paroquet and even the cardinal grosbeak of temperate climes would seem to be flaunting and meretricious.

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

The Olympics will hold a practice shoot at both live birds and blue rocks at their grounds at Ingleside to-morrow.

The late snow on the mountains and storms have driven great numbers of wild pigeons into the valley surrounding Salinas.

That prince of sportsmen Harvey McMurchy is among us again on his annual spring visit.

F. W. King won the Coast 50 bird Record Medal last Sunday with 44 out of 50. He used Hazard Smokeless "Blue Ribbon" powder.

If C. A. Haight keeps up his present gait at live-bird shooting he will hustle the champions. 24 out of 25 is good enough to win anywhere.

The annual meeting of the Board of Governors of the California Inanimate Target Association will be held this evening at the Olympic Gun Club rooms at 1300 Van Ness ave.

A match at live birds between Peter Murphy and Otto Feudner is talked of and would prove a very interesting event. We would like to see this thought about. Friendly matches are always in order.

The 100 bird race between Downing and McVeagh at Visalia on the 14th, resulted in a win for McVeagh; score 88 to 84. McVeagh is shooting in great form this season. He has an average of 86.2 per cent out of 995 birds shot at.

The Lincoln Gun Club will shoot to-morrow. This is the oldest club on the coast, but for some reason the interest seems to be dying. Come boys, rally around the old standard and keep the ball a rolling. No club on the coast has a better name and long may it live.

W. H. Skinner, formerly with the "W. A." Powder Co., now with the California Powder Works, arrived in this city on Monday from a trip to El Paso, and the principal towns en route, in the interest of C. P. W. Smokeless. He will attend the practice shoot of the Olympics on Sunday, and on Sunday evening leaves for the north.

The Golden Gate Club's tournament at the Pacific Tournament Association grounds at Alameda Junction was not very well attended. H. Batin of the Eucaliptus won the novice medal with 40 out of 50 straightaway birds, for the second time and it is now his property. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Eisfeldt divided honors in the ladies match with 3 out of 10 birds each.

San Francisco Kennel Clubs' Advisory Board.

The collection of curios known officially as the Pacific Advisory Board met on Monday night and, obeying the orders of their mentor the "mischief maker," passed about as silly a resolution as was ever passed by any body of men outside of a lunatic asylum, namely:

A resolution of censure upon the St. Bernard Club of California for resolving not to show a dog at the San Francisco Kennel Club's show, arguing that the club is working against the best interests of the dog.

Moreover in their arrogant assumption of authority that is not even invested in the A. K. C. itself, they presume to threaten that honorable body with disqualification by the A. K. C. if they do not retract.

We knew that it was only a question of time. We knew that if their mentor were only given rope enough he would not only hang himself but his whole clique with him, but we did not expect him to do it quite so quickly. His success in defeating the Olympic has so swelled his silly head that the little grain of sense he had has all evaporated.

Those present at the meeting were: J. G. Barker, Seattle Kennel Club; F. W. D'Evelyn, Fox Terrier Club; J. W. Keene, Portland Kennel Club; H. T. Payne, Southern California Kennel Club; J. E. de Ruyter, San Francisco Kennel Club, and Dr. W. R. Cluness Jr., St. Bernard Club of California.

The instigator (Payne) of the formation of the San Francisco Kennel Club and four of its most prominent members against the one delegate from the St. Bernard Club, Dr. Cluness.

The Advisory Board is the San Francisco Kennel Club and the San Francisco Kennel Club is the Advisory Board. The San Francisco Advisory Board realizing that their show will be very much crippled if the St. Bernards are conspicuous by their absence think that they can frighten this lot of "hshies" the St. Bernard Club into showing their dogs.

Had they schemed for a year they could not have strengthened the resolution of the club so effectively.

Such matters as these are none of their business, nor do they concern the A. K. C. Such a resolution brought before the A. K. C. would only cause the delegates to wonder what sort of idiots the San Francisco Advisory Board was composed of.

The next thing we may hear will be that the Advisory Board has recommended the disqualification of J. B. Martin, C. A. Haight, M. C. Allen and other members of clubs and non-members who, to the number of at least 200, decline to show their dogs under a club that wins recognition by fraud and misrepresentation.

How long will it be before Messrs. Keene, De Ruyter and D'Evelyn will realize what foolish things this self-conceited unprincipled "mischief-maker" is leading them into, to serve his own ends and work out his spite against the writer of these peregrines.

The St. Bernard Club is accused of passing many resolutions that they never even dreamed of. The only resolution passed that bears upon the present subject is a resolution not to show at the coming San Francisco Kennel Club's show. The reason for this resolution is that the club as a body of gentlemen cannot conscientiously support a club that won recognition by fraud and misrepresentation.

The Oakland Kennel Club.

The Oakland fanciers met last Monday evening and organized the Oakland Kennel Club. The following officers were elected: President, Judge Henshaw; First Vice-President, Dr. A. Miles Taylor; Second Vice-President, Dr. C. M. Selfridge; Secretary, Fred Johns; Treasurer, W. V. Witcher. A constitution was adopted and application for membership in the American Kennel Club made at once. The bench show committee and other arrangements will be made at the next meeting.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

We thought that we lived in a free country but it seems not.

The Presidio officers have quit the barbarous practice of shooting the dogs that stray on the Presidio grounds.

A J. Salazars young smooth coat St. Bernard bitch by Hector—Bianka II. cannot be found, supposedly shot.

The San Francisco Kennel Club says: if you don't show your dogs at our show we will disqualify you. What rot!

How careful the "mischief-maker" was not to print the resolutions passed by the Advisory Board. Even he is ashamed of them.

Whom the gods destroy they first make mad. A few more insane resolutions like that of last Monday evening and the Pacific Advisory Board will cease to exist. No intelligent body of men will send a delegation to such a Board.

Had the San Francisco Kennel Club desired to antagonize the whole kennel world of San Francisco they could not have gone about it in a more direct way than by electing the members that they have, on the Board of Directors and then attempting to bulldoze and browbeat the St. Bernard Club into showing their dogs. Had they let well enough alone and gone about their business in a quiet way they might have won over a few of the latter club's members in course of time, but a club of the strength and standing of the St. Bernard Club, a much stronger organization than the San Francisco's, is not to be driven about and frightened like a lot of children.

His statements of reporters in the Examiner and Chronicle regarding the action of the St. Bernard Club are without foundation. Samuel F. Hughes has been giving the reporters a "fill." He would like things to be so and so, and in order to bring about his point he stoops to the same method of procedure that won his club admission. His efforts will fall as flat as his club will, after the May show. There will not be two dogs belonging to the St. Bernard Club of California on the benches of the San Francisco Kennel Club's show. The club that wins by fraud and misrepresentation and whose Board of Directors contains such men as form the mischief maker's clique will never receive the support of the dog lovers of this city.

W. H. McFee Esq., one of our prominent fox terrier fanciers and who, before his departure for Kentucky two years ago, was in the foremost rank with the breed, returned to this State about a year ago and located at Los Angeles. His love for the breed has not diminished during his absence and he has decided to establish a kennel, with the object in view of getting the best. He has just purchased from J. B. Martin of this city, the bitch Blanton Spinaway, by Champion Blanton Victor II—Spinster. She is the dam of the sensational winner of last year, Golden Flash II. He has also purchased from Mr. Martin two bitch pups by Werren Sage, out of Blanton Spinaway. It is also his intention to procure a suitable stud dog for these hitches.

When the Advisory Board's latest freak resolution reaches the delegates to the A K C there will be a dull thud.

Premium lists and entry blanks for the Stockton show can be obtained at this office. Entries close March 31.

D H Harris' collie dog B-z, famous for his marvelous performances as a trick dog died recently at San Antonio, Texas.

A meeting of the Stockton Kennel Club was held on the 17th, and from all accounts everything is booming. Sacramento will send from thirty to thirty-five dogs. One man alone has sent for two dozen entry blanks.

The Stockton Kennel Club was not represented at the meeting of the Pacific Advisory Board that passed the infamous resolutions quoted in these columns last week. Dr. A. C. Davenport represented the San Joaquin Valley Agricultural Association at that time.

If the Advisory Board has the power to compel the St. Bernard club to show its dogs in San Francisco, it has the power to say that they shall not show at Stockton, San Jose or Oakland. What is the use of any kennel clubs why not let the Advisory Board attend to the whole business? That seems to be their desire.

The Stockton fanciers will send about fifteen dogs to the San Jose Show. J. S. Ladd, and A. E. Mapes have purchased the foxterriers, Defiance and Lathrop Rich. John E. Doak and D. Winders have each purchased a fine cocker spaniel in the East, and Mrs. Jas. Williams has purchased a staffie and a collie to show at the Stockton show.

The St. Louis show brought out 948 entries; 865 dogs were benced.

A. P. Heywood Lonsdale owner of the Ightfield kennels and the well-known patron of field trials, died at his home in Shropshire, England, on February 24th.

A public office is a public trust. The Pacific Advisory Board when attending to its legitimate business may be of the greatest value to the kennel world, but when it begins to medal in matters in which it has no concern and gives itself authority that the A. K. C. does not possess, it is nothing on earth but a public nuisance. Its members are at present, or at least the majority of them, simply making a laughing stock of the A. K. C., and using their office for their own personal aggrandizement and to work out their own personal spite. The American Kennel Club should realize the fact that it is only recently that the Athletic Unions have split up; that the L. A. W. is about to split in halves. The great West is too large a country to be governed in New York by men who cannot possibly understand the needs of the far west. The American Kennel Club receives considerable revenue and support from the Pacific Slope and all matters relating to ourselves alone must be handled with gloves or the A. K. C., will wake up some fine morning to find that the Pacific Coast has a government of its own and no longer needs their recognition. This has got to come in time but why hasten the time of its coming.

The meddlesome "hust-bodies" that comprise the San Francisco Kennel Club's Pacific Advisory Board claim that the resolution of the St. Bernard Club is in direct conflict with the constitution of the American Kennel Club. As if any individual or club could be forced to show a dog if they did not wish to. The matter is beyond the jurisdiction of the American Kennel Club, let alone the local Board. Among the duties of the Advisory Board are "to counsel harmony of action, good will and promote a friendly feeling and unity of action," etc. The five members of the Advisory Board that constitute the quorum are the organizers of the San Francisco Kennel Club. Did they counsel harmony of action when they antagonized the entire kennel world of this city by turning down the Olympics to give three or four of their own number the power? Did they attempt to promote a friendly feeling when they said weeks ago that if the St. Bernard Club did not show they would disqualify them. Is threatening promoting unity of action? If anyone deserves disqualification it is the Pacific Advisory Board, and if the American Kennel Club understood the situation in this city the Board would not exist for one minute after the next meeting of the club.

The business of the Pacific Advisory Board is supposed to be sub rosa (such people prefer to work in the dark), but the resolution referred to several times in these columns reached our ears from three different sources the next day after the meeting. The Board thought they had done so smart a thing they could not keep it to themselves. Consequently we give the public the news before the members of the club all know of it. The official notification of the same did not reach the secretary of the St. Bernard Club until after most of this matter was in type. The idea of excluding all reporters from the meetings of the Board originated with that arch schemer the "mischief-maker," and it never occurred to his bright satellites that to exclude all others while a would-be editor occupied the office of secretary, was anything but good diplomacy.

QUINN'S OINTMENT

FOR HORSES

stands at the head of all veterinary remedies. Such troubles as Spavins, Curbs, Windpuffs, Splints, Bunches have no terrors for a horse if the master keeps and applies Quinn's Ointment. All well-known horsemen speak of it in the highest terms:

Miller & Sibley, of Franklin, Pa., owners of St. Bel, brother of late Bell Boy, write, "We have used Quinn's Ointment with great success and believe it fills all claimed for it. We cheerfully recommend it to our friends." For Curbs, Splints, Spavins or Bunches, it has no equal.

Sprague, 2:20 1/2, he by Rhode Island, 2:23 1/4, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/2, Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/2, Wilmar, 2:29 1/4), by Hambletonian 10; granddam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great granddam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list), by Mahoning Messenger, one of the strongest bred Messenger studs in the Register. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. C. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by Imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15 1/2 hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect feet-made horses in America, having plenty of bone and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. Third dam by Bertrand.
Fourth dam by imp. Buzzard.

Will make the season of 1897, at Oakland or Alameda

AT $100 THE SEASON,

WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTS.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located to Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. F. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

WALDSTEIN, 12,597

Breeding unexcelled. Sired by Director, first dam Nelly W., by Electioneer (full sister to Albert W., 2:20, sire of Little Albert, 2:10); second dam Sister, by John Nelson; third dam Lamott mare, dam of Anora, 2:27, and Hazel, 2:28. WALDSTEIN's first, second and third dams are all producers. He is one of the best producing sons of Director, and in conformation a grand individual: took first premium at State Fair over such great horses as Knight, 2:22, and Zombro, three year-old record 2:13½. He holds the five-mile race record of the world, 13:05 1-2, and never sired a colt that was not speedy. WALDSTEIN is sire of Lady Waldstein, 2:18; Humboldt Maid, 2:17; Jack W., 2:19½; Native Son, 2:29½; Swiftbird, 2:29½ (both three years old). The dams of all these have no records nor did they ever produce any in the 2:30 list. Come and see WALDSTEIN's colts go before booking your mares elsewhere.

TERMS, $50 FOR THE SEASON

(SEASON CLOSES JULY 1st.)

Usual return privileges if I still own the horse. He will be kept at Sacramento race track five days and Woodland two days.

The King of All Large Trotting Stallions

Trial 2:12, driven by W. Maben.

Sired by ANTEEO, 2:16 1-4, out of LUCY PATCHEN, by Geo. M. Patchen second dam Fanny Branham, by American Boy Jr.; third dam Puss; by Lanes. He sired Addison, 2:18 1-4, Lelia S., 2:20 1-2, Bet Madison, 2:30, Emma Nevada (trial 2:18), Dolly Madison (trial 2:21 3-4).

JAMES MADISON is sixteen hands high and weighs over 1,300 pounds. He is one of the best proportioned horses of his size living and his progeny have style, size, finish, perfect legs and feet, iron constitutions, splendid dispositions and the purest gait imaginable. They are all speedy. There never was a James Madison foaled that cannot show a 2:30 clip, and they need little or no boots.

TERMS FOR THE SEASON, $50.

DIABLO, 2:09 1-4

THE CHAMPION FOUR-YEAR-OLD IN CALIFORNIA

Sire, CHAS. DERBY, 2:20 (son of Steinway, 2:25½, and Katy G. dam of 41n 2:30, by Electioneer), dam BERTHA (dam of Jay Bee, 2:26½ as a yearling; EM, 2:22½, trial 2:12 pacing; Ed Laderty, 2:16½, trial 2:10), sister to Bayard Wilkes, 2:13½, and Alarie, sire of four in 2:30, by Alcantara, 2:23 (son of George Wilkes and Alma Mater); second dam Barrena (dam of Bayard Wilkes, 2:13½), by Bayard (son of Pilot Jr.); third dam Blandina (dam of Swigert, King Rene and four other producing sires), by Mambrino Chief II; fourth dam Birch mare (dam of Rosalind, 2:21½, and Donald, 2:27), by Parker's Brown Pilot (sire of fourth dam of Nancy Hanks, 2:04), son of Renwick's Copperbottom, and out of a thoroughbred mare. To show how well Diablo's colts have shown it is only necessary to say that five were banded for speed in 1896. Following are their trials: Two-year-old, one quarter, 36 seconds; a two-year-old, one-quarter, 31 seconds; a two-year-old, one-half, 1:09; a yearling, one-quarter, 35 seconds; a two-year-old, six weeks' work, one-quarter, 38 seconds, and El Diablo, trial mile, trotting 2:24. DIABLO will make the season of 1897 at Pleasanton. Service fee, $50. Address,

WM. MURRY, Pleasanton, Cal.

HART BOSWELL

No. 13,699. This splendidly-formed trotting stallion was sired by ONWARD, 2:25 1-4 (son of GEO. WILKES, 2:22, and DOLLY, dam of DIRECTOR, 2:17, THORNDALE, 2:21, etc.), sire of 118 in 2:30 list; dam NANCY LEE (dam of NANCY HANKS, 2:04, and DICTATOR WILKES, sire of six in 2:30 list), by Dictator; second dam SOPHY (grandam of Mike Wilkes, 2:15½, Ira Wilkes, 2:22½, and the sire Aerial Wilkes and Ira Wilkes) by Edwin Forrest 49; third dam Sophronia, by Brown Pilot; fourth dam by Bertrand; fifth dam by Lance, son of American Eclipse; sixth dam by Gray Duogannon. This is the acme of fashionable breeding. In conformation, disposition, color and pure trotting action, HART BOSWELL is perfect. He has never been worked for speed. His progeny are strong-limbed, level-headed and very promising, and are conceded by competent judges to be the finest-formed youngsters in California. Terms $50 for the season. Address K. O'GRADY, Laurel Creek Farm, San Mateo. Splendid pasturage, and mares kept in a good manner owners may desire.

THE HORSE WITHOUT A "BUT."

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12½

ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M, 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING unexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12½, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable bull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

WELCOME, 2:10 1-2

This game and consistent stallion will make the SEASON OF 1897, ending July 1st, at W. E. MEEK'S STABLE, near the Haywards Station, at $50 THESEASON, With usual return privileges.

WELCOME was sired by Arthur Wilkes, 2:28½, out of Letty (dam of Wayland W., 2:12; Welcome (p) 2:10½, trotting 2:27½; Maud Singleton, 2:24½, by Wayland Forrest (son of Edwin Forrest 49 and a mare by Sir Charles, thoroughbred); second dam Mary (dam of Apex, 2:26; Sterling, sire of four and one sire of one), Grace, dam of Creole, 2:15; Eagle, 2:19½, by Flaxtail 8132; third dam by Bright Eyes, son of Bonerger, Arthur Wilkes, 2:25½, sire of Welcome, was sired by the mighty Guy Wilkes, 2:15½, out of Gracie, by Arthur 365; second dam Old Lady, by David Hill Jr. WELCOME comes from speed producing lines on both sides and his reputation as the "gamest race horse ever Andy McDowell handled" shows that he is far superior to many that have extreme speed, but are lacking in courage. WELCOME is a bay horse, stands 16 hands, and is one of the best formed horses in California. He earned a trotting record of 2:27½ when a four-year-old, and was put to pacing last year. He started in Montana without a record and won money in every race he started. He won some of the most stubbornly-contested races seen in 1896.

Good pasturage for mares at reasonable rates. For other particulars, address,

ARTHUR L., 3, 2:15 1-4

Will Make the Season of 1897 at DIRECT STABLES, ALAMEDA, CAL.

TERMS—50, With Usual Return Privileges.

ARTHUR L., 2:15 1-4 (at three years of age) was sired by DIRECT, 2:05½, out of NELLIE BLY (dam of Della S., 2:21, and Toots), by GEO. M. PATCHIN JR., 2:27; second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Graves, 2:19). He is one of the best young stallions in this State, and as it is the intention to prepare him for the fall races, he will be allowed to serve only a limited number of mares. His record, 2:15½, is no mark of his speed, as he has shown his ability to get a mark of 2:05. ARTHUR L. is a coal black in color, stands 15½ hands and weighs 1,000 pounds. He is perfectly level-headed and one of the best-gaited horses on earth.

TOOTS

was sired by MONBARS, 2:10¼ trotting, 2:16 pacing. His dam was NELLIE BLY (dam of Arthur L., 2:15½, and Della S., 2:21); second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Graves, 2:19). TOOTS is a handsome young horse, undevel ped, but has shown very fast in his short work. After the season ends he will be prepared for the races. TOOTS is a black colt, stands 15½ hands, weighs 1,075 pounds, and is without a weak spot anywhere. His breeding is of the best, his sire, MONBARS, being by that great GEORGE WILKES stallion, JAY BIRD, 2:31¾, dam LADY MAUD, 2:18¾, by GEN. KNOX, etc.

WILL MAKE THE SEASON AT THE SAME PLACE AT $25, WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

As an extra inducement to owners of good mares, I agree to break all horses to harness sired by ARTHUR L. and TOOTS, and present to the owner of any colt sired by either of the above horses the sum of $100 that obtains a yearling record of 2:30 or better; also $200 to the owner of a two-year-old that obtains a record of 2:20. Terms Cash, or Satisfactory Note at Time of service. Good Pasturage at Reasonable Rates.

The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address,

LOUIS SCHAFER, 476 Tenth Street, Oakland; or,

The Standard-Bred Stallion

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

SIRE BY

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trahern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Mabo (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Antiope, 2:16½; Antevolo, 2:19½, etc., and a half brother to Electioneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10¼, Nelly F., 2:13½, and seventeen others in 2:20 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 141 sired Dan Voorhees, 2:23¾, St. Helena, 2:27½, etc., and the dam of Beauty McC., 2:14½, etc. The res of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in California. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of handsome, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

The Fastest Son of Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1-4

— AT —

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.

TERMS—$25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:15<sup>1</sup><sub>4</sub>, dam Early Bird, by Playmail (brother to Barney, 2:34<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>); second dam Lucy, by Old Fellow (son of Chlorophorm); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmail was by Mike 3403 (the by Vermont 322, out of The Peniger mare), out of Kate McDougough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Saladin, 2:05<sup>1</sup><sub>4</sub>).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands high and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrical of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy racer are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and on his maternal side traces to the very best of sires and dams. He has an iron constitution, and all owners of good mares that want horses that will have breeding, size, bone, quality, good disposition and extreme speed should not overlook this horse. His service fee is placed at a very low figure considering his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

THOS. ROACH, Lakeville, Cal.

SIDNEY

HERE IS ROYAL BREEDING INDEXED.

Sired by that great race horse (SIMMACOLON, 2:13 3-4) that won nine out of 11 races, and second in the other two that he started in through the Grand Circuit of the East, the season previous to the stud, and who is now becoming noted as a producer from the great performances of his first colts, being the sire of the phenomenal fast and game colt Dan Q, three-year-old record 2:11<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>; last season, Meridian, 2:13, and several more in the 20 list. Dam SYBIL, 2:27 1-2 (by Sidney, the greatest sire of his age); second dam MAUD R., (by Whipple's Hambletonian), which alone should produce speed and race horses if there is anything in breeding, but to go further, it will be found that Kohlan King has six crosses of old Hambletonian 10, that produced George Wilkes, Electioneer and most of our great sires, which is nicely intermingled with the blood of Mambrino Patchen and Mambrino (Chief (sire of dam of Director) two great sources of speed, which are second to none, and Simmacolon, is forage the greatest producing sire of George Wilkes and noted as a sire that produces great race horses.

KOHLAN KING is a black horse, five years old, 15<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub> hands high, weighs 1,150 pounds, and, according to critics, he is not excelled as an individual, and having been allowed to mature without his vitality being sapped by training, he should be more sure to produce in keeping with his blood lines. He is, however, very speedy and pure-gaited, and now that he is well matured it is the intention to campaign him the coming summer after the season closes.

SEASON, $50.

FROM MARCH 1st TO JUNE 1st.

WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES, TO A LIMITED NUMBER OF APPROVED MARES ONLY.

Care taken, but no responsibility assumed. Pasturage, $5 per month. For further particulars address G. W. STIMPSON, V. S., 222 Twelfth Street, Oakland.

SAN MATEO STOCK FARM

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub> hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other colt at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stake, and in his four-year-old form, until he met the great Azote, 2:01<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub> (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being time 1 separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen May, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hubbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfection in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, even only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15<sup>1</sup><sub>4</sub>, dam Chantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:23), by Sunwood, 2:15<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>; second dam Crenon (dam of Love ace, 2:20, and Betsy Britton, 2:20<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>), by Princeps 536; third dam Crane Lisse (dam of Baltzarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few yearlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $400, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any yearlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred ones sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

VIVA LA

Brown Colt, foaled in 1892, Bred by Jos. Cairn Simpson.

BY WHIPS, SIRE OF AZOTE, 2:04 3-4, COBWEBS, 2:12, AND SEVERAL OTHERS IN THE LIST

FIRST DAM—JOE VIVA, by Joe Hooker.

SECOND DAM—LADY VIVA, by Three Cheers (dam of Electioneer Rex, showed when a two year old quarters in 36 seconds.)

THIRD DAM—LADY AMANDA, by imp. Hurrah (the dam of Electioneer Jr., formerly Advance, three-year-old record 2:22<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub>).

FOURTH DAM—LADY LANCASTER, by imp. Monarch. The dam of Malcolm Regent, Ontario and several other winners. Marion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rev, Yo Tamhien, and several other high-class race horses, is by Malcolm, and the breeding of Viva La-Electioneer, combined with strains of thoroughbred which have shown adaptability to acquire trotting action, is now greatly fancied by intelligent breeders.

VIVA LA is sixteen hands high, a rich seal brown in color and more than usually handsome, combining muscular power and quality in an eminent degree. He was trained a little in his yearling form and showed a 2:40 gait and was improving rapidly when his training was suspended. He can scarcely fail on the right sort of mares to get fast trotters, and with nearly a certainty of securing good-sized, fine-looking horses which even in these times are in demand.

For the Season with Usual Return Privileges.

Payable on Removal of Mares.

With a limited chance in the stud, True Briton has already shown himself to be a great sire. Rey del Bandolero, from a non-producing mare that had already had five foals, holds the Pacific Coast record, 2:37<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub> at 2<sup>1</sup><sub>2</sub> m; Her Majesty (dent), won 11 out of 14 starts; Walter J., (also out of a non-producer), a horse with a great turn of speed, has finished outside the money but in very few times out of nearly one hundred starts. Virgle A. and Zeta, both winners, being the only other ones to represent this royally-bred stallion on the racing turf this year.

From this showing there is but one inference to be drawn, and that is, that True Briton is a sure getter of winners; mares that have never thrown a winner to any other stallion, bred to True Briton, get winners and class horses at that.

Closing Day of a Splendid Race Meeting—All the Events in Detail.

SIXTY-SECOND DAY—FRIDAY, MARCH 19.

The long-shot player's face wore a seraphic smile when the sixth and last race had been decided yesterday, for three had won at juicy prices during the afternoon—May R., as good as 20 to 1; Miss Ruth, 100 to 1, and Road Warmer, 10 to 1. Three favorites were also successful—Osric II., Col. Dan and Hoheozollern. The win of Miss Ruth was startling. Appearing to be outclassed by every horse in the race, she raced along with the others, drew away in the homestretch and won with ease by four lengths. Several had bets of from $2 to $15 on the mare at odds of 100 to 1. Clawson's ride on Scarborough in the first race came in for lots of adverse criticism. If he was trying to win with the colt he went about it in a queer way. It was noised about the ring that the owners did not like Scarborough and were playing Big Chief, who finished fourth. Scarborough should not be beaten by Irmas, Jack Martins, Virgie A.'s and Iron Jackets. He's too good a colt for that.

In the first race, five and a half furlongs, Zoolein was first to show, but was soon joined by Chappie, who led by a neck at the half, Zoolein second, with May R. at their heels. Iron Jacket, close up, ran into the lead in the next furlong and was a neck in front of Chappie at the final turn. Chappie had Iron Jacket beaten a sixteenth from home, but May R. finished strong, and won in the last stride by a nose, Chappie second, three lengths from Iron Jacket. Time, 1:09½. May R. was at 8 to 1, Chappie 4 (played from 5), Iron Jacket 10 (20 once), Scarborough 2, others 6 to 10 to 1.

The second event was for three year-olds, selling, six furlongs. Scotch Rose got the best of the start and opened up four or five lengths of daylight in the first furlong. Etta H. closed up fast, and at the half was but three lengths behind the leader. At the three-quarters it was Scotch Rose first by a length, Etta H. second, five lengths from Osric. Scotch Rose stopped badly the last eighth and Osric, running gamely, headed Etta H. in the last stride, winning by a nose the latter half a dozen lengths before Scotch Rose. Time, 1:15. Cash Sloan boosted Osric $500, but he remained in the B. & W. stable for $805. Osric was at 11 to 5, Etta H. 11 to 5, Scotch Rose 5, Rey del Tierra 5, others 15 to 100 to 1.

In the third, four furlongs, for two-year-olds, there was a long break, a recall and a vexatious wait. Finally the barrier went up to a fair start. Hermosa and Roxey Murphy ran close together to the homestretch, two lengths in front of Col. Dan. The latter showed to be a race horse, passing the pair in front half-way down the homestretch and winning handily by two lengths, Los Prietos second, driving, one and a half lengths from the strong-finishing Charles Le Bel. Time, 0:49½. Col. Dan was at 8 to 5, Los Prietos 8 to 1, Charles Le Bel 20, Estro 9 to 5, others 10 to 150 to 1.

There was a long delay before the barrier went up for good in the fourth race. True Blue set the pace, leading Hoheozollern nearly a length past the quarter and a head at the half, Imp. Amarino third at both places, four lengths off. Hoheozollern and True Blue turned for home head and head. The former was hard-held most of the way down the homestretch, and after bumping True Blue mildly a few times, won easily by a neck, True Blue second, two and a half lengths before Don Clarencio, who came up strong at the end. Time, 1:29½. Hoheozollern was at 6 to 5 (9 to 5 once), True Blue 4 (backed from 5), Don Clarencio 8, Stentor 13 to 5, others 10 to 300 to 1.

The fifth was at a mile, selling. Salisbury broke best, but was headed by Miss Ruth and Benamela when they had gone three furlongs. The quartet passed the half on such even terms that they could not be separated. Miss Ruth drew to the front in the next furlong and led by about a length turning for home, the others bunched closely. Miss Ruth pulled away until she was four lengths to the good and won easily by three. Benamela second, as far from Frank Jaubert. Time, 1:43. Miss Ruth was at 50 to 1 (100 for some time), Benamela 1 to 2, Frank Jaubert 20, Salisbury 8 to 5.

The last race, five and one-half furlongs, brought ten sprinters to the post. To a good start Road Warmer, off third, at once got to the fore, leading Sallie Clickquot three parts of a length at the half and a length into the homestretch. The pair drove it out, Road Warmer running gamely and winning by a goodhead in the good time of 1:08½. Sallie Clickquot, second, was eight lengths before Midas, who beat Nervoso a length. Road Warmer was at 10 to 1 (20 at one time), Sallie Clickquot 3 to 5, Midas 25 to 1, Peixotto 7, others 15 to 300 to 1.

SIXTY-THIRD DAY—SATURDAY, MARCH 20.

In the first race, one mile, they got away to a straggling start. Thelma showed in front for a moment, but Nic Nac passed her near the quarter and led at the half by three parts of a length, Adam Andrew second, two lengths from Thelma. Adam Andrew passed to the front nearing the three-quarters and led in the homestretch (backed from 7 to 5), Salvation 2½ to 1, others 12 to 30 to 1.

The Flying Stakes Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, came next. The value of the stake was $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. They were away to a good start, Little T. G. first to show, Napamax second, Miss Rowena, third. Miss Rowena lost no time in getting to the front, and Martha rushed from last place into second. Miss Rowena led her a length into the homestretch, where Bergen took it easy on Griffin's filly. Half-way down Little T. G. bumped Napamax, who was coming like a shot. Miss Rowena lasted out to win by a head from Martha, who was as far from Napamax. Martha ought to have won. Time, 0:48½. Miss Rowena and Napamax (coupled) were at 4 to 5, Martha 7 to 1, Free Lady 13 to 5, Little T. G. 15 to 1.

The fifth was the Rancho del Paso Handicap, one mile, value $1,250, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. To a good start Grandezia went out at a great clip and led Scarf Pin four lengths at the quarter. At the half it was Grandezia first by a length, The Roman and Scarf Pin heads apart as named. The Roman assumed the lead nearing the three-quarters and was two lengths to the good in the homestretch. He tired, however, and Scarf Pin came on and won easily by three lengths, Candelaria just mangling to beat The Roman a scant head for place, Aquinas fourth. Time, 1:42. Scarf Pin was at 2½ to 1, Candelaria 8 to 5, The Roman 8, Good Times 5, Aquinas 8 and Grandezia 50 to 1.

The sixth was at a mile, selling. To a good start for all but Lost Girl, Cabrillo went into the lead, being one-half length to the good at the quarter, Palomacita second, a length in front of Judge Denny, Lost Girl going up fast. At the half it was Cabrillo first by half a length, San Marco second, a head from Lost Girl and Judge Denny. Cabrillo led by three lengths in the homestretch, but Judge Denny, second, caught him about eighty yards of the finish and beat him out half a length, San Marco third, one and a half lengths further away. Time, 1:42½. Judge Denny was at 9 to 5, Cabrillo 5 to 1, San Marco 20, Palomacita 3½, others 8 to 75 to 1.

The Flood Stakes, two miles, hurdle handicap, came last. The stake was $1,000, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. Tortoni went to the front early in the action, and led Baby Bill by from half a length to one and a half lengths for about seven furlongs, then Baby Bill took up the running, drawing away two or three lengths from Tortoni. J. O. C. took second place about three furlongs from home. Then Esperance began his run, and catching Baby Bill half-way down the homestretch, won with ease at the end by six lengths, J. O. C. second, one and a half lengths before Baby Bill, Arundel a poor fourth. The latter was cut loose altogether too late. Time, 3:50—a good race. Esperance was at 10 to 1 (12 once), J. O. C. 5 to 1, Baby Bill 2, Arundel 8 to 5, Tortoni 8 and Herman 30 to 1.

INGLESIDE.

A Fine Season of Sport Inaugurated at the P. C. J. C. Track—How the Races Were Run.

SIXTY-FOURTH DAY—MONDAY, MARCH 22.

It was a day of surprises and grand disappointments, this reopening at Ingleside, and the faces of the long-shot players wore seraphic smiles, while those of the form students lengthened materially and were sad beyond compare. The attendance was in keeping with the fine weather, and the racing was interesting from first to last. Satsuma started the ball of agony a-rolling by winning the first race from the 1 to 5 favorite, Santa Bells, on whom Tod Sloan was clearly over-confident, not reckoning on Satsuma coming like a flash in the homestretch. Scarborough about a length, with Little Boh, Thelma and Roselle following. Roselle passed Adam Andrew about eighty yards of the finish and won cleverly by one and a half lengths. Thelma second, a length from Adam Andrew. Time, 1:43. Roselle was at 10 to 1, Thelma 2 (opened at 4 to 5), Adam Andrew 11 to 5 (opened at 4 to 1), Devault 7, others 12 to 75 to 1.

The second race was at six and a half furlongs, for three-year-olds. After they had made two breaks without Nebula the barrier went up to a fair start, Altanera showing first and Nebula second. Passing the half Altanera was leading by a head, Nebula second, three lengths from Quantrell. Nebula's head was in front at the final turn, Altanera second, three lengths from Quantrell, on whom Rienzi was lapped. There was a drive nearly all the way down the homestretch, and Nebula landed a winner by a scant neck, Altanera second, two lengths from Quantrell, Principle fourth. Time, 1:23. Nebula was at 7 to 5, Altanera 18 to 5, Quantrell 100 to 1, Rienzi 3, Torpedo 6, Principle 40 and Halsey 200 to 1.

A six-furlong race was third on the programme. After Logan had broken the barrier they got away to a fair start. Mainstay led past the half by two lengths, Miss Brummel second, lapped by Sallie Clickquot. At the three quarters it was Mainstay first by one and a half lengths, Brummel and Clickquot still lapped. Mainstay was heated half way down the homestretch and Miss Brummel came up in the last sixteenth and won cleverly by a length. Sallie Clickquot second, two lengths in front of Salvation. Time, 1:15. Miss Brummel was at 3½ to 1 (as good as 4), Sallie Clickquot 11 to 10 who could not beat Irmas, Jack Martins and other how-wows in his two starts here, suddenly became a race horse, winning from a fine field at a mile and a sixteenth in extra fast time. There was a difference in odds too. The other time he was at 2 and 2½ to 1, this afternoon as good as 30 to 1. That seems to act the same as a dose of morphina on some horses and incidentally disgusts people mightily with the game. Old roan Tim Murphy's win was a popular one, and he was an 8 to 1 shot. Martha won the Androus Stake in extra fast time (0:55½), Perseus won the mile and a furlong handily and David, as good as 15 to 1 in the betting, took the last cleverly. Charley Thorpe again had on his riding clothes, piloting no less than four winners, a second and third out of six mounts.

In the first, six furlongs, imp. Santa Bella was an overwhelming favorite. To a fair start she was away absolutely last. Gold Bug set the pace, leading Logan by a small margin past the half and to the three-quarters. T. Sloan had let Santa Bella take it easy, but at that she had run up third, lapped on Logan. Satsma, turning fourth, close to the inner rails, saved three or four lengths, and getting to the front over a sixteenth from home, won handily by two lengths from the vastly superior Santa Bella, who was three from Logan. The latter beat Trappean a head in a drive. Time, 1:15½. Satsma was at 4 to 1, Santa Bella 1 to 5, Logan 30 to 1, others 50 to 200.

The second race was for three-year-olds, mile and a sixteenth. To a good start after a lot of cutting up and breaking the barrier, Rey del Tierra was sent to the front by Thorpe, he leading George Palmer a head at the quarter pole, Scarborough well up. Rey del Tierra, Palmer and St. Distaff ran lapped past the half. Tierra increased his advantage to a length going to the three-quarters, St. Distaff and Scarborough head and head. Scarborough got to the front half-way down the stretch, and won off by four lengths, St. Distaff second, in a drive, a head before Rey del Tierra. Time, 1:43½—a fast race. The last time out Scarborough could not beat Irmas, Jack Martins and such, to-day he was a Hindoo. It is such racing that kills the game—where a horse is last or nearly last one day amongst dogs, and the next beats race horses at long odds and in fast time. Scarborough was at 25 to 1, St. Distaff 5, Rey del Tierra 13 to 10 (played from 2 to 1), George Palmer 2½, others 10 to 70 to 1.

In the third, six furlongs, selling, they got away to a scattering start, Tim Murphy beating the gate and leading past the half by two lengths, Thelma, Meadow Lark and Joe K. hunched. The old roan was a length to the good at the three-quarters, Thelma and Meadow Lark head and head, two lengths from Mohalaska. Old Tim hung on, winning by half a length driving, Meadow Lark second, a head before the fast-coming Mohalaska, Daylight a poor fourth. Time, 1:16½. Tim Murphy was at 10 to 1, Meadow Lark 12, Mohalaska 11 to 10, others 6 to 100 to 1.

The fourth race was at four and a half furlongs, the Androus Stakes, for two-year-olds, value $1,300, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. To a good start Martha was first to show, and leading Salmera half a length into the homestretch, won handily by half a length from the hustled-along Napamux, who beat her stable companion Thorpe, four lengths. Salmera was fourth. Time, 0:55½. Martha was at 8 to 5, Napamux and Thorpe (coupled) 5 to 5, Salmera 12 (30 once), others 15 to 60 to 1.

A mile and an eighth race was fifth on the programme. To a good start Perseus went right to the front, being closely attended by Joe Terry past the stand, the quarter and half poles, Morta Fossa a distant third. At the three-quarter pole it was Perseus first by two lengths, Joe Terry second, as far from Morta Fossa. Perseus went on to a handy three-length victory, Morta Fossa second, six lengths from Joe Terry, Doyle a poor fourth. Time, 1:55½. Perseus was at 2 to 5, Morta Fossa 6 to 1, Joe Terry 30, Doyle 7, and Foremost 8 to 1.

The last race was at seven furlongs. To a good start Hohenzollern went away from the bunch like a shot, leading by three lengths at the quarter, True Blue and Aquinas head and head. True Blue and Hohenzollern ran heads apart past the half pole, three lengths in front of Aquinas. True Blue was still leading Hohenzollern a head at the final turn, and there was a general hunching up. Old David, fifth in the homestretch, went through the bunch as if they were tied up and won cleverly by a length, Aquinas beating Hohenzollern a head for the place. Cash Day wound up fourth, and this was the best position the favorite occupied during the race. Time, 1:29½. David was at 10 to 1 (as good as 15), Aquinas 3, Hohenzollern 4, Cash Day 6 to 5, others 30 to 100 to 1.

SIXTY-FIFTH DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 23.

year-olds. They were away to a good start, and Outlay went right to the front, leading Daisy over a length into the homestretch. Outlay was not headed, and won with ease by two lengths, Recreation coming from fifth place and finishing up second, a head before The Professor, Daisy, fourth, another length away. Time, 0:44½. Outlay was at 8 to 5, Recreation 8 to 1, The Professor 20, Rosomonde 3, Los Prietos 4, others 15 to 1000 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, they got away to a bad start, Satyr, Esael, Reel and Roy Carruthers being practically left. Miss Ross, off in front, led by three lengths at the half, Favory and Manchester heads apart, with Dolore at their heels. At the three-quarters it was Miss Rosa first by two lengths, Favory, Manchester and Cappy, lapped. Miss Ross was not headed, and won driving by one and a half lengths, Cappy second, three lengths from Manchester, Favory a distant fourth. Time, 1:15½. Miss Ross was at 2 to 1, Cappy 15, Manchester 10, Satyr 6 (12 once), others 10 to 200 to 1.

There was lots of excitement over the third event, one mile. After the barrier had been broken once they came up nicely, but the starter seemed to have forgotten where the lever was, the result being that three of the four went pell mell into the webbing, Tod Sloan, on Good Times, being caught and thrown backwards from the colt, shaking him up badly. The horses were blanketed and sent back to the paddock. Slaughter substituted for Tod Sloan on Good Times, bets declared off and twenty minutes given for the making of a new hook. They finally got away to a good start. Buckwa was sent right along, at the quarter leading Salvable one and a half lengths, Argentina three lengths further away. At the half Buckwa had two lengths the best of Salvable, at the three-quarters three lengths, and Hennessy eased the leader up somewhat in the homestretch, letting him have his head the last sixteenth, Buckwa winning easily by three lengths, Salvable second, handily, a length from Lincoln, who beat Argentina, driving, by a head. Good Times, who went the overland route and was probably a shade

"short," was a poor last. Time, 1:41½. Buckwa was at evens, Salvable 11 to 5, Lincoln 6 to 1, Argentina 8 (15 once), Good Times 12.

In the fourth, six furlongs, selling, to a good start for all but Alazan, Gutta Percha got to the front without delay, being three lengths to the good at the half, Tempestuous second, a head from Bueno, on whom Russell was lapped. Gutta Percha's lead had been cut to a length by the time the three-quarters was reached, Bueno second, a head before Russell. The latter, well-riden, shot out of the bunch about a sixteenth from home, and won ridden out by half a length, Wyoming coming from fourth place and finishing a strong second, half a length in front of Tempestuous, who beat Cavallo two lengths. Time, 1:15½. Russell was at 12 to 1 (played from 30), Wyoming 12, Tempestuous 10, Bueno 2, Gutta Percha 5, Hazard 7, Chenille 8, others 15 to 100 to 1.

The fifth was at one and a quarter miles, selling. Don Ciarencio led by about a length for nearly six furlongs. Judge Denny then joined him, Morta Fossa being about two lengths off. Judge Denny and Morta Fossa were close together turning for home. Morta Fossa passed Judge Denny in the last sixteenth and won cleverly by half a length, Judge Denny second, four lengths from Don Ciarencio, who, driving, beat Can't Dance a short head. Time, 2:10½. Morta Fossa was at 6 to 5 (3 to 5 once), Judge Denny 3 to 1 (opened at 2), Don Ciarencio 3½ (played from 5), Can't Dance 5 to 1.

The sixth event was a mile selling race. To a good send-off Cabrillo got to the front, leading Dsmien by daylight past the quarter and half, The Roman lapped on Damien to the half. Damien now went after Cabrillo, and the pair entered the homestretch close together, one and a half lengths in front of The Roman, on whom Tod Sloan made a close turn. The Roman got up to the front half-way down the stretch and won easily by three and a half lengths, Damien second easily, two and a half lengths before Cabrillo. Time, 1:42½. The Roman was at 2½ to 1 (opened at 8 to 5), Damien 3 to 5, Cabrillo 8 and McLight 15 to 1.

In the last race, six furlongs, for three-year-old fillies, they were given an Indian file send-off Scarf Pin in front. Being the first anyhow and getting such an advantage at the start, she galloped around from two to three lengths in front, as she willed, and won romping by three lengths, Etta H. in a hard drive heating Midlight out a neck for the place. Time, 1:15½. Scarf Pin was at 1 to 2, Etta H. 4 to 1 (8 once), Midlight 5 (opened at 3) Nehla 25 to 1.

SIXTY-SIXTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25.

The first event was a six-furlong race. There were fourteen starters and they got a good send-off. The Iron Master, being first to show, Brametta second and Riot next. Perhaps and Franco, heads apart, were in front at the half, with Brametta a length off. Perhaps then pulled away from his field, leading by two lengths at the three-quarters, Riot and Brametta head and head. Brametta got to the fore the last sixteenth and won driving by a head, Perhaps second, half a length from Sea Spray, Edgemont fourth, a length away, lapped by Treachery. Time, 1:16½. Brametta was at 20 to 1, Perhaps 30, Sea Spray 5, Treachery 8 to 5, The Iron Master 7 (opened at 7 to 5), Vera 8, others 12 to 100 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, they were off to an excellent start. Yemen, Fly and California ran heads apart as named past the half. California's head showed in front of Yemen's at the three-quarters, Fly three lengths off. Yemen was in front by a head in the homestretch, but a sixteenth from home California got up, out-gamed Yemen and won by three parts of a length. Yemen second, ten lengths before Midlo, who beat Potentate a length. Time, 1:13½—a cracking race. California was at evens (backed from 7 to 5), Yemen 2 to 1, Midlo 12, others 15 to 25 to 1. F. Brown ran California up $1,100, or to $1,700, Tully Coulter retaining the mare with another $5 bid.

A mile handicap came third. They were away to a good start, Lohengula showing first. Lohengula and Installator ran heads apart past the quarter, one and a half lengths in front of Flashlight. At the half it was Lohengula first by a head, Installator second, a length from Salvation. Installator, on the outside, was a head to the good at the final turn, Lohengula second, Salvation a length off, hugging the rails. Installator made a wide turn, and Salvation saved two or three lengths. He got up to Installator about eighty yards of the finish, and drawing away, won driving by a length, Installator second, ten lengths from Lohengula, who beat Flashlight as far. Time, 1:40½. Salvation was at 2½ to 1, Installator 7 to 10, Lohengula 7 and Flashlight 10 to 1.

In the fourth, one and one-sixteenth miles selling, Elmer F., went to the front at once and led McLight a head past the stand and quarter, Doyle half a length at the half, Mc Light close up. At the three-quarters it was Elmer F., first by a head McLight second, a length before Doyle, on whom Adolph Spreckels was lapped. The latter improved his position all the way down. Elmer F. stopped badly, and Snreckels got up in about the last eighty yards and won driving by a length, McLight second, three lengths from the fast-coming Foremost, on whom Elmer F. was lapped. Time, 1:50½. George Berry "hoisted" the winner $400. Mr. Corrigan retaining him with an additional $5 bid. Spreckels was at 3 to 1, McLight 7 (opened at 12), Foremost 15, Doyle 2 (played from 3½), others 5 to 100 to 1.

The mile and a quarter jump was run in a dense fog. St. Apollo went to the front early, leading past the stand by fifteen lengths, at the quarter by twenty and in the homestretch, tiring, by three. He fell at the last jump, and Hyman, third at the final turn, came into a handy, scant-length victory, Zaragoza second, ten lengths in front of Herman, who beat Bedford two. No time taken. Hyman was at 20 to 1, Zaragoza 3 to 2, Herman 2½ to 1, Bedford 5, Brilliant 8, and St. Apollo 10 to 1.

In the sixth, mile and a sixteenth, selling, they got away well and Altamax, hugging the rails, was in front by two lengths when they went out of sight into the fog bank. When they hove into view in the homestretch Key del Tierra had the rail and was leading, Altamax three lengths away, rather toward the outside of the track. Thorpe did not sit down and ride the latter hard until they were about eighty yards of the finish, and though the Maxim colt was going about twice as fast at the finish as Key del Tierra, the latter won by a neck, Altamax second, two and a half lengths from Babe Murphy. Hazard was a distant fourth. Time, 1:49½. Key del Tierra was at 6 to 5, Altamax 11 to 5, Babe Murphy 6 to 1, others 5 to 40 to 1.

The seventh race was also run in a dense fog. We are informed that the start was bad, Caesarian and Lady Diamond beating the barrier, Bellicosos, the favorite, getting away seventh and last. Caesarian was not headed, and won by a length, driven out, Lady Diamond second, four lengths before Logan, who beat Bellicosos a head. Time, 1:14½. Caesarian was at 5 to 1 (opened at 2), Lady Diamond 2, Logan 3, Bellicosos 6 to 5, others 20 to 100 to 1.

SIXTY-SEVENTH DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 25.

The first race, one mile, had fifteen starters. After Mojava had broken the barrier and dragged Thad Williams about fifteen yards, they got away to a good start, Tulare showing first, Treachery second, Minnie II third. Satyr was off last. Alivo, seventh away, led Tulare by a length at the quarter, Cappy third, close up. Alivo, Tulare and Cappy ran heads apart past the half, Taranto a good fourth. Tulare and Alivo were close together at the three-quarters, Cappy half a length off. Tulare led by two lengths in the homestretch, and though Treachery and Satyr came strong, Tulare lasted long enough to win by a head, Treachery second, a neck before Satyr, he a head in front of Cappy. Time, 1:42½. Tulare and Treachery (coupled) were at 3 to 1, Satyr 4½, Cappy 3, Alivo 7, others 15 to 300.

In the second, half a mile, they were away to a fair start, and Little T. G., fourth off, got to the front in a twinkling, leading Recreation five lengths at the three-quarters. The Spreckels filly tired the last sixteenth and Recreation came on and won easily by four lengths, Little T. G. in a drive heating Salmera, whipped out, a length. The rest were not in the hunt. Time, 0:49½. Recreation was at 2½ to 1, Little T. G. 3, Salmera 2, others 7 to 100 to 1.

The third was at a mile. Off to a good start, imp. Trance soon got to the fore. She was attended closely by M. Clicquot, at whose heels came Vincitor, heading a bunch. Trance led up to the last sixteenth, where St. Distaff, who came from behind, got up and won cleverly by half a length, imp. Trance, whipped out, second four lengths before Vincitor, who needed a race. Time, 1:43½. St. Distaff was at 13 to 10, Trance 3½ to 1 (30 once), Vincitor 2, M. Clicquot 15, others 25 to 40 to 1.

A seven-furlong race for three-year-olds came fourth. They got an awful bad send-off, the chances of Scarborough and Good Times going glimmering with the raise of the barrier, Hohenzollern and Horatio racing off in front, with Bernsdillo for their closest attendant. At the half it was Hohenzollern first by a head, Horatio second, three lengths from True Blue. Hohenzollern led by a length at the three-quarters, Horatio second, as far from Greyhurst. Horatio tired when over a sixteenth from home and Greyhurst moved up strong. He could not catch Hohenzollern, however, Boots' colt winning with a hit left by half a length, Greyhurst second, three lengths in front of True Blue, on whom Good Times was lapped. Time, 1:30. Hohenzollern was at 8 to 1, Greyhurst 5, True Blue 30, Good Times 11 to 10, Scarborough 4½, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The fifth race, one mile, had seven starters. They got a good start. Miss Ruth led Wyoming half a length past the quarter pole, Double Quick another length away. At the half Roth was a neck to the good, Wyoming two lengths from Double Quick. Wyoming passed Miss Ruth nearing the three-quarters and led in the homestretch by a small margin, Double Quick second. Double Quick came on when Clawson asked him and won with ease by a scant length, Wyoming second, two lengths from Miss Ruth, who was four from Roselle. Time, 1:43½. Double Quick was at 6 to 5 (3 to 2 once), Wyoming 2½ to 1, Miss Ruth 30, Collina 5 (8 once), Semper Lex 8, Roselle 15, Ingleside 150 to 1.

The sixth and last race was at six furlongs, with four starters. Buckwa beat the barrier, and the remaining three were strung out. Buckwa led Joan and Preston, together, two and a half lengths at the half, two lengths at the three-quarters, and won by eight lengths from Preston, who was eased up, Joan third, six lengths further away. Time, 1:15½. Buckwa was at 3 to 10, Preston 3 to 1, Joan 150 and Ramiro 150 to 1.

The Almont Family.

The current number of the Horse Review contains its annual table of statistics regarding the Almonts from which it appears that the year 1896 has been an important one in the annals of the Almont family, the accessions to its ranks having been numerous and of high class. At the close of last season our annual table credited 1,603 descendants of Almont with standard records; the present one shows 1,850, a gain of 247. The number of 2:20 performers in the family is now 535, against 431 a year ago—a gain of 104, which shows the extreme speed inherent in the blood. Almont's fastest descendant, trotting, is Fantasy, 4, 2:06; fastest pacing, Flying Jih, 2:04.

As sires, the sons of Almont make a most wonderful showing. Gen Withers never trained nor raced his colts, but found a market for them, and they were dispersed to all points of the compass, many of them eventually passing their lives in obscurity—so far as trotting, breeding and development went—localities. But environment seemingly had no effect upon the marvelous potency of his blood, and he stands to-day as the sire of no less than one hundred producing sons—a number exceeded by Hambletonian alone. In the female line he has done equally well, and there are one hundred and seven 2:30 trotters and 2:25 pacers which claim his daughters as dams, in which respect he is fourth to Hambletonian, Mambrino Patchen and George Wilkes. These figures are impressive and abundant proof of the surpassing greatness of Almont as a sire, while extra weight attends them from the fact that succeeding generations are, in their turn, looming up formidably. The family of Almont is, beyond question, among the foremost ones in existence.

Without doubt the greatest son of Almont is Altamont, now owned in California. Twenty-five trotters and fourteen pacers, which appear in the following list, are placed to his credit:

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

HO! FOR PLEASANTON—However frequent the trips from San Francisco to the town, which is so well known in the harness-horse world, it is always a pleasant journey, especially when the day is as bright as that on Tuesday last. From the time when Fruitvale is reached to the end there is plenty to interest, albeit soon after leaving the last-named station the scene is not attractive. At least that part of it to the south of the railway where the old Alameda track was located, and where Thad Stevens, Nell Flaherty, Henry, Mark L., Lottery and others went through the "grand preparation" for contests, two of which, after the lapse of twenty-three years, have not been beaten. There, too, Lucy met and defeated Occident, thousands of disappointed spectators sorrowing over the downfall of the "California Wonder."

Lively then, desolate now, the house weather-beaten and dilapidated, stabling stands and outside fences gone through the course with the railings which bordered it still up in places, and homestretch and turns yet plainly marked. Grand orchards, fine gardens, villages, rich plains, and nearing Niles the hills are close by, luxuriantly green from base to summit, cosy nooks where canyons join the slope, sunny locations for cottages embowered among trees and vines, and groups of heavy-foliaged eucalyptus in relief to the lighter green of the grass, breaking the undulating crests of the hills and dotting the sides.

Sudden as a transformation scene in a theatre the change from plains and gentle slopes and rounded hills to the gorge through which Alameda creek flows. As wild as the Trochachs, with scours, and rock-battered mountains and among the rocks and above them a dense growth of chaparral and trees, mostly evergreen, and the dun-colored water rushing along so furiously at the base. Sunol, surely a "happy valley," nestling among the hills which have again become rounded, and soon after the magnificent villa which Mrs. Hearst, with rare, good taste, has built on an elevation which commands the valley and is yet at the foot of the mountain, an imposing background. Verona, the name of the station as well as the title of the estate, left behind and the valley widens into a circular plateau of large extent, encircled by mountains, Diablo to the northward, the Monarch, its summit nearly four thousand feet above the ocean, dominating the lesser elevations, though one to the southward bears a snow-covered peak to reflect the bright sunshine.

Three training tracks, not far apart, in this section of the valley—the historical course, where so many champions have been domiciled, close to the town and bearing its name, a couple of miles away that of James Sutherland, who has a well-deserved reputation as a careful educator of trotters and pacers, and Merriwa, in the boxes of which scores of trotters, many of them wearing championship honors, and at later date the best blood of the antipodes congregated in the stalls.

At the Pleasanton track there are now a champion and an ex champion, and still a champion, as he is the only horse which ever compassed a mile, at a recognized harness gait, within the two-minute mark. What if there was a galloper to pull the major part of the load. I have seen Flying Jib pull a road wagon, not a light vehicle at that, a driver over two hundred pounds "bodily weight" and with the collar of mate nearer head than shoulders, a half-mile in 1:03 1-5, and I am informed he beat that on another occasion. And that before he was put in regular training. Let the trio which have gone so close to a mile in one hundred and twenty seconds equal what Jib has accomplished and glory galore will be the reward. Three seconds is a big margin to overcome, though it may be that Gentry, Robert J. or Star Pointer can do the trick.

Azote: Mr. Salishury was there and he stood at the door of the stall while I took a look at the champion gelding of the world. Looking strong and bearty, never better in outward appearance, and his fore legs apparently sound and clean. The bandages on his hind legs forbade an expression of opinion, though I am told that he is jogging all right, and there is certainly better foundation for the assumption that there is another race in him than the confident assertion of the ex-champion of the ring that there is still one good fight in his huge frame. A great pleasure to me should he face the starter in like condition to what he displayed when he gained the record. Andy McDowell told me that he could surely have driven him in 2:03 that day, but as Alix was a member of the string it would not do to lessen her prestige.

Mr. Salishury endorses that estimate, going further, however, by stating that had it not been for the accident he would have trotted in 2:02.

The injury came from striking his head on the upper bar of the doorway of the car; he rushed back, caught his hind shoe, wrenched it off, a portion of the hoof also torn away and the leg sprained.

The iron horse Director, the "little black fascal" Direct, the champion Directum, Alix, Flying Jib, Little Albert and others that he has had under his charge, are warmly cherished, but the big fellow with so many lovely qualities is undoubtedly nearest to the center of his heart.

"There be stands Mr. Simpson. It may seem tremendously foolish," he said, "but if he were a stallion and I had the money that I once had he would be mine if it took a hundred thousand dollars to obtain ownership if the times are bad. Without the money I would struggle hard to secure it, as never a horse which combined so many good qualities."

What of Whips? I queried. "Iconoclast" asserts that not a single half-bred stallion has gained distinction in the stud, and the man who publishes his "matter" over that pen-name has been a careful student of the problems connected with breeding trotters.

"Student be blessed," or a word more expressive in the place of the one recorded may have been used, "Whips for his opportunities may be called the greatest of all stallions. Never a horse which got the peer of Azote. Cobwebs, properly handled, can heat every horse now on the tracks. The chestnut gelding which Orrin Hickox took East could make that great mare Hulda appear slow, and I never saw a Whips that had not the action which, as a rule, only requires the right kind of handling to go fast."

A great deal has been printed and more told, of Mr. Salishury's severity in training horses, the major part of which from people who had little knowledge of what his methods were. I regard him as the most competent man who ever followed the business, and anyone who will consult the records, from the time he raced Director to the close of his last campaign, if at all fair-minded, must acknowledge that if success is a measure of merit, he is surely entitled to a high place in the profession. His endorsement of Whips is peculiarly gratifying to me. I saw him when a few days old and was so well pleased with his looks that I urged Governor Stanford to call him Palo Alto. Too long a story to tell now. I had four by Whips, three fillies and one colt. One of the fillies, from a thoroughbred mare, hence three-quarters thoroughbred, I sold to my good friend John C. Bauer, publisher of The Horse Review. His paper has always been opposed to "near infusions" of thoroughbred blood, and I am quite anxious to mate this filly, which is still here, with the right stallion, and I have little hesitation in predicting that Mr. Bauer will be well pleased with the offspring.

While Mr. Salishury and Iconoclast are so widely apart in their estimates of the value of near strains of thoroughbred in fast harness horses, both are entitled to weighty consideration. The purely practical man of the ability of Mr. S. bases his views on what he has seen, is surely a competent arbitrator; one who combines theory with practice may be inclined to give too much prominence to evidence which supports his theory, too little to that which runs counter thereto. An able advocate the person who has labored so valiantly to smash one of my pet images. That he has practical knowledge is shown by his work, though one who has labored so long in the field could not fail to become more or less practical.

I feel that I would know something about horses if I had never been the owner of one; having bred, reared, broken, educated, driven them in races, shod, rubbed, slept in their stables, watched them from birth through many stages of their career, studied their forms, disposition, physical and mental characteristics, my faith is still strong in the soundness of the position which Iconoclast attacks, and when men like Governor Stanford, Monroe Salishury and scores of others, men of capacity and knowledge, indorse the position, it is needless to state that gives me greater confidence in the strength of the theory than personal observation and deductions therefrom.

I sincerely trust that my esteemed friend, Iconoclast, will forgive me for quoting a "retort courtois" which has a bearing on this question. He has given me bard knocks which were duly appreciated, and severe though they were, never left a rancorous feeling.

A writer in The American Horse Breeder, "Elder Dean" states,

"Iconoclast calls my attention to the fact that a mare by Homer, dam by imported Knight of St. George, was sold at the recent Brassfield sale for the small sum of $10 and from that fact he goes on to argue that had the same mare been by Nutwood dam by George Wilkes the price must have been up in the hundreds." * * * "To show the fallacy of such reasoning I need go no further back in horse history than to call attention to the recent Fasig sale, as published in The Breeder of March 9th where he will find that Lilly Young, sired by Young Fullerton, dam by the great thoroughbred Ten Broeck, brought $3,400 while at the same sale the four-year-old mare Rowan by Nutwood dam Rowena by George Wilkes brought $30.

A blow such as wound up the Carson affair if Elder Dean is correct that the dam of Lilly Young was by the thoroughbred Ten Broeck, and if not still have a bearing on the question at issue, showing, as it does, that even a "giltedge" trotting pedigree will not ensure a good price.

Mr. Salishury is assisting in getting the Griffiths' horses ready for the campaign, which will be in the East if the members of that stable show the proper form. So far the showing is satisfactory, the youngsters being of great promise. The colt by Direct from Lily Stanley is sure to go fast; he takes to either the pace or the trot very handily and has the action and shape to indicate plenty of speed. The three-year-old filly by Direct dam by Algona, grandam by Reavis' Blackbird, third dam by Belmont, can pace very fast when she feels in the humor, and everyone around the track has high praise for Jib Albert by Albert W. from the dam of Flying Jib.

I saw Benzetta work a couple of easy heats, McManus driving her, and she certainly looks well, as all of Hickox's horse do. Two of McDowell's went a couple of heats together, they will go to the races, and Keating, Murray and McBride are not without "material."

Before getting a detailed description, however, I will make another visit to Pleasanton, going in the afternoon so as to be there in the morning. By the 8:30 A. M. train the track is not reached until 11 A. M. when many of the horses have done their work.

LONG AGO.—Centuries before the Christian era, athletic games were held in high repute. Victors at the Olympian festival had honors piled upon them in heavy masses. Though the actual prize might be a garland, a sprig of pine or a branch of a palm tree, some of them became pensioners of the State, enjoying rich rewards and exempt from harassing duties. The most celebrated poets sang their praise in verses sublime; orators applauded in stateliest words, the most eminent sculptors cut marble into their shapes, and statues of bronze or brass erected in honor of their achievements. Cicero said that the Grecians held a victor at Olympia in higher estimation than the Romans did their consuls when that office was the crowning dignity of the nation; and in another oration that to conquer at Olympia was nearly as great and glorious as a triumph at Rome. Horace elevated the heroes of Elis still higher, saying "that it exalts the victor above human nature; they were no longer men but gods."

Who shall say that the festival at Carson is not a revival of the famous games of Ancient Greece, and as that may be termed the Olympian series, other places will follow the lead, and the Pythian, Nemean and Isthmian come in regular rotation. There is one practice of the ancients which it will be well to adopt. The combatants were made to take an oath, that they would religiously observe the laws of each kind of combat. Fraud, artifice and excessive violence were absolutely prohibited, and the sophistry that it did not matter whether the opponent was conquered by deceit or superior prowess ignored. Quoting from the "records":

"The address of a combatant, expert in all the niceties of the art, who knows how to shift and ward dexterously, to put the change on his adversary with art and subtilty, and to improve the least advantage, must not be confounded here with the cowardly and knavish cunning of one who, without regard to the laws prescribed, employs the most unfair means to vanquish his competitor."

Very likely that my rosy anticipations over the result of the games at Carson are based on wishes, or rather that there is a proneness on my part to believe that with such a demonstration to establish the fact that glove-boxing, when properly conducted, is not the terrible affair which many think it is. Quite true that large assemblages of people are apt, nearly sure, to contain some that are disorderly and a proportion of them who are utterly bad, and it will devolve upon those in charge and also the State and county constabulary to hold the unruly element in subjection, which was effectively managed. I cannot be accused of partiality for that kind of sport, never having witnessed a glove fight, and can add, in all sincerity, that I never want to see another when bare fists and London prize ring rules govern.

NOT SO BAD. Not nearly so bad as the first notices in the daily papers represented it to be the troubles in connection with the Pacific Jockey Club.

Bad enough, the withdrawal from the presidency and directorship of Mr. A. B. Spreckles, if others of the California members (as stated at first) had followed his example it would have been a calamity. As I understand the situation the whole difficulty arises from a purely business complication, and that is a matter for the club to settle itself, and so long as it does not effect the racing interests a question which the papers can ignore.

The outlook for racing hereafter in California is quite promising. The agreement between the P. C. J. C. and the C. J. C. has removed a load of apprehension.

Racing at Ingleside and Emeryville restricted to alternate, biweekly meetings from May 15th to November 1st, and the absolute interdiction of foreign books is comprehensive and fair. This does not interfere with harness racing, and the determination to eliminate the worst feature attendant on racing will secure support from those who would be bitterly antagonistic if that pernicious practice had been condoned.

Trustfully anxiously awaiting the appropriation bill becoming a law, as that will insure a good season for trotters, pacers and the races which stay home, there is nothing more lacking for the seasons of 1897 and 1898.

* * *
MONTANA MEETINGS.—Mr. E. A. Tipton is now in the city, and those who are seeking information about the Montana meetings may readily obtain it from the popular manager.

Every person who attended the Anaconda and Butte meetings last year have signified their intention to again participate, and this is the best possible recommendation.

Good treatment is the rule, not the exception, and decidedly better than hospitable entertainment, good as that is, the chance to make money.

The racing proper will be so arranged as to give everyone a show, distance, conditions, etc. being varied to meet the capacity of those which are present, and trotters and pacers that are fairly good in their classes will be very likely to "draw down" some of the money. There is one thing which can be fully assured, viz: that the rules will be enforced without fear or favor.

The man who has only one entry given as much consideration as the owner of a big stable, and whether a person has ten dollars or ten millions the treatment will be the same.

The driver of Marcus Daly's horses was promptly fined for an infraction of the rules and other prominent persons punished for violations of the code.

There is likely to be a full delegation of racehorses in attendance, and it behooves the owners of harness horses to take a part if there is the least show for them to make expenses. Mr. Tipton is not very sanguine of securing Eastern horses, and it is of paramount importance to owners and breeders of our harness horses to sustain the prestige obtained at the meetings of last year.

Fortunately the meetings at Anaconda and Butte will not interfere with those in California.

Plenty of time after the close to reach the main meetings here, as it is unlikely that any of prominence will be held until that at Butte comes to a close.

The stakes, running, trotting and pacing, appear in the advertisements and are so comprehensive and clear as to do away with the necessity for explanations, further than to urge the making of nominations in the stakes which close for the runners April 1st, for harness horses April 10th.

JOS. CAIRN SIMPSON.

Rohnerville Notes.

Robert Noble is roading Iora, 2:23, with a view of conditioning her for the early races below.

Jack W., the monarch of the homestretch, will make the season in Eureka, in charge of Henry Haas.

The dam of Lady Waldstein, known as the Niles mare, by Grand Moor, was shipped below and bred to Waldstein.

Parties below are negotiating for the purchase of Trilby and Brice McNeil, both by Dudley out of Poscora mares.

Vixen, dam Sister, 2d dam of Waldstein, at 18 yrs. old, for $500 at the Corbett sale and Sahledale 2:18½, her daughter, for $1000.

The Waldstein mare owned by P. Hauck will be trained this year. She showed quarters two years ago in 33 seconds on the road and can go probably in 30 seconds.

Johnny Quinn moved Arthur W. up not long ago and he seems ready any minute to beat his trial 2:24. He is a magnificent three-year-old and ought to take his share of the purses.

Chas. Landerger drives a three-year-old filly by Anthem, dam by St. Cloud, that can go quarters in :37 now, and at race time will be in a three-year-old event against anything in the county.

One of the finest bred stallions on his dam's side in the county is Expert. His second dam is the dam of Expressive, 2:12½, the greatest three-year-old campaigner ever on the Grand Circuit.

Eugene Heywood of Ferndale, who surprised the rail birds, some years ago by driving Gold Rose a phenomenal quarter, was in Rohnerville this week. He owns Gertrude, by the Moor, the only great broodmare in Humboldt county.

Mamie Scott, foaled on Table Bluff, surprised the talent not long ago by winning in a gallop at a 100 to 1 shot. She holds the 7½ furlong record of the world, and was sired by that good horse Carry Scott, by Leinster; he by imported Australian.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

C. B. WAKEFIELD, of Placerville, has bred his Ben Frank-lu mare to Altamont.

THERE is talk of building a speed track in Golden Gate Park—a circular course.

Grand Moor is now owned by Davis Bros., Long Island, N. Y., and is in fine condition.

REMEMBER entries to the harness races in Montana close April 10th. See advertisement.

MORE good horses are to be seen in Golden Gate Park every afternoon than ever before.

THE California State Fair this year will be for only two weeks. Three weeks is too long for such a meeting.

H. HELMAN is gathering a nice lot of trotters at the Hol-lister track. He will be cut with them this season.

DO NOT forget we have a number of Year Books for 1896 for sale. Price $3. Every stock farm should have one.

THE Rural Spirit says Oregon and Washington have five green pacers that can go into the 2:10 list this year. They are all Altamonts.

CARBONATE, 2, 2:09, and Sulphide, 3, 2:09½, the two sons of Superior, 2:17½, will be in the stable of Walter Cummings of Denver again this year.

THERE is a pacer by Norris, out of a thoroughbred mare at Palo Alto, that is destined to be among the Joe Patchen—Flying Jih class this year.

THE question of the hour: Will Governor Budd antagonize everyone in California this year by not signing the district fair appropriation bill?

THERE will be a scarcity of first-class trotting and pacing material in California this year. The cessation in breeding three years ago is beginning to be felt.

DIRECTION, by Director; Guy, by Shiloh; Rubenstein, by Baron Wilkes, and Doc Sperry, by Altamont, are the only pacers who have won a sixth heat in a race in 2:10 and better.

THE Napa track, under Charles Scott's management, has been placed in first-class condition and will be used by a number of our horsemen, for it is one of the best in California.

THE game pacing gelding Bernard, who won the 2:17 pacing race at Santa Ana last fall, making the fourth and sixth heats in 2:16½, is now owned by Mr. W. H. Smith of Pasadena.

A LARGE number of people have sent for catalogues of the Palo Alto sale which is to take place next month at the farm. There is plenty of good material there and it will be sold at low prices.

MONROE SALISBURY is taking quite an interest in the trotters at Pleasanton. His advice on shoeing, balancing and conditioning is received with delight by all who have the pleasure of being near him.

VET KENT, who has charge of J. B. Iverson's horses near Salinas, will have some good ones out this year. Mr. Iverson was a liberal buyer at our leading sales and used remarkably good judgment in his selection.

VAN B. DELASHMUTT, the Oregon horse breeder, has followed the example of Monroe Salisbury and quit the horse business and taken up mining and is now located in Spokane, Wash. We wish him success.

ORRIN A. HICKOK has quite a good string of horses at Pleasanton, but on account of the unsettled condition of the weather he has been unable to give the horses the exercise they should have, but next week he will begin to give them hard work.

THAT good game stallion Melvar 2:22 is making the season of 1897 at Brown's ranch, Chiles, Napa County, Cal. Melvar from his breeding, individuality, disposition and speed, should make one of the best sires ever brought into Napa County.

VASTO, 2:16½, was taken from the Sonoma Stock Farm, Sonoma, Cal., last Wednesday by his new owner, Harry E. Wise, to his stock farm near Gilroy, which he has named "Belles Arbres." Mr. Wise will try and have Vasto ready for the races this fall.

"SEYMOUR WILKES transmits his great qualities—perfect form, nice disposition, size, color and speed—better than any horse I ever saw." This was the remark of a well-known horseman who was looking at a number of youngsters by this horse near San Jose last week.

THE new boulevard is the center of attraction among all who own good horses in San Francisco. The majority of the money subscribed to build it has been contributed by them, while the bicycle men, who are always howling for good roads, become as silent as the tomb when approached for a contribution.

C. K. LARRABEE, of Brook Nook Stock Ranch, Montana reports Pearl Fisher, 2:18½, in foal to his stallion Alaska, son of Electioneer. His other Altamont mares Wallula, Censola, Jennie P. and Coqueta were stunted to Zombro, 2:13, last season and the two last-named are thought to be in foal, while the other two missed.

OUR breeders are feeling more encouraged at the prospects this season than they have for years, and as a consequence there will be a large increase in the number of mares bred. Breeders realize that the stock of good horses is very scarce, and there is now an indication on their part to try and meet the demand that is sure to come a few years hence.

F. H. BURKE writes: To assist you in making up a list of horses for the coming circuit, I will state that at present I only know of two horses with records that I have that will start this year, though I have a number of good ones: Jeffe, 2:18½, and Wow, 2:21½. I am pretty certain that Promise Me (p), 2:16½, and Al Gregor (p), 2:11, will not start this year.

HARRY AGNEW departed for Honolulu, H. I., on the steamer last Tuesday. On the following day his horses were shipped on the bark Wm. G. Wilder. It will be some time before Mr. Agnew will return. No better-known nor better-liked Californian ever visited the island than he. For over twenty-five years he lived in Honolulu and was the foremost horseman there.

PROF. E. P. HEALD, president of the P. C. T. H. B. Association has taken his grand-looking, well-bred stallion Dexter Prince Jr. (brother to Lottery Ticket 2:19), to Fresno where he will place him in the stud. This young horse should sire a most desirable lot of colts for he is bred in the purple and those of his progeny we have seen are fine looking, large and speedy.

SAN JOSE has set the rest of the State a good example by making an ordinance requiring all wagons that come into the city to trade to be equipped with tires ten inches in width and to have the forward wheels track inside the rear ones. This makes, therefore, a total of forty superficial inches rolled down and hardened by wagon tires. San Jose knows a thing or two herself, especially in the matter of wagon roads.

KLAMATH, 2:07½, won in seven years 126 of the 252 heats in which he started. Of these, 112 were in 2:30 or better, 74 in 2:20 or better, 46 in 2:15 or better, and 6 in 2:10 or better. He trotted a first heat in 2:07½, a second heat in 2:08½, a third heat in 2:09½, a fourth heat in 2:10½, a fifth heat in 2:11, a sixth heat in 2:13½, and a seventh heat in 2:16½. Klamath is now the property of Gilbert Judd, who was his caretaker during his turf career.

CHAS. MARVIN, the well-known trainer received a tabulated pedigree of a horse called Hambletonian Bell Boy that is standing at Oakhill Farm, Bridgewater-on-London, and asks for its verification. He was sired by Ulster Chief, dam by Bell Alta, son of Williamson's Belmont (not Belmont 64) Bell Alta was out of a mare by Illinois Medoc, so Mr. Mendonhall who bred the horse always claims. This is the only error we can find in the tabulated pedigree sent us.

A BILL was introduced in the New Jersey Legislature March 11th, which is a close counterpart of the Gray racing law now in force in New York. It does not in exact words authorize or legalize betting or bookmaking on race tracks, but it does not relieve the managers or owners of race tracks from personal liability for any bookmaking or betting done on their tracks after they have posted notices that bookmaking and betting are illegal and have employed policemen to see that this rule is enforced.

J. E. MCCOY made another sale of two fine Corbett carriage horses from his stock farm here last Tuesday. Henry Ballard, coachman for L. G. Waterman of Montecito, Cal., being the purchaser. Ballard had been looking over the country for the past week before he secured a team which would suit Mr. Waterman. The price paid was $400. This sale makes six Corbett colts sold in the last six months bringing over $900 and shows that well bred stock will command its value. We are proud of Mr. McCoy's success.—Hueneme Herald.

CHAS. D. HAVENS, one of our most popular architects is the owner of a gelding by Aptos Wilkes (brother to Hulda 2:08½) out of Miss Meers by Abbottsford, second dam Tule Duck by McCracken's Black Hawk, third dam by Jack Hawkins. This gelding had his foreleg fractured when he was a two-year-old and all hope of getting him to even stand upon was almost abandoned when Dr. Masoero, one of the leading veterinarians in California, took him in hand and had him ready to trot. He is as sound as a dollar and will be seen in the races this year. Great credit is due this surgeon for his patience and skill in making such a cure.

TO-DAY a string of five race horses—four trotters and one runner—were taken to the Oroville race track, which will at once be put in good condition for training, as it is expected a few days of spring racing will be had here about the middle of May. Colusa has set apart May 4th to the 7th inclusive for racing, after which Marysville will no doubt have a few days of the same sport, and it is the hope of horsemen hereabouts to get up a few days racing after Marysville and Colusa. Harry Isom will have charge of the horses to be trained here, and his extended knowledge and experience, should place them in fine trim and develop good speed.—Oroville Mercury.

MCKINNEY, 2:11½, was bred to Expressive, 2:12½; she has a very handsome Boodle colt by her side. The dam of Bueno, 2:16, has a McKinney colt and was bred to this grand horse again. Stemwinder, 2:30½ (dam of Directum, 2:05½, the Trotting King), a Guy Wilkes mare belonging to M. S. Severance, and a mare by Ed Wilkes (son of Red Wilkes), belonging to R. S. Brown of Petaluma, have also been mated with this grand-looking and game campaigning son of Alcione. Mr. Durfee says since the bill in regard to appropriations for district fairs passed the Legislature, owners of good mares are taking a deeper interest in the breeding problem and he believes he will have at least sixty mares for his horse this season.

THE splendid pacing mare by Steinway 2:25½ taken to Honolulu by J. McDonald, a month ago, was sold by him to M. Decker, of Waikapu, Maui, she will not be raced this year but may be next season. Mr. McDonald sold the three thoroughbreds he bought there to Mr. Schuman of the Club Stables. The last lot of horses that was sent to Mr. McDonald on the barkentine S. G. Wilder arrived in very bad shape, one of them died shortly after landing, and the captain was arrested by Miss Wilder, President of the Humane Society of Honolulu. Mr. McDonald disposed of the balance of his first lot of horses. He is one of the most honorable and upright men that ever left California with horses, and we hope he will be enabled to build up a large business in the line he has adopted.

THE matter of races on the 11th of June has begun to stir up the horsemen of the city on account of the very close proximity of that date. There is a great deal of speculation as to whether or no there will be any races, but the Jockey Club intends to find out just exactly where matters stand, so the president has called a meeting for 8 o'clock Thursday night at the Pacific Club.—Honolulu Advertiser.

WALDSTEIN, 2:22½, the "iron horse," is being well patronized at Sacramento. H. Hogboom has every reason to be lieve this horse will do the best business of any horse in the county. A fine lot of mares are booked to him and the wonderful race-horse qualities shown by his progeny make friends for this sire wherever the youngsters are seen. Mr. Hogboom may well feel proud of this horse. He is bred, gaited and made right, and his get have all the qualities good, serviceable and consistent race horses should have.

CAN any one suggest a method by which the number of names in the suspension lists of the American and National trotting associations can be reduced, other than that of payment in full in one lump sum? Some of the men suspended make their living practically by racing their horses, and if they cannot race they cannot pay. Is there no way by which the associations can effect settlements by providing for future payment? If a man really wishes to pay he might be allowed to give his note, due in so many months, and be released. The parent organization might forego its ten per cent for the time being, or altogether, and a settlement be reached in this manner. If there is a better plan let us have it. The man who means to pay will not hesitate to give his note for the amount he owes.

MR. JOHN SCHMEER, who has been in the livery business in Albany, Oregon, for fifteen years past, reports that while distributing the ballot boxes last November throughout Linn County, he was in every voting precinct in the county, going from place to place in a team, and in the whole route he only saw two colts in a territory where ordinarily he would see at least 125 during the good times. He says there are absolutely no young horses in Linn County, and that the old ones will not last long. Mr. Schmeer has leased Mr. Bybee's thoroughbreds, including the stallion Munster, and, with his other horses, will take them to Crook County, where he will embark in the breeding business. His knowledge of the condition of the market leads him to believe that Oregon will see a horse famine before they can be bred and raised.—Rural Spirit.

A TOTAL of 430 entries were received by the Detroit Jockey Club to its nine stakes opened for the summer meeting, which will be held August 10 to September 4. These stakes are, of course, in addition to the International Derby and the Campan stake of 1868. To the International Derby of 1897 were received 86 entries; to the Campan stake, for same year, 84; to the Wayne Hotel stake, 65; to the Hotel Normandie stake, 56; to the Street Railway stake, 53; to the Hotel Cadillac stake, 49; to the Voigt Brewing Company stake, 44; to the Dominion stake, 24, and to the Sensation stake, 19. To the International Derby of 1898, 57 entries were made, and to the Campan stake, same year, 49. The Sensation Stake, named above, which obtained 19 entries, is to be run over a distance of two and one-half miles, so it may fairly be said that long distance racing is not yet entirely dead, though naturally the field of starters will not be a large one.

C. A. WINSHIP, of Los Angeles, writes as follows: "There is very little of interest transpiring here. Rains have occurred just often enough to keep the track in poor condition most of the time, though Mr. Ryan has done all in his power to keep it in shape for work. Early in the season distemper was quite general and set us back considerably; now the horses are about all healthy and ready for a cessation of tedious jogging and some sharp work. I am working thirteen trotters and pacers, four or five of which are young animals intended for future years' racing. All my old campaigners are in most excellent form and shape, and I hope to have them stepping along in 0:25 or 0:30 soon. Both Lady Grace and Aster are still sound; Mr. Hodges is doing very well. If his work on the circuit proves equal to his training, he will be an acquisition to my stable. The McKinney mare you spoke of as being in my stable is four years old instead of three. Her dam is by Christmas. She is a nice big mare and working along very well; can show quarters in 36 seconds."

EVERY man that is at all familiar with the harness horse industry is also acquainted with the fact that the foreign buyers have been quite prominent this winter and have done a great deal toward strengthening the market and keeping prices up. The breeders need their patronage, but unless something is done (and done now) to stop the sale of penalized horses the foreigners will be a hit timid about buying, says an Eastern exchange. There have been any number of animals sold to foreigners that were under suspension, and before the N. T. A. will issue a certificate the penalties must be paid. The innocent buyer, of course, is compelled to pay and the tricky seller laughs at the verandcy of his European patrons. The N. T. A. passed a resolution censuring such doings, but they should pass a rule that will expel, for life, any man who sells a horse to a foreigner without first informing him of the standing of the animal with both associations. It is swindling (and no other word describes it) pure and simple to sell a horse with a penalty hanging over him. The swindlers should be brought to book.

FRIENDS of road reform in California have good reason to be satisfied with the work of the Assembly in their behalf last Thursday. This was the final passage of the four bills which provide for the continuance of the State Highway Bureau, for the inauguration of a State system of highways, for their construction and maintenance, and which also define the duties and privileges of the several counties in connection with the system. The passage of these bills is a substantial vindication of the utility of the Bureau of Highways, which has been the object of assaults in certain quarters. It is true that the measures enacted were not precisely the ones which the bureau proposed. There was some difference of opinion, chiefly on matters of detail, between members of the bureau and the legislative committee on roads and highways. But after frequent conferences and concessions on both sides the measures just passed by the Assembly were finally framed. Friends of good roads now regard the battle as half won, and anticipate favorable action by the Senate and Governor on the measures which are designed to place California among the progressive States that have declared for road reform.

CAPTAIN J. H. REES Monday declined to accept the position at the Oakland track made vacant by the departure of Judge J. J. Burke.

The bay colt Kingstreet, by King Thomas, dam Deception, is dead. He was owned by Burns & Waterhouse, and gave promise of being a great three-year-old, as he always could beat Candelaria.

GEORGE K. RIDER's very fair bay gelding, George Rose by Three Cheers—Charity, died at Sacramento late last week. Pierre ("Haeger") Jones trained the horse, which won a number of excellent races.

JOCKEY FRANK COADY has been reinstated by the C. J. C. officials. The chances are this popular rider will be very particular to inquire about the condition of any horse he is asked to ride in future.

FEATHERWEIGHT JOCKEY TOMMY BUTLER says there is nothing in the talk about his riding at the Indianilla track, City of Mexico; that he has not been a foot further from Frisco than San Jose.

The first foal at Mr. James B. Ferguson's Kingston Stud was dropped last Tuesday. It is a bay colt by imp. St. George, out of Fanfare; marks, long star, right hind leg white.—Thoroughbred Record.

In the California Derby, to be run at Ingleside April 3, the probable starters are Hohenzollern, Vincitor, Osric II., Candelaria, Casper, Aquinas, Howard S., Lumina, Estaca, Lincoln, Greyhurst and Scarf Pin.

CERISE (by imp. Moccasin), dam of the dead giant, Morello, foaled, on February 24th, a bay colt by Eon, brother to St. Saviour and Eole, and was bred back. Cerisa is the property of Charles W. Hardy, of Norfolk, Va.

DAVID GIDEON, the New York turfman, returned home last night via Los Angeles and New Orleans. He was a heavy loser during his sojourn in California, but with "Skeets" Martin to ride for him he may win another Futurity.

CINCINNATI (Ohio), March 19.—Secretary J. Gratz Hanley of the Queen City Jockey Club, announces that J. J. Burke would be the presiding judge at the Newport spring meeting. Burke has presided at all the Eastern tracks.

H. H. HUNN will leave for New York at the close of the present Ingleside meeting with Ferrier and Formal. He has room for four or five other horses in his car, and unless he purchases some in the meantime will take outsiders to fill the vacant stalls.

"TWO BITS" who has lately acquired the name of Seymour Thompson, ran away from J. E. Cushing and engaged with C. Van Meter. The Little Rock Executive Committee has suspended "Two Bits" for life. No action was taken against Van Meter.

The Monmouth Park race track is to be sold at New York next April. This decision has been reached by the heirs of David Dunham Withers. Many famous races have taken place over this course, notably that between Longfellow and Henry Bassett in 1872.

W. F. H. SANTA CLARA.—Will you please let me know who rode Lissak when he won that $10,000 stake at the old Bay District race track? It was in the year of 1894, I believe. Answer.—Jerry Chorn, ruled off in the Little Pete case, was Lissak's rider on that occasion.

MARGERINE, property of Stanhope Bros., foaled last Sunday a bay filly by Hanover. The filly is a full sister to The Commoner. Col. Milton Young had two bets on this event and lost both. One was that the foal would be a colt and the other that it would be a chestnut in color.

It is rumored that in future California Jockey Club programmes will include no jumping races except the stakes that have already closed. The management is said to have arrived at this conclusion after Wednesday's hurdle handicap, which looked very bad from any point of view.

PALOMACITA and Salisbury are to be retired for the present season. Clarence Waterhouse lost on both these horses and will not give them a chance to again throw down the public. Salisbury has worked faster than ever before, but he will not run in his races for some reason or other.

R. STANLEY will ship six horses to the Indianilla track, near the City of Mexico, next Wednesday. The lot includes Riley II., Reno, Lady Melbourne, Elsie and two two-year-olds. Mr. Stanley informs us he has room for about four more horses in the car, and his address is 1802 Mission street.

The club-house at Ingleside was visited by a distinguished party Tuesday. August Belmont, President of The Jockey Club, with a number of friends, watched some of the races from the inclosure. With him were President T. H. Williams Jr. of the C. J. C., Walter Hohart, Henry Crocker and others.

LONDON, March 24.—The race for the Brockelby Stakes of 500 sovereigns, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, straight-away, was run at the Lincoln spring meeting to-day. The race was won by Leopold Rothschild's Gay Lothario. F. Jennings' Firearm was second and Prince Soltykoff's Leontodon third.

LONDON, March 23.—J. C. Sullivan's Winkfield's Pride won the Lincolnshire handicap to-day. E. Courage's Funny Boat was second, Martin D. Tucker's Bridgegroom third. Lorrillard's Diakka finished fifth from the last of the field, which numbered eighteen starters. The Lincolnshire handicap is for 1,000 sovereigns.

JUDGE J. J. BURKE has departed for Newport, Ky., to accept the position of presiding judge at the Queen City Jockey Club track, which is across the Ohio from Cincinnati. Capt. Rees succeeds Judge Burke in the Oakland stand, and this looks as if a very friendly feeling exists between the C. J. C. and P. C. J. C. management.

EUGENE LEIGH, who has a big stock farm in Kentucky, received word Tuesday that Libbie L., the dam of Arezzo, has a brown colt by Kingston. As this youngster made his appearance on March 17th, Mr. Leigh is thinking about naming the colt Bob Fitzsimmons or The Champion, as the world's championship was decided on that day.

TAMPA won another race at Iron Hill, Md., on the 13th inst. This is the one all the fuss was made about—the alleged big winning, etc.—but he is by Alexander (brother to Foxhall), from Lorilla, and was bred at Rancho del Paso. He is a bay in color and has been at Iron Hill all the time, while the bay mare Tampa was sick at Stockton, Cal. It was a story made out of whole cloth.

JOSEPH J. EAKINS, sporting editor of the New York World, is delighted with California. "I have seen more life and hustle in San Francisco than any place outside of New York," said Eakins Wednesday. "The racing in California is on a much more extensive scale than I had supposed. The tracks are first-class and the racing is very fair. It is the best winter sport that I have ever seen." Eakins goes East to-night.

A. M. ALLEN, who succeeded Dick Havey as starter at Ingleside, did fair work with the gate Tuesday, not a horse being left at the post and the delays not being long enough to vex the crowd. While a couple of the send-offs were not gill-edged, we opine that he will make a good starter, for he seems to realize that horses are to be lined up against the whelming and should not be allowed to come at it "on the fly," in a few strides being lengths in front of a field.

GEORGE DINUE, well known here and in San Jose and much liked by every one, died early this week of pneumonia and was buried in this city on Tuesday. He was for years a resident of San Jose, a brother to Jack Dinue, the ex-announcer at Ingleside, and since the meeting began there last fall George had been a member of the Pinkerton force. His post was the main gate leading into the sadling paddock, between the rooms of the Secretary and entry clerk.

H. ("SKEETS") MARTIN has made an agreement with David Gideon, the well-known New York turfman, to ride until the close of the New York racing season. Martin, who is said to receive in the neighborhood of $4,000 for his services, will leave for the East in the middle of next month. His contract dates from April 8 to the close of the Eastern racing. He can ride at 101 lbs., and is the most improved boy we have ever seen. A year ago Henry was considered a very ordinary horse-pilot, and his mounts were few and far between.

The grand race horse Clifford is again in training at Morris Park, although at present he is going slow, says a New York paper. When he showed signs of lameness in the early part of September, at Sheepshead Bay, Rogers at once turned him out and he was taken to Middletown, N. J., where he remained until a few days ago. He was not a broken down horse when retired, but it was feared that another race at that time would be disastrous. His spring preparation will be of a very slow nature, and a special effort will be made with him for the Suburban.

At the close of the present Ingleside meeting the Macdonough two-year-olds, in charge of Amos Whita, will be offered at auction unless previously disposed of. Mr. Macdonough has decided not to race until next season, when he will start out with four Ormonde two-year-olds. Santa Bella and Miss Brummell will be sent to the Menlo Stock Farm and mated with the mighty Ormonde. In view of the fact that the Ormondes are the proprietor's pets, he has decided to dispose of most of his mares, reserving only as many as his farm can carry, and will send up ten or twelve of the broodmares in foal to or with foals by St. Carlo, to be sold at the same time.

The feeling prevails that there is considerable in the rumor that A. B. Spreckels will build a race track in or near San Francisco, as it is well known that he has the capital to do this if he takes a notion, and he is fairly likely, in our opinion, to determine upon the this course, now that he is at loggerheads with the present controllers of the P. C. J. C. Another rumor was that he had joined forces with the C. J. C. Mr. Leake refused to discuss the matter yesterday, and this is taken by most folks to "mean nothing." Mr. Spreckels says in regard to the subject that it is interesting race-goers in this part of the world that whatever business he is transacting is of a strictly private nature. Should it eventually reach a stage that would make it a matter of public interest, he would go into details but for the present "nuttin'" is the word.

B. C. HOLLY is in tough luck. He had two good mares, Minnie Elkins and Melanie, on board the ferry-boat Sunol and when the accident occurred Melanie went down with the ship. Minnie Elkins broke her halter and started to swim to the Berkeley shore, but was picked up by a tugboat and is not seriously injured, harring the wetting. Both mares were believed to be in foal to Galen Brown's crack miler, Libertine. Melania was the property of Tom Ryan, who left her in Holly's charge two years ago, when she was cut down in a race on the Bay District track.

The breeders' bill has passed the Senate by a large majority in the Missouri Legislature, says the Chronicle. This news will be hailed with delight by everyone interested in legitimate racing, as it does away with night racing and restricts the sport to the summer months. Barney Schreiber is responsible for getting this bill through the Legislature and is entitled to great credit for his efforts in crushing out the merry-go-rounds. He stated last night that a new track, similar to the one at Ingleside, will be constructed at St. Louis in the near future and that racing will now advance with great strides in that part of the country.

RUSSELLA, winner of the fourth race Tuesday, is by the famous sprinter of the Morrisises, Britannic, from Mamie Russell (sister to Charley Russell, Harry Russell, Eolite and Russell), by Eolus; second dam Tillie Russell, by Scathelock; third dam Daisy, by Cracker; fourth dam Hymenia (dam of Virgil), by imp. Yorkshira, etc. Dan Honig, her owner, and also Jimmy Coffey, are trainers among trainers. They have horses "right" their first time out every time, and know how to keep their charges in condition. Zamar II., Magnet, Satsuma and Russella are just a few among the many instances. That's one of the best tests known—fitting a horse to run for its life after it's had a long rest, and not running them into shape at the expense of the public.

COL. MILTON YOUNG, of McGrathiana, has sold privately a bunch of Hanover yearlings to the well-known trainer Lew Elmore, who now has a good string in training in the East. Col. Young gives this version of the sale: "I sold 13½ yearlings for $14,000." The part of a colt which he sold is of course one held in partnership. The New York Journal has the following concerning the matter: "Mr. W. J. Arkell of the Judge Publishing Company says that he personally had nothing to do with the recent purchase of fifteen yearlings from Mr. Milton Young, of the McGrathiana Stud, Lexington, Ky. Mr. Arkell states that he has sold all his horses to Mr. Lew Elmore, who trained last year for the firm of Trowbridge & Co., of which Mr. Arkell was a member."—Thoroughbred Record.

E. L. H., RED HILL RANCH, Upper Lake, Lake County, Cal.—Having purchased a stallion by the name of Harry Peyton, and not knowing his pedigree, I should be much obliged to you if you would publish full particulars as to age, description, performances, pedigree and progeny in your answers to correspondents column in next issue. Answer.—Harry Peyton is a bay horse, foaled 1882, by Shannon, dam Miss Peyton, by imp. Glangarry; second dam Romping Girl, by Jack Malone; third dam Fannie McAllister by O'Meara, etc. He won the California Annual Stakes at Sacramento, one mile, as a two-year-old, and ran in two other races that year. Several years ago he started in a race won by his daughter, Msmie C. Peyton also sired Rosie P., a winner.

An Oakland, Cal., dispatch of recent date was as follows: Sam Carter, a man employed at the race track, shot himself in a Lower Broadway saloon this afternoon and died a few minutes later in his brother's arms. Carter had been drinking heavily of late and this afternoon he went to Schmidt & Fieherling's saloon, where his brother Walter is a bartender. He took several drinks and then retired to a rear apartment. A minute later a shot was heard and Carter was found on the floor with a bullet wound over the heart. His brother picked him up, but he soon expired. Carter was married, but his wife secured a divorce some years ago. She is now living with her child in this city. Carter has been employed at the race track and was a competent horseman, at one time being a jockey of some note. Recently he was discharged, and he took to drinking. He has been despondent lately, though he never hinted at suicide. Before leaving the party at the bar he was as jovial as any.

CHARLES P. KERR, the big breeder of thoroughbreds from Bakersfield, attended the races at Ingleside Tuesday. He reports everything going along nicely at Autrin Stock Farm. So far fourteen foals have made their appearance, and no deaths of mares or youngsters are to be chronicled. Mr. Kerr is breeding a number of mares to the good-looking bay English horse, Piccolo, by Petrarch—Lady Grace, and also is mating imp. Calvados, Rio Bravo and Herald with some good stud matrons. The Rio Bravos are grand-looking and Herald is such a big, fine-looking horse that Mr. K. is firm in the belief that he will sire something extra good. The only one by Herald that has raced as yet is Viking, and he is from a very young mare, and Viking is a winner and very speedy at that, hence it can reasonably be expected that if Herald is given some real good mares he will sire some crackerjacks. As a two-year-old he ran the famous Yo Tambien such a close race that a snap-shot of the finish had to be called into requisition before the winner was determined upon.

LORD ROSEBURY has again the early favorite for this year's Derby in Velasquez. But the probable cause of the heavy and persistent run on this colt is the fact that Lord Adlington and Sir Frederick Johnstone, the joint owners of Vesuvian, another excellent horse, are both in precarious health, while the owner of Gelte More, the close second favorite, has been ill all the winter. It will be remembered that all entries for the race are disqualified by the death of the nominator. Lord Adlington's illness is of comparatively recent date, but Sir Frederick Johnstone (an intimate friend of Lord Rosebery and the Prince of Wales), has had for years to live on his beautiful villa, Le Nid, near Monte Carlo, and only comes to England for a few weeks in the height of the season. Lord William Beresford has been driving a good deal lately, but it is very doubtful whether he will ever mount a horse again. In his time he was probably the finest horseman in the country. Velasquez is by Donovan, out of Vista, by Macaroni; second dam Verdure, by King Tom. Vista is a full sister to imp. Judith, the dam of the well-known stallion Julien.

On Breeding Mares.

There never was a more urgent need for breeding good-sized, well-bred trotting mares than the present, and never in the history of the trotting turf in California were their better opportunities to breed to first class stallions than to-day. There is no denying the fact that good horses are getting scarcer every day. There are always enough common scrubs among the horses that come "out of the woods," or "off the plains" to keep up the supply of their kind, and even that field will be limited hereafter. In Eastern Oregon there were more horses of "nondescript" breeds destroyed by starvation, poison and the bullet this winter than ever before, and the warfare is to be kept up until the valleys and the hillsides are depleted of these hay-eating, grass-destroying animals that never were any use but, have always been considered "worse than useless." It is only a matter of a few years until they will be obliterated almost as completely from the face of the earth as the buffalo. Farmers and stock raisers there are replacing these wild, untamed steeds with good large trotting-bred stock, but it will be many years before they will be able to enter into competition with the owners of good, carefully selected mares in the bay and valley counties of California, where it is only a day's journey to the places where the services of the choicest trotting-bred sires are obtainable.

The observant breeder and the one who is gifted with foresight, will be quick to understand the situation and see that from this time on there will be a market for good trotting horses. He has observed enough of the dangers of "breeding without study" to give the subject mature deliberation, consequently, he is very careful to select a horse to breed to his mare. If he has more than one he does not forget that there is more than one sire and acts accordingly.

Hundreds of horses leave San Francisco every month and, in fact, from all our large cities; some die, others meet with accidents and are sent to the country, perhaps never to return, and many are shipped to the East or to foreign ports. There is a constant moving of horses in and out of these cities and the statistician who would attempt to keep an account of it in California would spend very little time to attend to other business.

We are having driveways and boulevards made in all our large cities. These would not be attempted if we heeded all the false stories about the "passing of the horse." HE HAS NOT PASSED; he is here to STAY, and as the stump-speaker said: "We want more of him every day." How is this to be accomplished? By keeping our best mares barren, and should we want a horse we must send men all over the country to get an animal which we know "never could be as good as the one our favorite mare would have had, if she were bred to some of those horses advertised in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN." We all have a "warm spot" in our hearts for that game old dame, and to see her have a lusty foal by some famous horse is a pleasure to anticipate which none but those who have experienced can enjoy. What a future do we anticipate for the little one! Will he be a fast trotter, as fast as Directum, or will he be a second Star Pointer? He ought to be as good as either of them; he is bred right and we bred him; we had confidence enough in the future of the horse business when we sent the dam to be bred, and we are glad we did so. Let us have a little restoration of that confidence. There is no reason why we should not. We shall have racing, good roads, higher prices for horses and better times hereafter, then why should we be afraid of the future? We say, "Breed your good mares NOW." Do not breed any worthless ones that are affected with vices or ailments. The best thing to do with all such is to send them to the "glue factory;" neither they, nor their kind, should have an opportunity to reproduce themselves. Breed good mares. If you own none but have a place to keep a few, buy them, but be sure to get good ones. They are cheap now; they will not always be so. Breed them to the stallion whose breeding, conformation, color and style suits you and you believe will suit the mares. It will pay you a hundredfold, and when the produce is growing you can always say: "Well, I can get a good price for them, for the people who should have been breeding that kind when I started in are at their wits' ends to get as good trotters as these are, and they are sorry they had not studied the subject of supply and demand a little closer."

The Appropriation Bill.

By next Thursday every anxious and patient breeder of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry; every farmer, orchardist, and viticulturist; every director of every agricultural society; every business man in every town of any size in California, as well as every agricultural implement and carriage manufacturer will know if Gov. James H. Budd has signed the appropriation bill for the State and District Agricultural Fairs. It passed the legislature with very little opposition, for every legislator realized it was a popular measure and was intended to encourage the largest number of taxpayers of any other bill presented.

Since 1885 the sum of $100,000 has been expended yearly for these appropriations and the country thrived, for all the industries to which these moneys were paid were kept ever before the people. In 1895 and 1896 this money was (with the exception of the amounts given to the State Fair) not appropriated, and now a bill is presented asking for only $62,000 a year.

It has been a hardship on all associations in California during the past two years of depression to borrow money to hold these fairs, but they cannot do it again. Many banks hold mortgages on our leading race tracks, yet all of them are satisfied to get the interest on their investments. They don't want these race courses; they would sooner see them kept by the associations and devoted to the objects for which many thousands of dollars of the shareholders' money have been expended, i. e., "the holding of annual fairs." Hence we ask: "Will Gov. Budd turn a deaf ear to every taxpayer in this State in regard to these fairs this time?" For two years there has been grumbling loud and strong over his veto of the bill. The echo of that long-protracted howl is still remembered, for everyone who voted for Gov. Budd believed he would remember how hard they worked for his election, and how disappointed they were when he struck at the very root of the only bill they wanted to see kept in force.

This is the opportunity of Gov. Budd's lifetime. Will he embrace it? Will he be welcomed everywhere in California among the citizens, the hard-working taxpayer farmers and breeders, their wives and families hereafter?

He knows how strong the feeling is regarding these appropriation bills and realizes better than any one how deeply interested every one is in his action on this bill. Will he show his love for the people who have done so much to make California famous by making this a law?

Montana's Great Meeting.

It is a pleasure to talk to a live, progressive, wide awake manager of a racing association, and Ed. A. Tipton fills that bill to a dot. He has been here all week, creating an interest in the meeting that will not die out until the horsemen return from there. He has been sowing the seed, as it were, in places where it will do well, and already over twenty horse owners have signified their intention of going to Butte and Anaconda to get some of the money so liberally offered by the Montana Racing Association. There are twelve excellent stakes offered for the running horses, values running from $1,000 to $1,500, the conditions are most liberal and every owner of a good horse should do his best to have him ready to face the barrier when the starter takes his place. Entry blanks have been sent to a large number of horsemen at Ingleside and Oakland and all who have not obtained them can do so by sending at once to this office. Remember entries close next Thursday, April 1st.

For harness horses, twelve splendid stakes are also offered, ranging from $1,000 to $1,500, and the attention of all owners of trotters and pacers is called to the very liberal conditions offered. Opportunities for making big money at very small outlay like these are not offered light-harness horse owners and breeders in any other part of the United States. Many of our California horsemen can take their horses there and be back in time to race them at Sacramento, then on through the California Circuit. This is the programme to be followed by them. Special railroad rates may be obtained, and, judging by the glowing reports of all who visited the Montana Circuit last year with their horses, there will be a good number take the trip this season. Remember entries close April 10th. We shall have blanks ready for distribution soon.

HAVE you a promising colt or filly? If so, do not forget it will pay you to send its name as an entry for the colt stakes of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, the advertisement of which appears in another column. It is needless to point out the advantages of having entries in colt stakes, especially this year, when so many of our large stock farms have abandoned the idea of training colts and fillies. Nothing enhances the value of a two or three-year-old more than having him well entered in stakes, and such valuable ones as these should appeal to the breeder in a manner that will almost force him to acknowledge that "no better ones were ever offered" and now is the chance of a lifetime to take advantage of them.

ONE of the best pacers in California, if not in the United States, is the gelding Loupe, 2:09 1/4. He is of good size, very racy looking, and a pacer that with his age, soundness, disposition, frictionless gait and speed will get a mark of 2:03 this season. Loupe was used as a road horse for some time, and a nicer driving animal was never handled. We understand several prominent Eastern horsemen are negotiating for him. Horses of his calibre are very rare, even in this age of extreme speed and we should hate to see him taken East. He is at Pleasanton and is moving smooth and well.

THE grandly-bred stallion Robin, that has been advertised in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN for sale, has been purchased from the estate of Isaac de Turk, Santa Rosa, by Mr. Julius Trescony, of San Lucas, Monterey county, on Thursday last. We congratulate Mr. Trescony on his purchase for there are few better-bred, better-formed or gamer-trotting stallions on this coast than he and his progeny in Sonoma county, reflect credit upon him as a sire. Robin will be a most valuable acquisition to the light-harness horse industry of Monterey county.

WM. B. FASTIG, one of the leading old-time secretaries, and at present a famous live-stock auctioneer, arrived here from New York last Wednesday. Mr. Fastig has concluded a very successful series of auction sales in the East this winter and will, no doubt, strive to get some of the California patronage for future sales.

ON Tuesday, April 20, the annual sale of Palo Alto horses will take place at the farm and many splendid individuals will be offered. F. J. Covey will be in California by that time and be on hand to tell all about the ones to be sold. Send at once to Messrs. Killip & Co., the famous live-stock auctioneers for catalogues.

IT WILL be noticed that the prices asked for Goodwin's Annuals for 1896 are $4.20, $6.25 and $8.25. No horse owner's library is complete without a copy of this invaluable work.

J. K. STEINER, of Chicago, writes: "The annual meeting of the shareholders of the American Trotting Register Association for the election of ten directors to serve three years, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before it, will be held in Chicago on Wednesday, April 7, 1897."

WE have filled orders for the San Francisco Turf Guide in nearly every large city in the United States. It is the best book of the kind ever published.

ONLY a little account of the Palo Alto sale appeared in the telegraphic accounts, but next week we shall publish a full description of it.

There will be a sale of ten colts and ten mares from the Macdonough Stock Farm by Messrs. Killip & Co., at their salesyard, April 8th.

THE spring meeting at Overland Park, which commences in June, promises to be one of the best ever held there.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

NEW YORK, March 13, 1897.

The price obtained for Star Pointer, $15,600, was more than was generally expected he would bring, and it would appear good horses bring good prices.

Star Pointer, 2:02½, is with Dave McClary at Boston, who drove him last season. His owner, James A. Murphy, it is said, will not show Robert J., 2:20½ this season.

A series of lectures on the horse with illustrations are being given evenings at the American Horse Exchange by Dr. R. S. Houdeker.

A majority of the horsemen East are in favor of the three in five races, all ending with the fifth heat, and reducing the distance to 80 and 100 yards.

Mr. Tipton offered $5,000 for the coming race made by Messrs. Harriman and Daly. Mr. Harriman declined the offer. It will take place at Goshen, Orange County.

The Union Advertising Company has secured a judgment for $1,182 against John and Marion Mason.

Mrs. Clara M. Jaccard, grand daughter of the late Laura Keane, died in poverty at Hillsdale, N. J. on Saturday, on May 25th. She would have been twenty-one years old soon, and entitled to $12,000 from the late mother's estate.

Tha Madison Square Garden Stockholders have adopted a resolution to sell the property, it is valued at about $3,000,000.

The rumor that A. M. Palmer has arranged a southern circuit for companies is denied by that gentlemen, also that he has resigned the presidency of the Actors' fund.

"Billy" Birch once of the famous minstrel firm of Birch, Wambold and Backus was arrested on Wednesday for being intoxicated in the street. Poor "Billy" was called the "King of Negro Minstrels" in old days, and the firm it was estimated during the twenty years it existed made quite $1,000,000. He retired in 1884, and says he lost his money in Wall Street. He is supported by his faithful wife who takes lodgers in a top floor of a flat in Seventh Avenue.

Thos. Q. Seabrooke is sick with the gripe.

David L. Foutz once a celebrated base ball pitcher died at Baltimore Friday last.

On Thursday the Yale crew while practicing in the harbor at New Haven, were struck by a squall when a quarter of a mile from land; their boat shipped a big sea and it was with great difficulty they reached land.

The New York team of ball players have begun practice at Lakewood, N. J.

The Vigilant has been purchased by Mr. Percy Chubb N. Y. C. and is to be altered somewhat.

At the Broadway Athletic Club on Saturday evening, "Boh" Armstrong, the colored giant from Chicago, defeated "Joa" Butler, of Philadelphia, in forty-five seconds fighting in the sixth round.

At the fourth annual shoot of the Riverton Gun Club at Philadelphia on Friday, A. D. Williams of New York won with a score of 94. There were eight contestants. In shooting his forty-ninth bird the gun of L. C. Smith burst, the pieces flying in all directions. He kept his nerve and shot forty-three out of the next fifty. J. O. M.

WALNUT GROVE STOCK FARM.

Mr. J. Owen Moore, of Washingtonville, N. Y., writes: "We have used Quinn's Ointment for several years and do not hesitate to pronounce it equal to all that is claimed for it." Quinn's Ointment is endorsed by the leading breeders everywhere. For Curbs, Splints, Spavins, Windpuffs, and all Bunches try it. Price $1.50 per package. For sale in San Francisco by J. O'Kane and J. A. McKerron; also, druggists in general. If cannot obtain, address W. B. EDDY & Co., Whitehall, N. Y.

THE grand looking stallion, St. Theresa which Harry Agnew shipped to Honolulu, H. I., on Tuesday, is one of the best bred and most promising young horses ever raised in Santa Clara county. He is by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, out of Lyla A., by Arthurton, second dam by Langford, etc. A full sister to this horse sold for $2,600. St. Theresa is a deep bay in color well formed and a trotter. Mr. Agnew says he will stand him in Honolulu this year.

H. C. HUBBARD, Hartford, Ct., writes: I removed and cured a curb in ten days with your "Absorbine" without removing the hair or leaving a blemish. It removed the inflammation at once. Cannot recommend it too highly.

J. C. GRAY, St. Johnsbury, Vt., writes: "Absorbine" removed a wind spavin from my colt.

C. Z. HEBERT of Salinas, owner of Altoonita, 2:19½, by Altoona, dam Dolly (dam of Bruno, 2:16½, and Cora D., 2:28), has sent her to Grean Meadow Farm to be bred to Hambletonian Wilkes.

Death of Alma Mater.

A card with a deep, black border and bearing the inscription "Died, of old age, Alma Mater, 7:30 a. m., March 10, 1897, at Empire City Stud, Cuba, N. Y." reached us just as we are about to go to press with this issue of the Review. So the great daughter of Mambrino Patchen passes away to join the shades of Green Mountain Maid, Primrose, Minnehaha, Clara, Dolly, Dame Winnia—that small but mighty band of illustrious departed matrons of which she is of right one of the greatest members.

The name and fame of Alma Mater are so much a part of the common lore of trotting history that we hardly need attempt extended notice of her history here. She was a chestnut mare, foaled 1872, bred by O. P. Beard, of Lexington, Ky., and got by Mambrino Patchen, out of the thoroughbred Estella, by imp. Australian. Various stories are told of her lack of promise as a young thing, and when she passed into the hands of the late Dr. A. S. Talbert, when coming three years old, it was at a low valuation. George Wilkes was then but established in Kentucky as a stallion and without reputation as a sire; had he been famous and standing at a high fee Dr. Talbert would, perhaps, have bred his new purchase to some other horse [in the spring of 1875—and had he done so there would have been no Alcantara. It is thus that insignificant occurrences often become landmarks in after history.

Alcantara was foaled in 1876, and the next year, having been bred back meanwhile to George Wilkes, she foaled Alcycone. Unless it were Dexter and Dictator, we can recall no two equally famous brothers. Alcantara's record of 2:23, at four years, then topped the list of colts at that age; the current Year Book credits him as the sire of 68 standard trotters and 30 pacers, of 29 sons the sires of 58 trotters and 23 pacers, and 15 daughters the dams of 18 trotters and 6 pacers. Alcycone trotted to a record of 2:27. He is the sire of 48 trotters and 8 pacers, of 27 sons sires of 33 trotters and 21 pacers, and 9 daughters, dams of 9 trotters and 4 pacers, and extreme speed is a common inheritance of the descendants of both brothers. Alcantara still lives; Alcycone died at the age of 10 years, and careful judges, after weighing the facts, have often proclaimed him the greatest son of George Wilkes.

In 1878, Arhiter was foaled by Alma Mater to the cover of Administrator; he trotted in 2:22½, and is a sire of speed. Almata, by Almont, foaled in 1879, trotted in 2:32 and was timed in a race in 2:23½. Aline, by Belmont, who came in 1880, trotted a trial in 2:25. Alicia, by George Wilkes, came in 1881, and has a record of 2:30. Allandorf, by Onward, came in 1883. He has a record of 2:19½ and is a very successful sire. Almater, by Hambrino, came in 1884, and took a record of 2:24½. Alfonso, by Baron Wilkes, came in 1886, has a record of 2:29½ and is also a speed sire. Amami, foaled 1889, by Wilton, has a record of 2:28½.

This completes the list of Alma Mater's notable produce. She threw eight 2:30 trotters by five different sires—a record without parallel—and five sons that have got speed by three different sires. In all she had sixteen foals, the last being now a four-year-old. It is a fact to be deplored also that, almost invariably a regular breeder, she proved barren when bred to Dictator and again when bred to Electioneer.

Dr. Talbert sold Alma Mater to the late W. H. Hobart, of California for $15,000—the highest price ever paid for a brood mare—when eighteen years old. Two years later, after Mr. Hobart's death, she brought $4,500 at the dispersal sale of his horses, being purchased by H. Pierce, of Santa Rosa Stock Farm, Capt. Millen Griffith and Sam'l Gamble. She was bred to Wilton and the filly she had was named Alma Wilton. When Alma Wilton was sold by these gentlemen this filly was sold for $2000. Alma Mater was twenty-three when she was offered at auction, and, although not in foal, and despite her advanced age, her prestige brought $1,000 for her and Mr. William Simpson paid her purchaser an advance on that sum in order to secure her for the Empire City Stud. Unfortunately, however, we believe that he did not succeed in getting a foal from her.

Alma Mater is the ranking daughter of Mambrino Patchen the ranking brood-mare sire. Her place is among the few very greatest of trotting matrons, and with the onward march of the years her fame's increase will grow ever greater.—Horse Review.

Our Gilroy Letter.

GILROY, March 25, 1897.

Mirth and good cheer prevail among the horsemen at the Gilroy race track. Our genial supervisor Elmer Ray, and our staid business man Mr. Moore, and that prince of good fellows, Mr. James Sargent Jr., can be seen any morning enjoying the sport of kings.

It is a pleasure to see Mr. Van Bokkelen these beautiful mornings driving some good green ones. His stable consists of that game and all-day trotter Letter B, 2:17; and the sweet-gaited grand daughter, of Almont 33, May B. The next in line is Patchen Wilkes by Guy Wilkes, dam Rose-dale by Sultan, second dam Inez by Tha Moor. This colt is a trotter sure, he is the property of Mr. Robert Orr, of Holister, who is very proud of him and he may well be; black horse by Seven Oaks, another Loupe, bred by the Hon. Jas. Sargent; a promising colt by Antinous the property of Mr. Sam Rea, also a gray filly by Antinous the property of Mr. Farmer. This mare with little work has shown extreme speed. Ha has four other green ones all bred in the purple.

Across the way Scott Holbrook, trainer for Harry E. Wisa of San Francisco, has a select stable consisting of that phenomenal green pacer Lena N., 2:13, by Sidney, out of Helen Benton, by Gen. Benton; Madera, by Dexter Prince that queen of road mares, that led the way for Bay Rum in a match race at Petaluma last fall. Barring accidents, Holbrook says the horse that beats her will get a world's record. Next comes a beautiful filly by Prince Red, and a good green young horse by Jim Mulvenna.

Mr. Wm. McManus has a public stable with some good ones in it. McGinty, that reliable pacer, is showing fast. No Trouble, by a son of George M. Patchen, is a fine looking black mare. She is the property of Mr. Henry Miller. Three other good ones comprise his string.

BLUE GRASS.

CAMMA (dam of Jasper Paulson, 2:16½, and Roleo, 2:23), has been booked again to Hambletonian Wilkes, she now being with foal to him.

Entries Close April 1st.

Don't forget that the entries to the colt stakes offered by the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association, the advertisement of which appears on another page of this issue, close next Thursday, April 1st. If you have any two or three-year-old trotters or pacers that you are thinking of racing this year, make your entries in time. The first payment is only $5, and if you have a promising youngster it will pay you to take a chance. Even if you have not fully decided to train your colt at this time you may conclude to do so later on, when you would be sure to regret not having entered in these valuable stakes. It always pays to have your good colts entered, as in case you want to sell them the fact that they are in stakes adds to their value.

The Breeders Association will soon announce a programme of liberal purses for trotters and pacers for all classes, and also a series of futurity stakes. You can enter your colts now with the assurance that you will have plenty of races for your older horses. The week following the Stockton Fair has been selected for the meeting this year. It will be just in the height of the racing season, and it will be one of the best meetings ever held on this coast. The California and the Pacific Coast Jockey Clubs have generously offered them the use of their tracks for this meeting. On account of the danger of fogs, which frequently prevail on the peninsula at that time of the year, the Oakland track will probably be the one selected. It is one of the finest tracks, in all its appointments, in the United States. Horsemen who attend the meeting will be afforded every comfort and convenience both for themselves and horses.

The prospects are better this year for a good circuit in California than they have been for several years past. With the State appropriations restored to the District Agricultural Associations they will all give fairs and the result will be a greater number of race meetings, larger purses and more prosperity for the horsemen.

If you have a good colt your chances are better for winning this year than they were when the largest stock farms on this coast were training a great number of youngsters and entered everything that promised well in hopes of getting a "world-beater."

If you are not already a member of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association and you are interested in the prosperity of breeding and racing horses you should join. This association has done much to maintain the interests it represents during the dull times that have prevailed for several years past. It has distributed nearly $100,000 in purses and stakes for trotters and pacers since July, 1894.

The membership fee to the Association is $25, and by a resolution passed at its last meeting no annual dues will be charged the year for joining.

Track Notes.

Since the management of the San Jose race track has changed hands, and which is now under the immediate and experienced control of Mr. C. F. Bunch, the popular reinsman, and Mr. A. Hables of "Our Boy" fame, nothing but praise is heard from all of the many stables located here, comprising over one hundred horses in active preparation for the season's battles.

New fences are being put up, walks graded and graveled, and the old ramshackle stalls thoroughly repaired and renovated. Withal it looks like a revival of olden times.

The latest arrival is Mr. Carter's string of ten, with many more expected.

The track was never in better condition, and is cared for night and day. A plentiful supply of luscious green grass gives the horses that sleek and plump appearance which horsemen prize so much during the spring.

We congratulate San Jose on this progressive step, which speaks volumes for the spirit of enterprise displayed by the new management.

MR. W. W. WHITNEY, the former owner, trainer and driver of Bernard and Sam H., has sold the latter, and he is now being driven over the streets of Pasadena. It is possible that Mr. Whitney and Bernard may be seen on the turf again next season, and if they are they will be a hard combination to beat.

An amendment to the trap-shooting rules, offered by W. E. Gerber, was adopted, providing that the shooter may, on notifying the Judge, have the privilege of walking up three yards nearer the traps before calling "pull," on condition that he hold his gun below the elbow until the bird is on the wing.

The third Sunday of each month was selected for the regular medal shoots, and the officers of the club were authorized to select a trophy for the season's competition.

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

The Healdsburg Gun Club is prospering this season.

Frank Ruhstaller Jr., of Sacramento, broke 94 out of 100 blue rocks recently.

The Stockton Gun Club opened its season on the 21st. The members will be divided in four classes.

The South End Gun Club will shoot at Colma to-morrow. The event will be this club's first tournament.

The Reliance Gun Club announce a third event for to-morrow, open to all, $20 added, divided in four classes.

A. W. Brunner has presented the Los Angeles City Gun Club with the medal emblematic of the live bird championship of Southern California.

The Truckee Gun Club are practicing every Sunday, but they complain of the difficulty in shooting, owing to the bright glare of the sun on the snow.

The Olympic Gun Club will hold its first regular live-bird shoot of the season to-morrow at Ingleside. The attendance will unquestionably be very large.

T. R. Barney will be chairman of the tournament committee of the California Inanimate Target Association this year. A better selection could not have been made.

The Newcastle Gun Club is holding regular weekly practice shoots, and the boys are improving rapidly. They should join the California Inanimate Target Association.

The Empire Club will inaugurate a Magantrap event to-morrow. The match is open to all. $125 in prizes and a medal. This event will be called at 1 o'clock. The regular club match will be shot in the morning.

The Pastime Gun Club of San Diego held its opening shoot on Sunday week. The following scores were made out of a possible 25: Edwards, 22; Nichols, 18; Ruble, 18; Fano, 13; Morgan, 13; Titus, 10; Williamson, 9; Young, 2.

A two-man team match will constitute a feature of the Olympic Gun Club blue rock shoots hereafter. This event will follow the regular club match, and will be at fifty yards a man. The winners in live shoots will receive cash prizes.

Chas. Hallock, the veteran sportsman-journalist, has lost none of his vigor as an editorial writer on out-door recreations. His notes and comments in the Western Field and Stream add greatly to the entertaining character of that journal.

The Western Field and Stream gives the open season for deer shooting in California as July 15th to February 1st. Hold a bit, gentlemen. The season is from July 15th to October 15th, and any general law that would lengthen the season four months would soon exterminate our deer. Does or fawns cannot be killed at any time.

The Riverton Gun Club members made some splendid scores at live birds at their grounds at Riverton, N. J., on the 5th. The match was at 100 birds: D A Upson, 29 yds, 94; R A Welch, 30 yds, 92; T T Duryea, 30 yds, 92; L Finletter, 30 yds, 92; G S McAlpin, 30 yds, 91; R Toland, 27 yds, 88; Count Langen, 26 yds, 86; T L Dando, 30 yds, 86.

While measuring the height and velocity of clouds recently, Messrs. Clayton and Ferguson, of the Blue Hill Observatory, observed a flight of ducks passing across their base line in the Neponset River valley. With their theodolites they succeeded in measuring the height of the ducks above ground, 958 feet, and subsequent observations enabled them to calculate the velocity of flight of the birds, which was about 47.8 miles per hour.

The San Luis Gun Club met on Sunday week and disposed of 500 blue rocks. The scores of the principle event, a 15 bird match, were as follows: Thos Rhodes, 12; A Galewsky, 2; Jas Beck, 6; Fred Knight, 6; Geo Badger, 10; Harry Knight, 11; O Mehlmann, 7; J F Van Schaick, 10; Bert Call 10; I S Gente, 3; C T Greenfield, 7; D Gaxiola, 9; A Vollmer, 8; Jas Cook, 7; W Fuller, 2; Jas Tracy, 7; C A Younglove, 14; Henry Klancke, 4.

The scores of the Stockton Athletic Association Gun Club on Sunday week out of a possible 25 were as follows: McCoy 17, Winders 21, Nicol 23, Perrott 18, C Merrill 16, Condy 17, Johnson 20, Lyons 17, Buttrick 12, Creanor 13, Swain 18, Smith 15, Payne 11, Jensen 16, Goodell 13, Nutter 11, Dudley 10, Litheron 17, G Newell 8, Schaefer 16, F Merrill 19, Wade 14, Folger 12, Salbach 18, Syd Newell 14 and Fyfe 4. The medal for the first class was awarded to F D Nicol, the second to Carl Salbach and the third to Fred Buttrick.

A. W. Brunner and Chas. Van Valkenburg shot for the championship of Southern California last Sunday at Los Angeles. The match was at 50 live birds per man for the championship medal and a side purse of $50 a side. The match was exceedingly close from start to finish. Van Valkenburg won with a score of 44 to Brunner's 43. The birds were an exceptional lot, only three refusing to fly out of 210 trapped during the afternoon. Brunner lost one bird dead out of honnds and Van Valkenburg three. A return match will probably take place next month. Both contestants used Dupont Smokeless.

BENCH SHOWS.

Mar. 31-Apr. 1-3—Santa Clara Valley Poultry and Kennel Club's bench show at San Jose, Cal.; Chas. R. Harker, Secretary, San Jose, Cal.

April 7-10—Stockton Kennel Club's bench show, Stockton, Cal. Dr. A. J. Davenport, Secretary.

May 12-15—Oakland Kennel Club's first annual bench show, Fred Johns, Secretary.

Nov. 23-26—Baltimore Kennel Association's second annual bench show, Baltimore, Md.; Dr. G. W. Massamore, Secretary.

Oakland Kennel Club.

The Oakland Kennel Club met on Monday evening and elected the following bench show committee: Hubert White, Dr A Miles Taylor, Dr C M Selfridge, W V Witcher and A S McDonald.

At another meeting held on Tuesday evening the bench show committee claimed dates for their show May 12 15th. This is a wise move on their part, and will bring them an additional fifty entries. The dates are close enough for dogs to come from a distance and be shown at both the Oakland and San Francisco shows without having to lie over a week or two between the shows. Again, if the Oakland club secures different judges they will get the majority of the dogs that will be shown at San Francisco, whereas if they held their show after the San Francisco show they would only get the winners.

Not Guilty.

Dr. A. C. Davenport denies the charge that he voted for that infamous resolution of the Pacific Advisory Board that was in evidence at the last meeting of the A. K. C. He advises us that he was not present at any meeting of the Board when any such resolution was discussed. Consequently neither the Stockton Kennel Club nor the San Joaquin Valley Agricultural Association had anything at all to do with this resolution. And any feeling of resentment that the exhibitors have against Dr. Davenport should be immediately dispelled.

It has been understood on what was thought to be excellent authority that Dr. Davenport seconded this resolution, but he denies this statement and the "mischief-maker" is caught in another falsehood.

The Stockton Show.

A letter from John E. Doak received just as we are going to press announces that gold medals will be offered in all the field trial classes. There will be no extra charge for entry in these classes.

Jno. Quiggle's man-trailing bloodhound will give an exhibition of trailing a track six hours old.

One of the features of the show will be fox terrier coursing. Entries positively close March 31st.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

The diplomas and medals of the Southern California Kennel Club will be ready for the winners on May 1st.

The entries to the Stockton dog show close next Wednesday, the 31st. Make your entries as early as possible.

Masterpiece, the collie puppy, that won all before him at New York, is dead. He was ailing when he reached Chicago and died next day.

The Stockton Kennel Club is growing in strength daily. At the last meeting T W Hummel, George McGuire, Ed Graham, C H Morey and A E Muentner.

The entries at San Jose number 150. The largest classes are collies, 22, and St. Bernards, 20. The local entries are conspicuous by their absence. The show will be very nicely arranged, and while the entry is not large the quality of the entries is excellent.

The engravings of the winners at Chicago in the American Field of March 20th are the work of Mr. George Ford Morris, the rising young artist, who worked for this paper for some time during his stay in San Francisco. His dog portraits show the same careful and thorough study that has characterized his work in horses. The attention to detail and thorough knowledge of anatomy prove him to be one of the rising artists of the day.

Coming Events.

Apr. 13—Regular semi-monthly meeting of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club. Office of State Fish Commission, Flood Building, San Francisco.

Mar. 27—Regular semi-monthly Saturday contest of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, Stow Lake, Golden Gate Park.

Mar. 28—Regular semi-monthly Sunday contest of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, Stow Lake, Golden Gate Park.

The Indoor Fly-Casting Tournament.

In competitions in outdoor sports one will find few requiring a higher order of skill than casting the fly in tournaments. In other sports, as a rule, those articles to be used in competitions are not practical for actual use in the field, being made and intended solely to win prizes. In fly-casting this does not apply so truly, because rods and tackle made for use in the tournaments are strong and durable.

The sport has grown until throughout the union there are numerous clubs whose members have become adepts in this competitive practice. On the Pacific Coast fly-casting clubs and tournaments are seen and heard of almost every week in the fifty-two.

The committee having charge of the tournament at the Sportsmen's Exposition at Madison Square Garden, N. Y., is composed of the following well known anglers: P. Cooper Hewett, Chairman; William C. Harris, Secretary; James L. Breese, H. C. de Rham, Edwin Clark, Robert B. Lawrence, William Kent, Charles Bryan, Frederick Engle, C. G. Levinson, John G. Heckscher, Nathaniel S. Smith, H. W. de Forest, William B. Williams, P. Lorrillard Jr., W. R. Garrison.

Following are the rules governing the contests:

Rule 1. The contests shall be governed by two judges and a referee. In case of disagreement, the referee shall decide.

2. Arrangements shall be made by the judges so that they may accurately determine the point at which the fly is cast.

3. All persons competing for prizes shall pay an entrance fee of $2 for one event, or $5 for three or more events. Post entries may be made, but no entry allowed after contest commences.

4. The order in which contestants shall cast shall be determined by the judges. The contestants must be ready when called upon by the judges.

5. The leader and fly in each contest must be intact at the time of record by the judges.

6. After the contestant has taken his place upon the stand, the contestant says "ready." The first cast thereafter shall count. The longest cast during the five minutes succeeding shall be taken as his record for distance.

The rod must be held in one hand while casting.

8. The barb and point must be removed from all hook used.

9. Trout flies of the usual Professor type, not smaller than No. 12 or larger than No. 8, shall be used in the contests, unless otherwise specified.

10. Time will be allowed, in cases of accident, to make repairs, at the discretion of the judges.

11. All other difficulties arising shall be decided by the judges.

THE CONTESTS.

1. Single-handed long distance trout fly-casting. The leader must be of single gut, and exceed 6 feet in length. One fly must be used. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

2. Single-handed long distance trout fly-casting. The rod must not exceed 11 feet 6 inches in length. The leader must be of single gut, and exceed 8 feet in length. Straight forward and back casting only allowed. One fly shall be used. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

3. Single-handed long distance trout fly-casting. Open to those who have never cast more than 75 feet in any contest; other conditions and prizes same as No. 2.

4. Single-handed long distance trout fly-casting. Open to those who have never cast more than 60 feet in any contest; other conditions and prizes same as No. 2.

5. Light rod, single-handed fly-casting contest for distance only. Rod not to exceed 54 ounces in weight. Leaders must be of single gut, and exceed 9 feet in length. One fly only shall be used. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

6. Same as No. 5. Open to those who have never cast over 65 feet in any contest with a rod of 54 ounces or under. Three prizes.

7. Bass fly-casting contest for distance only. The leader shall exceed 6 feet in length. One No. 4 fly shall be used, and will be furnished by the judges. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

8. Same as No. 7. Open to contestants who have never made a record of over 70 feet in any contest. Three prizes.

9. Single-handed trout fly-casting contest for accuracy only. After the contestant has signified his readiness, he shall make five consecutive casts at a mark. The distance at which the fly drops from the mark at each cast shall be noted, and the sum of all these distances in feet and inches added together shall be subtracted from 66. The contestant having the highest average shall be declared the winner. One fly only shall be used. The leader shall exceed 6 feet in length. The distance in Class 1 shall be 65 feet; in Class 2, 50 feet. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

10. Switch casting contest for distance. An obstacle will be placed back of the contestant in a manner prescribed by the judges. The leader must be of single gut, and exceed 6 feet in length. One fly must be used. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

11. Obstacle casting for distance. A horizontal bar shall be placed in front of the contestant, at a distance of 30 feet, and 9 feet from the water level. The leader must be of single gut, and exceed 6 feet in length. One fly must be used. First prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 3d, bronze medal.

Obstacle fly-casting contests for accuracy and delicacy. (Suggested.) Details of conditions and rules to be left to the judges. It is proposed to place on the left side of the tank (which is 10 feet wide) a bush overhanging the water 3 feet, and above the surface 3 feet, distance from the casting platform 30 feet; also another bush under like conditions on the right side of the tank, distant from the platform 40 feet. The contestant who places the fly most delicately and nearest the side of the tank to take first award.

The fly-casters are located on the Twenty-sixth street side of the garden. Half way up the dress circle is a platform and tank. The former is about 50 feet long, and the latter 78. It is lined with galvanized iron, the seams made water proof. The tank is 6 inches deep, and holds enough water to make the work of the anglers seem natural. The further end is marked with black paint, lines having been drawn across the bottom every five feet. At this end are two hullseyes, the centers black, with circles drawn every six inches to the sides. Across the center line, beginning at the 75-foot mark, every half foot is marked for several feet. This is to measure the length of the cast that is made in the distance competitions. The hullseyes will mark the accuracy of casts made for precision alone.

When one stands alongside the further circles and measures the distance of the platform with his eye, seems impossible that with fly rod and slender line one can cast an artificial fly so far, but in the garden, where there is no wind or obstacles to interfere, some long casts will no doubt be made before the close of the tournament. Spectators have splendid opportunities to witness these contests, for the tank is beneath and in the immediate vicinity of hundred of seats. From the floor of the garden one cannot watch the tournament, because the tank is too high, nor from the seats opposite, which are too far away for a clear view, but from all other seats in the galleries and boxes the view is unobstructed—Shooting and Fishing.

Favorite Trout Streams.

On next Thursday the followers of the gentle art of angling will be at liberty to precut that art. Many of them will find their favorite streams pretty well fished out, but the larger of the smaller coast streams have been high enough to take care of themselves.

Unless heavy rains temporarily raise the creeks between now and Thursday the majority of those within easy reach of this city will be clear and in their normal condition.

Undoubtedly the streams to the south will be in the best condition as they flow through a timbered country and clear up very rapidly. The Marin county streams are in good condition and are unquestionably the easiest of access.

The Nicasio is a good early stream. To reach its waters take the North Pacific Coast line to Nicasio, walk over the hills to the north and fish down the stream to the Paper Mill. The upper portion of the Nicasio is known as the San Geronimo. To fish this creek get off at San Geronimo station and commence fishing right at the station.

Following the line of this road the San Anselmo is the next good early stream. To fish its water go to Fairfax, fish down stream several miles and take the return train at San Anselmo.

The next stream is the Lagunitas, a beautiful body of water. Leave the train at Lagunitas station, better known as the "Wood Pile," and fish down the Carson to the Lagunitas and then either up stream or down to Camp Taylor; or go to San Rafael, take the Bolinas stage to Liberty, the headwaters of the Lagunitas, and fish down stream to the "Wood Pile," where you can take the return train. This is a ten-mile walk and can be fished in a manner, but it will take two days to fish it properly. It is a small stream at Fairfax and somewhat hushy, but is full of inviting pools and riffles.

Olema creek is one of the best early season streams. Take the train to Tocaloma, then stage two miles to Olema, or get off at Point Reyes and fish up stream. There are several miles of good water before you reach the Country Club preserve.

One of the most popular fishing resorts on this line is Point Reyes. Paper Mill creek at this point furnishes the best of the sport, both early and late in the season. Steelheads and grise may be caught at any time, and one should go prepared for large fish.

There are two streams on this line known as Salmon creek. The one near Tomales is properly Mud creek. To reach this stream leave the train just after it crosses the trestle at Tomales and fish up stream.

Salmon creek proper is a beautiful stream that empties into the ocean and affords many miles of good fishing. Go to Bodega road; it is but a short walk to the stream.

To those who can spend two or three days Duncan's Mills provides an abundant choice of good streams. Austin creek, one mile from the El Bonito Hotel, is a very fine stream that clears up very quickly after the rain. There are plenty of native fish and 10,000 rainbow trout were planted there five years ago, and several large rainbow trout were caught near the mouth of this stream last season.

Kidd creek, a branch of the Austin, four miles from Duncan's is one that can be depended upon for a nice lot of fish. Old Bridge Creek, another branch of the Austin, two miles from Duncan's is a nice little stream full of fish.

Freezeout, one quarter mile from Duncan's is good for a nice breakfast almost any time. Willow creek, three miles south of Duncan's is one of the surest creeks for any season. Sheep House creek, which empties into the Russian River directly opposite Willow creek, is another good creek. Howard's creek, three and a half miles north of Duncan's empties into the Russian at Russian river station. This is another excellent stream. Russian Gulch creek, eight miles north of Duncan's, empties into the ocean. This is a large stream that stands lots of fishing. Jennie Gulch, four miles south of Duncan's empties into the Russian near its mouth. This is a good small creek, full of trout. All of the streams of this section are accessible by county roads, and in most of them steelheads of from two to four pounds' weight should be caught on the first of the season. Last year the trout of this section were mostly very small, but they may be of better size this year.

From Cazadero the upper Austin can be fished, and just above the town is Ward creek, one of its tributaries, an excellent early stream. The East Austin can be reached by a two mile walk to Watson's place. This is one of the very best streams of that section. The little Guallala, a six-mile drive from Cazadero, is a good early stream of fair size.

Two young men took out over 1,000 trout in three days' fishing in the Upper Austin last April.

In Alameda county a good early stream is Alameda creek. Go to Sunol or Pleasanton and fish down stream.

San Pablo creek is another excellent early stream, but it is quickly fished out. On Sunday you can take the California and Nevada railway at Emery station and go to Bryan's, Orinda Park and Lavegas, fish about four hours and return the same day, or go up one day and come back the next. Some excellent catches of good-sized fish were made in this stream early last year.

There are many creeks and side streams that can be reached from Los Gatos, Guadalupe Mine creek, four miles from Los Gatos, is a good early stream. Los Gatos creek, four miles from town, is another fine stream, as is also Saratoga creek, four miles, and Stephens creek, eight miles distant.

San Mateo county, from Spanishtown or Halfmoon bay to Pescadero, contains many small mountain streams that are always good at the first of the season. The Purissima is one of the best. To reach this stream go to San Mateo and stage to Spanishtown, then take a team to Mrs. Dougherty's, if you go in the afternoon. If you go in the morning the stage will take you ride through. The cuisine is unsurpassed at Mrs. Dougherty's and you will never regret a trip to this beautiful stream.

To reach the San Gregorio, another excellent stream, go to Redwood City and drive over the hills to the creek. The La Honda, another favorite stream, is on the same road. Further south are the Lobitos, Trinitas, Clear creek, Pompano, Pescadero, Burtano and Frioles, all excellent early streams.

Boulder creek is another good stream. Take the narrow gauge to Felton, change at Felton for Boulder creek, near the headwaters of the San Lorenzo river. Boulder creek is rather brushy, but is one of the best of the early streams for small fish. The San Lorenzo is quite a river, but generally runs clear early in the season.

The Coyote was an excellent early stream last year. Go to Gilroy Hot Springs and fish down stream. The Yagas and Llagas are also good. Go to Llagas station and drive four miles to "Nick's."

The agents of the San Francisco and North Pacific R. R. reported the condition of the streams on Thursday as follows: Cloverdale—Streams in this vicinity in good condition; fish large and plentiful.

Pieta—Too much water but clearing rapidly. With no more rain should be good by April 10th or 12th. Vassar creek and Gillespie creek are quite clear now; will be good on the 1st. These last two streams are reported full of trout.

Glen Ellen—The water in the streams here is somewhat milky, but all the streams are clearing rapidly.

An excellent cast for opening day is a March brown, red spinner and Benn's royal coachman. If the red spinner does not take try in its place the grey hackle, brown hackle or black gnat. Last year on the Lagunitas, during the middle of the day, we had excellent luck with the Alexandra, a fly with peacock body and peacock hurl wings, closely resembling the common housefly.

Geo. Walker, W. A. Cooper and I. Phillipson were at the Shellville Rod and Gun Club house on Sunday. Walker caught 31 trout from 6 to 11 inches in length at Embarcadero, and on Monday Phillipson caught 26, one of them a ten-pounder.

The Fly Casting Club.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club was held on Tuesday evening. The attendance was very good and considerable business was accomplished.

W. W. Foote, F. S. Butler and W. E. Dassonville were elected to membership.

Scoring of casts made on the land was discussed for some time and on motion it was resolved that hereafter in the long distance casting only such casts as are preceded by a retrieval from the water shall count.

A long discussion on what constitutes delicacy in casting followed. H. Smyth, A. E. Lovett, W. E. Bacheller were appointed a committee to formulate rules to govern the judges in the accuracy and delicacy event, the committee to report at the next meeting.

F. P. Deering entertained the meeting for some time with a description of a trip to Kings river canyon and the trout of those waters. The new platform and buoys will be in readiness for practice casting this afternoon.

Deputy Fish Commissioners J. H. Davis and Al Wilson have been very active of late. Davis arrested Clarence Green of St. Helena on the 20th for catching trout out of season. He was fined $3. On the 18th he arrested Chas. Howa of Napa for fishing out of season in Milliken creek. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

R. C. Leonard made 100 feet and 4½ inches with a 5½-ounce rod at the indoor fly casting tournament at Madison Square Garden last week. Considering the weight of the rod this is a wonderful record even for indoor casting.

E. T. Allen Co., and Clabrough, Golcher & Co., can furnish better tackle and a greater variety of patterns in flies, leaders and lures this year, than ever before. Examine their goods before purchasing elsewhere.

The interest in the meeting and contests of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club is increasing rapidly. From thirty to fifty attend the regular meeting. What club of any kind can show a like interest.

The new system of buoys in use at the new platform of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club at Stow Lake promise to prove very satisfactory.

The trout season in Southern California will practically be closed until April 15th or later owing to the muddy condition of the streams.

If the judges dialika to stand all day at the edge of the lake and lose their practice, why not have different judges for each event?

A. V. LaMotte says that the Ukiah hatchery will propagate only cut throat trout (salmo-mykiss) the first year.

EXTREME SPEED AND RACE HORSE QUALITY

THE KING OF ALL RACE HORSES AND SIRE.

MCKINNEY, 2:11 1-4.

Will Make the Season of 1897, Commencing February 1st at

Oakland Trotting Park,

AT $100 THE SEASON.

As a Nine-Year-Old Stallion, McKinney's List Leads All Others in the World for Average Speed: Jenny Mc, 3, 2:12; McZeus, 4, 2:13; Zulu, 3, 2:13; Harvey Mc, 2, 2:18; Julia D., 3, 2:16 1-4; Jenny Mc, 2, 2:20 1-4; Sir Credit, 3, 2:25; Sola, 4, 2:25 3-4; Sola, 4, trial, 2:15 1-2; Oslo, 2, 2:30; Pat Conney, trial, 2:19; Monte, 3 trial, 2:28 3-4.

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal:

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcyone (son of George Wilkes, and Alma Mater, the famous brood-mare by Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, he by Rhode Island, 2:23 1/4, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/4, Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, Wilmar, 2:22 1/4), by Hambletonian 10; grandam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great grandam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by Imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15 1/2 hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect-made horses in America, having plenty of bone and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 15th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONT'S.
ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

WALDSTEIN, 12,597
Breeding unexcelled. Sired by Director, first dam Nelly W., by Electioneer (full sister to Albert W., 2:20, sire of Little Albert, 2:10); second dam Sister, by John Nelson; third dam Lamott mare, dam of Anrona, 2:27, and Hazel, 2:23. WALDSTEIN'S first, second and third dams are all producers. He is one of the best producing sons of Director, and in conformation a grand individual; took first premium at State Fair over such great horses as Knight, 2:22, and Zombro, three-year-old record 2:13½. He holds the five-mile race record of the world, 13:05 1-2, and never sired a colt that was not speedy. WALDSTEIN is sire of Lady Waldstein, 2:15; Humboldt Maid, 2:17; Jack W., 2:19½; Native Son, 2:29½; Swiftbird, 2:29½ (both three years old). The dams of all these have no records nor did they ever produce any in the 2:30 list. Come and see WALDSTEIN'S colts go before booking your mares elsewhere.

JAMES MADISON is sixteen hands high and weighs over 1,300 pounds. He is one of the best proportioned horses of his size living and his progeny have style, size, finish, perfect legs and feet, iron constitutions, splendid dispositions and the purest gait imaginable. To show how well Diablo's colts have shown it is only necessary to say that five were handled for speed in 1896. Following are their trials: Two-year-old, one-quarter, 36 seconds; a two-year-old, one-quarter, 31 seconds; a two-year-old, one-half, 1:09; a yearling, one-quarter, 35 seconds; a two-year-old, six weeks' work, one-quarter, 33 seconds, and El Diablo, trial mile, trotting 2:24. HART BOSWELL
No. 13,699. This splendidly-formed trotting stallion was sired by ONWARD, 2:25 1-4 (son of GEO. WILKES 2:22, and DOLLY, dam of DIRECTOR, 2:17, THORNDALE, 2:21, etc.), sire of 113 in 2:30 list; dam NANCY LEE (dam of NANCY HANKS, 2:24, and DIRECTOR WILKES, sire of six in 2:30 list), by Dictator; second dam SOPHY (grandam of Mike Wilkes, 2:15¼, Ira Wilkes, 2:22¾, and the sires Aorian Wilkes and Ira Wilkes) by Edwin Forrest 49; third dam Sophronia, by Brown Pilot; fourth dam by Beltrand; fifth dam by Lance, son of American Eclipse; sixth dam by Gray Duncannon. This is the acme of fashionable breeding. In conformation, disposition, color and pure trotting action, HART BOSWELL is perfect. He has never been worked for speed. His progeny are strong-limbed, level-headed and very promising, and are conceded by competent judges to be the finest-formed youngsters in California. Terms $50 for the season. Address K. O'GRADY, Laurel Creek Farm, San Mateo. Splendid pasturage, and mares kept in any manner owners may desire.

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12 1/2

ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M, 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING unexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12 1/2, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable bull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

The Only DIRECT Stallion Standing in the State!

ARTHUR L., 3, 2:15 1-4

Will Make the Season of 1897 at DIRECT STABLES, ALAMEDA, CAL.

TERMS—$50, With Usual Return Privileges.

ARTHUR L., 2:15 1-4 (at three years of age) was sired by DIRECT, 2:05 1/4, out of NELLIE BLY (dam of Della S., 2:21, and Toots), by GEO. M. PATCHEN JR., 2:27; second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Graves, 2:19). He is one of the finest young stallions in this State, and as it is the intention to prepare him for the fall races, he will be allowed to serve only a limited number of mares. His record, 2:15 1/4, is no mark of his speed, as he has shown his ability to get a mark of 2:05. ARTHUR L. is a coal black in color, stands 15.2 bands and weighs 1,000 pounds. He is perfectly level-headed and one of the best-gaited horses on earth.

TOOTS

was sired by MONBARS, 2:11 1/4 trotting, 2:16 pacing. His dam was NELLIE BLY (dam of Arthur L., 2:15 1/4, and Della S., 2:21); second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Graves, 2:19). TOOTS is a handsome young horse, undeveloped, but has shown very fast in his short work. After the season ends he will be prepared for the races. TOOTS is a black colt, stands 15.2 bands, weighs 1,075 pounds, and is without a weak spot anywhere. His breeding is of the best, his sire, MONBARS, being by that great GEORGE WILKES stallion, JAY BIRD, 2:31 3/4, dam LADY MAUD, 2:18 1/4, by GEN. KNOX, etc.

WILL MAKE THE SEASON AT THE SAME PLACE AT $25, WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

As an extra inducement to owners of good mares, I agree to break all horses to harness sired by ARTHUR L. and TOOTS, and present to the owner of any colt sired by either of the above horses the sum of $100 that obtains a yearling record of 2:30 or better; also $200 to the owner of a two-year-old that obtains a record of 2:20. Terms Cash, or Satisfactory Note at Time of Service. Good Pasturage at Reasonable Rates.

The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address,

The Standard-Bred Stallion

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

SIRE BY

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Maboe (grand dam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid or Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteo, 2:16 1/4, Anteoletto, 2:19 1/4, etc., bel. g. by Electoosier, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10 1/4, Nelly F., 2:19 1/4, and seven others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 14 sired Dan Voorhes, 2:23 1/4, St. Helena, 2:27 1/2, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14 1/2, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very steepest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribu, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times.

His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of handsome, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

— AT —

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.

TERMS— $25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:15<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, dam Early Bird, by Playmail (brother to Barney, 2:25<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>); second dam Lucy, by Old Fellow (son of Chloroform); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmail was Mike 3493 (he by Vermont 322, out of The Peniger mare), out of Kate McDonough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Saladin, 2:05<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands high and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrical of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy racer are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and on his maternal side traces to the very best of sires and dams. He has an iron constitution, and all owners of good mares that want horses that will have breeding, size, bone, quality, good disposition and extreme speed should not overlook this horse. His service fee is placed at a very low figure considering his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

THOS. ROACH, Lakeville, Cal.

Mares can be shipped direct to the ranch via Steamer Gold. The best of care taken of them on the farm, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $3 per month.

Kohlan King 28,295

HERE IS ROYAL BREEDING INDEED.

Sired by that great race horse (SIMMOCOLON, 2:13 3-4) that won nine out of 11 races, and second in the other two that he started in through the Grand Circuit of the East, the season previous to entering the stud, and who is now becoming noted as a producer from the great performances of his first colts, being the sire of the phenomenal fast and game colt Dan Q., three-year-old record 2:11<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> last season, Meridian, 2:23, and several more in the 29 list. Dam SYBIL, 2:27 1-2 (by Sidney, the greatest sire of his age); second dam MAJOR R., (by Whipple's Hambletonian), which alone should produce speed and race horses if there is anything in breeding, but to go farther, it will be found that Kohlan King has six crosses of old Hambletonian 10, that produced George Wilkes, Electioneer and most of our great sires, which is nicely intermingled with the blood of Mambrino Patchen and Mambrino Chief (sire of dam of Director) two great sources of speed, which are second to none, and Simmons, sire of Simmocolon, is forage the greatest producing sire of George Wilkes and noted as a sire that produces great race horses.

KOHLAN KING is a black horse, five years old, 15<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> hands high, weighs 1,150 pounds, and, according to critics, he is not excelled as an individual, and having been allowed to mature without his vitality being sapped by training, he should be more sure to produce in keeping with his blood lines. He is, however, very speedy and un-galated, and now that he is well matured it is the intention to campaign him the coming summer after the season closes.

SEASON, $50.

FROM MARCH 1st TO JUNE 1st.

WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES, TO A LIMITED NUMBER OF APPROVED MARES ONLY.

Care taken, but no responsibility assumed. Pasturage, $5 per month. For further particulars address

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKER, black horse, 15<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $3,000 Kentucky Futurity stake, and in his four-year-old form, until he met the great Azote, 2:04<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen Mayhew, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly-proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfection in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, dam Chantilly (trial 2:25, last halt in 1:35), by Nawood, 2:15<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>; second dam Creon (dam of Loveless, 2:21, and Betsy Britton, 2:24<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>), by Princess 358; third dam Crave Lise (dam of Batzarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $30 to $110, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred ones sold from $23 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

VIVA LA

Brown Colt, foaled in 1892, Bred by Jos. Cairn Simpson.

BY WHIPS, SIRE OF AZOTE, 2:04 3-4, CORWEBS, 2:12, AND SEVERAL OTHERS IN THE LIST

FIRST DAM—JOE VIVA, by Joe Hooker.

SECOND DAM—LADY VIVA, by Three Cheers (dam of Electioneer Rex, showed when a two-year-old quarters in 36 seconds.)

THIRD DAM—LADY AMANDA, by imp. Hurrab (the dam of Electioneer Jr., formerly Advance, three-year-old record 2:22<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>).

FOURTH DAM—LADY LANCASTER, by imp. Monarch. The dam of Malcolm Regent, Ontario and several other winners. Marion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rev, Yo Tambien, and several other high-class race horses, is by Malcolm, and the breeding of Viva La-Electioneer, combined with strains of thoroughbred which have shown adaptability to acquire trotting action, is now greatly fancied by intelligent breeders.

VIVA LA is sixteen hands high, a rich seal brown in color and more than usually handsome, combining muscular power and quality in an eminent degree. He was trained a little in his yearling form and showed a 2:40 gait and was improving rapidly when his training was suspended. He can scarcely fail on the right sort of mares to get fast trotters, and with nearly a certainty of securing good-sized, fine-looking horses which even in these times are in demand.

SACRAMENTO,

AT THE LOW FEE OF

$75

For the Season with Usual Return Privileges.

Payable on Removal of Mares.

With a limited chance in the stud, True Briton has already shown himself to be a great sire. Rey del Bandolero, from a non-producing mare that had already had five foals, holds the Pacific Coast record, 3:57<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> at 2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> miles; Her Majesty (dead), won 11 out of 14 starts; Walter J., (also out of a non-producer), a horse with a great turn of speed, has finished outside the money but a very few times out of nearly one hundred starts. Virgie A. and Zeta, both winners, being the only other ones to represent this royally-bred stallion on the racing turf this year.

From this showing there is but one inference to be drawn, and that is, that True Briton is a sure getter of winners: mares that have never thrown a winner to any other stallion, bred to True Briton, get winners and class horses at that.

ZILOPHONE

RECORD, 2:34; TRIAL, 2:29.

ZILOPHONE is a bay horse with black points, stands nearly 16 hands high and weighs 1150 pounds with plenty of style and action, and is just the sire that will produce the speed horse, the buggy horse or the carriage horse.

BELLE PRICE, the dam of Zilophone, is one of the greatest broodmares in the North Pacific. Her descendants have always been known for their race horse qualities of gameness and endurance, having a double infusion of Mambrino Chief blood, backed by the stout thoroughbred blood of Woodpecker. While Altamont, the sire of Zilophone, has also a double infusion of Mambrino Chief blood, backed by strong thoroughbred blood making Zilophone in lines of breeding one of the highest-bred stallions on the Pacific Coast to-day.

ZILOPHONE was foaled in 1879, and is sound; a woman can drive him. His progeny is unsurpassed for style, action, soundness, good disposition and speed. A sure foal-geter. For further particulars address,

INGLESIDE RACES.

Excellent Sport Witnessed by Fair-Sized Audiences—Crackerjack Two-Year-Olds Uncovered—The Events in Detail.

SIXTY-EIGHTH DAY—FRIDAY, MARCH 26.

Surprises were mighty plentiful this afternoon, and a dollar parlayed on the six winners at the best prices laid would have netted one $40,000 on the day's play. Of course that amount could be taken out of the local ring—I don't think—nit. But anyhow that's what $1 could be rolled into at odds of 20, 15, 4, 3 to 2, even money and 100 to 1. The champion surprise of the afternoon came in the last race, won by Mainstay at 100 to 1. Morellito was at 20 to 1 in the first and Veragua at 15 to 1 in the second. Why Mainstay should have been at 100 to 1 is a mystery, in view of his well-known ability to pick up large weights and win in fast time. He had up 123 lbs. to day, and making all the running, won by one and a half lengths in 1:41½. Morellito's win was by a head after a bad start had been made, in which the red hot favorite, Rey el Salto, along with three others, was left at the post. Veragua led all the way in his race, one and one-eighth miles, and won by four lengths easily. Like his sire, Sinfax, his specialty is running well at the longer distances. Manchester got into his old form, and of course there was nothing to it, Montgomery was an easy victor and was lost by Felix Carr, while The Roman beat Lincoln through getting a superior ride.

The first race was for two-year olds, half a mile. After quite a wait a ridiculous start was made, Morellito showing first, Front de Bœuf second, The Professor next. Four were left, including Rey el Salto, the favorite, Front de Bœuf led by a head at the three-quarters, The Professor second, as far from Imperious. Barney Schreiber now came with a rush from behind and led by three lengths half-way down the stretch, with Morellito second. The latter gained steadily and won on the post by half a head, Barney Schreiber second, a length from his stable companion, Michael, Col. Dan fourth. Time, 0:50. Morellito was at 20 to 1, Barney Schreiber and Michael (coupled) 30, Rey el Salto 6 to 5, Col. Dan 11 to 5, others 10 to 200.

A good start was effected in the second, mile and a furlong, and Veragua, seventh away, got to the front quickly, leading Huntsman four lengths at the quarter. At the half he was five lengths to the good, Charles A. second, with Devault at his heels. The order was the same clear into the homestretch, Veragua leading by three lengths and winning easily by four, Peter the Second second, four from Devault, at whose heels came Little Cripple. Time, 1:57½. Veragua was at 10 to 1, Peter the Second 3 (opened at 8 to 5), Devault 6, Cripple 9 to 5, others 5 to 100.

In the third, six furlongs, they got a fair start, except Jack Richelieu whose rider fell off, Model showing first, Perhaps second, Pecksniff third. Perhaps led by half a length past the half, with Pecksniff second, one and a half lengths before Candor. At the three-quarters it was Perhaps first by a length, Candor second, lapped by Pecksniff. Perhaps led by two lengths, in the stretch, where Manchester fourth, made his run. He got up in the last sixteenth and won handily by two lengths, Candor beating Perhaps, half a length for place, the latter pulled up at the finish. Time, 1:16½. Manchester was at 4 to 1, Candor 9 to 5, Perhaps 20 to 1, others 8 to 300.

The fourth was at six furlongs, selling. Amelia Fonso broke about four lengths in front and led Montgomery three lengths at the half and one at the three-quarters. Montgomery caught the mare in the homestretch and won off by three lengths handily, Amelia Fonso second, six from Lizzie H., on whom Potentate was lapped. Time, 1:15½. W. P. Margrave, owner of Amelia Fonso, ran the winner up from $200 to $1,000 and got him at the latter figure. Montgomery was at 3 to 2, Amelia Fonso 8 to 1, Lizzie H. 30, Potentate 5, others 10 to 50 to 1.

The fifth was at a mile, selling. To a good start Doyle was first to show. Trappean fourth off, went to the front early and led by two lengths at the quarter, The Roman and Doyle lapped. At the half it was Trappean first by a length The Roman second, a head before Doyle, Lincoln two lengths further away, Trappean's lead was cut to half a length by the time the three-quarters was reached. Doyle took command in the homestretch and looked exceedingly dangerous, but The Roman caught him over a sixteenth from home, and going on, won from the poorly-ridden Lincoln by half a length, driving, Doyle third, one and one-half lengths further off. Time, 1:42½. The Roman was at 9 to 10, Lincoln 6 to 5, Doyle 60, Trappean 20 and Olive 30 to 1.

The last race, six furlongs, had eight starters. Mainstay broke best, leading Santa Bella two lengths at the half and three lengths into the homestretch, Sallie Clicquot lapped on Santa Bella at the latter point. Mainstay was not headed, winning driving by one and a half lengths, Sallie Clicquot second, half a length before Caliente, who finished strong. Time, 1:14½. Mainstay was at 100 to 1, Sallie Clicquot 6, Caliente 4 (backed from 6), Lady Diamond 13 to 10, Logan 30, others 1,000 to 1.

SIXTY-NINTH DAY—SATURDAY, MARCH 27.

In the first event, one mile, Hazard, Mamie Scott, Masero was the order to a bad start. Masero led past the quarter by a length and past the half by the same distance, Mamie Scott second, two lengths from Hazard. Mamie Scott soon thereafter got to the fore and led McLight a length into the homestretch Marjorie third, lapped on Mac. Adolph Spreckels was cut loose in the homestretch and won cleverly by half a length from Hazard, he six lengths from Mamie Scott, who tired badly the last part of it. Time, 1:43½. Adolph Spreckels was at 4 to 1, Hazard 5, Mamie Scott 15, Morte Fonse 3, others 6 to 60 to 1.

The second was at six furlongs, selling. Peril was off in front to a poor start, and Sir Richard was virtually left. Peril led by two lengths at the half, Reel second, lapped by Perhaps. Peril was not quite two lengths to the good at the three-quarters, Perhaps second, with Reel at his heels. Peril was not headed, and won rather handily by one and one-half lengths, Reel second, as far from Perhaps, he three from Chappie. Time, 1:15½. Peril was at evens, Reel 5 to 1 (8 once), Perhaps 3½, others 9 to 15 to 1.

In the third, six furlongs, after a lot of badacting had been indulged in, Applause was first to show to a fair start. Yemen's head was in front at the half, Casarian second, three lengths from Applause, on whom Etta H. was lapped. Casarian led by half a length at the three-quarters, Yemen second, six lengths from Etta H. Casarian was not caught, winning handily by half a length, Yemen second, eight lengths in front of Etta H., who beat Applause a length. Time, 1:14½. Casarian was at 3 to 1, Yemen 2, Etta H. 8, Applause 2 and Adam Andrew 60 to 1.

Fourth came the Ullman Stake, four and a half furlongs, for two-year-olds, $1,000 to first, $200 to second and $100 to third. To a good start Aluminium showed first, The Cheat second and Outlay third. The Cheat and Imperious ran head and head to the three-quarters. The Cheat had a slight lead in the homestretch, but was joined by Recreation about a sixteenth from home. In a fierce drive Recreation won by a nose, The Cheat second, six lengths from Sir William, who just beat Imperious for the show. Time, 0:55—qualling the track record. Recreation was at 6 to 5, The Cheat 3 to 1, Sir William 12, Imperious and Aluminium (coupled) 6, Outlay 4, and San Carlos 30.

A mile and a half hurdle race next occupied the attention of the people. Arundel and Herman ran heads apart for a mile and a quarter, from four to eight lengths in front of Tuxedo. J. O. C. moved up fast three furlongs from home, and getting to the front at the last fence, won ridden out by three lengths, Arundel second, four from Herman, he ten in front of Tuxedo, who ran an unaccountably bad race. Time, 2:49½. J. O. C. was at 5½ to 1, Arundel 6, Herman 25, Tuxedo 4 to 5, Anteuil 3, Silverado 20 to 1.

The sixth, seven furlongs, brought seven three-year-olds to the post. Altivo, sixth away to a good send-off, got to the front quickly, leading by a length past the quarter, George Palmer second, with Don Clarencio and Vincitor at his heels. There were many changes going to the half, where Altivo was one and one-half lengths to the good, George Palmer second, a head in front of Elsie Smith, she as far from Vincitor, Satyr another length away. Altivo began dying away nearing the three-quarters, and George Palmer got into the lead when they were straightened in the homestretch. Don Clarencio came like a shot the last furlong, but could not quite catch Palmer, who won by half a length, driving, Don Clarencio second, a head before Vincitor, Satyr fourth, another length away. Time, 1:31. George Palmer was at 6 to 1, Don Clarencio 8, Vincitor 2, Satyr, 6 to 5 (backed from 8 to 5), others 12 and 15 to 1.

There was more interest shown in the concluding race, one mile, gentlemen riders, purse of $300 and a cup to the winner, than in any during the afternoon. Five horses lined up. The starter sent them off quickly to a fair go, and Frank Skinner soon got Flashlight going like a wild locomotive. At the quarter, half and three-quarters he had fully fifteen lengths the best of it, Yankee Doodle second and Bonnie Doubt third. Skinner hugged the rails with Flashlight and took no chances, sending the horse in a winner by eight lengths. Atticus, fourth around to the homestretch, got up to Yankee Doodle in the final sixteenth, and receiving a superior ride, beat Purser's colt out half a length. Daylight was a distant fourth. Time, 1:47½. Flashlight was well ridden, and professional riders would win more races if they followed Mr. Skinner's plan of winning as far off as possible and never looking around to see what the others were doing. Flashlight was at 4 to 5 (6 to 5 once), Atticus 12 (as good as 30), Yankee Doodle 9 to 5, Daylight 12 and Bonnie Doubt 30 to 1.

SEVENTH DAY—MONDAY, MARCH 29.

The first race, four furlongs, brought sixteen two-year-olds to the post. They got a good start, Imperious showing first and Lord Marmon next. The latter led by a small margin for about three furlongs. At the three-quarters four were running in close order, Lord Marion in the lead. Michael came out of the bunch a little over half way down the homestretch and won easily by two lengths from Imperious, who was as far from Front de Bœuf, he a head from Bliss Rucker. Time, 0:51½. Michael was at 4½ to 1, Imperious 3, Front de Bœuf 8, The Professor 5, Bliss Rucker 7, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The second race was for three-year-olds, six furlongs. Off to a good start, Nonchalance showed first, Cavallo second, Torpedo next. Cavallo was a length in front at the half, Russella, Dunboy and Sweet William heads apart. Sweet William soon thereafter got to the fore, leading by one and a half lengths at the three-quarters, Cavillo second, with Dunboy and Chenille at his heels. Sweet William held his lead up to within eighty yards of the finish. Here Dunboy came through and won easily by a length, Sweet William second, two lengths from Russella, on whom Chenille was lapped. Time, 1:16½. Dunboy was at even money (6 to 5 for some time), Sweet William 4 to 1, Russella 5, Cavallo 7, others 12 to 100 to 1.

Third on the programme was a mile race. The barrier was raised to a terrible start, Greyhurst being left and David just as good, he being about five lengths behind his nearest rival, Good Times, off none too well. Damien went to the front, leading Schiller by a head at the quarter, half a length at the half, David third, a couple of lengths away. Damien led by a head at the three-quarters, Schiller second, a length from David, Good Times another length off. Damien was first in the homestretch by three lengths and won easily by one and a half lengths, Good Times second, as far in front of David, who beat the tiring Schiller three. Time, 1:44½. Damien was at evens, Good Times 8 to 1, David 5, Greyhurst 3½, Schiller 15 and imp Disparity 30 to 1.

The fourth race, 11-16 miles, selling, had six starters. Off to a good start Benamela led for about a furlong, then Double Quick took up the running, leading him a length at the quarter, two lengths at the half and two and one-half lengths at the three-quarters, Can't Dance four and five lengths away. Benamela got up close in the last furlong, but swerved all over the stretch, Double Quick winning easily by two lengths, Benamela second, driving, a length before Can't Dance. Time, 1:51½. Double Quick was at 7 to 10 (played down from 6 to 5), Benamela 4 to 1, Can't Dance 4, Doyle 8, others 40 to 60 to 1.

Another mile race followed. They got away to a good send-off and Coda led past the quarter by half a length Wyoming second, lapped by Preston. At the half it was, Coda first by a head, Wyoming second, just lapped by Preston. Preston was cut loose three furlongs from home and got up close to Wyoming nearing the three quarters, Coda dropping back. Preston came on and won, about all out, by a head, Wyoming second, four lengths from imp. Tracey who got a poor ride. Time, 1:43½. Preston was at 1 to 5, Wyoming 5 to 1, imp. Tracey 15, Coda 60 to 1.

The concluding race was at five furlongs. They were off quickly to a good start and The Sinner led past the half by a length, Iron Jacket second and Reel third. The Sinner led at the last turn by a small margin. Tempestuous and Horatio came fast in the homestretch, and Horatio won, all out, by a neck, Logan second, half a length before Tempestuous. Time, 1:04½. Horatio was at 14 to 5 (4 to 1 once), Logan 9 to 1, Tempestuous 12, The Sinner 8 to 5, others 5 to 30 to 1.

Hermoso went away from his rivals as if they were tied up and led by four lengths at the three-quarters and in the homestretch, Los Prietos second at the three-quarters, two lengths before Flushing. Hermoso stopped badly the last part of it and Los Prietos looked a winner up to the last jump. Morelito, sixth turning for home, came like a shot on the outside, and just got up and won in the last stride by a head, Los Prietos second, lapped by Hermoso, who in turn beat Flushing half a length. Lincoln was at evens, Judge Denny 2½ to 1, Collins 40, others 10 to 25 to 1.

A mile race came next. Babe Murphy went out in front to a good start, attended closely by Two Cheers, Manchester laying third. San Marco gradually improved his position, and Babe Murphy tiring in the homestretch and swerving some, San Marco came on and won driving by a length, Babe Murphy finishing second, six lengths before Manchester. Time, 1:42. San Marco was at 6 to 1 (8 once), Babe Murphy 2½, Manchester 3½, McLight 3 (played from 6), others 7 to 50 to 1.

Rey El Salto and Joan del Rico (coupled) were at 8 to 5, Flushing 10 to 1, Hermoso 3, The Cheat 30, others 10 to 100.

In the second, six furlongs, selling, weights twelve pounds above the scale, there was a long delay, occasioned by the bad acting of Peril, Potentate and Morven. Finally they were dispatched to a poor start, Paril and Morven being on the fly and soon opening up a gap of six or eight lengths on their nearest rival, Elmer F. Peril and Morven ran head and head past the half, then Peril drew away, leading Morven three lengths at the three-quarters, Elmer F. eight lengths further away. Morven caught Peril when a little over a sixteenth from home and beat her out a good head, driving, Elmer F. third, six lengths off. Time, 1:19½. ## At the Willows Track.

A busy scene is witnessed at our race track these mornings, Jimmy Sullivan has a large string of horses at his stables and keeps a half-dozen men busy jogging and caring for his race stock. Our reporter took a look through his stalls recently and found sixteen head of very promising horses, some old stand-bys and quite a number of young candidates under Jimmy's care.

It is yet too early to make any speed predictions for many of them, as they have not been worked out yet, but if looks and breeding go for anything Sullivan will have some of the crack steppers of the State in his string. Following are some of the horses he is handling:

Mamie Griffin.—Black mare owned by Park Henshaw, of Chico, with a record of 2:13. Last year she was one of the best mares in her class and won several hotly contested races.

Chico.—Bay gelding, owned by P. Henshaw, of Chico, with a record of 2:14½. He is one of the old-reliable campaigners and is expected to lower his record this year.

Belle.—Chestnut mare, a pacer, with a record of 2:11 owned by P. Henshaw.

Maud P.—Black mare, owned by P. Henshaw, with a record of 2:25½.

Bessie H.—Black mare, pacer, with a record, of 2:20½, owned by A. B. Akins of Corning.

Our Jack.—Bay gelding, owned by W. J. Irwin. He is a promising horse, was bred at the Oakwood Park Stock Farm and is yet without a record, but shows speed.

W. M. Rempke has a two-year-old black filly and a three-year-old bay filly which are being trained and show considerable speed.

Palito Munger.—Black filly three-year-old with a record of 2:50, owned by Prof. E. P. Heald of San Francisco. There is something handsome expected from this candidate this year.

Pilot Medinm.—Chestnut gelding, five-year-old, owned by Prof. E. P. Heald of San Francisco. He is expected to make a low record.

Dave.—Bay gelding, five-year-old, pacer, without a record. He will be a candidate in the green pacing classes this year. Owned by E. P. Heald of San Francisco.

Ruby M.—Black mare, pacer, record 2:22½. Ruby was one of the star performers in her class in 1895, winning most of the races in which she was entered. Owned by T. P. Marr Jr. of Colusa.

Col. Fred Crawford has three very promising young colts on the track from which something fast is expected. One in particular is showing up well.—Willows Journal.

Santa Paula Letter.

SANTA PAULA, March 29, 1897.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—In reading your paper it is with pleasure and much satisfaction I notice many of your articles of encouragement to breeders of horses for road, pleasure and speed purposes. The number of advertisements that appear in its columns of well-bred stallions standing for service indicates the pulse of breeders and the steadily increasing demand as well as the advancing prices now being realized.

I am located in a county where the breeding of good stock has been somewhat limited, but a change is now taking place for the better. This is the locality or the last home of the gray stallion which my old friend, Jos. Cairn Simpson, brought to California many years ago, being one of the list of the many valuable ones that time has verified the good judgment of Mr. Simpson.

It seems but a short time ago, as it happened I was at the old Oakland race track when his horses were led from the cars to the stables at or near the track. He was then a stranger to California, as well as to me. I well recall the many slurring remarks made at that time by pretended horsemen and stable boys as his string of horses was being led by, and their condemnation of horses that were far beyond their appreciation.

I distinctly remember a sorrel stallion, that afterwards appeared at the Bay District track in the four mile and repeat race where Wildside and Grinstead started and the showing of speed and bottom that he displayed. And I also remember his son Beaconsfield that ran against John A., the son of Monday and the time that was made, 1:41½, over the Sacramento race track.

The race was not awarded to Beaconsfield however, which was a disgrace to the Association in charge of the State Fair. Another one in the line a bay mare of fine form; Lady Amanda a great race mare of high breeding. She was sold to Gov. Stanford and taken to Palo Alto; and Three Cheers, who became noted as a great producer of race horses; "Double Cross," thoroughbred, his name still lives; and a light bay mare sold to Mr. Winters of Sacramento. She proved to be Marion the mare to bring Norfolk, the son of Lexington, to the front ranks as a producer of speed being the dam of the Duke of Norfolk, the Prince of Norfolk, El Rio Rey, etc. Also in the line was a large brown mare of fine form and breeding that was sold to Mr. Boggs, of Colusa, and a three year old filly, color brown that proved a producer of speed, she was followed by bay filly, the now famous brood mare Columbine, the dam of Anteo, Antevolo, Anteros, Coral and others of note, proving to be one of the greatest brood mares that ever came to California. Next in line came the grey stallion A. W. Richmond that was sold and his home was in Ventura County near the town of Santa Paula. He is now dead, but his footprints is not effaced—when you see a high-headed, stylish horse driven on the roads it is a Richmond. If a breeder has a mare he much admires, and expects big results it is a Richmond, Time, and results, prove the better judgement of a few horse men and their names become famous.

I can assure owners and breeders that the horse business of Southern California is much improved the last twelve months having more calls for well-bred road and speed colts than ever before or since I established Ferndale Breeding Farm. The demand is not specially confined to Ventura County, but comes from Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and adjacent counties, as well as from the East.

There has been a carload purchased specially for the Eastern market and will be shipped soon to Warren, Pa., and the chances are that others will follow soon.

There is also quite a large call to breed good mares to speed-producing horses. My stallion, Longworth, will have all he can serve this season. In work stock the market is dull and prices very low. One peculiar feature noticeable is that pacing horses have the preference over the trotter. Fashions will change. Yours, A. C. DIETZ.

Nancy Lee, dam of Nancy Hanks and Hart Boswell.

To be the dam of as great a performer as Nancy Hanks, 2:04, is honor enough to come to one matron, and if perchance Nancy Lee should never produce another foal of merit, she will occupy a position in trotting horse history which will be attained but by few. No performer that has ever appeared trotted as many races as Nancy Hanks without losing a race. In all she started in fifteen races and only lost one heat. Besides these races she started twenty-three times against time, equaling or reducing the trotting record twelve times, and was queen of the turf for two years. Of the blood lines which go to make up the pedigree of Nancy Hanks little need be said. Her sire was Happy Medium 400, a sire that enjoys the distinction of being second in the long list of speed-siring sons of Hambletonian. It is to her dam, Nancy Lee, that the attention of the reader is called most directly. Of Nancy Lee's conformation little will have to be said.

She is a little brown mare standing scant 15 hands high, and it is doubtful if she will weigh 900 pounds. In temperament she seems to be rather nervous. She has a rather distrustful eye, and seems ready at any time to take advantage of her groom and get away. Her breeding is of the kind from which many of the greatest performers of the turf have come. She was sired by Dictator 113, her dam being Sophie, by Edwin Forrest 49. She is owned at the Clover-dell Farm, Colmar, Pa., and is being bred to the great race horse sire Director, 2:16. From this union it would seem as though another champion might come that would even surpass the performance of her celebrated daughter Nancy Hanks.

The Lawrence-Williams Co., Cleveland, O.: Please find draft for six bottles of your Gombault's Castic Balsam. I find it to be the best liniment for hunches or blemishes. All my neighbors want it, but they won't send for it. They come to me when they want a bottle. T. CLEARY.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

"HALF A HORSE GOES DOWN HIS THROAT," THREE-QUARTERS OF A HORSE GOES DOWN HIS DAM'S THROAT—The first line is the old Yorkshire axiom which I have oftentimes quoted; the other is a supplement which should obtain the same publicity. It is nearly a certainty, in fact it may be stated with just as much authority, that if the dam is starved during pregnancy the foal will always be weakly, at least far inferior to what it would have been under more liberal treatment. This has been so generally admitted by writers that it can safely be said to be the universal opinion of the foremost breeders of the country, and the most eminent biologists have sanctioned the statement. Overfeeding will not do, as it is generally conceded that a mare which is grossly fat will not produce as healthy and strong a foal as one in good flesh. During the period of pregnancy the dam should be kept in full strength, and that on feed which will not produce an overplus of flesh, or rather a super-abundance of fat. After parturition there is less danger, and then the food which is abundant in nitrogen will be the proper sustenance. Oats have the required qualities in a higher degree than any other cereal, and it may be that the wild oats of California have more muscle-making constituents than the cultivated varieties. It has been proved that horses and oxen brought across the plains, and turned out, when the grain was in the dough, would recuperate so quickly that owners were troubled to recognize them after a few weeks had elapsed. But it must not be accepted that the young plants have this quality and those who depend upon the young herbage, whether alfalfa or wild oats, when the mares are carrying their foals will not be taking proper care of them. This kind of feed must be supplemented by rations of grain, oats being decidedly superior to barley, though the late John Hall of Alvarado, bred and raced some real good horses when the mares were fed on that grain, and the horses trained on it until leaving home. John Harper, who bred Longfellow, Littleton, Nantura, Fanny Holton, and many others of high class, was partial to corn, and I have seen him throw in a big armful into the manger.

But while corn may be a good thing for horses in training, in the old days hominy was thought to be an absolute necessity, it does not follow that it would be the proper food for broodmares, and I should certainly prefer oats to barley, though the last-named would be better than no grain. California hay, especially wheat hay, carries so much nutriment that mares running on good pasture would do very well with that added to commiseration, though I should prefer that oats were also added to the bill of fare. I have little favoritism for bran. Our hay has a laxative tendency there is no necessity for using bran to correct constipation, though that quality is due to the sharp husks irritating the bowels, and the consequent watery exudation, while there is so little nutriment that it is taking up part of the storage room which can be employed to greater advantage.

Still heavier grains than oats might be used to a good purpose. Should the mare be one of the light-fleshed sort, corn, barley, or wheat might be a good addition to the menu. Wheat seems to have a good effect when mares are liable to abort, and a sovereign remedy in the old days for that trouble was sunflower seed. Flaxseed is also a valuable auxiliary and a great deal of it has been found efficacious when there is a tendency to slip the foal. But whenever there is a case of abortion the mare should be removed from her companions as there is no doubt that sympathy has a potent effect in increasing the trouble.

There is far less danger of abortion when mares are well kept and though the disease may be epidemical those which have proper care will be in a great measure exempt.

When the dams are fed oats it will not be long to the foals on following the example. And then I much prefer whole oats to those which are crushed. The action of grinding excites a flow of saliva and that aids digestion.

One important part of the equine nursery is to see that the teeth cut through the gums, and when retarded rubbing will usually bring them through, if that fails then it will be necessary to scarify. The first thing after birth is to see that there is a movement of the bowels, and should there be no signs of this relief than an injection. An injection of castile soap and warm water will usually bring about the desired result, and very many colts are lost which would have been saved if the clyster had been given in time.

Harness horses have an upward tendency in the language of the stock board, and those who have the right kind of stock and give them proper attention, will be the gainers. Races are often won by a few inches and it is more than likely that foal which had liberal treatment in his young days, will be feet, perhaps yards, very likely rods, better than one which was not so well raised.

PLEASANTON.—Lively times now on the track which is known all over the harness-horse world. Lots of good horses, horses which will be heard of in the "near future."

Murray, McDowell, Keating, McGuire, Hickok, McManus, Neal, and others with strings that should make their mark before the season comes to an end. Others, too, a big brown horse came by at a rate that was surely fast, and on inquiring of McDowell what he was he answered that he was a Richmond. That accounted for the sort of mental telegraphy that indicated some kind of a bond, but I am inclined to think he is by a son of Richmond, as the late Col. Thornton bred him. So many that can go fast that it would seem as though there were altogether too much speed.

Sorally a nice place to have horses trained, and residents of San Francisco and Oakland can leave in the morning, see the horses worked, and come home by the middle of the afternoon. Then a pleasant place to spend the night or get a midday meal, the Rosa hotel being a right comfortable hostelry, with an extra good cook and other pleasant adjuncts. I was quite anxious to repeat the visit on Sunday last to see a horse work, but got a hackset in the shape of a cold of such virulence that breathing was somewhat difficult.

A little bit like the heaves and also a touch of distemper, but as my intention is to make weekly visits hereafter, there will be a good opportunity to know more of the horses which are domiciled there. I was greatly taken with a bay colt by Diablo, which was the "runner up" of the Richmond, in fact, much impressed with the whole lot. So much taken with the plan that I would like to trade my Oakland property for some forty acres at the foot of the mountains to the west of the track, and will give any one who has that amount of realty "a good dickar."

PALO ALTO.—Throughout the horse world, especially that portion of the human family interested in fast trotting horses, the distinction is owing to the wonderful elat obtained through the production of celebrities in that field of breeding.

Far away Russia became interested, and the mighty Czar sought an interchange desirous of securing the blood of Hamblatonian, through Electioneer, in return for Orloffs. On the other side of the globe, Australasia, there was a lika desire, and nearly every European country sought and secured animals bred within the borders of the famous estate. Few, if any, of the States of the Union without representatives which were foaled on the banks of the San Francisco Bay. Scarcely a prominent breeding farm that has not some of the blood of Electioneer.

While it is well-known that the largest vineyard in the world is at Vina, 3,850 acres of bearing vines, very few are aware that there is a wine cellar of half a million gallons at Palo Alto, and, owing to the more favorable climate, certain kinds of wines can be made of greater excellence than at the upper country place. Claret, Sauterne, all of the "dry wines" are manufactured to better advantage. One hundred and sixty-five acres in the home vineyard, and that produce is augmented by shipments of grapes from Vina.

With the protective duties embodied in the Dingley Bill, wine making will be one of the great industries here, and that is so completely a tax on a luxury that no one should grumble over the added cost.

That the Palo Alto product is of great excellence is the verdict of "experts," and it does not require expert knowledge to agree with the estimate. Vina brandy has already secured world-wide celebrity, competent critics placing it on the same plane as the best of the French aqua vitas.

HIGHER ENCOMIUMS.—If Governor Budd realizes the credit he has gained by signing the bill 727, he should be one of the happiest men in California.

A narrow-minded man might think he stultified himself by a change of action, a higher intellect would know that the change of belief was meritorious. Melancthon was taken to task for a change of views from those he had advocated forty years before. He replied that he had not lived forty years without acquiring knowledge.

Sincere congratulations to our executive for signing the bill, and though it would have been still better if he had also signed that of two years ago, I tender many thanks for what he has done.

DISAPPOINTED.—I wrote the following after reading the Call of Thursday. The evening papers brought different intelligence, and all I can say now is that California is adversely handicapped with an executive of so little capacity that whatever a lack of sense can do he has done.

Like all men of small brain, he is obstinate. Determinedly obstinate, inclined to go contrary to ninety-five per cent. of the people of California, and ready to sacrifice the interests of the State to his shallowness of conception.

Humiliating to acknowledge that a person elected to the high position should prove such an imbecile, but the best we can do is to suffer and hope for a change.

COMMENDATORY.—I have nothing but praise now for Gov. Budd. This, Thursday, morning, the paper was eagerly scanned for intelligence, and among the hills which received his approval was "No. 727," establishing Agricultural Districts. That means a renewal of the prosperity which prevailed when appropriations were made, the horse interests not the only good, as it will promote the general welfare.

With the State Fair at Sacramento and a circuit of district fairs around that nucleus, there will be an activity in horse circles, quite safe to assert that it will be a reminder of the old days.

When a person has learned that his former course has been wrong, it is greatly to his credit to change to another track, and there is scarcely a question that a very large proportion of the people of California will applaud the action of the Governor. It means a year of prosperity to the horse industries of the State, and also a general revival of the pursuits dependent upon fairs. It will be well for the various agricultural societies to publish programmes without delay, as that will induce larger entry lists than if delayed.

Jos. CAIRN SIMPSON.

At the Santa Rosa Stock Farm there is a young stallion which is destined to become the best ever owned at this well appointed place. He is called L. W. Russell; his sire is the mighty Stamboul, 2:07½, the fastest representative of the Moor and Hamblatonian cross, and his dam is the perfectly formed broodmare Bye Bye, by Nutwood; second dam Rapidan (dam of Capt. Mac, 2:29), by Dictator; third dam Madame Headley (dam of Expert Prince, 2:13½), by Edwin Forrest 851, etc. Bye Bye is a full sister to the handsomest and speediest Nutwood stallion living, Lockheart, 2:08½. L. W. Russell has seven yearlings on the farm that are out of mares of every kind of breeding, but one would never think so to see them, for a more uniform lot for size, color, style, conformation and trotting action is hard to surpass anywhere. John Rogers, the young man who was first assistant to the late John A. Goldsmith, is busily engaged handling a string of horses on this farm, and in an interview said: "I like to walk over to the paddock and look at those colts. They will bring fame to this farm and money to their owners. L. W. Russell is the handsomest Stamboul I ever saw, and I think I have seen everyone that was foaled in California; and besides being handsome, he is destined to be the fastest."

Kate Morgan or Kate McDonough.

When a long line of speedy and valuable descendants prove the inherent worth of so meritorious a mare as Kate Morgan, or as she was known by many, as Kate McDonough, it is of little account whether carping critics are willing or not to admit that such a mare was beyond doubt a well-bred one.

In 1854, before the days of trotting horse registers, or of our "Patent Right Stud Book Compilers," Kate Morgan was taken from Decatur County, Iowa (where she was said to have been bred by a Mr. Kellogg) across the plains, by John McDaniel. She was brought into Rogue River Valley, just when Sailor Diggings and Althouse Creek were paying their best, and sold by Mr. McDaniel to James McDonough of Willow Springs, Jackson County, Oregon. She was a dark bay mare with rather a plain head, but a magnificent, hold-looking eye, and a neck almost faultless in its symmetry. Kate Morgan was really a bonanza, as has been proven by her descendants, but Mr. McDonough was not so fortunately situated as to be personally benefited thereby. He drew heavy freight wagons to Crescent City some years, and at other times to Red Bluff, and this meritorious mare spent most of her best years in a six-horse team. When the snow on the "Coast Mountains" had ended hauling for the season Kate Morgan would be ploughing the fields at Willow Springs, or toiling along the road to Jacksonville with heavy loads of cord-wood.

In 1860 she was bred to Black Satin (son of Shingletail by Old Lennox), owned by James Clugge, and in 1861 produced Young Kate. Kate Morgan was bred to Vermont, son of Independence, in 1865, and produced what Oregon and California horsemen generally concede was Ella Lewis, 2:27.

Upon that point I insert the copy of a letter from James McDonough:

JACKSONVILLE, ORE., May 31, 1896:

CYRUS LUKENS, Esq.: Dear Sir: I bred Kate to Vermont, and in 1866, she had a filly foal, and that summer or fall it was stolen or otherwise lost from my range. Several years later Ella Lewis appeared in California, and was claimed to be by Vermont, and bred in Josephine Co., near my farm. As there had been no other mare bred to Vermont that could all the requirements and judging from the family resemblance, it began to be generally asserted that Ella Lewis was my colt. I never seen her and do not know. Black Satin was owned here by James Clugge, now deceased, and Satin was by Shingletail, son of Old Lennox. The dam of Black Satin was a running mare brought from Kentucky by a Dr. Brooks. Do not know her breeding.

Very truly yours, JAMES McDONOUGH.

The produce of Kate Morgan (or McDonough) appears to have been as follows: 1860, Satinet by Black Satin; 1861, Young Kate by Black Satin; 1862, Dixie by Black Satin; 1865, horse colt by Vermont, died; 1866, Ella Lewis by Vermont; 1867, Mountain Boy by Vermont; 1868, Barney (W.), 2:25, by Mike; 1869, Nellie by Mike; 1870, Plymair (sire of dam of Seymour Wilkes, 2:03½), by Mike, Tampoon by Mike. Kate Morgan died about 1881.

The produce of Young Kate (foaled 1861) was: 1865, Ribbons by Vermont; 1866, Jaka by Old Jake; 1867, Billy by McClelland Horse; 1868, Dick by Mike; 1869, Selim by Mike; 1870, Major by Mike; 1871, Bid by Black Pilot; 1:72, horse colt, dead; 1875, Maud by Mike; 1876, Mary by Mike; 1877, Amanda by Scamperdown; 1878, Orphan by Scamperdown, son of the thoroughbred horse Norfolk.

The produce of Ribbons (foaled 1865) was: 1868, Catch Colt; 1869, horse colt by Mike, died; 1871, Black Dick by Black Pilot; 1875, Nelly Kohler by Mike; 1878, Lady W. by Ophir; 1879, Sleepy Kate by Mike; 1880, Betsey Jane by Altamont; 1881, Lady Beach by Altamont; 1882, Susie Hawkins by Altamont; 1883, Aggie V. by Swadnote; 1884, colt by Roscoe; 1885, colt by Roscoe.

The Vermont mentioned above is No. 322 in Vol. 2, a son of Independence by Hill's Vermont Black Hawk. Mika is No. 3403, a son of Vermont that was owned by David Perlinger in Jackson Co., Oregon. Altamont is No. 3000.

Ophir is the sire of Bob, the dam of Klamath, 2:07½. In the resume of the above we have Kate Morgan as the dam of Barney (W.) 2:25½, at Oakland, Cal., November 9, 1878, and the acknowledged dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, who was the dam of the fast pacing wonder Saladin 2:05½.

Kate Morgan's daughter, Young Kate, produced Maud, dam of Alta, 2:23½, Salem, Ore., September 17, 1890, and Amanda, dam of Stemwinder, 2:25½, Salem, Ore., September 16, 1889. Kate Morgan's granddaughter, Ribbons, produced Nelly Kohler, who won a public record of 2:33 at Yreka, Cal., October, 1890, and was the dam of Tybalt, record 2:27½, also produced Lady W. (by Ophir), record 2:33, at Yreka, Cal., and Sleepy Kate, dam of Altana, record 2:26½, Salem, Ore., Sept. 18, 1889.

The foregoing history, covering a period of more than forty years, proves once more the value of good breeding and should be convincing proof to those know-it-all, higher critics, who are always quoting some case not to be found among the historical accounts of trotting horse history, which simply shows their conceited ignorance and proves nothing.

Although the history of Kate Morgan is given to the public now only for the first time, there is no chance left for anyone to say that she was not a meritorious animal. That the name "Morgan" came with her across the plain from Decatur Co., Iowa, to the Rocky Mountain slope in 1854, makes it reasonable that she was a descendant from that family, the same as Mrs. Cauld was. Kate Morgan is herein shown to have been an important factor among speed producing animals, somewhat like that of the mare Mrs. Candler, the dam of Ericsson and granddam of Clark Chief.—CYRUS LUKENS in Trotter and Pacer.

Right to the Point.

Dr. P. M. Drain of Alexandria, Tenn., writes: "I removed two splints with a few applications of Quinn's Ointment, without leaving any scar or rough hair. I take pleasure in recommending it to horse owners for splints, puffs, etc." If you desire a first-class article use Quinn's Ointment; price $1.50 per package. If you cannot obtain from druggist or dealer, address W. B. Eddy & Co., Whitehall, N. Y. For sale in San Francisco, by J. A. McKerron, 203 Mason street, also of J. O'Kane, Market street. Don't fail to use it for a trial.

CHEYENNE, WYO., April 3, 1895.

I used DaHuy's Balmoline on a horse that had a set-fast in the neck. It took it out and healed the wound in ten days.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

MILO KNOX is booking a number of fine mares to Dudley 2:14 in and around Haywards.

Geo. GRAY is handling a big string of trotters and pacers at the Meek place, near Haywards.

That grand looking mare Flora M., 2:15, by Richard's Elector, has been bred to Altamont.

Dr. J. B. ORVIS of Stockton has a splendid filly by Silver Bow 2:16 out of Alma by Almont Rattler.

WM. MURRAY has a Diablo colt out of a mare by Steinway, that will be in the front rank this year.

KING ALTAMONT is one of the very best green pacers in the north, and is by Altamont out of the dam of Klamath, 2:07½.

PRINCEWAY, a fast young trotter by Steinway, out of the dam of Derby Princess 2:11½, will be out in John Splan's stable this year.

J. MALCOM FORBES offered a long price for Abdell, 2:23, the yearling champion trotter; but Mrs. Stanford refused to sell at any price.

WILTON GREENWAY, the capable young trainer of Havre de Grace, Md., has in his stable a brother to Oro Wilkes, 2:11, by Sahle Wilkes.

ABYSSINIAN, by Mambrino Wilkes, the property of the Kamage Brothers, Haywards, has dropped a fine Diablo colt. The youngster is a grandly made one.

F. D. STOUT, of Dubuque, Iowa, who owned Nutwood, 2:18½, made a good purchase when he secured Express, by Advertiser, out of Estar, for $850, at the Palo Alto sale.

HORSE business is booming at Pleasanton. Messrs. Salisbury, Griffiths, McDowell, Hickok, Keating, Neal, Murray, McManus, Sutherland and a few others keep the track hot.

MARGARET WORTH, 2:17½, and Fanadma, a four-year-old filly by Eros were taken from here to Napa last Saturday by Howard L. Franklin, who will handle both again this season.

J. W. PRIVETT, of Portland, Or., is jogging his green pacer Greeting, by Sahle Wilkes 2:18, out of Warwick Maid (the dam of Prince Warwick, triat 2:15, Warwick Medium, 2:21½).

M. L. HOWARD will have his Waldstein four-year-old colt, out of the dam of Brice McNeil and Sadie Moor, worked this year. He was handled as a yearling and showed very fast speed.

DET BIGELOW is at Walnut Grove Stock Farm preparing a good string of trotters and pacers for this season's campaigning. He is prepared to handle a few more at a reasonable price.

If the Appropriation Bill becomes a law, we advise all owners of good, well-bred trotters and pacers which they wish to dispose of, to advertise them in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN.

ADABEL, by Advertiser—Beautiful Bells, sold for $1,025; Elsinor, by Azmoor—Elsie, for $790, and Ela, by Altivo, out of Elaine, 2:20, sold for $500, the average of these three yearlings was $741.

THE average price received for the Palo Alto horses was $309. A number brought ridiculously low prices. Cause: market overstocked, buyers limited and the sale being held too late in the year.

Do not forget the fact that entries for the Montana races will close next Saturday, April 10. See the splendid purses and liberal terms offered. Manager Tipton writes that six men will be allowed to each car.

THE Kentucky futurity stake for foals of 1897 to be trotted in 1899 and 1900 closed March 16. Three hundred and nineteen entries had been received by the day of closing and as many more were expected by the latter mails.

THERE were over twenty young trotters and pacers sold from the Oakwood Park Stock Farm since the last race meeting and the average price received for them was $360. The Steinways and Chas. Derbys are liked by all seekers after game race horses.

LAST year was the great season for the pacing brigade: John R. Gentry, 2:00½; Robert J., 2:01½; Star Pointer, 2:02½, were among the phenomena, but the trotting record of Alix, 2:03½ and stallion record of Directum, 2:05½, stands unapproached in 1896.

CHARLES SCOTT, superintendent in charge, says he will begin next Monday putting the Napa race track in condition for the speed contests to be held this season. Among the horses now kept in the stable at the track is Billy G. who has a pacing record of 2:15.

At Geo. H. Fox's farm, Clements, there is a four-year-old mare called Free Silver, that may be seen at the races this year. She is as handsome as all those which have Silver Bow 2:16 for a sire, and as for speed, she is out of a sister to Iago, 2:11. That is sufficient to mention now.

EX PRESIDENT CLEVELAND's full brother to Azota, 2:04½, does farm work in New York for his board.—Exchange. [There is another full brother at Palo Alto Stock Farm that will never have to do farm work, but will make every contestant he meets in a race work hard to beat him].

HENRY R. RHONE of Rhone, Mesa county, suggests the following remedy for the heaves: "I had two horses which got the heaves from eating musty hay. One was very bad. I bought ten cents worth of powdered assafetida and gave a teaspoonful every morning in their oats. When it was all gone the horses were well and have not had a sign of it since." Major Jacob Downing, a prominent horse breeder in this city, says that two or three grains of assafetida taken daily in capsules will soon cure the worst case of grippe in the human family.

ROBERT BONNER states in his catalogue recently issued, that he has expended about $600,000 for horses, but that to those friends who have criticized him for having paid so much money, we may be pardoned for saying that he has given away a much larger sum than that for religious and benevolent purposes.

SINCE A. B. Spreckels resigned as President of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club he is taking a greater interest in his trotting stock. Should we have district fairs this year it would not surprise us if he made a number of entries from his ranks of Dexter Princes, Aptos Wilkes and Cupids. He has some crackerjacks among them.

J. B. IVERSON is the proud possessor of a fine filly, foaled Tuesday morning out of Kentucky Balla and sired by Eugene. This mare is also the dam of Mr. Iverson's fast trotter, Prince Gift, sired by Good Gift, one of the stallions that the late Governor Stanford exchanged for Russian Orloff trotters.—Salinas Journal.

THE Vallejo Driving Park Association has decided to incorporate. A committee consisting of James McCauley, John R. Whittaker, and W. D. Pennycook have been appointed to complete the necessary details. There is some talk of cutting up the track into one and five-acre lots and selling them.—Vallejo News.

THIS office has been besieged all week by inquirers from all parts of California who seemed to have an idea that we knew Gov. Budd would sign the Appropriation Bill for District Fairs. Numerous telegrams were sent from our most prominent citizens asking the Governor to make that bill a law every day this week.

HOUSE & LEBIE, of Portland, Or., have sold their Altamont stallion Alro, to W. R. Popperwell, of Fossil, Oregon. Alro is a black horse foaled in 1890, sired by Altamont 3600; first dam by Rockwood 1467; second dam (dam of Pearl Fisher, 2:18½), by Kisbar 1273; third dam by Pathfinder 10971; fourth dam (dam of Blackwood, 2:21), by Billy Jackson Horse.

MR. J. N. STOWER, of Plattsburg, N. Y., has a four-year-old filly, sired by Msathan, 2:26½, out of the gray mare Arrow's Sister, by A. W. Richmond. This filly was broken to harness the past winter, and shows a beautiful gait and remarkable speed. Arrow's Sister is the dam of the black gelding Elance, by Lancelot, 2:23, that won such an enviable reputation in the ice races of this last winter.

THE trainers are taking up their quarters at the tracks of their choice. A successful one recently remarked: "The first thing I do after I am once located at the track is to get a veterinary dentist to examine the horses and see that their mouths are in good condition, as no horse with a bad mouth will act well." So far so good, but the trainer should select a duly qualified dentist such as Dr. I. Barker Dalziel whose advertisement appears in this issue.

BOWERMAN BROS., of Lexington, Ky., have sold to Pat Chen Wilkes Stock Farm the brown mare Scourine, 2:18½, at three years, foaled 1892, by Wilton, dam Mamie, by Star Almont. She will be bred to Onward. Also the following: Bay filly by Guy Wilkes, dam Eva, by Sultan; bay mare, six years old, by Guy Wilkes, dam Eva, by Sultan; bay mare, five years old, by Guy Wilkes, dam Eva. All of the above will be bred to the Patchen Wilkes Farm stallions.

THE fastest pacer foaled in Humboldt county is Lady Waldstein, 2:15, by Waldstein; the fastest trotter, Humboldt Maid, 2:17, by Waldstein; the fastest yearling, Samea, 2:41, by Ira, though Brice McNeil, by Dudley, has a yearling record of 2:41 1/5; fastest pacing yearling, Trilby, one-half mile in 1:15, by Dudley; fastest two-year-old in race, Swift Bird, 2:32½, by Waldstein; fastest three-year-old, Humboldt Maid, 2:25; fastest four-year-old, Lady Mac, 2:19½, by Ira.—Robnerville Herald.

A PROMINENT breeder who lives in the San Joaquin valley says: "Diablo, 2:09½, in his three-year-old form, was bred to a few mares, but they were all of obscure breeding, and Mr. Murray, while proud to hear from them, felt that it would not pay to spend money on them. In his four-year-old form Diablo was bred to some fine mares, and the colts now three-year-olds are all good; no one who owns a Diablo is disappointed, and I look for him to make a greater reputation as a sire than any young horse in California."

AMERICAN TROTTING ASSOCIATION, Secretary's Office, Chicago, Ill., March 27, 1897: Notice is hereby given that the next regular meeting of the Board of Appeals of the American Trotting Association will be held at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, Tuesday, May 4, 1897, at 10 o'clock A. M. for the transaction of such business as may properly be presented to the Board for its consideration. All new applications and written evidence must be received at this office not later than April 20, 1897.—J. H. Steiner, Secretary.

DR. DUNN, of Oakland, was a visitor at Jas. Sutherland's farm near Pleasanton to see a new arrival he was expecting. His delight knew no bounds when, with Chas. A. Dorfee, the youngster was seen to be a filly and as near perfect as a foal could be. She was sired by McKinney 2:11½, out of Fontanita by Antevola 2:19½, second dam Fontana (dam of Silas Skinner 2:17 etc). It did not take long for this lover of a good horse to book the mare to McKinney again for this year. Mr. Dorfee says he does not believe he ever saw a finer foal.

JOE REA, the Danville trainer, who so successfully campaigned Lottie Lorina 2:05½ and Emma O'Fall 2:11½ in 1896 and who has a national reputation as trainer and driver, has signed a contract to handle the colts on Marcus Daly's Bitter Root Farm, at Hamilton, Montana, this season. He will also have in charge Ed Tipton's pair—the good colt Baronade, by Baron Wilkes, out of Lemonade, and Ettie Baron, by Baron Wilkes, dam Nannie Etticoat—that are most promising youngsters. Ben Kenney will have charge of a few of the Daly youngsters, which he will prepare over the Lexington track for a number of rich stakes in which they are engaged. In addition to China Silk 2:16½, who was last year a great two-year-old filly, Kenney will train Wilderness, brother to Practical (3) 2:19½ being by Prodigal, out of Fanny Witherspoon 2:16½; Red Tape, two-year-old sister to China Silk; Redivivis, a two-year-old filly by Prodigal, out of Red Cherry 2:14½; Postmaster, two-year-old brother to Journeymen (2) 2:21½, and Limerick, a two-year-old by Prodigal, out of Annie Wilton, by Wilton.

WM. B. FASIG and Samuel Gambla have been visiting our leading stock farms. They were at the Oakwood Park Stock Farm last Saturday, and after inspecting the horses there had Mr. Boyd, the proprietor, place a price on fourteen head. It would not surprise us if they were sold to Mr. Fasig, for there are few better judges of conformation in America than he. Since his arrival he has been kept busy. He will visit Pleasanton and Geo. H. Fox's farm near Clements, where the handsome stallion, Silver Bow 2:16, and some grand-looking colts and fillies are.

THE well-bred pacing mare, California Maid, by Waldstein, owned by Underwood & Perrott of Robnerville, Cal., foaled a fine colt March 13. This filly won two races and showed ability to pace in 2:20, and as the sire of the colt is Dudley, that it should be a side-wheeler is not strange. In fact its locomotion is always and entirely after the lateral fashion. The second dam is Gertrude, by the Moor; third dam Kate Labor, by Mambrino Messenger; fourth dam by Messenger. It will be seen by this that the youngster has a royal inheritance, being closely related to many of the greatest celebrities of the turf.

THE following is the tenor of a dispatch from Lexington dated the 15th: Capt. J. B. Treacy, the turfman and trotting horse breeder, was knocked senseless in the Circuit Court late this afternoon by Col. Robert A. Thornton, brother-in-law of Gen. W. F. Draper. Col. Thornton was arguing for his mother-in-law, Mrs. Preston, who is trying to dispossess Treacy of the Ashland Park Stock Farm. Treacy took offense at something Thornton said and started toward him in a threatening manner. Thornton grabbed a cane from another lawyer and struck Treacy a terrible blow on the head. Treacy was removed to his home. Both men were placed under $5,000 bonds to keep the peace.

MR. C. X. LABAREE, of Fairhaven, Wasb., and proprietor of Brooknook Stock Farm, Montana, spent a few days in Portland, Or., this week, and while here he purchased a pair of Altamont mares, which he will have sent to him at his home and will use them this season for a driving team, but they will eventually find their way to the breeding ranks of his stock farm, as they are both well-bred on their dam's side, and Mr. Larabee is a firm believer in the blood of Altamont. Mr. Larabee has recently returned from a visit East and thinks the outlook for good horses is very bright. He is putting 34 head of five-years-olds in condition and will ship them to his agent in Vermont about the middle of May. He will have over 100 foals drop this spring, and from this time on will continue to increase that number.

MANAGER ED. A. TIPTON, left for Montana last Saturday. In a conversation previous to his departure, speaking of game horses, he said: "That horse Welcome is, to my mind, the most wonderful stallion I ever saw. He had Andy McDowell up behind him at Butta and W. H. Stimpson was driving Del Norte. From the three-quarter pole it was a case of which driver could whip the harder and which stallion would quit. Nose and nose the game horses came down within about ten yards of the wire when Andy began to lift and whip his horse and landed him a winner. Anyone would naturally think, now, that horse is done for, he will not race a little bit after that drive, but he did, he came out the next heat and raced even better; and every time Andy called upon him he responded. He surprised everyone in Montana and if he does not make a great sire I will be disappointed."

THERE were nine sires who had twenty or more performers credited with winning heats in standard time during 1896. Alcantara leads with twenty-eight; Onward and Gambetta Wilkes have each twenty-four; Simmons and Sphinx each twenty-three; Bourbon Wilkes and Pilot Medium each twenty-two; Baron Wilkes and Sidney each twenty. It will be noticed that six of the nine are sons of George Wilkes. This is in marked contrast to the respective positions of the leading sires the year previous. At the close of 1895 there were but six sires with twenty or more performers with winning heats during the year within the standard line. Red Wilkes was in the lead with forty-one; Onward in easy second position with thirty-eight; Alcantara had twenty-eight; Gambetta Wilkes twenty-six; Nutwood twenty-three, and Pilot Medium twenty-two. Red Wilkes and Nutwood were the ones to drop back, while five younger sires, Sphinx, Simmons, Bourbon Wilkes, Baron Wilkes and Sidney, stepped to the front.

THE local horsemen are anxious that the directors of the Marysville Jockey Club call a meeting and fix the date for holding the spring meeting. There is a surplus from the last meeting and it will not be a difficult matter to raise a sufficient amount, which added to the money on hand, will give at least three days' good racing. The horsemen have never been so enthusiastic about holding a meeting as at the present time, for there are a number of horses in this district, which can be put into training at once, as they have wintered well. Billy Hogoboom is working a large string for D. E. Knight, and Suel Harris has several from two years up. John McAlpin has a speedy three-year-old Don Lowell colt. There are several speedy young Felones at exercise in the Linda track. They are being looked after by a careful and experienced trainer. The fact that there may be a fall meeting this year should not prevent a spring meeting being held, as the money was subscribed for that purpose. The sooner the directors meet the better.—Marysville Appeal.

IN Volume II of the Year Book, the pacer Solano is credited with a record of 2:25, but with an untraced pedigree. In the Palo Alto catalogue for 1897 Solano is credited to Electioneer, and in the Year Book for 1896, Volume 12, he is credited to Electioneer in the summary of a race paced at Vacaville, California. Inquiry of Superintendent Corey elicits the information that Solano is undoubtedly by Electioneer, and a very well-bred pacer at that. His dam is Isma, by General Benton, second dam Irene, by Mohawk Chief, third dam Laura Keene, by Hambletonian 10. Solano was originally a trotter, but got a little sore in front and went to pacing of his own accord. He was then sold to a conductor on the Vacaville railroad and by him put to racing in a small way. He took a record of 2:25, about which there is no dispute, and he should surely be credited to his sire in the Year Book. Electioneer has, therefore, two pacers in the list instead of one, but both were natural trotters that succumbed to the vicissitudes of training and took to pacing of their own accord as the best way out of a bad fix.

THE SADDLE.

DAVID has been entered in the stake races in Montana.

H. H. HUNN will go East next week with Ferrier and Formal.

MACEO shows little signs of recovering from the rheumatism that attacked him last year.

WALTER ("Pop") WEAYER will act as timer at Ingleside, vice R. J. Havey, reappointed starter.

R. VAN BRUNT has sold his fast but unlucky horse Cabrillo to Pat Dunne. Consideration private.

TAMPA and Gold Dollar, California-bred, won races at Iron Hill on the 20th of March, and won easily too.

JOCKEY BOB ISOM leaves May 1st for Louisville, Ky. He expects to have a mount in the rich Kentucky Derby.

SCHNITZ showed that his long let-up had done him a world of good. He led his field in the second race for over six furlongs.

WINGED FAIRY, the full sister to Applegate and Winged Foot, who is to run in McCafferty's colors, is highly spoken of by turf critics.

THE story goes that the Applegate syndicate is to add the Lexington track to its possessions through the settlement of the Green mortgage.

THE young Morellos have won eight races since the season opened up. This is a wonderful showing for a sire thus early in the season.

THE Spreckels string will not go to Montana after all, and, in consequence, Galen Brown will not take Libertine to either Anaconda or Butte.

J. C. BRONNER, a genial young man who has made a host of friends here, has been appointed assistant secretary of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club.

CHARLES M. GREEN of St. Louis, holder of $30,000 bonds of the Kentucky Racing Association, is seeking to enforce a lien on the association's costly property.

MAJ. B. G. THOMAS, of Lexington, Ky., has lost a promising filly by Himyar—Madam Julia. She fell and broke her neck while playing in the paddock.

CLAYTON RAYMOND, a rider born in California, leaves for Sydney, N. S. W., on the Mariposa. He goes to accept an engagement with an Australian turfman.

LOVELIGHT, the grandly-bred young mare by Racine, dam Imp. Flirt, has a bay colt at the Hobart ranch by Bright Phoenix, the Realization winner.

THEODORE WINTERS, the famous breeder and turfman that owns El Rio Rey, Marion and other equine celebrities, attended the races at Ingleside Wednesday.

THE Burns & Waterhouse stable that will make the Eastern campaign is to be shipped East in the middle of April. It will contain nothing but two and three-year-olds.

DAVID GIDEON's horses, under Jack Joyner's care, wintered at Morris Park, where Wasteful, by Henry of Navarre—Squander, is said to have shown remarkably well.

THE track record for seven furlongs at New Orleans is held by the California-bred horse, Duke of Milpitas. It was made in 1893, in 1:27 3/4, with 122 pounds in the saddle.

EMPEROR, the stallion so long associated with Pierre Lorillard's Rancocas stud, has been "swapped" for two broodmares to F. D. Weir, of the pleasant Valley Stock Farm, in New Jersey.

YANKEE DOODLE is of no account these days. He blew up Wednesday when he had gone four and a half furlongs, and was beaten eleven lengths in 1:43 for the mile. Once Doodle could run a mile very close to 1:40.

W. A. KEEFER, the missing mining man, was a great lover of equine sports, and a little over a year ago purchased several high-priced yearlings, which he subsequently sold to W. S. Hohart for just what he had paid for them.

H. D. ("CURLEY") BROWN is to be the starter at Newport, Ky., where J. J. Burke officiates as presiding judge. It's dollars to doughnuts "Curley" will stir up a sensation of some sort for the newspaper boys before the meeting comes to an end.

COL. PATE has shipped his recent purchases to the City of Mexico. We predict that in five years' time Mexico will be a Mecca for racing men. The government is establishing a stock farm and trying to put racing in that country on a good basis.

IN Marcus Daly's stable, from Bitter Root Farm, Montana, are imp. Black Cap, the half-sister to last season's Futurity winner, Ogden, a black filly by Royal Hampton—Oriole, and the Tammany colts, Grand Sachem, Greenback II., Amazonian, Makallah and Open Doors.

COL. BOB PATE has purchased thirteen horses to take to the City of Mexico to race, and his recent buys were Sepoy and Scimitar of "Curley" Shields, Let Me See and Gamecock of Stanislaus county parties, Arno of Mrs. T. Butler, Brametta for $200 of Dan Honig Road Runner ought to be a good horse for that warm climate.

THE bookmakers and gamblers are making a bitter fight to have the Breeders' bill, as it is called, voted by Governor Stephens. The bill provides that no track shall have races for more than ninety days during the year. It prohibits night racing and so defines legitimate tracks as to bar out the merry-go-round entirely.—St. Louis dispatch, March 31.

NEW ORLEANS (La.), March 31.—The famous suit of Jockey Joe Scherrer against Dave Gideon, the well-known Eastern horseman, was to have come up for trial in the United States District Court to-day but before it was reached a compromise was effected between the parties, Gideon paying to the injured jockey $900 in addition to assuming the costs of the case.

THE SINNER is one of the worst "dogs" our race-goers have ever gazed upon. If anything can just carry him a quarter of a mile at a good clip he'll bark, "Take it!"

ROBT. I. ORR has one of the most promising colts so far developed this year in this country. The little fellow is only a yearling and is now showing quarters in 47. He is by Pacheco Wilkes and Boh has several other good ones on his ranch. The colt referred to is entered in the two-year-old stakes at Salinas.—Hollister Bee.

RECREATION, the Morello-Picnic filly that won the Ullman Stakes Saturday, is pronounced by good judges the best two-year-old that has thus far appeared in public in California. She was really giving The Cheat four pounds, and got away sixth, he second. The time, 0:55 at four and a half furlongs, over a slow track, is good in any country.

FRED TARAL will report for duty at Cape Charles next week, where Matt Byrnes is training the Marcus Daly string. Taral is in good condition, having ridden from ten to twenty miles nearly every day. He had a good saddle horse, but when he feels his liver needs shaking up he goes astride of an old trotter that bounces him about in the saddle a bit.

BOANERGES, a Spendthrift colt owned by W. and A. McGuigan, won the Arkansas Derby, one mile, with ease yesterday, Burlesque second, and Arlington third. Time, 1:46. It was the first day of the Little Rock races, and the track was very heavy. Two horses well known to our race-goers ran there—Ligo, who finished second, and Ferris Hartman third.

PITTSBURG PHIL (George E. Smith) bade his many friends here good-bye and left for New York on Saturday night. The famous plunger is about $15,000 loser in the past two weeks. Up to that time he was about even. The defeat of Installator by Salvation a few days ago cost "Phil" over $4,000, and he did not believe he could beat the game in San Francisco.

JUST before the first race Wednesday the jockeys assembled in the judges' stand and presented Starter Dick Havey with a gold stop-watch and chain, suitably inscribed. Captain Rees made the presentation speech on behalf of the jockeys. The starter thanked the jockeys for their token of esteem and good will. The watch is an elegant one, and Dick should feel mighty proud.

JIMMY MCCORMICK is in splendid health. He is up about his home in Brooklyn. His mind is perfectly clear. In the light of such a siege of sickness his friends feared that his mind might be impaired. But all apprehension has been happily removed. Jimmy takes a rub-down every morning, and his appetite is first-rate. The climate is such that he has to stay indoors yet.—Evening Bulletin.

IF BREEDING counts, La Maroma, a starter in the second race Thursday, should be almost invincible on the turf, she being by Emperor of Norfolk, king of the American turf, from Los Angeles, who divided the crown with Firenze. However, the daughter of king and queen finished up fifth in a field of twelve. She is a good looker, and many a clinker has made a poor showing "first time out."

WITH the reappointment of Dick Havey as starter confidence seems to have returned to the speculative division, and it would be another good hit for the P. C. J. C. folks to allow the use of a recall flag. Thousands of dollars were burned up Wednesday by not having a recall, Versqua and Yemen, favorites in their respective races, being left standing, to the consternation and disgust of their many backers.

THERE were six races at Iron Hill, Md., on the 24th inst., and no less than four of the winners were California-bred, as follows: Ta Ko (by Salvator—Electra), Gold Dollar (by Sir Modred—Trade Dollar), Juliet (by Sir Modred—Jewelry) and Gonzalez (by imp. Cheviot—Carrie C). Three of these were bred at Rancho del Paso, the other (Gonzalez) at the San Simeon rancho of the late Senator George Hearst.

J. H. ("CURLEY") SHIELDS has sold to Ed. Ryan, brother of Tom Ryan, owner of Tartarian et al., the brown three-year-old colt Howard S., by imp. Whistle Jacket—Zelica, by Virgil. The consideration was not made public, but it must have been a good one, for the brown colt is considered to be about the best of his age here over a distance of ground and to have a royal chance to win the $5,000 California Derby next Saturday.

A. NICKELLS has sold the record-breaker, Mamie Scott, to W. B. Knight, of Humboldt county, the man that originally had an interest in the mare. She will be bred. Mamie broke down in her stife in last Saturday's race, in which she finished up third. Mr. Nickells thinks she would assuredly have won but for the break-down, for she was simply galloping out in front of her field. She held the seven and a half furlong record, 1:33 1/2, made at Bay District track.

THE libel suit of Jockey Scherrer against David Gideon for $10,000 was compromised to-day, Gideon paying $950 and the cost. The suit grew out of the Valet-Campania races last winter on which Gideon lost heavily and openly charged Scherrer with pulling the horse on which he had bet. John W. Schorr arrived here to-day, bringing Meadowthorpe, who is a certain starter in the Derby.—New Orleans dispatch to Daily Racing Form, March 25.

THE mare L'Abbesse de Jouarre, who won the Oaks in 1889, recently died in England in giving birth to a colt by Isinglass. The colt died in foaling and the mare succumbed. The mare's win in the Oaks was a surprise to her owner, Lord Randolph Churchill, for so little did he think of her chances that he did not go to Epsom to see her run. The loss of the colt by Isinglass is a great one, for he would have been worth at least $10,000 had he lived.

"VIRGINIA" BRADLEY has parted with the star of his string, the great American trolley car, Sir John. He sold him on Saturday to Vsl Fisher for $400. Sir John passes out of Bradley's hands with a record. He started 44 times at the meeting, under all kinds of weights from 90 pounds to 140; over all distances from three-quarters of a mile to a mile and a quarter, and in all kinds of going, from flinty hardness to triple X mud, and he is still as sound as an iron gate post. Out of his 44 starts he won two races, one of them at 60 to 1 in the betting. Bradley's reason for selling him was—well—was the $400.—New Orleans Daily Item.

RECREATION is another winner destined to keep the memory of great Morello green. The colt is well-named, too, being from Picnic. The last-named was a more than ordinary racer by the dead imp. Mr. Pickwick, sire of Dobbins, Phoenix, Sligo, Picknicker and many other good ones.

THE Queen City Jockey Club (Newport, Ky.) meeting begins April 1st. Its stake dates have been assigned by that excellent official, J. Gratz Hanly, as follows: Butterflies Stakes, April 1; Maiden Stakes, April 3; Domino Stakes, April 7; Queen City Oaks, April 10; Nelson Stakes, April 14; Kentucky Stakes, April 17; Ohio Valley Stakes, April 21; Wiedemann Breeding Stakes, April 24; Blue Ribbon Stakes, April 21; Ft. Thomas Handicap, May 1.

MORELLITO, winner of the second race Tuesday, was bred by the Willman Bros., who have a ranch at Newman, Stanislaus County. They own his dam, Miss Cromwell (son of Lodi and Annette, by Lexington), and also the dam of Rey del Bandidos (Emma Collier, by Duke of Norfolk). Though they did not see the brown colt win Tuesday, it is understood a good commission was placed for them. Matt Storn, trainer of Morellito, was confident of his success yesterday, and was naturally much pleased at the result, especially as the son of Morello was conceding weight to everything in the race.

THE Burns & Waterhouse colt, Candelaria, is credited with working out one and one-fourth miles in 2:09 flat, which is the best showing thus far made by any of the California Derby candidates. It looks now as if the Derby field next Saturday would be made up as follows: Good Times, Howard S., Lincoln, Scarf Pin, Candelaria, Caspar, The Roman, Greyhurst, Estaca and Lumina. Barney Schriber Wednesday announced that Aquinas would not be a starter, but he purchased Greyhurst from Tommy Griffin and will doubtless start the half brother to Braw Scot, if he can make satisfactory arrangements with Ab Stemler, who originally nominated the colt for the Derby. Lumina came out of her last race a little sore and there is no certainty that she will start.

THE need of a recall flag at Ingleside becomes more apparent every day, and we hope to see the directors, like sensible men, recede from their position and accede to the demands of the vast majority of race-goers, who are most certainly in favor of the use of a recall flag in connection with the starting gate. Wednesday two favorites, played for thousands of dollars, were left standing at the post, their backers receiving no run for their money. It is the feeling that one is going to "get a run for his money" that makes the sport popular. Uncertainty, lack of confidence, injures any sport or any business. A rumor that a bank is in a shaky condition causes a run and often ruins the institution. While the recall flag may cause some delay at the post, it is better to wait a few minutes than to see your horse left standing at the post and have no "run for your money."

RACING will begin across the State line in Indiana on Thursday, April 15th. The programme of race conditions for the first week will be ready for distribution on or before April 1st. Owing to the loss of stabling by fire last summer the number of stalls about the course is less than 800, and horsemen are hereby notified that no assignments of space will be made except upon application accepted by the secretary. The purses will be liberal, and judging from the class of owners who have already applied for stalls the meeting will open with sport of high class. Next week the work of preparing the course for racing will begin, giving horsemen sufficient time for exercising over the track before the opening. Several of the leading California stables have announced their coming with this meeting as the beginning of their spring campaign. This with southern shipments and the appearance of local strings should furnish the basis of a successful season. The announcement of a special train service will be made in due time.—M. NATHANSON, Sec'y, in Daily Racing Form.

FOLLOWING is a Daily Racing Form special from St. Louis, Mo., dated March 22: The Missouri racing bill is certain to become a law. It has passed both houses and is sure of Gov. Stephens' signature. It gives ninety days of racing to each track and prohibits foreign pooling and poolrooms. But it does not go into effect until ninety days after it is made complete by the Governor's signature. Consequently the Missouri poolrooms will run until the end of June. The poolroom men think that in the light of recent decisions by the Missouri courts the bill is unconstitutional and will test it. The measure does away with night racing and prohibits over ninety days of racing at any one track. Bookmakers are to be licensed at the rate of $4 per day, and the entire regulation of the sport is placed in the control of a State Racing Commission to consist of the Governor, State Treasurer and State Auditor. The latter is authorized to appoint deputies to collect the tax from the bookmakers. There is already talk of another mile track being constructed in St. Louis, but nothing definite has developed in connection with the matter as yet.

THE California Derby, one and one-quarter miles, to be run next Saturday, is attracting considerable attention among race-goers, and as several entered are of high class, it will undoubtedly be a close and exciting race and bring out a big crowd. Following is a list of those almost certain to start, the weight they will carry and the jockey likely to have the mount: Estaca, 122 pounds, W. Martin; Candelaria, 122 pounds, Thorpe; Howard S., 122 pounds, H. Martin or P. Enos; Good Times, 122 pounds, Cash Sloan; Scarf Pin, 117 pounds, Tod Sloan; Lincoln II., 122 pounds, Shields; Lumina, 117 pounds, Pigott; Vindicator, 122 pounds, Hennessy; Caspar, 122 pounds, E. Jones; Aquinas, 119 pounds, Slaughter. Of these Howard S. has already run the distance in a race in 2:07 3/4. Lincoln likes the route and will sorely be in the hunt. Estaca is a much improved colt, and with such a rider as Willie Martin in the saddle should be a factor in the race. Good Times, too, likes a race of this sort, and if Aquinas goes to the post fit and well he won't be out of it altogether, especially if the going be heavy. Caspar would cut a big figure over a slow or muddy track, though we fancy the distance is not to his liking. It looks, then, as if on a dry track the race should be between Howard S., Lincoln, Estaca and Good Times, in the mud between Caspar, Aquinas, Estaca and Good Times. The stake ($5,000) is valuable enough, in all conscience, to make the race one "for blood," $4,000 going to the first, $500 to the second, $300 to the third and $200 to the owner of the fourth horse. This giving money to even the owner of the fourth animal in the race should have a good effect.

Budd Knocks Out the District Fairs.

"Praise Budd, from whom all blessings flow."

This is the song that will be heard at every gathering of political heelers and pot-house politicians in this city hereafter. He had no hesitancy in signing his name to a dredger bill of $300,000 that was a benefit to a few interested land-owners along the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. But the owners of the dredger and their friends must have had a pull with this Buddhist fakir, who, pretending to conduct the highest office in the gift of the people of the State with economy, caters to a few rich corporations and destroys all the hopes and prospects of thousands of farmers, vineyardists, stock-raisers, manufacturers and businessmen in California. There never was a "bud of promise" like this, and we earnestly trust his "withering" in the eyes of the people will continue until he is lost sight of and becomes but a putrid memory. Any farmer who extends to him the glad hand of friendship should be ostracized by his neighbors. Budd made a living among them, was elected to Congress by them and their friends, and was placed in the gubernatorial chair by their votes, but he forgets all this when an opportunity comes for him to place his signature to a measure calculated to do them and the State at large some good.

The narrow-minded, self-sufficiency of jimbudd in carrying his personality into every measure coming before him from the Legislature is enough to arouse the most severe condemnation of the public. A friend of the farmers? A friend of labor? As well might Satan profess to be a friend of our Maker. "Let the public be damned" is his motto, as evidenced by his veto of the appropriations for the several district fairs, as provided by the Legislature. He has justly earned the contempt of every agriculturist and stock-raiser in the State. He will be whipped from public place and power by every sentiment of justice and condemnation which can arise in the bosoms of an outraged and insulted public.

He may think, in his weak and impoverished mind, that he has finally destroyed all the industries in this country, and he can laugh at the discomfiture of the people he injured the most, "but he laughs best who laughs last." His fate is sealed and his name, like that of his god, Grover Cleveland, will be held up to ridicule hereafter.

Langtge almost fails to express the contempt with which the poor, insignificant fakir is held by all taxpayers. His vetoing of the Printing office bill; and also the State Library are on a par with his ideas of disseminating knowledge. A dredger appropriation, or a deficiency bill that has been fought in every session of the Legislature for years, receives his approval, but a bill that would not add one-fifth of one per cent to the State taxes for the maintenance of district fairs is killed by one fell stroke of his hold pen.

Two years ago we showed him up in his true colors and aroused considerable opposition among his friends thereby, but to-day, thanks to him and his pen, they are all thinking as we do, and hereafter they will agree that his name shall be "mud."

The Montana Races.

Owners of trotters and pacers will consult their own interests by reading carefully the conditions of the stakes offered by the Montana Circuit of 1897. The campaign will last fifty-four days, and purses and stakes to the amount of $150,000 will be divided. The advance list of stakes is very liberal in its conditions, as the full entry fee is only 5 per cent, and that is so divided that the heaviest payment is the starting fee. In the $1,500 stakes, the first payment is $10 on April 10th, or two-thirds of 1 per cent. The second is $15 on June 1st, or 1 per cent, while $50 is not required till the start. In the $1,000 stakes the payments are $10, $20 and $30. Owners can thus enter for a very small initial payment. Several of the stakes will be decided in mile heats, and in those, which are three in five, horses not winning a heat in three or making a dead heat, will be sent to the barn. The Anaconda meeting commences on June 26th and closes July 24th.

The Butte meetings begin on July 27 and concludes on Aug. 28. The stakes for the Anaconda meeting are as follows: The Mountain and Valley Stake of $1,500, for trotters eligible to the 2:12 class; the Montana Hotel Prize Stake of $1,500, for trotters of the 2:21 class; the China Silk Stakes of $1,000 is for three-year-old trotters. The Bitter Root Stake of $1,000, and the Oregon Stake of $1,000, are for pacers eligible to the 2:20 and the 2:35 classes. The Stakes for Butte include the Inter-Mountain Stake of $1,000, for the 2:17 trotting class; the Washington Stake, for the 2:27 class; the Green Stake, for the 2:40 class, and the Prospective Stake for three-year-old trotters and under, eligible to the 2:25 class; the Miners' Stake and the Bitter Root Stake are for pacers eligible to the 2:12 and 2:20 pacing classes, while the Apprentice Stake is for three-year old pacers and under, eligible to the 2:40 class. These stakes are all $1,000 each. There is also the Hot Corn Stake of $1,500 for pacers eligible to the 2:07 class.

In the division of the money the winner of a $1,500 stake gets as much as he would in a $1,000 purse, while in the $1,000 stakes he gets $700. In the $1,500 stakes the winner gets $1,000, the second $350 and the third $150, while in the $1,000 stakes the winner gets $700, the second $200 and the third $100. Under this system the winner gets a far larger share of the purse at a much less cost than under the regulation plan. At a later date a strong list of regular class purse races will be announced, so that owners of stables will have nine weeks' racing without any costs of shipment. Manager Tipton has never before, in his long and successful career as a trotting track manager, produced a series of stakes with such liberal conditions to horsemen. Last year the fields were small, and every horse that lasted through the circuit that had any pretensions to speed won money. For nine weeks there is practically no freight to pay. Owners who like to hack their horses will find a lively market, as speculation is almost unlimited. Every stake deserves to fill well.

Budd! Budder!! Buddhist!!!

Notwithstanding the surprising news that Governor jimbudd has vetoed the District Agricultural Fair Bill, which, as everyone knows, passed both houses almost unanimously, we have received numerous messages from breeders, saying: "We never had better prospects for better times in California. The horse interests never looked brighter and we will hold race meetings this year, Budd, or no Budd." The blow was a hard one to bear, but when we consider the condition of the thing who delivered it and the haste with which he wants to sneak out of the State, there is not much left to be wondered at. He can do no more harm. He never will be Governor again, that's certain, and it is a question if he could be elected pound-master. He might try to fill the position of a shyster in a police court or sell patent rheumatic medicine on the corner, which he is better fitted for, but to be Governor, or Senator, bah!

In the course of a few weeks we shall see what can be done towards getting up a good circuit in California.

The Coming Dog Show.

The greatest kennel show ever held in San Francisco will occupy Mechanics Pavilion May 19th to 22d, inclusive. There is every indication that it will be a success, for the directors are working night and day to create an interest in it. The preliminary announcement appears in this issue, and all people interested in dogs of every breed will be pleased to hear that the prizes offered will far surpass any heretofore given at any show in this city or State.

On the 8th of April, next Thursday, a number of royally bred horses, the property of W. O. B. Macdonough, will be sold at Killip & Co.'s salesyard, including the following: Charles LeBel, by St. Carlo—imported Maiden Belle (dam of imp. Santa Bella); St Philip (a winner), by St. Carlo or Ormonde—Bessie W.; Socialist, by St. Carlo—Anarchy; Count of Flanders, by St. Carlo—imp. Countess Lagden; Lord Marmion, by St. Carlo—Lady Marion; St. Cuthbert, by St. Carlo—Santa Cruz, by X. X.; Valencienne, by St. Carlo—Libertiflibbet, by Bullion; Tiger Lily, by St. Carlo—imp. Wendflower, by Peter, and ch c by imp. Sir Modred—Geneva. All of these are heavily engaged in stakes. A number of grand brood mares also to be disposed of, including Carrie M. (dam of Dancing Girl), by Hyder Ali; Charlotte (dam of Dinero), almost a full sister to the great Reform; Cousin Peggy (dam of the record-breaker, beautiful Geraldine); imp. Mary Anderson, by The Drummer—Dolly Varden; Franchise (mother of Suffrage), by Hindoo; Mother Hubbard (dam of the excellent steeplechaser, Esperance), by Rutherford; ch m, by Hanover—Bud, by Glen More and Smilax (a winner), by imp. Saxon (sire of Saxony and Commission.)

THE leading industry of California is the horse industry, but Gov. jimbudd thinks different, in his mind. It is secondary to a mud dredger. He signed a bill appropriating $300,000 of the people's money for one of these machines and refuses to sign a bill appropriating $58,000 a year to help the farmers and breeders, and encourage them to persevere in improving their stock. If he had not signed his favorite dredger bill there would be enough money in the State Treasury to keep the fairs up for five years. What a travesty on justice!

THE Coney Island Jockey Club intends to give a number of important and very valuable stakes for foals of 1897 to be run when the youngsters are three years old, entries to close July 15, 1897. The advertisement will appear in these columns soon, as many owners of foals will be anxious to make entries when they learn that the stake is worth $20,000 to the winner.

THE Appropriation Bill for the State Fair amounting to $35,000 was not overlooked by Gov. jimbudd; he signed it without any comment.

RIVERSIDE POLO CLUB.

The Ladies' Challenge Cup is Won for the Last Time.

The race for the above was run off at Riverside on March 26th at the Polo Club race track. This cup was presented by the ladies of Riverside in 1893, and was for ponies, one mile over six hurdles, a triple winner to keep the cup. On this occasion it was won by Mr. Waring for the third and last time, by the help of Santa Clara, the polo pony, who carried 152 pounds (including a ten pounds penalty for a previous win) in 2:13 1/2 on a track about five seconds slow. The track is nine-sixteenths of a mile, and the ponies, therefore, went nearly twice around.

There was an entry of five, and though there was hardly any betting, probably Lady Peach, with Mr. Bettner up, was a slight favorite. She was first over the first hurdle and went out with a good lead, pursued by Santa Clara, Salvacion and Nelly being well behind. At the first hurdle Red Jacket came down heavily, but Juan Fuentes made a great recovery, got on again, and though the others were an eighth of a mile or more away, went in pursuit and actually eventually came in second, the pony jumping well after his fall. As he came round to the stand the first time Fuentes was cheered by the spectators.

Lady Peach led to the fourth hurdle, where she began to compound, and at the fifth Santa Clara had her well beaten and came on fairly easily and won from that point. On the turn between the fifth and last hurdle Salvacion, who had been lagging behind, came at a tremendous pace passing Lady Peach. She made a fumble at the hurdle and fell. If she had stood up she would have won. Red Jacket jumped the last hurdle next and came in second, with Lady Peach a tired third. Mr. Langworthy rode an excellent race, and Santa Clara was the only one in the race that never touched a hurdle. Mr. Bettner also got his mount well over the course and it was not his fault that the mare could not stay. Juan Fuentes was the hero of the day with the crowd. Nelly was beaten off.

Our San Jose Letter.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 30, 1897.

Though Governor Budd is still withholding his valued signature from the Appropriation Bill, everybody in our town is expectant of its final passage, and the hopeful work of preparing the winners is going on full blast.

For the information of your many readers I will specify some of our most prominent stables, taking them in rotation, according to their numbers.

Ed Laferly, the well-known old-time reinsmen has Jaffe, 2:13½, the wonderful speedy horse of last year. Having thoroughly recovered from his mishap of the past season, it is safe to look to him as one of the winners.

Little Wow, 2:21½, is as small as ever, but the way she steps about, it will be worth while to watch her closely. Wand, a gelding three years old by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½, and Wanda, 2:14½. If blood tells, he ought to be good enough. A hay four-year-old gelding by Stamboul, 2:07½, the best that Mr. Laferly ever handled; he is sized and gaited something like Stam B, 2:11½. Rossie Moore, by Ross S., 2:19½, is very speedy and a green one at that. These comprise the "pick," yet the others show up so well that they will develop into game and speedy horses.

The Nutwood Stock Farm string, under the watchful eye of Wm. Cecil, of the Peter Jackson fame, comprises ten real good ones. Nutwood Wilkes 2:16½, heads the list, looking better than ever, the grand, game race horse that he is. Irvington Belle (two-year-old, record 2:23½) is now three-year-old and as speedy as ever. She has developed into a splendid individual. George B., a green one, has shown quarters as a yearling in 33 seconds. She is now three-year-old and has not been handled since her yearling form. Her speed is yet phenomenal.

W. J. Bryan, a three-year-old gelding, will be surely different from his namesake, for he is out for gold. Nothing else would satisfy a speedy youngster like him. They are all pacers. The trotters comprise Central Girl, a green mare, who was "around the ring" last season and promises well for the future. The baby trotter is a two-year-old colt called after the only "John A. McKerron" and is not alone a beauty in finish and style but—"you ought to see him move." The above five are all by Nutwood Wilkes 2:16½, and are creditable to this gamest of game sires.

Among the rest is Peter Jackson, as docile and quiet as ever but we advise his competitors to look to their laurels when he meets them. Two Soudan's 2:27½, are also green, but show speed enough to warrant the risk of a season's training.

The Veacome Stock Farm is third in order as far as numbers are concerned but when we look over the individuals they come very nearly leading all others here.

Boodle 2:12½ is at the head of this popular stable and never looked better in his life. Thanks to the original advertisement which was placed in your valuable paper, has brought him some excellent mares, the number daily increasing so that his book is about filled. His daughter, the great Ethel Downs, 2:13, is feeling and looking healthy and strong and will make her bow again this season before the public at the first "free for all" race. Our Boy 2:15 is improved wonderfully since last season and a mark of 2:07 or better is predicted for him.

Iran Alto 2:19½, as a three-year-old ought to be better than ever if looks go for anything; and a full year's rest is any assistance to a horse to increase his vitality. Being the favorite of the honorable Jas. W. Rea, whose luck is proverbial, we advise our friends to lay a pool or two on him the first time he starts. His service is private.

Lynette 2:22 trotting, the property of H. J. Agnew, is now set a pacing and has taken to the lateral gait quite handily. If her speed and gameness are as of yore she surely will be a hard one to beat.

Claudius 2:26½, as a three-year-old, by Nutwood Wilkes, is a race horse sure enough, as all others from the loins of this young sire are. This colt drove Palita, the Palo Alto filly, out in 2:16½ as a two-year-old. San Jose is expecting great things from him this season in his four-year-old form.

Spry Rub, a three-year-old by Boodle 2:12½, is a large filly, chestnut in color and very promising. Her dam is by Electioneer, and if that is not simon-pure breeding we would like to know what is. She is entered in the Futurity stake at Sacramento and Mr. C. F. Bunch, her trainer, is confident to win it hands down.

Bob Fitzsimmons, a three-year-old gelding, is also by the horse without a "but." Boodle 2:12½, out of a mare by Altamont 2:27½. In size he equals Azote 2:07½, and seems to possess all the gameness, toughness and cunning of his namesake and will be ready to deliver the punch over the heart to any and all of his opponents.

Dr. Frasse represents the "baby" of the barn. And for the nonce it is worth while to mention his "outré" breeding. Gold is not in it. Stars of the first magnitude outshine the golden edge of this youngster's pedigree. By Iran Alto 2:19½, who in turn is a son of Palo Alto 2:08½ and Elaine 2:20. He is out of Linda Oak by the mighty Guy Wilkes 2:15½; second dam Idrell by Nutwood 2:18½; third dam by George M. Patchen Jr. 2:27. This youngster moves like a race horse and ought to be one.

The Belmont Stock Farm has engaged twelve stalls and is under the management of Mr. Clarence Day, who proved himself a most competent driver last season. The string includes: Dictatus (better than ever), the horse that has gone halves in a minute ought to pick up a good deal of the appropriated State money; Dictessie (4), Decorous (3), Addicta (4), Dactatus (3) pacer, Daisy (3) pacer, all by Dictatus, the son of the mighty Red Wilkes; Blassiola (4), by Nutwood Wilkes, dam by Bay Rose, 2:20½; a full sister to Strathmont, 2:14, and another by Col. K. R., 2:21½, dam by Altimont; a three-year-old filly by Hanford Medium, 2:11½, dam by Altimont; and a two-year-old by Dictatus, out of Belle Medium, 2:20, dam of Stam B, 2:11½, which is all right. With such a large and royally-bred stable nothing but success awaits the Belmont Stock Farm. Mr. Day Jr. is quite capable to steer his ship over all the reefs and shoals which beset the conditioner and trainer of modern times.

The Green Meadow Stock Farm, the home of Hambletonian Wilkes, is under the watchful eye and competent care of that popular young trainer and owner, Mr. John Morehead. At the head of his stable is Meridian, 2:16½, whose looks bespeak an excellent wintering and vitality enough to down some of the knowing ones again whose money he burnt up while he was a 15 to 1 shot in the very first race he started in last year; Maude Murray (2), a trotter of very high quality and much promise. She is by Hambletonian Wilkes, out of Annabel, 2:27½, dam of La Belle, 2:16, as a two-year-old. She is entered both in the Stanford and Occident stakes, and if her way of going is any criterion to go by, she ought to take those easily and become a sensation of the season like her half-sister La Belle, 2:16, was.

Another two-year-old by the same sire out of a mare by Dashwood son of Nutwood and sire of the dam of Miss Jessie 2:14 and Jennie Mc 2:12. Mr. Morehead says she is a race-horse and no doubt.

Yet another two-year-old by Hambletonian Wilkes whose dam is by the Moor, grandsire of Stamboul 2:07½ and several others who, like the above are all green as yet but bred in the purple, ought to make it interesting to all who may compete with them.

The veteran trainer Mr. John Gordon has six in his string. Silver Arrow by Silver Bow 2:16 out of Lady Weeks by Nutwood 2:18½, the dam of Ethel Downs 2:13 and another one with a record of 2:29½. Great things are expected of this racehorse bred youngster. The bulldog tenacity of his ancestors will be to the fore when the bell taps for him.

Mount Hope by Sable Wilkes 2:18 out of a full sister to Chancellor 2:16. He is owned by the genial R. D. Fox of San Jose and Mr. Gordon expects him to heat old Chancellor's mark of 2:16 quiet bandily. F. W., a pacer who showed so much speed at the last year's Breeders spring meeting can he safely set down to obtain a very low mark this year.

"Johnny Mine," by Antinous, 2:28½, dam by Johnny B., by Nephew, sire of Beauty Mc, 2:14½, etc. Also a green mare by Memo, who is promising so well that Mr. Gordon thinks his time will not be wasted in preparing her for the coming campaign. Mr. Gordon expects a few more horses in a short time.

C. C. Crippen has two in the stable. One is a son of Leo Wilkes, 2:29½, who is a full brother to Sable Wilkes, 2:18, and a two-year-old by Will Direct, by Director, 2:17, out of a mare by Sable Wilkes, 2:18. This is a very fair youngster and so good that every time he moves many watches are sighted on him. His first dam was by Leo Wilkes, 2:28½, second dam by Whipple's Hambletonian, sire of the dam of Azote, 2:04½. Mr. Crippen expects two more good ones by the first of the month.

Mr. Cox has three in his barn who comprise a six-year-old by Boxwood, son of Nutwood, 2:18½, dam by Williamson's Belmont. He has trotted many miles close to 2:20 in his work, and Mr. Cox thinks there is no horse that has any license to beat him in a four-mile race.

A three-year-old by Antinous, 2:28½, dam by Speculation, a large, lusty colt who in size and conformation resembles John Beauty, 2:15½, a great deal, and much is expected of him. And the other is a Guy Wilkes colt, who is undergoing his preliminary preparation.

Mr. Goldsworthy has Mand Francis G., by Argent, that showed so much extreme speed last year. Her unsteadiness that she was handicapped with during the past campaign seems to have left her and she will be a dangerous rival in any class she may enter.

Child Harold by Sid Roy 2:24½, dam Mand Francis G., by Argent. In this youngster (a three-year-old) all the speed of creation seems to be bottled up. We advise the gentlemen who enter against him to look when Mr. Goldsworthy pulls the cork. It is funny to watch the countenance of Mr. Scott when Child Harold is "doing his quarters," for Mr. Scott is the proud owner of Sid Roy the sire of this colt. If predictions and expectations go for anything, San Jose will have the three-year-old pacing mare sure.

Mr. Scott also owns a two-year-old by Diablo 2:07½, out of the dam of Sid Roy. A beautiful youngster who is gaited very much like his sire.

The runners are very busy, Burns & Waterhouse having some twenty head under preparation for the Eastern races. Mr. Boots has some fifteen more also very busy and Mr. Cochran about eight. Mr. Orville Appleby has also quite a string.

With all the bustle and hustle of so many horses in active preparation, with the sun shining brightly, with hopes in the fresh air for the coming purses that everybody wants but only the chosen receive, the track here presents a scene of animation which is doubly noticeable after the long and weary stagnation in the horse business. May Governor Budd bury with that signature and thus make glad the heart of every horseman in the State.

Respectfully,
SAN JOSE.

ORO WILKES.

The Most Remarkable Trotting Stallion of His Age in America.

In looking through the records in search of facts regarding "Colt Trotters That Have Trained On," our attention was called to the wonderful performances of the handsome stallion Oro Wilkes, 2:11 now standing for service at the San Mateo Stock Farm. His individuality has been so often praised that it is almost needless to refer to it here, but his frictionless gait, his bull-dog courage, and his level head has established a fame for him in the East that is not equalled by any stallion standing for service there. A resume of his performances will form interesting reading to the lover of a good trotting horse, and, it will be noticed, he never in his three years' campaigning was "outside of the money."

As a two-year-old he won his first race in Chicago three minute class; purse $1,000 getting a record of 2:28½.

Second in the $5,000 stake at Independence beaten a nose in both heats by Silicon in 2:22½ and 2:20½.

Second to Antella in the $5,000 stake at Sturgis, Michigan, and winning the $1,000 stakes the following Saturday at the same meeting.

At St. Joseph, Missouri, he won the $1,500 purse in straight heats.

At Lexington, he got third money in the $1,000 purse being only beaten a neck in the second heat in 2:18½, in one of the hardest fought races ever seen on the turf. Three days after he came out in a stake race value $3,000 and got fourth money.

In all he started in seven races and won money in every one.

As a three-year-old, Oro Wilkes was taken East again by the late John A. Goldsmith, who idolized this race horse, and at Buffalo, New York, was second to Margrave in a race for a $2,000 purse. Time, 2:15½, 2:21½, 2:16½.

At Springfield, Mass., he won the $1,000 race, beating a field of four in straight heats. Time, 2:22½, 2:20½, 2:20.

In Philadelphia he had to trot five heats in the race for the 2:19 class to win. Time, 2:15½, 2:18½, 2:15½, 2:19, 2:17½.

At Boston, Mass., he won third money in a five-heat race, being only beaten a head in the sixth heat by Jay Hawker in 2:16.

At Fleetwood, New York, he achieved another victory, winning the $1,500 purse in 2:20, 2:18½, and 2:17½, straight heats.

At Lexington, Kentucky, October 7th, in that memorable representative stallion stake, valued at $25,000, he met Medio, The Conqueror, Georgia Lee, Baronmore, Avena, Wil-march, Madeline, Axle, Margrave and Mary Magdelene, and in one of the best-contested races ever seen in the Blue Grass region, captured the big race and stake. He was a close second to Medio in the first two heats in 2:14½ and 2:14½, and then won the last three in 2:15, 2:16½ and 2:17½, stamping him as one of the greatest and gamest three-year-olds ever seen on the circuit.

At the same meeting he came in second to Eoline for the $1,500 purse. Time, 2:16½ and 2:21. He finished his racing as a three-year-old, winning a $1,000 purse at Nashville in 2:16, 2:16 and 2:20.

As a three-year-old he started in eight races and won money in every one. His reputation as a game campaigner was acknowledged by every one who saw him.

As a four-year-old he was pitted against Azote, and in his first race for a $2,000 purse at Detroit, Mich., he was third to the great son of Whips in 2:09½, 2:12½.

At Cleveland, in the 2:15 class purse, $2,000, he was second to Azote again in 2:11½, 2:11 and 2:10.

At Buffalo he met Azote again in the $5,000 purse race, and got third money. Time, 2:10½, 2:11½, 2:10½, being a length behind the leader, Azote, in the first heat, and two lengths in the other two. There were thirteen contestants in this race. Azote being the oldest campaigner there.

At Chicago, in a race where there were fourteen starters; purse $3,000, he was second to Trevillian in 2:11½, 2:11½ and 2:13.

At Hartford he won a race purse, $1,000, in three straight heats in 2:13½, 2:15½, and 2:12½.

He defeated Azote at Terre Haute being second to Trevillian in 2:09½, 2:11, 2:10½, 2:09½. It was a horse race from start to finish and the purse was $5,000.

In the race for 2:14 class, purse $3,000, at New York, Oro Wilkes won third money, although he was a close second in the last four heats. In the first two heats, Miss Lida won, while Fanny Wilcox was fifth and third, and then having this rest, won the succeeding three. Time 2:13½, 2:12½, 2:13, 2:14½ and 2:14½. Track heavy.

His last race this year was at Philadelphia, which he won in straight heats in 2:16½, 2:19 and 2:16. By a singular coincidence he started only eight times in his four-year-old form, but he won money every time, never being further back than third place. He was retired from the turf after this hard three years' campaigning and riding thousands of miles in cars without a speck or a blemish on his clean, hard limbs, being absolutely perfect to-day in every way.

His oldest colts are now yearlings; four of the eight he sired were sold at Mr. Corbitt's sale in New York in February and the prices realized were 200 per cent more than the progeny of the same age from any sire. These youngsters could have been sold at a big advance at the same sale if they were offered again, they having size, style, conformation and speed such as was never witnessed before in Madison Square Garden.

This may be the best opportunity owners of mares may have to breed to Oro Wilkes, and it is hoped they will take advantage of it.

F. J. LEARY, Trainer Park Farm, Cranston, R. I., writes: I have given your Absorbine a thorough trial and think it a good thing to keep in training stables.

JNO. MATHEWS, Tuxedo Park N. Y., writes: The effect on puffy hock is very satisfactory. The great advantage of the Absorbine is that the animal can be kept at work.

ACCORDING to a private telegram received here Thursday, there will be no racing at Ideal Park this season, as a bill has passed which prohibits speculating. There is little chance for any racing in Illinois, either.

B. RUFF, T. Borns, Scherer, A. Barrett, Dorsey and Morse rode the most winners at the New Orleans meeting. Beanchamp, who made his start in this city, piloted thirteen winners and finished second nineteen times.

The Fly-Casting Contests at the Sportsmen's Exposition.

The indoor fly-casting tournament at the Sportsmen's Exposition in New York last week draw a large attendance of anglers, and the entries to the various events included the names of the most expert fly-casters in the East. The prizes offered in each of the different events were a gold, a silver and a bronze medal. The casting events took place during the afternoon and evening of each day, two events being on the programme for each day.

On Monday the conditions for the afternoon event—single-handed, long-distances, trout fly-casting—open to all who had never cast over 75 feet in any contest, were:

"The rod must not exceed eleven feet six inches in length. The leader must be of single gut and exceed nine feet in length. Straightforward and back casting only allowed. Only one fly shall be used."

In this event Wallace G. Levison won with a cast of 57 feet; Dr. H. O'Brien, second, cast 49 feet; J. Von Lengerke, third, 29 feet; Victor R. Grimwood, 25 feet.

The evening event was a contest for distance only, under the same conditions, but open to all who never had cast over 60 feet in any fly-casting contest. The scores were: Henry S Wells, 66 feet; C M Roof, 67 feet; Dr H O'Brien, 53 feet. W G Levison, 54 feet; W C Spencer, 52 feet. The evening judges were H C de Rham and D T Kennedy, and Dr S M Nash was referee. The afternoon judges were James L Breese and R C Leonard, referee, William C Harris.

Previous to this afternoon competition, F. Cooper Hewitt, the chairman of the fly-casting committee, made some trial casts in his usual vigorous manner, during which he cast the full length of the tank, about 100 feet, giving a fine exhibition of scientific angling for the benefit of tyros who cast in the events scheduled for that day.

The event the next afternoon, Tuesday, was for distance only, open to all who had never cast over 65 feet in any contest with a rod of 5 1/2 ounces or under. The judges were A. N. Cheney and G. P. Morosini. The referee was Thomas B. Stewart. The distances were, in feet: C G Levison, 74; Dr H O'Brien, 66; C M Roof, 68; N S Smith, 68 1/2; D T Kennedy, 61; D Brandreth, 65.

The evening competition was an open event under the same conditions and with the same weight rod, and the best contest of the week, so far, was seen. P. C. Hewitt was first, with a clean cast of 100 feet 5 1/2 inches; R C Leonard, second, with 100 feet 3 1/2 inches; Thomas B Mills, third, with 83 1/2 feet; Hiram Hawes, 78 feet. The judges were Thomas B Stewart and C M Roof, referee R B Lawrence.

On Wednesday, the event in the afternoon was bass fly-casting, for distance only, with leader exceeding six feet in length and No. 4 fly, open to all who had never cast 70 feet in any contest. The judges were A N Cheney and T B Stewart, and the referee, R C Leonard. E R Hewitt won at 79 feet; C H Mowry second, with 72 feet; D Brandreth, third, 68 feet 6 inches, and W C Spencer, 53 feet.

The contest in the evening was bass fly-casting and under the same conditions, but open to all comers. The judges were T B Stewart and H O Stanley, referee, C G Levison. R C Leonard won at 101 1/2 feet; P Cooper Hewitt, 95 feet; Thomas B Mills, 92 feet; H N Hawes, 98 feet 3 1/2 inches; E R Hewitt, 75 1/2 feet.

The contest of Thursday afternoon was single-handed trout fly-casting for accuracy only, with leader exceeding six feet in length, and had the largest entry of the week, the contestants being divided into two classes. A red target, floating on the surface of the water, was the mark. The contestants had each five trials. The distance at which the fly dropped from the mark in each cast was noted. The sum of all these distances in feet and inches was added together, and the total subtracted from 100, the one having the highest percentage winning. No accuracy can be relied upon in switch casting, so all the competitors tried the overhead style. For the first class the mark was placed at a distance of 65 feet, for the second class at 50 feet. William C Harris was the referee, and the judges W S Allerton and T B Stewart. The percentages were:

First Class—D T Kennedy, 93.5; R C Leonard, 92; H W Hawes, 91; E R Hewitt, 89.5; P Cooper Hewitt, 87; Thomas B Mills, 85.5; C G Levison, 83.5.

Second Class—D T Kennedy, 91.5; R C Leonard, 90.5; P C Hewitt, 90; C G Levison, 87.5; E R Hewitt, 87.5; D Brandreth, 89; W H Hammett, 85; H W Hawes, 81.5; C M Roof, 84.5.

Thursday evening the casting was long-distance, single-handed, any style of casting, single leader over six feet in length. The results were as follows: R C Leonard, 106 feet; T B Mills, 91 feet; D T Kennedy, 76 feet; C G Levison, 73 feet; C M Roof, 72 feet. The judges were R M Parrish and Dr S M Nash, referee, Alfred Chassand. Leonard's cast was incorrectly given by the scorer as 102 feet, 5 inches, but he cast the distance of 106 feet, and the judges allowed his claim.

On Friday a new feature was introduced in the shape of obstacle fly-casting, with a single leader over six feet in length, the first on record. In the afternoon the judges were T B Stewart and D T Kennedy, and R M Parrish was the referee. Distance only was counted. A horizontal bar 30 feet from the stand and 9 feet above the water was placed across the tank, under which the contestants had to throw the fly. The result was: Erskina R Hewitt, 75 feet; R C Leonard, 74 feet 9 inches; H Hawes, 69 feet 6 inches; P Cooper Hewitt, 69 feet; D Brandreth, 60 feet 6 inches.

Friday evening obstacle casting again was the programme. An account of the events says: It was a bold bluff at a reproduction of the obstacles that confront the trout fisherman at a brookside. Two hemlock trees stood up in the water, close to opposite sides of the tank, one thirty and one forty feet from the stand. The lower branches were about eighteen inches above the water, and overhung floating targets. The distances of the casts from the targets were added up in feet and inches, the contestant making the highest percentage winning. Each man had ten casts, five at thirty and five at forty feet. The averages in inches were: P C Hewitt, 36.9; H Hawes, 45 1/2; D Brandreth, 36.9; C M Roof, 24.9; E R Hewitt, 36; John T Landman, 37.8; R C Leonard, 39.3. C M Roof won the first award for accuracy. D Brandreth earned the highest honors for delicacy, although no award was offered. E R Hewitt was second for accuracy, and D Brandreth, third.

Two events were on the Saturday programme, switch-casting in the afternoon and long-distance casting, under the same conditions as Monday afternoon's event, in the evening. The former was won by R C Leonard, 91 1/2 feet; P C Hewitt, 90; C H Mowry, 62 1/2 feet.

The evening event was single-handed, long-distance trout fly-casting, the judges being R B Lawrence and Dr S M Nash, referee, John L Livingston. The result was as follows: R C Leonard, 105 feet 9 inches; H Hawes, 93 feet 6 inches; P C Hewitt, 95 feet 6 inches; T B Mills, 90 feet; J T Landman, 82 feet 6 inches; W S Smith, 78 feet. Mr Mills made the phenomenal cast of 110 feet 9 1/2 inches, but as his fly had been snapped off the judges could not allow the cast under the rules, and thus Mr Mills lost the honor which otherwise would have been his of making the record cast in the indoor tournament at the Sportsmen's Exposition of 1897.

A contest not on the programme was a press contest, straight back and forward cast with results as follows: Samuel Crane, 54 feet; H L Fitzpatrick, 45 feet; A F Aldridge, 43 feet; A S Williams, 40 feet, and J S Watson, 40 1/2 feet.

Mr R C Leonard carried off the highest honors in long-distance casting and switch casting and thus established records for indoor casting. But indoor fly-casting and out-door casting, where the caster may be retarded in his work by the wind, or perhaps aided by it, are different events, and the angling readers of the American Field know that President Mansfield of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club holds the outdoor record of 103 1/2, made at Stow Lake, Golden Gate Park, on March 14th. Previous to his cast another member of that club, Mr H C Golcher, held the outdoor record of 103 feet, made at the same lake last summer during the club contests.

This Chicago Fly Casting Club will give an open-to-the-world tournament the coming summer, and it is to be hoped the expert casters of the East, those of the Pacific Slope and the most skillful of Great Britain's fly casters will meet in Chicago and compete for the world's championship. The club can assure all comers of a hospitable welcome and the pleasure of casting upon an ideal sheet of water for the purpose of scientific angling.

Rather more than a year ago Mr. J. J. Hardy, of England (then the champion salmon fly-caster of the world), wrote me a letter, which I quoted in this journal, suggesting that the conditions under which fly-casting tournaments in England were held required to be changed materially to eliminate certain objectionable features, which we on this side characterize as fakes. He mentioned the black-leading of lines to prevent their sinking before they were recovered on the back cast, and that a fine and lighter line was spliced to and behind the casting line to enable the caster to shoot the casting line to a greater distance than if his line was all of the same size. At the time I said this was all new to casting tournaments on this side of the water. Particularly he mentioned that in the champion classes in England, in which rod-makers contested, rods were specially made for the contests, and were not such rods as were used in ordinary fishing. The tournament held in Madison Square Garden last week was the first fly-casting contest to be held in this country since I quoted from the letters of Messrs. Hardy and John Enright, the present world's champion salmon caster, and for the first time a black-leaded line was used in this country. It was, however, used but once, although the use of it was traceable to the information furnished by Mr. Hardy's letter, printed in Forest and Stream. As to the fine light line back of the casting line, it has never been used here to increase the length of the cast.

It is true that in some cases rods have been specially made for casting tournaments, but in other cases ordinary fishing rods have been used in making record casts. The special construction consists in making the rod stiff enough to lift the heavy line used in the tournaments. In one instance in the recent contest a "C" line was used on a 5 1/2 oz. rod, but usually a "D" line was used, whether the rod was 5 1/2, 7 or 10 oz. in weight. The rod used by Mr. Hawes in his record salmon cast of 138 feet at Central Park some years ago was an ordinary fishing rod with which Mr. Hawes has killed salmon before and since the tournament. The rod with which Mr. Leonard made his champion cast of 106 feet was a rod of 10 oz. 11 feet long. It has an independent handle of maple, which makes the rod a little heavier than it otherwise would be. The rod used by Mr. Cooper Hewitt in his cast of 100 ft. 5 1/2 in. was 10 ft. long and 5 1/2 oz. in weight. The cast was a switch cast. Mr. Leonard, who was second with an overhead cast of 100 ft. 3 1/2 in., used a rod of 10 ft., weighing 5 1/2 oz. In giving weights of rods it should be stated, for purposes of comparison, whether the rods had solid plates or not; but some of them had solid plates and some had real rings only. In a rod of about 5 1/2 oz. the solid real plate weighs 1 oz, more than the rings, and in heavier rods the difference is 2 oz. There were no rods used at the tournament, and I think I handled them all or nearly all, that could not be used in ordinary fishing, although some of them were stiffer than would be necessary if lines of smaller caliber were used on them, and the most of them were ordinary fishing rods made for fishing purposes only. To be sure, such rods were unduly strained when the heavy salmon lines were lifted again and again to be cast with all the power of the caster's arm, but I believe not a single rod was broken.

Any one reviewing the records found in this issue of Forest and Stream will notice that some wonderful casts were made and many records were smashed, and yet the reader may feel that there has been a falling off in form of some of the previous record makers. It must be remembered that this tournament was held early in the season, with little or no opportunity for practice, as the blistered hands of nearly every contestant testified, and it was held indoors for the first time under conditions which were novel. For instance, when Reuben Leonard was casting about 100 ft. overhead, his fly would strike the flags decorating the balcony boxes behind him on his back cast nearly every cast, and he told me that when he made his record cast of 106 ft. he felt his line going smoothly behind him, and concluded that his fly and leader had gone into one of the boxes. All the overhead casters had the same thing to contend with, and the switch casters had to contend with the spectators, who would get in the way and be caught in the loop of the line.

Hiram Hawes has used in all his previous tournaments, and in fishing, a slow tapered rod; but in the dead air of the Garden he could not get his fly out as he could if he had had a quick tapered rod. I noted his casting for him one day in practice and he cast 102 ft. as clean and neat as possible with a rod of 7 oz. On the other hand, Leonard always used a medium tapered rod, and he had no difficulty, as his records show, in getting out his line when there was nothing in the way behind him. It will be noticed that when it came to accurate casting around and under obstacles the long-distance men got a shade the worst of it.

Some of the cleanest, neatest casting done during the week was done in practice before the crowd gathered to almost lap over the edges of the tank. Mr. T. B. Mills' cast of 110 ft. 9 1/2 in. was a most wonderful performance, and it is a matter of regret that he should have lost his fly and failed to score his world-beating cast; but Mr. Leonard has cast 111 ft. in practice, overhead, with single-handed rod; and Mr. Cooper Hewitt has cast 112 ft. in practice, so that it need not be feared that record-breaking in fly-casting has come to an end, whether the next trial shall be made indoors or in the open air.

When the next indoors tournament does take place it is to be hoped that the rules will provide that switch-casting will not compete against overhead casting, for it is like matching a trotting horse against a side-wheeler; and make the classes for rod makers and tackle dealers separate from the classes for amateurs and fishermen pure and simple. In this latter suggestion I am glad to say one of our best-known tackle dealers, who as a fly-caster is very near the top, fully agrees with me. Fly-casting tournaments can be made very popular, as witness the attendance at the Garden, but give the club men and fishermen generally a chance to win without the risk of two or three champions walking all over them.—A. N. Cheney in Forest and Stream.

Barnhart Dayton of the Government fish hatchery on Redwood creek, this county, arrived at Eureka on March 26th, having in his care 150,000 eggs of steelhead salmon. One hundred thousand will be shipped to Oxford, Me., and the balance to Bozeman, Mont. Dayton reports that there are 600 hand at the hatchery 300,000 small salmon and 400,000 eggs.

For the information of our Eastern readers we wish to state that the black-leaded line with lighter silk line on the spindle is used by the San Francisco Fly Casting Club in its long distance contests. Mr. Cheney is mistaken.

The Woodland Democrat says: Fishing is good in the creek and pike are more plentiful than any other of the funny tribe. They are quite large. The catch of one weighing fifteen pounds was reported a few days ago.

The Saturday and Sunday meetings of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club were both postponed on account of rain.

Catfish are very plentiful in Butte Slough and the Colusa fisherman are having considerable sport with them.

Newton Nickels caught a 15-pound pike near Moore's dam in the vicinity of Woodland on the 19th ult.

The Empire Gun Club.

The regular semi-monthly shoot of the Empire Gun Club was held at Alameda Point on Sunday last. The wind blew half a gale and the scores were poor in consequence. The regular club match at 25 singles for the club medals resulted as follows:

Olympic Gun Club.

The first regular live bird shoot of the season of the Olympic Gun Club was held at Ingleside last Sunday. The wind blew half a gale and poor birds were good ones and good ones "screamers." Considering the high wind the scores were very good. Faudner, Peterson, Owens, H. C. Golcher and C. A. Haight killed twelve straight. Maskay's eighth, W. Golcher's sixth, "Edwards'" second, Sprague's tenth, Oxnard's sixth and Murphy's sixth fall dead out of bounds. The scores were as follows:

Reliance Gun Club.

The free for all matches at the Reliance Club on Sunday last brought out a very fair entry. The scores in the four events were as follows:

First Event—"Laka" 7, "Coffin" 7, "Ingalls" 8, "Trombone" 7, Olson 8, Young 2, McClure 6, Nanman 9, Webb 7, Klavarsahl 6, Dusing 6, Fendnar 8, Klevesahl 15, Bekeart 5.

Trap Shooting at Seattle.

The second medal shoot at the Seattle Rod and Gun Club took place at West Seattle on the 21st. The attendance was fair and the weather was fine, the traps worked in good shape, and consequently a good day's sport was enjoyed.

The feature of the day was the shooting of H. F. Norton, who won the handicap medal, after a most exciting contest. Mr. Norton was not half so pleased over the affair as his little daughter. Two weeks ago, when Mr. Norton returned from the shoot, she met him at the door and said: "Well, papa, did you win that medal?"

"No," replied Mr. Norton, "I did not come anywhere near it."

"Oh, papa," said the disappointed child, "you're no good." Yesterday afternoon when Mr. Norton went home with the handsome gold medal on his breast he was greeted with a perfect avalanche of caresses.

"Billy" Morton gave Norton a great chase, and wanted only one bird to tie. That one he could not get.

The pump gun men fell before their avowed foes, the double-barreled advocates, but the score was so close that the defeated party claims it was a "chance" bird. The next shoot will take place in two weeks, when the handicaps will be changed. The score of the Handicap Medal Shoot follows:

Monterey Wing Shooting Club.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—Owing to the inclemency of the weather the Monterey Wing Shooting Club has been unable to open the season's shoot until last Sunday, and then the day was very disagreeable, a cold north wind blowing very strongly. This accounts for the small number of shooters facing the traps. C. Carr made the best score, killing 21 out of a possible 25.

Now that the ball has been started rolling the Captain of the Club, F. R. Day, intends to thoroughly drill and practice the members of this club and expects to select a formidable team to compete for the prizes to be competed for at the annual tournament of the California Inanimata Targat Association to be held in May. The following is the score:

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

The True Sportsmen's Club is the name of a new organization at Vallejo.

Wild geese are very plentiful now at San Jacinto and Elsinora Lakes.

Some fine bags of wild pigeons were made near Wheatland the first of this week.

John Gerber won the Pelican Gun Club's shoot of the 21st with 17 out of 20 birds.

Twelve men killed 338 jack rabbits in one days hunting near Madara a couple of weeks ago.

Chas. M. Grimm has accepted John L. Winston's challenge to shoot 100 live birds and 100 live ducks.

C. W. Budd has challenged John L. Winston for the Du Pont Smokeless Powder Championship Trophy.

Wild geese are still plentiful at San Juan, and in the hills back of Pleasanton they have been more plentiful than for many years.

The best score at the last shoot of the Newcastle Wing Shooting Club's last regular weekly shoot was T. H. Mitchell's 20 out of 30.

The Marysville Gun Club are in evidence this year. E. B. Horning, J. A. Mabon and F. H. Greely have been making some excellent scores at wild pigeons.

Sacramento is to have mammoth pleasure grounds at Oak Park. Wm. H. Eckhardt has arranged for a trap shooting annex to the grounds and the riflemen will have a 250 yard range.

A gun club was formed in Haywards last week. Some of the members are: Frank Hoefling, L. Powell Jr., A. E. Fisher, C. Allen, B. Ross, L. Peterson, F. O'Neill, Geo. Obermuller, S. Simons, J. Obermuller, J. Rosa and Frank Trout.

The actual number of contestants in the Grand American Handicap was 139. The winner was Thomas Marshall, for twelve years mayor of Keithsburg, Ill. J. S. Fanning, the popular agent of Gold Dust powder, shot a good race but landed just outside the money.

The second tournament of the Eastern Interstate Association will be held at Baltimore, Md., on April 14-16. Electric traps and the Magantrap will be used, and the Rose system, four monays at the ratio of five, three and two to one. $450 will be added to the prizes.

The scores at the Stockton Gun Club's opening shoot on the 21st were as follows, at 20 birds: Lonjers 18, Winders 16, Nicol 15, W. Ditz 14, Condy 14, A. Blaine 13, G. Ditz 12, Pepper 12, Easy 12, Elmar 12, Ralph 11, Cruwn 11, Rex 10, Keys 10, White 10, Knight 10, Musto 9, Crana 9, Rich 9, Barnet 8, Tinkham 8, Lastilo 8, Bonetrom 8, Umlaut 6, Jackson 6, Bidwell 3, Gall 15. The second match was a twenty-bird handicap for a handsome sole leather guncase, which H. Lonjers won with a score of 18. There were several pool shoots, in which the honors were divided between Winders, Ralph, George Ditz and Lonjers.

The Grass Valley Union of the 23d contains the following item which should serve as a warning to the hoodlum hunter: John R. Oates and William H. Bigelow, who were arrested for hunting on the enclosed lands of another without first having obtained permission, were last night fined $20 each by Justice Paynter. The case came up in court last Saturday and both men plead guilty. The law on this point is very explicit, but it seems to be disregarded by hunters to a certain extent. The penalty attached for the violation of its provisions is very severe, and it behooves sportsmen to carefully read the following, taken from the Statutes of 1874-75, page 725:

Section 3.—Every person who wilfully enters upon the enclosed lands of another for the purpose of hunting, or who discharges fire-arms, or lights camp-fires thereon, without first having obtained permission of the owner or occupant of said land, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 6 provides that every person found guilty of any of the misdemeanors herein mentioned shall be fined not less than $20 nor more than $50, and shall be imprisoned in the county jail until such fine be satisfied, not exceeding one day for every two dollars thereof.

The San Francisco Show.

The premium list of the San Francisco Kennel Club's inaugural bench show will be issued either to-day or the first of the week. Cash prizes of $10, $5 and $2 will be given in the principle classes, and $5, $3 and diploma in the smaller classes. The handler showing the largest string will receive $25, second largest string, $10. The handler showing the largest string from outside of this State will receive $20, and the handler from this State outside of San Francisco and Alameda counties, $20.

There are twelve or more elegant silver cups that will be offered for the best California-bred specimens of the principle breeds, fifteen special gold medals valued at from $20 to $50 each, and the club offers gold medals for the best of breeds in all the larger classes, and silver medals for second best.

Field Trial classes will be provided in addition to the regular classes.

Entries close May 9th.
E. M. Oldham will superintend, and Spratt's Patent will bench and feed. This is the first time that Spratt's Patent has been used on this coast, and to say that it is a great improvement over the old form of benching is putting it mildly.

E. M. Oldham and Major J. M. Taylor of New York City and J. Otis Fellows have been secured as judges, and G. L. Waring of Riverside has been invited to judge fox-terriers. Mr. Oldham will judge spaniels, Maj. Taylor the sporting classes, J. Otis Fellows greyhounds and pugs. The other classes will be arranged later.

The office of the club is at 224 Montgomery, next to the Mills building. E. M. Oldham is expected on the 15th. D. J. Sinclair is clerk.

The cups that are allotted at present writing are: The Speckles cup to St. Bernards, the Shreve cup to the fox-terriers, the Crocker cup to spaniels, the Verona kennel cup to the best California-bred English setter, the Crocker cup (No. 2) to the best greyhound, the Heller cup to the best pug, the De Ruyter cup to the smallest dog in the show. There will also be a silver cup to the best Yorkshire terrier. Harman Oelrichs gives five gold medals, Jackson's Napa Soda gives one gold medal. Medals are also given by E. T. Allen & Co. and Clabrough, Golcher & Co.

Oakland Kennel Club.

The Oakland Kennel Club are booming their coming show and expect to get on the premium list to-day. The list will be a good one. Medals will be given in all classes. The judge will be decided upon this week, and the office will be opened shortly at 460 Ninth street, Oakland.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

Entries to the Oakland show close May 5th.

Tha entries at Chicago numbered 1192. Dogs banded 904.

Entries to the San Francisco Kennel Club's show close May 9th.

The catalogue of the San Francisco dog show will be a work of art.

If you have not offered a special prize at Oakland, now is the time to do so.

A big coursing park will soon be built at Anaconda, Mont. There are said to be 200 good greyhounds in Butta alone.

The Glenmore Kennels are to be moved to Oakland in a few days and Mr. Campbell is offering some grandly-bred puppies for sale by Pingsla Jr.—Lsdy Josia, Barrymore—Maid of Glenmore and Barrymore—Elchos Maid. Prices exceptionally low, to make room.

The winning of first prizes in the Challenge Class at San Jose by J. R. Martin's fox terrier bitch Golden Jewel gives her the necessary number of wins to the privilege of the title of champion. She is the first one of her breed produced on the Pacific Coast to be awarded that honor.

Even the Chinamen have entered their dogs in the Stockton show. W. L. Dudley Jr. has sent East for a pug. Wm. Dolan has purchased another new cocker and Oscar Groves has purchased a collie dog of Wm. Allen of Mulliken, Michigan. They will all be shown at the coming show.

The St. Bernard Club of California and a committee from the San Francisco Kennel Club met on Sunday last and all differences were adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned. The clubs met each other half-way, and by both yielding a point the bitterest quarrel on record in California was settled in twenty minutes. The St. Bernard Club is now in good standing with the A. K. C. and will show at San Francisco if the San Francisco Kennel Club lives up to its part of the contract.

The particulars of the St. Bernard Club of California-Pacific Advisory Board-American Kennel Club-San Francisco Kennel Club muddle that has kept the doggy world agog and the wires hot for the past ten days, would unquestionably interest our readers, but it would take a page of our space to explain it all, and possibly would only tend to stir up more strife. We will say, however, that the St. Bernard Club stood out for a principle and won. The San Francisco Kennel Club acted the part of gentlemanly sportsmen, and the Advisory Board comes out of the mess with fingers pretty well besmirched.

The San Jose Show.

SAN JOSE, March 31.—The inaugural bench show of the Santa Clara Valley Poultry and Kennel Club opened to-day at Turn Verein hall. The show is quite centrally located, the hall well lighted, well ventilated, beautifully decorated and exceedingly well arranged.

The entries number about 200 and the dogs benched 184. The quality of the dogs is equal to that of any entry of a like number ever seen in this State. Collies, St. Bernards and English setters are the largest and best classes. The display of collies is by far the best in quality ever shown on the Coast.

It rained heavily to-night, but the attendance was very good, and with fair weather the balance of the week the show is bound to be a success.

J. Otis Fellows judged all classes, and with very few exceptions he pleased both critics and exhibitors. The judging of the regular classes was, thanks to well-served rings, finished on the first night, for the first time in the history of California shows.

Mastiffs—Dogs: No entries. Open bitches: Mr D Garratt's Bess II, the winner, we have often described. She was beaten by Mrs J P Norman's Lola at Oakland, but this time "Uncle Dick" reversed their positions. Mrs Norman's Juan Montez, the novice winner, is a bit long in muzzle and lacking in depth below the eye, mask extended to crown, otherwise good. Stewart's Tudas, the novice bitch winner, is light in mask.

R C St Bernards—Thos H Browne's Ch Grand Master won at challenge class. He was in fine condition. Chas R Harker's Alta Barna, first in challenge bitches, is far and away the best bitch that ever came to California. She has a magnificent head, well marked and shaded, well-defined step, good length of muzzle, good depth below the eye, good eyes, good expression, nice-sized ears, well carried, fine body, good color and coat and excellent size, bone superb, but she is not straight, either before or behind, and a bit roach-backed.

Dr J M Taylor's Roxie Savage Taylor won first in open dogs. He has greatly improved in head, and filled out in chest, but is still light in loin and flat in ribs. Dr W R Cluness Jr's Reglov Jr, second, is the best pup of the year. He is better below the eye than Roxie, but needs filling out in skull. He is well marked, has good bone, coat, color and character. Age will improve him greatly. J Tourounet's Tell, third, a son of Hector of Hauenstein, is the biggest dog in the show. He has a nice type of head, massive skull, good muzzle, great depth of body and good bone. His feet are flat, and he is straight in stifles and lacks markings. Herbert Knillman's Reginald K., V H C, was outclassed.

The open bitches were also a good lot, the winner, Humboldt Kennel's Florence, is well known; she was shown in very good condition and was rightly placed. Miss Maye Taher's Victoria Alton, second, is also well known. C R Harker's Nellie Queen of Wasatch, ditto. E P Schell's Lady Bernardo, V H C, is better marked and shaded, but is flat in feet, long in muzzle and shown in bad condition.

Reglov Jr. had an easy win in Novice dogs. Humboldt Kennel's Bream, second, has a black mask, is shallow in body and his hocks are in bad shape. C R Harker's Golden Levin, third, is dish-faced and misshapen, but has good skull, good bone and coat and might well have been placed second. Mrs W G Alexander's Nero, V H C, was extremely lucky.

Chas R Harker's Golden Lady won in Novice bitches. She is rather small but is prettily marked; has good shading and good expression. Ears a bit large. Humboldt Kennel's Laura Alton, second, is a bit long in muzzle and lacking in stop but is very good in body and has fair bone. H D Corlette's Doris, third, is shallow in muzzle and light in bone; coat fair. She also won first in bitch puppies. C R Harker's Lady Winslow, V H C, is not a good one; much too light and snipey in muzzle.

J E Littrell's Orion, the winner in dog pups, is too young to judge. He lacks in stop and is peaked in skull at present. S C St Bernards—Chas R Harker's Ch Melrose, did not compete for regular or special prizes. His head is a study for the fanciers of smooth coats, well high perfect. He is otherwise in poor condition. F H Bushnell's La Prince Jr won in open and novice classes. He has improved greatly but is still long in muzzle and lacking in stop.

Collies—Verona Kennel's St Clair Laddie won in Challenge dogs. He seems to have grown coarser in head and was in poor condition of coat. In open dogs, the judge, in our estimation, made a great mistake. Mrs C H Jouett's Capsule first, is a catchy black and white dog with a most excellent coat, his head is fair, but might be longer to advantage, his skull is too full over the eyes, his ears are much too large and not well carried and he is much too light in bone and frail in appearance. Verona Kennel's Hadfield Don and O J Albee's Alto Clifton simply smother him in head, expression and ears. They are both stronger and more symmetrical in build and are inferior to him only in coat. Don, second, is too full in eye, and Alto Clifton third lacks undercoat. O J Albee's Major Welton reserve, is well known, Verona Kennel's Cregg, V H C, recently described, is rather short in head and carries one ear poorly. Beach Hill Kennel's Gold Dust II, equal third with Alto Clifton is a bit short in coat, but is much above the average. He has a good length of head, good expression and fair frill, but carries his tail too gaily and is a bit low on the leg. Fred Hess Jr's Highland Scot, V H C, is an undeveloped pup shown much too fat. He is a little short in face, but has nice ears and expression, the best of feet and legs, and the best coat in the whole class.

Beach Hill Kennel's Juanita won first in bitches, she has very good expression, good head and ears, and is a little short of coat.

O. J. Albee's Baby Due, second, has been often described. Her worst fault is too large eyes. Stewart & Son's Iris has a very fair head but is short of coat and a poor mover.

In Novice dogs, Capsule won with Gold Dust II, second, and J. C. Berret's Bonnie Duke and Beach Hill Kennel's Doe equal third. Doe is coarse in head and Duke has bad feet.

In Novice bitches the judge reversed his judgment by placing Iris first and Juanita second. Stewart & Son's Sheets, third, has a good length of head, but is short of coat and has flat feet.

O. J. Albee's Fly V H C is much too coarse in head.

Capsule won again in dog puppies with Highland Scot second and W. deB. Lopez's Ormskirk Jock third. Jock has the best head in the class, good ears and expression, but lacks coat. F. A. Campbell's Sandy, V H C, is much too large in ear and slopes off behind, the hips being much lower than the shoulders.

W deB Lopez's Ormskirk Jean won in bitch puppies. She is a sweet-faced bitch, neat in head, good ears and expression, but not as good in coat as her little sister. F Hess Jr's Lottie H second. The latter was shown too fat and showed poorly in the ring, but the winner is the better bitch.

English setters—S F Hughes' Silverplate was alone in challenge class, Countess Noble not competing.

In open dogs H. T. Payne's Count Harold won. He has little but his head to recommend him and that might be greatly improved upon. Geo W Tibbett's Charm won second. This is in our estimation the best bench show English setter dog that has been exhibited in California since 1890; best in head, body, legs, feet, carriage, style and character. H G Edward's Nimrod we all know is a grand field dog, but he is not a bench show dog. He has excellent body, legs and feet, but he is too large and coarse for a bench show winner and his head is not of the proper type, too coarse and too thick in skull. He should have been fourth and T J Fisher's Bird Catcher, V H C, should have been third. Bird Catcher has a very fair head, good body and good style and character.

H T Payne's Queen of Counts won in open bitch class. This is a very good one, nearly the equal of her dam Countess Noble. W M Fitzmaurice's Queen Bess has a domed skull and is light and snipey in muzzle, otherwise very good. W A Menefies' Queen M, first in Novice class, is a very neat little bitch, rather small but with good body, feet and legs, and fair head.

Irish setters—C M Barker's Chief Jr is a new face in these parts. He is a fine, upstanding dog, full of character and life, with good skull and profile, nice coat, color and condition, good feet, possibly a bit high on the leg and not sufficiently bent in stifle.

A B Truman's Mike T II and Geo B M Gray's Lad of Glenmore divided second. We could see no occasion for this. Mike T II should have been second, and Lad third. Lad is too leggy and not as good behind as Mike. M D Gerrett's Glenmore Sultan has fine coat and color, and good legs and feet, but is too coarse in head.

In bitches, Miss Ethel C Cregg's Queen of Kildare won over A B Truman's Lightning Maid. Queen showed splendidly. She is best in head and hind quarters. Maid is best in coat and color, but is light in second thighs and plenty high enough on the leg.

The comments on the balance of the classes, and the awards in full, will be published in our next week's issue.

Peace Among the Dog Men.

The dog fanciers of the city say their war is over. The St. Bernard Club, acting under an understanding with the San Francisco Kennel Club, held a special meeting Thursday evening and rescinded the objectionable resolution, which was to the effect that the club members would not exhibit their dogs at any bench show in San Francisco except that given by the Olympic Gun Club. On account of the resolution the St. Bernard Club was suspended on Saturday last by the American Kennel Club, but when war seemed inevitable a compromise was effected.

The St. Bernard Club was to rescind its resolution and the San Francisco Kennel Club was to influence the Pacific Advisory Board to rescind its resolution declaring the Olympic Gun Club to be "in disrepute and distrust." J. G. Barker of the San Francisco Kennel Club, who is persona grata to the St. Bernard Club, was to resign as director and member of the bench committee.

The St. Bernard men carried out their agreement. The San Francisco Kennel Club met Wednesday evening and passed a resolution to the effect that the resolution of the Pacific advisory board was misleading and not justified by facts, but they went no further. Barker handed in his resignation as director, but the club refused to accept it on account of the work he had done to build up the San Francisco Kennel Club.

The matter rests at this, and as on Tuesday last the Pacific advisory board lifted the suspension of the St. Bernard Club, all its members will exhibit at the coming bench show and especially at the show of the San Francisco Kennel Club on May 19 to 22d in this city.—Chronicle.

THERE are three bookmaking firms now transacting business here that we are reliably informed stand over $15,000 winner on the meeting, but these are the only ones with such balances on the right side of the ledger. H. Hoffman & Co. acknowledged being $30,000 to the good over two weeks ago, Frank Eckert is reported to have the best of it to the extent of at least $20,000 and Joe Rose & Co. are over $15,000 winner. George Rose little more than held his own, it is said, Abe Levy is a loser, also Johnny Coleman and Johnny Humphrey. Sam Summerfield is a hit ahead of the game, Elie Perles has won and lost and many could be mentioned that have turned their slates toward the wall.

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12½

ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M, 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING unexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12½, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable bull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

SIRE BY

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANOTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabert, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Maboe (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkline. Anteros is a full brother to Antero, 2:16½, Antero, 2:16½, etc., bel g by Electioneer, out of Columbine by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10½, Nelly F., 2:13¼, and several others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the McClellan 144 sired Dan Voorhees, 2:23¼, St. Helena, 2:27½, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:35½, etc. The sire of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times.

His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of handsome, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season at 1897 at my place, Hayward, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

INGLESIDE RACES.

Closing Days of a Very Eventful Meeting— The Various Races Carefully Described.

SEVENTY-FOURTH DAY—FRIDAY, APRIL 2.

An excellent card of races was provided yesterday, and the sport was interesting throughout. The track was what the talent terms "dead," though the sun shone cheerfully all day. Only a fair-sized audience was in attendance, but the betting was spirited and the bookies handled all the money they cared to. Salmera, daughter of Salvation and Chimera, led all the way in the first, and won by four lengths from La Maromr (Los Angeles' daughter), who ran out. Fort Augustus, as good as 50 to 1, took the second race in clever style, after making all the running. California was given the third on a foul and Suissun disqualified, and California in turn ought to have been disqualified for fouling Etta H. It was a good deal worse than California got from Suissun San Marco and Hazard had a regular duel in the fourth, running head and head for over half a mile, the former staggering in a winner by half a head. Wyoming, steadily improving, beat Caliente a length in the next. Caliente had started and won on the previous day, and it was asking a good deal of him to heat a horse that had made such a clinker as Preston stretch his neck a few days before. Vincitor ran around his field in the last and won a good race. Tulare was pace-maker clear around to the homestretch.

The opening event was a four-furlong race between ten two-year-olds. To a good start Salmera, fourth away, led by a length at the three quarters, La Maroma and Rosormonde heads apart, Lona Marie another length away. Shaw took no chances with Salmera, and riding her out, she won by four lengths, La Maroma (who ran out and finished near the judges' stand) second, a length from Torsida, who had improved her position steadily. Rosormonde was a poor fourth. Time, 0:50. Salmera was 4 to 5 (7 to 5 once), La Maroma 6 (played from 8), Torsida 6, Rosormonde 4, others 20 to 100 to 1.

In the second, a mile and a sixteenth for three-year-olds, Fort Augustus, third at the start, which was good, led Santa Clara half a length at the quarter, Don Clarencio third, two lengths off. At the half it was Fort Augustus first by a length, Santa Clara, Soniro and Don Clarencio lapped. At the three-quarters Fort Augustus, Don Clarencio and Soniro were running heads apart in the order named, two lengths from Personne, Fort Augustus came away in the last few yards like a race horse, winning by a length, Don Clarencio second, as far from Soniro, Personne a distant fourth. Time, 1:51½. Fort Augustus was at 40 to 1, Don Clarencio 3 to 5, Soniro 2 to 1, Personne 9, Philip H. 40 and Santa Clara 150 to 1.

The third race was at six furlongs. To a good send-off, Suissun went to the front early, leading California by a head at the half, Midlight four lengths off, David last and his rider taking it easy. Suissun and California ran heads apart into the homestretch, three lengths from Etta H., who was coming fast. Suissun swerved in a bit in the last furlong, but did not injure California's chances. Etta H. was cut off when she tried to come through, however. Suissun went on and won driving by a good head, California second, a length before Etta H. H. Martin, California's rider, claimed his mount to have been fouled by Suissun, and the judges, after questioning the riders, allowed the claim, placing California first, Etta H. second, Midlight third. Time, 1:15½. California was at 9 to 10 (7 to 5 once), Etta H. 7 to 1, Midlight 10, David 3 and Suissun 8 to 1.

The fourth was a mile selling race. San Marco, Hazard and Oakland ran in close order past the quarter. At the half San Marco was leading Hazard a neck. At the three-quarters it was San Marco and Hazard head and head, three lengths from Morte Fonse. San Marco and Hazard drove it out, the former winning by a short head, Hazard second, two lengths from Morte Fonse. Time, 1:44½. San Marco was at 11 to 10, Hazard 11 to 5, Morte Fonse 15 to 1, Oakland 4½, others 10 to 100.

The fifth was a seven-furlong selling affair. To a good send-off Midlo got to the fore in the first sixteenth and led Wyoming by about two lengths at the quarter and half, Caliente close up to Wyoming at the latter point. Midlo led Caliente a length at the three-quarters, Wyoming a head further away. Caliente assumed the lead half-way down the stretch, but tired and Wyoming won driving by a length. Caliente second, six lengths from Doyle, who beat Manchester two. Time, 1:29½. Ed Corrigan ran the winner up from $500 to $1,000 and secured him at the latter figure. Wyoming was at 4 to 1 (played from 6), Caliente 2 to 5, Doyle 80 to 1, others 10 to 40 to 1.

The last race was at a mile. A good send-off was effected. Minnie II led by a head at the quarter, Tulare second, a head from Roselle. Tulare then went to the fore, piloting his field around to the homestretch, first by a length. Vincitor gradually improved his position, and getting up to Tulare in the last furlong, won handily by a length, Tulare second, half a length before Horatio who finished strong. Time, 1:44½. Vincitor was at 9 to 5, Tulare 12, Horatio 4, St. Distaff 2, others 10 to 200.

SEVENTY-FIFTH DAY—SATURDAY, APRIL 3.

Fourteen two-year-olds came to the gate in the first, four and a half furlongs. After Outlay had cut up a lot he heat the gate by about four lengths and was eased up, Moringa getting up to his saddle at the three-quarters, Los Prietos third, a length off. Outlay was never headed and won easily by two lengths, Los Prietos, Miss Remsen and Moringa following in the order named, heads apart. Time, 0:58. Outlay was at 11 to 5, Los Prietos 3½ to 1, Miss Remsen 4½, others 12 to 400 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, Amelia Fonso broke in front, running, and Torredo, Perhaps and Mike Rice were left. Amelia Fonso led Montallade by half a length past the half and three-quarter poles, Miss Ross at their heels. Montallade drew up on even terms with Amelia Fonso the last sixteenth, and out-gaming her, won by a neck. Willie Martin, on Amelia Fonso, seeing he was beaten, gave the mare a quick yank in the last twenty yards, a trick threadbare and so ancient that people wondered at his having the nerve to attempt it. Both jockeys were called to the stand and, to the disgust of about all those not having tickets on Amelia Fonso, the race was given to the latter, Montallade disqualified. Miss Ross placed second and Coda third. The time was 1:16½. Amelia Fonso was at 6 to 5, Miss Ross 3 to 1, Coda 25, Perhaps 6, others 10 to 100. People marveled at the action of the officials, and the general consensus of opinion was that it was dead wrong. It is our idea that not only should Amelia Fonso not have been given the race, but Willie Martin ought to have been fined about $250 for his "cheeky" claim of foul.

In the third Chenille broke in front and was not headed. She led by three lengths at the half and the same distance into the homestretch. She ran out the last sixteenth, and careening against Pat Murphy, carried the roan gelding out, finally beating him a head, Manchester third, lapped on Murphy, Lizzie H. fourth, six lengths off. Time, 1:15½. Hennessy, rider of Murphy, claimed a foul, but it was not allowed. Chenille was at 6 to 1 (8 once), Pat Murphy 12, Manchester 25, Lizzie H. 7 to 5, others 6 to 50 to 1.

The much-talked-of $5,000 California Derby came next. Nine lined up, after a delay of less than two minutes were dispatched to a start about which no fault could be found. Scarborough showed first. Joe Ullman, on the outside, and fighting for his head, led by a very small margin past the stand, Scarf Pin, Candelaria and Good Times following, saddle-skirts separating each. Cash Sloan now took Joe Ullman back and his brother sent Scarf Pin along. The filly's head and shoulders were in front at the quarter, Candelaria second, Good Times at his saddle. There was no change worth noting in the run of the next quarter or to the half-mile mark. There was a quickening of pace now, and the race was on in dead earnest. Scarborough, fourth, was cut loose, and was surely making great headway. Shouts went up for the son of El Rio Rey ere the three-quarter pole was reached. At that point Scarf Pin's head just showed in the lead, Scarborough was second, and Good Times, being ridden hard, was third, a length away, with Howard S. at his saddle, he lapped by Candelaria. As they straightened in the homestretch it was apparent that Good Times was not equal to the task, and Willie Martin eased the colt up half way down, and Howard S., who had gone the overland, soon thereafter threw out signals of distress. Altamex began moving through the hunch behind when less than a furlong from home, but the race had narrowed down to the pair that were running so close together in front (Scarborough and Scarf Pin), for the former had headed Springhok's daughter. Tod Sloan was reserving Scarf Pin for that final rush which he hoped would land for his employer the large portion of the $5,000 stake. But Scarborough, strapping son of race horse among race horses, had some speed in reserve too, and a jockey bestrode him that was possessed of a level head in which lurked no foolish notions of drawing finishes fine. So, while Scarf Pin came again as gamely as any one could expect, Scarborough, long-striding giant that he is, lapped out to win by a head amid great excitement. Four length away was Altamex, with Howard S., at his saddle, and three lengths further off was Lincoln, followed by Candelaria, Good Times, Vincitor and Joe Ullman, in the order named. Time, 2:11½. From a time standpoint the race was not a good one, but the track had been deeply harrowed and a strong wind was prevalent. The showing of both Howard S. and Good Times was both surprising and very disappointing. Coady rode a good race on the winner, and the victory was a rather popular one, for the crowd that attends on Saturdays and holidays likes long shots. To Tommy Lottridge a great amount of credit is due, for he trained the animals that were out in front fighting for the coin at the finish. The superior condition they showed attests his ability as a trainer more than any words of tongue or pen.

Scarborough, named after the town in Yorkshire, England, where Jack Atkin first saw the light, is a bay colt standing over sixteen hands, and was purchased by Jack Atkin as a yearling at the Winters sale of 1895, the price paid being $800. The writer thought him the best-looking youngster at that sale and tried to get a friend to buy him. He is bred in "staying" lines, his sire, El Rio Rey, being an own brother to Emperor of Norfolk, winner of the American Derby, from a mare by Fonso, winner of the Kentucky Derby. Norfolk, sire of El Rio Rey, won the Jersey Derby in 1864, hence it will be observed that Scarborough comes from a family of Derby-winners. His pedigree is as follows:

SCARBOROUGH b c	Norfolk (never beaten).....	(Lexington, by Boston
	(Jersey Derby)	Novice, by imp. Glencoe
	El Rio Rey	(Malcolm, by imp. Bonnie Scotland
	Marion.....	(Maggie Mitchell, by imp. Yorkshire
	(Dam of 11 winners)	(King Alfonso, by imp. Phaeton
	Fonsetta	(Imp. Weatherwitch, by Weatherbit
Fonsetta	Fonso.....	(Leaps, by imp. Leamington
	(Kentucky Derby)	(Shelah, by Red Eye (by Boston)
	Laura T.....

Fourth dam, Sympathy by imp. Scytbian; fifth dam, Prunella, by imp. Glencoe; sixth dam by imp. Hedgewood; seventh dam by Bertrand; eighth dam by Cherokee; ninth dam by Bellair; tenth dam by Jackson's Pacolet.

The fifth was a mile and a half hurdle race. Hyman and Brilliant alternated in the lead for a mile and a quarter, then Tuxedo (who could not head a prize-winning pig at a fat stock show last Saturday, when an odds-on favorite), came on and won driving by a head from Arundel, who beat J. O. C. fifteen lengths. Time, 2:52½. Tuxedo was at 7 to 1 to-day (4 to 5 last Saturday), Arundel 2 to 1, J. O. C. 7, Hyman 4, others 8 to 30 to 1. We commented on Tuxedo's queer run of last Saturday, and his somersault this afternoon, when the odds were good, shows plainly that he can run well if the price offered suits those that control him. If the Ingleside officials can stand this sort of thing the public cannot, and the chances are, if put to a vote, there would be an overwhelming majority against ever having another jumping race in California.

The last race was a gift to Salvahle, who led throughout and won galloping by half a length from the driven-out Treachery, who beat Leonville four lengths. Time, 1:30½. Salvahle was at 1 to 6, Treachery 5 to 1, Leonville 50, and Joe K. 80 to 1.

OAKLAND RACES.

An Increase in Attendance at the Emeryville Track—How the Races Were Run.

SIXTY-FOURTH DAY—MONDAY, APRIL 5.

A good card of races and a fast track had the effect of drawing a crowd of about 2,000 to Oakland track this afternoon. The racing was excellent, from a time standpoint, and in the last the people witnessed the running of a dead heat between Dunhoy and Lost Girl. The sensation of the afternoon was Devault's win of the fifth event at odds of 15 to 1, with Del Paso, a 100 to 1 shot, in the place. Buckwa took up 109 lbs. and ran a mile and an eighth in 1:54, eased up, and the general opinion was that he could have the route at least a second faster. Favorites won four races and one ran a dead heat in another. The remaining races were taken by horses at 4 to 1 and 15 to 1. H. Martin rode two winners, E. Jones, Clawson, Hennessy, J. Shields and W. Martin one apiece.

In the first race, for three-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, Receive was withdrawn at the last moment and the horses were dispatched to a good start. Elsie Smith at once went to the front, and Reel showed second for a few seconds. Elsie Smith led Grandezia by three lengths past the half and two into the homestretch, winning with ease by two lengths, Grandezia second, one and a half lengths before Cavallo, who beat the interfered with Reel a head. Time, 1:09. Elsie Smith was at 4 to 5 (even once), Grandezia 9, Cavallo 4, Reel 7, others 15 to 100 to 1.

After one recall in the second, a mile selling race, Osric got away in the lead, but was passed by Apto when a quarter had been run, the filly leading by eight lengths at the half, Osric second, three from Charlemagne. Nearing the three quarters, Osric and Don Clarencio passed Apto and ran in close order for a furlong. Don Clarencio then drew away and won handily by three lengths, Osric second, half a dozen lengths before Charlemagne. Time, 1:42. Don Clarencio was at 4 to 1, Osric 11, 7 to 10, Charlemagne 20 (played from 50), Arnette 8, others 20 to 100 to 1.

In the two-year old race, half a mile, they got a good start, and Hermoso opened up three lengths of daylight on Michael, leading by nearly that distance into the homestretch, where Michael, going to the inner rails, drew up on nearly level terms. Hermoso drew away once more, but Michael came again, and Hermoso won ridden out by one and a half lengths, Michael second, with Bliss Rucker at his saddle. Time, 0:49. Hermoso was at 6 to 5 (8 to 5 once), Michael 8 to 1, Bliss Rucker 8, the Baldwin pair (Juan del Rio and Rey Salazar) 2 to 1, Imperious 7, Royal Nan 40 and Hertha 100 to 1.

The Pacific Union Stakes, selling, mile and a furlong, came fourth. To a good start the Roman showed first for a few moments, but Buckwa led past the stand by half a length, Damien second. At the quarter Buckwa was three lengths from Damien, at the half he was four lengths to the good, The Roman second, a neck before Damien. Buckwa led The Roman by half a dozen lengths into the homestretch and won easily by four lengths, The Roman second, handily, as far from Damien, who beat Salisbury a dozen or more. Time, 1:54—first mile in 1:40. Buckwa was at 3 to 5, The Roman 6 to 1, Damien 13 to 5, Salisbury 150 to 1.

A mile and a sixteenth selling race came next. To a fair start Little Scot led by a couple of lengths past the quarter and half, Una Colorado second and Devault third. Una Colorado soon thereafter got to the fore, and led into the homestretch by over a length. He looked like a winner up to the last sixteenth, but Devault outgamed him and won by a length, Del Paso coming great guns and beating Una Colorado a head for place right on the post. Time, 1:49. Devault was at 15 to 1, Del Paso 100 to 1, Una Colorado 8 to 5, Peter II 4 to 1, Doyle 4, others 10 to 100 to 1.

In the sixth, seven furlongs, Torsina led around to the homestretch, with Suisun second most of the way and David next. Preston, last on the backstretch, gradually improved his position, and coming on the outside, won cleverly by a length, Torsina second, a head before the fast-comer Wheel of Fortune. Time, 1:28. Preston was at 6 to 5 (as good as 9 to 5), Torsina 6 (played from 8), Wheel of Fortune 8 David 4, Suisun 3, and Parthemus 15 to 1.

The seventh and last race was for three-year-olds, five and one-half furlongs, and resulted in a dead heat. Scotch Rose soon shot to the fore and led around to the homestretch by two lengths. In the final furlong she was passed by Lost Girl, who appeared to be winning. Dunboy, the favorite, came like a flash, however, and made it a dead heat, Scotch Rose third, a length away. Time, 1:09. The purse was divided. Dunboy was at 8 to 5, Lost Girl 10 to 1, Scotch Rose 8 to 5, others 10 to 500 to 1.

SIXTY-FIFTH DAY—TUESDAY, APRIL 6.

In the first, three and a half furlongs, to a fair start, Iron Heels flew to the fore and led by three lengths to the three-quarters, Allie Bell second and Andrea third. Melville Burnham came like a shot out of the bunch a sixteenth from home and won cleverly by half a length, Allie Bell second, three lengths from the stopping Iron Heels. Time, 0:44. Melville Burnham was at 5 to 1, Allie Bell 15, Iron Heels 10, Andrea 3, Tom Spencer 6, Morinel 7, others 10 to 50 to 1.

The second race was at six furlongs, selling. Perhaps and Midas ran close together past the half and three quarters, Favory looming up third at the latter point. La Mascota came very fast from the rear, but Midas won by a scant neck, La Mascota second, one-half length before Favory, third. Time, 1:17. Midas was at 5 to 1, La Mascota 3, Favory 30, others 15 to 100 to 1.

The third race was at a mile, for three-year-olds. To a fair send-off, except for Nehula, Alma got to the fore, leading Greyhurst a length passing the quarter. At the half Greyhurst's gray head bobbed in front of Alma's, and Bernardillo was coming like a shot. Bernardillo led by over a length at the three-quarters, and by three lengths in the homestretch, winning easily by three and a half lengths, Greyhurst second, six lengths from St. Distaff. Time, 1:44—a poor race. Bernardillo was at 4 to 1, Greyhurst 3 to 5, St. Distaff 12, others 7 to 60 to 1.

The fourth race brought seventeen two-year-olds to the post to run three and a half furlongs. Rosormonde, Jim Brownell, Front de Bouf was the order to a good start. Rosormonde led into the homestretch by two lengths, Front de Bouf second, three from Jim Brownell, he four from San Durango. Though Front de Bouf ran gamely, the best he could do was finish second, a length behind Rosormonde, San Durango third, six lengths off. Time, 0:43. Rosormonde was at 2 to 1 (played from 4), Front de Bouf 5, San Durango 20, others 5 to 60 to 1.

The fifth was at seven furlongs, selling. After they had broken the barrier twice and had one recall they got a rather straggling start. Alvarado, off in the middle of the bunch and running, got to the front when they had run a little over a furlong, and leading past the half by half a dozen lengths and into the homestretch by eight, won by four lengths easily, Cabrillo (second all the way) in the place, eight lengths before Kowalsky, Perseus a poor fourth, whipped out. Time, 1:30. Alvarado was at 3 to 1, Cabrillo 2 (16 to 5 once), Kowalsky 60, Perseus 8 to 5, others 20 to 250 to 1.

The last race was at six furlongs, for three-year-olds, and had sixteen starters. To an excellent start Chappie, third away, shot to the fore, leading Altanera half a length past the half, Lena at the heels of the Baldwin filly. Altanera passed Chappie when three furlongs from home and led by a length into the homestretch, Lena third, two lengths further away, three in front of Ingleside. Altanera looked an easy winner half way down the homestretch, but Lena came fast and gamely, Altanera just lasting out to beater a head, Ingleside third, five lengths away, lapped by Chappie. Time, 1:17. Altanera was at 2 to 1, Lena 5, Ingleside 50 (100 once), Yerba Bueno 5 (backed from 12), Widow Jones 6, others 8 to 100 to 1.

SIXTY-SIXTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7.

In the first, six furlongs, Monitor and Thelma showed first and second. Monitor led past the half by three lengths, Dr. McAllister and Nervoso close together, Thelma three lengths further away. Dr. McAllister led by a head at the three-quarters, Monitor second, Perhaps third. Dr. McAllister assumed quite a lead in the homestretch, but Little Scot and Nervoso came very fast, the trio finishing short heads apart, Dr. McAllister first, Nervoso second, Little Scot third. Thelma was a poor fourth. Time, 1:16. Dr. McAllister was at 6 to 1, Nervoso 10, Little Scot 8, Thelma and Sea Spray 4, others 10 to 50.

The second race was at half a mile, for two-year-olds. After a long delay and a breakage in the barrier they got off to a fair start for all but Ray Heath. Duke of York, off first, fell back like a house afire, Bliss Rucker leading into the homestretch by two lengths, Hertha second, lapped by Flushington. Torsida came like a shot from the rear in the homestretch, but could not catch Bliss Rucker, who won handily by half a length, Torsida second, three lengths from Flushington. Time, 0:49. Bliss Rucker was at 13 to 5, Torsida 4 (played from 7), Flushington 3 to 2, Dick 7, others 30 to 100.

A six-furlong selling race came next. To a fair start Pat Murphy soon showed in front and led Toano for about a sixteenth. Madrone ran up very fast and led by a head past the half, Pat Murphy second, a neck from Toano. Pat Murphy led Madrone over a length into the homestretch. He began to stop badly and Mohalasca, bounding alog, passed one after another, getting up in the last stride and winning by a short head in the last stride, Pat Murphy second, three lengths from Addie Buchanan, third. Time, 1:15. Mohalasca was at 5 to 1, Pat Murphy 9 to 10, Addie Buchanan 8 to 1, Toano 6, others 15 to 200 to 1.

The General Arthur Cigar Stakes, for two-year-olds, came fourth. The stake was of a value of $1,250, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. They were off to a fair start, Miss Rowena showing first, Gypceiver next, Michael third. At the three quarters Miss Rowena was first by three lengths, Gypceiver second, lapped by Michael, at whose heels came Recreation. Miss Rowena was done for over a sixteenth from home, and Michael shot by her, looking all over a winner. Thorpe then set to work with Recreation, and she responded in gallant style, winning in the last stride by a nose, Michael second, three lengths from Gypceiver. Time, 0:55—a great race with 120 lbs. up. Recreation and Miss Rowena (coupled) were at 3 to 5, Michael 7 to 1, Gypceiver 16 to 5, Imperious 20 and Roxey Murphy 30 to 1.

In the mile and a furlong the got away to a good start, and Mamie R. ran into the lead at once, being a length in front at the quarter, Del Paso, Ike L. and Treachery following heads apart. At the half it was Mamie R. and Del Paso lapped, Treachery two lengths off, heading a bunch. Del Paso led in the homestretch by over a length, but Treachery came gamely, getting up and winning by half a length, Del Paso second, three lengths before Peter II., who had been interfered with. Time, 1:53. Treachery was at 13 to 10, Del Paso 17 to 10 (backed from 3 to 1), Peter II. 5, others 15 to 100 to 1.

The last race was at seven furlongs, for three-year-olds. Osric and Suisun ran head and head in front clear into the homestretch, where Tulare was third, three lengths off. Suisun had Osric beaten when about a sixteenth from home, but Tulare came with a great burst of speed at the finish, winning cleverly by a neck, Suisun second, as far from Osric. Time, 1:28. Tulare was at 25 to 1, Suisun 7 to 5, Osric 4 to 5, Soniro 30, others 100 to 1. Pat Dunne ran up the winner $400, getting him at $800.

SIXTY-NINTH DAY—THURSDAY, APRIL 8.

In the first, six furlongs, there was a delay of about twenty-five minutes, and the barrier was broken into smithereens. Finally a fair start was effected, and Billy Ayers showed momentarily in the lead. Peril and Veragua ran lapped past the half, three lengths in front of a bunch. Peril drew away gradually and led by two lengths into the homestretch, Veragua second, Gold Bug a good third. Peril was not headed, winning driven out by a length from the fast-comer Veragua, who was four from Logan. Time, 1:16. Peril was 4 to 1, Veragua 8, Logan 8 to 5, others 4 to 60 to 1.

The second race was at six furlongs, selling. To a good start Gutta Percha got quickly to the fore, made all the running, and won handily by one and a half lengths from Trappean, who came fast the last part of it. Nehula was third, also finishing strong. She was lapped on Trappean. Lost Girl showed some speed for about half a mile. Time, 1:16—a poor race. Gutta Percha was at 15 to 1, Trappean 4 (backed from 8), Nehula 15, Col. Wheeler 3 to 2, Lost Girl 3, Montalide 4, others 50 to 80. Col. Wheeler ran a bad race. He recently forced Applause to run in 1:14, but was beaten off in 1:16 to-day. The excuse made by Jones, the Colonel's rider, was that he was hit in the eye with a small stone and pulled up.

The third, half a mile, brought eleven to the post. To a good start Midgen was first to show, then Irritator, but Front de Bouf ran rings around his field, and passing Irritator in the homestretch, won handily by four lengths, Elsmore second, as far from Rey Salazar. The rest were not in it. Time, 0:50. Front de Bouf was at 9 to 10 (evens once), Elsmore 8, Rey Salazar 3, others 12 to 100 to 1.

In the fourth, seven furlongs, Sallie Cluquot got the best of a poor start and was never headed, winning off by three lengths, Redskin second half a length from the fast coming Lady Diamond. Imp. Disparity ran second around to the homestretch. Time, 1:29—a poor race. Sallie Cluquot was at 3 to 1 (4 once), Redskin 8 to 5, Lady Diamond 11 to 5 others 12 to 200 to 1.

In the fifth, one mile, after breaking the barrier they got away to a good start. Cabrillo, led by half a length at the quarter, by a length at the half, May R. second, lapped by Grandezia. Cabrillo drew ahead still further in the next quarter, leading into the homestretch by two lengths, May

R. and Grandezia heads apart, Devault fourth (he had been in that position all the way). Don Clarencio was cut loose at the head of the homestretch, and cut off a couple of times, was a fast-comer second to Cabrillo at the finish, May R. third, two lengths off, and a head before Dovy. Cabrillo was at 7 to 10 (backed from evens), Don Clarencio 4 to 1 (2 at opening), May R. 40, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The last race of the day was at six furlongs, for three-year-old fillies. An excellent start was effected, and Shasta Water led by a head passing the half, Chenille, Fanny S. and Etta H. saddle skirts apart. There was no change worth mentioning in the run to the homestretch. Here Etta H. moved up second, and taking command in the last sixteenth, won handily by a scant length from Shasta Water, who beat Midnight half a dozen lengths. Snider rode a well-judged race on Etta H. The time was 1:15 flat. Etta H. was at 4 to 5 (8 to 5 once), Shasta Water 4 to 1, Midnight 2, Chenille 10, others 300 to 1000 to 1.

Our New York Letter.

NEW YORK, April 3, 1897.

The Coney Island Jockey Club announces an Annual Champion stake of $25,000, beginning in 1900.

Very much anxiety is manifested East in regard to Mr. Spreckels' resignation. It is to be hoped he will not sever his connection with home interests for a very long period.

John F. Purdy, so long identified with the race track, died on the 29th. He was at one time a partner of D. D. Withers, and owned the famous Kentucky when he was a two-year-old. His father rode Eclipse against Henry in the great four-mile heat race on Long Island in 1823. Eclipse represented the North, and Henry the South. Eclipse lost the first heat and the crowd demanded a change of rider. Samuel Purdy was substituted and won the race. Mr. John F. Purdy was 88 years old.

The outlook for trotting East and West is more encouraging than in years before. There is no doubt that this fall's meeting at Fleetwood will be the end of that historical race ground. They give a spring meeting. Over four hundred horses have been named for the meeting this fall.

The Palo Alto Farm stock looked in fine condition at the sale, and, as a consequence, brought good prices.

Queen's county is going to have a horse show May 21 and 22. The proceeds go to the Nassau Hospital.

A cab owned and driven by Miss Lillian Russell, a few years ago, was sold yesterday for $60 to a peddler.

A "motor cab" company has been incorporated and has commenced business in this city. According to the ethics which prevail in the circles of the trades people, I presume the lively stables should burn up these encroachments on their business.

The Charter Oak Park, Hartford, offered $6,000 for a race between Gentry and Star Pointer. The following table is of interest to horsemen:

1892—Horses exported	3,226;	value	$611,188.
1893—Horses exported	2,967;	value	$718,607.
1894—Horses exported	5,244;	value	$1,08,995.
1895—Horses exported	13,984;	value	$2,209,298.
1896—Horses exported	25,126;	value	$3,530,703.

The claim that the late Nelson Wheatcroft had another family in England at the time of his death created profound surprise here, as he was regarded a model man in that respect. The case appears clear, although the American wife, Adeline Stanhope, refuses to believe or recognize it. She was granted letters testamentary March 13, at which time she swore that her husband died intestate.

Henry E. Dickey who has been playing the leading role in "Gayest Manhattan" at Koster & Bial's, gave a rather remarkable performance on Wednesday evening. His first entrance was a very unsteady one, and he executed some very peculiar rotary movements that would hardly pass for a dance. After becoming stationary he sang a song, that is in his mind, as it was not audible to the audience, after which he wandered from the stage and was not seen again on the stage. It is useless to add he was not applauded by his many admirers present. It appears he was quite a large winner on the late Corbett-Fitzsimmons battle, and has been celebrating the victory ever since.

Judgment for $395 has been obtained against Sihyl Johnston, who was the original model in "The Clemenceau Case" and appeared in the altogether.

Sally Chew, once a noted soubrette, is now supporting herself and two children by selling newspapers at the Navy Yard, Brooklyn. Her husband deserted her ten years ago.

Very many of the Legislatures of the Eastern and some of the Western States have introduced bills making it a misdemeanor to give exhibitions of prize fights or boxing contests. This is a drive at the Corbett-Fitzsimmons kinetoscope pictures. On Wednesday the Judiciary Committee at Washington in the Senate, reported favorably on a bill to prevent the exhibition of prize fighting by kinetoscopic pictures in the District of Columbia and the territories.

Large crowds witnessed the annual parade of Barnum & Bailey's Circus Thursday evening. In the evening they gave the initial performance at Madison Square Garden, which ran smoothly; the only mishap was one of the acrobats injured by falling over an elephant. A feature is a dog that plays foot-ball.

G. C. STEAD, perhaps New Zealand's largest breeder of race horses, the gentleman that sold imp. Maxim to J. B. Haggin a few years ago for a reported price of $21,000, is at the Occidental Hotel, on his way to London, England, on business. Through the marked excellence of the gallopers Mr. Stead has raised he has sold his stock for large sums, and is as well-known as any man in the business—at least in New Zealand and Australia.

TRAINER W. M. MURRY, has been exonerated from all blame in connection with the running of Ed Purser's good colt, Perseus. Dr. Rowell informed the judges that Perseus was a sick horse, which accounted for his bad showing last time out.

LONDON, April 8.—Hudson, the jockey, was thrown and killed in a steeple-chase at Stoke-On-Trent, Staffordshire, to-day.

IF YOU want a three-year-old filly, no record, that will pace in 2:10 this season, address F. S., this office.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

FAIRS AND RACES.—The appropriations, vetoed by Governor Budd, were restricted to the premium list, not a single dollar that could be used for other purposes.

It may appear, therefore, that it was no injury to the light-harness-horse interests by the action of the executive, but there is a feature which is not generally understood. It is absolute necessity to have California fairs what is required for them to be, that they should be on the same scale as has been their characteristic in previous years. Liberal premium lists and premiums covering all the various products of farm, orchards, vineyards and gardens, as well as the implements used in agriculture.

Under the present condition of affairs it cannot be expected that all the items of former premium lists should be incorporated. In all probability premiums for all grades of stock will be sufficient when there are no appropriations, leaving out the pavilion display of former years. There is scarcely a doubt that the owners of trotters and pacers will do everything in their power to enhance the interest in the fairs.

In one respect it is essential for them to do so. While the "speed department" of the fairs has been self-sustaining, little required outside of entrance fees to pay the purses, yet it has to be coupled with an exhibition to bring the people. They would come to a fair when they would not attend the races. And then again there is a double attraction. The morning occupied with visits to stalls and pens, afterwards at the races, and when fortunate enough to provide for a pavilion displays a pleasant evening in perspective. Under the terms mentioned in another article, viz, what may be termed a partnership compact, fairs and races may be combined with profit to all the partners. Associations may hesitate to offer purses under the usual conditions when the winners are ready to take an equal share of the risks. Of course there are drawbacks. In the first place an innovation, and sticklers for old practices are not gratified when changes are instituted. But when it means that there must be meetings under the new conditions or none, then it does not require a great deal of acumen to understand that there cannot be gain in one's chance for reasonable remuneration in the other. Sincerely trusting that it will not be necessary to follow another course than that which practice has commanded, and that California associations will be, that notwithstanding the adverse circumstances, which now prevail, there is a chance for successful meetings, but in case that it should appear hazardous to take the other plan might be adopted.

There is little hazard, if any, in predicting that horse owners will do all in their power to assist in making the fairs successful. Willing to make entries in such numbers as to guarantee against loss, and accept whatever conditions that promise to be beneficial.

FAIRS AT ALL EVENTS.—There is a strong inclination on the part of breeders for a series of fairs and the joint efforts accomplish more than was anticipated after the first feeling of disgust over the veto.

It certainly seem that the P. C. T. H. B. A. can hold one successful meeting at this time agreed upon viz., the week after the Stockton fair.

The California Jockey Club will grant the use of its splendid track and grounds, and with that freely offered the main thing to do is to take initiatory steps. Surely if the C. J. C. can devote the use of its properties with all the advantages pertaining thereto, so many of them it would seem as if there were no risks. What risks there are must be shared by all the parties interested. Horse owners must be satisfied with smaller purses, should the scaling down be necessary to hold meetings, and everyone interested do all in his power to make the meetings successful.

There is one scheme which assuredly has a practical look. That is to share in the risks and profits. In place of a definite sum in the purse let it be understood that the amount will depend on the receipts. Thus when the aggregate is reached there will be a basis for decision. Let us go on the proposition that there should be classes where the horse would $1,000, others not more than $300. Then when the receipts are all in it may be that there will be larger sums, perhaps lower.

The entrance fees would be a part of the receipts and if ten per cent entrance swelled the purse above anticipations a lower fee would be in order.

Taking it for granted and without positive knowledge, I am inclined to the belief that the C. J. C. will donate the track, with no further expense than to keep it in order, then entrance fees, "gate money," betting privileges, etc., will be available to cover indebtedness.

Let us suppose that a meeting of six days is contemplated, opening on Saturday of one week closing on Saturday of the following.

Three races on each day, perhaps four. Twenty purses from $300 to $1,000. Now when the receipts are all in, expenses subtracted, there may be augmentation or reduction.

It is a fair proposition that owners should benefit by one, lose by the other.

"I will not so far underrate the sense of my readers as to occupy space" by arguments entirely unnecessary to show that what ever profit is made on a meeting it should inure to the benefit of owners. The whole profit, under the liberal proposition of the California Jockey Club, will be to the credit of owners, and it does seem that meetings at Oakland should pay a handsome profit.

Other places as well, but I have not the least hesitation in recording the prophesy that the meeting under the auspices of the P. C. T. H. B. A., on the Emeryville track, will be at decided success. Other places, too, that can obtain the same advantages.

To come back to the subhead, "Fairs at all events," and by reciprocal and ardent work there will be rifts in the clouds.

EXCITEMENT—A person would be justified in the thought that the reporters would not become greatly interested in races, when day after day, and for six months at a stretch, they had to be in attendance, and before "tired Nature's restorer"—balm sleep "could be enjoyed "stories" had to be ground out with monotonous regularity. It would certainly seem as though there would be little excitement displayed in the press stand, and however close the contest, however imminent the slaughter of favorites, these knights of the pencil would be free from sharing in the jubilation of the grand stand folks, or taking part in the noisy demonstrations of the crowd on the esplanade. Not so noisy as either wing of the racing army, not so enthusiastic apparently in their welcomes to the winner, and yet withal enjoying the situation when it looks as though the race were going in the way they had predicted, heartily disgusted when an outsider caught their view, "first across the score."

Quit a commodious apartment the California Jockey Club has provided for the scribes, the only objection being that the judges' stand interferes with the view of the finish.

Rather a narrow parallelogram, it is true, but everyone in it is anxious to give even visitors a chance to be comfortable, and in the interval when pencils are not busy many a good joke, and many stories told which have a decidedly sporting flavor.

While my work does not demand the close attention to details as that of the men who have to furnish daily matter, and many points of view, equally as good or better than the press stand affords, the races would not be nearly so heartily enjoyed in any other quarters, and it is a safe inference that when the youngsters who now wield the reportorial pencil are watching the races thirty, forty or fifty years from now they will feel more at home when surrounded by the active scribes of the future.

It may be that with the increase of knowledge and the capacity to determine the exact "form" of the horses engaged, the prognostics of the prophets will be fulfilled so frequently that there will be no gloomy countenances, the lugubrious visages being confined to the metalicians who have thought otherwise. In that case racing will have lost its chief attraction. Little need, however, to worry over that, and the "glorious uncertainty" be undisturbed for a century at least. Even after the era when form can be predicted with tolerable certainty, there will be causes which will upset the most carefully studied vaticination. Naver a man yet have I met who could authoritatively state when a horse is in condition, and with contestants only a few pounds apart accident has a good deal to do with the decision of the race.

Reporters are now of necessity prophets, and one who does not give a list of "probable winners" unfit for the position. No wonder then that they are interested and excited when a few seconds more will decide whether they are true or false prophets.

Salinas Race Track.

The track reporter for the Salinas Journal furnishes the following:

The Salinas race track has a lively appearance these fine mornings. The trainers are beginning to let out their charges a link or two. The track is in excellent condition having been plowed up during the winter and worked back into fine shape with the help of the recent rains. It is now fast and safe, and the trainers are delighted with it.

Henry Delaney has in his charge the bay mare Anita, 2:17, by Junio, dam Anita G., by Falls. She has wintered well, is looking in fine fettle and going smooth and fast under the handling of her new trainer. Mr. Delaney has in his stable, also, Wilkesmoor, a good looking that should make a fast one. He has also a fine looking black filly, the property of J. D. Carr. She is bred right and should go some, being by Hambletonian Wilkes, out of Bertha, by Carr's Mambrino. The bay stallion by Boxwood, a son of Nutwood, the property of G. J. Kasling, is fine looking and should not be overlooked in the green class when the bell taps.

James Dwin, lessee of the track, has in his charge the following:

C. Z. Hebert's Bruno, 2:16½, by Junio, dam Dolly, by Mozart. Bruno is making and will be trailed later on.

Same owner's brown mare, Lara D., 2:23½, by Altoona 8,550, dam Dolly.

Same owner's bay filly, two years old, pacer, by Dictatus, dam Dolly.

Same owner's bay filly, two years old, by Bruno, dam Maggie by Dan Voorhees, 2:23½.

Same owner's brown filly, three years old, by Bruno, dam Topsey by Starr King (thoroughbred).

J. D. Carr's bay colt by Electricity, 2:17½, dam Lucky Girl by Carr's Mambrino.

Same owner's black gelding Uproar, by Sidney, 2:19½, dam Surprise, by Abbottsford, 2:19½.

All these horses in Mr. Dwin's stable are looking well and doing well, and their trainer expects great things of them during the coming campaign.

Cavel Rodriguez, the well-known trainer and driver, is handling Charles B. Dawson's handsome and smooth gaited Boodle colt (two years), out of a mare by Carr's Mambrino, second dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont. The colt is moving nicely and so well do his owner and trainer think of him that he has entered him in the events on the Montana circuit. The colt is also entered in the district two-year-old stake here, and if appearance and gait count for anything, he ought to have the stake at his mercy.

Quick in Results and Safe

NEW ULM, MINN., Oct. 29, 1896.

Regarding the merits of your Balsam I purchased, can say my pricing mare strained her suspensory ligament so badly that she could hardly walk. This was in the middle of June and every horseman expressed his fear that she would not be able to race again this season. I gave her a stiff blister with Caustic Balsam, repeated it 10 hours later, and left her in the barn for two weeks. July 4th I started her in a half-mile race and won, best time, 1:20. From August 28th to Sept. 18th I started her five times and never was behind the money, being second four times, and third once.

The Palo Alto Sale.

F. W. Covey superintendent of the Palo Alto Stock Farm arrived from the East last Monday, and says all his horses were landed in New York in good shape. Following is a list of those which sold for $200 and over.

Strathway, 2:19.

This justly celebrated sire is making a season at Hanford in charge of Mr. J. T. Baker, the pioneer droggist of that thriving town. Mr. Baker is one of the best-known horsemen in the great San Joaquin Valley, having been a leading breeder of trotting horses for the past twenty years. He is genial and popular with all classes, hence no better man could be found to bring this famous sire to the front.

Strathway as a producer of extreme speed earned a great reputation in 1895, and this year his book will be well filled. He is a fine-looking horse and his gait is the poetry of motion. His breeding is superb, being by the great Steinsway, 2:25½, out of Countess, the dam of Dawn, 2:13½. His progeny are considered among the best in California, and include Toggles, 2:12½; Howeward, 2:13½; Strathmont, 2:14; Stone-way (3), 2:23½; Annie Roover; 2:24½, etc. All of these are capable of reducing their records, and we predict that the season of 1897 will bring great honor to the Strathways.

MR. HENRY SULL, the famous artist, was highly gratified yesterday at receiving a telegram from La Belle Stud, Tarnallton, Ky., that his mare, Afterglow, had just foaled a fine chestnut colt by the great sire Bramble, who has Clifford, Lincoln II and others to his credit. Afterglow is a young mare by the great sire, Hanover, out of Gleam by Glenelg. This is a combination of winning blood indeed, and the progress of this youngster "bred in the purple" will be watched with great interest. Afterglow will be bred to Kingston, whose first crop of sucklings are reported as extra fine lookers.

For the finest of pasture we take pleasure in recommending horse owners to send their stock to the Brentwood Farm, near Arvin, Cal. Ed Corigan had his horses there and he is more than pleased with the care they received and the way they improved on the alfalfa and rye grass there.

WAXANA dam of Suool 2:03½, dropped a bay filly by Advertiser 2:12½ March 31st. This is the first filly Waxana has had since Suool. The new comer resembles her famous half sister a great deal.

ELAINE 2:20 dam of Norlaine, (1) 2:31½, Palatine, (3) 2:18, Iran Alto (3) 2:19½, etc., foaled a brown colt by Altivo 2:18½, (full brother to Palo Alto 2:03½) April 1st.

EXPRESSIVE (3) 2:12½ foaled a fine brown colt by Boodla 2:12½, March 10th. She will be bred to McKinney 2:11½ this season.

QUINN'S OINTMENT is one of the most essential articles necessary in every horse-owner's medicine chest.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

EVERY new McKinney heard from lately is either a black or a brown.

THE Ohio mare Lillian S., 2:14, by Sidney, will be in George Starr's stable.

THE entries to the colt stakes show that the interest in fine horses is growing.

IT is reported that Robert Bonner thinks Maud S. is at last in foal to Starkirk.

THERE were 837 entries to Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Futurity Stakes.

WE shall have better race meetings in California this year than we have had for years.

CENTRAL TREST is the name George Starr has bestowed on his $4,500 Director—Winifred colt.

M. HENRY, Hayward, has hooked two mares, one by Director and one by Decorator, son of Director, to Altamont.

REMEMBER the sale of standard bred trotters at the Palo Alto Stock Farm takes place on the farm, Tuesday, April 20th.

S. SEYMOUR has a splendid filly by his stallion Seymour Wilkes 2:08½ out of a mare by Nephew that is a credit to both sire and dam.

A MEETING will soon be called of representatives of the various District Associations wherein races have heretofore been given in California.

BALANCE ALL, D. E. Knight's favorite mare, made her proud owner happy by presenting him with a beautiful black McKinney filly last week.

MARVIN expects Katrina Bel, by St. Bel, to prove a star this year. She took a three-year-old record of 2:16½ in 1895 and was not raced in 1896.

SIX of the eight light harness stallions advertised in the Rural Spirit, Portland, are by Altamont, and four of these six have records better than 2:10.

"BUCKBOARD JIM," in his official judgment, has no use for people who try to improve their breeds of live stock. Wonder if he is disgusted with himself, and why?

DR. CLARK, Dorant, I. T. has a good bred young stallion in Epipo, by Epoch (son of Sultan and Rosebud, by Gen. Washington), dam Fay, by Regal Wilkes, 2:11½, second dam Vixen.

MORRIS J. JONES, Red Oak, Ia., has sold to Denver parties the pacing stallion Norval, 2:13½, by Norval, and his sister, the green mare Norvalette, who paced a trial well down in the teens last season.

A CALIFORNIA horseman writes East that Gilbert Judd, to whom the late Thomas Raymond bequeathed Klamath, 2:07½, will go East with that horse this year and participate in the free-for-alls with him.

SINCE it is definitely known that there will be no appropriations for district fairs, there is a determination on the part of horse-owners and trainers in California to hold a number of race meetings this year.

A. B. SPRECKELS is so well pleased with the youngsters by his Sidney stallion, Cupid, 2:18, that he has decided to breed most of his mares to this great campaigner this year. Perhaps the list will include Hulda, 2:08½.

THERE are about thirty-five horses at the Gilroy Track. Vasto 2:16½ is one of the finest looking horses ever seen at this place. Last Sunday his owner Harry Wise was delighted with the condition Scott Holbrook has the horse.

THERE seems to be a mutual agreement among all farmers and stock-raisers to pass Gov. Jimbodd without noticing him. He has reason to feel that his action toward these taxpayers has not been forgotten for he has been "snubbed" everywhere.

ALLIE CRESCO, 2:13, a black mare by Washington, belonging to I. L. Borden; a Nutwood mare belonging to W. L. Dingee; a mare belonging to O. Luong of Oakland, another, the property of W. J. Sweeny, were bred to McKinney lately.

SEND in your subscription for the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. Remember all subscriptions expire next month. We need the money and trust that this reminder will not be overlooked. Remit by P. O. money order, or Wells, Fargo Express.

SINDALIA, by Stamboul, 2:07½, dam Linda, the dam of Linda Stanford, 2:20½, by Electioneer, moved very fine over the snow at Goshen, and will probably be selected to represent Arden Farms in the two-year-old Daly-Harriman sweepstakes.

LINDA OAK, daughter of Guy Wilkes, and dam of Doctor Frasse, James W. Rea's promising two-year-old, dropped a colt to Iran Alto, 2:19½, and will be bred to Boodle, 2:12½. If this colt is as promising in speed as he is in looks he ought to be a "god one."

WM. B. FASIO, the famous auctioneer, has been looking around for good material to take East, and on the Oakwood Park Stock Farm he selected ten youngsters, whose names we have not learned, and has been closing arrangements with owners about several others.

THE Gossipers that are making their appearance this year are all marvels of beauty. They have the same lofty carriage, the same perfection of form and that pure trotting gait which made so many admirers of the sire, who is the only son of Simmons in this part of California.

WE are anxious, very anxious, to get the names of all owners and trainers who are handling horses at the various tracks in California and the names, pedigrees and records (if these horses have any), as this information will be used at a meeting of prominent horsemen to be held in this city soon.

WE would be pleased to receive a copy of a daily or weekly paper published in California that has printed a single paragraph in favor of Jimbodd since he sent in his last bunch of hills. We except the Examiner and Chronicle in this proposition, for they are his organs.

THE Buffalo papers announce that William Simpson has decided to have Andrews campaign Bouncer, 2:10½, this season. This mare was not as good as had been expected last year, but there is reason to believe that she will be more like the Bouncer of 1895 this year, and if she is, there is nothing to keep her out of the free-for-all division.

L. E. CLAWSON of this city has, in his black mare Mia Louise by Steiway 2:25½ out of Addie Ash, one of the finest gaited and most stylish pacers in California. She wears neither hoppers nor boots and can go as fast as one wants to ride. What a mate she would make for Loupe 2:09½! Gaited alike, and can trot in 2:40 and pace a 2:00 clip. Anybody can drive them.

THE black mare that ex-Sheriff G. Y. Bollinger of San Jose is justly proud of dropped a very fine colt to the horse without a "hut," Boodle 2:12½. It is a strong and lusty fellow of exceptional fine proportions and Mr. Bollinger is so well pleased with him that the mare will be bred back to Boodle again. This step is well taken, as the mare is already a producer of no mean speed, being the dam of Our Boy, 2:15.

THE stockholders of the Napa Agricultural Association elected the following Board of Directors Saturday: E. H. Wishop (Pres.), F. W. Loehner (Vice Pres.), E. S. Bell (Sec'y), C. L. LaRoe, John Even, Chas. Scott, Z. W. Garfield, Sherwood Bird and W. H. Graham. J. F. Zollner was elected Treasurer. The Association will claim the first week after the Breeders' meeting, which will be some time in September for their meeting.

IN a communication to a contemporary Hark Comstock says: "Electioneer has a greater number of trotters in the 2:15 list than any other sire excepting Guy Wilkes," which we beg to correct. Both horses mentioned have eleven 2:15 trotters to their credit, and of these Truman, by Electioneer, and Regal Wilkes, by Guy Wilkes, have rejected records, their best official marks are slower than 2:15. Meanwhile Robert McGregor has sired eleven trotters, all with official records of 2:15 or better.—Boston Globe.

THE farmer who breeds in a small way, says three or four mares a season cannot afford to produce valueless animals in hope of sometime breeding a really good trotter. The chances are against him, for he has not the facilities nor the knowledge required to breed and develop such horses. How much better it is for such men to go in for half-bred draft horses that will pull anything and leave the production of trotters to the stock farms and breeding establishments. Instead of one good colt out of ten the proportion of the big farms is more likely to be one had one in ten, and such breeding operations become a source of income instead of a lottery.

FOR liberal purses and liberal conditions the associations at Anaconda and Butte, Mont., are away in the lead. Their stakes for the June 26-July 24 and July 27-Aug. 28 meetings are worth $1,000 to $1,500, and three entries and two starters will fill any class and make a race. The entry fee is much less than 5 per cent. and the entry and starting fees combined are but 5 per cent. The classes ought to be satisfactory to all horsemen, and there should be such an entry list as will guarantee patrons of these two progressive associations racing of the highest order. The advertisement on another page of this issue gives classes, stakes, conditions, payments dates and all needed information. Remember that the date of closing is to-day, April 10.

MR. WM. SIMPSON, of New York, former owner of John R. Gentry, has sent six mares to be bred to Brown Hal. They are: Achieve, by Hummer, out of Appaline, by Sidney; Abbeod, by Albert W., out of Mabel, by The Moor, next dam Minnehaha; Thrill, by Hummer, out of Tessie Combat; Grevliog, by Lord Russell, out of Novelet, by Belmont, and Nominatee, by Nominee, 2:17½, out of Net Medium, by Happy Medium. In sending them Mr. Simpson wrote: "While I am satisfied that my stallion Hummer (Electioneer—George Wilkes), has no superior as a sire, I am now tempted to send a few of the right kind of mares to Brown Hal, and to prove the experiment I send a half dozen daughters of Hummer out of great mares."

THE determination on the part of farmers and stock-raisers to make their horses trained this year, give race meetings and thus have their horses more valuable is one we cannot praise too highly. THE BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN is with them and will work harder than ever to show its loyalty to the struggling farmers who are looking ahead for good prices for their stock, which they will get. We hope to present their side so strongly that every candidate for the gubernatorial office will be pledged to support the cause of every taxpayer in California. It is needless to add: "There's a little hook-nosed, curly-headed fraud, who was known as 'Buckboard Jim' during the last campaign who will not be noticed. He will never get a chance to make a pledge again. It's a case of 'scat,' with him hereafter, wherever he chances to be.

IN a horse breeding country, said Mr. Eurdett-Contts, in his testimony before the Irish Committee on Horse Breeding, it is economically wrong to exclude from the purview of breeders the production of harness horses. Harness horses are wanted all over the world, and for the best and most fashionable types very high prices are given. The harness horse requires only to be taken up from grass at three, conditioned for a few weeks to a loose box, and if he has good shape and fine action there will be plenty of dealers to buy him. This does not, of course, apply to the condition of the horse to be put in the market for the general public. Great numbers of hackneys, had and good, have gone on the continent and come to America, and Mr. Eurdett-Contts believes they have contributed to one disastrous result to English breeders, viz: That whereas twenty years ago England supplied herself with harness horses, there is now a great import of harness horses from abroad. In other words, England has been exporting the raw material, which is sent back to her in the form of manufactured articles of trade. There is no part of England where the returns of the horse breeder have been in anywise comparable to those derived by the farmers of Yorkshire and the eastern counties, through the demand for harness horses.

A NEW pneumatic tire has recently been patented in Canada and other countries by a St. Thomas, Ont., inventor, which has attracted considerable interest amongst light harness men. It is of original pattern and promises to revolutionize horse racing. The inventor is Thos. Blassford. One racing man says, "it will knock seconds off the time records." The tire is composed of steel springs, encased in a shield, is not inflated, and is non-puncturable. It is firmly held on the wheel rim by a small bolt passing through the rim where the valve of a pneumatic tire is placed. The resistance of the tire is equal to that of a pneumatic and the weight about the same.

STAM B, 2:11½, is liable to give the Eastern members of the 2:12 class any amount of trouble. His campaign in California last year was a notable one. He was but four years old, yet he went against not only all aged horses but against the cracks of the free-for-all division. He suffered but three defeats during the year, twice by Ottinger and once by Klamath, and there is no denying that the horse who could beat either of them was good enough to trot with the open class in the grand circuit. The smallest division of money that Stam B. secured during the year was when he was third at Stockton, Cal., September 25th. In that race he drove Iago out the first mile in 2:11½, and was then given an easy mile while Ottinger and Iago fought out the second heat in 2:09½. Stam B. then went after the Nephew gelding and forced him out of the two succeeding heats in 2:10½ and 2:09½. Stam B. is entered in the 2:12 class at the Fleetwood meeting, which apparently means that he will be taken through the grand circuit. If Stam B. carries out the promise of former campaigns this year Stamboul, 2:07½, his sire, will be the first 2:10 trotter to become the sire of a 2:10 trotter. At the present time Keeler, 2:14½, is the fastest trotter to have a representative in the extreme trotting list. The dam of Stam B. had a trotting record of 2:20.

THERE is no question of the fact that Joe Neal learned well the lessons he had a chance to study while with Monroe Salisbury and such expert drivers as Andy McDowell, Geo. Starr, John Kelly and others. Everybody at the famous Pleasanton track, Andy McDowell, Tom Keating, M. McMann, Channcey Kane, Bill Murray, Jim Leonard, Dick Benson, J. M. Alviso and Jim Maguire, all who have horses there and whose opinion have weight from experience, all say that Joe has the best string ever seen on the track, that they are in the very best of condition and can show more speed than any string in the State at present. Joe is a hard worker, at it all the time, knows it from one end to the other, and can drive with the very best of them. Azote is doing so well that they expect to trot him this fall, and if nothing goes wrong some of the other horses will make great names for themselves in the Eastern Grand Circuit this year. One green one in particular has shown enough that 2:10 looks to be within his capabilities this season. A three-year-old trotting quarters in thirty-three seconds don't want to be overlooked either, especially as he is by Direct out of a mare that has a race record to a high wheel sulky of 2:17½. Joe developed both of these, and they alone, leaving out the other probabilities, are enough to show that he has kept his eyes open in years gone by.

SALT LAKE may secure a week of high-class horse racing this summer. The opportunity is offered in the eighteen days' intermission between the Denver and Anaconda meeting, for at least a week of which the horsemen en route from the Colorado to the Montana tracks would stop off here, if sufficient inducements were offered. Several leading local horsemen are considering the organization of a jockey club, or a gentlemen's driving club, similar to the one in Denver, and some day this week a canvass will be made of those who may be willing to contribute to the enterprise. It is intended to secure at least six names of responsible persons, who will deposit $500 each, to secure the payment of all purses to be offered at the races. The sum of $3,000, it is believed, would be sufficient to guarantee that there would be no shortage in the purses. If the meeting is successful it will be made an annual event in Salt Lake. There are now ninety high-class horses wintering in Denver, and after the meeting there, which ends June 10th, about 200 runners, trotters and pacers will go to Montana. Many of the animals are famous on the Western turf, and their meeting here would be far ahead of anything in Utah's sporting experience. If the plans of the horsemen succeed, it is intended to give two harness races and three running events each day, and one of the running races will be a short dash, which will admit Utah "brush" horses.—Salt Lake Tribune.

THE New York Tribune has this to say of Robert Bonner's horses: "It is to Robert Bonner that the turfmen of this country, of all classes and grades, are indebted for the establishment of a market for horses of American breeding. It is safe to say that the trotter is distinctively an American horse, and is the result of years of careful study of blood lines and crosses. It is to the genius and liberality of Mr. Bonner that much of the success of the American light harness horse is due. When Mr. Bonner began to establish high prices of trotters, through the purchase of Pocahontas, Joe Elliott, Startle, Dexter, Rarus, May Bird, Maud S., Sunol and other famous trotters, he aroused the ambitions of every intelligent American farmer to raise the champion trotter by assuring them that a second chipped off the trotting record meant a comfortable fortune for the fortunate possessor of the horse capable of making a new record. Moreover, Mr. Bonner's purchases caused many of the foremost men of affairs in this country to advocate the healthful sport derived from driving fast horses. At his farm in Tarrytown Ansel, 2:20, a son of Electioneer, out of Annette, by the ever famous thoroughbred racer and sire, Lexington is at the head of the stud, while other royally bred stallions of the most approved pedigrees are associated with him. Among the matrons are such equine stars as Rosella, own sister to Maud S.; Daybreak, by Harold (sire of Maud S.) dam Midnight (dam of Jay Eve See); Margarine (sister to Margaret S., four-year-old record 2:12½); Jessica, by Ansel, dam Jessie Kirk (dam of Majolica, 2:15); Miss Majolica, 2:24½; Eldridge (sire of Cartridge, 2:14½); and Mambrino Startle (sire of Mambrino Maid, 2:15½); Alviola, by Palo Alto, 2:08½, dam Viola, by Gen. Benton (sire of the dam of Sunol, 2:04½) second dam by Electioneer; Morning, by Ansel, dam Daybreak, and others. Robert Bonner has done much for horses of all classes, owing to the intelligent attention he has paid to the methods of shoeing employed by the average blacksmith. His valuable experiments have elevated the blacksmith's calling and improved methods of horseshoers throughout this country, which the noble trotter would joyously praise if able to speak.

THE SADDLE.

PAT DUNNE has purchased the splendid colt Good Times of Eugene Leigh.

The entries of Alvarado will be refused in future at the California Jockey Club track.

STARTER HAYES leaves to day for Palo Alto, where he will take charge of the trotters at the big ranch.

PAT DUNNE will not leave until Ingleside close: down. Jockey W. Martin will stay here until Mr. Dunne leaves.

M. F. DWYER has second call on Charley Thorpe this season. Burns & Waterhouse did have it, but released it to the New York turfman.

H. T. GRIFFIN will only take East Marths, The Dragon and Harold Lindsay. Benamela, Cappy and David will be shipped East on the same car.

LITTLE TOM (whose dam, Florencia A., is now owned by Theodors Winters) ran a dead heat with Otho in a mile and a half race at New Orleans on April 3d.

BURNS & WATERHOUSE have entered Napamax, Miss Rowena and Recreation in the Amazon stake at half a mile, to be run at the Brooklyn Jockey Club meeting.

COCKADE, a bay gelding by Fresno—Rosette, won a six furlong race at Singlerly, Md., April 1st, beating a field of eight. Helena Belle won another race on the same date.

MIKE HENNESSY has signed to ride for Burns & Waterhouse. He will go East with the stable. It is hinted that Eddie Jones will be released at the expiration of his contract.

ARTHUR BARRETT, who did such good work in the saddle at New Orleans, is to ride Gotham, Dorian, Glenmoyné, Counter Tenor and other cracks of the Foster stable this year.

BASQUIL (T. J. McHale's good colt) and King Elm ran a dead heat in a six-furlong race at Little Rock, Ark., Monday, and Play Boy ran third to Whistaway and Salidora at six furlongs.

At Little Rock, Ark., last Saturday, Siegfried won a five-furlong race and Basquil was second. This sounds sort of natural. It's not so long ago that both were running around San Francisco.

BUCK MASSIE has been assigned top weight in the Inaugural handicap, to be run on the opening day of the St. Louis meeting, with 128 pounds, and Magnet is second on the list with 124 pounds.

A. B. SPRECKELS yesterday sold $30,000 worth of stock in the P. C. J. C. to Henry J. Crocker at 80 cents on the dollar. Mr. Spreckels still retains a small interest—enough to keep his name on the books.

The race for the Liverpool Spring Cup was run at Liverpool Saturday, March 27, and was won by A. Cohen's brown six-year-old horse Green Lawn, (by Kendal—Buda). St. Jarlath was second and Amphidamas third.

CHARLIE BOOTS will at the end of the racing here take a select lot of two-year-olds and about enough of his older horses to make up a carload and go straight to headquarters, doing most of the racing around New York.

W. SEAGRAM, owner of the Waterloo stables, has decided not to enter Saragossa in any races this year. The hard campaign of 1895 left the pride of the Seagram string in rather poor shape. He has been fired and blistered.

ALTHOUGH the Darehins are not noted for their stamina and staying qualities, still Emma C., a California-bred mare by Darehin, holds the two mile track record of the Brighton track with a mark of 3:29. The world's record for this distance is 3:27.

MELVIN BURNHAM's sire, imp. Joe Norwood, is by imp. Westcombe from Haloween, by Carnival or Macaroni; second dam Anstrey, by Harkaway; third dam, Zeita, by Emilus; fourth dam, My Lady, by Comus; fifth dam, The Colonel's dam.

DAVE GIDEON's colt, Eskin, who was thought to be able to win the Futurity of 1896, is training well this spring. He is by Iroquois—Carlotta C., cost Gideon $25,000 or so, and is likely to be a real good race horse when he can stand racing action.—Racing Form.

SILVER FOX, the Rancho del Paso-bred sire of Sly Fox, is now at Wyndham Walden's Middleburg farm, in Maryland, as an exchange. By St. Blaise, out of Maud Hampton (dam of Ban Fox), this young stallion bids fair to make a name for himself at the stud.

DEL PASO, the 100 to 1 shot that ran second in the fifth event Monday, is an own brother to Ludwig and B. & W., and, like his brothers, is a giant. He was conceding everything in the race weight Monday, and came from sixth to second place in the homestretch.

SUPERINTENDENT JOHN MACKEY, of Rancho del Paso says that imp. Star Ruby will be the fashionable sire in a couple of years. His colts are very promising, and as he is by Hampton out of a sister to Ormonde, they should race as well as their sire and distinguished relatives.

JOCKEYS HENRY MARTIN and CHARLEY THORPE will leave on Saturday or Sunday for New York. Martin will ride for Dave Gideon this season, while Thorpe is under contract to Judge Arkell. Both jockeys will probably be seen in the saddle at the Washington meeting.

ROSORMONDE, winner of the fourth race, is the first Ormonde to win in America. She's from the great stud matron, imp. Fairy Rose (dam of Fairy, Racine and Flint), by Kisher, winner of the Derby; second dam Hippolyta, by King Tom; third dam Daughter of the Star, by Kremlin.

THE most satisfactory reports of Requinat come from Red Bank. The crack soo of Eothen is doing everything Jimmy Rowe asks him, and if nothing happens in the meantime he will be seen at the post for the Metropolitan. Henry Griffin, who arrived recently from California, is with the Brookdale string and will have the leg up on the top weight in his races.—New York Sun.

JAMES SMITH, father of the well-known horseman, Al Smith, cashier for Frank Eckert, died Tuesday in this city, aged fifty-four years. Mr. Smith was one of San Francisco's best known and most popular police officers, and his host of friends will hear of his death with great regret.

SIMMONS won for Cella & Sippy at Little Rock April 2d. Ferris Hartman was second in the race, six furlongs, which was run in 1:16. The firm mentioned above had awful luck out here. Simmons was the only one of a good-sized bunch that won a race all winter, and that win did not come until March.

RICHARD J., a bay colt by Morello—Bonnie Leaf, won a half mile race at Newport, Ky., April 31, in 0:49 flat, carrying 105 pounds, winning in a gallop by two lengths and defeating a field of nine. He's the property of C. W. Singlerly, of Philadelphia, and, it is he, we believe, who claimed to own Morello out-and-out up to the time of his death.

THE Newport (Ky.) meeting opened April 2d with a fair attendance. The telegram from that point says "seven book-makers were kept reasonably busy and they and the public broke about even in the aggregate on the favorites." J. J. Burke is the presiding judge. The track must be a fast one. Claret Cup ran four furlongs in 0:49, Kallitan seven furlongs in 1:24.

LONDON, April 7.—The American horse Diakka, owned by the Beresford and Lorillard stables, ran third in the race for the Doveridge stake at the Derby spring meeting to-day. The Doveridge stake is worth 1,000 sovereigns. It is for three-year-olds and upwards, the second horse to receive 50 sovereigns; course, the straight mile. Clorane won and Villiers was second.

HELENA BELLE won a six-furlong race at Singlerly, Md., March 29th. She is by Don Carlos, a Prince Charlie horse that came down from Montaza and made a season here a few years ago. On the same date Wexford, by imp. Midlothian—Patty, won a three-quarter mile race, while Nihilist and Oracle, sons of imp. Order, now at Rancho del Paso, were also successful.

RECREATION's performance Wednesday (four and one-half furlongs in 0:55 with 120 lbs. up) stamps her the fastest filly and the best weight-carrier we have seen in California in a long time, if indeed the Golden Staters have ever seen her superior. She's a credit to a great race horse and sire, Morello, and many a sigh has gone up that the famous son of Eolus and Cerise is no more.

DOCK TURBEVILLE, who is doing the riding for John Huffman, is rolling in winter's fat. He expects to get down to 105 pounds in the next two weeks. He was at 118 pounds last Monday, but managed to get off four pounds by yesterday. "This is the first time I have ridden in this vicinity for two years," said Dock. "I am glad to get back. Cincinnati is one of my favorite races points."—Cincinnati paper.

TO TOMMY LOTTRIDGE belongs the credit of having trained the flyers that finished one-two in the $5,000 California Derby (Scarborough and Scarf Pin). If Don Clarence had won instead of running second on Friday, it is safe to say the firm of Atkin & Lottridge would have taken at least $30,000 out of the ring on Scarborough's victory Saturday. As it was, they are credited with winning $14,000 on the race.

THE Sloan brothers are to leave in a few days for the far East, and it is said Willie Martin will not remain much longer. The same can be said of Henry Martin, who goes to New York to fill his engagement with David Gideon. Charley Thorpe is booked to leave about the middle of this month. Eddie Jones, Slaughter and Coady will probably be in great demand after the celebrities mentioned above shake the dust of California from their feet.

MANIFESTO, winner of the Grand National Steeplechase at Liverpool this year, carried 157 lbs. This was his third start in the big jumping event. He is an aged bay gelding, bred in Ireland, by Man of War (son of Ben Battle, sire of Bendigo) from Vae Victis, by King Victor (son of Fazzolotto), second dam by Ion, and third dam Rbedycinia, by Wintonian. Out of fourteen starts he has won six times and been second once. His victories include the Irish Champion Steeplechase and Lincolnshire Handicap Steeplechase.

TOD AND CASH SLOAN departed for the far East last night. The former will probably ride at the coming Washington meeting, managed by H. G. Crickmore. Tod has done some good riding here, but then we have long known that he was a more than ordinary rider. From the East last year, however, came reports that made one think he had developed into a second Archer. While he improved some and had, if anything, a little more confidence in himself, he was not head and shoulders the best horse pilot, like the lamented Fred.

THE $5,000 California Derby, down for decision to-day at Ingleside, bids fair to be one of the best races of a long racing season. The three-year-olds sure to line up are Howard S., Scarf Pin, Good Times, Lincoln II, Scarborough, Candelaria, Altamax and Joe Ullman. Ah Stemler will start either Lumina or Lodestar. Charles Boots has not decided whether he would have a starter, but expressed the opinion that if he was represented that Vincitor would doubtless be selected. This will appear injudicious to many students of form, as The Roman has shown much better in his recent races. Pat Dunne has concluded not to start Estaca, but there is every reason to believe that he will to-day purchase Good Times from Eugene Leigh to carry his colors. In this event, W. Martin would ride Good Times instead of Joe Ullman, a maiden in the Corrigan stable. There is a dispute over the services of Jockey Tod Sloan. Purser thinks that he has been engaged to ride Scarf Pin, while Ah Stemler holds that he is under engagement to ride either Lumina or Lodestar. Thorpe is to have the mount on Candelaria and "Skeets" Martin on Howard S. Cash Sloan will ride Good Times if he does not change hands. H. Shields has been secured in pilot Lincoln II. Burns & Waterhouse expect to ride Mike Hennessy on Altamax, but Tom Lottridge claims that he secured the services of that jockey for Scarborough over two months ago. Captain Rees stated last night that Greyhurst was not eligible. As there will be ten starters to a certainty, the race should be one of the star three-year-old events of 1897, and in years to come be second in point of interest to very few races for three-year-olds in America.

A FUNNY story is told oo Tod Sloan. In the fast mile race won by Salvation at Ingleside (the one in 1:40), little H. Brown, of color, hugged the rails all the way on Salvation. Tod was on Installer, Eddie Jones on Lobenguls, who was well up for over six furlongs. "Shut off that little nigger! Don't let him get through that hole!" shouted the mid-get mao to Eddie. Brown had been going along in the uneven soprano of his way, and the shout acted as an electric battery on a shockingly nervous man. Up went the brow boy's arm and down came the catgut on the Salvador horse's flanks. It was the finest tip in the world—that yell of Tod's—and when Salvation had shot through and ranged alongside Installer little Brown said, loud enough for Toddy to hear plainly: "The little niggab got through dat hole. I'm 'bliged to yah, Mars. Tod."

THE Australian Cup, the great two miles and a quarter race of the Australasian turf, was won by Coil in 4:04. The winner is a three-year-old by Aherncorn, and carried 112 pounds. Preston finished second. Among the starters was a horse named Damien, who landed in fourth place. Blood-shot, the four-year-old Maxim colt, finished fifth. He carried the top weight of 135 pounds. The St. Leger resulted in the sensational defeat of Newhaven by The Officer, a colt by Robinson Crusoe. The St. Leger distance of one mile and three-quarters was run in 3:06. Coil also captured the Essendon stakes, one mile and a half, in 2:42. Newhaven redeemed herself on the last day of the autumn meeting by beating a grand field in the Champion stakes, at three miles, with 110 pounds up. The Officer finished second, with Coil third. No pace was set in the first part of the race, consequently the race was won in slow time.

NEW YORK, April 6.—August Belmont, President of the Jockey Club, just returned from his Western trip, said: "While in the West I had pleasant interviews with some gentlemen interested in racing, and, like myself, desirous that there should be re-established reciprocal relations between the governing turf bodies of the East and West. It was natural the subject should be discussed, but it was only in an informal manner. I believe, however, that an arrangement satisfactory to all is a matter of but a little time and of an exchange of sentiment. As a matter of fact, there has been at no time any straining of relations between the Jockey Club and the American Turf Congress of the character generally assumed. That is, there has been no attack of one body upon the other. I am sure the Jockey Club, in no ruling it made, sought to discriminate against the governing body of the West, and the Jockey Club has been at all times free to concede that it had no idea that the rules made by the Turf Congress was any other than, in the opinion of that body, expedient or necessary for the government or existence of racing in the territory within its jurisdiction."

CHARLEY THORPE and his wife will start East Saturday night. He was due in New York the first of the month, but Mr. Waterhouse induced him to stay and ride in the handicap. Charley will stop over in Iowa and visit his parents a few days. From there he will go direct to Gravesend, where Mr. Arkell's stable is. He will not attend the Washington meeting at all. Few jockeys have met with the success on the coast Thorpe has. He came here a stranger, save to the few visitors. The public had heard about him, and so had it about other riders who came here with records, but who never did anything remarkable. Griffin was one. Thorpe began to ride in earnest, and inside of a week his name was on every lip. Patroos hack Thorpe, matter of little what horse he is astride. They like his riding. His persavance catches the multitude. If beaten, they feel that they have a hard ride for their money. During Thorpe's stay in California his riding has been above suspicion. Other jockeys' methods have been questioned; his never. Thorpe has frequently mentioned that he liked the game and people here and regretted that he did not come long before. If he rides next winter it certainly will be in California.—Evening Bulletin.

THE following weights have been issued by Official Handicapper Brooks for the entries in the Burns handicap, $10,000, to be decided on to-day: Damien, 122; Mount McGregor II, 120; Captive, 120; Vincitor, 120; Salvation, 120; Libertine, 120; Don Carillo, 120; Cash Day, 118; St. Lee, 118; Wheel of Fortune, 117; Ramiro, 117; Ruinart, 117; Sister Mary, 115; Rey del Bandidos, 115; Schiller, 113; Lucky Dog, 112; Installer, 112; Argentina, 112; Sweet Faverdale, 110; Caesarina, 110; Redskin, 110; Yankee Doodle, 110; Cabrillo, 110; Semper Lex, 108; Lobengula, 107; Won't Dance, 107; Sir Play, 107; All Over, 107; Strathmeath, 106; Judge Denny, 106; Can't Dance, 106; Applause, 106; Service, 106; Nehuchadoezzar, 105; Peter the Second, 105; Fortuna, 105; Thornhill, 105; The Roman, 104; Marcel, 104; Fair Faith, 104; Foremost, 104; Salisbury II, 102; Walter J, 102; Grady, 102; Lordal, 102; Senator Grady, 102; Good Times, 102; Candelaria, 102; Altamax, 100; Casper, 99; Aquinas, 96; Indio, 98; Arnette, 98; Hoberzollern, 96; Osric II, 96; Vincitor, 96; Trappean, 96; Instigator, 96; Abalanzer, 96; Arrezzo, 94; imp. Hard-track, 93; Abe Morris, 96; B. & W., 92; Joe Ullman, 92; Una Colorado, 92; General Arthur, 90; Mollie E., 90; Tortoni, 90; Zylpha, 90.

THE Sao Jose train smashed into the second Ingleside race train at 5:44 p. m. on the Ingleside switch, and it is really miraculous that oo one was killed. About half a dozen on the San Jose train were reported injured, one, Julius Borden, of San Francisco, seriously. The telegraph operator, whose duty it is to attend to the switch spoken of above, had neglected to turn the same, so that the San Jose train went on the Ingleside switch, down grade, at the rate of fifty miles an hour. The engineer saw the mistake, and applied the air brakes. Seeing that a collision was sure to occur, engineers and firemen on both trains jumped for their lives, getting out without any broken limbs. The race train was moving along very slowly, waiting for the San Jose train to go along, and had it not been for this another railroad horror would have been added to the list. The engine of the race train was badly demoralized, the tender telescoped, and a hind baggage car, immediately behind it, was smashed into kindling-wood. The San Jose passenger train's engine was mashed considerably, but nothing like the one pulling the race train. The Ingleside passengers were forced to foot it to the San Mateo electric line, a distance of about a mile and a quarter, but considering the lucky escape they had had, the walk was made good-naturedly.

Trotting and Pacing in California, Season 1897

As predicted last week in these columns, we will soon begin to make arrangements for holding race meetings. The number of visitors to this office who have manifested their desire to have racing in California, "Budd, or no Budd," is self-evident that they are keenly sensitive regarding the injustice inflicted on district fairs and the great necessity of race meetings to enhance the value of light harness horses. F. W. Covey, Superintendent of the Palo Alto Stock Farm, who has recently returned from New York, voices his sentiments in the following language, and we heartily concur with him and again urge our readers to put their shoulders to the wheel and move the great industry out of the rut it was apparently toppling into:

"While it is to be regretted that Governor Budd has vetoed the appropriations to the district fairs, it should not be construed as an action that will seriously cripple trotting and pacing throughout California this year. The money that has been appropriated in the past by the State, has been used exclusively to pay premiums for exhibits, and in many cases the amount of money received has not been sufficient to meet the expenditures of the exhibition. The secretaries of many associations have stated that their pavilion displays have usually been carried on at a loss.

The success of trotting and pacing in California this year depends on the interest taken by the different associations, and not on the appropriation scare. The breeders and owners of trotters stand ready to assist the associations by giving a large list of entries wherever reasonable inducements are offered.

Let the different associations advertise their programmes immediately. Liberal purses and stakes will receive the support of horsemen throughout the State.

There are more horses in training to-day in California than there have been for several years, an evidence of this being the large entry list in the colt stakes given by the P. C. T. H. B. A., that closed April 1st. A comparison of the stakes closed in 1896, and those just closed for 1897, shows such a decided increase in numbers that the different associations must recognize that breeders and owners of trotters and pacers are doing all in their power to advance the horse interests in California, and they should meet a hearty response from the different associations in the way of liberal purses and stakes. In 1896 the Breeders Association advertised six stakes for colts, trotting and pacing, but two of these filled, the two-year-old trot received seven entries, the three-year-old trot the same.

This year the Breeders Association gave six stakes, four of which filled, the two-year-old trot received twenty-one entries, the three-year-old pace, received twelve entries, and the three-year-old, thirteen; a total of sixty-seven entries for 1897 as against fourteen for 1896.

This shows that there are plenty of horses being developed, and purses and stakes well advertised will receive liberal support.

I say to the officers of the different associations, rise up from the slumber that has dulled your energy in the past two years, forget you ever had an appropriation from the State, advertise your meeting for 1897, do it immediately, give liberal inducements to breeders and owners, and the season of 1897 will be a profitable one to you. The prospects for the future of the harness horse never looked brighter than they do at the present time.

Harmonious action between associations, breeders and owners will hasten the progress of the harness horse, an industry that has made California famous in all climes."

The Montana Races.

This day, Saturday, April 10th, should not be overlooked, for entries to the harness races which are to take place in Montana will close, and we wish to call the attention to the conditions of these races as published in our business columns. Ed. A. Tipton, manager of the circuit there, writes: "It is more than likely that with horses shipped from California to the Montana meetings the railroads will allow six men to each car of twelve horses, or one man to each two horses when less than twelve horses are shipped in a car, but where more than twelve horses occupy a car only six men will be allowed. This is quite a concession, inasmuch as last year our patrons had to pay the regular tariff on every man, except one man to each car of horses, they brought along. This, together with the same rate on horses which we secured last year, will greatly cheapen the shipping expenses to the Montana meetings and enables us to bid on equal terms with the Eastern tracks for the California horses." So don't forget Montana!

"Jimmy de Budd."

The indignation expressed throughout California regarding Buckboard Jim's exercise of the veto power is having the desired effect. He is trying to explain his action, but the more he talks the firmer becomes the belief among his hearers he is rapidly approaching imbecility. He has lost his grip, and when he received "snubs" from those whom he always considered his friends, his feelings became almost indescribable. Every newspaper of any standing in California has editorials almost as strong as the ones we published in these columns last week, and, by some means, these articles are shown him. He is trying to get away from California and the people he has wronged, but it seems to be an utter impossibility. He sees a storm arising and he knows what its result will be. He is fascinated by the conviction that he has seen his best days; he cannot hide from his consciousness the fact that his acts have met the disapproval of all taxpayers and their families. He can never face an audience again without being hissed; he can never receive a welcome among the farmers or their friends; he must be contented hereafter by being called "Jim," "plain, ordinary Jim;" having forfeited all right to the respect of the people and the title of "Governor."

THE Japanese Government is sending Commissioners to America, France, England, Germany, Russia, Scotland, Ireland, etc., to purchase horses of all breeds to replenish their stock. Several thoroughbreds have been sent from California, but the prices paid for them $150 to $250 did not secure animals that would be a fair criterion of the class bred here. They may have been extraordinary finely bred individuals but lacking in speed and stamina, or they may not have been, but for those figures, first-class horses in this or any other country cannot be obtained. We earnestly hope that the Commissioners will have the power and money to purchase only the very best horses America can produce. Then when these animals are compared with those from other lands they will not suffer by comparison. The result of such a test would turn the tide in favor of America as a place from whence the very best horses can and must be obtained.

REMEMBER, subscriptions to the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN are now due, and as it costs a large amount of money to conduct a paper of this size, we earnestly hope that everyone owing us $3.00 for subscription from May 6, 1896 to May 6, 1897, will forward the same at once.

THERE ought to be two meetings given by the P. C. T. H. B. Association this year. In a conversation recently with a number of members a favorable opinion on this subject prevailed.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of the colt stakes to be decided at the State Agricultural Fair, Sacramento. Entries close May 1st.

ONE of the finest catalogues printed has been issued by M. W. Dunham, of Wayne, Du Page county, Illinois. It contains half-tone pictures of many of his prize winning French coach horses and tabulated pedigrees and descriptions of the same. Mr. Dunham has for years been noted as the largest importer of European horses. Percherons, Normans, Belgians and French coaches. For over twenty years Oaklawn has been recognized as the Palo Alto among all heavy and carriage horse breeding farms. From its paddocks have been led more prize-winning stock than from any ten other farms in America.

THE attention of our readers is called to the first installment of newspaper clippings about Jimmy de Budd.

The Sentiment of Santa Clara Valley Horsemen in Regard to Buckboard Jim's Actions.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN—

The incalculable hardships which the vetoing of the district fair appropriation bill has worked upon the horsemen of our valley, have called forth some comments from all connected with the horse industry, both collectively and individually. I herewith submit them to you and your many readers in all parts of our State, hoping they may have the desired effect in giving the quietus to all further aspirations of Buckboard Jim, that unspeakable idiot whose infamous selfishness insults the State, and whose name will hereafter be uttered with execrations.

Meekly, yet glibly, he pleaded his cause before election. But once elected he became the Pooh Bah of the situation; the great "I am."

One of his first official acts was to cut off the district fair appropriations; the disastrous effect of which was immediately felt throughout the State. With this practical lesson before him he yet vetoes it again, because, forsooth, he is the Governor by the sufferance of a patient people and the devil. And vetoes it after practically acknowledging to the Ways and Means Committee and several prominent horsemen of the State, that he would pass it. All courtesy and honor bestowed upon and shown this thrifty politician by these gentlemen was like casting the proverbial pearls before swine; they had forgotten to take into consideration the thickness of his ample and calloused hide which is proof against all such overtures, for common sense and reason are as foreign to him as are all of the other attributes that go to make up the gentleman.

Two years ago, when "the" Budd was only a sprout and had again emerged from the hot-house sewer of slimy politics, with the collar and cuffs newly branded upon him by ward heelers and houncers whose chosen flower he had become, I had the distasteful experience to smell this blossom at the Auditorium in San Jose. I also heard him delivering himself mouthwise with the customary shameless affortory peculiar to the genus shyster politician. The revered word patriotism was repeated as liberally as he has bestowed offices upon his uncles and aunts since, until the atmosphere was heavily weighted with his intonances. Honor and economy were delivered as readily as if he knew all about them, and as if he had not plainly demonstrated that both words were stricken from the Budd vocabulary since. All of this I found out too late. We are all prone to err, I am unlike our present Governor, willing to acknowledge my error, I voted for Budd—and may God have mercy on my soul!

I say it fervently, for Budd has stolen that from me which he can never return nor ever steal again—my confidence.

As I may be deemed in error, biased or spiteful it is well to refer to some of the more prominent acts of this incomparable goose headed thing. I desist mercifully from using the entire evidence in hand against him lest there may occur an uprising of the people. During his canvassing tour in this State for political preformant one of his pet promises was this: "The poor can rap at the door of the Capital and Jim will let them in." How "Jim" has fulfilled this promise to the poor they will assert in 1899 by rapping at the door of the Capital and letting "Jim" out. And letting him out for good and aye.

He forsooth, was the poor man's friend and to carry the deception into practical illustration he rode around the State in a buckboard.

He has, Grover like, repudiated his own party which, in turn, repudiates him. He has curtailed (?) expenses by appropriating $300,000 for a dredger to dredge a part of the Sacramento river, and his withering hand has caused the green lawn of the State Capital to become a dried-up desert-looking patch without flowers or shrubs, without the laughter of innocent children and without the song of birds. A fitting emblem of the administration of "Buckboard Jim."

To top all, he has attempted, with heartless thrift and selfish design, to ruin the horse industry of California. One of the most lucrative, interesting and noble callings in the State.

When on the Day of Judgment the recording angel shall come to the passage in which the above is registered he will spit upon the page and close the book forever.

SAN JOSE, April 5, 1897.

E. W. ORLOFF.

THE jockeys that will ride the various contestants in the $10,000 Burns Handicap to day are now known, and as matters stand the field will be composed of Salvation (Shaw, 120 pounds), Wheel of Fortune (H. Martin, 117 pounds), Ruinart (M. Bergen, 116 pounds), Schiller (Slaughter, 113 pounds), Argentina (Shields, 112 pounds), Installator (Coady, 112 pounds), Lobengula (W. Martin, 107 pounds), Judge Denny (E. Jones, 106 pounds), The Roman (G. Snider, 105 pounds), Grady (—, 102 pounds), Candelaria (C. Thorpe, 102 pounds), Altamax (Hennessy, 100 pounds). There will have to be quite a bit of reducing done in the cases of Thorpe and Hennessy to make the weights on Candelaria and Altamax respectively. The fact that Eddie Jones is hooked to pilot Judge Denny in the race shows that he is no longer under contract to Burns & Waterhouse. In a long list of opinions on which horse will win the rich event, printed in the Chronicle this morning, the majority seem to favor Installator, who, by the way, worked out the distance yesterday with his weight up in 2:08¾, Nebuchadnezzar carrying him along for six furlongs. Observant horsemen say the Brutus horse could have gone a second faster.

Spring Race Meeting at Sacramento.

Horsemen and other admirers of racing are just now manifesting deep interest in the spring racing meeting to be held in this city the latter part of May or early part of June. It will probably open on the 24th of May and continue six days; but the actual date has not yet been definitely determined.

The officers of the Capital City Driving Association, under the auspices of which body the meeting will be held, are: Daniel Flint, President; Wilber F. Smith, Secretary; Willard Gardner, Treasurer; M. N. Winans, Business Manager. They are all quite enthusiastic over the prospects of an excellent meeting, and have started out with the purpose of giving a programme of events that can hardly fail to attract a big crowd of visitors from the interior. It will be announced during the week.

There will be running and harness races on alternate days. The association has decided on a new method this year of advertising its meeting. This will be done by taking space in the various country newspapers, instead of paying out all, or nearly all, they will have to spare for that purpose to San Francisco journals.

The officers say they expect most of their patronage—both in entries and attendance—from Sacramento and other counties in this part of the State, and are convinced that better results will be attained by securing the aid of the interior papers.

Special days will be set apart during the meeting for certain localities. For instance, there will be a Sacramento day, a Marysville day, a Woodland day, a Chico day, etc. Sacramento day will fall on Friday of the racing week, when the merchants will be asked to close their places of business and make it one of the greatest days in the history of racing events in this city.

Negotiations are already under way for excursion trains from several of the larger interior cities and towns, on which reduced rates of fare will be given those who wish to visit the races and do their trading with merchants.

A committee of association members is now engaged in canvassing among business men for subscriptions to the fund for advertising and kindred expenses, and it is expected that merchants and others will respond liberally.

It is expected the excursions, with special rates of fare, will bring large numbers of people from the country each day, and many of them will improve the opportunity to trade here.

There are many young horses now in training in the interior, and it is believed that the coming spring meeting will be the best ever held here. The San Francisco racing clubs will close their tracks about the middle of May, and many of the horses now running there will be brought here to contest for the prizes.—Sacramento Record Union.

Good Roads for the Pacific Coast.

A committee on good roads and good streets held a meeting at the rooms of the California State Board of Trade, 16 Post street, last Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of perfecting the organization of a branch of the National League, the object of which is to obtain good roads throughout the country.

The committee, which was composed of delegates from all parts of the Pacific Coast, decided that action should be taken to secure the co-operation of various organizations in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, St. Louis, Chicago, Los Angeles, and elsewhere, with a view to immediately perfecting the organization of the national league and actively pushing its work for good roads throughout the United States, and also opening an office in San Francisco as the Western headquarters of the National League for Good Roads.

To this end it was recommended that the advocates and believers in good roads in all States of the Union use their efforts toward securing State organizations to co-operate with the National League and to call good roads conventions in every State for the purpose of discussing local road questions and sending duly accredited representatives to the national good roads conventions to be held annually under the auspices of the National League for Good Roads.

It was decided to endeavor to form a strong branch of the National Good Roads League upon this Coast, where the movement, it is thought, will be especially beneficial. The following comprise the temporary committee: J. S. Conwell, J. A. Filcher, Oscar Lewis, Julian Sonntag, T. C. Jenkins, Ernest McCullough and Charles Freeman Johnson.

Marysville Spring Races.

A spring race meeting for Marysville is now assured. It is to cover a period of three days, viz., Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 13th, 14th and 15th. This will bring the contests one week later than the Colusa races, thus assuring the presence of the horses that will take part in the programme at that place.

The meeting of the directors of the Marysville Jockey Club held at the City Hall last evening was called to order by George W. Sutliff. Secretary Gates reported a balance on hand from the 1896 meeting of $186.20, and reviewed the figures showing the receipts and disbursements of that meeting.

On motion the old Board of Directors was discharged and a new board elected, as follows: G. W. Sutliff, D. P. Donahoe, Wm. Hogoboom, James Littlejohn and E. P. McDaniel. It was agreed that Mr. Sutliff act as President and J. O. Gates as Secretary of the board.

On motion of D. P. Donahoe, Wm. Hogoboom and J. O. Gates were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions from the business men and citizens in general.

Before adjournment was taken, E. P. McDaniel, Wm. Hogoboom and Dan Morgan addressed the meeting, pointing out the good that must necessarily come from race meetings in the spring of the year, and exhorting the members of the club to put forth their best efforts that success may attend in May.—Journal.

A Few Puffs For Budd.

Governor BUDD proposes to leave the State for six months. Governor Jeter's first act should be to declare a legal holiday.—Sacramento Union.

The Mountain Democrat says that "Governor Budd has again used his veto as Washington used his traditional hatchet, and by vetoing the County Fairs bill he has chopped down more cherry trees than truthful George ever saw."

Of Governor Budd, the Woodland Mail remarks that "he has again demonstrated that he is completely under the control of the managing editor of the Examiner, who is grooming him to succeed Steve White in the United States Senate."

JUST now the crazy man has the chair, however, and may have the cunning and shrewdness to hold it. Impediment should be his portion and that mighty kick. Such humcom and hitherskite conduct deserves more than ridicule. Budd is both fool and knave.—Marysville Appeal.

Governor BUDD has again vetoed the agricultural fairs appropriation bill, thus trying to strike a death blow to the light harness horse industry of the State. Most of the agricultural associations may now dispose of their properties for pasture fields. The Governor has again shown himself the professional reformer, to the injury of the great mass of farmers and horse breeders of the State.—Salinas Daily Journal (Democrat).

"THE typographical union comes before the people of the State in no winning mood. Union printers lived before James Budd and will live after him. They have expected nothing from his hands but fair treatment, and that they have not received. In him they have been deceived and they hereby declare, without fear of refutation, that he is unworthy of the confidence and deserves not the respect of union printers or of union men in any walk of life."

The Governor has seen fit to veto the District Fair Appropriation Bill, thus trying to strike a death blow to the light harness horse industry of the State. Most of the agricultural associations may now dispose of their properties for pasture fields. The Governor has again shown himself the professional reformer, to the injury of the great mass of farmers and horse breeders of the State.—Salinas Daily Journal (Democrat).

Governor BUDD has concluded his labors on the hills passed by the last Legislature. He has done just what the Republican predicted he would do in regard to appropriations. Those that are to be expended directly by himself or men appointed by him and under his control have been approved—we believe in every instance. He has continued the highway commission to be named by himself and to draw salaries, but has vetoed the bill under which the property of San Francisco and other cities was to have been helped build a perpetual leech on the State Treasury. All the appropriations for viticultural and other industrial experiments in connection with the State University were eliminated.—Santa Rosa Republican.

The Stockton Show.

STOCKTON, April 7.—The Inaugural Bench Show of the Stockton Kennel Club opened to-day. The entries number 174, with but few absentees. The benching is a new idea. All of the dogs except about a dozen of the toys are benched on the floor in very roomy stalls without partitions. The large dogs and the sporting classes show off to good advantage, but the smaller dogs, such as cockers and fox terriers, would look better if raised a couple of feet from the floor.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

We are again prepared to supply fanciers with the radial pedigree blanks in any desired quantity.
 The regular monthly meeting of the St. Bernard Club of California will be held at this office on Wednesday evening next.
 The Glenmore Kennels have been moved from West Berkeley to 2041 Linden street, Oakland, between 30th and 32d streets. Take San Pablo avenue cars to 32d street.
 The Verona Kennels will cost Mrs. Phoebe Hurst $5,900. The specifications include baths, drying room, quarantine quarters, breeding quarters, feed rooms and individual stalls. The kennels will be situated near Pleasanton.
 J. W. and H. W. Orear's promising young Gordon bitch Kate, by Dick II—Bijou, was poisoned last Saturday morning and lived but an hour or two. She was just about one year old and promised to be a bench show winner and a good field dog. This makes eight dogs poisoned in the neighborhood of Liberty and 21st streets during the last few months. What a pity the scoundrel cannot be caught.

Transportation of Horses.

Talking of the transportation of horses a veteran hand at the business recently said: "The percentage of accidents and sickness incurred by shipping has been greatly reduced, owing to keen observation of horses in transit. Years of experience have developed the fact that geldings are the most susceptible to illness. Mares come next and stallions are almost entirely exempt from serious attacks. Overheated cars and improper ventilation cause many horses to have fits while in transit. Such horses attempt to lie down, but are unable to do so in the cramped stalls in which they are placed. The intelligent shipper at once removes the horse so attacked from the stall and places him in the open space reserved between the rows of stalls. Unless especially constructed for the purpose the average express car will hold twelve horses comfortably, although ten would ship better and safer. When fourteen or sixteen horses are crowded into a car the chances of loss by accident or sickness are materially increased. Ocean voyages of horses are not so dangerous as many persons believe. In railroad travel the horses are closely confined in substantially constructed stalls so as to prevent their being knocked about in speeding around curves and made for the amount of space occupied. On board ship stalls may be constructed with sliding partitions that can be easily removed, so that horses can be closely confined in rough weather and the removal of the partition permits them to lie down when the sea is smooth. In these days of hilde keels the rolling of the average freight steamer that carries horses and cattle is greatly diminished. The sea manger is so constructed and padded that it can be secured inside the stall, so that the horse's breast is pressed against it and the horse is relieved from the rolling or pitching of the ship to a marked degree. As a rule, horses are shipped at warship, hence the rolling gives them a lengthwise motion—heads up, tails up, with an occasional relief by a side motion when the ship pitches forward when mounting or cutting through the billows. In some instances the horses stand fore and aft, with their heads facing the bow of the ship. It is only on the fast liners, where it is difficult to obtain passage for the horses and where space is scarce, that horses are shipped in this manner. On lines where large numbers of horses are shipped a competent veterinarian sails on each ship. Horses suffer from seasickness, but recover in a few days. If the attendants remain with them they are quiet, but get greatly excited when left alone. In a storm, when the ship rolls, pitches and tosses, horses take a firm hold of the manger with their teeth, their eyes protrude and they make every effort to brace themselves in a secure position. It requires about three days for a horse to get his sea legs. The first two days of the voyage and the last two days are the worst on both the horses and their attendants. Diomed, the first winner of the English Derby, was five weeks on board the ship that carried him to this country. Now it is possible to ship a horse across the Atlantic in a little more than five days."

A CHICAGO dispatch of April 8 (last night) was as follows: "Now that the Ideal Park race track has been closed by the passage of the Wylie bill in the Wisconsin Legislature, the outlook for racing in Chicago the coming season is not a flattering one. Of course, the two tracks in Indiana are available for fifteen days' racing out of every forty-five, but it is not believed that many horsemen will be willing to lie idle thirty days in order to race fifteen. Neither can they be expected to ship to the Hoosier tracks from a distance for such a short period of purse offerings. Friends of horse-racing in Chicago are hoping for some favorable legislation from the Legislature at Springfield; but, of course, there is no telling what that body will do. A bill has been prepared and probably will be introduced in a few days. It will allow fifteen days' racing on each track between the first of May and the first of November, pools to be sold on the events occurring on the tracks, and specifically barring foreign pools. This measure is said to have the approval of the Northwestern Horse Breeders' Association, and a strong effort will be made to put it through the General Assembly. Unless this bill or some similar measure is passed, horse-racing in and around Chicago will become a thing of the past.

The following came from Madison, (Wis.), last night: The Wylie Anti Pooling bill will become a law and betting on the horse races becomes a thing of the past in Wisconsin. In the Senate to-day Senator Burka's motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was concurred in was lost. The measure, having already passed the Assembly, now goes to the Governor for signature. It is conceded that he will approve the bill.

The famous old racer, Rye Straw, for several years cared for on General John F. Miller's ranch on Klamath river, a few miles below Klamath Falls, is dead. The horse was twenty-six years old. Rye Straw was a long-distance runner, and at one time the fastest on the Coast—Portland (Or.) dispatch, April 6th.

The Trotting Horse.

BY CHARLES MARVIN.

This great practical horse book is a handsome, three hundred page octavo, bound in cloth, elegantly printed, superbly illustrated, and explains in every detail the remarkable success of CHARLES MARVIN and the whole plans and methods pursued at Palo Alto as to breaking, training, shoeing, gaiting, driving, keeping, racing and breeding trotters.

Read what J. C. Silby, the owner of St. Bel, says of this book: "In this work Marvin has let out all the mysteries of the craft, and it is so simple and plain that any breeder, owner, trainer or rubber who has any relish for his business can take a colt as a yearling and develop to the highest and fullest extent that colt's capacity as a trotter. The work impressed me so strongly that I have ordered twenty copies, and shall place one in the hands of every rubber on our farm."

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONT'S.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

He is one of the best producing sons of Director, and in conformation a grand individual; took first premium at the State Fair over such great horses as Knight, 2:22, and Zombro, three-year-old record 2:19¾. He holds the five-mile race record of the world, 12:05 1-2, and never sired a colt that was not speedy. WALDSTEIN is sire of Lady Waldstein, 2:15; Humboldt Maid, 2:17; Jack W., 2:19¾; Native Son, 2:29¾; Swiftbird, 2:29¾, (both three years old). The dams of all these have no records nor did they ever produce any in the 2:30 list. Come and see WALDSTEIN'S colts go before booking your mares elsewhere.

TERMS, $50 FOR THE SEASON

(SEASON CLOSES JULY 1st.)

The King of All Large Trotting Stallions

JAMES MADISON, 2:17 3-4

Trial 2:12, driven by W. Mahen.

Sired by ANTEEO, 2:16 1-4, out of LUCY PATCHEN, by Geo. M. Patchen; second dam Fanny Branham, by American Boy Jr.; third dam Pues, by Lance. He sired Addison, 2:18 1-4, Lelia S., 2:20 1-2, Bet Madison, 2:30, Emma Nevada (trial 2:18), Dolly Madison (trial 2:21 3-4).

JAMES MADISON is sixteen hands high and weighs over 1,300 pounds. He is one of the best proportioned horses of his sire's living and his progeny have style, size, finish, perfect legs and feet, iron constitutions, splendid dispositions and the purest gait imaginable. They are all speedy. There never was a James Madison foaled that cannot show a 2:30 clip. And they need little or no boots.

TERMS FOR THE SEASON, $50.

DIABLO, 2:09 1-4 THE CHAMPION FOUR-YEAR-OLD IN CALIFORNIA

Sire, CHAS. To show how well Diablo's colts have shown it is only necessary to say that five were handled for speed in 1896. Following are their trials: Two-year-old, one-quarter, 38 seconds; a two-year-old, one-quarter, 31 seconds; a two-year-old, one-half, 1:09; a yearling, one-quarter, 35 seconds; a two-year-old, six weeks' work, one-quarter, 38 seconds, and El Diablo, trial mile, trotting 2:24. DIABLO will make the season of 1897 at Pleasanton. Service fee, $50. Address,

WM. MURRY, Pleasanton, Cal.

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12½

ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M., 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING Unexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12½, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable bull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15½ hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stake as a three-year-old, and in his four-year-old form, until he met Azale, 2:01½ (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen May, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26¾). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 15 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is remarkably handsome, stylish, evenly proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfect in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37½. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:18½, dam Chantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:38), by Nutwood, 2:18½; second dam Grenon (dam of Love's, 2:20, and Betsy Britton, 2:20½), by Princeps 886; third dam Grace Lise (dam of Bazarie, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned in the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $410, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred on a sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

The Only DIRECT Stallion Standing in the State!

ARTHUR L., 3, 2:15 1-4

Will Make the Season of 1897 at DIRECT STABLES, ALAMEDA, CAL.

TERMS—50, With Usual Return Privileges.

ARTHUR L., 2:15 1-4 (at three years of age) was sired by DIRECT, 2:05¼, out of NELLIE BLY (dam of Della S., 2:21, and Toots), by GEO. M. PATCHEN JR., 2:27; second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Graves, 2:19). He is one of the finest young stallions in this State, and as it is the intention to prepare him for the fall races, he will be allowed to serve only a limited number of mares. His record, 2:15¼, is no mark of his speed, as he has shown his ability to get a mark of 2:05. ARTHUR L. is a coal black in color, stands 15½ hands and weighs 1,000 pounds. He is perfectly level headed and one of the best-gaited horses on earth.

TOOTS

was sired by MONBAR, 2:10¼, trotting, 2:16 pacing. His dam was NELLIE BLY (dam of Arthur L., 2:15¼, and Della S., 2:21); second dam ROSE AUSTIN (dam of Graves, 2:19). TOOTS is a handsome young horse, undevelped, but has shown very fast in his short work. After the season ends he will be prepared for the races. TOOTS is a black col., stands 15½ hands, weighs 1,07 pounds, and is without a weak spot anywhere. His breeding is of the best, his sire, MONBAR, being by that great GAZELLE WILKES stallion, JAY BIRD 2:31¼, dam LADY MAUD, 2:18¼, by GEN. KNOX, etc.

WILL MAKE THE SEASON AT THE SAME PLACE AT $25, WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

As an extra inducement to owners of good mares, I agree to break all horses to harness sired by ARTHUR L. and TOOTS, and present to the owner of any colt sired by either of the above horses the sum of $100 if it obtains a yearling record of 2:30 or better; also $200 to the owner of a two-year-old that obtains a record of 2:20.

Terms Cash, or Satisfaction Note at Time of Service. Good Pasturage at Reasonable Rates.

For the best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address, LOUIS SCHAEFFER, 476 Tenth Street, Oakland; or, HENRY A. CHAPMAN, Direct Stables, Arbor St., Cor. Eagle Ave., Alameda, Cal.

The Standard-Bred Stallion

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

SIRED BY

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew's second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle-Mahoe (sister of Voucher, of Norfolk), fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:14½, Anteeo, 2:19½, etc., but g by Electioneer, out of C. Humble, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10¼, Nellie F., 2:13¼, and seven other others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 14 sired Dan Voorhes, 2:23¼, St. Helena, 2:27½, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14½, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. rule. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times.

His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of band some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

MILO KNOX, Haywards, Cal.

He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.*TERMS—$25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, dam Early Bird, by Playmail (brother to Barney, 2:15 1/4); second dam Lucy, by Old Fellow (son of Chloroform); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmail was by Mike 3403 (he by V-mont 232, out of the Pezger mare), out of Kate McDonough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Salathiel, 2:05 1/4).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands high and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrical of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy racer are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and in his maternal side traces to the very best of sires and dams. He has an iron constitution, and all owners of good mares that want horses that will have breeding, size, bone, quality, good disposition and extreme speed should not overlook this horse. His service fee is placed at a very low figure considering his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

BY WHIPS, SIRE OF AZOTE, 2:04 3-4, COBWEBS, 2:12, AND SEVERAL OTHERS IN THE LIST

FIRST DAM—JOE VIVA, by Joe Hooker.

SECOND DAM—LADY VIVA, by Three Cheers (dam of Electioneer Rex, showed when a two-year-old quarters in 36 seconds.)

THIRD DAM—LADY AMANDA, by imp. Hurrah (the dam of Electioneer Jr., formerly Advance, three-year-old record 2:22 1/4).

FOURTH DAM—LADY LANCASTER, by imp. Monarch. The dam of Malcolm Regent, Ontario and several other winners. Marion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rev, Yo Tambien, and several other high-class race horses, is by Malcolm, and the breeding of Viva La-Electioneer, combined with strains of thoroughbred which have shown adaptability to acquire trotting action, is now greatly fancied by intelligent breeders.

VIVA LA is sixteen hands high, a rich seal brown in color and more than usually handsome, combining muscular power and quality in an eminent degree. He was trained a little in his yearling form and showed a 2:40 gait and was improving rapidly when his training was suspended. $75

For the Season with Usual Return Privileges.

Payable on Removal of Mares.

With a limited chance in the stud, True Briton has already shown himself to be a great sire. Rey del Bandido, from a no-producing mare that had already had five foals, holds the Pacific Coast record, 2:57 1/4 at 2 1/2 miles; Her Majesty (dead), won 11 out of 14 starts; Walter J., (also out of a non-producer), a horse with a great turn of speed, has finished outside the money but a very few times out of nearly one hundred starts. Virgie A. and Zeta, both winners, being the only other ones to represent this specially-bred stallion on the racing turf this year.

From this showing there is but one inference to be drawn, and that is, that True Briton is a sure getter of winners; mares that have never thrown a winner to any other stallion, bred to True Briton, get winners and class horses at that.

OAKLAND RACES.

Conclusion of a Meeting Wherein There Were Many Memorable Contests—Ruinart's Great Victories and Other Interesting Events Described.

SEVENTY-THIRD DAY—THURSDAY, APRIL 15.

Three long shots, two favorites and a 5 to 1'er got home in front at Oakland to-day. The attendance was as good as it has been, which is saying a good deal, and the races were exciting enough to suit even those with torpid livers and little enthusiasm in their make-ups. In the first Billy Ayres was the best one in a had hunch, but as good as 10 to 1 was to be had against the half-brother of Oregon Eclipse. Popinjay, a 100 to 1 shot, was second, ridden by little Johnny Woods, who also piloted the 20 to 1'er May R., to victory in the fifth. Parthamax took the second by a neck in a hard drive, Russella second. Charlemagne, as good as 5 to 1, was a hand winner of the third, Miss Rowena captured the two-year-old event without much trouble, with a 40 to 1 chance Barney Schreiber, in the place. Then came May R.'s win from such a good one as Alvarado. A sixteenth from home Alvarado looked a 1 to 5 shot, but the filly was game and her little rider as determined as his mount, and at the finish the three-year-old's head and neck showed in front of the four-year-olds. Major Cook, with top weight up, 115 pounds, annexed the last in his old-time style, Mohalasca turning another flip-flap and winding up a head before the favorite, Dunboy. Frank Coady had bot two mounts, and piloted both to victory.

In the first, six furlongs, selling, to a good start Red Will went to the fore, but was soon joined by Senator Mahoney, the pair running close together past the half, three lengths before Sooladain, first to show. About a sixteenth further on Ingleside, close to the inner rails, fell with H. Brown, breaking his shoulder and shaking up the boy. Into the homestretch it was Senator Mahoney first by a head, Red Will next, two lengths from Billy Ayres. The latter came very fast, and a sixteenth from home was leading by three lengths. He won ridden out by two lengths, Popinjay in a drive heating Fannie E. a head for place. Time, 1:17. Billy Ayres was at 8 to 1, Popinjay 100, Fannie E. 10, Senator Mahoney 9 to 5, Ingleside 18 to 5, others 12 to 60 to 1.

The second race, one mile, was for three-year-olds. To a fair start, except James Porteous, Parthamax went into the lead, being one and a half lengths from Claudiana at the quarter, a length at the half, Sly lapped on the latter. Parthamax led Claudiana a length at the three-quarters, Sly still at Claudiana's saddle, a length before Russella. The last-named came very fast in the homestretch, forcing Parthamax to drive hard to beat her on a neck, Sly third, four lengths off, Claudiana another half length off. Time, 1:42. Parthamax was at 1 to 3, Russella 5 to 1, Sly 15, others 20 to 600 to 1.

The third race was a selling affair, six furlongs. Roltaire went right to the fore and led Gold Bug by five lengths at the half and Charlemagne two into the homestretch, Tempestuous lapped on the latter. Roltaire quit when he had gone about five furlongs and Charlemagne came on and won ridden out by two lengths. Tempestuous second, just lasting long enough to beat the fast-coming Rufalsha a nose, Roltaire fourth, three lengths further off. Time, 1:16. Charlemagne was at 5 to 1, Tempestuous 2 to 1, Rufalsha 6, Roltaire 3, others 12 to 60 to 1.

The fourth race, half a mile, for two-year-olds, brought eleven to the post. To a quick, good start Hermoso showed first and led for over a furlong, when Miss Rowena passed him and was not thereafter headed, winning easily by two lengths. Barney Schreiber finished up second, one and one-half lengths before Flushington, who was ridden out. Jones did not persevere with Hermoso. Time, 0:49. Miss Rowena was at 11 to 20, Barney Schreiber 30 to 1, Flushington 15, Hermoso 3, others 20 to 200.

The fifth was a mile selling race. To a good, quick start Alvarado soon got into the lead, being two lengths to the good at the quarter, San Marco and May R. heads apart as named. May R. now ran up fast and was second, lapped on Alvarado, at the half. Alvarado led at the final turn by a length, May R. second, four lengths from San Marco. Alvarado appeared to have May R. beaten a sixteenth from home, but the filly came again, and out-gaming him, won all out by half a length. Alvarado second, three lengths from San Marco. Time 1:42. May R. was at 15 to 1 (30 once), Alvarado 7 to 10, San Marco 6 to 1, Bahe Murphy 3, Olive 30 and Velox 80 to 1.

The concluding race, six furlongs, was fully as large a surprise party as May R.'s victory. Refugee and Jim Bozeman ran almost as a team past the half and three-quarters, Salishury third. Major Cook, fifth away, came very fast from the three-quarter mark, and galling to the front about half-way down the stretch, drew away and won handsly by two lengths, Mohalasca, coming like a shot, second, a head before Dunboy, on whom Santa Paula was lapped. Refugee was "short." The odds were: Major Cook 15 to 1, Mohalasca 7, Dunboy 2, Salishury and Refugee 5 (latter 8 once), others 10 to 50 to 1.

SEVENTY-FOURTH DAY—FRIDAY, APRIL 16.

In the first race, six furlongs, selling, they all got away well except Howard. Quicksilver went out in front like a shot, leading Peril by two lengths at the half, Roadwarmer four lengths away, heading a hunch. Peril got within a length of Quicksilver on the final turn, and collaring him in the final sixteenth, won easily by five lengths, Quicksilver second, a length before Pat Murphy, who beat Amelia Fonso a head. Time, 1:16. Peril was at 15 to 1, Quicksilver 10, Pat Murphy 5, Howard 15 to 5, others 7 to 100 to 1.

The second was for two-year-olds, four furlongs, selling. The start was good. Roxey Murphy, Delia M., Extempore was the order. Malka, sixth away, rushed into the lead nearing the three-quarters and was a length to the good on the final turn, Roxey Murphy second, as far from Dalion. About a sixteenth of a mile from home Delia M. came through like a shot from the rear and won cleverly by a length, Twinkler finishing up very strong second, a head before Roxey Murphy, who beat Malka two lengths. Time, 0:50. Delia M. was at 12 to 5, Twinkler 10 to 1, Roxey Murphy 11 to 5, Uncia True, 7, others 10 to 100 to 1.

In the mile, third on the programme, they got a good start. Lena went to the front, leading Ezekiel by three lengths at the quarter and O'Fleta four at the half and three quarters, Ezekiel a head behind O'Fleta, three lengths from Halsev. Lena was not headed, and won handsly by three lengths, O'Fleta second, four from the fast-coming Little Boh, on whom Cheridah was lapped. Time, 1:43. Lena was at 13 to 5, O'Fleta 15 to 1, Little Boh 16 to 5 (opened at 2 to 1), Mollie R. 5 (played from 7), Ezekiel 15 to 5, others 20 to 60 to 1.

The fourth race was at four furlongs, for two-year-olds. Duke of York was off first to a fair start, and led by a head at the three-quarters, Miss Remsen second, with Miss Dividend at her saddle. Torsida got to the front half-way down the homestretch, and The Cheat came very fast. Bozeman did not give him a very strong ride, however, and Torsida won by two lengths, The Cheat second, half a length before Miss Dividend. Time, 0:49. Torsida was at 4 to 5 (hacked from 6 to 5), The Cheat 3 to 1 (opened at 7 to 5), Miss Dividend 40, others from 10 to 100 to 1. It looked as if The Cheat could gallop over the top of Torsida in the homestretch. Besides, he went back in the betting from 7 to 5 to 3 to 1.

A mile and a furlong selling race came next. To a good send-off Judge Denny and Veragua ran as a team past the stand and to the quarter, Hazard third. Judge Denny had half a length the best of it at the half, Perseus second, lapped by Veragua, Addie Buchanan well up. Judge Denny and Perseus entered the homestretch heads apart, two lengths from the fast-coming Morte Fosse. Perseus dropped back in the homestretch, Judge Denny and Morte Fosse driving it out, the former winning by a neck, Morte Fosse, four lengths from Addie Buchanan, who just beat Perseus a short head. Time, 1:54. Judge Denny was at 4 to 1, Morte Fosse 16 to 5 (opened at 2 to 1), Addie Buchanan 8, Perseus 8 to 5 (hacked down from 2 to 1), others 30 to 500 to 1.

The concluding event was a race for three-year-olds at six furlongs. Alma was the pace-setter, and led Lost Girl a length past the half and Fortunate by the same distance into the homestretch, Widow Jones, Lost Girl and Mercutio following in the order named, a length separating each. Alma coughed it up in the last sixteenth and Lost Girl appeared to be winning. However, Mercutio came with a great rush and won by half a length in the last few strides, Lost Girl second, as far from Fortunate. Time, 1:16. Mercutio was at 8 to 1, Lost Girl 5 (went back from 2 to 1), Fortunate 15, Alma 2, Santa Paula 4, others 7 to 100 to 1.

SEVENTY-FIFTH DAY—SATURDAY, APRIL 17.

In the first, one mile to a fair start, Ostler Joa went to the front, and with Vincitor for his nearest attendant, led around to the homestretch by a length, Bernardillo third, another length away. Vincitor died away in the homestretch and Ostler Joa won easily by 3 lengths, Bernardillo having the poorly managed Grady a nose for the place through having "the nod" on him. Time, 1:42. Ostler Joa was at 6 to 5, Bernardillo 4 to 1, Grady 7, Vincitor 3, imp. Disparity, 100, and Mirambo 200 to 1.

The Athenian Club Handicap Hurdle, two and a half miles, came next. The stake was $1,500, of which $250 to second, $150 to third. Everything was under restraint the first half, which was run in 1:02, first quarter in 0:31. Huntsman went into the lead and remained a couple of lengths in front of Baby Bill for about one and a half miles, when Montalvo and J. O. C. (who had been under restraint) moved up. Huntsman fell back beaten three furlongs from home and Arundel came very fast. Baby Bill led at the last fance by less than a length, Montalvo second, a couple of lengths from J. O. C. Montalvo got up to Baby Bill's neck, but that was the best he could do, Baby Bill winning by a scant neck, Montalvo second six lengths from J. O. C. Time, 4:23. Baby Bill was at 6 to 1, Montalvo even money, J. O. C. 4 to 1, others 8 and 10.

A two-mile selling race, second on the programme, was a most interesting affair. To a good start Collins, off fourth, went into the lead at once, Tuxedo running a close second at the half, with Gov. Budd at his heels. At the end of a mile Collins was first by one and a half lengths, Gov. Budd and Tuxedo heads apart as named, two lengths before Oakland, under a pull, Unity also under restraint, two lengths further away. When they had gone one and a half miles Collins had a length the best of it, Tuxedo second, now lapped by the badly-managed Frank Janhert, on whom Oakland was lapped. Peter the Second, fifth, began to look dangerous. At the final turn it was Collins first by a length still, Frank Janhert and Tuxedo head and head, three parts of a length before Oakland, he lapped by Peter the Second, at whose heels came Unity. The last-named was now cut loose, and ridden with wonderful skill for so young a pilot, he cut one after another down, and getting up to Collins in the last ninety yards, won a good race by a scant length, Collins second, three parts of a length before Oakland. Time, 3:32. Unity was at 2 to 1, Collins 6, Oakland 4, others 7 to 50.

The Candelaria Handicap, five furlongs, brought nine two-year-olds to the post. The stake was of a $1,500 value, of which $250 to second and $100 to third. To a good start Recreation showed first, Hermoso second, Rosormonde third. Hermoso led Rosormonde a length at the half, but the latter soon passed to the fore and led at the final turn by two lengths, Miss Rowena second, lapped by Hermoso. Rosormonde was not caught, winning handsly by a length, Recreation coming from fifth place and finishing second, one and a half lengths before The Cheat, who beat Front de Boeuf a neck. Time, 1:02. Rosormonde was at 25 to 1 (100 once), Recreation and Miss Rowena (coupled) 7 to 10, The Cheat 15, others 4 to 150 to 1.

The fifth race was the event of the afternoon, it being the Palace Stakes, $2,000, of which $250 to second and $150 to third, the distance a mile and a furlong. To a good, quick start, the top-weighter Buckwa, as is his wont, sailed to the fore, leading past the stand by a length, at the quarter by the same distance, Installator taking second place and being lapped by Wheel of Fortune, at whose heels came The Roman. Going the next quarter Buckwa increased his advantage about half a length, Installator, the Wheel and Redskin running closely bunched, The Roman, Candelaria and Ruinart forming another group, the latter on the outside and clearly going easily. The positions remained unchanged in the run to the homestretch. Buckwa looked a sure winner half-way down, but Ruinart was coming on with those long strides of his, passing his rivals as if borne along by a hurricane. Sixty yards of home he was at Buckwa's saddle, in another couple of strides was on even terms, and shot in a clever winner by half a length, Buckwa second, a length before Candelaria, who in turn beat The Roman half a length. The time, 1:53, caused a roar of applause, but it was insignificant in comparison to the cheering that greeted Marty Bergen and the great brown colt upon their return to the stand. Ruinart had for the second time within eight days defeated the flower of the California racing flock with good weight on his young hack upon each occasion, and establishing a coast record at one and a quarter miles and coming close to the record at a mile and a furlong. Ruinart was at 9 to 1, Buckwa 16 to 5, Candelaria 8 to 1, the Boots pair 2½, Wheel of Fortune 6, Redskin 6, Schiller 15 to 1.

The last race of this meeting was at five and one-half furlongs. Off to a good start Sallie Clicquot showed first and led Zsamar a head past the half, Caesarian two lengths off. Zsamar got to the front in the next sixteenth and led Caesarian by one and one-half lengths into the homestretch. A little over a sixteenth from home Caesarian passed Zsamar and beat him out a length handily, California third one and one-half lengths further away. Time, 1:08, Caesarian was 2½ to 7, Zsamar 3, California 2½, Celoso and Torsina 7, others 100 to 300 to 1.

INGLESIDE RACES.

Re-opening Under Auspicious Circumstances

—Six Favorites Defeated the First

Day—All the Events Carefully Described.

SEVENTY-FIFTH DAY—MONDAY, APRIL 19.

The gates of Ingleside reopened this afternoon, and a large crowd went through. A chilly wind blew throughout the afternoon, and though the track was in prima order, no fast time was made except in one race. It was an awful afternoon for form-players, and one they will not hurriedly forget. Not a favorite won out of six attempts, and but one first choice finished as good as second. Manchester, at 10 to 1, captured the first race, his margin at the finish being six lengths. Lady Diamond, the favorite, was troubled with "the slows," and Grady, probably the best horse, got a vile ride. Old Tim Murphy, the roan hero of many a hard-fought sprint, won the second by a nose from the pace-satter, Perhaps, Lizzie H. (the favorite) a poor fourth. Michael won the Corrigan Stakes for W. M. Murry in fast time, but Rosormonde, who wound up second, got a villainous ride at the hands of Clawson. Getting away wall in the third, he entered the homestretch about four lengths to the good, then eased her up and gradually took her to the outside (when he hed the rail), the result being that Michael slipped up on the inside and won by a head. J. Naglea Burk, who has leased Rosormonde's running qualities, was naturally incensed at this tossing away of a good stake, to say nothing of the honor attached to the winning, and went to the judges about the matter. Clawson put up another bad ride on Rey del Tierra in the very next race, and The Bachelor, at 6 to 1, won. Caliente took the fifth after bumping Pat Murphy out of the race, and Pat in turn careening against Refugee, while Bernardillo beat the good thing, Lode Star, a head in the last after a long, hard drive.

In the opening race, seven furlongs, after a lot of bad acting they got away to a fair start. Blue Bell led Manchester half a length past the quarter, half and three-quarter poles, Logan close up. Manchester shot to the front as they straightened away in the homestretch and won off by six lengths, Blue Bell, Lady Diamond and the queerly ridden Grady finishing half lengths apart in the order named. Time, 1:28½. Manchester was at 10 to 1, Blue Bell 30 (100 once), Lady Diamond 6 to 5 (opened at 4 to 5), Grady 3½ (opened at 4), others 10 to 200 to 1.

The second event was a six-furlong selling race. To a fair start Perhaps, off first, led by two lengths passing the half, Tim Murphy, Duchess and Myrtle H. running half lengths apart as named. Perhaps led by a length at the three-quarters, Tim Murphy and Emma D. head and head, a length before Duchess. Tim Murphy joined Perhaps in the final furlong and in a hard drive won by a head, Perhaps second, four lengths before Mollie R. Time, 1:15½. Tim Murphy was at 15 to 1, Perhaps 30, Mollie R. 10, Lizzie H. 2½, Snowdown and Schnitz 5, Emma D. 8, others 15 to 200 to 1.

The Corrigan Stakes, $1,300, 6½ furlongs, for two-year-olds, came next. To a good start Rosormonde was first to show, Aluminum second and Louisa Hooker third. Rosormonde and Louise Hooker ran in close order past the half, then Clawson led the favorite have her head and she drew away until she was four lengths to the good at the three-quarters, Louisa Hooker, Front de Boeuf and The Cheat close together. Clawson eased Rosormonde up in the homestretch and let her veer out, the ride he made being deemed rightfully had by had good judges. The result was that Michael, hugging the rails, won by a head, Rosormonde second, with Front de Boeuf half a length away. Time, 1:01½. Michael was at 3½ to 1, Rosormonde 8 to 5, Front de Boeuf 15 to 1, others 6 to 100 to 1.

A mile and a sixteenth race was fourth on the programme. Rey del Tierra was last away to a fair start, San Marco first. San Marco led at the quarter by two lengths, Rey del Tierra second, with Addie Buchanan at his saddle. Rey del Tierra got to the front in the next furlong and led San Marco by two lengths past the half and three quarters, Babe Murphy third at the latter point. Clawson again took it easy as they straightened away, and when he saw San Marco and the Bachelor coming up got rattled. The Bachelor won by a head from San Marco, who beat Ray del Tierra three lengths. Time 1:20. The Bachelor was at 6 to 1, San Marco 12, Rey del Tierra 11 to 20, Addie Buchanan 6, Babe Murphy 15.

The fifth event was a six-furlong selling race. Kowalsky, first away to a good start, led by half a length past the half, Pat Murphy second, lapped by Potentata. The latter led into the homestretch by a length, Kowalsky second, as far from Pat Murphy. Potentata led by three lengths half-way down. Caliente, in coming through, bumped Pat Murphy, who, in turn, bumped Refugee. Caliente came on and won driving by a length, Majorie in a hot drive beating Refugee a head for place. Potentata another half a length off. Time, 1:15½. A claim of foul made by Pat Murphy against Caliente was not allowed. Caliente was at 4 to 1, Majorie 12, Refugee 2½ (3½ once), Major Cook 3½, others 10 to 40 to 1.

The concluding race was for three-year-olds, one mile. Bernardillo and Lode Star ran heads apart as named clear around to the homestretch, Vincitor running third to the half, Personne third at the three-quarters. Piggott eased Bernardillo up a trifle in the straight, saving him for a final effort, with the result that in a very exciting finish Bernardillo won by half a head, Lode Star second, ten lengths before the favorite, Good Times. Time, 1:43½. Bernardillo was at 2½ to 1, Lode Star 10, Good Times even money, Vincitor 8, Personne 10 and James Porteous 500 to 1.

SEVENTY-SEVENTH DAY—TUESDAY, APRIL 20.

A half-mile dash for two-year-olds was first on the programme. To a good start Miss Dividend showed first, Little T. G. second. Little T. G. and Miss Dividend ran heads apart past the three-quarter mark, three lengths from Marvelous. Miss Dividend led in the homestretch by a length and appeared to be going easy, but Willia Martin, on Torrida, slipped up against the inner rails and won driving by a neck, Miss Dividend second, with Little T. G. at her saddle, Marvelous fourth, another length off. Time, 0:50½. Torrida was at 11 to 10, Miss Dividend 10 to 1, Little T. G. 5, others 8 to 200 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, for three-year-olds, Santa Paula went into the lead and was never headed, Adam Andrew coming fast at the end and being beaten but a head, Reel third, two lengths away and two from Queen Nubia, the favorite, who ran a bad race. Time, 1:17½. Santa Paula was at 3½ to 1, Adam Andrew 7, Reel 40, Queen Nubia 7 to 10, others 20 to 100 to 1.

The third race was at 6½ and one-half furlongs, selling. To a good start Myrtle H. led passing the half by a length, Blue Bell and William Pinkerton heads apart, a length from Peixotto. The latter got a very strange ride, being under a sturdy pull until half way down the homestretch, where Reddington headed the leader, Pinkerton, and crossed in front of him, though clear. Reddington went on and won by one and one-half lengths handily, Peixotto second and coming fast, three lengths before Encino, who beat Pinkerton a length. Time 1:11. Reddington was at 9 to 5, Peixotto 11 to 5, Encino 15, William Pinkerton 4½, Blue Bell 7, others 150 to 500 to 1.

The fourth race was one of a mile and a quarter. Tuxedo led Leonville a head past the stand and quarter. Hazard was sent along when they had gone five furlongs and led by a head passing the half, Leonville, Tuxedo, Can't Dance and Morte Fosse running lapped in the order named. Hazard led into the homestretch by a length, but was passed by Can't Dance. Morte Fosse came fast and gamely on the inside, however, and collaring Can't Dance a little less than a sixteenth from home, won by half a length, Can't Dance second, two lengths from the tiring Hazard, Leonville a head fourth. Time, 2:12½. Morte Fosse was at 1 to 2, Can't Dance 5 to 1, Hazard 7, others 10 to 200 to 1.

In the fifth race, selling, six furlongs, for three-year-olds, Loulou R. and Nahala ran heads apart past the half and three-quarter poles, Tolare third, three lengths off. Loulou R. had enough when she had gone five furlongs and Tolare joined Nehula in the final sixteenth, beating her out a head in a drive, Nehula three lengths before Mercutio, who finished strong. Time, 1:16, Tulara was at 11 to 10, Nehula 3½, Mercutio 6, others 15 to 150 to 1.

In the last seven furlongs, Celoso led past the quarter and half. Howard S. led at the three-quarters by two lengths and won easily by two lengths from Wheel of Fortune, who beat imp. Trance a length. Celoso died away in the homestretch. The time was 1:29½, Howard S. was at 16 to 5, Wheel of Fortune 7 to 10, Trance 50 to 1, Celoso 5, Vincitor 15, others 600 to 1,000 to 1.

SEVENTY-EIGHTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21.

In the first race, four and a half furlongs, for two-year-olds, fifteen lined up. Elmore was first to show to a good start, and leading Flushing half a length at the three-quarters, drew away in the homestretch and won handily by a length, Rey Salazar, tenth off, second, five lengths before Flushing, who was lapped by the favorite, Imperious. Time, 0:56½. Elmore was at 8 to 1, Rey Salazar 3½, Flushing 5, Imperious 3, Hermoso 5, others 10 to 200 to 1.

A mile and a furlong selling race brought seven to the post. The send-off was all right. Examiner led Grady by half a length passing the stand, but at the seven-furlong pole Grady passed to the fore, leading by two lengths at the quarter and half, Earl Cochran second, a length before Peter II. At the three quarters Grady was still two lengths to the good, and St. Aignon had run up second, a head before Redskin. Grady was not headed, and getting a fairly good ride, won driving by half a length from Peter II, who was as far from Earl Cochran. St. Aignon was fourth, lapped by Redskin. Time, 1:58. Grady was at 5 to 1, Peter II 20, Earl Cochran 12, Redskin 1 to 2, St. Aignon 6, others 600 to 1.

In the third, seven furlongs, handicap, they got a fair start, except California, who was virtually left. Double Quick and Sallie Clicquot ran close together past the quarter. Then Double Quick drew off and led her a length at the half and into the homestretch, end, not headed, won handily by three lengths, Salvable, eased up a hit in the last eighth, second, half a length from Nebuchadnezzar, Sallie Clicquot a poor fourth. Time, 1:28½. Double Quick was at 6 to 1, Salvable 9 to 10, Nebuchadnezzar 7 to 1, California 5, Sallie Clicquot 8, Miss Ruth 4 to 1.

In the fourth, one and one-eighth miles hurdle, handicap, St. Apollo led Flashlight half a length past the stand, Snowdown another half a length off. Snowdown then went to the fore, and Dick O'Malley fall at the second fence throwing Allen, but running on, interfering with Flashlight. Snowdown led St. Apollo half a length at the quarter, Flashlight by the same distance, at the half and Huntsman by that distance at the three-quarters, O'Malley bumping and cutting off Flashlight. Snowdown was not headed, winning easily by two lengths, Huntsman second, half a length before Tuxedo, who beat Flashlight four lengths. Time, 2:04½. Snowdown was at 3 to 1, Huntsman 12, Tuxedo 7, Flashlight at evens, others 12 to 100 to 1.

A mile race was 6th on the programme. To a good start, Encino, fourth away, shot to the fore, leading by 6½ lengths past the quarter, La Mascota second, a head before Tenacity, on whom Gov. Budd was lapped. There was no change in the positions of those mentioned in the run to the half or three-quarters, and Encino galloped in a winner by four lengths, Tom Elmore, sixth in the homestretch, finishing up second, 6½ lengths before Tenacity, on whom La Mascota was lapped. Time, 1:44. Encino was at 10 to 1, Tom Elmore 8 (backed from 12), Tenacity 7, La Mascota 13 to 5, Bueno 4, Mollie R. 6, others 15 to 200 to 1.

The last race was at 6½ furlongs. After breaking the harrier they got away to a flying start and Clare N. led Scotch Rosa by a length past the half, Caesarian four lengths off. Caesarian rushed up like a shot in the next furlong, but was outwitted with in a terrible manner by Scotch Rosa, knocking him back four or five lengths, this costing him the race. George Miller assumed the lead as they straightened in the stretch, and though Caesarian ran up fast, George Miller lasted to win by a head, Rufalbra third, ten lengths off. Time, 1:03½. Shields' left foot was badly cut, caused by Scotch Rosa's interference. George Miller was at 6½ to 1, Caesarian 9 to 20, Rufalbra 80 to 1, Scotch Rosa 4, Florinel 25, others 350 to 1,000 to 1.

SEVENTY-NINTH DAY—THURSDAY, APRIL 22.

The first race, five furlongs, for two-year-olds, had ten starters. They got a good send-off after Outlay had delayed matters at the post. Malka led Santa Maria half a length past the half. Sadie Schwartz and Malka ran heads apart into the homestretch, two lengths before Cima, at whose heels was The Cheat. The Cheat got up to Malka a little over half-way down, and Outlay moved up fast. The Cheat went on and won handily by half a length, Outlay second, six lengths before Sadie Schwartz, who just beat Malka a head. Time, 1:03½. The Cheat was at 4 to 5, Outlay 7 to 1, Sadie Schwartz 10, Salazar 4, others 15 to 200 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, selling, Pat Murphy showed first to a bad start, Kowalsky left. Pat led Nervoso a head at the half, Mohalsca four lengths off. At the three-quarters the roan was one and a half lengths to the good, Nervoso second, two from Mohalsca. Murphy drew away even further in the homestretch and won handily by four lengths, Mohalsca second, two lengths from Palmerston. Midlo showed none of the speed for which he is noted, and this occasioned lots of talk. Time, 1:15½. Pat Murphy was at 2 to 1.

A mile and a sixteenth race came third. Benham led by a length past the stand and half a length at the quarter. Una Colorado second. Una Colorado and Benham ran heads apart past the half, one and a half lengths before Pepper, who was a head before Marcel. Una Colorado now drew away and led by three lengths into the homestretch, Benham second, lepped by Marcel. Vincitor collared Una Colorado near the finish and won cleverly by a head, Una Colorado six lengths from Marcel, she half a length from Benham. Time, 1:51½. Vincitor was at 9 to 5, Una Colorado 4 to 1, Marcel 15, Pepper 11 to 5 (4 to 1 once), Santozza 12 and Benham 25 to 1.

The fourth race was at a mile, selling. To a good send-off Charlemagne went to the front, and leading all the way by from a length to two and one-half lengths, won handily by a length from Two Cheers, who beat Velox half a length, Coda fourth, another half length away, Joe K. was prominent at the half and three-quarters. Time, 1:43. Charlemagne was at 2½ to 1; Two Cheers 5 to 1, Velox 8 to 5 (opened at 2 to 1), others 8 to 100 to 1.

The fifth race was at a mile. After quite a delay, occasioned principally by Refugee's bad actions, they got a fair send-off and Addie Buchanan led by half a length at the quarter, Nahula (who had run around her field after getting away badly) second, a head before Don Clarencio and Daylight, close together. Nehula led by a length at the half, Addie Buchanan and Mercutio heads apart. Nehula's lead was not half a length at the three-quarters. Mercutio second, two lengths before Addie Buchanan, who was going easy. Nehula held command up to the last sixteenth, when several came like a shot from behind, Addie Buchanan winning handily by a length, Joe Terry, Daylight, San Marco, Mercutio, Don Clarencio and Nehula finishing so close together that it was hard to separate them.

The concluding race, seven furlongs, for three-year-olds, had twelve starters. They got a good start, and Lou Lou R., ninth away, was first by a head by the time the quarter pole was reached, Sly second, three lengths from Rienzi. Lou Lou R. increased her lead to a length going to the half and Adam Andrew improved his position somewhat. At the three-quarters it was Lou Lou R. first by two lengths, Sly second, Adam Andrew third and coming like a shot on the outside. Ha assumed a slight lead in the homestretch, but Lou Lou R., who had been saved for a finish by Slaughter, came again and won cleverly by a head, Adam Andrew second, half a length before Claudiana, who was as far from Vincitor. Time, 1:30. Lou Lou R. was at 10 to 1, Adam Andrew 4, Claudiana and Vincitor (coupled) 4, Sly 2½, Alma 5 (10 once) others 15 to 200.

Racing in Los Angeles.

Senator Samnal N. Androns of Pomona, was in the city recently on his way to San Francisco. Ha left on the morning train. Ha goes north to arrange as president of the Pacific Coast Jockey club for a regular fall and spring racing meet to be held each year in Los Angeles. Should he succeed in his mission, and he is certain that he will, all of the big horse features which have made the Ingleside track famous will be duplicated at Agricultural Park. This means that several hundred of the best horses in the world will be seen here twice each year, for fifteen days at a time. Senator Androns will be back in Los Angeles with all of his plans complete, by May 1.—Los Angeles Times.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

OPENING THE CIRCUIT.—Inasmuch as the resolution to open the circuit with a meeting on the Emeryville track was offered by me, there is little necessity for stating that I am heartily in favor of the project. Harness racing interests demand that, under the untoward conditions which now prevail, every effort must be made to overcome the obstacle, and the resolution to take the initiatory step will encourage other associations to follow the example. It is a token that, disastrous as the action of the dogmatic votist has been that enough can be accomplished to keep up the sport of harness racing through the gloomy days, so that when better times come it will not be entirely moribund.

In fact, if at the meeting of the delegates from the various associations to be held on the 27th inst., there should be a general adoption of a like resolution, the season of 1897 will be superior to that of 1896, and though far from approaching what it would be with the co-operation of all the district fairs, will give the opportunity for "paying expenses" at least, and make resumption in the future much easier. Should the training of trotters and pacers come to an end, or even such a partial suspension as would be the result if there were only the State Fair, Los Angeles and the September meeting of the Breeders to induce "working" horses, even with appropriations in 1899, material of the right kind would be scarce. The proposed opening meeting, however, will unquestionably prove important in another direction. Not only stimulating associations to give meetings, but also inducing people to train horses which would have been turned out had this prospect not been in sight. This will insure more entries to the purses offered in other places, and I have the fullest confidence that when it is known that there will be a series of meetings prior to the State Fair, training will be quite active throughout the State.

Again, and without any hesitancy, I make this assertion, that the opening meeting will be successful. From various points of view; pecuniarily successful so that the Association will be benefited; satisfactory to the spectators, advantageous to owners. The plea has been entered that owing to the absence of a large number of horses, which will go to Montana, there will be a scarcity of contestants. While there is no questioning the claim that very many California horses will be among the mountains of Montana when the meetings precede the State Fair are held, some good will result; perhaps the benefit being greater than the disadvantage. Horses will be out of the way which would deter many others from being named, and however large the exodus of horses plenty will be left to fill the various classes. Those who stay at home, and endeavor to promote home sports, are surely worthy of commendation and equally as much entitled to a more solid reward than words of praise. Quite proper for the crusaders to carry the banner of California into the lists in which will be met noted knights of the sulky, their spirit is commendable and I sincerely hope that they will obtain a full share of the prizes in the tournament. And yet with all my anxiety to have "our horses" gloriously successful abroad still more so that the home guard has given a chance to have a "ding for fame and fortune."

When the two divisions of the grand army come together at the State Fair and subsequent meetings, the interest will be intensified.

Unless greatly mistaken, however fast the records gained at Anaconda and Butte, the horses which have been greeted with inspiring cheers in the land of the gnomes, they will find antagonists which will try their speed and endurance on California battle grounds. The races here will afford a chance to put the finishing touches to the "grand preparations" and then, too, the long journeys which the adventurers will have to make will be in favor of those who are not subjected to such an ordeal.

There was a heated discussion at the meeting of the Board on Monday last over the question, "When shall the entries close for the September meeting of the breeders?" The date was fixed at June 1st without any qualifications. Thus eligibility will be measured from that date, and this will be advantageous to the opening meeting and also to those which will fill the gap between that and the State fair. The great bugaboo heretofore has been the fear of records, and with that hideous genie banished all fear of that kind will be dispelled.

Last week I had a little to say regarding the track which the president of the California Jockey Club has so generously given the use of, and that work could be extended to several columns without doing justice to the subject. In brief, it can be stated, and that well within the bounds of truthful description, that so far as my knowledge extends not another track in the whole country which presents so many advantages for a trotting meeting. Contiguous to population of over half-a-million of people, and in direct railway communication with all parts of the State. Unequaled transportation facilities, competent to handle thousands, with little discomforts when even the crowds are immense, and the trip from the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, made inside of forty minutes. Horses unloaded at the gate of the track, stabling first class, everything, in fact, in the way of adjuncts to a racecourse, the very best. The climate is admitted to be superior to any point in the vicinity of the metropolis and it has always been favorite grounds with the trainers of harness horses.

Everything favorable, not a single drawback so far as track and all connected with the track are concerned, and if anyone can discover reasons for not anticipating a successful meeting it is beyond my view.

In passing the resolution it was understood that in addition to the regular programme there will be novel features which will be the subject of another article.

NOVELTIES.—When the proposition was made that The Breeders give two meetings, and in addition to that already fixed upon which is to be held during September, there should be another to open the circuit, the editor of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN suggested that novelties could be incorporated in the programme with decided advantage.

Mr. Layng proposed that races for four-in-hands, tandems, hackneys in spider carts, Shetland ponies, road horses without records, owners to drive, double teams, and races under saddle, for 2:30 trotters and 2:30 pacers headed to the programme. The idea was favorably considered and after a short discussion received unanimous approval.

There is little doubt that if owners take kindly to the proposition, and do their part by making entries the increased attendance will also be an endorsement of the departure from the old system of conducting harness-racing meetings.

Not absolutely novel as a somewhat analogous meeting was held at Dexter Park, Chicago, September 1867, though the lapse of thirty years may be accepted as giving the one that is contemplated the flavor of originality. A "great success" that which was held on the course which bore the name of the king regnant. For the first time in the history of harness racing $20,000 was hung up in premiums, and with twenty races to be divided in five days, it was necessary to utilize the forenoon on which were trotted the minor races, and the show premiums awarded.

I quote the opening lines of a report sent to a New York journal: "Yesterday opened with the inauguration of the Dexter Park Horse Fair. For several days this great metropolis of the northwest has been in a blaze of excitement. The cars and hosts have been hourly pouring into the city representatives of the turf from every section of the country. Crowds of notabilities, civil and military, too numerous for individual designation, might be seen participating in the sports of the day with a degree of zest and enjoyment calculated to make them forget for the moment the grave pursuits of every day life." It is reasonable to anticipate the same result here. The name has an influence, "fair" attracting many that "races" would repel. While the paramount attraction is contests of speed the name is an excuse for their presence.

The question has been asked what hearing will it have on the Horse Show proper? Certainly an advantage. The interference imaginary, the benefit palpable. The more opportunities offered to see horses and vehicles, which have a prominent place in the Horse Show, the greater the interest, and the proposed outdoor display, in lieu of militating against that which will be restricted to a limited arena, induce people to attend who previously had not been interested. Four-in-hands at speed encircling the course will be a beautiful spectacle, and while the hackneys are not expected to rival the celerity of the American trotter, their adaptability for the road will be exemplified.

It may be that the committee which will have this department in charge will combine characteristics, or rather qualities, speed so many points, form regarded, action considered, and tout ensemble being a prominent factor in making awards. To the best of my recollection Mr. James Stinson drove a four-in-hand at the Dexter Park Horse fair in 2:56, which was the record then, and the same gentleman has since lowered it a big bunch of seconds. If not at that meeting, at a subsequent one, held at Dexter Park, and as I was present it must have been at least a quarter of a century ago. That, of course, was to a skeleton wagon, and the later trials, undoubtedly to a light skeleton equipped with pneumatic tires and other modern improvements. "The record" to heavier vehicles may be established at the coming meeting.

PALO ALTO SALE.—The superb breeding farm never looked better than it did on the sunshiny day when the sale came off. That is, the natural beauties were at their best, and though there were sad thoughts, which gave a somber tinge, whenever memory recalled the past, there were moments when the attractive scenes partially dispelled the gloom and one could not forego admiration over the pictures presented.

Mr. Covey had made capital arrangements for the sale. The rostrum of the auctioneer was built under the huge live-oak, the favorite place of "The Governor" when the horses were at exercise. In fact it was the same platform and the remembrance of the many happy hours spent there was still grateful if even accompanied by poignant regrets.

A picture of Electioneer was hung over the entrance and some of the stallions and the most noted broodmares passed in procession before the spectators. Greatly admired: Advertiser, Adhell, Dexter Prince, Azmoor, Nazote and Gov. Pacheco. It would be singular, indeed, if any kind of crowd that a sale of horses attracted could fail to appreciate such a collection.

The broodmares. Is there another place on either hemisphere which could equal the showing? Beautiful Bells, about ready to present her twentieth consecutive foal, and as it will be by Monaco I shall look for a fitting relative to the many champions which antedate the expected prince or princess. Her daughter Rosemont, already secure of a high place in the table of great broodmares. Lula Wilkes, the dam of Advertiser, etc. Sontag Mohawk, eight in the list; Josie, the dam of Azote; Manette, the dam of Arion; Laura C., the dam of Laurel 2:13 1/2 and Langton 2:21 1/4; Elaine, a quondam champion and dam of three as well as the champion yearling of the day. Wonderfully unlucky, too, as all her other foals died. Through her daughter Elsie she has four in, her daughter Palita, 2:16 at two years old, and her son Rio Alto, 2:16 at three.

Elaine has a very handsome foal at her foot by Altivo, and Elsie a first class one by McKinney, Waxana, dam of Sunol, has an extra filly foal by Advertiser the first of that sex since Sunol came eleven years ago. Esther, dam of Expressive, without question the greatest racing three-year-old filly, Express 2:21 and Elwina two-years 2:27 has a magnificent foal by Monaco and that should surely prove the "right trick."

The sale proper I shall merely touch upon, the scarcity of money was abundantly exemplified, colts and young horses "dirt cheap," though there was an illustration of the present time favoritism for pacers, as the top price for the colts, $200 was paid for Wild Glory, and $165 for May Norris both of them showing a good deal of speed led by the side of a saddle horse.

C. A. Winship to Go East.

ED. BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN.—I have finally concluded to take my stable East instead of to Montana. Should have preferred the Montana circuit, but their programme was badly arranged for my horses; this induced my change of plan. Will cut my stable down to seven: Ottinger, Aster, Gazelle and Hazel Kinney; Agitato, Lady Waldstein and Beechwood. Had I gone north would have taken several others. I shall ship to Denver May 9th passenger service Santa Fe route. Have leased a specially fitted Burton car, painted white (mp colors), for the season and my route will be: Denver, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Galesburg, Peoria, Detroit and Cleveland. Have engaged a good blacksmith for the season. I will also take one man whose only work will be the care of my sulkeys and carts. A groom for every two horses will complete the outfit. An expensive campaign ahead, and in the heat of company, but if the horses keep good I expect fair results.

Very truly yours, CHAS. A. WINSHIP.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the new live stock auctioneering firm, Street & Cresswell. These gentlemen enjoy a splendid reputation as auctioneers and have opened one of the largest and finest horse marts in the United States. It is known as "Tattersalls," and is situated on Howard street near Fourth. They are prepared to handle sales of live stock, carriages, harnesses, etc., and as the place is centrally located and every facility will be afforded owners who send consignments there a large business will no doubt be soon established. See advertisement.

C. I. GRIFFITHS purchased the Palo Alto stallion Erastus C., 2:22 at Palo Alto last week, and will send him East with the rest of his horses.

WE have sent circular letters to every horseman of note asking for information regarding the number of horses in their vicinity that are in training.

PRINCE CHARLES of Denmark drives the American trotting mare Hofre D., by Kaiser, out of a mare by Seneca Patchen, to a high-wheeled dog cart.

IF you are interested in horses send us a few items about those in your neighborhood; we want contributors in every city on the Pacific Coast where horses are trained.

SMITH & MILLER, of Boston, who bought Star Pointer last spring for $5,500, sold him this spring for $15,600, after having raced him successfully and lowered his record.

AT the W. D. Grand sale in New York last week a son of Junio 2:22 sold for $600. He was called Reveller and had no record, but in conformation he was a typical carriage horse.

J. McDONALD, who made a trip to the Hawaiian Islands with a number of horses, two months ago, returned last week to this city. He says the market there is pretty well overcrowded.

EVERY Secretary of every Fair Association should attend the meeting to be held at 22½ Geary street, at the rooms of the P. C. T. H. B. Association next Tuesday evening, April 27th.

PIERCE BROS., of Santa Rosa Farm, shipped a carload of young horses to San Luis Obispo Monday. The Santa Rosa farm was too heavily stocked and the shipment was to decrease the stock kept there.

C. A. WINSHIP has purchased four McKinneys this winter and he is delighted with them. Every McKinney is a trotter. William Durfee is handling four or five. Willard Stimson has several good ones also.

THE Stockton Mail says: "If the management will introduce novelties and make the fair really attractive the exhibition can be made remunerative here as they are at Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Jose and other points."

MILO KNOX of Haywards received the Dudley pacing mare Trihly. She is out of a mare by Poscora Haywards. George Gray has the Derby pacer Alike and his full brother at the Haywards track. These horses belong to Capt. Roberts of San Lorenzo.

FREDERICK STEINWAY, one of the millionaires of New York City, has the following California-bred horses in training: Auto Dawn, 2:19½, by Sahle Wilkes—Auntie, by Dawn; Lou Mitchell, 2:22½, by Direct—by Antevolo; Elf, 2:22½, by Steinway—Bertha, by Alcantara.

THE Daily Oregonian of Portland, deploring the loss of Altamont, says: "California has always shown a disposition to take away what Oregon did not seem to care for, and the greatest standard bred sire on earth, after twenty years of adversity in Oregon, is now a California horse."

GUY WILKES is reported as coming around in splendid shape at W. J. White's Two-Minute Stock Farm at Rockport, O. A two-year-old daughter of Guy Wilkes, out of Sister V., 2:1½, that was seriously sick after her purchase by Mr. White at the Fasig sale, has recovered. She is well entered in stakes.

JOHN SAWYER has a green pacer by Del Norte at Irvington track, which is said to be one of the best colts of a very promising sire Sawyer also has Deceiver, 2:19½, and Maplemont, 2:21½, both looking fine as silk. William Fry is at Irvington with Graceful George, 2:22, and Mack, a green pacer, by Democrat.

JOHN TILDEN, of Red Oak, Iowa, writes enthusiastically of the prospects of Touchet, 2:15, and Tenino, 2:33½. Both are by Altamont, out of Tecora, and are therefore brother and sister to Chehalis, 2:07½ and Del Norte, 2:08. Either of them can step as fast as anything on the Red Oak track, Tenino being a trotter.

BALANCE ALL, 2:23½, and her full sister, Knightbood, owned by Hon. D. E. Knight, Marysville, have foaled a pair of fine fillies by McKinney, one a trotter the other a pacer. The mares have been sent to Alameda to be bred to Altamont.

It is the steady, even-going breeder who comes out best in the end. It is not a good plan to rush out of the horse business when prices are going down and then jump in again when values are sky high. There are a large number of spasmodic breeders who do this very thing, and they invariably get their fingers burnt.

It is said that Buckboard Jim is sure of election as Senator, to succeed Steve White. His hump of self-esteem always was large—it must be as big as Mt. Diablo. This hump will never blossom in Washington. Nothing can be thought of in the way of a spray that will give it a healthy growth. It has withered on the stem of public opinion.

THE governors of Missouri and Wisconsin each respectively attached his signature to a bill which thereby became a law governing racing and pool selling in these states. In Missouri race meetings are limited to ninety days and pools may be held at the track where the races are in progress. In Wisconsin pool selling is absolutely prohibited.

GEO. PERROTT, of Rohnerville, who piloted Brica McNeil to his yearly record of 2:41 1-5 and drove Humboldt Maid in 2:18, naturally pins his faith to the Waldsteins and Dudleys and will handle Brica and a Waldstein five-year-old, out of the same dam, that has shown well, and will no doubt be a formidable green horse. The dam of these two got Sadie Moor, which showed much better than her three-year-old record of 2:29.

THE question of holding an old-time county fair, with stock exhibits and horseracing, this fall is being considered by the Board of Trade of San Jose. It is believed such a fair could have made a success, and A. C. Darby, J. P. Fay and W. T. Adel have been appointed to ascertain the possibility of having races and stock exhibits in connection with a horticultural and viticultural fair. Last year the Agricultural Association was unable to fill the entries for the races and they were declared off.

A NEW horse shoe has been invented in Berlin that possesses several advantages over the old system. It is made from sheets of paper saturated with oil or essence of turpentine to make it waterproof, each sheet is stuck together by a special glue made from essence of turpentine, clay, linseed oil, and other substances. The nail holes are made whilst the paper is wet, and then the shoe is subjected to a strong pressure by a hydraulic press, when perfectly dry, the shoe can be trimmed and filed as if of iron.

THE pacer, Jordan, 2:11½, is now in Sweden and has, according to European advices, been rendering a good account of himself. In a race of 3000 metres on the ice near Christiansburg he won from Lady Director and Fanny Lambert, the time being 5:00, but in a handicap, same distance (almost two miles), in which he started from the scratch, Lady Director receiving an allowance of 120 metres, beat him by four-fifths of a second; time 5:34 1-5. The American-bred stallion, Shadeland Norvo, by Normaneer—Daisy Wilkes, is also owned in Sweden.

THE veterinary department of the University of California held its final examinations Tuesday at the college, Post and Fillmore streets. Of a class of fourteen only three graduated. The successful ones are James J. Summerfield, Joseph Welch and Lewis Hoffman. The graduating exercises will be held at Berkeley the latter part of May. The Faculty, which constituted the Examining Board of the Veterinary Department, consists of Professor S. F. Fraser, M. D.; W. F. Egan, M. R. C. V. S.; K. O. Steers, V. S.; Dr. Frank Skafie, Dr. Kugeler and Dr. F. F. Knorp.

F. W. COVEX, Superintendent of Palo Alto, writes: There was foaled at Palo Alto, April 20th, at midnight, a bay colt by Altivo, 2:18½, out of Novelist (2), 2:27, that when seven and one-half hours old showed so much speed trotting alongside of his mother that the onlookers were not only astonished, but were electrified with amazement. His speed is wonderful, and he is undoubtedly the fastest colt trotter of his age ever seen. Messrs. Robinson, Hala, McEldowney and Diana say that his performance was the most remarkable exhibition they had ever witnessed, and I agree with them.

REGARDING an allusion in this column to his inbreeding theory, Fred Bier, the well-known Vancouver horseman, writes as follows: "I have never advocated inbreeding simply to be inbreeding, but would not let the fact of near relationship stand in the way of breeding to a superior individual. If you want to see the alleged 'injurious effects' of breeding relations, take a look at Manmont, the Oneco colt that Mr. P. J. Mann, of Portland is driving with Altamont. If there is a bigger, finer-looking colt than he, I would like to know where he is to be found. He is by a son of Altamont, out of Ventia, a daughter of Almont, sire of Altamont."

COPE STINSON's good campaigner Geneva, 2:11½, died last week on the voyage to England, whither he was shipped a short time ago in charge of Ted Shepherd. At the time of his death the chestnut stallion belonged to William Crint, of Liverpool, who bought him in Canada to campaign on the continent. Geneva was foaled at Stony Ford in 1887 and was got by Leland, the son of Rysdyk's Hambletonian, out of Bessie Forrest, by Alexander's Edwin Forrest, grandam Diana, by Pilot, Jr. Although Cope Stinson and his son Harry drove the stallion in most of his races, George Starr was in the sulky when Geneva gained his record of 2:11½ at Saginaw in 1895.

IF George Misner takes all of the horses he is now jogging at Irvington to Montana, he will have far and away the finest string of trotters and pacers that ever left the State, and good accounts may be looked for from them. The list includes Pathmont, 2:09½, Frazier 2:14, Hamrock 2:17½, Atlas 2:25, and Vevo, a six-year-old Altamont mare, a full sister to Lady Daphne. This animal has only been worked a few days, and is faster than the wind. Misner also has a green trotter, by McClelland Jr., out of a John Nelson mare. He moves under the misleading name, Sleepy Tom, but if all accounts of his speed are true, it will not be safe to bet on the name having any particular significance.

WHILE some of the recent sales have not been particularly encouraging to breeders, the price ($4,500) received for Cephas 2:11½ in New York the past week, shows that money winners are still in demand. Cephas is now owned by James Butler of New York city, and will doubtless be campaigned this season. The price he brought would certainly indicate that he had entirely recovered from the accident received at Combination Park last fall.

THE short crop of colts for the last few years will begin to tell on us soon. In some localities there are only five per cent of the regular crop of colts raised, and in no place more than ten per cent has been foaled for the last three years. The visible supply of horses in 1894 was 16,000,000; in 1896, 15,000,000, and it is predicted by good authority that before the close of the year 1897 the visible supply will be near the 14,000,000 mark, and judging from every indication, there is a great horse famine close at hand, for, with returning prosperity, which is sure to come, and with it a great increase in demand, and as the law of supply and demand governs all prices, an increasing demand with a short supply means that before horses can be bred and produced for the market they will be extremely high.

HARRY STINSON has four very choice youngsters at the Cleveland Driving Park, which he will prepare for their heavy engagements of 1898. One which will impress horsemen is the two-year-old colt Gaudaur. He is a black fellow by Guy Wilkes, dam by Le Grande. As a yearling this colt stepped a quarter for Stinson in thirty-seven seconds. The others are yearlings. A racy looking colt, and one which Cope Stinson is very fond of, is a youngster by Oro Wilkes, dam by Sahle Wilkes. He was led an eighth as a weanling in 19½ seconds. While Mr. Stinson paid only a few hundred for him, he would not accept less than $2,000 to-day. A colt by Geneva 2:11½, and out of Florence S., two-year-old record 2:23½, is a good prospect. The only filly in the lot is a shapely made one by Oro Wilkes, dam by Director.

ON Tuesday last a prominent Democrat in speaking of Gov. Budd, as the latter was riding in the same car with him to San Jose, said: "I was always friendly to him until I saw that he aspired to be greater than the people and more powerful than the Legislature. He vetoed 120 bills (many of them excellent ones) at the adjournment of the Legislature. Who ever heard of such wholesale work? I cannot see what is the use of the people of California electing Legislators when they are compelled to select candidates for Governor, who are light-headed, and yet are living monuments of the virtues of egotism. California has had many simple-minded Governors, but this man Budd must be considered the biggest nunny for his own and the State's welfare, we have ever had. As a politician he is to be classed with Dr. O'Donnell, of San Francisco."

It looks now as though Nutwood at twenty years of age would equal his great-grand sire, Rysdyk's Hambletonian, in the number of 2:30 trotters to his credit. Seven new performers this season, Frank, pacer, 2:20, Antelope, 2:23½, Nina D., 2:23½, Redwood, 2:27, Nutgall, 2:29, Wilkeswood, 2:20½, and Atwood, 2:29½, have swelled his roll of honor to a total of thirty-one, which is but nine less than are credited to the "Hero of Chester." Nutwood is breeding on with the potency which would naturally be looked for in a fast son of such great parents as Belmont and Miss Russell. Five of his sons and daughters have within the last two seasons produced seven trotters with records ranging from 2:19 to 2:30—a showing in the second generation which has been equaled by very few of our greatest sires at Nutwood's age. When a stallion comes from great producing parents, and is himself a positive sire of speed, there is never any doubt that his family will, with opportunity, breed on.

THE records at the close of 1896 show that the Belmont family has passed its close rivals the Almonts. The Belmont family now numbers 2015 members against 1850 for Almont. At the close of the 1895 Almont had a lead of 61; Belmont has not only overcome this, but has gained 104 additional performing descendants. At the close of 1890 Almont had thirty-eight 2:20 descendants and Belmont thirty-seven. In 1891 Belmont led with fifty-seven, against Almont's fifty-five, and in 1892 he had 114 and Almont 109. In 1893 Belmont retained the pride of place with 188, against Almont's 186, but in 1894, Almont was back in the lead with 297, while Belmont had 282. In 1895 Almont made another stride to the fore with 431, while Belmont's 371 showed him to be 60 behind. During the past year, although losing the lead in respect to number of standard performers, Almont still remained first as a progenitor of 2:20 speed, his present total being 535. Belmont, however, cut down almost half of his lead of the year before, and now has 501.

INSTANTANEOUS photography was responsible for the complete overthrow of the old ideas of just how a horse stepped when at speed on a trot or pace, and inventor Thomas A. Edison's latest triumph in photographic appliances, the vitascope, is likely to still further enlighten horsemen regarding the actual gait of a really fast horse. Arrangements have been made to have a corps of experts from Edison's laboratory at Glens Falls on the day that John R. Gentry starts against time, for the purpose of making a series of photographs of the king of pacers as he appears at the finish of the mile. The photographs are taken instantaneously, and one after another with such rapidity that they can be reproduced on canvas, on the plan of the old magic lantern, and make what looks like a continuous moving picture. By means of the vitascope the Empire State express, the fastest train in the world, running at 60 miles an hour, has been reproduced by reflection on canvas, so that those who witnessed it could actually believe they were watching the train itself as it went by. If the experiment in the case of Gentry is successful, and a good series of pictures of him can be obtained, showing his every movement during the last eighth of a fast mile, the pictures would be a great study for horsemen, as they could be reproduced at a much slower clip than that at which John R. Gentry was going at the time, and by so doing enable those who study the science of producing an absolutely frictionless gait to see just how and where a pacer, moving at a two-minute clip, puts his feet, something which no human eye is quick enough to catch from the horse actually in motion. It is natural to suppose that a series of such pictures would have an attractive feature at variety theatres, and would be advantageous to the harness horse interests, as those who had never witnessed any fast work on the track would have a desire to do so after seeing it reproduced by the vitascope.

THE SADDLE.

DERFARGILLA has been mated with Magnet, the speedy son of St. Blaise.

ELSMORE, winner of the first race Wednesday, is well-named, being by Morello—Elsia S.

NICHOLAS, by Alexander—Annt Petsy, won a six-furlong race at Memphis, Tenn., Wednesday.

THE Spreckels Cup, to be decided to-day, should be one of the most attractive races of the season.

PARSON won another race at Newport Tuesday. He is by imp. Paramatta, now owned by Santa Barbara parties.

BEAUCHAMP, the boy taken East last season by Atkins & Lottridge, rode two winners at Newport, Ky., April 13th.

SIMON W. won the Ohio Valley Stakes at Newport, Ky., Wednesday, the mile and a furlong being run in 1:55½—very fast.

L. W. BENSON, owner of David, and J. F. Fogg, Benamela's new owner, have arrived at the St. Louis Fair Grounds track.

UNCLE JIM GRAY, the veteran Missonri breeder, will make his appearance on the turf this season as trainer for J. D. Patton.

EMPRESS JOSEPHINE, successful at Memphis on the 15th inst., is the first of the get of Penny to start. She was an easy winner in a field of eleven.

C. F. McMEEKIN, of Applegata & McMeekin, bought from J. B. & H. H. Stanhope, Margarine, with filly foal (full sister to The Commoner) by her side by Hanover.

JOCKEY JOHN LAMLEY, who was a keen rider of the "hurry up" school before 1895, but lately lost his form, has signed to ride for the Keena stable this year.

JOHNNY WEBER, the well-known heavy-weight rider, is now in the employ of Barney Schreiber. Weber is without an equal in getting horses away from the post.

PLUNGERS RILEY GRANNAN and CHARLEY QUINN have gone East. The former was a big loser, estimated at $30,000, the latter is said to have dropped at least $10,000.

JOHN SULLIVAN, by Salvator—Mabel, won a mile race at Newport, Ky., April 12th, over a heavy track. Hermes, by Eblan—Lita, won a mile and fifty-yard race on the same date.

MODEL, the once-speedy daughter of Sir Modred, will never race again. "Frisco" Hoag says he intends to breed her to Ducat, a horse that Ed Corrigan once gave $10,000 for.

THE Burns & Waterhouse stable will ship the best of their horses East early next week. Ben Timmons will probably stay here and Jimmy McCormick take charge of the Eastern string.

P. DUNNE won a mile race at Newport, Ky., Tuesday in 1:41 flat and Clara Van was victorious in 0:43½ for half a mile. Parson's win at seven and one-half furlongs was in 1:35½, which is very good.

DR. JIM won the Federal Stakes, six and one-half furlongs, at Washington Monday, Hi Daddy second and Miss Lillian third. Hi Daddy is by imp. Sir Modred from the dam of Artist (Hirondelle).

OLD GUNWAD, a fair horse early and an erratic selling plater for the last four or five years, died at Roby a few days ago. He was ten years old. Hailstone, a fair race horse, also died at Windsor, Ont., Tuesday.

TYPHOON, one of the very best two-year-olds out in 1896, and from whom much was expected this season, ran second to Linda in the Chickasaw Handicap at Memphis, Tenn., Wednesday, the mile and a sixteenth being run in 1:48.

AT Forsyth, Ind., Wednesday, California-bred horses ran 1-2-3 in a six and one-half furlong race, run in 1:21. Simmons (by imp. Sir Modred) was first, Dorian (by imp. Sir Modred) second, Senator Morrill (by imp. Midlothian third.

SENATOR S. N. ANDREWS, President of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club states that besides the regular local meeting in Los Angeles there will in future be a spring and fall meeting of thirty days under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club.

SUPERINTENDENT BRUSH, of the Gravesend track, has posted a notice that had-acting horses and "green" boys will not be allowed on the course during the busy hours of the day. Here is a tip for all superintendents of race tracks which followed will save many broken bones for jockey and horse.

ROSORMONDE won the Candelaria Handicap handily, and the victory of the daughter of Ormonde and Fairy Rose was very popular. Rosormonde is perhaps the most fashionably-bred filly in America. W. O. B. Macdonough gave $150,000 for her unbeaten sire, the late Senator Stanford refused $30,000 for her dam.

THE New York Herald says: Albert Cooper has a two-year-old in training, the property of James R. Keene, named Come Quick, which has shown about as well as any youngster at Sheephead. She is by Tournament—Orchis, and very recently outran Set Fast for three furlongs, leaving the latter many lengths in the rear.

GREAT foreign events of 1897: Great Metropolitan, April 27; City and Suburban, April 28. Two Thousand Guineas; May 4; French Derby, May 17; English Derby, June 2; English Oaks, June 4; Grand Prize of Paris, June 13; Ascot Week, June 15 to 18; Goodwood Stakes, July 23; Doncaster St. Leger, Sept. 8; Cesarewitch, Oct. 13; Cambridgehire, Oct. 27; Manchester November Handicap Nov. 27.

ORNAMENT won a mile and a furlong race over the slow Memphis track on Saturday in 1:54½—a remarkable performance. Buckvidere was second, and Robert Latta third. Howland, the crack colt, won a four-furlong race in 0:49½. The Ardell Stake was captured by Nightgown in 0:50½, showing that Howland is a fast one.

LOUISVILLE, April 20.—All bookmakers will be permitted, as usual, to start in at the spring meeting at Louisville, Latonia and Oakley. This announcement is made officially, and is intended as a contradiction of the rumor that each association would put in its own books in connection with the mutual system of betting. It is almost a sure thing that Louisville will not attempt to put on the mutual this year.

MANY of our race-goers believe Rainart has proven the best race horse in California, but there are several who will dissent from this opinion. It is our idea that the association offering $2,000 for a race at a mile and a furlong between Rainart, Buckwa, Salvation and Magnet, all to carry weight for age, would just coin money. The attendance record would be broken and the championship of the Pacific Coast decided. The Roman might be added for good measure.

JOCKEY MIKE HENNESSY was Wednesday fined $50 and suspended indefinitely from taking any outside mounts. In the first race he took the inside position instead of eighth place, and getting off in front, won all the way. In the last race he was up on Scotch Rose, and taking to the inner rails when Cæsarian tried to come through, nearly threw the favorite over the fence and injured his rider a bit quite seriously. Foul riders should be punished severely.

ABE CAHN is the owner of Buckvidere, the Derby candidate, and a large stable of racers, while his brother, Lou Cahn, owns Typhoon II., also an aspirant for Derby honors. This week Abe said to Lou: "Brother, you know that on Saturday the races begin, and then all brotherly love and friendship ceases. I may not beat you, but I'll make it very uncomfortable for you, and if I should win don't think hard of me." All is fair in love and war.—[Memphis Commercial Appeal]. Buckvidere won it.

THE Santa Anita-bred horses sold by Killip & Co. at Oak land track on Saturday brought the following prices: Rey Salazar, $495, J. Smith; Juan del Rio, $260, W. P. Fine; Cima, $150, F. Eckert; Chapulpec, $55, G. T. Bart; San Carlo, $105, G. T. Bert; Los Prietos, $1,000, J. O. Reis; Altivo, $105, Gaston Ash; Naranja, $180, H. Hanry; Altanera, $250, E. Blazer. Several were passed on account of no bids being secured. Altanera was a great bargain at $250 and Naranja also at $180.

CLARENCE WATERHOUSE selected the following horses to represent the Burns & Waterhouse stable in the East this season: B. and W., Shasta Water, Parthemax and Candelaria, three-year-olds; Recreation, Napamax, Miss Rowena, Colonel Dan, Bliss Rucker, San Dimas and Thorpa, two-year-olds. Dan Stone, who has been training part of the stable this winter, will leave for Westchester, N. Y., to-day in charge of the string, which will be managed by Jimmy McCormick. Hennessy will leave at the close of the racing here and do most of the riding for the stable.

R. PORTER ASHE, Horace Chase of Napa, and Edgar Mizner, the agent for Rainart champagne who is (now in Alaska), are expected to have a hot fight over the great four-year-old, Rainart. The three lay claim to the Burns Handicap winner and the case is a very mixed-up affair that will take the best efforts of clear-headed lawyers and judges to untangle. It appears that Messrs. Chase and Mizner have bills of sale for the brown colt, given when Mr. Ashe was in financial difficulties and fighting Tom Williams for his famous Geraldine. The outcome will be watched with interest, for many consider the bone of contention the best race horse in this part of the world.

It looks very much as if the suggestion contained in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN Monday would be carried out by the P. J. C.—the offering of a substantial stake for a race at a mile and a furlong between Rainart, Buckwa, Salvation, Magnet and possibly The Roman. The owners of the first three are anxious to enter their horses. Billy Randall, owner of Salvation, is willing to make it a sweepstakes, $500 to $5,000 a corner, provided the race is run at Ingleside. The distance is probably too great for Magnet. The directors propose that four-year-olds and upward shall carry 120 pounds. They will determine upon the size of the purse and the date at an early day. Such a race will in all likelihood, attract the largest crowd ever seen on a California course.

FOR the winter meeting proper at New Orleans, which closed Saturday, March 27, the leading winning stables, with the amounts won, are as follows: G. C. Bannatt, $6,441; E. S. Gardner & Son, $5,204; H. McCarren, $3,693; F. Reagan, $3,878; J. E. Madden, $2,984; F. F. Wood, $2,935; Cezar Young, $2,570; F. H. Hickok, $2,416; Shamrock Stable, $2,405; Lily Mead Stable, $2,591; T. Lecazzi, $2,580; G. W. Poole, $2,223; Springfield Stable, $2,182; W. J. Spiers, $2,180; J. M. Stewart, $2,135; C. Fleischmann & Son, $2,035; R. Bradley, $2,021; B. A. Smith, $2,197. It was nip and tuck between three jockeys for first honors, Scherrer taking the lead. The 669s stand; Scherrer, 58 winning mounts; T. Burns and C. Reiff, 57 each; A. Barrett, 46; Dorsey 43; Morse, 41; Clay, 32; Souger, 30; Hirsch, 29; Caywood, 22; Combs, 19; Powers, 18; Garner and Beachamp, 14 each; Hill, 13, Hart and Wilhite, 10 each.

THE Capital City Driving Association's Spring Meeting will commence at Sacramento on May 24th and close on the 20th. There will be three days of running races and three of trotting and pacing. The trotting and pacing programme will be as follows: First Day, May 24th—2:27 class, trotting, $200; 2:30 class, trotting, three-year-olds, $200; 2:35 class, pacing, $200. Third Day, May 26th—Two-year-old pacing stake, closed with seven entries; 2:21 class, trotting and pacing, mixed, $300; 2:40 class, trotting, $200. Fifth Day, May 28th—Two-year-old trotting stake, closed with fourteen entries; 2:25 class, pacing, $200; 2:30 class, pacing, three-year-olds, $200. The conditions are thus named: Trotting and pacing purses will be divided into three moneys, 60, 30 and 10 per cent. All harness races are three in five, except two year-old pacing stakes and two-year-old trotting stake, which are colt races and will be two in three. Entries close April 30th, with Wilber Field Smith, Secretary, 615 Nineteenth street, Sacramento.

AMONG the winners at Memphis, Tenn., Friday were the cracks, Typhoon II. (the colt that beat Ogden) and Macey, the first-named being victorious at a mile in 1:43 (fast for Memphis) and Macey at seven furlongs in 1:30, which is also very good.

THE Tennessee Derby, value $5,000, was won at Montgomery Park, Memphis, Tenn., Monday by A. Cahn's chestnut colt Buckvidere, by Belvidere out of Elkhorn Lass. Typhoon II finished second, with Algot third. There were only three starters. The attendance was 8,000. The Derby was third on the programme. Algot opened at even money and was backed to 4 to 5. The small bettors put their faith in Buckviders at 5 to 1 throughout. Just before the race there was a plunge on Typhoon, and the betting closed with Typhoon and Algot even money. The start was good. Passing the stand Algot was a neck in front of Typhoon, with Buckvidere two lengths away. At the first turn Algot showed an open length ahead of Typhoon. Algot faltered on the far turn, and on the straightaway Williams let out Buckvidere, who drew away, winning well in hand by two lengths from Typhoon II, with Algot pulled up, three lengths back, hopelessly beaten.

DR. J. D. NEET, one of the most successful of the younger breeders, claims the name of the Kindergarten Stud, for his breeding establishment near Versailles, in Woodford County. The name is selected for the reason that race horses are given only their first lessons at this place. While this stud is a comparatively small one, the mares are a remarkably choice lot. They are as follows: Imp. Cinderella (dam of Foreigner, Ferrier, Handsome and Hastings), by Tomahawk or Blua Rnin, out of Manna, by Brown Bread; Imp. Tarantella (dam of Fontanella, La Creole and Penury), by Peter, out of Gentle Zitella, by Blair Athol; Illisee (dam of St. Cyr) by Baden Baden, out of Lotta C, by imp. Gneleq; Austerity (dam of Fanny Hunt), by Reform, out of Anstrailad, by imp. Anstrailan; Guile (half-sister to Badger), by imp. De ceiver, out of The Baroness, by Kentucky; Florence W., by Eolus, out of Esmeralda, by imp. Mortimer; Lena, by Leonatus, out of Fantinitza, by Foster (son of Lexington); La Creole, by Spendthrift, out of imp. Tarantella; Annie G. (sister to Mabel A. and Capstone), by imp. Cbaraxus, out of Elite, by Eolus; imp. Message, by Lordeshorough, out of Queen's Speech, by Albert Victor.

WEIGHTS for the Ingleside stakes, at four miles, to be run on the last day of the Ingleside meeting, were announced Wednesday, and are as follows: Lucrezia Borgia 92½, Navy Bina 95, Libertine 120, Hazard 98, Crescendo 122, Loydal 109, Burmah 101, Montalvo 104, G. B. Morris 110, Junius 105, Can't Dance 102, Won't Dance 98, The Bachelor 104, Redskin 110, Captive 110, Damien 114, Yangandee 90, Kamsin 105, Pepper 114, Little Boh 100, Collins 106, Fullerton Lass 95, Sir Vasser 105, Wheel of Fortune 114, Fair Faith 105, All Over 108, St. Lee 114, Cicero 100, Grannan 114, Thornhill 112, St. Jacob 102, Judge Denny 105, Semper Lex 105, Lobengula 109, Rey del Bandidas 110, Lake Shore 116, Persens 109, Salvation 124, Deerslayer 122, Schiller 122, Billy McCloskey 90, Marcel 109, Foremost 103, Flammar 90, The Winner 122, Reform 90, Wawona 104. The Chronicle says this morning: The handicap is anything but a just one, and several horses have certainly been discriminated against. Why Marcel, who has shown such very bad form this season, should be asked to pack 109 pounds, except that she belongs to A. B. Spreckels, is hard to explain. No handicapper who bases his calculations on public form would have given Marcel more than 100 pounds, and it is high time that the public was informed who is handicapping the horses at Ingleside.

WILLIAM E. JOHNS of this city has a hard-luck story. He won $460 at the poolrooms of George K. Rider in Sacramento, on April 2d, but is still waiting for his cash. There is a little story back of the suit which has been instituted against Rider for the recovery of the money. Johns married Miss Bouton, the actress. She has a little brother who several seasons ago carried Holly's colors to the front. This youngster is as smart as they make them. He knew that Fort Augustus had shown great improvement in his work, and wrote his brother-in-law to have a bet down every time that horse started. John happened to be in Sacramento the day Fort Augustus was carded to start, and bet $20 each way with Rider & Co., who conduct a poolroom in the Capitol Hotel. He got a ticket calling for $300 to $20 and $100 to $20. Fort Augustus proved a winner all right, but the cashier requested John to wait an hour for his money. John consented, and bet $50 on California, who was also returned a winner. The poolroom people then cried "murder" and said that the wires must have been tapped, and stated that they would not pay off until they made an investigation. They have been investigating ever since, and as Johns has not yet received one dollar, it looks like a clear case of "welching," although the young San Franciscan proposes to put Rider & Co. out of business unless the tickets are paid in a few days.—Chronicle.

THE chasm of hate between A. B. Spreckels and Ed Corrigan was widened Wednesday when the former levied an attachment upon the latter's stables to secure a claim of $2,500 which Mr. Spreckels says he holds against Corrigan. The attachment was levied late in the afternoon and four of Corrigan's good horses were seized by the deputy sheriffs. They are Can't Dance, The Bachelor, Flushing and Tenacity. Mr. Corrigan said last night to an Examiner man that the attachment rose from a misunderstanding. "On February 6th, 1896," he said, "I borrowed $2,500 from Mr. Spreckels on a note. On March 10, 18-6, I borrowed $10,000 more, and on May 21, 1896, I gave him my note for $5,000. This latter note covered a new loan of $2,500 and the note for that amount of February 6, 1896. I neglected, however, to obtain the February note from Mr. Spreckels when I made the new note for $5,000 covering it. I owed Mr. Spreckels $15,000 in all, which I paid him on March 10th last. Now he claims that the $5,000 note did not cover the $2,500 note. I say it did. All his payments to me were made by check. When I gave him the $5,000 note he gave me a check for $2,500. If he can show me a check drawn by him in my favor for $5,000 I will acknowledge that I am wrong and pay him what he claims. I have asked him to show me such a check if he has it, but he can't do it because it doesn't exist." On being interviewed W. S. Leake said: "I know nothing about the $2,500 note. I never heard of it until two or three weeks ago. The only transaction of the kind I know anything about is the $10,000 loan. I attended to that myself and gave Corrigan a check for the amount."

What We May Anticipate.

The meeting to be held in this city next Tuesday evening, April 27th, ought to be a big one. Not only should representatives from all the old-time fair associations be there, but everyone who owns or drives a likely trotter or pacer should be present also. There never were as many horses in training as at present, and when the associations are assured they will have a large list of entries from among them they can easily obtain enough money to insure the success of their meetings. The trouble heretofore has been that there were not enough horses in training; consequently the various events advertised by the associations failed to fill, and when the few events that filled took place there was just the requisite number to make the race and no more. The men who bred their mares during the "boom" four years ago have three-year-olds now that are very promising, and, as the indications pointed strongly to the fact that Jimbudd had seen what a mistake he made two years ago and would try and rectify it this year, they placed these young trotters and pacers in the hands of trainers last November, and noted with pleasure as the weeks passed the improvement shown in them. They all dislike to turn their "prospects" out, neither do they care to send them to other States. They say, if we get chances to race them on this Coast, where we can see them, we will make entries throughout the entire circuit. Therefore, here is an opportunity for the wide awake associations to hold successful meetings.

In 1895 and 1896 meetings were held in the "face of hard times," poor crops, low prices, and a general stagnation in all lines of trade. There seemed to be no prospect of return of prosperity to any taxpayer, but all these things look brighter this year, and they will be better. Floods and famines have visited the most prosperous parts of the earth. The great wheat-producing countries of the world are suffering. India, the Argentine Republic, Australia and Russia have no hope of shipping any grain this year. In America, vast floods have inundated the great valleys along the Mississippi and destroyed miles of agricultural lands from whence enormous crops have been harvested for years. The fruit crop in the East last year was almost a total failure, while in California it was only fair. The demand for California fruit—fresh, dried and canned—exhausted the supply and everyone interested in orchards or canneries are boasting of the splendid prospects, for, by the appearance of the trees and the mild and growing weather we have had, a heavy yield is assured. When the fruit is gathered thousands will be employed in preserving and preparing it for the market.

The viticulturists who have been struggling against starvation prices for their wines and phylloxera on their vines during the past six years will get sixty per cent. more for their wines this year, and the resistant vines which they planted five years ago will yield crops that will keep their wine-presses busy and fill their wineries with the best wines in the world; thousands of gallons of which will be shipped East.

Sheep owners who have been feeding their flocks at a loss for the past four years are rejoicing over the increase in the price of wool, and more attention will be paid to the replenishing of their flocks hereafter.

The horse breeding industry is taking on new life. The decrease in the number of mares bred and the countless thousands that die every year make it a certainty that horses will be increasing in value hereafter. The opening of European and Asiatic markets for the American trotting horse is a surety, and it is admitted that when commissioners from these countries enter the sales they allow no one to bid higher than they. All advices from the East are very hopeful, and the turf journals there predict a return of good prices which gives the industry an impetus that will cause many who quit the breeding ranks to return.

In the large cities, factories are being opened. The settling of the tariff question and the promise of protection for home industries have stimulated every branch. New railroads are being built and employment is being given to thousands.

With this favorable outlook, farmers, stock breeders, merchants and mechanics in California have every reason to look for plenty of money pouring into this State from all portions of the globe. With money will come thousands of home seekers to purchase lands and settle among us. There is no need for us to take a pessimistic view of things any longer. We are just beginning to hear the murmuring of the wave of prosperity on this Coast. It will increase in volume and strength as the weeks pass on. All our people lack is a little more confidence and if they will only strive to show their neighbors that nothing was ever gained by moping over lost opportunities, but that this return of more prosperous times has given them new hope and consequently new life if this can be done. What a splendid year's enjoyment we would have.

Hence, we urge our readers to try and attend this meeting, bear the reports from those having horses in training, imbibe a little of the confidence which the horse trainers are so full of, and return to their respective districts determined to give a race meeting which will bring all these horses there and show their neighbors and friends they can see as good racing as in any part of the world; and, if they have any trotters or pacers, their value will be increased from the fact that they have been afforded an opportunity of getting low marks which at once makes them five hundred per cent more valuable than they were before.

The Corbitt Sale.

On May 20th, the sale of the finely-bred and choice stallions, broodmares, colts, fillies, single roadsters and teams which is to take place at the San Mateo Stock Farm should attract seekers after first-class trotting material from all parts of the Pacific Coast. Mr. Corbitt intends to sell sixty head and will reserve nothing. At the last sale which was held at his farm everyone who was fortunate enough to buy was delighted with his bargain, and would not sell for twice the amount paid. The fact is well known that there are few if any breeders in the United States who have been as successful as Mr. Corbitt in the selection and breeding of fine horses, and this is the best endorsement of the class of stock he has for sale. The catalogue is being prepared and when it is printed horsemen may be prepared to see therein the names of the very best ever bred on this farm, and every animal must be sold. Those who need well-trained, stylish and speedy, as well as splendidly matched, teams should wait for this sale, for they will find just what they have long been seeking.

The Palo Alto Sale.

The weather was lovely, attendance large and the display of horses at Palo Alto last Tuesday could not be excelled on any stock farm in America. When Messrs. Killip & Co. ascended the lilac-festooned stand under the shade of the big oak tree which sheltered the lamented owner of this vast domain in years gone by the crowd which lined the smooth track comprised many of the leading horsemen of California. Promptly at 11 o'clock Supt. Frank Covey in a little speech greeted those present and called their attention to the stallions that were carrying on the good work so ably started by the immortal Electioneer: Advertiser, Adbell, Dexter Prince, Azmoor, Gov. Pacheco, Nazote, and the broodmares Beautiful Bells, Lula Wilkes, Manette, Josie, Elaine, Waxana, Rosemont, Sontag Mohawk, Sallie Benton, Laura C., Elsie and others which were led past the stand. Then followed the horses to be sold. The demand for age and speed is not to be overlooked, and although the prices received will compare very favorably with those received at the annual sale last year, still they can be classed as low. Many excellent bargains were secured. The horses were truly in splendid condition and showed well on the quarterstretch. When half the sale was finished a sumptuous repast was served under the wide spreading branches of a fine oak, and it is needless to add everyone did full justice to it, and the prices realized for the stock afterward showed that buyers felt better. Following is a list of those sold. Some that were in the catalogue were disposed of privately previous to the date of sale:

FROM a letter received from Anaconda it appears that there will be a great scarcity of thoroughbreds at the meetings to be given at that place and at Butte. Outside of those entered in the stakes there will be very few to fill the overnight events. A dispatch to Manager Ed A. Tipton on this subject verifies this report. Here is an opportunity, then, for a number of owners of good thoroughbreds combining to hire a few cars and send a goodly number of horses there, for opportunities to make money during the fifty-four days meeting will be quite frequent, and the horses can be brought back to California in time for the State fair.

THE attention of all lovers of thoroughbreds is called to the San Francisco Turf Guide, issued by the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. It contains form charts of 920 races that have been decided at Ingleside and Oakland race tracks since the opening of the race meeting October 24th. Every horse's pedigree is given, the names of the owners, a perfect index of every race, betting rules, etc. The book, typographically, is one of the neatest ever published. The price for this invaluable work of reference is fifty cents, postpaid. Send at once for a copy.

WE wish to call attention to four good colt stakes opened by the State Agricultural Society, entries to which close with Secretary Edwin F. Smith, May 1st, 1897. The first two are for trotters, two and three years old and under, the latter two for pacers of the same age. In the two-year-old stake the entrance is $50, $300 added by the society, in the three-year-old $100 entrance $400 added. The trotting stakes are for those of the 2:40 and 2:25 classes respectively, the pacing stakes for those eligible to the 2:30 and 2:20 classes.

REMEMBER entries to the San Francisco Kennel Club will close May 10th. Every owner of a good dog should make an entry and send it in in time.

A DISPATCH from Newport, Ky., Apr. 22d was as follows: "Four of the best two-year-olds at the track met to-day for a stake of $400 a corner and a purse of $400 offered by the Queen City Jockey Club. The track was just fit for such an event and the distance, five furlongs, was covered in 1:01 1/4. Van Antwerp was the winner, with Lizzie Cavalier second, Richard J. third, all heads apart." The latter is a son of the dead hero of the American turf, Morello. Van Antwerp one of the best youngsters yet shown in the South, is by imp. Escher from Reflection. Lizzie Cavalier by imp. Cavalier—Lizzie Flynn.

There are a number of excellent horses advertised for sale in this issue of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN and all who contemplate getting first-class driving or track horses should correspond with the advertisers at once.

H. T. GRIFFIN, whose string has only just landed at Newport, Ky., won a seven-furlong race Thursday with Miss Ross, time 1:28. Tommy is a money-maker surely.

VALUABLE HORSES SHIPPED EAST.

Some Grandly-Bred Ones That Were Sent to Cleveland Last Wednesday.

About three weeks ago Mr. Wm. B. Fasig, one of the leading horsemen and live stock auctioneers in America, arrived in California in quest of first-class trotters and pacers to take back East, and, if possible, secure that well-bred sire of speed and gameness, Chas. Derby, 2:20 (sire of Diablo, 2:09½, Derby Princess, 2:11½, Cibola, 2:13½, Ed Lafferty, 2:16½, Flare Up, 2:22, Owyhee, 2:24, and the great yearling Jay Eff Bee, 2:26½). Despite the fact he offered a good price for this horse, Mr. John F. Boyd, the owner, refused to part with him. Mr. Fasig saw a number of youngsters "work out" on this gentleman's farm, which is so well known as the Oakwood Park Stock Farm, and at once came to the conclusion there was no need to go elsewhere to get what he wanted. He returned to San Francisco, and in an interview said: "That is the prettiest stock farm in America, and the excellence of the stock I saw there confused me. I want to bring back some of those youngsters, but I assure you there is little choice. Such a uniform lot of handsome, stylish, level-headed, good-gaited and speedy youngsters is worth coming across the continent to see. I am in a quandary as to which ones I will select. They are all A No. 1 in every respect. The horsemen in California have no idea of the merits of those Steinways and Derbys. I know they are held in high esteem in the East, and I intend to see that all I take back will be heard from."

With Samuel Gamble he made three trips to the farm, and on Wednesday last he shipped the horses East. Mr. Gamble having charge of the consignment, which consisted of the following:

Derby Lass, a black mare, foaled 1893, by Chas. Derby dam Heyday by Copperhead, a son of Owen Dale, by Williamson's Belmont, a very fast trotter, game and racy. She was timed separately a mile in a race last year in 2:20 and showed a quarter this spring, timed by Mr. Fasig, in 33½ seconds. She has no record.

Fiera Up, 2:22, at two years, is a three-year-old pacer by Chas. Derby out of that great mare Flash (dam of Javelin 2:13½, Walker 2:23, etc.) by Egmont; second dam Lightfoot, by Flaxtail. She has developed into a beautiful mare and has a world of speed. She paced a quarter in 33½ seconds this spring. With average luck she ought to come very close to the three-year-old record.

Wm. Noyes is a three-year-old green pacing gelding, and is considered one of the very best ever sold from the farm. Only being broken four months he has shown a quarter in 33½ seconds and an eighth in 15½ seconds. Is a very level headed one and knows nothing but pace. He wears only one set of harness at a time, and no boots, and is the making of a great race horse this year. He is by that game horse Cibola 2:13½, (Chas. Derby—Addie Ash by Indianapolis) out of Ada F., by Antevolo 2:19½, second dam by Steinway 2:25½, third by Belmont, fourth by Brignoli, fifth by Cripple, sixth by American Eclipse. This breeding is hard to excel, and individually he is just what might be expected from such bloodlines.

Wm. M. Lent is a three-year-old trotter by Chas. Derby out of Directress by Director 2:17; second dam Whisp by Whippleton; third dam by Geo. M. Patchen, Jr. He showed a quarter this spring in 37 seconds. This is a beautifully gaited colt and will, without a doubt, make a big money winner. Oakwood Belle a blue ribbon winner is also three-years-old, and a trotter; has shown a quarter in 37½ seconds this spring. She is a perfect individual, and proved that when she beat a large class at the last Horse Show in San Francisco; she comes honestly by her speed and conformation being by Chas. Derby, 2:20 out of Inex by Sweepstakes; second dam Dolly Bull by Kentucky Bertrand; third dam Nancy by American Star; fourth dam by Gridley's Roebuck.

Piano, a three-year-old trotter, is by Steinway 2:25½, out of Mey (dam of Boy Run 2:25) by Anteeo 2:16½; second dam by Captain Webster; third dam by Argyle. She has been worked about four months and showed a quarter in 0:38, knows nothing but trot, is very level-headed and has a perfect way of going.

Nellie Emmett is a beautiful bay filly, three years old, and the trainer says is one of the best and most natural trotters that ever was hatched. She wears only a three-ounce shoe both fore and behind, and can trot as easily barefooted. A quarter in 0:35 was her trial done very easily and well within herself. She has a good head and perfect disposition and is bred in the same lines as some of our greatest race horses, being by El Benton, 2:23, out of Lady Emmett (thoroughbred).

Fairway, a two-year-old trotter, is bred in the purple. She is a full sister to those game race horses, Algrator 2:11 and W. W. Foote 2:15½ at two years old, being by Steinway 2:25½, out of Maggie McGregor, by Robert McGregor. She is a chestnut in color and very pure-gaited; has shown a quarter in 0:38½.

Hickorynut is a two-year-old brown gelding and a natural trotter that will surely make a bread winner. He showed a quarter in 38 seconds before being sold. His breeding is all that could be desired, being by Chas. Derby, 2:20, out of Lucy E. by Black Walnut, a son of Administrator; second dam, Ethel, by Effield; third dam by Peck's Idol; fourth dam by a son of Pilot Jr.

This completes the nine head sent to Mr. Fasig from Oakwood Park Stock Farm.

Mr. Fasig also secured that grandly bred and speedy pacer, Ed Lafferty, 2:16½ from T. J. Crowley of this city. Ed Lafferty is a full brother to Diablo, 2:09½, Jay Eff Bee, 2:26, (as a yearling), and a half brother to Elf 2:22, that has been converted to the pacing gait, and rumor says will be a 2:10 performer this year; sired by Chas. Derby 2:20 (son of Steinway, 2:25½, and Katy G.), one of the greatest producing daughters of the immortal Electioneer, having four in the 2:30 list to her credit, dam Bertha (dam of four) by Alcantara; second dam Barcelona (dam of Bayard Wilkes 2:13½); third dam Blodina (dam of six sires, Mambrino Chief 11; fourth dam that famous matron The Barb Mare by Parkers Brown Pilot. Ed Lafferty is a dark bay and resembles his famous dam more than any of the others of this illustrious family. Mr. Crowley also sent Madcap full sister to Algrator, 2:11 and W. W. Foote 2:15½ East with Mr. Fasig.

Besides these, that good game perfect-gaited trotting gelding Iago, 2:11½ was also purchased by Mr. Fasig, and as he is in better condition and can go faster to-day than he ever could, we look for him to get a mark of 2:04 or better this year, if he gets in the hands of a good driver. In the same car were two fine looking mares from Wm. Meese's farm, Denville, Contra Costa county.

We have every reason to believe that this is only the beginning of a number of shipments which Mr. Fasig will make from California. If we have many races this season we can expect him here next December to make up two carloads of 2:30 performers, and for these he will pay good prices. He says the scarcity for first-class trotting material is becoming scarcer every year.

Santa Rosa Stock Farm Notes.

The Santa Rosa Stock farm, owned by Pierce Bros., is the scene of great activity at present.

The race track, under the supervision of "Doc" Cozad, has been put into condition second to none in the State. Eight men and several teams have been at work for three weeks. The track has been ploughed, covered with clay, rolled and surfaced. It is a mile track and eighty feet in width.

Five choicely bred stallions will make the season there.

L. W. Russell, bay, foaled in 1892, is a fast line trotter with unapproachable blood lines; by Stamboul out of By-By by Nutwood.

Vallotta, bay, foaled in 1893, is a fast trotter and will be worked for speed this year. He is by George Norval out of Charlotta Wilkes.

Bean Brummel, black, foaled 1892; sired by Wildnut, dam Nettie Benton.

Bay Rosa, 2:20½, by Sultan, out of Madame Baldwin by The Moor.

Sidney Dillon, brother of Adonis, 2:11½, sired by Sidney.

There are a number of other promising colts that will be worked this season:

Bay colt out of dem of Alcona Jr., by L. W. Russell, who is by Stamboul out of By-By.

Colt by Beau Brummel, dam Fabiola, by Silver Thread, out of Minnehaha.

Colt by Russell out of full sister to Niles Beenty, with a record of 2:19½.

The above are all yearlings.

Two-year-old filly by Sidney Dillon out of Daly, 2:15.

Four-year-old Boussline, sired by Stamboul, dam Bonbon.

Three-year-old filly by Paola, same blood as Palo Alto.

Very promising two-year-old filly by Guy Wilkes, out of By-By.

Two-year-old filly by Guy Wilkes, dam Biscara by Director, second dam by Harold, dam of five in the list.

Three-year old by Dictatus, dam full sister to Bay Rose.

Ira Pierce was at the track superintending his workmen. He took time to say:

"The outlook is better than since '94. There is a much greater demand for two-year-olds than last year. Very few horses were bred the past season. Yet, the prospects are very encouraging. There are inquiries all over the country. If we exert ourselves we can have races this fall. I believe the Pacific Coast Horse Breeders' association can be induced to come. I have assurances of assistance from the "powers that be" in this matter.—Santa Rosa Republic.

Legacy for Col. M. Lewis Clark.

John Churchill, owner of Churchill Downs, at Louisville, and uncle of Col. M. Lewis Clark, died at his residence in Louisville recently. His property is estimated at $750,000. He left to Col. Clark and the latter's three children a tract of land valued at $100,000. This clause in this will is as follows:

"Third—I hereby devise to my nephew, M. Lewis Clark, and his three children, Churchill Clark, Caroline Clark and Merv B. Clark, forty-six acres of ground out of a tract of ground belonging to me near to and south of the corporate limits of the city of Louisville—being the same, a part of which is now occupied by the Jockey Club. The forty-six acres herein devised is not to include any part of the land now rented to or occupied by the Jockey Club, nor is to be laid off in a square adjoining such Jockey Club grounds, at the place that may be designated by the said M. Lewis Clark; or, if he be dead at the place designated by his three children or their guardian.

"The said M. Lewis Clark and each of his children is to have one-fourth part in the said forty-six acres, but the part coming to my nephew, M. Lewis Clark, I devise to him for life with remainder to his children, but with full power and authority in the said M. Lewis Clark to sell the said one-fourth part and invest the proceeds in such securities or real estate as shall seem to him discreet, using the income during his life for himself, with remainder as to the capital to his children; but with power to him to divide the same among his children by will, in such proportions as may seem to him fit."

Almost Performed Miracles.

Salisbury, Texas, Oct. 30, 1894.

The Lawrence-Williams Co., Cleveland, O.:

The bottle of Gombault's Caustic Balsam I ordered some three months ago came all right. I am liable to order almost any time for I am running a 2,000 acre horse ranch here, and a 480-acre horse farm in Cess Co., Iowa, where I was when I ordered my first trial bottle. My first bottle almost performed miracles. It took a hard calloused leg down in five and six applications. The lump was nearly as large as the horse's knee, and I put him in reces afterward and he didn't show any lameness.

H. A. BERTON.

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 18, 1896.

I have used Absorbine on Addison, 2:18½, and have had marvelous success with it. I would not be without a bottle of it in my stable for any amount of money, and advise all horsemen to use it.

J. M. NELSON.

Quinn's Ointment still stands at the head of all others. It is universally recommended and is in use in all the large and small cities, and stock farms in the world.

DE RUY'S BALMOLINE is the best ointment for the cure of all the ailments for which it is made. Try it once and you will never be without it.

Woodland Fair.

Is Woodland going to have a fair this year? This is a question that is being discussed by a number of prominent horsemen and citizens. Of course, no financial aid will be received from the State, on account of the Governor having pocketed the agricultural bill; consequently, if Woodland desires to hold a fair this year, its citizens and business men must expect to be called upon to donate liberal financial aid.

Last year $800 was raised by subscription and the association ran behind about $150. It is therefore hardly probable that the directors would take any steps towards holding a meet this year unless the people pledged themselves for at least $1,000.

It has been stated by certain parties that the foreclosure proceedings recently brought against the association would interfere with the holding of a fair the coming season. Such is not the case, as the late Legislature extended the time of redemption of property sold under foreclosure to one year, which will allow the association to be in possession of the premises for that length of time after the mortgaged premises are sold.

A Democrat representative interviewed a prominent horseman this morning, as to his opinion of the chances of Woodland holding a fair this year, and he said:

"Well, I think we may be able to give a meet this year, but, of course, it is a rather uncertain proposition in a financial way. We may come out even if $1,000 is raised by outsiders, or we may run behind all the way from $100 to $1,000. It has been suggested that if it should be decided to have a fair that the same officials be placed in the judges' stand as acted last year, so that there would be a repetition of the close and exciting finishes and then enough money could be realized from the kinetoscope privileges to pay all expenses."

So far as we can learn the prevailing opinion among business men is that we should have a fair.—Meil.

Rohnerville Horse Items.

John Quinn says that the yearling Wayland-Moor, full brother to Arthur W., is a very promising chap, in fact indications point to fully as good a horse as the big brother, as the little fellow shows up as well as did Arthur at the same age.

Waldstein combines very superior brood-mare strains, and the produce of Waldstein mares are highly prized in Humboldt county as they contain the hered rock of speed and nerve force. Den East's Waldstein's mare, second dam by Blackburn, has a Dudley colt, and Dan will give the youngster and mare the advantage of the fine pasture along Eel river.

Geo. Perrott who piloted Brice McNeil to his yearly record of 2:41 1-5 and drove Humboldt Meid in 2:18, naturally pins his faith to the Waldsteins and Dndleys and will handle Brice and a Waldstein five-year-old, out of the same dam, that has shown well, and no doubt will be a formidable green horse. The dem of these two, got Sadie Moor, which showed much better than her three-year-old record of 2:29.

Humboldt has been peculiarly favored in stock improvement. Though very few good mares were here originally, the stallions brought have been better than falls to the lot of every county, especially in the brood-mare-breeding up qualities. Poscara Hayward, Grand Moor and Idaho Patchen got a sound, good limited and nervy class of mares. These crossed with Mustapha, Ira, Wayland W., Dudley, Anthem, Expect, Gossip and others, not the least of which is Waldstein and his sons Jack W. and Beecher, will advance the breeding materially, but still we are not up to the status of many of the lower counties. For instance Dudley is now at Haywards and will be added to the following very high class of mares: Mare by Abdul, 2:28, dem by John Nelson; by Steinway, 2:25½; by Roy Wilkes, 2:08, by Sidney, with a record of 2:20; by Diablo. We cannot compare with the gilt edged breeding above but we ought to have mentioned some excellent mares that have been imported into the county, and in a future issue something will be said about these. On the whole Humboldt is in a fair way to compete with the best in the show ring end on the track.—Rohnerville Herald.

Oakland Bench Show.

The premium lists of the Oakland Kennel Club's inaugural bench show were issued last week after we went to press. The show will be held in the Exposition building, corner Twelfth and Webster streets on May 12-15th. The building has been enlarged and greatly improved since the last show, and the dogs will be penned much better this year than formerly.

The premium list provides for 228 classes. The club offers a gold medal for the best specimen of each breed, a silver medal for first prize, a bronze medal for second prize and a diploma for third prize in each class except puppy and novice classes, in which classes diplomas will be given.

In addition to the medals offered by the club, individual friends of the club and the specialty clubs offer fourteen gold medals, nine silver medals, several cups and cash prizes and over 100 merchandise articles.

Jas. Mortimer of Hempstead, L. I., will judge all classes. This fact alone will insure a splendid entry. The Oakland fanciers have held aloof from the local kennel fight, they have no axes to grind, they have given two shows which have been financial failures and this year the fanciers and dog owners of the State have determined to help them out with a rousing big entry. Entries close May 2d. Entry blanks and premium lists may be obtained by addressing the secretary, Fred Johns, at 460 Ninth street, Oakland, or at this office.

The San Francisco Show.

Preparations for the San Francisco show are progressing finely. Mr. Oldham was expected to arrive yesterday and take charge of affairs. He has had several years' experience in managing some of the largest eastern shows and will introduce many innovations that will greatly improve the appearance of the show.

Mr. Oldham has bred and owned cockers and field spaniels for many years and is at present the president of the American Spaniel Club, is one of its authorized judges and has judged these classes at the principal shows of America. He will judge all specials at the coming show and should draw a good entry.

Major J. M. Taylor, the judge of sporting classes has made English setters his special study. Has judged them at several large shows and is considered by field trial men to be authority in that breed. His hobby is what he considers held trial form, and he will consequently bring out a good entry. He is equally at home with the foxhound classes, and should be a good judge of all sporting dogs.

The bench show committee desire us to state that J. Otis Fellows would have been given some of the larger classes but for the fact that he has judged the last seven shows here, and that a new man would unquestionably draw a much larger entry. He will judge Russian terriers, Irish Water Spaniels, retrievers, Dalmatians, poodles, Pomeranians, black and tan terriers, Skye terriers, Scotch terriers, toy terriers, Japanese spaniels, Italian greyhounds and miscellaneous classes.

G. L. Waring will judge fox terriers.

The bench show committee are contemplating increasing the prize money in some of the minor classes that promise an unusually large entry, and special effort will be made to draw a large entry of greyhounds. Entries close May 10th at 224 Montgomery street.

Special Notice to Owners of Greyhounds.

As you are no doubt aware we are going to hold a Bench Show next month and as greyhounds are the most numerous of any breed of dogs on this Coast we desire to make this class the largest. It will increase the interest of the general public in coursing. At present there is a large proportion of our population who are entirely ignorant of this interesting sport. We ask you to help us by making entries and inducing all friends of the greyhound to do the same and let us show the general public a grand display of fine dogs.

We have as good performers among our greyhounds as can be found anywhere, then why not increase the interest in them by exhibiting and place the sport in its proper sphere.

We have promises of entries of some fine dogs and trust you will try and carry off the first prize.

As you will see from the premium list, mailed to you, we offer great inducements in the way of prizes which it will be a great honor to possess.

Spratt's patent benching will be used at this show. In order to keep the dogs in running condition, the management have made the concession to allow owners who take their dogs home each evening, to return them before 11 o'clock noon next day instead of 9 o'clock as in the case of the other classes, this applies to greyhounds that are in training, notice of which must be made to the management at time of entry.

H. H. CARLTON,
Secretary San Francisco Kennel Club.

California Collie Club.

At a meeting of the California Collie Club held at the St. James Hotel, San Jose, on the 17th it was decided to offer two gold medals to be competed for by members only at the Oakland show of May 12-15.

One for best California bred Collie dog and one for best California bred Collie bitch.

The design was decided upon and the Secretary Miss Della Beach writes us that they will be very pretty medals.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

Entries to the Oakland show close one week from today.

The English Fox Terrier Club has $4,000 in bank, and a big membership.

Volume XIII of the American Kennel Club's Stud Book was issued last week.

The Oakland show promises to exceed its last entry by more than one hundred.

The St. Bernard Club of America and the American Mastiff Club have both disbanded.

E. M. Oldham is in town and will enter upon his duties as superintendent of the San Francisco show at once.

The Santa Barbara Gun Club.

The Santa Barbara sportsmen are about to organize a gun club on broad sportsmanlike lines. The idea is to enroll all the botanists, geologists, hunters, anglers and lovers of nature and thus obtain a determined body of people, bound by common ties, that will be sufficiently powerful to aid the game warden in the proper discharge of his duties and see that he performs his duties.

The dues will be small and it is thought that 1,000 men will join the club. Trap shooting, rifle and pistol shooting and archery will be important features.

Mountain climbing and all out-door sports will be encouraged and a club house, camps and lodges built.

The Pelican Gun Club.

The regular monthly live bird shoot of the Pelican Gun Club held at Sacramento last Sunday was won by E. A. Nicholas. The scores were: Nicholas 17, Russ Flint 16, H. Gerber 15, F. B. Adams 14, F. Ruhstaller Sr. 13, F. Ruhstaller Jr. 12, E. D. Adams 11, L. S. Upson 11, F. C. York 9.

Washington Bluerock Club.

The regular weekly shoot of the Washington Bluerock Club held last Sunday resulted as follows: Twenty-five birds per man: Roberts 18, Soule 17, Woods 16, Peek 16, Chapman 16, Steigler 15, Strader 12, Moffitt 10, Lee 8, Wilson 5.

Caught in the Act.

While Deputy Fish Commissioner Al Wilson and a friend, were strolling through the woods near the Russian River at Russian River Station last Sunday they saw a man, and a woman running through the woods talking excitedly.

At first they thought that some child had fallen into the river, but hearing a couple of rifle shots immediately after they surmised that someone had shot a deer and hastening in the direction of the reports they came upon Melvin Manning with a freshly killed doe upon his back, heavy with twin fawn.

As soon as Manning saw Wilson they recognized each other, and Manning dropped the doe and made good his escape in the woods. Wilson secured the head of the doe as evidence and proceeding to Santa Rosa swore out a warrant for Manning's arrest and placed it in the hands of a constable. Manning has made tracks and at present writing is not to be found, but it is only a question of time when he will be captured, and we sincerely trust that he will be given the full penalty of the law.

The penalty for killing a doe is a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $500, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 10 days nor more than 150 days.

The killing of bucks for food out of season is bad enough but killing a doe heavy with fawn is a crime that cannot be excused by the bitterest opponent to the game laws. This man has been caught in the act and every sportsman of Sonoma county should interest himself in this case and secure his conviction and punishment to the full extent of the law.

The Butte Rod and Gun Club have leased a magatrap.

The Pomona Gun Club will celebrate May Day with a shoot.

The Exeter Gun Club will shoot every other Saturday this season.

The Empire Gun Club will shoot at Alameda Point tomorrow.

Two hunters bagged ninety wild pigeons near Chico on the 10th.

The latest new club is the Washington Blue Rock Club of Woodland.

Trap shooting is rapidly increasing in popularity in Australia.

The Olympics will hold their regular monthly live bird shoot at Ingleside tomorrow.

Frank Robinson and Jos. Crutchfield killed an otter near Chico on last Sunday week.

The Empire Gun Club will arrange a programme of special events for May 23d, the day of the team shoot.

Have you attended a shoot this season where U. M. C. shells did not win the majority of the prizes?

The Reliance Gun Club will shoot at Webster street, Alameda, tomorrow. The regular semi-monthly event.

The "tall sycamore" of Russian river valley—J. B. McCutchan was strictly in it at the Healdsburg tournament.

"Dick Swiveler," has an excellent article in the Western Field and Stream on Turkey shooting in the middle West.

The shooters of San Luis Obispo, Arroyo Grande and Paso Robles will have a big shoot at San Luis Obispo on May Day.

The Golcher Handicap promises to rival the tournament in point of entries. Shooters are coming from all over the State.

Trap shooters and field shots all agree that there is no better gun for the money than the new Remington hammerless.

Why have the club team events been omitted this year? Last year these inter-club matches were the most interesting events of the season.

The blue rock clubs of San Luis Obispo, Santa Maria and Paso Robles will compete for a handsome silver cup on May 2d at San Luis Obispo.

John L. Winston will shoot C. W. Budd at John Watson's grounds, Chicago, on May 1st, for the Du Pont Trophy. The match is at 100 live birds per man.

The Pacific Tournament Association has commenced work on the grounds in preparation for the tournament. The hulkheads will be extended and many improvements made.

At the tournament at Fresno last Sunday week the Fresno team—ten men beat the Merced team easily. Score 194 to 163. Armistage, Fox, Dismukes, Stone and Hoag were the principle winners.

Skin hunters are still plentiful in Southern Oregon and the sportsmen of that state should form clubs and insist on the laws being enforced or they will soon have to go to Alaska for big game.

The Truckee Gun Club is setting a good example in watching for violations of the game laws. If they would go down to Boca and watch the Indians next July they would accomplish a great deal.

The Pastime Gun Club of San Diego elected the following officers on the 14th: F. J. Barnes, President; C. M. Edwards, First Vice-President; Geo. Kuhle, Second Vice-President; N. D. Nichols, Secretary and Treasurer.

The one hundred and forty-six entries in the American Handicap is the record for live bird shooting in America. It looks as though the Golcher Handicap would make a new record in a single match at blue rocks, for California.

Capt. Charles R. Crittenden was fined $40 last week by Judge Maynard for "exhibiting a deadly weapon in a threatening manner" on December 17th last, while attempting to drive a couple of trespassers from the Teal Club's preserve.

Blue-rock shooters all over the State are practicing for the Golcher Handicap. Two hammerless guns, two rifles, 500 cartridges, Dupont and Gold Dust powder and seven other prizes in ten classes. Inducements enough for anyone.

The South San Francisco Gun Club has secured permission from the supervisors to conduct trap shooting on the land of Thomas Fanning. This land is a five-acre tract one and a half miles north of the county line and two miles east of the Mission road.

The Empire Gun Club are practicing diligently for the coming tournaments and team matches. The Garden City's will shoot the Empires a ten men team race on May 23d at the Empire grounds. This is a return match. Last year the Empires were quite badly whipped at San Jose, and this year they propose to turn the tables on the San Jose team.

The Santa Rosa Gun Club held its first regular meeting on Wednesday evening of last week. The following officers were elected: L. W. Juilliard, President; Ney Donovan, Vice-President; John Striening, Secretary; C. E. Haven, Treasurer; Wm. Murphy, Field Captain; J. R. Leppo, L. W. Burris, Dr. W. Finlaw, A. P. McGregor, David Ford, J. W. Keegan, Directors.

If the State live bird shoot were held about three days before the semi-annual tournament of the California Inanimate Target Association, it would be a good thing for both shoots. The double event would bring up the shooters from the south and a few days rest between would give the shooters a chance to recuperate and get ready for the more arduous task of shooting blue rocks.

The Mt. Eden Blue Rock Club's team of six men beat the Haywards Gun Club team of a like number on Sunday last, to the tune of 64 to 57. The scores were: Haywards—Madsen 14, Hesse 14, Simmons 10, Hoefling 9, Obermuller 7, Fischer 3. Total 57.

Winter, Vice-President; Frank Burgi, Secretary; Chas. Branham, Treasurer; Geo. Q. Hoag, Captain. The club will hold monthly shoots, and the winner will be awarded with a gold medal, to be worn until it is won from him.

The authorities of Suisun have been notified that certain parties in Rio Vista towaship are suspected of poisoning geese in that vicinity. If the report is true the enormity of the offense is appalling, and an investigation should be made regarding the affair. On the other hand if the report was circulated to prevent hunters from visiting that section of the country, those guilty of the same are deserving of an exposure for their reprehensible conduct. The matter is a serious one and should be thoroughly sifted.

"Jack" Fanning's return East has been a source of pleasure to the friends he made during his first trip a year ago, the boys recognize in him one of the best shots they meet, and they find it hard to keep Gold Dust scores down when handled by Jack. It is a gratification to all to know that he is here for the season. Good humor beams from his face no matter how the scores read, but "Jack's" are among the top ones always, says the American Field. We notice that he is quite often in the money at the principle eastern events.

A covey of quail, numbering about fifty birds, arose from North Island the other day and attempted a flight across the bay. At the time a fishing smack was beating about mid-stream, when the birds began to light on the masthead, the boom and in fact wherever footing could be found. Two alighted on the fisherman's shoulders. The birds had evidently attempted more than their strength warranted, and they chose the first available point of rest. Seven were captured alive, and as the boat neared Ballast point, the remainder, having rested, flew ashore.—San Diego Sun.

NOTICE TO ANGLERS.

Every angler is invited to drop us a line occasionally, telling us of the condition of the streams they have visited and the killing lure; of the number and size of the fish caught, or any other item of interest to anglers.

Shark Fishing.

A party of boys were sitting on the sand one day at Catalina Island catching dog fish sharks, when a dark, sharp fin appeared, cutting the water in the centre of the bay.

"A man-eater!" cried Will Reed. "If we can catch him it will equal a dozen of these little fellows."

A few moments later the fin disappeared, and off went one of the lines with a rush, sending Will, who held it, sprawling upon the sand and dragging him head-first into the water, amid the laughter of the others, and the next moment the line was broken before anything could be done. One of the boys ran up to the camp for a rope line and a chain hook, and soon a large bait was lying on the bottom all prepared for the big shark.

They did not have to wait long; the big fellow was hungry; and it was but a short time before the line began to run slowly out after the fashion of sharks when biting. The boys let it go for a few feet, then all took hold, held it till it was taut, then jerked hard all together. There was no mistake about the response, as the next second the fishermen were all jerked on to their knees and pulled over the pebbles at a rate that suggested a large fish. When they reached the water they were forced to let go, the shark jerking the rope from their hands as though they were not holding it.

Away it went, thirty, fifty, one hundred feet, and there was not much more in the coil when an inspiration seized Goy Barton, and he shouted: "Jump into the boat!"

A little flat bottomed skiff was lying on the sands, and into this the boys scrambled, tying the rope to the bow just as the end came. The boat flew around, and they were off, having secured the line, which was as stout as a whipcord, all took hold. The boat was rushing along, as though towed by a steamer, the bow dangerously low and a wave rolling away on either side.

"Keep her steady," cried Will, who generally took the lead. "I will keep the line in the notch while you boys haul."

This was done, and at the first pull the fish gave a terrible lunge to one side, so that several bucketfuls of water were shipped. Fortunately the boat was headed up a little false bay, instead of the open channel, and the water was not more than four or five feet deep.

On they went, flying by the shore without the slightest evidence of their steed giving up. They had gained about twenty feet, and the boys were breathing hard with excitement when suddenly the line slackened.

"He's off!" exclaimed Guy. "The line's broken."

"No, he's not; look out!" cried Will.

Whizz came the line. In a second it was jerked from the bow over the side, and before they could leap to the other rail the water was pouring into the boat, and the boys found themselves swamped and the skiff towing the boat in the opposite direction. It had suddenly turned, finding it was not in the right channel, with this disastrous result. Two of the fishermen had lost their hold of the plunging craft and were soon left behind to wade ashore, while the others clung to the side of the boat and were towed away half under water by the frightened fish.

John Ryder and Will Reed watched their companions from the beach for a few moments, then espying a boat hauled up near them, shoved it into the water and started in pursuit.

This was an easy matter, as the boat filled with water was a heavy load, and a few sturdy strokes brought them alongside, when the two boys climbed aboard.

The skiff was still swimming, but the heavy strain was telling, and, securing the line, the boys braced back and pulled hard, now gaining rapidly. Occasionally the shark would dash away, tearing the line through their fingers, but they slowly gained on it, and finally a great gray fish surged into view. With a shout the boys bent upon the line and hauled it alongside.

"A hammerhead!" exclaimed Will, "and a savage fellow at that," he added, as at that moment he lifted the fish so that its extraordinary head came out of the water, and it fastened its sharp teeth upon the edge of the boat and chewed it until it cracked.

The line was made fast, and the big skiff finally reduced to submission, when it was slowly towed to the beach, hauled up and found to be nine feet in length. With it were several pilchard or remora, the latter clinging to it by their sucking disks.

In the course of the season a large number of sharks of all sizes were caught by the young campers, who claimed, and perhaps quite justly, to be the first boy sharkers.—Charles Frederick Holder in Oakland Tribune.

Sportsmen's Clubs Wanted.

The Lompoc Record says the steelhead trout are making unusual run to the head waters.—Yes. Well, we wonder if they have taken their nets and screens out of the mouth of the river. We hope so.

The last five or six years there has not been in the month of July a trout to be caught as long as your finger east of the Santa Ynez. And you can see any day (when the water is clear enough for fishing) any amount of fishermen with spears, pitchforks and guns, taking the large fish which have escaped the nets below, and have come up to spawn.

Now we think it time that something be done about this reckless slaughtering of breeding fish. We know of one party on the Santa Ynez river, who, it is claimed, has taken three hundred pounds of the fish that were just ready to spawn. See how many thousand eggs are destroyed by this one man, and there are a great many others who have taken more or less.

Santa Barbara County has more trout streams, better cover, feed for small and large game and less protection for the quantities of game and fish we might have than any county in Southern California, and I could truthfully say more extensively advertised. Show me, if you can, a resort of note where fine fishing and hunting is not the first thing mentioned. Then comes climate, fruit and flowers, etc., etc. What we want, and want badly, is gun clubs in every town, that will enforce the present laws.

There is every reason to anticipate this year a greater number of trout along the line of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway than has been known for years. The stocking of the streams steadily pursued for years is beginning to reap its full benefit. The tributaries of the Pluton are furnishing excellent fishing and the upper portion of the Pluton, where the geysers are located, must now be just right for first-class fly-fishing. R. H. Curry, manager of the Geyser Hotel at the Geysers, writes under the date of the 20th as follows: C. Vassar was out last Sunday and caught 150 trout of very fine size in less than three hours and he did not cover more than a quarter of a mile. On Wednesday he fished about one hour just in front of the hotel and caught 70 nice ones and to-day he was fishing one and a half hours and caught 90 nice ones, one 20 inches long. They are rising to the fly very readily. The roads are now open and in good shape.

The preservation of the fishing grounds at Mammoth and elsewhere in Long Valley should engage the attention of the officers of Mono this year. It should also be looked after by summer residents at the grounds. The spirit of wanton waste which seems to especially possess visitors from across the mountains, the setting of fish traps, running deleterious substances into the streams, and killing quantities of fish while the small inlets are full of them in spawning season, have all been done vigorously, not by a few particularly but by many, until what were the finest kind of fishing grounds are rapidly becoming very inferior. Unless those who are interested do something to protect the fish against this merciless slaughter, within a very few years Mammoth will take a back seat as a summer camp, and sportsmen will stay away from there.—Bishop Register.

We noticed a reel at E. T. Allen's this week that every bait-caster should examine. The spool works on jeweled pivots independent of the handle. When sufficient line has run off it can be stopped instantly by a slight pressure of the thumb. This firm has also just received some elegant tapered tournament lines, in sizes F, C and D.

Dr. Chas. H. Gilbert will deliver his lecture on "Fresh Water Fish of California" before the members of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club at the rooms of the State Board of Fish Commissioners in the Flood Building on Tuesday evening, April 27th, at 8:30 o'clock.

The new rules for judging delicacy will be used this afternoon at the fly-casting contest. They will be thoroughly explained and illustrated, to the members. The first event will be called at 2:30 prompt, and the programme will be run off as quickly as possible.

H. E. Plummer has been the wonder of San Jose for some time. Never mind how swollen or muddy the streams were he always returned with a creel full of trout. On the 15th he pleaded guilty to the charge of fishing with dynamite and was promptly fined $100.

That well-known sportsman angler, J. Beach, says that trout fishing at Fort Klamath is just as good as it was before a white men ever set foot on the banks of that stream. An account of the fishing in that region will appear in these columns shortly.

Some very fair catches were made in Sonoma, Fowler, Hooker and Rogers creeks in Sonoma County, last Sunday. In May and June, when the waters have fallen, some excellent catches will be made in the pools and on the riffles of these streams.

John Gallsgher, the veteran Oakland angler is fishing at Shovel creek. He reports a great abundance of good-sized trout and as evidence sent to John Butler a box of thirteen on Friday of last week that measured from 14 to 18 inches each.

The Carmel is still high, but clear, and the fishing is good. The Big and Little Sur are in very fair condition. One party of two from Salinas caught 400 trout in one day in the Little Sur.

A black gnat in the morning, brown hackle in the afternoon up two o'clock and then the coachman, grey hackle and miller moth are the flies recommended for Sonoma creek.

The Bishop Register says that the fishermen of that locality have met with poor success thus far this season. The warm weather has raised the river and creeks.

The Santa Cruz Sentinel says that Chas. Hatheway caught a nine pound rainbow in Brandeforte creek recently. More likely it was a steelhead.

Several members of the Mira Monte Club tried their luck in San Antonio creek last Sunday, but met with little or no success.

Harvey McMurchy was a guest of the Capazoni Club last Sunday. They caught 35 lbs. of rock cod, surf perch and eels.

Frank Dolliver and Chas. Precht were the lucky ones at Point Reyes Sunday. They caught two large steelheads.

John Milnes fished Stony Brook last Sunday. He reports the water high and clear. Very few fish were caught.

The San Francisco Fly Casting Club will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting on Tuesday evening next.

The San Francisco Fly Casting Club will cast at Stow Lake this afternoon and to-morrow morning.

Louis Beylard caught 200 trout in one day in Harper creek, Suisun Valley, some ten days ago.

It is stated that three tons of barracuda were caught in one day at Newport Beach recently.

Fishing in the tributaries of the Russian river near Duncens Mills is reported good.

Soquel creek, Santa Cruz county, is providing its share of sport for rod and reel.

A six pound catfish was caught near the ferry landing at Mare Island last week.

Leke Lagunitas was opened to those who obtained permits, on the 15th.

George Klink caught a fine mess of trout near Guerneville last Sunday.

Steelheads are quite plentiful near the mouth of the San Lorenzo.

Some excellent catches have been made in Lake Lagunitas this season.

Austria and Porter creeks have furnished very fair sport this week.

F. H. Reed caught 22 small trout from the Purissima last Sunday.

The run of Selmon in the Sacramento is the best in years.

San Pablo creek is not clear enough yet for fishing.

The San Jose Fair.

The troublesome question of paying its debts is in a fair way of being solved by the Santa Clara Valley Agricultural Society, at least there is a prospect of some definite action soon being taken with the accomplishment of that end in view.

Secretary F. J. Brendon was engaged yesterday in sending notices to the creditors of the society to attend a meeting at the Garden City Bank at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The object of this meeting is the consideration of a plan by which it is hoped the creditors may assist the society out of its present dilemma, and what is more important to them, secure the money due them.

The debts of the society aggregate about $12,000, of which about $5,300 is in miscellaneous claims and $7,000 in notes given by the Directors at various times to secure claims. The society has no money, but it has a valuable track of land comprising Agricultural Park with a large frontage on the best part of the Alameda. If a portion of this land could be sold the society could easily pay off its creditors and place itself on a sound financial footing, but there has been a question of its right to sell any part of its real estate under the terms of its charter. The question has been under investigation for some time by Judge Archer and James R. Lowe, who were appointed as a committee for the purpose at a meeting of the life members of the society. They have formulated a plan by which it is hoped all difficulties will be swept away through an action in the courts. The proposal is for the creditors to select an attorney to represent them. This attorney will then confer with the attorneys of the society and they will agree upon the details of a friendly suit, which will be brought in the Superior Court and by which will be determined the right of the society to sell or mortgage any of its property. If the decision is favorable the money will be raised as soon as possible and the creditors will all be paid in full. The creditors will doubtless all be represented at the meeting and take prompt action in order that there will be as little delay as possible in getting the matter definitely settled.

The Directors of the society will hold a meeting at the office of T. S. Montgomery at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Their action will depend upon what is done at the meeting of creditors. It is probable, however, the matter of holding a fair in the fall will be discussed, as it is likely that a committee from the Board of Trade will call upon them for the purpose of advocating a fair. Some of the Directors are not favorably inclined toward a fair owing to the deplorable state of the society's finances and the further fact that the public has of late years shown an almost utter lack of appreciation of the splendid speed programme gotten up by the Directors. As the society gets no aid from the State they hold it is impossible to give premiums for stock and other displays.

It is possible, however, that arrangements may be made for a fair similar to that of last year in connection with the Board of Trade, at which there was a most excellent display of the products of the county, although no cash prizes were given, and it may be that if sufficient interest is shown by horsemen and others the Directors will feel justified in giving daily racing programmes in connection with the pavilion show.

Death of Sprite.

On Monday, April 19th, the celebrated broodmare Sprite died at Palo Alto, the cause rupture of a blood vessel.

Sprite was a chestnut mare, 16 hands, few white hairs on inside of near hind leg, foaled 1872. Bred by A. J. Alexander, Woodhurn, Kentucky. Sired by Belmont 64, son of Abdallah 15. First dam the great broodmare Waterwitch by Pilot Jr. 12. Second dam Fanny, by St. Lawrence (Kinkead's). Third dam Brenda, sired by Oliver, thoroughbred. Sprite ranked as one of the great broodmares. She has produced twelve foals:

1881—Cb c, by Imp. Kelpie (Australian).
1882—B g, Spry 2:28½, by General Benton.
1883—B c, Sphinx 2:20½, by Electioneer.
1884—B f, died en route East '96, by Electioneer.
1885—B c, Egotist 2:22½, by Electioneer.
1886—B f, Slight 2:28½, by Electioneer.
1888—B c, Electrite, by Electioneer.
1890—B c, Sketch, by Azmoor.
1891—Ch f, Palo Alto Sprite, by Palo Alto.
1892—Ch c, Ebbs, by Advertiser.
1893—Cb c, Sparta, by Paola.
1896—Ch f, Esperita, by Monaco.

The produce of Sprite have been recognized as having superior qualities in producing speed. Her son, Sphinx, is the sire of Sphinxetta, 2:08½; Sandy Boy, 2:12½; Beker, 2:14½; Valley Queen, 2:15½, and thirty-seven others better than 2:30. Sphinx ranks as one of the greatest of young sires.

Egotist, another son of Sprite, is proving himself a sire of speed, having got such good ones as The Conqueror, 2:12½; Lovelece, (3), 2:20; Betsy Britton, 2:20½, and fifteen others in the list.

Still another son, Electrite, is showing that he is a sire of early speed. The good two-year-old colt Electrophel, 2:21½, Elrod, the fast pacing colt, and four other fast ones surely entitle him to well-earned recognition.

Slight, the daughter of Sprite, is owned by the Oakwood Park Stock Farm, California, and her foal by Dexter Prince shows well enough to predict that the daughter of Sprite will make a good broodmare. The only foal of Sprite retained by Palo Alto is the chestnut filly Esperita, by Monaco, 2:19½, son of Electioneer. This filly is a very fine individual and will be kept at Palo Alto as a representative of the great broodmare daughter of Belmont and Waterwitch.

Rio ALTO.

It is now almost a certainty that no race track will be built at San Rafael in order to have a race meeting this summer, says this morning's Chronicle. George Rose, who intended to put some money in such an enterprise, stated Thursday that the right kind of people could not be interested in the scheme and that he had given up the idea. "I would like to see racing continued for another month, however," said Rose, "in order to give the poorer owners a chance until they can go somewhere. Many are badly tied up at present, and an extra month would help out quite a number who have had bad luck this season."

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONT'S.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

ROBERT BASLER will make a public season for mares the year 1897, beginning about the 10th of February, as follows: Mondays and Tuesdays at Haaford, in Kings County, Cal.; Wednesdays in Visalia, Tulare County, Cal., the remainder of the week at the horse's home, the Cottonwood Ranch, ten miles northeast of Visalia. ## THE HORSE WITHOUT A "BUT."

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12½

ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M., 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING unexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12½, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable bull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15½ hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stakes as a three-year-old, and in his four-year-old form, until he met Azote, 2:04½ (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Noble Wilkes, 2:15, dam Ellen Mayhew, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 923; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:28½). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfect in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37½. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½, dam Obantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:08), by Nutwood, 2:18½; second dam Oregon (dam of Love ace, 2:29, and Betsy Britton, 2:29½), by Princeps 386; third dam Crane Lisse (dam of Bazarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tardion, 2:31. Terms for the season, $30.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $110, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred ones sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month. Hay and grain $10 per month.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

The Standard-Bred Stallion

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

— SIRE BY —

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILLY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Mahone (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:16½, Antecolo, 2:19½, etc., but by Electioneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:19½, Nelly F., 2:13½, and seventeen others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 144 sired Dan Voorhees, 2:23½, St. Helena, 2:27½, etc., and the dam of Deary Mc., 2:14½, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. rnia. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of hand some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

MILO KNOX, Haywards, Cal.

SEYMOUR WILKES, 2:08½

(REGISTERED 0232)

WILL MAKE THE SEASON OF 1897 AT

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.

TERMS—$25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:15¼, dam Early Bird, by Playmail (brother to Barney, 2:25¼); second dam Lucy, by Odd Fellow (son of Chloroform); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmail was by Mike 3403 (he by Vermont 322, out of The Pennger mare), out of Kate McDonough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Saladin, 2:05¼).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands high and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrically of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy race-horse are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and on his maternal side traces to the very best of sires and dams. He has an iron constitution, and all owners of good mares that want horses that will have breeding, size, bone, quality, good disposition and extreme speed should not overlook this horse. His service fee is placed at a very low figure considering his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

THOS. ROACH, Lakeville, Cal.

Mares can be shipped direct to the ranch via Steamer Gold. The best of care taken of them on the farm, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $3 per month.

Oakland Trotting Park,

AT $100 THE SEASON.

As a Nine-Year-Old Stallion, McKinney's List Leads All Others in the World for Average Speed:

Jenny Mc, 3.....2:12	Harvey Mc, 2.....2:18	Solo, 4.....2:25 3-4

Harvey Mc, 3.....2:14 1-4	Sir Credit, 3.....2:25	Pat Cooney, trial.....2:19

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal.

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcyon (son of George Wilkes, and Alma Mater, the famous broodmare by Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20½, he by Rhode Island, 2:23½, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20½, Gov. Sprague, 2:20½, Wilmar, 2:29½), by Hambletonian 10; granddam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred), great granddam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by Imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15.2½ hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect-made horses in America, having plenty of bone and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. Payable on Removal of Mares.

With a limited chance in the stud, True Briton has already shown himself to be a great sire. Rey del Baridos, from a non-producing mare that had already had five foals, holds the Pacific Coast record, 3:57½ at 2½ miles; Her Majesty (dead), won 11 out of 14 starts; Walter J., (also out of a non-producing), a horse with a great turn of speed, has finished outside the money but a very few times out of nearly one hundred starts. Virgie A. and Zeta, both winners, being the only other ones to represent this royally-bred stallion on the racing turf this year.

From this showing there is but one inference to be drawn, and that is, that True Briton is a sure getter of winners; mares that have never thrown a winner to any other stallion, bred to True Briton, get winners and class horses at that.

Entrance 5 per cent., and 5 per cent. additional from money-winners. Customary division of purses, viz.: 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent.

A horse distancing the field will receive but one money only, and under no circumstances will an agreement to waive distance be recognized. Nominations to classes not filling will be allowed to re-enter in next eligible class.

INGLESIDE RACES.

Howard S. Wine the Great Spreckels Cup by a Very Narrow Margin—Don Gara,
300 to 1, Successful—All the Events in Detail.

EIGHTIETH DAY—FRIDAY, APRIL 23.

Beautiful weather brought another good crowd to Ingleside to-day to see some very good racing, though the caliber of the contestants could not cause enthusiasm to run riot.
Dousterswivel (if they intended to call him steaming onion it should be Duensterzweihel) won the first race in very game fashion by a head from the pace-setter Socialist Twinkler, best horse in the race, a close third. Amelia

Dousterswivel was at 7 to 1, Socialist 6, Twinkler 5, Marvelous even money (7 to 5 once), others 10 to 200 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, selling, they got a fair start,
Perhaps off first, Montallade eighth. Perhaps led Amelia
Fonso half a length at the half and a length at three-quarters, Strathrol four lengths away and two from Montallade, who was gaining fast. Perhaps died away the last eighth and it looked as if Montallade would get up, but his pilot did not keep up with his good work and Amelia Fonso managed to win by a head from Strathrol, who got through against the inner rails, Montallade third, half a length off, a length before Perhaps. Time, 1:15½. Amelia Fonso was at 6 to 1 (opened at 2½), Strathrol even money (2 to 1 at opening), Montallade
3 to 1, Perhaps 8, Nervoso 20, La Flecha 30, others 100 to 300 to 1.

The third was at seven furlongs, selling. After the barrier

Ricardo four lengths off, but the fsvorite came on and won galloping by a length, Potentate second, lapped by Midas, who was coming fast. Time, 1:15½. Torsina was at 11 to 20. Potentate 12 to 1, Midas 15, Reddington 3, others 12 to 200.

In the last, mile and a sixteenth, imp. Trance and old Logan ran heads apart to the three-quarters, with Grady at their heels, Vincter about five lengths back. In the homestretch Logan dropped back and Vincter came like a flash, catching Trance in the last stride and winning by a head.
Trance second, four lengths before Grady. Time, 1:49½.
Vincter was at 6 to 5, Trance 2 to 1, Grady 6, Earl Cochran
8, Logan 30, Monta 80 to 1.

EIGHTY-FIRST DAY—SATURDAY, APRIL 24.

In the first, five furlongs, for two-year-olds, they got a good start. Aluminum led by two lengths past the half, then Elsmore, second, ran to the fore by the time the three-quar-

Howard S. Winning the Spreckels Cup by a Nose from Altamax.

Fonso took the second by a head from the real sweet thing, Strathrol, which hadn't been out in a long time.
Montallade, the third horse in the race, was given a ride that would fool a tyro and make some people willing to swear that there was a very dark Senegambian in the woodpile that should be smoked out by the officials. Refugee, in the third, turned a flip-flap that was exceedingly neat, but which was not appreciated by form-students. When a horse runs ninth one day and first the next, as Refugee did, there necessarily is a lot of complaints, and they're just and proper too. Rey Salazar got a good ride and won the third race with ease, Torsina just galloped in the fifth, and Vincter, ridden with great good judgment by Willie Martin, won the last by a head from imp. Trance, who had run old Logan's head off.

The first race was for maiden two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs. To an excellent start Socialist showed first and led Dousterswivel half a length at the three-quarters, Marvelous third, half a length away, with Dalion at his heels. Socialist led Dalion by a head half-way down the stretch, but Douster-swivel came like a flash under the hat and beat Socialist out a head, Twinkler, who had come from fifth place, third, half a length off, three lengths from Tom Spencer. Time, 0:56½.

had been broken by Refugee they got away to a good start, and Refugee, second away, dashed to the front at once, leading La Mascota two lengths at the quarter, Myrtle H. by a length at the half. At the three-quarters Refugee was four lengths to the good and McFarlane had run up second.
Refugee was not headed and won easily by three lengths,
McFarlane second, as far from Candor and Tom Elmore, noses apart. This was as neat a double somersault as was ever turned on the turf. The time was 1:29½. Refugee was at 3 to 2 (11 to 5 once), McFarlane 12. Candor 5, Tom Elmore 6, Leonville 5, La Mascota 8, Mollie R. 15, Myrtle H.
80 to 1.

In the fourth, four and a half furlongs, Miss Remsen and Rey Salazar ran head and head into the homestretch, where Rey Salazar came to the front and won easily by a length, Miss Remsen second, two lengths before Flushington, who beat Imperious a head in a drive. Time, 0:56. Rey Salazar was at 6 to 1, Miss Remsen 12, Flushington 7, Miss Dividend 5, others 12 to 300 to 1.

The fifth race, six furlongs, selling, Torsina got away on the fly, but was eased up nearing the half, Potentate leading her at the half by a couple of lengths, Ricardo third, as far away. Potentate led Torsina half a length into the homestretch ters was reached, Aluminum close up, two lengths from Salazar. Torsina had fallen back from fourth to sixth place.

Rey Salazar took second place as they straightened away and easily won by a length from Torsina, who was cut loose a little over a sixteenth from home and wound up second with ease, three parts of a length from Salazar, who beat Twinkler four lengths. Time, 1:02½. Rey Salazar was at 3 to 1, Torsina 2, Salazar 40, Elsmore 2½, others 12 to 200 to 1.

The second race was at six furlongs, selling. To a bad start Pat Morphy broke in front, Major Cook second, about eight lengths before George Miller. Murphy led Cook by two lengths at the half and three-quarters, and won driving by a neck, Msjor Cook second, five lengths from George Miller, who beat Doyle ten lengths. Time, 1:14½. Pat Murphy was at 4½ to 1, Msjor Cook 5, George Miller 9 to 20 (3 to 5 at the opening), Decision 40, Doyle 200 to 1.

Third on the programme was a mile and a furlong selling race. Addie Buchanan and Hazard ran in close order in front for seven-eighths of a mile. Lohengula got to the fore in the homestretch, Hazard being second, a head before Lohengula. The latter and The Bachelor drew away in the last eighth, being so close at the finish that the judges could not separate them, it being declared a dead heat. Daylight was third, five lengths off, four before Peter the Second. Morte Fouse ran like a hearse horse. Time, 1:55½. Lohen-gula was at 4 to 1, The Bachelor 2½, Hazard 5, Morte Fouse 6, others 10 to 20 to 1.

A mile and a quarter hurdle race came next. Dick O'Malley led past the stand, then Candor and Dick alternated in the lead to the three-quarter pole, where J. O. C. had run up from sixth to third place. Candor drew ahead a length in the homestretch and appeared to be winning easily when Cochran stopped riding and J. O. C. came up and won handily by one and one-half lengths, Cochran cheekily pulling up on the black mare and then claiming foul. Tuxedo was third, lapped on Candor, and Hyman was a head further away. Time, 2:19½. J. O. C. was at 8 to 1, Candor 3, Tuxedo 2½, others 5 to 60 to 1.

Then came the event of the meeting—the race for the Spreckels cup valued at $1,500, and a stake of $7,500, of which $2,000 to second and $500 to third. Eleven paraded before the racing enthusiasts, Howard S., on looks, certainly being the flower of the flock, though Estaca, Altamax and Vincitor had their admirers. Starter Harvey did not keep them long. They were dispatched on suitable terms. The lightly-weighted Lou Lou R. led by two lengths passing the stand, the rest in a compact bunch, except Vincitor, who was two lengths in the rear of the tenth horse, Bernardillo. On the first turn Howard S. was interfered with and as they swung by the quarter pole Lou Lou R. had increased her lead to three lengths, Rey del Tierra second, three lengths from Horatio and Bernardillo, head and head. Howard S. was last but one, and many a close observer shouted: "The favorite's out of it!" The field hunched up a bit in the run to the half, where Lou Lou R. and the King of the Earth were running lapped, with Altamax now third, a length away. He was ninth over six lengths behind leader Lou Lou R. His chances did not look very rosy at this stage, surely. Piggett now cut loose with the brown colt and he did all that was asked, passing Vincitor, Estaca and Scarfin as if they were mere nothings, and swinging past the three-quarters fifth in the field of eleven. Lou Lou and Rey del Tierra were now heads apart, two lengths before Altamax, at whose heels thundered Estaca, and at the Dunne colt's saddle was the brown favorite, going great guns. Fairly straightened in the homestretch, Lou Lou R., the pace-setter, fell rapidly rearward, and Altamax assumed a lead of half a length, Rey del Tierra still second, with Howard S. third, over a length away. Half-way down the homestretch Rey del Tierra was done for, and Howard S., driven hard, joined the white-faced bay son of the great dead Maxim. The favorite was rather toward the outside, Altamax near to the inner rails. There seemed to be a gigantic magnet drawing them closer and closer, to the center of the course. A sixteenth from home they were going head and head, stride for stride, Hennessy sitting straight up in the saddle, giving the game, but tired Altamax cut after cut with his whip. Piggett was going along with Howard S., riding beautifully, now forward, now straight up, light as a feather on the big brown colt. Not over a foot separated the game pair that were being ridden so skillfully. First one and then the other's nose showed in front, and as they passed the wire silence passed over the multitude. It was awfully close. No one knew who had won it—at least no person outside the judges' stand cared to express a decided opinion. No numbers were discernible on the indicator. The judges looked at each other. Presently they asked each other questions. Meanwhile the multitude waited impatiently. Then a roar of "Howard S." went up, then a number of mild shouts of "Altamax." Piggett rode up into the winners' ring with Howard S. and dismounted. Some one told him to remount, which he instantly did, and when shouts again went up for Howard S., the boy put his fingers to his lips, commanding silence. Then Hennessy, ashen pale, rode into the circle with Altamax, and Piggett stretched out his right arm, and the veteran and the youngster joined hands. Then the crowd thought it was to be a dead heat. Finally, after about two minutes (which seemed sixty), number nine showed first, then one and five, and the public knew that the decision was for Howard S., that Altamax had been placed second and Vincitor third. The latter was beaten four lengths, and three lengths behind him came Scarf Pin, followed by Estaca, Rey del Tierra, Horatio, Lode Star, Bernardillo, George Palmer and the pace-maker, Lou Lou R. The time was 2:03½. The wire containing the big purse was lowered, Piggett joyfully remounted the beautiful brown colt and untied the strings, gave a funny bow to the audience upon dismounting, the hand struck up an appropriate air, and the excitement over the big race of the meeting was over. "The best horse won it," was the general verdict, and all voted it an event that will long linger in the halls of memory.

The pedigree of the winner, who was bred at the McGrathinae St. of Milton Young, near Lexington, Ky., is as follows: J. H. Shields gave $500 for him when he was a yearling and all the colts' racing has been done in California. Ed Ryan recently purchased him for $6,000. Howard S. stands fully sixteen hands in height, but is so symmetrically built that he does not look to be so tall. His sire (a good race horse in England) is dead, his dam is by Virgil, the sire of Hindoo. There were three good racers in California from the same female line—Henry, Wildwood and John A.

In the last race, one mile, Stentor and Claudiana ran close together to the homestretch, two lengths before Don Clarendio and Ft. Augustus, head and head. The last-named pair drew ahead in the last sixteenth, the last-named beating the Don a head very cleverly, Claudiana half a length away, third, five lengths from Stentor. Time, 1:43½. Ft. Augustus was at 10 to 1, Don Clarendio 6 to 5 (backed from 2½ to 1), Claudiana 6, Stentor 3½, others 6 to 40 to 1.

EIGHTY-SECOND DAY—MONDAY, APRIL 26.

The first race was for three-year-old maidens, seven furlongs. To a good start, Florimel, third away, dashed to the fore, leading by two lengths past the quarter, Rosalbra, Fashion Plate and Flambeauette heads apart. Fashion Plate got to the front in the next furlong, and led Florimel a length past the half and two lengths at the three quarters. Rosalbra third, three lengths off, two from Rufalba. Florimel joined Fashion Plate when they straightened away in the homestretch, and in a hot drive the former beat Fashion Plate a nose, Rosalbra third, eight lengths off, and a head before Rufalba. Time, 1:30. Florimel was at 2½ to 1 (opened at 3), Fashion Plate 50 to 1, Rosalbra 4, Rufalba 6 to 5, others 20 to 150 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, selling, Perhaps headed Spry Lark near the half, led by two lengths at the three-quarters, where Spry Lark was second, two lengths from Doubtful. Doubtful came fast the last furlong and got within half a length of Perhaps at the finish, Jack Martin third, three lengths off. Time, 1:16. Perhaps was at 4 to 5 (opened at 3 to 5), Doubtful 2½ to 1 (5 once), Jack Martin 12, others 12 to 300 to 1.

A six-furlong selling dash was third on the programme. To a good start Emma D. soon got to the front, leading Don Gara half a length at the half and two lengths at the three-quarters, where Mohalasca was third, three lengths further away. Don Gara passed Emma D. about a sixteenth from home and won driving by a head, Emma D second, half a length before the fast coming Olive. In the opinion of most close observers Mohalasca got a ride that should result in the officials taking quick action on the pilot, W. Martin. The time was 1:13½. Don Gara was at 200 to 1, Emma D. 10, Olive 9, Mohalasca 9 to 20, others 15 to 100 to 1.

A mile and a sixteenth selling race was fourth. To a good start Cabrillo led by two lengths at the quarter and half, Minnie II. second at the quarter, San Marco at the half. Cabrillo began to come back to his field nearing the three-quarters, and well ridden, just won by a head, San Marco beating Morte Fouse by the smallest of margins for the place, Addie Buchanan two lengths off. Time, 1:49½. Cabrillo was at even, San Marco 20 to 1, Morte Fouse 20, Russell (who was humped) 2 to 1, May R. 8 and Minnie II. 500 to 1.

In the fifth, six furlongs, selling, they got a had start. Palmerston and Major Cook were left, Howard as good as left. Strathrol, off first, led Midlo by a head at the half a length at the three-quarters, and won easily by three lengths from Una Colorado, who was as far before Midas. Time, 1:14½. Strathrol was at 9 to 10, Una Colorado 15, Midas 15, Howard 4 (8 once), Major Cook 5, Palmerston 20, Midlo 25 to 1.

The last race was for two-year-olds, five furlongs. To a good send-off Elsmore assumed command. At the three-quarters Elsmore and Rey Salazar were heads apart, three lengths in front of a bunch. The leaders drove all the way down the homestretch, Elsmore winning by half a length, Rey Salazar second, two lengths before Siva, who just beat Outlay. Time, 1:03½. Elsmore was at 5 to 1, Rey Salazar even money, Siva 12 to 1, Outlay 7, Los Prietos 6, others 15 to 50 to 1.

EIGHTY-THIRD DAY—TUESDAY, APRIL 27.

The first race was for two year-olds, four and a half furlongs. To a poor start Miss Remsen showed first and led Hermoso by three lengths at the three-quarters, Aluminum third, two lengths off, with Front de Boeuf at his heels. Miss Remsen stopped a little at the end, but had enough left to enable her to win by a head from the fast-coming Front de Boeuf, who beat Hermoso two lengths. Aluminum was fourth, lapped on Hermoso. Time, 0:56. Miss Remsen was at 6 to 1, Front de Boeuf 13 to 5, Hermoso 10, Elsmore 3, Flushington 7, others 12 to 300 to 1.

A mile selling race for three-year-olds came second. To a good start Charlemagne led for over a furlong, then Nebula took up the running, leading Charlemagne half a length at the quarter and two lengths at the half, Tulare another length off. The latter moved up second nearing the three-quarters, and half way down the homestretch Tulare was at Nebula's saddle. The filly stopped some and Tulare won with a hit left by a head, Nebula second, a length from Infiammator, who was coming very fast. Time, 1:42½. Tulare was at 7 to 10 (even money once), Nebula 4 (opened at 2), Infiammator 20, George Palmer 6, others 20 to 60 to 1.

The third was at seven furlongs. Blue Bell led by a couple of lengths past the quarter and half, then Ricardo rushed up close to the mare and Montallade closed up some ground. The latter got up to Blue Bell about a sixteenth from home and won easily by three lengths, Blue Bell second, one and one-half lengths before Trappean, who just beat Tenacity. Time, 1:29½. Montallade was at 4 to 5, Blue Bell 12 to 1, Trappean 3, others 12 to 100 to 1.

In the fourth, six furlongs, they got away to a good send-off and Zamar dashed to the front, leading by two lengths at the half, Caesarian second, one and a half lengths from Torsina. Caesarian got up to Zamar nearing the three-quarters, led by half a length into the homestretch, and drew away a couple of lengths. Zamar came again the last furlong, but Caesarian won easily by half a length, Zamar second, eight lengths before Torsina, who beat Vincitor four. Time, 1:13½. Caesarian was at 1 to 2 (7 to 10 once), Zamar 13 to 5, Torsina 7 to 1, Vincitor 15.

In the fifth, seven furlongs, they got away, after a long delay, to a fair start. Refugee, Kowalsky and Ransom ran heads apart past the quarter. At the half it was Kowalsky first by a head, Refugee second, two lengths from Ransom. About three furlongs from home Kowalsky humped Refugee, who fell back a couple of lengths, Kowalsky leading by two lengths into the homestretch. Refugee came again and forced Kowalsky to drive to win by a head, Daylight third, three lengths behind Refugee. Time, 1:23½. The first half was run in 0:43½, first five furlongs in 1:01½. Kowalsky was at 10 to 1, Refugee 7 to 10, Daylight 6 to 1, others 7 to 40.

The last race was at one and one-eighth miles. Earl Cochran led for about three furlongs, then St. Aignon took up the running, leading Earl Cochran half a length past the half. At the three-quarters it was St. Aignon first by about half a length, Trance second. The latter came on in the homestretch, and beautifully ridden by Bergen, won by a head in the last stride, St. Aignon second, four lengths before Peter II. Time, 1:55½. Trance was at 7 to 5, St. Aignon 9, Peter 6, others 15 to 60 to 1.

COLUSA JOCKEY CLUB MEETING.

List of Entries in the Events That Closed April 15th.

As far as appearances go, the first meeting of the Colusa Jockey Club promises to be one of the best that will be held in Northern California. First, there will be some first-class horses here as will be seen by the entries below. Second, the track is in good condition and is improving every day and by the time of the meet will be very near perfect. Third, last and all the time the manager, E. C. Peart, is heading all his energies (and they are not a few) for the success of the meeting. To say that disappointment reigns by the Governor vetoing the agricultural district bill is putting it mildly, but as we cannot get State aid we are pretty good at helping ourselves, as the result of this meeting will show. The entries in the several events are as follows:

Marysville Race Meeting.

A meeting of the directors of the Marysville Jockey Club was held recently, the following being present: D. P. Donahoe, E. P. McDaniel, J. O. Gates, William Hogoboom and George W. Sutliff, presiding.

The object of the meeting was to prepare a programme for the three days' spring meeting, which will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 13, 14 and 15, the week succeeding the Colusa races. It was decided that horses from Yuba, Sutter, Butte, Colusa and Nevada can enter for all the races, and that colts entered in the two and three-year-old trotting races in Colusa, no matter where they come from, will be allowed to enter for the same races here.

The committee is enabled to offer better purses than last year. It was decided that the owners should drive in the Farmers' race. There will be a two-mile bicycle race on the second day, for which $20 will be given for the purchase of medals. It was also decided to have a one-year old colt trot, which will be a half mile dash. There are also several running races on the programme, which are always very popular.

The following is the official programme as agreed on:
First day—First race, 2:25 trot, 3 in 5, mile heats, $30; second race, one quarter mile running and repeat, $60; third race, farmers' trot, owner to drive, $50; fourth race, one-half-mile, running and repeat.

Second day—First race, 2:40 pacing, 3 in 5, mile heats, $80; second race, two-year-old trot, free for all colts entered at Colusa, 2 in 3, $60; third race, one-half mile running and repeat, $70; fourth race, bicycle, two miles, $20.

Third day—First race, 2:21 trot, 3 in 5, mile heats, $100; second race, three quarter mile dash, $30; third race, three-year-old trot, 2 in 3, mile heats, free for all entered at Colusa, $50; fourth race, one-year-old colt trot, half-mile dash, $20.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

THE CIRCUIT.—Elsewhere in this paper appears a report of the doings of the Convention held Tuesday last, and also the action of the Board of Directors of the P. C. T. H. B. A. on Wednesday. A circuit which will cover thirteen or fourteen weeks, ending by the first of November, was arranged.

The most peculiar feature is that in addition to the two regular meetings of the Breeders two others, perhaps three, will be under its management. This became necessary in order to insure an unbroken circuit from the opening of the first of August, or a week earlier, to the State Fair. After the State Fair there is no trouble, but it was highly important that there should be meetings enough before the State exposition to induce owners to have their horses trained.

The impression prevailed that when the horses from Montana returned there would be small opportunities to "make expenses," and while this view had apparent justification it does not absolutely follow that the horses which contend at Anaconda and Butte, or rather those which will return to California, will have any the best of the fray. The fastest have engagements still further East, and it is not already settled that those who will be reeled at home are inferior. The opportunity to trot in races before meeting the returned Crusaders will prove vestly beneficial, as it is an accepted maxim in training circles that actual racing is by far the best preparation for success; one race, perhaps, doing more to advance the pupil than a month's training.

The delegates from Chico and Willows explained the situation, and gave the reasons for the Associations at these places refusing to hold fairs without State aid. The directors at both places are not breeders of light harness horses or in any way interested in them. The bulk of the people, however, are anxious that a meeting should be held and will contribute a liberal sum towards obtaining their desire.

The amount named, and other concessions will, so far as can be told from previous experience, be a guarantee against loss, and as The Breeders Association was organized to promote the interests of those connected with trotters and pacers, whether breeders, owners or trainers it is eminently proper that the association should do all in its power to overcome the obstacles which are in the way.

It may seem singular to those who have not given much attention to the subject, that an institution with its headquarters in San Francisco should be able to make a success where the home folk refuse to accept the venture.

A very little consideration will correct that impression. One is thoroughly organized, its members in all parts of the State, and confidence established.

The directors of the local associations have neither the knowledge possessed by the larger body or the influence and hence the races are likely to be conducted with greater ability, and owners induced to make entries that would have refrained from doing so under the other conditions. Then again, it is altogether probable that there will be larger subscriptions by the residents of the two places named when the races are to be handled by The Breeders, than if the home people were in charge.

"Home Talent" might be as bright and effective as that from a distance, and yet a decided preference for the imported article. This is human nature apotheosizing foreign stars, underrating those which are a part of their daily life.

There is one thing in connection with the track at Chico which I will be greatly pleased to see tried. It has been sown to wheat, and in place of waiting until after the crop is harvested, when a foot or fifteen inches high and still green plow it under, cere taken, of course, to set a uniform depth of soil over the vegetation. This was the plan followed at the Lexington, Ky., race course years ago. Rye was sowed in the fall, plowed under in the spring, horses assigned to the inner track to exercise until a short time before the races and the galloping of a hundred or more horses, and the harrows keeping the top velvet, a fast and safe track was insured. Even after the crop is harvested plowing under a high stubble will be an improvement, and it is quite within bounds to state that, fast as the Chico track was conceded to be, it will be still faster in 1897.

And far more important to owners and trainers the elasticity, which either plan will secure, will render it easier on feet and legs, and with these essential adjuncts to speed and endurance being all right there is little to fear from other ailments.

UNEQUALLED.—It is quite safe to assert that there is as much, if not more, speed in the way of trotting and pacing on the Pleasanton track than can be found on any other harness-horse racecourse in the country. Two that hold the championship: Flying Jib, the only horse in the world that dropped one-and-a-half seconds inside of the two-minute mark at a harness gait, and the grandest of all geldings, Azote. That adjective is certainly appropriate for the son of Whips; size, form, breeding, action, speed, and in addition to these kindest disposition; boundlessly endowed; too, with all of these qualities.

But the speed at Pleasanton is not confined to those which have a world-wide reputation, and in this class is Beuzetta, and I have not the least hesitation in prophesying that the Beuzetta of 1897 will be a big improvement over the one of 1896. She could not look batter and the long work that was deemed necessary in order to correct faults in her first winter on the Pacific Coast has been changed, so that it is reasonable to anticipate that the promises of her younger days will be fulfilled.

Plenty of others on the noted track that have passed the "crucial test," i. e., that of actual races, winning in good company, that are under the charge of noted professors of the art of educating trotters and pacers and as capable as any in piloting them when the battle is waged with all the heat skill and generalship obtainable. Some of them going so well that, fast as their records are now, there is more than a likelihood of reducing them, and this is quite a comfortable situation when so many are no longer able to win money in their classes.

Good, however, as the prospects are for the older division if I am not greatly mistaken the youngsters will come in for a full share of the honors of the track. Directs, Diehlos, Directums, and some of Eastern breeding which are sure to earn brackets, and again I will risk the assertion that if there are no visitations of bad-luck the winner of the Kentucky Futurity is now in the famous valley of Livermore.

First and second, perhaps, the placing in the big three-year-old event, and there is no breach of confidence in stating that the tutor of one of them is confident that if his colt is hesten, the record for that age will be lowered.

As was expected, the winter plowing of the track has worked beneficially. More than that, as heretofore it was considered two or three seconds slower than the best of the California tracks and now it will rank as high as any. Formerly it cupped, now the top is firm, perfectly smooth, and, as a matter of course, the depth it was plowed gives it elasticity.

An ideal training ground this celebrated curriculum. Nothing lacking unless the scarcity of stabling may count as an unfilled want, though in the contiguous lots there are several stables occupied by trainers. The climate is all that can be desired, grass in plenty and of the most succulent varieties, and water as pure as that of mountain streams. There may be a "nipping and eager air" along the shores of the hey, land, probably a warm temperature at Pleasanton. It is well known that "condition" is more easily acquired when there is warmth enough to induce a free flow of perspiration, and when heat in the day time is followed by cool nights you have climatic perfection when the object is to fit horses for great deeds, speed and endurance being the test. Now that the track is better than it ever was, the great results of the past may be exceeded "in the near future."

"GREAT EXPECTATIONS" It may be that I am over sanguine and that my anticipations, regarding the proposed meeting of the Breeders at the opening of circuit, are too high. Still those who have been consulted, at least a large majority of them, have agreed that with activity and proper management there are good grounds for predicting a "grand success." The answers received to a letter from Mr. Layng requesting information regarding the number of horses in training, and whether they would go to Montana or not, show that there are plenty of horses to insure good meetings in this State. Enough of them to fill all the classes and present series of races that will please the public. Then the divergency from the usual harness-racing programme in the way of races for four-in-hands, hackneys, and the other events which will be embraced in the bill, will ensure larger numbers of spectators than would otherwise be present.

The meeting will come off either the last of July or first of August the date depending on a meeting being held at Santa Rosa, in that case the earlier date will be the one fixed upon. I have heretofore mentioned the great advantages that the Emeryville course presents, and mere chapters devoted to recounting them the whole would not be told. Altogether it seems to me that never before in the history of the P. C. T. H. B. A. has there been as good prospects for a paucinary return. Everything favorable. Even the absence of so many California horses in Montana and the East will not be a very great drawback when the reports show the home division to be so strong. It can be taken for granted that trotters and pacers will be well represented and with the exhibition department—as it may be termed—such as it can be made the open air Horse Fair will be a bright mark in the harness-horse history of 1897.

Pacific Rural Press, Alfred Holman Editor, San Francisco, Cal May 1, 1897.

Dear Sir:—Your name has been given us by Mr. F. W. Kelley, Secretary of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, with the suggestion that you ought to be a regular reader of the Pacific Rural Press; and the object of this letter is to invite you to become a subscriber. The Rural Press, as you probably know, is the leading journal of live stock and agricultural interests on the Pacific Coast, and it gives particular attention to legitimate horse interests. It aims to be thoroughly genuine and wholesome and faithfully serve those to whom it appeals for business. While the Rural Press is not distinctively a "horse paper" it, nevertheless gives much attention to the subjects for which the Trotting Horse Breeders' Association was organized, and it is a faithful defender of the interests connected with the horse-breeding in this State. Yours Truly,

The Pacific Rural Press, Alfred Holman, Editor.

The persons to whom the above and a similar circular was addressed kindly sent them to the office on the day received.

While I cheerfully recognize the right of every publisher to obtain subscribers so long as legitimate methods are pursued, in this case there is such a huge discrepancy between the former course of the Rural Press and the statements in the circular that to reconcile the utterances of two years ago and those now presented is utterly impossible.

The first paragraph of the circular is what I desire to call attention particularly to; the second paragraph being a fervent appeal for silver quarters, the envelope containing a device which makes the transmission by mail very handy. A circular opening in a card to hold the coin a mucilage-coated flap to make all secure and a parallelogram with instructions to "cover with a two-cent stamp," the address printed.

I do not object to the appeal, in fact, that and the contrivance to carry the coin being well worthy of commendation, but as the same editor signs the circular that was in charge of the Rural Press when a violent editorial appeared attacking those who criticized, adversely, the 1895 veto of Governor Budd, the opening periphrasis has some little resemblance to obtaining money under false pretenses. That I will not charge, inasmuch as the editor may have changed his views in the two years that have elapsed since the editorial was published, and should that be the case, and that his paper has given or now "gives much attention to the subjects for which the Trotting Horse Breeders' Association was organized, and is a faithful defender of the interests connected with horse-breeding in this State." I will heartily pleased to "suggest" that every horseman on the Coast "ought to be a regular reader of the Pacific Rural Press."

Still I cannot vouch for others adopting the suggestion. The injury can scarcely be condoned when repentance has been delayed so long that the evil cannot be counteracted. The editorial in the Rural Press was copied by the Examiner, applauded and endorsed, and there are good reasons for the belief that the last veto of District Fairs was, in a great measure, due to the false impressions conveyed that the farmers upheld him in his former arbitrary action, and would do so again.

I intended to give a copy of the editorial but inadvertently left the Rural Press containing it at the office of Secretary Kelly and his room being closed when I went there Thursday afternoon, that will delay its publication for another week. It was read before the Board of Directors of the P. C. T. H. B. Association on Wednesday last, and an idea can be got of its tenor when a resolution was adopted, without a dissenting vote, that hereafter advertisements of that association should be withheld from the Rural Press.

"WAIT AND WIN" has, in all probability, won more races than "take the track and keep it." These together condense the many instructions given to jockeys as one or the other will cover nearly all the varying shades of commands to riders before the races are begun. Short and concise the orders given by "Uncle" John Herper in his successful career on the turf and oftener quoted, as "run from end to end," has been printed, said and chanted so many times as to be beyond computation. "Waiting orders" have oftentimes proved disastrous to backers of horses and many instances could be cited when defeat was entirely due to following them.

The most accomplished jockey of his day, Samuel Chifney, unquestionably lost many races he should have won had he been less partial to predicting the "waiting game." Chifney in his book quaintly named "Genius Genuine" however, gives directions that are contrary to the usual method of riding a waiting race stating: "He (the horse) should be enticed to ease himself an inch at a time as his situation will allow. This should be done as if you had a silken rein as fine as a hair, and that you were afraid of breaking it. This is the most true way a horse should be held fast in his running."

A noted English writer thus describes the two methods: "We should here explain that which is called 'breaking running' is practiced with a horse distinguished for his stoutness and powers of endurance. With such a horse the jockey's best plan is to run the race from end to end (this was written before Uncle John's day so that the only original part of the expression is edging en e end), so that by cutting up the horses opposed to him by severe 'play' he wins the race." "When speed, not stoutness, is the best of a horse, the jockey plays a waiting game; that is, he carefully nurses him through the race, so as not to distress him by overpacing him; as the finish approaches, he creeps up to his horses by degrees, but does not quit them to go in front till he sees that the pace has made them 'safe,' when he sets loose and wins." "When the distance is short, as in the half-mile race, the jockey must be on the qui vive not to lose any ground at starting, but catching fast hold of his horses' head, and sticking both spurs into his sides he is off the moment the signal is given, endeavoring to get his horse into speed as soon as possible."

"In races of a longer distance this is not necessary. In these, the jockey may start last; taking care, however, not to be too far out of his ground."

The discussion still goes on in relation to the riding in the Burns Handicap.

All the old turfmeo I have conversed with on the subject agree with me, that The Roman should surely have been the winner had less ground been lost in the first quarter. Eight lengths to the bad, and tenth in a field of ten horses was certainly "too far," and the most stubborn advocate of the waiting game, if at all conversant with racing, could not sanction it in a race of five quarters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 23, 1896.

My driving mare on being taken up from pasture had a large hard hunch on the outside of the cannon bone of the fore leg. It was as large as a hazel nut and very close to the knee. I used Aetherina on it and the lump has entirely disappeared. The effect of this preparation is magical. I take pleasure in recommending it to all who own or drive horses.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

HAVE you noticed the dates claimed for the California circuit?

ASSOCIATIONS should arrange and publish their programmes at once.

FIRE destroyed part of the grand stand at Agricultural Park, Sacramento, Tuesday last.

MURRUE SALISBURY may take Boodla, 2:12½ East. He will have him to Pleasanton soon.

HAZEL H., 2:12½ has been bred to Dictatus. Stella C., dam of Edna R. 2:13 has also been bred to this horse.

H. HELMAN has leased the race track at Hollister, San Benito county and is handling a large string of horses.

THE consensus of opinion among the district associations in this State this year is against bookmaking at the tracks.

W. T. RADIR, Portland, Oregon, has sent the grandly-bred mare, Debutante, to Alameda to be bred to Altamont.

REMEMBER entries to the Colt Stakes State Agricultural Society close to-day. It will pay you well to make entries.

THE Capital City Driving Association of Sacramento will give a race meeting at Agricultural Park, May 24th to 29th inclusive.

"WE will have races in California, Bndd or no Bndd." This prediction will be verified, much to Buckboard Jim's discomfiture.

HARRY E. WISE of this city has bred his fine broodmare Julia (dam of Julia G., 2:13 and the pacer Switzer) to Gossiper, 2:14½.

BARNEY SIMPSON has taken several promising sons and daughters of Arthur Wilkes, 2:28, from Chico, to the race track at Pleasanton.

THE Ohio stallion J. C. Simpson 2:27½, brother of Anteo 2:16½ and Antevolo 2:19½, by Electioneer, will be raced this year, and is booked for a mark equalling that of his fastest brother.

AFTER the Montana meeting ends a large number of Eastern and Montana horsemen who have entered their horses there will bring them to California and race and winter them here.

JOSEPH KAMPE will ship the pacing mare Brilliantine to New York City during the early part of May, having sold her to someone there. It is hardly likely she will ever appear on a race track again.

NANCY W., by Jim Mulvenna, dam Di Vernon by Speculation; second dam Lsdy Vernon; being one of the fastest green trotters in California has been bred to Altamont. Nancy W. belongs to Harry E. Wise.

PAUL RUSSI, who for many years has been on the Valentin Stock Farm, and previous to that time was employed at the Madrone Vineyard, has been engaged by Mr. Rudolph Spreckels at the Santa Rosa Farm.

ON May 7th (next Friday) all subscribers to the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN will notice that the new subscription year begins, and if they have not paid their $3.00 for the year it will be most acceptable at this time.

THERE are approximately 100 pacers and 2:20 trotters in training in California this year, nearly twice as many as in 1895 and 1896. Associations need have no fear, therefore, that they will not get enough entries.

By a fire which occurred in the hindery all of the copies of this paper of July 13, 1896, were destroyed. We will be under great obligations to any of our readers who will send us copies of this issue, as we wish to complete our files.

FIFTEEN young trotters owned by Miller & Sibley, and sired by Electric Bell and Belsire, were recently shipped from Kentucky to Prospect Hill Farm, Franklin, Pa., where Charles Marvin will sift some stake-winners from the lot.

ARE you in arrears for subscription to the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN? If so, please forward the amount at once. It costs money, and plenty of it, to conduct a first-class journal that is devoted to your best interests. Year ends next Friday.

FRANK FRAZIER writes that his stable of horses has wintered well and are in good condition, though a little short of fast work. He says Chehalis never looked so well in his life and that he is getting all the mares he can serve of a good class. All his horses are entered in Montana.

THE many friends of Trainer Ed Geers will regret to hear that in Selma, Ala., on April 10th, he had his arm broken. A pneumatic tire in a cart burst and the horse became frightened. Geers was thrown out, breaking his left arm. He expects to be in working shape in about six weeks.

SPLAN says there never was a time in the history of the horse business when a horseman could make more money than to-day. He says any man ought to go out and pick up a few prospects and make money on them. During the boom days the prospects cost more than the real article.

THE public will be glad to learn that Robert T. Kneehs was released from prison at Berlin, Germany, April 8th. Justice has been fully vindicated, and it will be a long time before any unprincipled horseman has again the audacity to attempt a "ringing" tour in Germany. Kneehs has paid the full penalty of the crime.

GLOBE, the celebrated trotting horse, owned by A. Fennaman, died at Baltimore this week. This horse holds a world's record. He was fourteen years old. He had a single mark of 2:14½, double mark 2:12, and Ed. Geers drove him, Belle Hamlin and Justina to the present world's record free abreast, of 2:14, at Cleveland, July, 1891.

JUST how far inbreeding to the Wilkes family can be carried with safety is problematical, but statistics show that some of our very best racehorses and sires have two and sometimes three crosses to the pony son Hambletonian.

THERE are numerous cures for galls, cracked heels, etc., but the best one I have ever tried, says an experienced trainer, is: "Take one ounce of pulverized alum, half-ounce tannin, one drachm carbolic acid and one quart soft water, mix and dampen the heels every night and morning." It is also a splendid remedy for hopple galls, as it heals and toughens.

HORSES cannot race that are not in condition nor will they race well if in condition and in the hand of a poor man. More good horses are handicapped with poor men than are good men handicapped with poor horses. The best way to make success in the horse business is to get good horses, then secure the best honest men that can be found to manage them.

THE Portland, Oregon, Chronicle says: It looks as though Portland will soon rank next to San Francisco as a horse-racing city. Several well-known and wealthy Portland gentlemen are interesting themselves in this matter and already are making arrangements to secure a long lease on the Irvington track which they intend to repair and put into first-class condition.

LEWIS THURNE, the able secretary of the Los Angeles Agricultural Association, came to this city to attend the meeting of the delegates from the various associations. He says the old fence around the track has been replaced by a new one, and it is contemplated to put a deep layer of good soil over the entire racecourse. A monster meeting will be held there this fall.

HAVE you any horses in training? Has your neighbor, or do you know of any in your vicinity that are being handled for this season's campaign in California? If so, if you will kindly furnish us the information we will gladly publish the same. In the hurry to send out circulars last Friday from this office relating to this subject, your name and address may have been overlooked.

A PROMINENT horseman made this suggestion to help the industry for this Coast. "Let us have a pacing race free for all $10,000 pursa which will draw all the pacers in the United States. Let it be held at the fall meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association. We want to see an old time race no less than five to start. Make the entrance four per cent and six per cent from money winners."

THE pacing mare, Miss Jennings 2:08½, by McEwen, has joined W. H. McCarthy's training stable at Fleetwood Park. It is reported that "Knapsack" will have the two California-bred flyers, Monte, by Guy Wilkes, and Dan M., by Prodigal, controlled by William Callinan, of White Plains. Dan M. paced a trial in 2:16 last year and Monte has trotted about as fast. Both are eligible to the 3:00 class.

AT Yreka, Cal., Wm. Clark has Tybault, 2:27½, Mollie Nurse, 2:25, Klamath Maid, three-year-old pacer, by Woodman, 2:28½, dam by Ophir; Rosemont, 3, by Roscoe, dam by Altamont; Miss Ackley, 5, by Roscoe, and others. Mr. Wallbridge will soon start up Peter W., 2:24, Trainer Swan will work Zephyr, 2:27½, Georgia Woodthorpe, 2:20½, and a few colts. Al Heller is working Wm. Clark's seven-year-old by Major Mono.

THE breeding mare must be watched closely now. More than any other animal, unless it is a stallion, she needs exercise. If she is worked lightly every day, so long as she is not required to pull heavy loads, it will be better than to have a lack of exercise. Care must be had in feeding the mare so the colt will be strong. Plenty of clover hay and wheat bran is a necessity if you expect a strong colt. A weak colt is a great bother and chances are that it will die.

THE rules governing the registration of horses were not changed at the meeting of the American Trotting Register Association at Chicago last week. On motion the consideration of the proposed change was postponed for one year. In the meantime those who have horses to register will do well to attend to it. The matter for a new volume—the 14th—will soon be put in the hands of the printer, and those who have horses to register should lose no time in sending their pedigrees to J. H. Steiner, Ellsworth Building, Chicago.

NEARLY a thousand horses have died near Hutchinson, Kansas, this winter from blind staggers or something much resembling that disease. The animals droop, refuse to eat and seem to have no idea of distance. They will throw their heads against the stalls, and in getting their mouths into their feed boxes will strike their teeth violently against the bottom of the box. A post mortem examination shows that the brain has turned to a mass of corruption. Very few recover under treatment. Impure food is supposed to be the cause of the trouble.

THE big mining boom now on the Pacific Northwest has lifted many prominent horsemen from poverty to wealth. Spokane is reaping the greatest benefits from this sudden acquisition of wealth, and a number of her prominent horsemen have organized a gentlemen's driving club. The first meeting was held last Monday, and it was decided to make the capital stock $10,000. Nearly half this amount was subscribed at the first meeting, and as soon as the balance is secured arrangements will be made for a spring meeting which will be held a short time before the Montana circuit opens. The leading spirits of the enterprise are Col. W. D. Turner, W. J. Harris, Felix Pugh, Harold Peel, D. B. Stewart, A. J. Rose, J. Wilson, Thomas S. Griffith, H. Stimmel and Van DeLashmutt.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that the late Thomas W. Raymond made it a part of his last will and testament that Klamath should never be raced again, it is probable that the "little bay demon" may again be seen in many a hot finish. It is stated in Santa Ana that the horse has already been entered in a number of races in Colorado and farther East, and that it is the intention of Mr. Judd to campaign him this season. Klamath is in good condition now, and almost any day can go out on the track and pass the quarter post in 30 or 31 seconds. Mr. Judd could not be seen, but the fact that the horse has been entered in the East is considered evidence that it is the intention of his owner to race him. It is claimed now that Judd has a bill of sale for Klamath and that this instrument was filed with the County Recorder of Orange County many months before the last will and testament of Raymond was made.

THE Petaluma Courier says: "S. Seymour, San Francisco, has the famous stallion Seymour Wilkes, 2:08½, at the White ranch, at Lakeville, in care of Thomas Roche, and the beautiful brown horse attracts great attention on our streets when driven to town. He is by the famous Gny Wilkes, 2:15½, out of the noted Early Bird, one of the best roadsters in San Francisco. Wilkes will soon be put in training, and Mr. Seymour is confident that he will clip four seconds off his record. The animal is in prime condition. At the White ranch there are now a large number of famous runners and trotters. Marty Bergen has a big string of horses turned out there."

H. B. MILLER has sold his pacing stallion Pathmont, 2:09½, to the Portland Stable. Pathmont is a brown stallion, foaled in 1890, sired by Altamont 3600, dam Sally M. (dam of Altam, 2:09½), by Oregon Pathfinder. He has been raced two seasons, starting out in the green classes in 1895. He raced very successfully through the California circuit, under the management of Winslip & Keating, securing a record of 2:09½. But two horses starting in the green classes beat this record in 1895, Rachael, 2:08½, and Bright Regent, 2:08½, both made on Eastern tracks, which are supposed to be at least from two to three seconds faster than our Pacific Coast tracks. Andy McDowell took Pathmont to Montana last year, but like a great number of other horses, coming from a low attitude, soon got out of condition and was not at himself during the whole meeting. Pathmont has been in Geo. Misner's stable since early last fall, and he is said to be in prime condition for early training. He will likely be taken to Montana again this year.

HUMBOLDT has been peculiarly favored in stock improvement. Though very few good mares were here originally, the stallions brought here have been better than falls to the lot of every county, especially in the brood mare breeding qualities. Pocora Hayward, Grand Moor and Idaho Patchen got a sound, good limbed and nervy class of mares. These crossed with Mustapha, Ira, Wayland W., Dndley, Anthem, Expect, Gossip and others, not the least of which is Waldstein and his sons Jack W and Beecher, will advance the breeding materially, but still we are not up to the status of many of the lower counties. For instance, Dudley is now at Haywards and will be matched to the following very high class of mares: Mare by Adol 2:28, dam by John Nelson, by Steinway, 2:25, by Roy Wilkes 2:06, by Sidney with a record of 2:20, by Diablo. We can not compare with the gilt-edged breeding above but we ought to have mentioned some excellent mares that have been imported into the county, and in a future issue something will be said about these. On the whole Humboldt is in a fair way to compete with the best in the show ring and on the track.—Herald.

THE race track at Santa Ana is the scene of activity these days. Fifteen or twenty horses are at the track in training for the coming racing season. The track is in fine condition, and the horses in training are in fine form and showing up nicely. Klamath was never in finer trim than he is at present, and Mr. Gihbons, owner and driver of the horses, anticipates great victories for him during the season. This morning Klamath was driven several fast miles, but his fast and hard work was in quarters. He was driven to the quarter a number of times, and his best time for this distance was 31½ seconds, a 2:05 gait. Klamath will campaign in Colorado and through the East, and will leave here for the former place about the middle of May. Chas. Farrar and J. Baker, each with a string of good horses, will also go to Colorado. Flonnder is a promising Nntford gelding, three years old. He has been worked but little, and this morning showed quarters in 0:33½. He will not campaign this season, his owner deeming it best to hold him back another year. Birdroe, owned by J. Baker, with a record of 2:14½, is in fine condition and will probably be heard from this season.

AFRUPUS of the present condition of the horse market, a writer in "The Horseman" says: "Some dealers have gone so far as to pick up a good many likely three-year-olds, believing that the supply will be even shorter two years hence than it will next year, and so we see that two short crops—those that should be ready for 1893 and 1899—have already been sadly culled over and, considering all the figures at hand, where the horses are to come from for 1900, 1901 and 1902 no one knows. America is a country of boundless resources, we all know, and can shake out millions of bushels of wheat when her reserves should be exhausted, but one thing she cannot do is to supply horses when her farmers and breeders have not bred them. The dealers have ransacked the country from corner to corner, digging out the contents of every nook in the woods in which a good horse was ever bred, and the presently to be observed result is that for the years mentioned they are going to be hard run for supplies. Prices must necessarily rise, and if the tariff or some other phase of the national question brings prosperity and good times the price will be boosted still further up the scale, and the man with a few good horses to sell will obtain better returns than he ever has for horses of the same caliber and quality."

HERE is a little calculation as to relative positions in a race calculated by the records: "If the five pacing kings were to start in a race at a mile, with each horse in condition to equal his best public record, where would they be at the finish? When John R. Gentry reached the wire in 2:00½, Robert J., 2:01½, would be a little more than 44 feet behind him; Star Pointer, 2:02½, would be about 87 feet up the stretch; Joe Patchen, 2:03, would be 107 feet to the rear, and Frank Agan would be a trifle less than 140 feet from the wire when Gentry crossed the finish line. In other words, Gentry would beat Robert J. about four lengths, Star Pointer about nine lengths, Joe Patchen about eleven lengths and Frank Agan about fourteen lengths. The king of harness horses moved 43:81 feet per second when he paced the world's record at 2:00½. If Trainer E. R. Bowna can drive him just about three inches further each second Gentry will make a record of 2:00. The two-minute horse must cover 44 feet per second. If Gentry should be able to pace a foot per second faster than he paced last year, he would set the world's record at 1:57½. Thus a slight lengthening or quickening of his stride is all that is needed to enable him to do the trick. In order to cover a mile in 2:00, Robert J. must move a little more than six inches per second faster than he has been able to do; Star Pointer almost a foot per second, Joe Patchen a little more than a foot per second and Frank Agan about sixteen inches per second." This system is not infallible, however, as it must be borne in mind that John R. Gentry's record was not made in a race.

THE SADDLE.

STARTER JAMES B. FERGUSON is rapidly recovering and expects to be out and about by Saturday.

TWO of the six winners at Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday were California-bred—Domingo (by imp. Darebin), and Don Tuleno (by Alta).

GID LAW ran seven furlongs in 1:26½, at Newport, Ky., Saturday, and Irksome ran six furlongs in 1:13½. It must be a fast track.

A NEVADA hocksmit named Schwartz has invented a starting-gate that is said to be superior in every particular to the one now in use.

THE Australian-bred mare Candid, who captured the four-mile race last year at Ingleside, has a foal by Eolo at the Spreckels ranch.

A CINCINNATI dispatch says Ben Brown won the Blue Ribbon Stakes, mile and an eighth, in 1:54½, P. Dunne second, John McElroy third.

BOOKMAKER GEORGE ROSE left yesterday for Fresno. He lost $10,000 at Ingleside last week and is fully $20,000 loser on the present season.

ANIMOSA, a recent winner at Newport, is by the California-bred stallion Volante. She beat a field of fifteen two-year-olds in easy style.

THURSTON, brother to Freeland, Cicero, Long Knight, Belle Boy and Mary Corbett, won a seven and one-half furlong race at Newport, Ky., Tuesday.

CHARM (supposed to be the fast mare Honig bred out here last winter) won a six-furlong race at Memphis on Saturday, and old Don Fuleno ran second to her.

JOHN MACKAY, superintendent of Rancho del Paso, says that early in June he will take the grandest lot of yearlings to New York that ever left the big farm.

D., CITY—What was the date of Parole's last race, where was it run and who rode him? Answer—Thursday, October 8, 1895, at Jerome Park. Ooley rode him.

MR. CORRIAN has named a Riley colt Primrose in honor of Mr. Primrose, the popular minstrel. By coincidence, Mr. Primrose's mother's maiden name was Riley.

MOREA, a brown colt by Morollo-Reata, won a half mile race for Eugene Leigh, at Forsyth, Ind., Wednesday in 0:50½. The late Col. H. I. Thornton bred the youngster.

It looked as if McMahon, the rider of J. O. C., had been dangerously injured, but he was around after the last race, uninjured apparently, herring a badly bruised face.

RILEY GRANNAN speered at the Aqueduct (N. Y.) track Tuesday, but was refused admittance, the injunction he recently secured applying only to the Morris Park track.

WALTER ("POW") WEAVER, the jockey, purchased the very useful selling-plater, Charlemagne, of Barney Schreiber on Saturday. He will probably cut some ice at the coming Denver race meet.

MURILLO, the bay two-year-old colt by Morollo-Snowdrop, by Joe Hooker, that belongs to J. G. Follansbee, is beginning to attract a good deal of attention from critics who visit Sheephead Bay.

THE Highland Park (Detroit, Mich.) stake book has been received, and we note that Howard S. is booked to meet the creeks, Ornament, Algol and Typhoon, in the Detroit Derby, one and one-half miles.

MESSRS. ATKIN and LOTTRIDGE have just returned from a trip to Rancho del Paso, where they inspected the yearlings. They are especially in love with the progeny of imp. Goldfinch and imp. Watercress.

MARTINEZ, the excellent steeplechase jockey, has been reinstated by the Ingleside officials, and will soon be seen in the saddle. Martinez was probably not guilty of any wrongdoing, and the officials may have discovered that.

CALIFORNIA-BRED horses ran prominently at Washington on Saturday. The Peer (by Joe Hooker—Clara L) won the steeplechase, two and one-half miles, with Decapod (by Sir Modred—Christine) second. Hi Daddy ran third in another race.

DON GARA, winner of the third race Monday, was, by one, the longest shot that ever won a race in California, at one time being as good as 300 to 1. The longest price ever laid against a winner here was 500 to 1, which was Floodmore's, about three years ago.

BARNEY SCHREIBER was a happy man Monday. The happiness was caused by a dispatch stating that the first Foul Shot had made an appearance at his ranch near St. Louis. This new arrival is a bay colt out of Gratitude, the dam of that good race mare Lottie Mills.

THE City and Suburban Handicap, £2,000, mile and a quarter, was won at Epsom, Eng., yesterday by the Duke of Devonshire's Balsamo, L. Brasse's Bay Ronald second, Sir J. Miller's Lagresse third. Fifteen started, including Lorillard's Diekha and Croker's Santa Anita.

SOUTHWORTH, a four-year-old half-brother to Howard S. (by Strathmore—Zelice) won a six furlong race at Forsyth, Ind., April 22d. On the same date Cherrybounce II. (by Morollo—Clarissa) was successful at four furlongs, and Joe Mancini (by Bishop—Etterre) won races.

TORSINA was run up from $500 to $1,500 by A. Joseph, said to be the owner of Potentate and Joe Terry, but George Rose retained the mare with an additional $5 bid and protested payment of the run-up money to Joseph. The latter says he tried to buy the mare before the race.

JOHN MACKAY may breed a number of J. B. Heggins's choicest mares to Magnet. He had a talk with Dan Honig the other day, but no agreement was effected. Burns & Waterhouse may mate four of five of their best mares to the sleshing son of St. Blaise. Horsemen predict that Magnet will make a splendid sire. He has all the points of a great producer, as well as the breeding.

BUDDHA, a good winner at the far East this season, is by The Bard (a great race horse) from the famous race mare, Empress, bred by the late Gov. Oden Bowie, of Maryland. No wonder Buddha is a pretty good one by such a grand horse and from such a mere as Empress.

THE Elmwood Farm's broodmare Kathleen dropped a pair of twins to Brutus last Friday. Both are colts and doing nicely. One is a bay and the other a chestnut. Mr. Boots will name them Castor and Pollock. Kathleen is by Shannon. All of Mr. Boots' mares have foaled safe one.

FLORIMEL, winner of the first race by a nose Monday, is by Apeche from Virjean, by Milner (son of imp. Leamington); second dam Virgie (dam of Olive). Fashioo Plate, who ran so close to her, is by Racine from Feustine (dam of Flirtilla), by Flood; second dam imp. Flirt, by Hermit.

NICK HALL came in for many hearty congratulations over the victory of his Arndel in the California Stakes, $1,200 to the owner of the winner. It was a lucky win, for if J. O. C. and Gov. Budd had not fallen the chances are Arndel would have finished second or third instead of first.

ORESTES, W. O'B. Macdonough's Ormonde colt, is reported to be doing the most favorable work of the swell set under Matt Allen's care at Sheephead Bay. Orestes is among the nominations for the Kentucky Derby, to be run on May 12th, which were permitted to lapse by non-payment of the final installment.

THE item that appeared Thursday regarding S. N. Andrews, of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, Los Angeles track and giving a thirty-day meeting spring and fall is erroneous. The California Jockey Club holds a long lease on that piece of property and has not made any terms with anyone looking to its sub-letting.

R. E. DOWNING died at the hospital with typhoid fever Tuesday. Downing was a well-known turf character. At one time he was a foreman in Barney Schreiber's stable. He was a native of Chicago, but has resided over the country. He owned Velox at the time of his death, and once had Treppe in his stable. The deceased was a man about thirty years of age.

TULLY COULTER, owner of California, Front de Boeuf, Woodland Belle and others, left for the East Tuesday. His stable, consisting of California, Front de Boeuf, Redskin and several others, will follow in a day or two. Eugene Leigh's Arrezzo and Suisun will be sent East on the same car, and possibly Howard S. Coulter had a fair season, is in love with California as a winter racing point, and will be one of the first out from the East next fall.

PAT DUNNE is getting ready for his return East. He expects to ship next Tuesday, and will take back Good Times, Salvable, Preston, Cabillo, Damien and Estaca. Dunne has had a most successful season, all his horses proving more than breadwinners. Salvable was the biggest winner and won nearly all his starts. Tnlare has been sold for $1,000, which is $200 more than he was sold for when taken away from A. B. Spreckels in a selling race, besides which he has won three races for Pat Dunne.

THE motion for a rehearing in the injunction case brought by ex-Governor Matthews against the Lake County race tracks came up before the Indiana Supreme Court yesterday at Indianapolis, and was promptly denied. This practically banishes all hope for more than fifteen days' sport at one meeting in Lake County. Under the Sellers act the race courses will be permitted to run fifteen days at a time, with an interval of thirty days between the meetings. Unless there are constitutional grounds upon which a case can be made out before the United States Supreme Court, this settles matters in Indiana until such time as a more liberal Legislature affords relief.—Chicago Inter Ocean, April 22.

RILEY GRANNAN appeared at the outer gate at Aqueduct race track yesterday before the first race was on only to be denied admission. He was informed by Robert Pinkerton that the Queens County Association recognized the rules of the Jockey Club, and inasmuch as that body had ruled off Grannan, he could not be permitted to enter the Aqueduct grounds. The injunction Grannan had obtained against the Westchester Racing Association was not, in the opinion of the Queens County Jockey Club, applicable to any other racing organization. Grannan set out for the city by the first train, and his friends predict that he will speedily apply for an injunction against the Queens County Club.—N. Y. Dispatch, April 28.

WE were informed Wednesday that W. S. Leake, who had been offered the Secretaryship of the association that intended having races this summer at San Rafael, finally decided not to accept, his time being so taken up looking after the interests of A. B. and J. D. Spreckels that he could not give it the attention it should have. We were also told that Mr. A. B. Spreckels sent word to the prime-movers in the San Rafael scheme that if they held races there he would send his string over to take part. There is more in this across-the-bay proposition than most people imagine, and if the two big jockey clubs don't race a month or so longer it would not surprise us greatly to hear that they had a rival in the field—this notwithstanding all the talk to the contrary.

THE string of Fleischmann & Son arrived at Morris Park during the past week from Cincinnati. The lot comprises fifteen and includes the handicap candidate, Halma. This great son of Hanover was on the shelf the greater part of last season, and this year reports come from the West that he was hopelessly broken down. This report, however, is without foundation, as he is full of life and spirit, though he does move a little stiffly in his left hind leg. He will be carefully handled and if nothing happens he will in all probability justify the high opinion which experts have expressed concerning him. The following horses compose the string: Lehmann, ch. b, by Harry O'Fallon—Lady Royster; Halma, blk b, 5, by Hanover—Julia L; Irish Reel, ch. m, 5, by Exile—Round Dance; Sherlock, ch. c, 4, by Eberlee—Edenia; Sir Vassar, d. c, 4, by Sir Dix—Vassar; Haphazard, h. c, 3, by Leonatus—Nettie Howell; Mr. Beiter, h. c, 2, by Ironquits—Carlotta; Uccle Louis, ch. c, 2, by Ironquits—Yorkville Belle; Mr. Kaltenbach, ch. c, 2, by Charaxus—Anita; Mr. Rowe, b. c, 2, by Charaxus—Eolee; Gov. Bushnell, h. c, 2, by Strathmore—Pixy; Mr. Hunt, h. c, 2, by Eon—Virgiline; Inspection, b. f, 2, by Inspector B—Ross Buckden; Jilted, h. f, 2, by Jils Johnson—Via; Dr. Withrow, h. c, 2, by Cendlemas—Letonie.

FRESNO is to have a spring meeting, beginning April 27th. The different events have all filled surprisingly well. Among the horses entered are Durengo, Gredy, Defender, Woodchopper, Monita, Jim Bozeman, Miss Gentry, Myrtle H., Talbot Clifton, Guedalonne, Leon L., Spry Lark, Lady Hurst, Quicksilver, Sheron Lass, Hyman, Red Light, Principle, Roselle, Irrigator, Polaski, Moss Terry, Gold Dust, Mt. Carlos and Detective.

FRESNO, April 27.—The first of the five-day meeting of the Fresno Jockey Club opened to-day at the Fair Grounds. There are plenty of fast horses at the stables, but the attendance was not what it might have been. There were three events to-day. In the first, a three-quarter-mile dash, Jim Bozeman won in 1:17½, with Leon second and Myrtle H. third. The second event, a quarter-mile dash and repeat, was won by Sontag, with Genevieve second, in 0:23. The third event was a five-eighths dash, won by Quicksilver in 1:02, with Christiana second and Golding third.

BYRON McCLELLAND will begin the season with a string made up wholly of youngsters. He has sixteen head all told in his stable, and of these only four are three-year-olds. All the rest belong to the two-year-old division. Reports from his training quarters are to the effect that he has some good ones. None of the two-year-olds has been named yet. He has a bay colt and three fillies by Bermuda, out of Queen Isabella, Sallie McClelland, Bettie C. and Can Dance; bay colts by Order—Miss Saxon, King Eric—Mary Sparks, Eolus—Gladiola and Rossington—Fancy; chestnut colts by Andrain—Justitia and De Beauvoir—Lady Longfellow; and chestnut fillies by Bramble or Deceiver—Fortuga. His three-year-olds are the colts Meeco, Onr Hope and The Plaoater and the filly Adowa. They have developed finely during the winter and their spring work has made them sound and hard.

HOWARD S., the Spreckels Cup winner, is a grand individual, standing about sixteen hands, though not looking nearly so tall, being very well proportioned. J. H. Shields, while on a visit to his home in Kentucky in 1895, dropped in on Milton Young at McGrathene and gave $500 for the brown colt, who was then a yearling. Howard S. won the first time he started, which was at Bay District, and has always shown a liking for a distance of ground and the ability to peck weight. The sire of the great colt, imp. Whistle Jacket, died over a year ago, but the progeny of the son of Hermit raced exceedingly well, as they should, bred in such royal lines. About three weeks ago Mr. Shields sold Howard S. to his old friend, Ed Ryan for $6,000, and he performed so poorly in the California Derby that many doubted whether he was worth the sum paid. They don't doubt it now.

VERA REINA, a two-year-old daughter of dead Joe Hooker and the wonderful old Merion, is dead. Trainer Ab Stemler received the intelligence from Sacramento Saturday. The dead filly was a full sister to the famous Yo Tambien, and removes the last daughter in the female line of the great broodmare Merion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rey, Yo Tambien, King, Duke, Prince and Duchess of Norfolk, Rey del Reyes and other celebrities of the turf. Vera Keine died from lung fever, but by a strange fatality all the daughters of Merion met tragic deaths. Yo Tambien ran into a fence and died from lockjaw while turned out into a paddock in Kentucky. Duchess of Norfolk, who ran two miles and a quarter in 3:58½ as a three-year-old, was killed by running into a fence at Sacramento, while Vera fell in a race at Sheephead Bay and broke a blood vessel. Theodore Winters predicted that Vera Reina would come to a sudden end. She cost a large sum, and her loss is a severe one for her young Sacramento owner.

THE matter of holding an additional two weeks' meeting at Oakland and Ingleside will come up at an early date before the directors of the C. J. C. and P. C. J. C. It is understood a few of the stockholders of the latter place heiling from across the Rockies who desire to go home are opposed to granting the petition of the horsemen, but they are not in the majority, and it is not believed the associations can afford to give the host of signers of the document a knock-out blow like this, when no reasonable argument can be brought forward why racing should be stopped here for a month or two, when we are enjoying the pleasantest weather of the entire year. The California racing circuit does not open until August 2d, and why should the hundreds of horses at the two tracks, all in good condition to race, remain idle, an expense upon the hands of their owners, when the people are anxious to have racing? If the horsemen are snubbed in this instance it is only natural that they will endeavor in some manner to retaliate upon the snubbers.

FOLLOWING is a special dispatch sent to the Chronicle Wednesday night: Jockey H. Martin, a little round-headed California lightweight, and A. J. Joyner's two-year-old brown colt, Demagogue, furnished the crowd at the Aqueduct track to-day with one of those thrilling incidents which now and again disturb the serenity of race-goers. It was in the fourth race, where Demagogue was a hot favorite, having been backed down from 6 to 5 to even money. Orthos was the second horse. Demagogue ran through the stretch as if he were entirely out of the control of Martin, so that even after he had rushed by the judges' stand three lengths ahead of everything every eye in the grand stand followed him. A few hundred yards from the finish the track makes a rather short turn. As Demagogue neared this turn the question in every mind was whether he would follow the track or crash through the fence. It was only a fraction of a minute till the end came. Demagogue hurt through the fence like a cyclone. Three strands of thick barbed wire were snapped apart as if they were cotton threads. Martin was dashed against the top rail of the fence and huog there for a moment, twisting his arms and legs spasmodically. Then he fell on the track limp and senseless. From the grand stand it looked as if Martin had been impaled. The horrified crowd rushed down and carried him into the jockey-room, where it was found that aside from some severe lacerations and the shock he was not seriously hurt. He was weighed out in a half-conscious state. He grinned feebly when he found the weights were correct, and, turning to his employer, David Gideon, said: "Well, I won, anyhow." Then he fainted. It is thought he will be in the saddle again in a few days. Demagogue ran through the paddock, knocked a knob off the jockey's room door, upset several tables, nearly killed an apple woman, and finally got out on the track again. He was captured after running several miles.

Prices Still Rising.

Under this caption, the Chicago Horseman, in its last issue, had the following editorial. In these times when a large number of breeders of light harness horses are inclined to look upon the dark side of the question, such encouraging news is more than welcome, and we take pleasure in quoting it:

"The receipts of horses at the principal markets have, for the past twenty days, broken all records; but strange to say, the enormous numbers have not tended to decrease prices. Take Chicago as a sample. For the week ending April 10 more horses were received at the Union Stock yards than ever before in seven days and during the week ending April 17 even these phenomenal receipts were exceeded. Notwithstanding this wonderful augmentation of supplies the best prices in two years have been paid, the demand on domestic accounts being very brisk and on export account the largest ever experienced at this point. More buyers, home and foreign, are on hand than ever before and additions are being made daily to their ranks. Coming events cast their shadows before, says the old proverb; these buyers know full well that before many months horses will be much higher, and they and their principals desire to stock up as quickly and as fully as possible before prices mount beyond the mark established by their present contracts. It will be remembered that some time ago the Chicago Horseman noted the undertaking by a Canadian firm of a contract to supply the municipality of Glasgow, Scotland, with several thousand head of street car horses of the weightier sorts and also the undertaking by other firms of various heavy though smaller contracts to supply horses of many kinds for export. It can very easily be seen how very readily these large orders may affect the market to the benefit of the seller. Firms who take such large contracts do not figure on making a very large net profit on each horse and hence the margin is not long. When a rise in price comes nearly sufficient to wipe out the margin the horse must be bought 'all the same,' and with the fresh demand a notable increase is visible all around. Then, some very large new orders have of late been placed. A German buyer has, for instance, just arrived in Chicago with a commission for two thousand horses which he must procure in the next six months. The limit of his prices is considerably longer than has within the past two years been general—which of itself is a most healthy sign. It must be remembered that our trade in horses with Germany is yet in its infancy, owing to the policy of the imperial government and the unscrupulous action of the dealers, but the American article is so very much superior to the home product, so very much more active, sound, enduring, useful and ornamental that it is substantially impossible to induce a German contractor or other user of horses to go back to the German article once he has sampled the imported. The Belgians are hurrying along orders for large numbers of our horses and we have received of late letters from three different British firms—one English and two Scotch—inquiring as to the status of the market and seeking counsel as to the best time to place large orders. All this has certainly a most healthy look, healthier indeed than the market has assumed for many, many months. Somehow or other the United States has a peculiar faculty of furnishing supplies long after the period at which the official returns would have them exhausted, and the enormous number of horses marketed of late might be taken to mean that our equine supply is like unto our wheat supply, of the most elastic nature, but it must not be forgotten that a horse cannot be hidden away in an old granary like a bushel of wheat, he is more easily seen and more positively counted. Hence, instead of presaging a great supply not hitherto counted in the visible present record-breaking receipts must be taken only as hastening the advent of an era of short supplies and high prices. The general average increase in values of ten dollars per head has brought out many animals of the medium sorts, but the good ones of all kinds have been not a bit more plentiful, though the largest increase has been on those that sell at the top. Verily, it is pleasant to record record-breaking receipts, an unprecedented demand for home and foreign account and so substantial a rise in price."

The Stockton Meeting.

A few hours before going to press came the following telegram:

STOCKTON, Cal., April 30, 1897.
BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—Announce Stockton claims dates for racing week following State Fair.
C. E. DOAN.

It is quite unfortunate that the resolution to hold the meeting was not carried before the late convention met. As it was Mr. Kelley reported that a telephone message to Mr. Doane brought the response that a meeting at Stockton was doubtful and hence the circuit was formed on that basis.

We trust that the Southern Associations can see the way to postpone their meetings for one week, the Breeders, in that case, will accept a week later than that agreed upon. The notice which appears in this paper giving the dates established by the convention cannot be changed, as there is no authority to do so.

It is highly important to avoid "clashing," and should the Associations from San Jose to Santa Ana determine to concede the point there will be a general rejoicing among harness horse people.

WE desire to express our thanks to all who have sent us those circular letters which were forwarded by a newspaper in this city that has done as much for the trotting horse and sportsman's interests of this coast as the "War Cry" or "The Christian Advocate." With those circulars came so many words of loyalty and true friendship for the editor of this journal for his endeavors to help the horsemen, that we feel that we would like to tender our thanks verbally to everyone, and, we hope, the time may come soon when we can do so.

THE attention of all lovers of thoroughbreds is called to the San Francisco Turf Guide, issued by the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. It contains form charts of 920 races that have been decided at Ingleside and Oakland race tracks since the opening of the race meeting October 24th. Every horse's pedigree is given, the names of the owners, a perfect index of every race, betting rules, etc. The book, typographically, is one of the neatest ever published. The price for this invaluable work of reference is fifty cents, postpaid. Send at once for a copy.

THE attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the P. C. T. H. B. Association which appears in this issue for the first time. This splendid organization is composed of thorough horsemen who are enthusiastic over the prospects. Buckboard Jimmy's action in regard to District Agricultural Fairs had a tendency to drive every horse breeder out of the business, but it is too big an industry, its prospects are too bright and as long as there is an organization of this kind in existence there will be no failures.

THE report of the recent convention of horsemen in this city is so full and comprehensive that to expatiate further upon the good work accomplished and to be consummated this year is deemed unnecessary. The BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN tenders its congratulations to every lover and breeder of a good trotter or pacer upon this Coast, and will in the future as in the past strive to keep this great industry ever before the public.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of the auction sale of J. B. Haggin's harness horses, which is to take place at Killip & Co's salesyard Wednesday, May 12th. There are forty one head of trotting-bred stock, forty-six draft horses and fourteen Shetland ponies, all broken to drive and ride. Send for catalogues at once.

EVERY secretary of every racing association should carefully investigate all entries made. Not only the trainer, but the owner's authorization should be affixed to each entry. If such a rule was in vogue, there would be a great shrinkage in the number of suspensions for non-payment of entrance.

SPECIAL attention is called to the advertisement of the "Oregon Short Line Railroad," which appears in this issue. The company operates 1,421 miles of railroad, and it is one of the most popular lines of road in the country.

NOW is the time to forward your subscriptions to the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. The first year of its existence under this management expires next Friday. This reminder we hope will be productive of good results.

GOV. BUDG has seven appointments to make in the State Agricultural Society; cause, term expired. It is hoped he will use good judgment in making his selections.

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON's article on the recent meeting held in this city should be read by everyone.

ORRIN A. HICKOK leaves for Cleveland next Tuesday. He has his horses in perfect condition.

THE CIRCUIT IS FORMED.

Enthusiastic Meeting of Representatives from the Leading Associations and Prominent Horsemen of this State—What Was Accomplished—Many Liberal Ideas Offered to Help the Great and Growing Industry.

At the convention of representatives of the District Agricultural Associations held at the office of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association last Tuesday, the following District Associations were represented: San Jose, E. Topham and Jas. W. Rea; Los Angeles, Lewis Thorne, Secretary; Napa, F. W. Loeher; Willows, Jas. Sullivan; Chico, Col. Park Henshaw and A. L. Nichols; Salinas, J. B. Iversan and C. Z. Hebert. The P. C. T. H. B. A. was represented by E. P. Heald, F. W. Covey, Jno. F. Boyd, T. J. Crowley and Jos. Cairn Simpson. Among others present who are interested, were J. M. Nelson, R. Jordan, Jr., Dr. G. B. Somers, J. A. McKerron, I. M. Killip, Wm. G. Layng and Dr. H. Latham. The meeting was called to order at 1 o'clock by E. P. Heald, who presided. The purpose of the meeting was to arrange a continuous circuit and to discuss and devise ways and means to give a series of race meetings without loss to the associations.

Mr. Thorne, representing Los Angeles, asked if it could be considered that the reduction in entrance money from 10 per cent. to start, to 5 per cent. to enter and 5 per cent. additional from winners had been the cause of the association's losing money in late years. This reduction was first made on this coast and has now been followed by the racing associations throughout the United States. It can be considered as a progressive move in lightening the burden of expense that falls on horsemen. The opinion prevailed at the meeting that the cause of losses to the associations for several years past can be attributed to the hard times that have prevailed, which not only has resulted in a decreased attendance but in reducing the number of horses trained. From statements made it appears that there are more horses in training this year than for several years past, and that the prospects are that the purses offered will fill satisfactorily.

Mr. Loeher stated that the Napa Association would give a race meeting following the Breeders Meeting, and that he had carefully investigated the matter and felt assured that a circuit properly arranged would be successful, and that the meetings can be made more than self sustaining without the adjunct of a Fair.

Mr. Thorne offered a resolution that it was the sense of the convention, in view of the great number of horses and persons under suspension for non-payment of entrance on this Coast, it would be a good move to release all suspensions now in force, in case it is practicable to return to a cash basis, requiring the entrance fee to be paid when entry is made. Mr. Thorne's resolution was adopted, and a committee appointed consisting of F. W. Loeher, E. Topham and F. W. Kelley, to confer with the various associations by correspondence relative to the matter.

Col. Henshaw of Chico, and Mr. Sullivan of Willow stated that the people in their towns were anxious to have race meetings on their respective tracks this year, and that each would contribute $1,000 to be raised by subscription to induce the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association to give meetings at these places previous to the State Fair. The matter was referred to the P. C. T. H. B. A. for consideration.

The question of dates and arrangements was then presented, and a committee consisting of F. W. Loeher, L. Thorne, E. Topham, C. Z. Hebert and F. W. Kelley, was appointed to select dates and arrange a circuit with instructions to report at an adjourned meeting of the convention to be held in the evening.

EVENING SESSION—The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock. A number of horsemen and others who were not present at the afternoon session, attended.

The committee appointed to arrange dates reported that a telephone message had been received from Secretary Doan, of Stockton to the effect that their Board of Directors had not definitely decided on what course they would take this year in regard to giving a race meeting, but he thought some kind of a meeting would be given at that place either by the association or private parties. A telephone message was also received from Petaluma to the effect that they did not expect to give a race meeting at their track this year. As the associations that had definitely decided to give meetings after the State Fair were sufficient in number to occupy every week up to the 1st of November, under the circumstances the committee decided that Stockton being an uncertainty, could not be considered. The following arrangement of dates was offered by the committee, and on motion was accepted by the convention:

THE CIRCUIT.

P. C. T. H. B. A., Oakland.....	July 26-31
Santa Rosa.....	Aug. 2-7
Marysville.....	Aug. 9-14
Chico.....	Aug. 16-21
Willows.....	Aug. 23-28
Woodland.....	Aug. 30-Sept. 4
State Fair, Sacramento.....	Sept. 6-18
P. C. T. H. B. A., San Francisco.....	Sept. 20-25
Napa.....	Sept. 27-Oct. 2
San Jose.....	Oct. 4-9
Salinas.....	Oct. 11-16
Los Angeles.....	Oct. 18-23
Santa Ana.....	Oct. 25-31

The committee also recommended that associations on the circuit that give race meetings after the State Fair, offer a list of purses to close not later than July 15th, and it would be a good plan for them to advertise as a circuit and send out their entry blanks at the same time. It was also recommended that the programme of the fall meeting of the Breeders' Association, which appears in this issue, be adopted as practicable by the District Associations.

Everybody at the convention appeared to be enthusiastic over the prospects for a circuit this year, and with thirteen or fourteen weeks of continuous racing, the horsemen will have a chance to make some money and the associations he put once more on a sound financial basis.

BREEDERS MEETING—A meeting of the Board of Directors was held Wednesday afternoon to consider the offer presented by the representatives of Chico and Willows to induce the Breeders' Association to give race meetings at these places. The following was presented by Mr. Simpson:

WHEREAS: Inasmuch as meetings will not be held at Chico and Willows this year without said meetings are held under the management of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association. Therefore be it

Resolved: That this Association will hold meetings at these places on a guaranty of $1,000 in cash and free use of the tracks and all privileges being conceded; the tracks to be put and kept in order free of expense to this Association.

Mr. Simpson's resolution was adopted.

On motion, J. A. McKerron was added to the Executive Committee appointed at the last meeting of the Board, to take an active part in assisting the Horse Show Association this year.

It was stated that a race meeting might be given in Santa Rosa this year, and Robt. S. Brown was appointed a committee to see the proprietors of the Santa Rosa Track relative to their intentions in regard to giving a meeting. Should it be decided to hold a meeting in Santa Rosa, the date of the Summer Meeting of the Breeders Association will be moved forward one week. There is ample time before the State Fair to give as many race meetings as may be desired.

Associations contemplating giving meetings before the State Fair can expect a good entry list, as there are a great many horses in training whose owners are anxious to make entries. The crackerjacks that will be sent East will not cut so much of a figure in reducing the number of entries by their going away as might be expected, as many horses would be entered that might not be if they were forced to compete with such strings as Salisbury, Winship, McDowell and Keating will have.

WORK FOR OUR ASSOCIATIONS.

A Splendid Showing Made by Horsemen Who Intend to Remain in California This Year With Their Horses—They All Desire a Racing Circuit and Will Make Liberal Entries.

A large number of people have claimed that the number of horses in training this spring was much less than at any time in the history of trotting and pacing in California. The BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN has always contended that this idea was erroneous, and the time is rapidly approaching for associations to wake up to the fact that if they declare their intention of holding meetings, and advertise the same they will receive entries enough to insure a financial success. There will be no race meetings for thoroughbreds after the 15th of June, and with this knowledge the editor sent circulars to a number of owner and trainers and received the following replies. Some valuable information, which will be used hereafter, was embodied in the letters from the deep-thinking knights of the sulky:

H. S. Hogoboom, Sacramento, writes: Waldstein, 2:22½; Faro Bank, 2:22, and many trotters and pacers are here that will be entered throughout the California circuit.

Association, is too much of a breach. Joe Edge has Auditor, 2:19½; Della H., 2:46; Hank (3), no record; Miss Rowena (3), no record; Susie (4), no record. Hollister Race Track, H. Hellman writes: The following are training at this track: P. L. Nash has three in his string, viz: Col. Benton, 2:15; Menlo Belle, 2:27½, and a three-year-old Col. Benton filly. My stable consists of all new material but one: Robert Wilkes (4), by Sahle Wilkes; High Tariff (3), by Silver Bow. Major Wilkes (2), by Hambletonian Wilkes; Hazel Sidney (1), by Hazel Prince; Prince Wilkes (2), by Prince Nutwood, 2:11½; Lulu H. (3), by Dawn, and the old reliable Benton Boy, 2:16.

Rancho del Paso, Sacramento, John Mackey writes: We have eight horses here that will be available for the fall circuit. They range from yearlings to four-year-olds and include trotters and pacers, all without records.

Oakwood Park Stock Farm, Ben Chahoya, trainer: Javelin, 2:14 class, pacing; Klatawah (2), pacer, no record; Owyhee, 2:24 class trotting; Oakwood Prince (2), trotter, no record; El Benton, 2:25 class, and several other green trotters.

W. G. Dnrfee, of Los Angeles, writes: "At present I am preparing five for the races, and expect additions; have Juliet D., 2:16½, pacer; Osito, (2), 2:30; Ludania, 2:45 (both trotters); McStay, (2), pacer, and a green pacer. There are quite a number of others being prepared here, all hoping for a California circuit, viz: Mr. Jno. Pender's Roan Wilkes, 2:12½, pacer and a green trotter; Walter Mahen's Native State, 2:14½, and a green trotter, Bobby, also, Galette, 2:16; Mr. Willard Stimson's Challenger Chief, 2:15; Mnskegon, green pacer by McKinney; El Diablo (3), green trotter; Sophia R., 2:16, pacer; Mrs. Severance's Bet Madison, 2:30; Uncle Jim (3), green trotter, a green trotting mare by Sidney; Don Roberto, 2:25, and in the stable is a green three-year-old pacer by Waldstein. Mr. Jas. Vance has charge of the lot. Mr. Chas. Thayer has Rex Gifford, 2:14, and Red Dick, green pacer (candidates).

I had a talk with Mr. Baker, of Santa Ana, today and judging from the number of high-classes in training at that place quite a number of entries might be expected for the various classes.

There are quite a number of horses around Los Angeles that will be put into training as the California circuit becomes a certainty.

Silver Bow Stock Farm, Sam Casto writes: Mr. Fox had one of the most promising strings of trotters and pacers for this season's campaign, but they have now been turned out on account of Jimbudd. [Mr. Fox may change his mind regarding the meetings, but I hope he will not in regard to Jimmy de Budd—Ed. B. & S.]

The following is a recapitulation of the above:

	Pacing.	Trotting.	Pacing.	Trotting.
2:28 Class	6	2:14 Class	3	4
2:27 Class	4	2:13 Class	1	5
2:25 Class	2	2:12 Class	1	...

2:17 Class	1	(Without record)	...	...
2:16 Class	1
2:15 Class	4	Total	77	178

Besides these, no returns have been received from the following. At the stock farms and race tracks named there are more trotters and pacers in training than ever before, while all trainers and owners whose names are mentioned are preparing their horses for the California campaign:

Always Used With Success.

ALTOONA, Ia., Dec. 5, 1894.

The Lawrence-Williams Co., Cleveland, O.

We have used Gombault's Caustic Balsam for years and in all cases where a severe blister was necessary, with success. We have removed curbs, hunches caused by kicks, and strained tendons by repeated applications of your remedy and have never had a failure, when used according to directions.

Death of Altos.

Portland, Or., April 29, 1897.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN—Altos, 2:09½, the fastest trotting descendant of the great Altamont, died here to-day after an hour's attack of acute indigestion. The stallion was foaled here ten years ago and commenced racing as a three-year-old, being known all over the prominent tracks on the Coast. He was one of the star performers of Salisbury's string on the grand circuit in 1895, and at Detroit took two of the fastest heats and was a contending horse in the fastest eight heat race ever trotted.

He made a record mile at Terre Haute in August, 1895, covering the middle half in 1:02½, and finished in a jog. He was the favorite in the $25,000 Transylvania Stake at Lexington in 1895, and his failure to win was charged by Salisbury to the driving of McDowell, the two men parting company soon after that meeting.

He returned from the East in the fall of 1895 and was trotted in California and Montana in the fall of 1896. Since then he has been driven as a road horse by his owner, P. J. Mann, a prominent capitalist of this city.

Dr. Hux's Balmoline is selling well because it does all that is claimed for it.

NOTICE TO ANGLERS.

Every angler is invited to drop us a line occasionally, telling us of the condition of the streams they have visited and the killing lure; of the number and size of the fish caught, or any other item of interest to anglers.

Sonoma County Fishing.

The mountain region of northern Sonoma County, embracing the Hogback, Pine and Cobb mountains and the Geyser Peaks, is one of the finest places for the tired merchant or the overworked employee of a large city to spend a week or two, seeing the wonders of the Geysers, viewing the palisade on Little Pluton, stirring up the rattlesnakes in their home on the Devil's Den creek, making the bears growl on Geyser Peak or the timid deer scamper away, or enjoying the sudden electric quiver of the line as the speckled beauties make a mad effort to escape, after a successful cast of the fly. Devil's Den creek is so steep and rocky that it can only be fished down stream, by those who are active and not easily scared, as it has many large rattlesnakes; but there are many very fine trout and it will repay the extra labor and risk. Two of our young sports were badly scared at this creek a short time ago. Having a ratchet reel which makes a rasping noise when the line runs out, one of them made a cast. A large trout seized the hook, the reel made a rasping noise, and the other, thinking he heard a rattlesnake, gave the alarm, and they both dropped their poles and ran. They soon discovered their mistake and resumed their fishing.

The big Pluton, or Big Sulphur creek, rises on the south-east slope of Cobb mountain, flows west, circles the Hogback mountain, and then flowing southwest enters Russian river two miles above Cloverdale. Its most northern tributary near the head waters, is Garden Valley creek, which rises on the south side of Cobb mountain and flows into Big Pluton.

Next west is Cobb creek, which rises on the west of Cobb mountain and flows south into the main creek. Four miles down stream are the Little Geysers, where nature seems to have exhausted herself in furnishing samples of hot and cold water, ink, paint, sulphur and other kinds of springs, and all the surroundings are so weird and appalling that the trout fisher seems to have a taste in advance of what he will get if he fails to tell the truth about the number and size of the fish he caught. Four miles further down are the Big Geysers.

Next is Squaw creek, which rises on the north side of Cobb mountain, flows west and then south into Pluton. Further west comes Boggs' creek, which flows south and enters the Big Pluton six miles from Cloverdale.

The Little Pluton rises on the north of Pine Flat, flows west along the north side of Black Mountain, passes through the palisades, turns a little north through McElarney's flats and empties into the Big Pluton, giving fifteen miles of fishing.

Devil's Den Creek heads on the west of the Hogback, flows southwest, receiving Devil's half-acre creek and empties into the Little Pluton six miles from Cloverdale.

All of the above country is within twenty miles of Healdsburg, and our liverymen are prepared to take camping parties out at a very small price. Very good camping can be had at the Little Geysers, or two miles west at R. K. Truitt's ranch on the Hogback mountain. Mr. Truitt tells a yarn about the largest rattlesnake in Devil's Den Creek that can swallow a two year old deer.—Warlock in Santa Rosa Farmer.

The Fly Casting Club.

The sixth regular Saturday and Sunday contests of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, while not quite as well attended as usual, were the most enjoyable contests ever held by the club. The members were all intensely interested in the new rules for judging delicacy—to our minds the most interesting and most practical event of them all.

The new rule works very well. It may not be absolutely perfect, but it is at least a movement in the right direction, and has created a new interest in the delicacy and accuracy event.

By the new method of judging delicacy, every essential portion of each cast is scored. The manner in which the fly alights on the water is scored. If it alights lightly the judge does not mark anything. If it alights with a splash the judge marks a stroke of the pencil across the portion of the score card marked fly. If the line does not touch the water until after the leader no mark is made, but if the line touches first the judge makes a mark in the space marked line.

If the fly is lifted from the water lightly in the retrieve, no mark is made; if it is switched out of the water the judge makes a mark in the space marked retrieve. The fourth mark is style. This includes the manner in which the casting is performed, the back cast and general style of the contestant, and is scored in the same manner as the other portions. These marks multiplied by five give the total demerits at each buoy, and the percentage is figured in the same way as in the accuracy casting.

On Saturday the judges of the long distance and distance and accuracy casting were: H E Skinner and C G Young; delicacy and accuracy, Dr E N Lowry, H E Skinner and W D Mansfield.

On Sunday the judges of the long distance and distance and accuracy casting were: C G Young, "Emery" and A E Lovett; delicacy and accuracy, C G Young. Dr E N Lowry and "Emery."

The scores were as follows:

Dr. Chas. H. Gilbert lectured to about fifty members of the club on Tuesday evening last, on the fishes of California, and the members that attended the meeting were amply repaid for the many times they have assembled to hear the lecture and were disappointed. Dr. Gilbert talked informally for nearly two hours, but if he had made it four hours his audience would not have noticed the passage of time. He described minutely the habits, construction and outward appearance of the lamprey, hag fish, sturgeon, stickleback, catfish, sculpin, perch, Sacramento pike, the five varieties of salmon and the trout family.

After the lecture was over and a vote of thanks was offered to the professor for his very entertaining talk, the regular business meeting of the club took place, President W. D. Mansfield in the chair.

The only business of importance transacted was the adoption of the following rule to govern the delicacy and accuracy event.

Rules for Event III, Accuracy and Delicacy—There shall be three six-inch buoys, 35, 40 and 45 feet from edge of casting platform, and there shall be made five casts at each buoy. If the fly falls within one foot of the buoy cast at, the accuracy shall be considered perfect; for each foot in excess of one foot from such buoy, a demerit of one shall be made. The sum total of such demerits divided by three shall be considered the demerit per cent. The demerit per cent. deducted from 100 shall be the accuracy per cent.

One judge shall mark this score. In addition, there shall be kept an account of delicacy, 100 being considered perfect. Delicacy shall be divided into four parts: 1st, Fly, consisting in dropping the fly gently on the water before or simultaneously with the leader; 2d, Line, which consists in dropping the fly and leader on the water before the line; 3d, Retrieve, which consists in recovering the fly so smoothly as to create but little disturbance of the water, and includes the back cast; 4th, Style, which consists in the grace and ease of the contestant on the platform, and includes his dry fly cast and the manner in which he extends his line. Each of said four parts shall have an equal value, and a demerit of 5 per cent. shall be made for each of said parts in which the contestant is deficient.

To determine the delicacy percentage, the referee and one of the judges shall mark upon each cast the parts in which the contestant is deficient. The total number of parts so marked at each buoy multiplied by five shall be deducted from 100 and shall be the delicacy per cent at said buoy.

The sum total of the percentages at all the buoys, divided by three shall be the delicacy per cent as estimated by such judge and referee. The sum of the percentages so estimated, divided by two shall be the delicacy per cent of the contestant.

The delicacy per cent and accuracy per cent shall be added together and divided by two and the result shall be the percentage in this event. The contestant having the highest percentage shall be declared the winner.

The contestant is allowed 30 seconds to extend his line by dry fly-casting to the 35-foot buoy; scoring shall begin the first time the fly strikes the water. When the contestant has made five casts, the judges will announce "next buoy." Contestant must then lift his line and in not less than one nor more than five dry casts reach the 40-foot buoy, scoring to begin the first time the fly strikes the water. A like procedure shall be followed between the 40 and 50 foot buoys.

Three or less dry casts may be made between each buoy. No score shall be counted if the fly is lost during the casting.

Loose line on platform, or coil of line in hand is not permitted in this event; all casting shall be done from the reel.

Antos Creek above Monte Vista is affording fine sport to fly fisherman now.

Trout are said to be plentiful in Tassajora and Cachagua creeks near Salinas.

Cordelia creek in Solano county is one of the finest trout streams in the State.

The Cordelia anglers who have secured permits to fish in Wild Horse reservoir claim to have had poor success so far.

The postponed contest, No. 4, of the Fly Casting Club will be held at Stow Lake this afternoon and to-morrow morning.

Clabrough, Golcher & Co. have just received a fine lot of Leonard rods, tournament lines, extra fine leaders, and a full supply of tackle for Santa Cruz fishing.

A little story is told of D. P. Corwin, of this city, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Game and Fish Commission, which is highly appreciated by all who know him, says Pennsylvanian in American Field. Commissioner Corwin has been quietly but persistently working for the passage of the new Pennsylvania game law, and, as many of the sportsmen in the country are opposed to the law in its present shape, and believe that it is of the class of legislation which benefits only the rich city club men and the owners of game preserves, the little tale will have for them a particular relish.

Mr. Corwin was hunting rabbits in the wilds of Fayette County. While crossing a field a large bull, no doubt aggravated by the somewhat belligerent appearance of the commissioner, declared war and started in pursuit. Corwin escaped over a stout fence by the seat of his trousers, which was a small fraction of a second slower in getting on the good side of the fence than was healthy for the breeches. The farmer who owned the beast was attracted to the scene of the route. As soon as he came within hailing distance Corwin turned with his back to a tree so as to not show the wound in his trousers, drew himself up to his full height, and began to soundly berate the farmer for keeping such a ferocious animal.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," he exclaimed hotly, "for endangering the lives of useful and law-abiding citizens. I have a notice to have you arrested. That bull would have killed me if I had not been so fleet of foot. You must have him killed. Do you hear, farmer? You must have him killed at once!"

The farmer was staggered for a moment by this unexpected lecture from a stranger. Then he recovered his courage, sized up his man as one of the much-despised city sportsmen, and felt sure he was right when he noticed the speedy hunter had only one little rabbit. He spoke slowly and firmly:

"You will, will you? Hev me arrested an' ther bull killed. Well, I'll be derned. If you don't get out o' this field, I'll take you to the squire an' heva you took in fer trespassing. Who are you, anyhow?"

Commissioner Corwin has never been known to lose his dignity. It is an ever-present quality, and rises to any occasion, even when chased by a bull or threatened with arrest as a trespasser by a farmer. It rose now, rose to the height of the tragic, as he replied: "Who am I? I'll tell you who I am. I'll let you know who you are addressing in this impertinent manner. I am David Porter Corwin, State Game Fish Commissioner of Pennsylvania."

And the farmer replied:

"Well, why the dickens didn't you tell that to the bull?"

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

Bluerock shooting is booming in Winters.

The Encinel Gun Club will shoot at Birds Point, Alameda to-morrow.

The California Wing Shooting Club will shoot to-morrow at Ingleside.

The Lincoln Gun Club shoots scheduled for to-morrow has been postponed.

Note the U. M. C. shells that will be used at the Golcher Handicap to-morrow.

The Garden City Cyclers Gun Club will attend the Golcher Handicap in a body.

The live bird tournament of the State Sportsmen's Association will be held at Ingleside on May 21st, 22d and 23d.

A megatrap will be in operation at the Golcher Handicap. To enable those to practice who are not familiar with them.

The Pomona Gun Club has leased a privilege to occupy the Bush race track grounds and will put in some blue rock traps at once.

Forty-seven sportsmen from Tecoma went on a coon hunt and varmint drive last week. Stayed out all night and killed one pet cat.

Millard Heyes and Jeff Guinn of Corvallis, Oregon, are credited with having killed 14 geese with four barrels recently. There were 200 in the flock.

Plover are protected in Washington but snipe are not. It is a move in the right direction to protect plover but why do all of the Coast States neglect that essentially game bird, the English snipe.

The new officers of the Garden City Cyclers Gun Club are: Ches. P. Owens, President; Geo. Holmes, Secretary; W. B. Hobson, Captain; Board of Governors, Gov. Anderson, Dr. A. M. Barker and Frank Holmes.

There will be two Megatrap and two sets of traps at the State Inanimate Target Associations Tournament at Alameda Junction and there will be two 10 bird, two 15 bird and two 20 bird individual matches each day.

The principle event to-morrow will be the Golcher Handicap at the Pacific Tournament Association grounds at Alameda Junction. This event promises to draw a very large entry from all over the State. The grounds have been refitted and every effort made to deaden the sound—the only objection to these admirably appointed grounds.

Efforts will be made this month to revive the inter-club team matches that were so popular last year. Twelve men teams or six men teams if twelve prove too many. A monthly shoot between teams from the Empire, Lincoln, Reliance and Olympic gun clubs would bring the boys together and prove very interesting.

Col. A. G. Courtney, who was for some fourteen years connected with the Lefever Arms Co., and is widely known among the shooters of America, will on May 1st sever his connection with that firm and enter into the employ of Hottel & Graham, of New York city. He will henceforth explain the merits of the Remington shotgun on the trap circuit and elsewhere.

The third annual tournament of the Fresno Gun Club will be held on Sunday and Monday, May 2d and 3d. The shooting will be at both live birds and blue rocks. Among the many prizes is a round trip ticket to the California Inanimate Target Association Tournament at Alameda for the shooter participating in all of the events and making the highest average. In the live bird shooting, winners of first money in any event stand at the 30 yard mark in the succeeding event.

Trap-shooting is quite different from game-shooting, but we differ from a great many sportsmen in that we think trap-shooting of great benefit to the novice or even the moderately good shot. Practice at the traps will teach a man to handle a gun without awkwardness and with safety to his companions; to aim quickly at moving objects and the use and abuse of different loads of ammunition. Trap-shooting will make a slow shot increase his speed and cannot injure the shooting of the best field shot.

S. F. Arant of Lake county was arrested Tuesday by Constable Hughes and charged with violating the game laws. According to the arresting officer Arant had offered dried deer meat for sale. After hearing the evidence Justice Critchfield held that the complaint did not conform to the new law, and the prisoner was therefore discharged. It is said that deer have been slaughtered by the hundred during the past month or six weeks. The severe snowstorms drove the animals down from the heights of San Hedrim, and they were killed by pot hunters in vast numbers. It seems as though there should be some method by which the violators of the game laws could be reached and punished.—Ukiet Press.

Under the heading "Be a True Sportsman" the editor of the Sierraville Record writes as follows: "The practice of killing ducks immediately previous to and during the nesting season deserves a timely mention. A number of hunters have in times past been in the habit of killing ducks in season and out, and again as soon as the young ducks have left the nest; before they have feathered out; or even dreamed of the mysteries of flight; the would-be hunter renews the attack, and makes a record at slaughtering the little fellows, which he could hunt with great facility with a stout stick. This wanton destruction of game at a time so inopportune is not merely a matter of sentiment, but it is an act of providence. Moreover parties in this vicinity have been heard to threaten that if other means of preventing such unsportsmanlike condition failed, that they would not scruple at exercising the legal restraint that the law provides, and make an example of some of the infreectors of the game law. [If a few more editors of local papers would take up the matter and agitate it thoroughly, popular opinion would soon turn in the right direction and the destruction of "deppers" would practically cease. Ed.]

"Podgers" writes to Forest and Stream of California's bad legislation as follows: "Some one has wisely remarked that it was unwise as well as unalike to indulge in statistics of the chicken business before the chickens have left their shells. I am a victim to misplaced confidence. In some former remarks a few weeks ago I indulged in complimentary reference to the body legislative with which we are infested every two years, and the encouragement that body gave of refraining from tinkering with our game laws. Alas! I might have known better than to imagine any Legislature could ever pass through one session without passing some mischievous act in relation to game, and ours has not been an exception. As a concession to the pot hunters and market-shooters it has added three months to the open season, which means annihilation to every feather within two years, and the Governor, who professes to be a sportsman, has signed the bill; in keeping with his present playing to the galleries, with a view to the re-nomination for a second term. Never was a greater mistake made in political tactics, for there is not a true sportsman in the State who will not turn down the man that signed such a pernicious bill. Our motto will be, 'Vote early and often.' We had some confidence in the man because he aspired to be a sportsman. His gunning it is for votes, and I prophesy that the bag at the next election will be small, very small."

THE KENNEL

Coming Events.

BENCH SHOWS.

May 12-15—Oakland Kennel Club's first annual bench show, Fred Johns, Secretary. Entries close May 2d.
May 19-22—San Francisco Kennel Club's inaugural bench show. H. H. Carlton, Secretary. Entries close May 10th.
Dec. 1-4—State Poultry and Kennel Club's second bench show, Sacramento; Matt. Coffey, secretary.

The San Francisco Show.

The bench show committee of the San Francisco Kennel Club announce the following changes and additions in the premium list:

Field trial classes will be divided, setters and pointers to compete separately.

Pointer hitch class will be less than fifty pounds, in place of less than fifty-five pounds.

Bull terriers will be divided into two classes, over and under thirty pounds.

Novice classes will be provided for all breeds and cash prizes and diplomas will be awarded where the number of entries warrant it.

All breeds for which $3 has been offered for first prize will receive $5 for first and $3 for second, if the entry will warrant it.

E. M. Oldham offers the Newton Abbott silver medal for best cocker in the show.

There will be no limit to weight of cocker spaniels.

Equal Firsts.

"Uncle Dick" has made several mistakes at the recent shows that the Secretary of the A. K. C. will have to rectify. Rule XVIII of the A. K. C. rules governing dog shows is as follows:

"If a prize winner is disqualified the next dog in order of merit is placed by the judge, shall be given the prize thus forfeited, and the win shall count in every respect the same as if it had been the original award. An equal first prize shall be counted as a win for each dog, dividing first and second money, the next dog in order of merit receiving third prize."

"Uncle Dick" has been very generous with his equal firsts and equal seconds, but in each case he has given seconds to his equal firsts and thirds to his equal seconds, contrary to rule.

The Oakland Show.

The inaugural bench show of the Oakland Kennel Club promises to be one of the very best shows ever held in the West. Entries have been coming in all the week from all over the State and the entry promises at present writing to far exceed that of any previous Oakland show. The strongest classes will probably be spaniels, collies, St. Bernards and terriers.

The entries close on May 2d, and can be made with Fred Johns at 460, 9th street, Oakland, or at the San Francisco office, 628 Market street, to-day and to-morrow. Entries postmarked, May 2d, will be accepted. Enter your dogs and get the opinion of America's best judge—Jas. Mortimer, on their merits.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

Entries to Oakland close to-morrow, May 2d.

C A Sumner has sold that good fox terrier bitch Bonnie Brida to a party in British Columbia.

If you have Angora, Persian or other rare species of the feline race enter it at the Oakland show.

E. S. Heller has purchased of T. S. Bellin a very good bull terrier bitch, own sister to Tommy Tickle.

There is more truth than poetry in "Bird of Freedom's" paragraphs in Turf, Field and Farm regarding the "Menagerie's" methods.

The Oakland Kennel Club has opened an office at 628 Market street. This office will be open to-day and to-morrow, both day and evening.

The bench show committee of the San Francisco Kennel Club desire us to state that the Society for the Suppression of Editors offers one silver medal for the best Italian greyhound puppy.

E. M. Oldham, one of the judges and superintendent of the San Francisco show left for New York on Monday night in response to a telegram. He is expected to return about May 10th.

Jos. McLatchie has sold the well known fox terrier Blemton Reefer by Ch Venio—Ch Rechel to Wallace Moore. Blemton Reefer is not only a winner but the best sire ever brought to the Coast.

R. M. Dodge, the well-known field trial trainer, has 44 dogs at his kennels at Kanwood, Sonoma county. The kennel will be broken up in about a month and Mr. Dodge will take charge of the Verona Kennels, near Piesanton.

The Oakland fanciers have worked hard to make a success of a dog show in Oakland. Enter your dogs and give them all the encouragement in your power. It is to your interest and to the interest of the breeding of thoroughbred dogs to do so.

J W Mitchell, the Los Angeles, mestiff and fox terrier breeder was in town, this week. He will exhibit the mestiff Lomate Rex, by Ingleside Crown Prince—Lomita Bilda at Oakland. This is doubtless the best mestiff on the Coast now.

Thos. H. Browne's Champion Grand Master by Champion Hesper—Gilda died on Thursday evening from some stomach and bowel trouble, the exact cause is at present writing unknown. Dr. W. R. Cluness, Jr., held an autopsy on him yesterday. We will give our readers full particulars next week.

Hugh Delziel, the well-known and able author of Dogs of the British Isles, The Collie, The St. Bernard, The Fox Terrier, The Greyhound, Diseases of Dogs, and other works on the dog, has gone the way of all flesh. He survived his wife but four days. Like Stonehenge his name will live for generations.

Thos. H. Browne's rough coated St. Bernard Champion Grand Master by Champion Hesper—Princess Gilda is very sick. We sincerely hope that Mr. Browne will not lose this grand dog, not alone because he is the best dog ever brought to the Coast, but because of his value as a stud dog. We cannot have too much Hesper blood.

We can again supply our readers and the trade with Ashmonts books in any desired number. There is no better work extant than Ashmonts Diseases of the Dog. Ashmonts Kennel Secrets tells the reader how to feed, rear and take care of the dog from its birth and Kennel Training and Handling is the best work on training a dog ever published.

The Verone Kennels received from the Sunnycroft Kennels on Tuesday last the collie bitch puppy Sunnycroft Lorna, whelped October 10, 1897, by Lorna Ormonde a son of Rufford Ormonde, out of Sefton Nellie, a daughter of Sefton Hero. Lorne is a very promising puppy with good length of head, good expression, good eye and excellent coat. She is rich sable in color with broad white collar.

The well-known pointer dog, Climax, by Beng-Beng—Bellona, was chloroformed on Saturday last. He was twelve years old and getting blind and lame and Mr. Spencer, his owner, thought it best to have him put out of his misery. Climax was one of the best-known pointers on this coast—a good field dog and a good sire. Among others of his pups that have won fame on the bench and ere dear to the memory of many sportsmen are Beulah, Belle V., Lizzie P., Peter the Great, Lillie, Cora and Ledy Max.

We expected innovations but when the San Francisco Kennel Club announces that cocker spaniel classes will not be limited as to weight, we certainly find an innovation with a vengeance. We always preferred a larger cocker that is, about 26 pound, but if a 35 pound cocker is not disqualified he is certainly entitled to a win if he is good enough in points. Mr. Oldham's argument that a cocker is a cocker and a field spaniel is a field spaniel and a big cocker is not a field spaniel, is what we have been preaching for the last twelve years, but to waive the limit of weight is to our notion going backward not forward.

Monroe Salisbury's Horeee.

Monroe Salisbury, the victorious veteran of many hard-fought campaigns on the Grand Circuit, is collecting another string of trotters and pacers with which to cross the Sierra Nevada once more. Other breeders in California may have done as much or more than Salisbury in breeding the light harness horse, but he has done more than all of them in training and racing them in the East. His great campaigns, from Minnesota to Texas, and New England to the Gulf, have given a prominence to California horses which otherwise they would not have obtained. The names of the horses with which he has won the great stakes and purses of the Grand Circuit are the brightest which adorn the pages of equine history: Director, Monroe Chief, Direct, Directum, Directly, Little Albert, Vic H., Alto, Doc Sperry, Expressive, Alix and Azote are only a few of the stars of the Salisbury strings in the past.

It would be a matter of congratulation to all Californians if he could take another lot of winners through the Grand Circuit. The most noted of his present string is Azote 2:04½. If he can stand the preparation, as now seems probable, he can win every free-for-all race in the East. What a horse he was in 1895! There never was a trotter that ever wore iron that could take his measure in any heat of a mile beat race. At Fleetwood he was in perfect condition. Among his competitors were Hilda 2:08½, Directum 2:05½ and Beanzetta 2:06. The "talent" figured that with these one after another to carry him each heat he could be beaten, and they bet their money as though they were to reap a harvest. One after another they took him to the half each beat in only a fraction of a second more than a minute, but up the hill in the third quarter he drew away until they were lost. In the third heat Beanzetta took him to the half in one minute and a quarter of a second, but going up the hill she was also among the missing. The preparation of the big horse for that race was the best piece of horsemanship ever done by the old veteran.

Jib Albert is a big five-year-old gelding just the right size and conformation for a race-track campaigner. He is by Albert W., 2:20, out of the dam of Flying Jib, known as the "Middletown mare" by Middletown, the half-thoroughbred, son of Hambletonian 10. Jib Albert gave great promise of being a high-class race horse.

On Stanley, three years old, by Direct, 2:05½, out of Lily Stanley, 2:17½, is a good-sized colt of the Director order. He has a world of speed, a pure gait and a head full of good sense. He has shown a half in 1:06.

A black three-year-old filly by Direct 2:05½ out of a mare by Algona is a pacer which pleases Salisbury. As a two-year-old she paced quarters in thirty-one seconds and she is as good a three-year-old as she was a two-year-old. If she is not asked the question too often before she takes the word in her first race, she will surprise somebody if she does not surprise everybody.

She, 2:14½, and three others are owned by Mr. W. S. Hobart and they all seem to be good. A son of Palo Alto, five years old, is a "wear and tear" looking fellow with the old champion's way of going and keeping at it, too. Salisbury has a big fellow which he says is another Azote. He may be but we think there is only one of that kind on the earth. However, this is a remarkably clever green one.

John (Directum) Kelly arrived Thursday night. He looks fat and Mr. Salisbury says he will get him in condition also.

Willing to Pay $5.

H., writes: "Enclosed find $1 50, for which send me another bottle of Quinn's Ointment, I would give five dollars for it rather than be without it in my stable," for curbs, splints, spavins, windpuffs, and all enlargements, it has no equal. Price regular size, $1.50, smaller size, 50c. If it cannot be obtained from Druggist, or dealer, address, W. B. Eddy & Co., Whitehall, N. Y. For sale in San Francisco, by J. O'Kane, and J. A. T $100 THE SEASON,

WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTS.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues, Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

Boodle 5829, Rec. 2:12½

 ETHEL DOWNS, 2:13; THOMPSON, 2:15; MERLE M, 2:25.

Two prominent horsemen were discussing the relative merits of notable stallions. They agreed that a certain stallion was well bred and a good producer, "but" he had no record. Another had a fast record, was well bred, and a good producer, "but" he was too small. Another had nearly all the necessary qualifications, "but" he had curbs and bad feet. Another possessed many rare qualifications, "but" he was vicious, as well as a "quitter." Finally one asked the other, "What's the matter with Boodle?" They both concluded that no stallion, living or dead, possessed all the qualifications desired in a more marked degree than BOODLE.

QUALIFICATIONS

BREEDING nnexcelled. Send for extended tabulated pedigree and history of BOODLE.

COLOR, beautiful seal brown, black points, no white.

SIZE, sixteen hands high, weight 1,150 pounds.

DISPOSITION, gentle as a lamb. A child can handle him.

STYLE. A real handsome horse—"a thing of beauty."

CONDITION. Sound as he was the day he was foaled.

SPEED. Race record 2:12½, in a hard-fought battle, which he won.

GAMENESS. A veritable hull dog. A gamer horse never lived.

PRODUCE. While he has only three in the list, no horse living or dead can make a better showing, considering the number of his progeny that have been trained. He transmits all his perfect qualifications to his progeny. His ancestors are noted for their iron constitutions; many of them, notably Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, were obtaining world's records at a time in life when ordinary horses are thinking of dying of old age.

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15½ hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stake as a three-year-old in his four-year-old form, until he met Azote, 2:04½ (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen Mayhew, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26½). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly-proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfect in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:57½. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½, dam Chantilly (tr al 2:23, last half in 1:38), by Nutwood, 2:18½; second dam Crepon (dam of Lovelace, 2:20), and Betsy Britton, 2:20½, by Princeps 336; third dam Crane Lisse (dam of Balzarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $30.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $110, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred ones sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring big prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month. Hay and grain $10 per month. Reason commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

— SIRE BY —

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Mabone (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:16½, Anteevelo, 2:18½, etc., being by Electioneer, out of Colombine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10½, Nelly F., 2:13½, and seven others in 2:50 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 144 sired Dan Voorhees, 2:23¾, St. Helena, 2:27½, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14½, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION.—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. road. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times.

His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of hand some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

CURINE! CURINE! CURINE!

The Most Powerful and Best Preparation in the World

I WILL GUARANTEE MY CURINE

To be the most powerful paint that medical science can formulate. It will reach deeper-seated troubles and produce better effects for lameness and unhealthy sores than any other preparation in the world, for which local medication is indicated, such as Spavins, Curbs, Ringbones, Sprung Knees, Capped Hocks and Knees, Saddle Galls, Rheumatism, Shoulder Lameness, Wind Puffs, Navicular Disease, Joint Lameness, Fistulae, Shoe Boils, Quittor, Tumors, Muscles Soreness, Splints, Thoroughpins, Sprung Tendons, Enlarged and Suppurated Glands, Soft Bunches, Bony Growths, Etc., Etc.

W. A. W. TURNBULL, V. M. D.,
Formerly resident surgeon in charge of the Veterinary Hospital, University of Pennsylvania.

CURINE is the most powerful paint known, and supersedes all cautery or firing. It contains no grease and will not blanch or remove the hair.
Its effects are absorbent, alterative, penetrative and antiseptic, and is the only preparation capable of reaching the deepest-seated troubles.
Horses can be worked as usual while using this marvelous paint.
It is used with phenomenal success in Europe, and in the leading trotting and running stables in the United States and Canada. Any person who purchases a bottle, and after using half of it according to explicit directions, finds it will not do what we claim, can return the bottle and money will be refunded. Reference:—First National or Citizens National Bank, Latrobe, Pa. WE WILL WAIVER $100 that one bottle of CURINE if used according to explicit directions will reach deeper-seated troubles, produce better effects for the same curatives than any other compound in the world.

OAKLAND RACES.

Very Large Fields of Contenders in the Various Events—The Racing Quite Interesting—Some Long Shots Prove Victorious.

SEVENTY-NINTH DAY—THURSDAY, MAY FIFTH.

Favorites were successful in four races to-day, the remaining two being captured by horses at 5 to 1 and 10 to 1. Lucky Star, ridden by Stuffle, made a runaway of the first. He was one of those real good things that sometimes go through, and was played well at odds of 5 to 1. Adam Andrew took the second cleverly, Reel winding up second and Nervoso third. Sea Spray, who is an improved horse and runs well in his new boots, led all the way in the third, which was at a mile. Elsmore made every post a winning one in the fourth, and, about all out, beat Salabar, a better colt at the weights, about three parts of a length for the big end of the purse. Howard was leader throughout in the next, but Our Climate, who did not seem to know whether to run or not, at times, could probably have made the favorite hustle a lot if he'd taken it into his crazy head to do so. Logan, the "iron horse," won another race, his ninety-ninth victory, we believe, beating Montallade out half a length in a hard drive. Manchester loomed up third at the finish, and Alvarado, the fast mule, was left at the post. Hennessy distinguished himself by riding three winners, the last three, Clawson piloted Adam Andrew and Sea Spray to the front and Stuffle rode Lucky Star, winner of the opening event. The attendance was excellent, the track not at its fastest stage.

The first race was at five furlongs, for three-year-olds. Lucky Star, to a good start, dashed to the fore, leading Chappie past the half and three-quarters by two lengths, Roy Carruthers close up. Lucky Star drew away further and further and won by six lengths, Chappie second, a length before Carruthers. Time, 1:02. Lucky Star was at 4 to 1 (opened at 5), Chappie 8 to 5, Roy Carruthers 5, others 10 to 100 to 1.

In the second, six furlongs, selling, Esael cut out on the running, leading by three lengths past the half and two lengths at the three-quarters, Alvero second at the latter point. Adam Andrew gradually improved his position, and coming fast through the homestretch, won easily by two lengths, Reel second handily, a length before Nervoso, who just got the show by a head from Grandezia. Time, 1:15. Adam Andrew was at 9 to 5, Reel 15 to 1, Nervoso 5, Grandezia 4, Cavallo 5, others 15 to 200.

In the third, one mile, Sea Spray and Mosier ran in close order until three furlongs from home, where Two Cheers went up second. Sea Spray led by two lengths into the homestretch, and won, about all out, by a length, Two Cheers second, one and a half lengths from Tom Elmore, who finished up strong. Time, 1:43. Sea Spray was at 9 to 5, Two Cheers 3 to 1, Tom Elmore, 4, Mollie R. 5, Pollock 7, others 40 to 1.

The fourth was for two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs. Elsmore showed first to a good start and was not headed, leading Salabar by one and a half lengths into the homestretch and winning by a length rather handily, Salabar second, three lengths before Dounsterswivel, who beat Twinkler six lengths. Time, 0:55. Elsmore was at 9 to 5, Salabar 2 to 1, Dounsterswivel 20, George Lee 5, others 12 to 100.

The fifth was at six furlongs, selling. Howard, the favorite, led throughout, winning by three lengths easily. He was accompanied closely by William Pinkerton for about half the distance, then Our Climate gradually improved his position, taking second place in the homestretch. Ricardo got up in the last stride, however, and beat Our Climate a nose for place. Time, 0:55. Howard was at 4 to 5, Ricardo 10, Our Climate 40, Wm. Pinkerton 5, Emma D. 8, others 20 to 200 to 1.

The last race, one mile, went to "iron horse" Logan, a 10 to 1 shot at one time. Major Cook led around to the homestretch by from half a length to a length, with Logan and Addie Buchanan alternating in the place. Buchanan assumed a slight lead half-way down the homestretch, but old Logan came very strongly, and in a driving finish won by half a length from Montallade, at whose heels was the favorite, Manchester, lapped by Addie Buchanan. Time, 1:43. Logan was at 8 to 1 (10 once), Montallade 3, Manchester 11 to 5, Alvarado (who was left at the post) 4, Buchanan 5, others 15 to 100 to 1.

EIGHTIETH DAY—FRIDAY, MAY 7.

The first race was at six furlongs, and eleven lined up. Hymn and Hueneme alternated in the lead to the homestretch, where Mike Rice came to the front like a shot, winning off by three lengths, Alma heating the stopping Blue Bell a head for place in the last stride, Hueneme pulling up lame and Hymn quitting. Time, 1:15. Mike Rice was at 10 to 1, Alma 2 to 1, Blue Bell 4, St. Aignon 12 to 5, others 5 to 50 to 1. St. Aignon showed no speed until near the finish. Hallelujah showed rather prominently for a part of the journey.

In the second, five furlongs, for two-year-olds, Mirth got off on the fly, led past the half and three-quarter poles by three lengths, and won easily by four. Eroica coming up from fifth position to second, half a length before Los Prietos, who beat Satocico a head. Time, 1:03. A poor race. Zapata was at 9 to 5 (3 to 1 once), Mirth 20, Eroica 100, Los Prietos 4, Satocico 2, others 15 to 200 to 1.

In the third, fifteen-sixteenths of a mile, selling, they got away to a good start. Miss Ruth and Fortunate alternated in the lead to the homestretch. Fortunate looked a sore winner, but his rider was a little too confident, and Inflammator, coming gamely against the inner rails, won driving by a scant head, Fortunate second, five lengths before Frank Janbert. Time, 1:35. Inflammator was at 8 to 5, Fortunate 8 to 1, Frank Janbert 2 to 1, others 7 to 150 to 1.

The fourth race was for all ages, five furlongs. Off to a bad start, Quicksilver was away first, Rey Salazar last. Quicksilver led Fly by two lengths past the half and Yemen two lengths into the homestretch. Quicksilver stopped the last sixteen and Yemen came on and won easily by two lengths, Zamar II. second, a nose before Quicksilver. Time, 1:01. Yemen was at 9 to 5 (played from 3 to 1), Zamar 9 to 5 (opened at 5 to 5), Quicksilver 4, others 8 to 50 to 1.

A mile and a quarter selling race came fifth. Judge Denny and Collins ran in close order, alternating in the lead for a mile, Unity third, two lengths off, Billy McCloskey another head away. Billy McCloskey, Collins and Judge Denny ran half-lengths apart until half way down the homestretch, with Peter the Second coming through like a shot. He collared Collins about fifty yards of the finish and, driving, beat him out half a length, Billy McCloskey one and a half lengths off and a head before Oakland. Time, 2:08. Denny was not ridden to advantage in this race. Peter the Second was at 3 to 1, Collins 15, Billy McCloskey 20, Judge Denny 4 to 5, others 5 to 100 to 1.

In the sixth, one mile, they got away to a good start, and Imp. Trance led Col. Wheeler by a small margin for about three furlongs, then Col. Wheeler went to the front, leading by a length at the half and three-quarters, Trance second, with the Wheel at her heels. Col. Wheeler was not headed, winning handily by a length, Wheel of Fortune second, two lengths before Trance, on whom Jones stopped riding. Col. Wheeler was at 7 to 10, Wheel of Fortune 3 to 1, Trance 15, Vincter 7, Sir Philip 500 to 1.

The concluding race was at fifteen-sixteenths of a mile, selling. To a good start for all but Russell, Morven led by a length past the quarter, Midas and May R. heads apart. Then Midas took up the running and was attended closest by Morven to the homestretch, Earl Cochran about three lengths back. Midas led by three lengths in the stretch, but Earl Cochran, May R., Veragua and Rienzi closed up the last part, Midas winning by half a length, Earl Cochran second, a length from May R., at whose saddle was Veragua, who was eighth at the three-quarter pole. Time, 1:36. Midas was at 4 to 1 (hacked from 5), Earl Cochran 15, May R. 12, Refugee 2, Rienzi 5, George Palmer 7, others 12 to 40 to 1.

EIGHTY-FIRST DAY—SATURDAY, MAY 8.

The first race was at five furlongs, for three-year-olds. Altanera broke first, but was soon passed by Grandezia, who led her by four lengths past the half and three quarters, Reel third, three lengths off. Grandezia began to tire as soon as they straightened away in the homestretch, and Altanera, running gamely, passed her in the last sixteen and won by a length, Grandezia second, five lengths from Fannie S., who got away tenth. Time, 1:02. Altanera was at 3 to 1 (8 to 1 once), Grandezia 5, Fannie S. 5, Ezekiel 3, Claudians 7, others 10 to 200 to 1.

The second race, six furlongs, selling, had fourteen starters. Nervoso and Mollie R. ran in front almost like a team to the homestretch, with Cousin Joe third. In the stretch Hermanita came like a shot, assumed a good lead, and won off with ease by three lengths, Dolore coming up from fifth to second place, beating Heartsease a head for the place, Mollie R., fourth, close up. Time, 1:15. Hermanita was at 7 to 1, Dolore 8 (15 once), Heartsease 50 (played from 100), Nervoso 3, Ricardo 4, Dorsey 4 (8 once), others 8 to 100 to 1.

In the third, five furlongs, for two-year-olds, there were two long breaks and a broken barrier, Michael remaining behind, Dick and Elsmore going a furlong or more each time. Finally the harrier was raised to a fair start for all but Michael, who might as well have stayed at the post. Dick, Torsida and Elsmore raced in close order to the homestretch, then in the last sixteen Torsida, gamest of the two, drew away and won by one and a half lengths, Dick in a fierce drive heating Elsmore a head for place. Time, 1:02. Michael's jockey should come in for some questioning about the colt getting away so poorly. It looked odd, to say the least. Torsida was at 3 to 1, Dick 7, Elsmore 7, Michael 9 to 10, Twinkler 25, Bonnie Ione 200.

Rey del Tierra was a red-hot favorite for the fourth, a mile and a sixteenth, and justified the confidence reposed in him by running head and head with the fleet Nebula till she got weary, then coming away in the homestretch and winning off by six lengths easily, Osric, Geo. Palmer and and Velox finishing very close together behind him in the order named, Nebula beaten off. Time, 1:49. Rey del Tierra was at 3 to 5 (played from evens), Osric 11, 4 to 1, George Palmer 10, Velox 100, Nebula 7, Fort Augustus 15 and Cogent 200 to 1.

In the fifth, one mile, they got off to a fair start and Argentina fifth away, led past the quarter by two lengths, Col. Wheeler second, a length from Torsina. Col. Wheeler led Buckwa a length at the half and by a head at the three-quarters. On the final turn Satsuma, who had been kept closer up than usual, was shot through a very narrow aperture by Marty Bergen, and he assumed quite a lead about a furlong from home. Wheeler and Buckwa fell back beaten and Torsina came in a very determined way, Satsuma just lasting long enough to win by a scant neck, under whip, Torsina two and a half lengths before Col. Wheeler. Time, 1:42—surprisingly slow for such flyers. Satsuma was at 5 to 1 (5 to 1 once), Torsina 10, Col. Wheeler 3, Buckwa 4 to 5, Argentina 20 to 1.

The sixth race, six furlongs, had eleven starters. Peril led Peixotto by three lengths past the half and by a length at the three-quarters, Montallade third, another length off, at the latter point. Peixotto got to the front as they straightened away in the homestretch and won handily by a length from Montallade, who heat the fast-coming Horatio as far. Time, 1:14. Peixotto was at 4 to 1, Montallade 5, Horatio 4, others 4 to 50 to 1.

EIGHTY-SECOND DAY—MONDAY, MAY 10.

In the first, five and a half furlongs, selling, Hueneme showed first to a good start, but was soon passed by Perhaps and Heartsease, who alternated in the lead to the homestretch. Here Monitor came through like a shot, and getting to the fore half-way down, won easily by two lengths, Blue Bell second, half a length from Heartsease, Mollie R. and Perhaps following closely. Time, 1:09. Sir Richard was cut off near the half-pole when looming up prominently. Monitor was at 15 to 1, Blue Bell 3, Heartsease 20, Perhaps 4 to 5, Sir Richard 4 to 1 (7 once), others 15 to 200.

The second race was at a mile, selling. Lady Hurst, off first, was never headed. Leon ran second to her for half a mile, then Devault went up second and stayed there. Lady Hurst won handily by one and a half lengths, Devault second, fifteen lengths before Widow Jones, who beat Twinkle Twink a length. Time, 1:43. Lady Hurst was at 3 to 1, Devault 2, Widow Jones 15, Coda 5, Pollock 3, others 12 to 500 to 1.

The third race was at seven furlongs, selling. Veragua acted as pacemaker for about half a mile, leading Midnight from two to three lengths. Midnight had her head in front at the three quarters, Veragua second, as far in front of Horatio. Lost Girl, seventh on the final turn, now made her run, she and Una Colorado (latter in a pocket nearly all the way) drawing out of the bunch and fighting it out, Lost Girl winning by a head, Una Colorado five lengths before Veragua, on whom Horatio was lapped.

Time, 1:29½. Lost Girl was at 6 to 1, Una Colorado 15, Versaga 12, Horatio 2, Midnight 2½, Nebola 4½, others 15 to 300 to 1.

In the fourth, six furlongs, for two-year-olds, Salazar got away first to a good start, but was immediately taken back sixth, Elmore taking up the running, leading Torsida by about a length to the homestretch, Los Prietos, Michael and Salazar closely hunched. In the homestretch Marty Bergen cut Salazar loose, and he fairly made his rivals look like a lot of very yellow dogs, winning off by three lengths from Michael, who was as far from Elmore, Torsida fourth, another three lengths off. Time, 1:15½. Salazar was at 3½ to 1, Michael 6 to 5, Elmore 20, Torsida 3½, others 12 to 300 to 1.

A mile and a sixteenth race was fifth on the programme, and four started. Bernardillo led Wheel of Fortune by from half a length to a length for over seven furlongs, then Bob Isom cut loose with the mare, who won ridden out by one and a half lengths, Installator second, two lengths before Bernardillo. Time, 1:48½. Wheel of Fortune was at 8 to 5, Bernardillo 2½ to 1, Installator 4½, imp. Trauce 5 (hacked from 15 to 1).

The concluding race was at a mile, and had nine starters. By Holly's recent purchase, Fortunato, got away second, and soon went to the fore, leading Olive past the quarter and half by a length, Perseus third and wall up. Olive began to stop when three furlongs from home and Perseus went up second. Fortunato was not headed, winning driven out by three parts of a length from San Marco, who heat the favorite, Perseus, a head for place. Time, 1:42. Fortunato was at 6 to 1, San Marco 5, Perseus even money, others 8 to 60 to 1.

EIGHTY-THIRD DAY—TUESDAY, MAY 11.

In the first race fourteen lined up for a seven-furlong race. A good start was made. Picnic acted as pacemaker, leading Yucatan by two lengths at the half and Senator Mahoney by half a length at the three-quarters. Con Moto, who had gradually improved his position, came with a great rush, assumed a three-length lead in the homestretch, and won handily by a length from the 200 to 1 shot, Mary Nievez, who heat McFarlane a head for place. Nievez was tenth on the final turn. Time, 1:31. Con Moto was at 4 to 1, Mary Nievez 200, McFarlane 3, Rapido 3½, Yucatan 8, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The second race was at six furlongs, selling. Decisioo and Blue Bell ran in close order in front to the homestretch, where Decisioo had enough. Nervoso, tenth at the half-mile ground, closed up very fast in the homestretch, and coming along in the center of the track, won in a drive by a head from Blue Bell, who just nosed out Sam Leake. Half a length farther away was Gold Boy, who closed up a lot of ground the last part. Time, 1:16½. Nervoso was at 8 to 1, Blue Bell 4, Sam Leake 3½, Rose Clark 3½, others 8 to 100 to 1.

Third on the programme was a five and a half furlong race for three-year-old fillies. Fifteen faced the barrier. To a good send-off Alma soon got to the fore, being joined by Grandezis when she had gone about a furlong. The pair ran in close order past the half and three-quarter poles, two lengths from Narsnja. Sly came fast in the homestretch, but died away, Naranja winning cleverly by a length, Alma second, two lengths from Reel, who came up and heat Sly half a length for show. Time, 1:10. Naranja was at 5 to 1, Alma 2½, Reel 25, Sly 4, Grandezis 5, Santa Paola 8, Little Sister 8 (40 once), others 15 to 100.

The fourth race was at a mile and a furlong. Logan cot out the pace for about five and a half furlongs. Loretta Borgia then took up the running, leading George Palmer by a head at the three quarters. Pepper came along strong in the homestretch, and after a smart drive with Palmer, out-gamed him and won by one and a half lengths, George Palmer second, two lengths before Hermanita. Time, 1:57½. Pepper was at 11 to 5 (3 to 1 once) George Palmer 13 to 5, Hermanita 8, Don Clarencio (who ran a very poor race) 5, others 8 to 30 to 1.

A seven furlong selling race came fifth. Roadwarmer went to the front at once, he, Fullerton Lass and Mulberry running lapped past the quarter. At the half it was Roadwarmer and King William heads apart as named. Roadwarmer drew away and led by two lengths into the homestretch, and lasted long enough to win by a scant length from King William, who heat Mulberry three lengths. Time, 1:30. Roadwarmer was at 13 to 5, King William 4 to 1, Mulberry 6, others 8 to 200 to 1.

The last race of the day was at a mile and a sixteenth. Lohengula, the heavily backed favorite, went into the lead when they had run about half a mile, and drawing away further as he went along, won easily by three lengths from Peter the Second, who was a scant length before Charles A., at whose heels came Ransom, who had been pocketed two or three times. Walter J. and Miss Ruth were left at the post in this race. The time was 1:50. Lohengula was at 7 to 10 (even money once), Peter II. 5 to 1, Chas. A. 100, Ransom 5, others 12 to 100 to 1.

EIGHTY-FOURTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MAY 12.

The first race was at six furlongs, selling. They were sent away to a quick but poor start, Dolore showing first. Bourbon, the skyrocket, led past the half by one and a half lengths, Billy Ayres second, two from Dolore. Bourbon was a length to the good at the three-quarters, Ayres second, with Roltaire at his heels. Manchester came very fast in the homestretch, and getting to the fore a little less than a furlong from home, won driving by a head from Horatio, who heat Roltaire three lengths, Nebuchadnezzar fourth. Time, 1:16. Manchester was at 9 to 5, Horatio 8, Roltaire 20, Howard 4, Nebuchadnezzar 4½, others 10 to 300. Jim Quinn ran the winner up from $500 to $1,000, the owners retaining him with another $5.

They were away to a good start in the second, six furlongs, and Perhaps made the pace to the homestretch, attended closely by Irma. Sir Richard well up. Sir Richard assumed the lead half-way down the homestretch and won handily by one and a half lengths from the fast-moving Sallie Clicquot, who had gotten away eleventh. Heartsease was third, lapped on Clicquot. Time, 1:16½. Sir Richard was at 15 to 1, Sallie Clicquot 9 to 20, Mika Rice 8, others 12 to 200 to 1.

A five-furlong race for two-year-olds came next. Elmore got away in front to a poor start and led Torsida by half a length to the three quarters, Rosomonde a close-up third, Elmore led up to the final furlong, where Torsida, who had dropped back to fourth place, came again against the inner rails and won driving by half a length, Elmore second, four lengths from Towanda, who heat Rosomonde a nose. Time, 1:02½. Torsida was at 4½ to 1, Elmore 6, Towanda 2½, Rosomonde 2, others 20 to 100 to 1.

A mile selling race came next. To a fair start Frank Jaubert and Billy McCloskey ran lapped in front past the quarter, McLight heading a bunch. At the half Fortunato had gotten to the fore, and was leading Jaubert half a length. He drew away gradually and won by two and a half lengths handily, Adam Andrew finishing up second, a length before Billy McCloskey, who heat the quitting Argentina eight lengths. Time, 1:42½. Fortunato was at 2½ to 1, Adam Andrew 5, Billy McCloskey 25, Argentina 3, Collins 4 (5 once), others 15 to 25 to 1.

In the fifth, one and one-eighth miles, Flashlight acted as pace-maker for about six furlongs, with Installator second, under a pull, Lohengula, the Wheel and Denny alternating in third place. Installator drew away half-way down, but Denny came at him, looking dangerous for a moment. Installator had a hit left, however, and won handily by a length, Judge Denny second, two lengths from Lohengula, on whom Bernardillo was lapped. Time, 1:54½. Installator was at 11 to 5, Denny 8 to 1, Lohengula 5, Wheel of Fortune 2½, others 8 to 30 to 1.

The last race was one of the most unsatisfactory affairs ever witnessed in this locality. First Mercutio ran away with G. Wilson for about six furlongs, then the harrier was broken into smithereens, and the bell rang for Ferguson to start them anyhow. That's what he did, eventually, though it was not by any means his fault that Montalade, Peril and Mercutio were left at the post. It looked very much as if Clawson was not trying very hard to get away with Montalade, who went back in the hetting. In nearly all the other breaks (and there were several) the boy stayed back, just as he did at the wind-up, when they got away to a start that made one think of a man out in a field sowing seed. Quick-silver was in front, and remained there till they were well straightened in the homestretch, where Peixotto came on and won driving by half a length from Midas, who heat the badly-interfered-with Yankee Doodle a head. Time, 1:15½. Bergen's claim of fool was not allowed. Peixotto was at 7 to 1, Midas 8, George Miller 2, Peril 5, others 15 to 50.

EIGHTY-FIFTH DAY—THURSDAY, MAY 13.

In the first, seven furlongs, a good start was effected, and Flambeoetta went right to the fore, leading Rosalbra by three lengths past the half. Rosalbra headed her nearing the three-quarters and led into the homestretch by a small margin, Cousin Joe second. There was a hot drive down the stretch, Rosalbra winning by half a length, Cousin Joe second, four lengths before Twinkle Twink. Time, 1:32. Rosalbra was at 4 to 1, Cousin Joe 12, Twinkle Twink 5, others 6 to 50 to 1.

The second was at a mile and a sixteenth, selling. Fannia S. set the pace for about seven furlongs, then Devault and Coda came op. There was a hard drive op to the last sixteenth, where Devault drew away, winning ridden out by four lengths, Coda second, as far from Fannia S., who was very tired. Molherly had enough at the three-quarter pole. Time, 1:49½. Billy Vice's saddle torned and little Joe Weber dropped off after finishing. Devault was at 2 to 1, Coda 8, Fannia S. 7, others 5 to 100 to 1.

The third race was for two-year olds, four and a half furlongs. To a good start San Durango went into the lead and at the three quarters was half a length before Dalton, Socialist third. The latter came fast on the outside and won cleverly by half a length. Milesio second, two lengths before Dalton. Time, 0:57. Socialist was at 4 to 1 (opened at 5), Milesio 4 (6 once), Dalton 15, Truth 3, others 10 to 100 to 1.

The fourth race, one mile, had but four starters. To a good start Rey del Tierra went to the fore and led Rienzi by three lengths at the quarter, The Roman third. The latter was sent along on the outside when he had gone another furlong, and at the half was second, one and one-half lengths behind Tierra. The latter led The Roman a length turning for home, but the Brutus colt caught him a sixteenth from the end and won handily by a length, Rey del Tierra second, three lengths from Lost Girl, who heat Rienzi fifteen. Time, 1:42½. The Roman was at 7 to 10, Rey del Tierra 7 to 5, Lost Girl 20, Rienzi 50 to 1.

The fifth was at a mile and a sixteenth, for three year olds and upward. Col. Wheeler went right to the front, leading Yankee Doodle by four lengths at the quarter, three at the half, five into the homestretch, and won eased up by five lengths, Yankee Doodle second, as far from Ransom, on whom Logan was lapped. Time, 1:48½. Col. Wheel was at 9 to 10, Yankee Doodle 8 to 5, Ransom 5 to 1, Logan 30, Miss Roth 80 to 1.

In the last race, mile and a sixteenth, selling, they got away to a fair start and Santozza acted as pace-setter for about seven furlongs, with Treachery second and Earl Cochran third. Santozza gradually fell back upon reaching the homestretch, the place of honor being taken by Treachery for a while. About a sixteenth from home Earl Cochran came through, winning easily by a length, Treachery second, closely followed by Walter J., Santozza and Peter II. The latter had been out off several times. Pepper looked like a winner at the head of the homestretch, but died away to nothing. Time, 1:50½—a poor race. Earl Cochran was at 15 to 1 (20 once), Treachery 3, Walter J. 20, Pepper 5 to 5, Peter II. 5, others 15 to 150 to 1.

THE pulmonary trouble among the horses at Morris Park has taken a serious form, owing to the bad weather of the past few days. The first fatality occurred last night, when San Dimas, one of the most promising two-year-olds of the Burns & Waterhouse string, died of pneumonia. San Dimas' trouble was contracted on the trip across the continent. It became acute after the youngster's arrival here. There are several other new cases of illness reported, including one other in the Burns & Waterhouse string. New York dispatch, May 13th.

WILL McDANIELS to-day took charge of the western division of Julius Bauer & Co.'s stable, which includes the Kentucky Derby candidate, Goshen. He disposed of his two-year-old chestnut colt, Arturos, by Deceiver—Rita Elliott, to Lea Wainscott of Georgetown, Ky., for $1,500. The colt showed up well in his two races here, which were both wins.—Daily Racing Form, May 10. McDaniels came out here last fall as trainer of one division of the Corrigan stable.

THE Canadian turfman, Alex Shields, will take Logan, Devault and the rest of his string East next week. Logan, who is now within one of his century of winning brackets, will probably pick up another good purse before then, as he is running with a good deal more dash and vim than he has displayed for some time past.

THE CORBITT SALE.

A Royal Chance to Get Grandly Bred Trotting Stock Next Thursday.

Next Thursday, May 20th, one of the grandest lots of horses ever led in front of an auctioneer's stand will be offered for sale at the San Mateo Stock Farm. There are fifty-four in all, embracing some of the finest bred and best looking colts and fillies in California. Seekers after splendidly matched well-broken teams will find several here that cannot be surpassed anywhere. Those who are in need of good Wilkes blood on their farms will have the choicest selection of descendants of Goy Wilkes and his son Sable Wilkes, ever offered at public sale on this great farm. As the prospects for a fine season's racing in California are bright, and fourteen weeks of fairs are assured, there must be some owners and trainers who will want to strengthen their strings of light harness horses by the addition of sure-money winners. A number of these will be sold at this sale and they are just as good as those which made this farm famous while they were in the late J. A. Goldsmith's care. A glance at the catalogue gives only the pedigrees but when inspection of the animals follows many expressions of delight and satisfaction will be heard. There are a few stallions to be offered, one of them, Noshagak 25939 (formerly Wil Direct) is seven years old, sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, out of Fidelia (trial 2:35 at three years) by Director, 2:17, second dam by Reavis Blackbird, 2:22, third dam by Lancel, son of McCracken's Black Hawk. He is a grand looking horse and his blood lines can hardly be improved upon. If taken in hand he would get a mark of 2:20 inside of 60 days. Nushagak is the sire of that game and speedy filly owned by Alex Brown of Walnut Grove, Sacramento county, known as Majella B. She got a record, as a two-year-old, of 2:29 in her first race and drove a Flare Up out in 2:22 and 2:24 in the same race at Sacramento. There is another filly by this horse at Mokelumne Stock Farm (Geo. H. Fox's) that he believes will get a mark of 2:20 as a two-year-old. There is another in San Jose that its owner says is trotting like an Arion and will make the fastest two-year-old in California do his best to heat him. Early and extreme speed, a level head and gsmeness combined with perfect form, are qualities that all breeders are seeking, and when these are backed up by the very best of trotting blood, such a horse as Noshagak will have a credit to any farm. He is bred like Oro Wilkes, 2:11, and is as pure gaited.

There is another one to be sold that John A. Goldsmith offered $12,000 for, and Chas. A. Dunfee was willing to trade McKinney for (when this horse trotted to a record of 2:20½ as a two-year-old at Stockton); he is called Lynwood, sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½; out of Lindale (dam of Ruter Wilkes, 2:27½), by Sultan Jr., (brother to Margaret, 2:28, dam of Regal Wilkes, 2:11), second dam Flora Pierson (record in double harness 2:33, on half mile track) by Gen. McCallan, 144. Lynwood showed a mile as a four-year-old in 2:12, and was pronounced one of the most perfect-gaited horses bred at this famous farm, and that is saying a great deal. He met with an accident which caused his retirement, but as he is not lame and may stand training he might make a great racehorse. He is very stylish, a beautiful bay in color, has a splendid disposition, and in conformation, is as near a model as one could wish for. He will make a great stock horse.

Special attention is called to Nos. 33 and 44 on the catalogue, two bay geldings 15.2½ hands high, full brothers, four and five years old, by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, out of Nellia Taylor, sister to Blanche (dam of Hazel Wilkes, 2:11), Una Wilkes, 2:15, Native Son, 2:26½, Silver Spray, 2:28, etc.), by Arthurton. They show well single or double, very stylish, need no boots, trot together in perfect unison, and can trot in 2:40 now, never had any track work, and do not pull nor log on the bit; in fact, they are as fine a pair of horses as ever were hitched. It is almost impossible to tell them apart. Then there is a team of blacks, Nos. 33 and 34, perfect in every respect, three and four years old. Several other carriage teams are among those offered.

Broommares—The best that were left on the farm are to be sold, most of them in foal to Prince Airlie, one of the best-bred and finest-looking sons of Guy Wilkes in the United States. He will be shown at the sale. There are daughters of Le Grande, Almont 33, Notwood, 2:18½, Arthurton, Mambrino Boy, 2:26½, Electioneer, Anteeo, 2:18½, and Sable Wilkes, 2:18; these will be valuable anywhere.

The colts and fillies by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½; Sable Wilkes 2:18, and Prince Airlie are the cream of the farm, the best ever offered. They will be shown on the track and will need but little praise from Messrs. Killip & Co., the auctioneers, for they will show for themselves. Get a catalogue and come to the sale. Trains leave Third and Townsend streets at 9:00 and 10:40 a. m., stopping at Burlingame station, which is on the farm. Lunch will be served. Remember the sale will take place next Thursday, May 20th, at 10 a. m. Be there; it may be your last chance to get representatives of the greatest sire of his age in the world, Guy Wilkes 2:15½.

At Helena, Mont., the Twin Stable, Dan Blevens, trainer, has in training: J. M. B., h g (5), by Don Carlos—Juno; Jodga Smith (6), by Don Carlos—Columbia; Tough Elm, h g (5), by Glen Elm—Daisy Dean; Rosella, h m (5), by Don Carlos; Uncle John (3), by Don Carlos—by Regent; Bridget (3), by Don Carlos—by Regent; Irish Girl (3), by Glen Elm—by Regent; Bull Grog (2), by Don Carlos. The stable also has another two-year-old by Don Carlos in training, Michael Carr, owner, has in training: Don Carlos, h (a), by Prince Charlie; Nepe, by Don Carlos; Don Juan, ch h, by Don Carlos—Juno. Dan McNally has the following: Alderman Carey, h g (a), by Boulevard—Cora Fisher; Lewellyn, by Michael, (son of Regent). He also has in training a three-year-old colt by Montana, and four others. F. H. Stafford, formerly of the old firm of Stafford & Crawford, will have trained: All Smokah, m (5), by imp. Silk Gown—Ordinance, besides three or four others; C. H. Partruff has; Carnot, h g (s), by Regent—Nannia Halton.

VASSAR, KAN., April 16, 1896.

Please send me directions for using Gombault's Caustic Balsam. I bought a bottle and it had no directions in it, but I cured a curb and splint by putting on a couple of times. Now I want to try it on a sweeney.

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

Major P. P. Johnston, for Governor.

There is a man in Kentucky who can fill this measure; he unconsciously fills the bill. Like Napoleon, he comes from a lieutenant, instead of being a Marshal. This man is Major P. P. Johnston, Chairman of the Democratic Committee of Kentucky.

Where can be found a more typical Kentuckian, a man of cooler judgment, of braver character, of better intelligence? Born to lead, Major Johnston is equipped to-day, by age, experience and worth, to make the best Governor who has ever graced the gubernatorial chair in the history of Kentucky.

There is everything in Major Johnston to inspire the support of the Democratic masses. He is a man against whom there can be urged no objection, and whose reputation is National.

Loyal, true and keen, brave, considerate and fair, with a nature gentle and lovable, his truthfulness a watchword, no other leader may be looked for to fill the measures of our necessity.

Without his consent and unknown to him, The Argonaut names Major Philip P. Johnston, of Fayette, as its candidate for Governor, asks the people of Kentucky to consider this suggestion, with the firm conviction that investigation and consideration will fail to show the least objection to him.—The Argonaut (Lexington, Ky.).

That Major Johnston will "accept the situation," and permit his name to go before the Kentucky Conventions, as suggested by the Argonaut, is my anxious wish. The few paragraphs quoted are eminently fit, and in place of being unduly laudatory are wall within bounds, in fact, could be still more eulogistic, and then the coloring would be none to flatter. One of those rare characters which combine so many good qualities that portendure is necessarily a succession of pictures, "true to life" to those who know the original, apparently too flattering to the observer whose knowledge is limited to the counterfeit "presentment."

As President of the National Trotting Association he showed executive capacity of the highest order. When Hon. Jesse D. Carr, asked Judge Grant, who held the position for many years, and filled the place so well that his resignation was universally regretted; what sort of a President Major Johnston would make? Answered, "the very best, better than me, every quality needed and you will all agree with me and endorse my estimate when he has been in office long enough to show his capacity."

The characteristics that have made such a good record in the N. T. A. will be just what is required in the gubernatorial chair, and the popularity of Major Johnston will insure his election.

THE AUCTION SALE AT BURLINGAME.—The San Mateo Stock Farm has sent out so many animals of high celebrity in the harness racing world that when upwards of half a hundred are offered at "public outcry" it is a safe calculation that more of the same sterling sort will be among them.

There may have been an impression that, owing to the sale in New York not long ago, those left were culls. If there is any one who still holds that opinion, a visit to the San Mateo Stock Farm will readily convince him that he was in error, and that in place of being inferior to the Eastern consignment, so far as I have seen, never a better lot on that breeding farm.

And these not confined to yearlings and over. The foals are an extra fine lot. Those by Guy Wilkes I paid particular attention to, inasmuch as it had been asserted that the horse had been impotent for years. Strong, hearty foals and in the best condition.

Several surprises to me on Thursday morning last. A tour of the paddocks in company with James Price, who has been so long at the place that every horse of the past and present is as familiar to him as an open book. Then the show of youngsters led by the side of a saddle horse corroborated the estimates placed upon in a former communication, showing wonderful improvement, and stepping back and forwards of the stretch at a rate that was an undoubted augury of future speed. Quite a number of them and all of such great promise that it is very difficult to give decided preferences. This will be understood by those familiar with the pedigrees of the celebrities which have been bred at San Mateo Stock Farm, when the progeny of such mares as Glen Ellen, Ruby, Mattia, Menlo, Minnie Princess, Gulnare, Hattie, Eva, Mamie Kohl, Laura Drew, Menlo Belle, Mable Wilkes, Essential, Hanna, et al. were the actors. I am not inclined to make predictions and give authoritative opinions among so many of merit. There will be ample opportunities for purchasers to judge of all the points on the day of sale, and better still to make one or two visits previous to the 20th inst., Thursday, as it will be quite a puzzle to fix upon a decided choice.

One good point, however, is that should favorites go at a higher price than the intended buyer has fixed as his limit, others will be so near them in favor that the journey will not be valueless.

I took notes as each animal was presented, and on looking them over am somewhat mystified over the number that have meritorious marks under their names. For instance, x denotes good, xx very good, xxx excellent, and the number that have two or more of these symbols appended to the description, if copied, might lead people to think that the report was too good to be true.

When those that were old enough to show in harness appeared there were more surprises, but before leaving the led division it may be well to call attention to the action of the youngsters. As a rule a long stride and open gait are the characteristics of the get of Guy Wilkes and his family. That is not so favorable for a good showing when led as a rapid, line stroke, but when speed is shown at that way of going it is nearly certain that when broken to harness there will be a decided improvement just as soon as the colts are familiarized with the new order of things. But of all the surprises there was a greater wonderment over the horse named NUSHAGAK, formerly Wil Direct, and his history is a wee bit romantic. When two or three years old the "teaser" died, and to save the trouble of procuring another, the colt was delegated to that lowly station. A matter of history that the Godolphin Arabian performed the same service for Hobgoblin at Gog-Magog—the princely residence of Lord Godolphin—until a fortunate circumstance made him the sire of Lath, from Roxana. The menial, from the time that Lath made his glorious career on the despised Arabian, or more likely Barb, the great name in turf annals, Hobgoblin's fame resting on the position he held, the superior place over "Patriarch of the Turf" giving him like the man who fired the temple of Diana a name when that of the architect of the famous pile is lost in oblivion. Not very likely that the horse with the Indian name will obliterate the reputation of his sire and grandsire, though making allowance for the loss of opportunities he may be an equal. He filled the place so well that he did not wear a harness since he was a three-year-old, though more fortunate than his prototype, the Godolphin Barb, he was given a better chance, and his progeny are showing extra well, a two-year-old obtaining a record of 2:29, only beaten a little in 2:22 in a second heat, and close up a third in 2:24. Others of his get of still greater promise.

A big horse, 15½ hands, plenty of substance, style and finish; black, small star, off hind heel and coronet white; foaled 1890.

SIRE, SABLE WILKES 2:18,

1st dam, Fidslia, 2:35 at 3 years, by Director, 2:17.
2d dam.....by Reavis' Blackbird, 2:22.
3d dam.....by Lanet (Vermont Black Hawk blood).

Three-quarters the same blood as Oro Wilkes, and the favorable impression obtained by seeing Oro at rest has been more than sustained after witnessing the perfection of action and immense speed he displays. Without a boot or any of the appliances so prevalent nowadays, to quite a heavy cart, he went so fast that wheels hummed and the loose dirt flew in a stream against the dashboard.

Nushagak bears a striking resemblance to his three-quarter brother, though larger in every way, and he, too, has the knack of going fast, very fast, considering that he has only been in training about three weeks, and the claim that he can show a twenty-gait was fully corroborated. It may be that the Blackbird strain in his second dam has inclined me to be over-partial, and readily acknowledge that I am "more than pleased" to find so good an animal that carries a portion of the blood of the horse, that, in some respects, was the superior of any others I have known, and when that blood is combined with the other noted strains in Nushagak, it will be somewhat of an anomaly if there is not also a conjunction of speed and endurance.

There was a brown yearling colt, four white legs and white strip in face (Dexter marks), by Oro Wilkes, that I greatly fancied at my former visit, March last. He was taking his first lesson then, and I was anxious to learn whether predictions then made were verified. Fully so, and if he is not a "born'd trotter" it will be difficult to apply that favorite simile of Kentucky dinkies to any colt.

Mr. Cope Stinson informed me that two of the get of Oro, which he purchased at the New York sale, and now in charge of his son at Cleveland were showing so much speed that there were offers for them at a greatly enhanced price. These two and one by Guy Wilkes cost him $670, and now he could get at least five times as much.

There is a three-year-old pacer, in the catalogue, by Sable Wilkes, his dam Flora Granda by Le Grande, second dam Kata Arthurton (sister to Joe Arthurton 2:20½) by Arthurton, and though "s. t. b." is attached, from what I have heard, little doubt that the third dam was Flora Langford by Langford. Flora Langford is also the dam of Lillian Wilkes, 2:17½, so that the speed displayed now, ease of motion, and that breeding there is more than a good outlook for a very fast pacer. A three-year-old gelding by Sable Wilkes, his dam Mamie Kohl by Steilway, second dam the old-time California celebrity, Lady Blanchard, with a record of 2:26, made over twenty years ago, is another one I greatly fancied after seeing him driven. He is in the Kentucky Futurity of 1897 with all payments made to June 1st of this year, and is surely a good prospect.

A pair of bays by Sable Wilkes from Nellie Taylor, closely matched, of good size, make a "team" that should please the most fastidious. With a very little driving, mainly on the road, three minutes can be safely assumed now and indications that 2:30 is within their reach.

So much to write about about the San Mateo Stock Farm horses and colts, that this article could be extended far beyond the limit that can be appropriated in this item of the paper.

I sincerely hope that the sale will be reasonably successful (that it will be greatly in favor of buyers is beyond question) as an improvement on California sales of the past three years will inspire breeders with renewed courage.

Several of the animals offered are of a stamp that will ensure a good place in the circuit, if put in training, and it is not far from the mark to predict will "win themselves out" before the first of next November.

JOS. CAIRN SIMPSON.

Answers to Correspondents.

RACE-GOER AND DAILY READER, San Francisco.—When will the great Brooklyn Handicap be run? By answering the above through your valuable columns you will greatly oblige. Answer—May 31st this year.

G. P., Oakland.—Kindly let me know through your paper when the St. Louis races begin and how long they expect to last. Answer—They begin May 15th, and we believe that under the new law in Missouri they can race ninety days in a year.

B. A. P., BELVEDERE, Pilgrim's Rest, S. A. R.—Would you kindly inform me in what year and at what date Ormonde reached California, the number of his foals during the first year at stud (in America); also, up to date. I should like to know these details to settle a little discussion. Answer—Ormonde arrived at New York August 8, 1893; in California September 5, 1893. We believe he got two foals the first year here (1894) (Rosomonde and one other, foals of 1895), believe he got two in 1895 (foals of 1896), and eight mares were reported heavy in foal and due this season (1897). We have had no report from the farm as yet, however.

New York Letter.

NEW YORK, April 30, 1897.

Guy Wilkes is said to have gained over thirty pounds since March 12th, and now weighs over 1,000 pounds.

The ex-champion pacer, Little Brown Jug, 2:11½, is now twenty-two years old and is spending his days comfortably at E. S. Bunnell's shoeing shop in Buffalo, N. Y.

The bay mare, Miss Follerton, 2:14½, belonging to Q. A. Shaw of Boston, recently broke her leg while running in the paddock and was killed.

Old Harry Stridesaway, 2:24½, dropped dead in Newark one day last week.

Ed Geers is able to be out and looking after the horses at Village Farm. His wrist and ankle are both improving.

The announcement that Monroe Salisbury will have a string on the Circuit the coming season, is hailed with delight by the Eastern sportsmen. The turf cannot afford to lose Mr. Salisbury.

Fleetwood will be formally opened May 1. Harness racing for small purses will take place every Saturday during the season.

The colt races at Goshen, this county August 26, promises to be a great affair, each race will be for $7,500. J. Malcom Forbes, E. H. Harriman, Marcus Daly and A. D. Snell have entered. Among the starters will probably be China Silk (Mr. Forbes), Jupe (Mr. Snell) and Kalsadan (Mr. Harriman). The colts are to be named June 1.

Twenty-six dock-tailed horses sold at the Exchange Wednesday for an average of $52½ each. They were from M. H. Tichenor of Chicago.

The Boston Horse Show closed Saturday. The meeting was a success in every particular. Several New York gentlemen won blue ribbons in the team, tandem, four-in-hand and saddle classes. Sable Wilkes was defeated in his class by Mr. Forbes' horse.

There is at present a dearth of good plays in this city. "Never Again" is at the Garrick, but draws small houses. At the Star one of Frank Harvey's blood and thunder productions draws a gallery full every evening. "Charley's Aunt" at the Columbus tries to be funny, and this is a fair sample of this week's bills throughout the city.

The warm weather suggests the idea of considering the question of roof gardens, and Hammerstein opens to-night. No prizes have yet been offered for skating and the swans appear dreamy enough.

There is trouble in the Yale Rowing Crew. Simpson, who last year rowed bow oar, has withdrawn. He declares he cannot stand Cook's coaching any longer.

Peter Maher is training up in Westchester county for his meeting with Tom Sharkey. He declares he will not challenge Corbett if he defeats Sharkey.

It is said while Corbett was in his dressing room at the Academy of Music on Friday evening, he discovered he had broken the thumb of his left hand on Fitz's head.

The baseball season has opened and a few games have been played on the circuit. New York at once assumed its old position of last year (9). Philadelphia stands at the head of the list, having won three games and lost none. Boston has lost three and won none. The game has lost very much interest, and is "playing out." J. O. M.

OWING to the alleged dishonest practices among some visiting American horsemen here, Col. R. C. Pate has been compelled to close his Indianapolis racecourse for the season. He is determined to have clean sport and not dishonest methods. He will reopen his course in the fall.—City of Mexico dispatch, May 12. Col. Pate was in San Francisco only a few weeks ago. He bought up a carload of horses and shipped them to Mexico. Eugene Leigh sent along a couple with Billy Hummel. Col. Pate has a fair lot of horses at his track, but the jockeys are a tough lot—the sort spoken of by the humorist: "Drive nails into their bodies and they'll come out corkscrews."

RACING in the vicinity of Chicago is to be resumed next Saturday afternoon at Ingalls Park, Illinois, this side of Joliet, Ill., on a mile track of perfect modern construction, built by Seth Griffin. The Alton, Rock Island and Santa Fe roads run from Chicago to the track in fifty minutes. Nearly all the stalls are already taken. Secretary Nathanson is busy on the book for the fifteen days meeting. The time tables of the railroads will be announced as soon as prepared.—Daily Racing Form, May 10th.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

ALFRED G., 2:19½ is in training again this spring.

M. HENRY, Hsywards, has bred the dam of Educator to Altamont.

THE sale of the Haggio horses was not as great a financial success as anticipated.

JAMES DUSTIN will probably train a stable on some of the tracks around Boston.

DIRECTUM KELLY, by Direct, has been entered in the 2:19 trot at Fleetwood.

OLD Lady Bunker, the dam of Guy Wilkes and William L., is barren this spring.

HORSEMEN in California feel jubilant over the prospect of having race meetings this fall.

BOODLE, 2:12½; "the horse without a 'but'" is now at Pleasanton to the Salisbury Stable.

J. H. SHANNON, of Tulare, has received an order from the Mexican government for 130 cavalry horses.

LYLA, 2:35; (sister to Chehalis, 2:07½, and Del Norte 2:03) by Altamont foaled May 7 a black colt by Zombro, 2:18.

T. J. CROWLEY's very speedy pacer, Al Gregor, will be given the benefit of a year's rest, but will be campaigned in 1898.

COPE STINSON thinks Fred S. Moody, 2:14, by Guy Wilkes, has speed enough to closely approach the two-minute mark.

GEERS is reported as saying that Athanasio, 2:11½, is, in his judgment, a very likely money-winner in the 2:10 classes this season.

MILLARD SANDERS, the new lessee of Belmont Park, is making it more popular than ever with the Quaker City horsemen.

ARTICLES on the horse industry of Monterey County and Walnut Grove, Sacramento County, were crowded out of this issue.

MRS. H. MATTINGLY of Olympia, Wash., has just purchased Russell B. a very handsome trotting colt by the great Altamont.

It is said that since Jas. Butler paid $4,500 for Cephas, 2:11½, at the late Fasig sale, he has refused an advance of $500 for him.

THE Ohio stallion J. C. Simpson, 2:27½, brother to Anteeo, 2:16½, and Antevolo, 2:19½, by Electioneer, will be raced this year.

THE last mare served by Boodle before going to Pleasanton was Aria (3), 2:16½; by Bernal, 2:17, son of Electioneer, sired by the Palo Alto Stock Farm.

ED. PYLE has a two-year-old filly by Conrad, brother of Anteeo 2:16½, and Antevolo 2:19½, out of the dam of Robbie P., 2:10½; of which he is very choice.

JACK FEEK has been visiting Boston. He is practically retired from the sulky since the will of his late millionaire patron Crouse made him a wealthy man.

MATANGO, by Truman, 2:12, out of Memento, by Electioneer, and Merix, by Langton, 2:21½; out of Mary Lodge, by Electioneer, have been bred to Esron Rogers, 2:10½.

It is said that Abdallah Tranby, son of Stredler's C. M. Clay, Jr., and thoroughbred Strategem, by Capt. Beerd, is still living and vigorous at twenty-eight, and doing stud service in Texas.

THE Ohio stallion, J. C. Simpson, 2:27½; brother of Anteeo, 2:17½, and Antevolo, 2:19½, by Electioneer, will be raced this year, and is booked for a mark equaling that of his fastest brother.

CRACK stallions are held at high figures. The sum of $15,000 has been refused for Pat L., 2:09½; Benton M., 2:10, has been priced at $10,000 and $5,000 was refused and $8,000 asked for McVera, 2:10½.

BELLE MARTIN, 2:25, by Tom Corwin, is one of the largest trotters on the American turf. She is said to be 17½ hands high, and has shown speed enough to justify the owner in believing she can beat 2:15.

NETTIE NUTWOOD, dam of Hillsdale, 2:15; has foaled a beautiful filly by Iran Alto, 2:19½; the game son of Palo Alto, 2:08½. She will be bred to Boodle, 2:12½. She is the property of James W. Rea.

C. GRIFFITH of San Francisco will this year campaign Directina, by Direct, dam Stemwinder, by Venture. This three-year-old black filly is a full sister in blood to the greatest of all trotting stallions, Directum.

GEORGE MINNER, the Oregon horseman, will race the pacers Pathmont, 2:08½; Billy Frazier 2:14 and Altas, 2:25, and the trotter Hamrock, 2:17½ on the Montana Circuit. He also has two fast green ones in his care.

MCGINTY, the pacer sired by Jim Mulvanna, has no record. It was reported that he had. There is a McGinty in the East that has a record of 2:15½, and this must have misled those who claimed he had that record.

LOTTIE, the fast sidewheeler at Pleasanton, is already looking first class. He took a record of 2:09½ last season, which is not the limit of his speed by several seconds. He has already stepped a sixth heat in 2:15½ this season.

THE 2:12 trot at Anaconda has secured the phenomenal entry list of twenty-seven. The California trotters entered are Zombro, She, Letter B, Mamie Griffin, Marin Jr., Wayland W., Stam B, Monterey, Montana and Toggles.

BY-BY (sister to Lockheart, 2:09½) by Nutwood, 2:18½, foaled a beautiful bay filly by McKinney, 2:11½, last week. It is more than likely Mr. H. Pierce, the owner will breed the mare again to this grandly bred son of Alcyone.

DO NOT forget the sale of the San Mateo Stock Farm trotters takes place at the farm next Thursday. It will be a good place to get a first-class individual at a low price.

THERE will be plenty of material for the free-for-all pacing races this season. The following sidewheelers are in training on this Coast: Diahlo, Loupe, Welcome, Chehalis, Pathmont, H. Sanford, Medium, Fellfare, Weido J., W. Wood, Strehmont and Silkwood.

JOHN TILDEN's mare, Pussy Ivanhoe, that was shipped from Vancouver, Wash., to Red Oak, Ia., recently, has foaled a fine bay colt by Altamont. John says that the Altamont trotter Tenino, now in his string, is the fastest trotter he ever sat behind.

THOMAS J. WEEKS of Santa Cruz is the happy owner of a full brother to Ethel Downs, 2:13; sired by Boodle, 2:12½; dam Nutwood Weeks, by Nutwood, 2:18½. He says it is the finest colt he ever saw. He has named him Montgomery in honor of one of the owners of Boodle.

IRVINGTON CHIEF was known as Magnolia Chief. He was sired by Irvington (brother to Arthurton) out of a mare by Emigrant, second dam by Loomax. This horse was bred by Wm. Corbitt and owned by Prof. E. P. Hesld, who owned the Magnolia Stock Farm, Napa County at the time of his purchase.

THE free-for-all trotting class promises to be the leading attraction on the big circuit this season. Special interest is awakened by the reappearance of queen Alix, 2:03½, and the champion gelding, Azote, 2:04½. The class will include Beuzette, 2:06½, Fentssy, 2:06, Osoque, 2:08½, Klamath, 2:07½ and others.

FOR racing in single harness contests Gentry and Robert J. have specially fitted hicks weighing twenty-seven pounds each and they have one old-style high-wheel sulky which takes one back to the campaigns prior to 1892. It weighs thirty-eight pounds and will be used when Gentry and Robert J. take a shy at Joboston's mark of 2:06½, next summer.

ROBERT BONNER has presented to his son, A. A. Bonner, a very handsome young mare to breed to Alcantara. She is a sister to Cartridge, 2:14½, by Eldridge, dam Lady Stout three-year-old record 2:29, by Membrino Patchen. Eldridge is by Edward Everett, dam the great brood mare, Jessie Kirk (dam of Misjolica, 2:15; Miss Majolica, 2:24½), by Clark Chief.

THE celebrated Temple Bar case is expected to come up for trial in the courts of Cleveland within a few days, and a number of well-known horsemen are there to testify. The suit grew out of a race on the Cleveland track in July, 1891. Temple Bar was entered by Dr. Miles S. ordered Speer, his driver, out of the sulky and another driver put up. Temple Bar won the race.

W. B. FASIG has a faculty of getting hold of sensational performers for his sales which few other sale managers have. His latest additions to the list are to be sold during his Bloo Ribbon sale at Cleveland, in May, include Flying Jib, 2:04; Iego, 2:11; Newcastle, 2:11½; Quelly, 2:13½; Complex, 2:14½; Que Allen, 2:10½; Angelus, 2:12½, and many other fast record-holders.

HON. F. C. SAYLES, of Pawtucket, R. I., has won his suit against the New York and New England railroad for the recovery of $3,700 damages for the destruction of the mares, Fly Wheel, 2:35½, by Onward, dam Nancy Lee (dam of Nancy Hanks, 2:04), and Nola, 2:31½, by Atto Rex, 2:21½, dam by Mambrino Patchen, in a railway accident at Blackstone Junction, Mass., in the fall of 1895.

THE big bay gelding Aleck, by Alexander that was bred by John Lawler, of Petaluma, after repeatedly changing owners fell into the hands of M. Schweitzer, one of our leading wholesale butchers, a Mr. Hart, a nephew of Mr. Schweitzer, concluded to change Aleck's gait from pacing to trotting and last Saturday at the Petaluma track he drove him three heats at this gait in 2:29, 2:25 and 2:27½. Aleck will be a good 2:30 horse this year.

THE following are at the Tacoma Track: Holmdella (4), by Holmdell, 2:18½; dam by Buchanan, 2:22; second dam by Magna Charta; J. R. Brown, colt (2), by Holmdell, 2:13½; dam Bill Spreng, by Governor Sprague; one-year-old brown filly, full sister to J. R., Fred C., by Direct, 2:05½; dam Rosie C., 2:15½ (1); sorrel gelding Governor, by Celtic; he by General Grant, dam, Carrie C; Irvingham, bay stallion (7), by Hambletonian Mambruno, dam by Irvington, full brother to Arthurton.

HARRY E. WISE will ship his string of select trotters and pacers to Montana on Monday. He will enter them in all the meetings in California commencing with the State Fair. Following is the list of horses, they are under the care of Scott Holbrook, Monogram, by Fairmont, Lenna N. (p), 2:13, by Sidney; Madere, by Dexter Prince; Patsy, by Director; Vasto, 2:16½ by Vasco and Mabel by Prince Red. Everyone wishes this newcomer success for a more popular young man is not to be found anywhere.

IKE BRANDEN, a horse buyer for the Japen market, has an appointment to go to Lewiston, Idaho, to buy two carloads of horses. This buyer has made two shipments to this market and will ship 800 horses from Seattle May 15. This stock is intended for public works in Japen. Only good young horses of 1200 pounds weight are available. There seems to be no limit to the demand for strictly first class work horses. The horses average $200 a spin. It is necessary that the horses be perfectly gentle and well trained to harness.

HAVE you seen the splendid programme offered at the fall meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association. See the advertisement. The success of harness racing in California this year large depends on the number of entries received for this meeting. Other associations are waiting to see how well this programme fills before coming out with their announcements. If you are interested you should not only enter all of your own horses that you expect to have in training, but should work for the cause by doing all you can to induce your neighbors to make entries. This meeting will be held on the new track of the California Jockey Club at Oakland. It is one of the finest in the United States, and horsemen will be afforded every convenience, with excellent stalls for their horses.

CLINT NANNY, southwest of Hanford, lost, a few weeks ago, one of the largest, if not the largest, young horses (a four-year-old gelding) in the United States. He died from herbed wire cuts. He was measured after he was dead and his height was just one-half inch less than 19 hands. The tallest horse west of the Mississippi river has heretofore been one whose height was 18½ hands, owned by a party at Plymouth, Neb.

TRINKET 2:14, foaled 1875, brought $110 at the Boston spring sale last Friday. Her sister, Toto (dam of Felkeld 2:13½), went at $500. Alven Swift 2:10½, Ben Welker's old stand by, brought but $300. Navehoe, a four-year-old Arion, sold at $600. Nothing was bid in, judging by the omeas of the buyers in the published reports of the sale. J. Melcolm Forbes' consignment of thirteen head brought a total of $2,080, which is above the average; $293.25 as an average for undeveloped youngsters and aged brood mares is a good showing.

R. H. Brown of Petaluma, who was spoilt at the recent meeting of the California trotting horse breeders to interview Santa Rosa in regard to filling the date left open for a race meeting here during the first week in August, came up Monday and met a number of our prominent horsemen, says the Press. Santa Rosa can secure the meeting and no time should be lost in finding out just what kind of a proposition can be made to the breeders. The matter is being discussed by our horsemen and action will probably be taken very soon.—Santa Rosa Republican.

DAVID JACKS, one of the wealthiest landowners in Monterey County, has a select lot of fine trotting-bred horses, as well as the thoroughbred stallion Kingston (son of imp. Hercules). The principal trotting-bred stallions there are the Palo Alto bred horses Benefit 5327, by Gen. Benton, out of Lucetts, by Hambletonian 10, and Plato, a remarkably handsome bay colt by Electricity, 2:17½, out of Penelope (dam of Pedlar, 2:18½, and Peko, 2:24), by Mohawk Chief. Plato will sire horses that for style, action, perfect conformation and good dispositions will be hard to excel. H. S. Snodgrass, a prominent horseman, has charge of these horses.

MILLIONAIRE STINSON, of Chicago, who has had a brood of 136 blooded horses in Yakima county for a couple of years past, wired his representative, Mr. James, that money had been forwarded to pay outstanding obligations and to drive the horses across country to Minnesota. These horses have cost Mr. Stinson over $100,000, about $25,000 of which has been expended in Yakima county. Mr. Stinson has, in all, nearly 700 head and never a horse has been sold or disposed of with his consent. During the summer months he keeps about 100 horses in training on his private track near Chicago, and exercises them himself. He is eccentric on the subject of horses, and has money enough to gratify his whim.—Portland Oregonian.

In addition to the other objections made to the decisions of the judges at the Boston Horse Show, F. C. Sayles, of Pawtucket, R. I., has something to say on the awards in at least one brood-mare class. Nancy Hanks was placed first over Ellen Mayhew. On the subject the Boston Herald says: "Ellen Mayhew is eleven years old, sound, aired by Director, 2:17. Nancy Hanks is twelve years old, practically sound, sired by Happy Medium, who ranks, like Director, with the great sires. Ellen Mayhew has a record of 2:22, Nancy Hanks a record of 2:04, within one-fourth of a second of the present world's record. Ellen Mayhew is the dam of Oro Wilkes, three-year-old record 2:14½, who was the winner of the Kentucky Futurity, some $12,000, in his three-year-old form, out racing with aged horses (when four years old, trotted to a record of 2:11. What has Nancy Hanks produced? What has she done that she should be entitled to consideration as a brood mare? She is the dam of yearling filly Narion. That is all. A filly owned in Boston, yet not entered at the horse show."

EDWIN F. SMITH, Secretary State Agricultural Society, writes: "Fifty-four entries were received last week in the Stanford Stake as against twenty-nine the year before, which indicates that the breeding of high-class stock is still continuing, and the trotting interest, if properly handled, will soon be as remunerative as in years past. Breeders should continue in a limited way, as the conditions of trade regulate the demand for horses as much as any other article of trade. Horsemen are talking of the great falling off in values of their stock, it is not so in every line of business? And as this interest is listed as one of the luxuries of life, it must necessarily be the first to feel the blow of 'hard times.' All we need now is a return of prosperity in other avenues of trade to place the trotting horse interest where it properly belongs, as the ownership of a good trotter or a speedy roadster is what nine out of ten men like to enjoy if the financial conditions would warrant it. Two or three good wheat crops in California, at a price from $1.25 to $1.50 per cental, would insure a return of good prices for all classes of stock. We can but hope for them."

EVERYTHING is hustle and work among the stables that are quartered at Agricultural Park at the present time in anticipation of a successful spring meeting, and to fit their horses for the various district meets throughout the year. The horsemen anticipate a successful spring meeting in Sacramento this year, much more so than on any previous occasion. There are quite a number of trotters and pacers at work at the track, some of which are showing remarkable bursts of speed for the amount of work that they have had, and then again the programme for a circuit has been outlined so that there is some hope that an owner with a fairly good horse can go down the line in the expectation of at least making expenses. Horsemen have now begun to think, especially those of the light-harness brigade, that they have struck the worst phase in their business; that the turning point has been reached. By this is meant that the price of roadsters and good family horses, as well as those devoted to racing purposes, has gone to as low an ebb as it will reach. In support of this, they cite the fact that a horse that is any good for driving at all is worth more to-day than he was two years ago. Whether this be true or not, the fact nevertheless remains that trotters and pacers of known speed and endurance still command good prices in open market, and while they do not bring the fancy figure that they did in years gone by, when such horses as Axtell and Arion were sold for fabulous sums, a good racer still commands a price that warrants the breeder or owner in continuing to raise horses and to develop their speed.

Harvey Mc, 3.....	2:14 1-4	Sir Credit, 3.....	2:23	Pat Cooney, trial.....	2:19

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal.

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcyon (son of Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/2. He by Rhode Island, 2:23 1/2, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/2, Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/2, Wilmar, 2:25 1/4); by Hambletonian 10; grandam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great grandam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. I. Kennan mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by Imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15 1/2 hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect-made horses in America, having plenty of bone and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. # SEYMOUR WILKES, 2:08 1/2

(REGISTERED 0232)

— AT —

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.

TERMS—$25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, dam Early Bird, by Playmail (brother to Barney, 2:25 1/4); second dam Lucy, by Odd Fellow (son of Chlorotorm); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmail was by Mike 34 1/2 (he by Vermont 32, out of The Peniger mare), out of Kate McDonough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Saladin, 2:55 1/4).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands 1/2 and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrical of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy race horse are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and on his maternal side traces to the very best of sires and dams. He has an iron constitution, and all owners of good mares that want horses that will have breeding, size, bone, quality, good disposition and extreme speed should not overlook this horse. His service fee is placed at a very low figure considering his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

THOS. ROACH, Lakeville, Cal.

Mares can be shipped direct to the ranch via Steamer Gold. The best of care taken of them on the farm, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $3 per month.

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15 1/2 hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stake as a three-year-old, and in his four-year-old form, until he met Azote, 2:04 1/4 (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen M. Sber, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 925; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26 1/4). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly-proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfect in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37 1/2. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, dam Chantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:38), by Notwood, 2:18 1/4; second dam Crenon (dam of Lovelace, 2:20, and Betsy Britton, 2:25 1/2), by Princess 508; third dam Crave Lisee (dam of Baizarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:21; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few yearlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $410, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any yearlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred on a sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month. Hay and grain $10 per month.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

OAKLAND RACES.

Close of the Regular Season of Sport—Large Fields of Horses Compete in Nearly All the Races—Several Surprises Sprung.

EIGHTY-SIXTH DAY—FRIDAY, MAY 14.

There was one large surprise in store for race-goers this afternoon, and that was the win of Atticus in the first race. Against his chances the bookies freely laid 20 to 1, and several hung up 30 to 1 against the Flambeau gelding's chance of winning. All the other winners were well played, especially Dick, Sellie Clicquot and Una Colorado. Claudiane, the red-hot favorite in the first race, won easily by Atticus' just did manage to heat such a poor one as Cheridah a nose for the place. Nehuchadnezzar, the gama pony of the Elmwood Farm, shouldered his 109 lbs. end won the second by a very short head from another pony, Mollie R., Sam Leake the strong second choice, winding up "absolutely." Alme won the third in fine style, and Anabasis ought to have been second, but Taranto, the favorite, nosed him out. Dick beat the gate a bit in the fourth end was not headed, Lord Marmion finishing second and the 100 to 1 shot, St. Calatine third. Treachery took the fifth after a drive with Japonica and Billy McCloskey, a poor third, was declared a cadaver by those claiming to have superior knowledge. Sellie Clicquot just lasted to win the mile race, sixth on the programme, but bed a good strong finish been made on imp. Trance she would have won beyond any doubt. Una Colorado, heavily played at 5 and 6 to 1, took the last in race horse style, being cut off and forced to run around his horses. King William finished second, a head before the 150 to 1 shot, Marionette. Freeman and Clawson rode two winners apiece.

The first race was for three-year-olds, six furlongs, selling. Flambeaetta led to the homestretch, Atticus, Viking, Widow Jones and Claudiane well up. Atticus came fast in the homestretch, and won off by two length easily, Claudiane just landing the place by a scant head from the fast-coming Cheridah, who beat Hallelnjah a small margin. Time, 1:17½. Atticus was at 30 to 1, Claudiane even money, Cheridah 60, Widow Jones 4, others 8 to 100 to 1.

The second race was at seven furlongs. To a good start Nehuchadnezzar and Decision ran in close order past the quarter and half. Mollie R. then moved up second, and was lapped on Nehy in the homestretch, the latter winning driving by a scant head, Mollie R. second, eight lengths before Thelma. Gold Boy ran wall for about six furlongs, then died away. Sam Leake had no run in him to-day. The time was 1:30. Nehuchadnezzar was at 8 to 5, Mollie R. 15 (20 to 1 once), Thelma 9, Sam Leake 13 to 5, Benham 4 to 1, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The third race was at six and a half furlongs. Away to a start, Reel set the pace, Chappie being nearest her passing the half. Alma came fast nearing the three-quarters and her head showed in front of Reel's as they swept into the homestretch, though Anabasis was well up. Alma was never after in difficulty, winning handily by one and a half lengths. Taranto getting the place in the last strida by a nose, Anabasis third. Time, 1:23½. Alma was at 8 to 5, Taranto 7 to 5, Anabasis 8 to 1, Tempestuous and Reel 6, Cousin Joa 8, others 10 to 100 to 1.

In the fourth, half a mile, two-year-olds, Dick, the favorite, beat the gate a little and led Lord Marmion by less than a length into the homestretch, where St. Calatine was third and coming fast. Dick was not headed and won handily by two lengths, Lord Marmion second, half a length before St. Calatine, Twinkle fourth, heading a bunch. Time, 0:49½. Dick was at 9 to 10, Lord Marmion 4 to 1, St. Calatine 60, others 8 to 100 to 1.

In the fifth, mile and a furlong, they got away to a good start and Rapido went into the lead, with Fullerton Lass as his closest attendant. He held his command until the homestretch was reached, where Treachery and Japonica came through, Treachery winning driven out by a length, Japonica second, turea lengths before Billy McCloskey. Time, 1:57½. Treachery was at 8 to 5, Japonica 7 to 1, Billy McCloskey 2 to 1 (8 to 5 at opening), Fullerton Lass 8, others 20 to 100 to 1.

A mile race came sixth. Sallie Clicquot led all the way, with Diahilita at her heels clear into the homestretch, Trance third. Clicquot wanted to quit, but managed to lest out and win by half a length from the badly-ridden Trance, who beat Con Moto three parts of a length, Diahilita another head away, lapped by Velox. Time, 1:43½. Sallie Clicquot was at 13 to 5 (4 to 1 once), Trance 4 to 1, Con Moto 15, Velox 4½, others 11 to 40 to 1.

The concluding race was at six and a half furlongs. To a good start, except for Lucky Star and Cardwell, Horetio, away fourth, led by a head past the half, Treppen second, one and a half lengths before Marionette. Una Colorado was pocketed and taken behind the bunch, to the outside. It looked very bad for him about this time. Horatio led Treppen by a small margin into the homestretch, and Una Colorado who bed come up like a flash, was third, well up. He assumed the lead when about a sixteenth of a mile from home, and won handily by two lengths, King William and Marionette coming fast on the inside and finishing second and third, close together, a neck before Sly. Horatio and Treppen stopped badly the last part of it. Time, 1:23½. Una Colorado was at 4 to 1 (7 once), King William 12, Marionette 150, Horatio 3½, Sly 5, others 6 to 40 to 1.

EIGHTY-SEVENTH DAY—SATURDAY, MAY 15.

In the first race, five and a half furlongs, Esael led to the homestretch, where San Tuzza came through and won driving by a nose from Crescendo, who was off poorly end not fit, Esael third, four lengths off. Time, 1:08½. San Tuzza was at 12 to 1, Crescendo 2 to 5, Esael 15, Blue Bell 6, Del Paso 8, others 20 to 75 to 1. Crescendo headed San Tuzza in the last sixteenth, but she shook him off and fairly outgamed the celebrity.

In the second, five furlongs, for two-year-olds, Elsmore showed first, but was closely attended by Kosoromonde to the homestretch, Salabar and Torsida close together. Torsida was coming through very fast when Hennessy, on Elsmore, deliberately pulled in, fouling her terribly, Salabar winning driven out by two lengths, Elsmore second, three from Torsida, Count of Flanders fourth. The judges promptly disqualified Elsmore, placing Torsida second and Count of Flanders third. The time was 1:02½. The decision was an eminently just one. Salabar was at 2 to 1, Torsida 3½ to 1, Count of Flanders 12, Elsmore 4, others 12 to 200 to 1.

In the third, six furlongs, Horatio led Peixotto by half a length passing the half, but at the three quarters positions were reversed, Horatio came to the front again in the homestretch and won handily by one and one-half lengths, Fortune finishing second, two lengths from Flashlight, who beat Taranto a head for show. Time, 1:15½. Horatio was at 10 to 1, Fortunata 8, Flashlight 2½ to 1, Peixotto 3, Una Colorado 5, others 20 to 150 to 1.

In the fourth, one mile, they got a good start after George Palmer had broken the harrier and Lady Hurst led a small margin clear around to the homestretch, Lost Girl, Sly and Nebula followig. Lost Girl got to the fore in the homestretch and won handily by two lengths, George Palmer nipping the place by a nose from Nebula in the last stride. Time, 1:43½. Lost Girl was at 5 to 1, George Palmer 3½, Nebula 3½, others 7 to 100 to 1.

The fifth race was at a mile and a quarter. Walter J. sat a red-hot pace, leading Miss Ruth by a length at the stand, by three lengths at the quarter and by six lengths at the half-pole. At this time Walter was going so strongly it appeared as if he must "win a block." However, he commenced coming back in the next quarter, and at the head of the homestretch it was Walter J. first by three lengths, Miss Ruth second, one and a half lengths before Judge Denny (the favorite), on whom Collins was lapped. Judge Denny and Collins passed Walter J. in the final furlong, and in a mild sort of drive Danny won by a neck, Collins second, six lengths from Walter J. third. Time, 2:08½. Judge Danny was at 9 to 10, Collins 10 to 1, Walter J. 15, Pater the Second (who ran a very strange race) 3, others 10 to 100 to 1.

The sixth and concluding race of the regular meeting was at seven furlongs. Midas and Olive ran in close order to the homestretch, where the former shut up his racing shop quickly, doubtless taking "a sudden notion." Montallada, third, looked much like a winner in the homestretch and was heralded as such, but Sea Spray, 40 to 1 in the betting, had all his speed to-day, and steeling up like a ghost on the outside, won cleverly by half a length, Montallade second, as far from Olive, who nosed Mainstay out. Time, 1:23 flat—a fine run with 110 lbs. up. Sea Spray was at 40 to 1, Montallade 2, Olive 15, Midas 2, others 8 to 80 to 1.

RACING FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE.

Description of the Running Events at Ingleside
Last Tuesday and Wednesday.

FIRST EXTRA DAY—TUESDAY, MAY 18.

Just a fair crowd attended the charity races at Ingleside this afternoon, and it is presumed that many ticket-purchasers remained at home. The card looked easy, but it was as hard as Sherkey's jew, end some of the rides put up would have caused life disqualification if Wyatt Earp had been presiding judge. Towanda, the favorite in the first race, was the leader to the homestretch, and just why she should be taken from the inside to the outside is not quite apparent to those in search of a reason for such things. At any rate, she finished well toward that part of the course end was heeten just a head by Los Prietos. In the second it looked as if at least two of the six horses in the race were not going to collepsa through their efforts to win. The ride George Palmer got will probably be remembered for many moons by the admirers of that three-year-old. He beat Adam Andrew with ease the other day at Oakland, to-day, at equal weights Adam Andrew finishes six lengths in front of Georgie. Even if they are racing for a cberitable object, when such things go on those occupying the judges' stand should hit somebody a good, solid jolt in some spot where, it'll sting for several moments. Peixotto turned a very gandy somersault when he won the fourth race, six and a half furlongs, in track record time, 1:21½. The last time out, at Oakland, he was beaten a block going six furlongs, quitting after he had run about five. Collins beat the red-hot favorite, San Marco, quite cleverly, in the fifth, but the latter was not ridden as well as Marty Bergen usually pilots a horse. Con Moto won the last by three lengths, stopping quite badly in the homestretch, then coming again.

The first race was at five furlongs, for two-year-olds. To a good start for all but Bonnia Ione, Towanda soon took the lead, and was closely attended by Miss Remsen to the homestretch. Los Prietos came with a great rush at the end and won cleverly by a head, Towanda second, half a length before Miss Remsen, the rest not in it. Time, 1:03½. Los Prietos was at 5 to 1, Towanda 3 to 5, others 20 to 50 to 1.

The second race, seven furlongs, selling, had six starters. Adam Andrew and Georga Palmer ran close together for a quarter of a mile, then Atticus went up second. Adam Andrew was not headed and won easily by two and one-half lengths from the badly-ridden Velox, who beat Atticus two lengths. Pigott gave Georga Palmer a ride that caused a lot of adverse comment. The time was 1:30. Adam Andrew was at 2 to 1, Velox 4½, Atticus 15, Georga Palmer even money, Alsan 15 and James Porteous 100 to 1.

In the third, six furlongs, they got away to a good start and San Tuzza showed first by a small margin for over a furlong, then Mercutio drew to the front, leading her by half a length at the half and King William by a head at the three-quarters. Thara was a hard drive between the leaders all the way down the homestretch, King William winning by a head, Mercutio second, a head before the fast-coming McLight, who would have won in another stride. Time, 1:16. King William was at 1 to 2, Mercutio 3½ to 1, McLight 25 to 1, San Tuzza 7, others 20 to 100 to 1.

A six and one-half furlong race was fourth on the programme. To a good start after considerable had acting had bean indulged in, Peixotto went out in the lead and was never caught, though Mainstay was close up clear into the homestretch. The latter had enough a sixteenth from home, and Peixotto won off by six lengths, easily, Mainstay second twenty from Logan, on whom William O'R. was lapped. It was a great somersault for Peixotto. The time was 1:21½—equalling the track record. Peixotto was at 4½ to 1, Mainstay 4 to 5, Logan 8, Veragua 3½, William O'B. 50 to 1.

In a mile and a sixteenth race, fifth on the programme, San Marco and Daylight ran in close order to the homestretch, where Collins came through, and getting a good ride, won driving by half a length, San Marco, who got a rather weak ride at the finish, second, with Ransom at his heels. Time, 1:50. Collins was at 4½ to 1, San Marco 11 to 10, Ransom 10, others 12 to 100 to 1.

The last race of the day was at a mile. After they had been making hook for about fifteen minutes it was discovered that Horatio was ineligible, as he had won races to the number of three within a certain period. Twenty minutes were then given for the making of a new hook. Con Moto went right to the fore, and led a bunch by four lengths at the quarter, Trance by two lengths at the half and three-quarters. The New Zealand mare passed Con Moto in the homestretch and appeared to be winning easily, but Con Moto came again with renewed vigor and to the surprise of almost everyone, won off by three lengths, imp. Trance second, a length before Jack Martin, who had been close to France all the way. Time, 1:43½. Con Moto was at 3½ to 1, Trance 8 to 5, Jack Martin 15 (25 once), Treachery and Marcel (coupled) 9 to 5, Kai Moi 60 to 1.

SECOND EXTRA DAY—WEDNESDAY, MAY 19.

In the first, four and a half furlongs, for two-year-olds, St. Calatine, off second, rushed to the front, and leading all the way, won with ease by six lengths, Milesio second, half a length before Rosa. Morabella had no speed. Time, 0:56. St. Calatine was at 4 to 1, Milesio 8 to 5, Rosa 25, Los Prietos 6, others 12 to 60 to 1.

In the second race, six furlongs, Corriente and Joan ran in close order for about half a mile, then Joan came to the fore and won with ease by two lengths, Heartsease (who did not get straightened away until the last furlong) second, two lengths before Doughtful, who was one and a half from Jack Martin. Don Gara was virtually left. The time was 1:16. Joan was at 6 to 1, Heartsease 3½, Ricardo 3, Corriente 6, others 10 to 100 to 1.

A seven-furlong race was third on the programme. To a good start Sallie Clicquot soon got to the fore, leading Trance by one and a half lengths at the half, Horatio a good third, a head before San Tuzza. Sallie Clicquot was two lengths to the good at the three-quarters, Trance, Horatio and McLight close together. San Tuzza came very fast in the homestretch, where Sallie Clicquot stopped, and in a fierce drive she was first by a head from Trance, at whose heels came Horatio, he a head before King William. Time, 1:29. San Tuzza was at 6 to 1, Trance 10, Horatio 6, King William 2½, Sallie Clicquot 3, others 10 to 30 to 1.

In the fourth, one mile, they got away to a fair start and Mercutio got to the front and led by a small margin passing the quarter and by a length at the half-pole, Coda second at the latter point, a length from Olive. Mercutio was a length to the good at the three-quarters, Coda second, lapped by Olive. San Marco, fourth, came through in the homestretch, and getting a good ride, won by one and one-half lengths, Olive second, three lengths from Mercutio, who appeared, however, to be beaten a head for show by Coda. Time, 1:42½. San Marco was at 2 to 1 (2½ once), Olive 5, Mercutio 8, Coda 10, Velox 3½, others 10 to 100 to 1.

The fifth was at six furlongs. To a good start Quicksilver led Mainstay by a head passing the half, then Mainstay took up the running, leading Quicksilver by two lengths at the three-quarters, six lengths in the homestretch, and winning easily by three lengths, Logan, driven out, second, half a length before Pat Murphy, who beat Fly as far. Time, 1:15½. Mainsay was at 8 to 5, Logan 20, Pat Murphy 2½, Quicksilver 8, Tim Murphy 30 to 1.

The last race was at a mile, and after one break away and recall (Mollie R. being left) they got away to a good send-off. Tempestuous led the way clear around to the homestretch, closely attended by Mollie R. Nearly everyone expected to see Mollie R. out-game her younger companion, but it came the other way, Tempestuous making the little mare stop and having enough left to who himself by a head from the fast-moving William O'B, who beat O'Flota two lengths. The latter did not make his run soon enough. The time made was 1:44—a very slow run. Tempestuous was at 6 to 1, William O'B 10, O'Flota 4, Mollie R. 2, others 4½ to 100 to 1.

THE COLUSA RACES.

Some Fast Stock on the Colusa Track—Veteran Turfmen are Eulogistic.

The second heat in the 2:28 class, trot, Thursday afternoon was sent to an excellent start. Duke went to the front, Maud next. They passed the first quarter in :36½, Maud broke on the back stretch and lost her chance. They passed the half pole at 1:14 Duke still leading as they came down the homestretch. Patta Rosa closed up to Duke and as they passed under the wire, both drivers urging their horses, Duke was in the lead, Patti Rosa a close second, Brigadier third and Maud fourth; time 2:28 flat.

In the third heat they went to the half pole, Duke in the lead, in 1:14, the three quarter pole in 1:51 and down the stretch they came Duke still in the lead, and the occupants of the grand stand cheered him on to victory, for it was Duke's heat again and everybody was glad. Patta Rosa was second, Brigadier third and Maud fourth; time 2:28 flat.

The fourth and last heat was won by E. C. Peart's Duke; time 2:27½; Patta Rosa second, Brigadier third and Maud fourth. They all got off together, Duke took the lead and kept it all the way around, therefore winning the race and money.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Although the north wind was blowing a perfect gale there was a fair-sized crowd at the track this afternoon when the judges called the horses up to get ready for the three-minute trotting race; best 3 in 5; for a purse of $75. The starters were Arrow, owned by C. F. Taylor and driven by owner; Prince owned by Mr. Martin and driven by owner; Candy Joe, owned by Buckman & Carriagar of Sacramento, driven by Bennett. They got off to the satisfaction of the judges in the third attempt. They passed the quarter pole in 36 seconds with Prince in the lead who won the heat in 2:24 and almost accomplished his object. Candy Joe was second and Arrow third.

The second heat was also sent off to a pretty start. Prince going right to the lead, passed the half-mile pole in 1:11½.

Here Prince broke and the yell went up that the heat would be Candy Joe's, but his driver soon brought him down and right here the people saw one of the prettiest heats of the week. Prince almost flew as he closed up the gap before they turned into the homestretch and down they came ock and ock, Prince going under the wire first; time 2:24 flat.

The third heat was started after several trials. They went down to the first quarter in 35½ seconds, Prince in the lead. Down the backstretch Prince fairly flew, opening up a large gap which Candy Joe could not lessen, and jogged under the wire, winning the race in three straight heats. Candy Joe was second and Arrow third; time, 2:24½.

The next race on to-day's card was a trotting race, best 2 in 3, for two-year-olds, for a purse of $80. The starters were Geo. Buckman, driven by Bennett; Colusa Boy, driven by Peart; Sacramento Belle, driven by H. S. Hogohoom, and Jody, driven by J. D. Rice. They had no trouble in getting away. Sacramento Belle and Geo. Buckman passed the quarter neck and neck in 50 seconds, the half pole in 1:36, Colusa Boy and Cody straggling along behind and passing the half pole in 1:54½. They reached the turn and passed under the wire, Sacramento Belle first, Buckman second, Jody third and Colusa Boy last; time, 3:00½.

The second heat of the trotting race for two-year-olds was gotten off at the fifth trial. The wind was blowing a perfect gale as the youngsters went up the first stretch. The half pole was passed with Sac. Belle in the lead, 1:25½; Buckman second, 1:34½; Jody third, 1:44½; Colusa Boy last, 1:56½. They were strung out four or five lengths between horses as they started for home, which they reached in the following order: Sac. Belle first, winning the race and money in straight heats, time 2:54; Geo. Buckman second and second money; Jody third, and Colusa Boy going under the wire on a gallop in his time, five minutes flat.

The last race on the card to-day was the hurdle, one mile and one-eighth, over four jumps. There were only three starters, Ravine, W. E. Stewart rider; Joe Hill, Hanna rider; Geo. Dickerson, Eshbury rider. The horses were gotten off together at the first start. Ravine was the first over the first hurdle and led to the first quarter when Joe Hill went to the front and was in the lead over all the other jumpers, winning in 2:09. It was a beautiful exhibition of hurdling and created a lot of excitement.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

The heavy north wind and the uncertainty of to-day's card had the effect of drawing the smallest crowd of any day of the races.

The first number on the programme was a trotting race for a purse of $75 and brought out the following horses: Tilton B., owned by Steve Baker and driven by E. Donnelly; Bird, owned by S. Onyett and driven by H. Isom; Patta Rosa, owned by D. E. Knight and driven by Wm. Hogohoom; Duke, owned by E. C. Peart and driven by owner. They scored quite a number of times before they got off to the satisfaction of the judges, but when they did go they were in a bunch. Duke led off and passed the quarter-pole first in 34½ seconds, then Tilton B. shot ahead and in this position they passed the half-pole in 1:11½, and around the upper turn Tilton B. still leading. Here Patta Rosa closed up the gap and as they turned the stretch and started for home Duke had lost his chance and was in fourth place. They finished the mile Tilton B. first, Patta Rosa a close second, Bird third and Duke last; time, 2:24½.

The horses were brought out for the second heat and sent off together the third trial. They passed the first quarter, Tilton B. in the lead, in 37½, the half-pole in 1:12½ and the three-quarter pole in 1:48½. Down the stretch Billy Hogohoom tried hard to pass Tilton B., but his efforts were in vain, and they passed under the wire Tilton B. in the lead, Patta Rosa second, Duke third and Bird fourth; time, 2:25½.

The third and last heat in this race was won by Tilton B., winning the race and money in three straight heats, Patta Rosa second, Duke third and Bird last; time, 2:25 flat.

The first heat of the second race was started at the first attempt. It was a beautiful sendoff and as the three horses rounded the first turn it was hard to tell which one was leading. The quarter pole was passed in 41½ seconds and as they went down the back stretch Jim Nesbitt and Morengo looked like a double team, so near were they together. By the half-mile pole they went in 1:19½, the three quarter pole in 1:59½ and down the homestretch they came Moose and Nesbitt neck and neck passing under the wire in 2:39½, Moose first, Jim Nesbitt second and Morengo last.

The horses were called out for the second heat and sent off to a good start the second trial. They passed the half pole in the same time as in the first heat, 1:19½. Moose was in the lead and kept it, going under the wire with Jim Nesbitt second and Morengo third; time 2:39½.

The horses were called and sent down for a start in the third heat. There was some complaint made that Morengo was not being driven fast enough, and his driver, Taylor, was taken from the sulky and Chas. Durfee was substituted. The horses were sent off the second time. The new driver immediately sent Morengo to the lead and passed the quarter pole in 0:41½, the half pole in 1:20½ and the three-quarter in 1:59. Moose tried hard to close up the gap, but it was impossible. The new driver knew his business and came under the wire, winning out in faster time than either of the preceding heats, Moose second, Jim Nesbitt distanced; time, 2:36½. The crowd cheered and were satisfied they had got a run for their money. In the two preceding heats this horse broke two or three times and only saved his distance by a small margin. The new order of things made quite a change in the pool box.

In the fourth heat the horses were gotten off together the first time. Again the new driver went to the front. It was a beautiful contest and daylight did not show between the two until they had passed the half mile pole, which was accomplished in 1:16. The turn was made, and as they started down the homestretch Mr. Durfee let out one more link in Morengo's gait and he opened up a gap which Moose was unable to close, and they passed under the wire Morengo first, Moose second; time, 2:36 flat.

The runners were called out to warm up, after which the trotters were sent down for their fifth and last start. The hammer fell to a fine start and they were off, both fighting hard for supremacy as they went down the back stretch and passed the half-mile pole in 1:19½. On they went Morengo going along as steady as a piece of machinery, down the stretch and under the wire, winning the three last heats, race and money; time 2:36½.

The last race on the programme of the most successful week of racing ever held in Colusa, was a half-mile dash with four starters as follows: Lolo with Eshbury up, Venus, with

Wathen up, Jim Bozeman with McDonald up and Elare with Spurgeon up. They were gotten off in a bunch after a great deal of trouble. They ran close together until the stretch was reached, when Venos pulled ahead and went under the wire with her jockey looking back at the rest; Bozeman second, Lolo third, Elare last; time 48½.

Rosormonde—A Correction.

"It is probable that Neglee Burke will not take a string across the Rockies this season, as he has nothing of great promise in the stable excepting Rosormonde. A rest, with green feed ought to do her good, as she was practically starved and stunted when he took possession of her."

The above paragraph, copied from the "Examiner," was inadvertently published in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN May 15th. It does a great injustice to the Palo Alto Stock Farm and its management in its reference to the condition Rosormonde was in when transferred by Mr. Naglee Burk. There never was a farm nor is there to-day any in America where better care is taken of every foal in the way of feeding, shelter, etc., than Palo Alto. From the date of foaling (he the youngster of high or lowly origin) the greatest care is taken of it, and in Rosormonde's case especial interest was always shown. Sired by Ormonde out of Fairy Rose, one of the best-bred and finest mares on the place, everyone looked upon her as being one of the best ever foaled; consequently, nothing was spared for her. She grew rapidly, but just previous to the transfer she had a slight attack of influenza, which naturally gave her a little setback, but she recovered rapidly, and to-day, while being a small mare, has fully verified the predictions of Messrs. Covey and Lathrop, which were made when she was a suckling, that she would be a grand race mare. So far as the practically stunting or starving of youngsters at either Palo Alto or Vina is concerned, there could not be a statement more untrue, and we regret exceedingly that such a statement should appear in this journal.

STERLING, Neb., Jan. 28, 1897.

MR. YOUNG, Dear Sir:—Please find enclosed draft of $2, or which please send me one bottle of Absorbine. This makes the thirteenth bottle, I think, I have used, and I find merit in each.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

THE AGRICULTURAL PRESS

ANENT

HORSE-RACING AND HORSE-BREEDING.

The impression has apparently become fixed in the minds of a few, that a paper "devoted to farming interests" can be of service to those who are engaged in breeding fast horses, and also a benefit to those who race, train and drive them. There are good reasons for a contrary belief, at least when a paper for many years has denounced racing and all connected with fast horses, racecourses and trotting tracks, it is a stretch of a very vivid imagination to claim that a contrary course will be relished either by the people who read and endorsed its former teachings, or those whom it would fain make believe that its previous utterances are to be accepted in a "Pickwickian sense," and that all the time, [notwithstanding its violent denunciations, henceforth there would be nothing but eulogies.

It is well known that a large majority of farmers are bitterly opposed to racing. Even when well aware that agricultural exhibitions cannot be made profitable without the aid of the speed department there is pronounced antagonism, and though Californian ruralists are more liberal in their views than tillers of the soil in other parts of the country, very many of them would rather forego the fairs than have them connected with racing in any shape. To prove this I quote from the Pacific Rural Press, April 27th, 1895:

"Each month the Rural Press receives some hundreds of letters from farmers, but this far, since the veto—a month ago—not one in protest against the Governor's action. Within this time the editor has personally visited half the counties in the State, talking everywhere with farmers, but he has not heard a word from any of them in criticism of the veto. None of the farmer's associations—neither the Grange, the Alliance nor the Institutes—so far as we can learn, has had a word to say against the veto."

If this does not establish the position then direct testimony, presented by the leading agricultural journal of the Pacific Coast must be disregarded. Emphatic and to the point.

The veto of two years ago, that broke up the District Fairs, so thoroughly endorsed by the "honest and sincere of the land," that an executive who looked for the future support of that influential body of citizens could not fail to repeat the dose which had been swallowed with so much unctious and approval.

I feel perfectly safe in asserting, that with few exceptions, in truth, not a single paper, which ranks as a prominent agricultural journal, that would risk its patrons by following the course which its contemporaries of turf and track has marked.

Coleman's Rural World, one of the oldest and ablest of the class gives some attention to fast trotters and pacers, though that department is subordinate to the others, and however prejudiced a person may be, however set against fast horses when the fund of valuable information outside of the track, is set before him every week, one who protested against the few columns of "horse" the hypercriticism could safely be ascribed to "pure cussedness." If that paper declines to follow the steps of editors, who make fast horses their special business it is not likely that any other will attempt the route. Established by Mr. Norman J. Coleman within a year of half a century ago, since that time a successful breeder of fast horses, and so skillful in managing training and driving them in races that there were few his superior; now conducted by his son, who is sensible enough to be guided by the long experience of his father, if the Rural World does not give more prominence to the "sport" what paper will?

The Breeders Gazette is quite ready to give the breeding of horses due consideration, and though it is not often that I have the opportunity to read it now, as little of my time is spent in the rooms of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN, and it is not received at home, when I did read it regularly was much pleased with the matter it contained. Information has been obtained, however, that the B. G. took an active part in securing the passage of the Wisconsin law, and glories in the advocacy of a measure which the Spirit of the Times characterizes thus:

"The first effect of the Anti-pool law in Wisconsin is the announcement that one of the principal associations of the State, which usually holds two meetings each year and sometimes three, will not open its gates this season. Many prominent trotting associations in Iowa, Illinois, Ohio and other Western States, have announced their dates and programmes, but there is not one trotting association in the State of Wisconsin that has any stakes or purses advertised. This is a state of affairs deeply to be regretted."

The Spirit advises the absolute closing of tracks for two years, which will awaken such an outcry that the next Legislature will repeal the offensive law.

The passage of that law is not a great deal more injurious to the horse interests of Wisconsin than the vetoing of the appropriation for the district fairs is to California. Not so much so to the general interests, as the closing of so many many exhibitions affects all rural pursuits.

The American Agriculturist, Boston, Mass., years ago, paid a good deal of attention to fast horses, but the editor and publisher had the good sense to see that it would be better to segregate the department and in 1889 the horse part was eliminated and The American Horse Breeder established. A good paper from the start, and a capital one now, and I have no doubt that The American Agriculturist is also very high in its "class."

Agricultural papers are very good reading. Favorites of mine and heartily appreciated when in a position to make use of their counsel, and still would be relished were there time for perusal. Lived on a farm from twelve years old to sixteen, and assisted in "clearing" a good many acres of Pennsylvania forests. Until coming to California, and from soon after marriage, fifty years ago, short periods when I did not own and reside on a farm, and unhappy when one was sold till another was secured. A year ago I saw apple trees that I planted twenty inches in diameter, and the first thing on a lately acquired farm was to plant trees, and graft those already growing when not up to a certain standard.

Therefore I can safely say that there is no prejudice on my part against agricultural papers, but just as truly assert that the course many of them have pursued of late years has been detrimental to the interests nearest my heart.

And the late maneuver to bring into active competition with the turf journals, now published here, a paper which has done so much to injure the cause has brought regret and also awakened feelings; not the kindest, against those who engineered the scheme. The paper and its editor I have no ill-feeling against, and regard the attempt to increase the circulation laudable on his part.

THE BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN.—The first of July 1897 will be the fifteenth anniversary of the first issue of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN.

Not a great many years when measured by the life of man; a small part of the one hundred and twenty-one years of this great nation. Wonderful progress in that brief space of time, and the world has wagged along right merrily to the tune of advance in many of the sciences, especially when electricity has been a factor.

The Horse World has not stood still and feats have been accomplished since the first of July, 1882, which, if predicted then, would have brought torrents of ridicule on the prophet.

California had gained some reputation when the first number of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN was published. Nine years before that Occident had an equal share in the record. In 1890, Sweetheart set the two-year-old mark at 2:26 and a fraction, and soon after Fred Crocker took a slice off by trotting in 2:25. Wildflower in 1881 raised a great commotion in the harness-racing fraternity by making 2:21, some months before she ranked as a three-year-old, and then came the outcry that the California tracks were short and that the watches which measured the time of antique pattern. But it is recorded in No. 15 of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN that Wildflower won the Malt Stakes, Fleetwood, N. Y., in straight heat, distancing two of her competitors, after such a severe attack of the pink eye that she could not be shown at the State Fair, two stoppages in her work and the long journey to tell against her speed and endurance. Then in No. 17 there is an account of the victory of Hinda Rose in the Lexington Stakes for two-year-olds, distancing five of the seven which started in the second heat. It seemed a favorable omen that from the time the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN was fairly under way that California went with such rapid bounds to the front as the breeding grounds and nurseries for great horses, as to take a front rank, the foremost, in fact, when the late date of engaging in the business is a factor in the calculation, and that the "record book," in which the history is fully chronicled should be awarded some praise for the part it has performed.

Should ever a history of the horse in California be written, the author will obtain from the volumes of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN authentic information from the time of the first issue a great portion of which could not be secured from any other source. And this has been gathered compiled and published at a heavy loss to those who engaged in the venture.

The only hearing this has on any question connected with the horse in California, is, that the present proprietor has a right to expect that past services shall not be overlooked, and, that so long as the paper continues in the course it has followed for the past fifteen years, the machinations of a few should not be permitted to work it an injury.

Protestations of friendship are not as conclusive as action, and, as heretofore shown, acts told a contrary tale. Threats that another paper would be started in opposition, though these were simply vaunts when it is so well known, that to carry them out a "heap" of coin would be sunk in the enterprise. The opposition based on articles written by me, but hugely pleased to state that outside of a few malcontents everything published in this paper on the late engrossing topic has met the approval of those who are the most interested.

It may be well to state, that since I sold my portion of the paper to Messrs. White and Kerr, I have had no proprietary interest in it, and the chief motive for ardently desiring its continued success is sentiment. More than a gratification to have the paper which I christened, and had a share in its founding; that I wrought anxiously for and made sacrifices to secure it from collapse for seven years, should prosper, whoever the ownership was vested in, so long as it was an ardent laborer in the work it was established to forward. Started on a broad platform, and the promises made carried out so far as circumstances permitted fulfillment, and the "planks" omitted, as they were found troublesome to sustain, were certainly of minor importance to the main covenant, and it gives me the utmost pleasure to state that the present proprietor, Mr. W. G. Layng, says that whenever the circulation is such as to afford means for the necessary enlargement, all that is embraced in the salutatory will be given a place. About all the departments omitted since the paper was established are "The Stage," "Yachting," "Athletics," "Billiards," "Chess" and "Whist."

By request, and as an exemplification of the purpose of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN the leading editorial, No. 1 Vol. 1 is appended.

GREETING.

To those who prefer the sunny side of life, who appreciate the many enjoyments the Great Creator has placed within our reach, who are not held in bondage by fanaticism; to see merit in gloom, and to consider all diversions frivolous, if not absolutely wicked; to those who can discover the golden edging to the blackest cloud, and who have faith that there is always a silver lining within the shadow; to those who seek to make the bright days brighter, and who are earnest in their endeavors to increase the happiness of all, our greeting is presented.

There is implanted in every human being a desire for enjoyment. In place of trying to eradicate it as a pernicious propensity, our effort will be to direct it so that it may be beneficially indulged. Believing that there is little virtue in austerity, or salvation in asceticism, our aim will be to follow paths which lead in other directions.

By the side of the mountain brook, when the Spring flowers are blooming, and the linnets and robins are singing their liveliest notes; through the forests, when there is quiet and fragrance, and where the interlocking branches form giant arches, and the music of the breeze sighing through the twigs;

Among verdant fields, where foals are gamboling around their dams, and the lowing of cattle and the bleating of sheep welcoming the herdsman and shepherd;

Over the glad waters, where the spray is sparkling in the sunshine, and the white sails are in a tremor, and the masts quivering in the excitement of motion, swift, and as graceful as the flight of the seagull;

By the side of the racecourse, when there is an eager strife for mastery, and the blood bounds through the veins and arteries, and there are shouts and cheers, and an intensity of feeling indescribable;

On the plains, where the fleet corner flits by like the shadows of cloudlets over a waving grainfield when there is a brisk wind driving the fleecy fragments of vapor between earth and sun;

Under the lee of the cyprip, when the flag-tailed setter or stannoch pointer is transformed into a statue, and then the whirl of wings, the sharp report, and the puff of smoke vanishing in the clear air; Through orchards, crimson with the flowers of the peach and almond, white with the bloom of the pear, and rich with the perfume of orange blossoms;

Meandering among the vines, green as emerald when the hills are sea and down, and the clusters hang embowered in the abundant foliage, shining in purple, red, and opalescent colors and luscious;

Sauntering through fields, when the grain stalks are bending beneath the bearded heads, and there is the rattle of the reaper and the hum of the thrasher;

Halting at the grounds where the young men are developing activity and strength to fit them for the sterner battles of life, and there is a fierce emulation to excel—determination, the antithesis of irresolution—health against the flaccidity of indolence and luxury;

Quiet walks in the evening, to weep and laugh over the sorrows and joys, so skillfully counterfeited as to appear actual; lessons burned into the mind with the red-hot iron of realistic effect;

Visits to the family circle, when there is a glow on the hearth; devotees bending over the figures of kings, queens, bishops and knights; eager parties debating the last hand at whist;

This is the merest sketch of the route we intend to compass, a hint of the long journey contemplated.

While the course is marked through a country of sunshine and flowers, enlivened with the song of birds, and which Nature has clothed with a gay garb, there is instruction on either side of the road.

There are learned professors among the travelers to proffer lessons which will benefit, and illustrators who will picture from practical results.

Far from recommending that men—even those who can afford to do so—should spend their whole time in sports, our desire is that they should blend amusement with labor, so that each may have its appropriate place in life. Sport alone is like wearing garments made entirely of decorations, like a meat of condiments and sauces. Ornaments add beauty to the dress, sauces give relish and piquancy to the food, but there must be strong warp and woof to support the lighter fabrics, and substantial food to produce brain, muscle and bones which will endure the strains which active life imposes. To withstand this strain, it is necessary that there should be a proper apportionment of work and a fitting time for recreation. Labor—constant, unremitting labor, especially that work which compels sedentary habits, or long hours of in-door confinement—will speedily wear out the strongest constitution, and there is absolute necessity for relaxation and change. The racehorse, with sinews and muscles of the truest kind, endurance perfected by breeding from the best for a score of generations, can not stand being "keyed up" for long periods. There must be a cessation in the exercise, a change from the track to the roads or fields, else there is a waste which can never be repaired. Man, though capable of undergoing more severe training without the permanent injury than animal of any kind, is still amenable to natural laws; and, besides physical loss, the greater danger is from the strain on the brain, and consequently the failure of nerve force.

To aid in adjusting the proper balance between labor and sport, to remove the obstacles which are in the way of a better understanding of the relation between sport and good morals, and to assist in advancing the interests and increasing the enjoyments of all, are our fervent desires.

EMINENTLY GOOD.—The appointment by Gov. Budd of Mr. A. B. Spreckels and Mr. F. W. Covey to fill vacancies in the Board of Directors in the State Agricultural Society, will be heartily commended by a large majority of the people. To those who are mainly interested in the horse department of the big exhibition, the new members of the Board will be heartily welcomed. Well known in all parts of the State, active and efficient, and well-versed in all pertaining to the speed department of the fair, the most difficult part of the programme to handle, will be conducted as nearly satisfactory to the participants as it is possible to accomplish.

THE BLOCK SYSTEM.—Charles F. McLean, sent to Europe by the Cincinnati and Latonia Jockey Clubs to study and report on European systems of betting on races, gives preference to the block system over the mutual. From the short description I have seen it seems worthy of selection.

Two good sized boards are placed in each betting booth furnished with clips and clamps to hold pads of tickets numbered from 0 to 99 inclusive, each clip having a number in large figures corresponding with the number of horses in the programme. One of the boards for straight the other for place betting.

Thus when the first ticket is sold that bears the cipher, and the next, one. As the sales progress, the number on the disclosed ticket on the pad gives the number sold on the horse designated, and, of course, the sum of the numbers the aggregate of all the tickets sold. By far the simplest method of recording wagers, as machinery is not required. So little mechanism needed that one who is quick at ciphering has all the information necessary to him from a glance at the various numbers, and for the enlightenment of others a very simple machine, akin to that on the trolley cars, would present the grand total.

The "workings" of the "block" at Cincinnati and Latonia will be largely scrutinized and I shall not be at all surprised to see it supersede all other methods for speculating on races.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

GEO. BOWERMAN will assist Hickok in preparing his horses.

REMEMBER, entries to the P. C. T. H. B. Association close June 1st.

C. M. R. GREELEY, of Oakland, has bred his fast pacing filly, by Bay Wilkes, to Altamont.

POOL selling will not be allowed outside of the Agricultural Park Sacramento, after May 24.

FAUSTINA, dam of Fanstino, 3, 2:14½, and Fansta, 1, 2:22½, foaled a colt by Vassar, 2:07 on May 4th.

E. C. PEART, of Colusa, purchased the handsome trotting horse Duke from W. S. Maston, of Dixon, last week.

THERE are thirty horses at the race track, Los Angeles, which will be entered throughout the California circuit.

GEO. F. BECKERS has recently purchased a five-weeks-old filly by Zombro, 2:13, out of Grace Kaiser, dam of McZeus, 2:13.

AFTER ten years' services as Superintendent of Pleasanton Stock Farm, J. H. Neal has severed his connection with the company.

W. W. EVANS, of Lexington, Ky., has a two-year-old black filly by Red Chute (son of Guy Wilkes), dam the dam of Feliciana, 2:17½, by Baron Wilkes, in training.

EVERY director of every fair association is "hustling;" a successful circuit is assured, for they are besieged by letters asking "What purses will you give?" "When will your entries close?"

FROM every race track in California come reports of light harness horses in training and every owner and trainer is anxiously awaiting the publication of the programmes and list of entries.

LADY STANLEY, 2:17, has been bred to McKinney, 2:11½. Lady Stanley will be classed as one of the greatest broodmares in the United States before many years, if we are to judge by the speed shown by every one of her produce.

THE latest from the Forbes Farm is that Arion 2:07½ may never start for the money again, that Bingen 2:12½ will not be raced until his five-year-old form and that Baron Rogers 2:10½ will represent the farm in this year's fast classes.

BEAT three eggs into pure fruit vinegar, and, after about three days, when the mixture is well together, add a pound of strained honey. This will be found an excellent remedy for heaves. A tablespoonful can be mixed with the meals three times a day.

THE Golden Gate Park Driving Association have arranged a programme for the Ingleside track on Decoration Day. The proceeds will go to the Balboa boulevard fund. There will be trotting and pacing races, with many entries, and the card will conclude with ladies' and gentlemen's races.

WM. B. FASIG telegraphed us Wednesday: "Splendid sale! Iago, $3,000; Wm. Noyes, by Cibolo out of Ada F. by Antevolo, $1,900; Derby Lass, by Chas. Derby out of Heyday by Copperhead, $1,400, and Flara Up 2:22, by Chas. Derby out of Flash by Egmont $750. Fuller particulars next week."

OF the trotters with records of 2:15 or better, eighteen were bred at Palo Alto Farm, thirteen at Fashion Farm, ten at San Mateo, seven at Village Farm, six by the late W. H. Wilson, five by T. C. Anglin, and four each at Woodburn and Jewett farms, and by R. G. Stoner and W. C. France, of Kentucky.

NOVELIST, whose foal by Altivo (2:18½) Superintendent Covey of Palo Alto pronounces the fastest young thing he ever saw, is the dam of the promising Fellsmers stallion Azol, now in training at Readville. Azol is a strongly-made, powerfully-muscled, resolute-moving trotter, and should prove a money-winner.

GREAT efforts are being made at Woodland among the lovers of good horses and business men to hold a splendid race meeting there this year. Surely with the large number of horses in training and the prospects for a good year, success is assured, and there should be no hesitancy about holding a good meeting.

F. M. MOSIER, of Modesto, has the Richard's Elector horse L. A., a brown gelding called Rector by Liva Oak Hero; a black gelding six-year-old by Dexter Prince dam by Dawn, this one is a very likely pacer; a three-year-old by Physis a son of Steve Whipples, he is called Lady Rowena, and a few other green ones.

IF the Grand Circuit light harness race meeting at Charter Oak Park, Hartford, next August, proves successful and the qualities of the entries seem to assure it, Messrs. O. A. Jones and A. J. Welch talk of offering a stake of $20,000 for trotters. The exact class has not yet been decided, but it will probably be the 2:14 class.

MR. HULT, who for many years has trained horses at Woodburn Farm, has the following horses in training this year: Expedition, 2:15½; Alcobroz, 2:23; former by Electioneer, and the latter by Alcantara, 2:23, and both are out of Lady Russell by Lord Russell. Also a number of others by Expedition, Lord Russell, etc.

F. M. HAMMETT is handling at the Salinas race track a very promising Brown Jug filly, dam by Altoona 8850, the property of W. B. Ford. He is also giving the first lessons to a grand-looking one by Val Fleet (a son of Valensin—Flight), dam by George M. Patchen Jr. 31. This latter one is owned by Steve Hauser, the cigar manufacturer.

MUCH interest is being aroused among horsemen who are looking forward to a good week of racing at the Oakland track to be given under the auspices of the P. C. T. H. B. Association from the fact that the Horse Show Association will do all in its power to aid them, and the driving clubs in Alameda and San Francisco will also be well represented.

WE have received summaries of races decided at Colusa, but a few of the most essential facts are omitted, viz.: Owners' names, color, sex and pedigree of winners in the light-harness events, and pedigrees, jockeys' names and weights carried in the running races.

H. L. FRANKLIN has moved from the Napa Track to the splendid race course at San Jose. He has Margaret Worth, 2:17½, Fanadma (no record) by Eros, and Robbia H., a three-year-old pacer by Pilot Prince out of a mare by Steinway, second dam by Lodi. All these are doing well.

MR. R. B. LUDWIG, Portland, Or., thinks he has the coming champion pacer of the Altamont family in a green four-year-old that he has just begun to develop. This fellow has already gone a quarter in thirty-one seconds on a half-mile track, and goes without hoppers or rigging of any kind.

THERE are numerous cures for galls, cracked heels, etc., but the best one I have ever tried, says an experienced trainer is: "Take one of pulverized alum, half-ounce tennin, one dram carbolic acid and one quart soft water, mix and dampen the heels every night and morning." It is also a splendid remedy for hopple galls, as it heals and toughens.

DICK TILDEN of Denver has finally sold McVera, 2:10½—the best horse that ever trod the soil of Colorado—to Gil Corry for $8,000 and the fine stallion will be exported to Austria, the real purchasers being Hauser & Co., of Vienna. McVera was taken this week to Red Oak, Iowa, and with others will soon be forwarded to New York for embarkation.

EVERY indication points to a fine race meeting from May 24th to May 29th inclusive, under the auspices of the Capital City Driving Association, Sacramento. The sport will be given at Agricultural Park, which will be in superb condition for the meeting. The railroad company has consented to allow special fares, one and one-third rates, the same as prevail during the State Fair.

ORRIN HICKOK arrived at Patchen Wilkes Farm, Lexington, Ky., from California last week. Benzetta, 2:06½, stood the trip exceedingly well and will immediately be put into active training for a trip through the Grand Circuit in the free-for-all class. Hickok will immediately commence work on Be Sure, 2:06½; Miss Rita, 2:08½, and several other fast ones that were wintered in Kentucky.

A SHORTAGE of horses abroad and the low prices at which they have been selling in this country have brought to our markets foreign buyers in large numbers. Now that values are steadily rising and are higher than at any time during the past few years, the demands of the foreigners are none the less importunate; there were never so many buyers from abroad on this market as at the present time. Evidently foreign stocks are short.

HAMILTON G. BUSHEY of the Turf Field and Farm is the recipient of many "roasts" from the pens of the leading turf writers in the East and deservedly, too, for in giving Nancy Hanks the first prize as a broodmare over Ella Maybaw, 2:22, dam of the great Oro Wilkes, 2:11, he has shown that he does not know what the term broodmare is; besides, judging the two mares as individuals Ella Maybaw is far superior to the ex-queen; everyone but Mr. Boshey concedes this.

WE have forwarded notices of the expiration of subscriptions as well as bills to all subscribers of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN, and it is almost needless to inform all those to whom these messages are addressed that a prompt response would be deeply appreciated. The cost of conducting a class journal devoted to the building up of the horse business on this coast is heavy and every dollar helps us. Will you attend to this at once. The subscription price, $3 00, is within the reach of all and should be paid at once.

THE Gentlemen's Driving Association is an organization formed in Pomona, Cal., "to have full control of the Fifth avenue park for the purpose of advancing the horse interests and encouraging all athletic sports." The officers are: Dr. E. J. Hadfield, president; G. H. Barker, first vice-president; Alec. Yorba, second vice-president; G. A. Carter, secretary; Charles Sears, treasurer. The directors are: E. J. Hadfield, G. H. Barker, Alec. Yorba, E. M. Keller, T. L. Thrall, F. H. Halloway, Mr. Pierce of Chino and F. W. Balfour.

RAYMOND, 2:27½, sire of Roan Wilkes, 2:12½; Lady Grace, 2:15½, and others, is a brother to Raymond 6081, who was owned at one time (or leased for breeding purposes) by Courtney Warren, Buda, Ill. Both stallions were sired by Simmons, while their dam, Lady Raymond, was a daughter of Carlisle 395, son of American Clay 34. Raymond is owned by John A. Cole, San Bernardino, Cal., while Raymond is owned by a gentleman living in northern Illinois, who has all season been claiming that all the pacers called Roan Wilkes that were ever foaled are sons of his stud horse.

A GENUINE horseman knows a thing or two. He knows that when a horse is run down, hide bound, weak in kidneys or out of condition generally, he must rectify it. Mr. Wm. Corbitt of the San Mateo Stock Farm, one of the best breeders on this Pacific slope writes in his letter of Jan. 2, 1892: "I have used Manhattan Food, Red Ball Brand, for several years when my horses were run down from distemper or other causes. I found it to be an excellent remedy, and have never discovered any evil effects from its use." As Mr. Corbitt writes, so have thousands of horsemen throughout the United States, testifies that it is the greatest thing on earth to build up and keep horses in a healthy condition.

THE full pedigree of Gilpatrick, 2:19½, is as follows: Sired by Junio, he by Electioneer, record 2:22, dam by Granger, he by imp. Hercules, out of Jennie, by Stockbridge Chief Jr., he by Stockbridge Chief, by Vermont Black Hawk. Second dam of Granger was by Kentucky Whip. Dam of Gilpatrick, 2:19½, was by Gilpatrick, foaled 1854. He was by Bailey's Leviathan, out of a mare by imp. Consternation, second dam by Grey Messenger, by Mambrino, by Messenger. Bailey's Leviathan was by Weaver's Leviathan, dam by Stockholder, granddam by Pacolet. Weaver's Leviathan was by imp. Leviathan, dam by Stockholder. Stockholder was by Sir Archy, dam by imp. Citizen. Leviathan was by Muley, out of a mare by Windle. Imp. Consternation was by Confederate, dam Curiosity, by Figaro, etc. A number of very fine horses in Monterey County trace to Gilpatrick, and as this horse has trotted halves for Andy McDowell at Pleasanton in 1:07, everyone expects to hear good returns from him in Montana

CHAS. A. DUFFEE has cause to be proud of the showing made by McKinney, 2:11½. He has seen forty-three of his progeny (foals of 1897) and not a single one has white legs. Nearly every one is either a brown, black or a bay and they are so good that McKinney will have a better season this year than he did in 1896.

JOHN H. WALLACE has completed his book "The Horse of America." Those in a position to know say that he has written a book more exhaustive and of more thorough research into the records of antiquity than any horse historian that has preceded him. A little more than one-half of the work is devoted to the history of the trotting horse, his origin and development from the time of Messenger down to the present day. Mr. Wallace is living in New York, and although about 75 years of age, is about as vigorous, mentally and physically, as ever. He is in wealthy circumstances.

THE farmers of California have a little more than thirty-one months to get ready for the new wide-tire law, which takes effect on January 1, 1900. The requirements are: For 1 7-8 inch iron axle, 3 inch tire; 2 1-8 axle, 3½-inch tire; 2 3-8 axle, 4-inch tire; 2 3-8 axle, 4½-inch tire; 2 7-8 axle, 5-inch tire; 4-inch axle or larger, 6-inch tire. For timber skids and steel axles, see law. Penalty for each time smaller tires are used on the road, $25 to $500 fine or go to jail. There is no doubt that this law will be enforced after it takes effect, and farmers buying or repairing wagons will do well to begin to meet the requirements of the law at once. Buy no wagons with tires less than the law requires, except at a discount sufficient to pay for new tires when the time comes.

A CAPITAL entry has been received for the road races to be decided on Decoration Day at Ingleside. The gentlemen who have made nominations in the different events are as follows: First race—T. F. Judge, Captain Hardie, M. A. Ravvelan, J. Cusick, J. C. Orlandt, E. Stewart and R. Gallagher. Second race—M. C. Tnt, J. G. Chesley, F. G. O'Kane, F. Gomet, Edgar Cerciat, Dr. Leek and K. J. Hancock. Third race—E. Cerciat, E. Stewart, M. Johnson, W. J. Simpson and J. A. Welch. Fourth race—Edwin Aigeltinger, A. Schwartz, E. Lebers, L. Richardson and J. A. Sandell. The above races are mile heats to harness, best two out of three.

THE following California horses have been entered in the stakes to be raced for at Anaconda, Mont.: Louise, Belle, Strathmont, Argonaut, Pearl C., Diabolo, Birdroe, Nutford, Cbristabelle, Captain Hackett, John Nolan, Argotine, Catinka, Walter Q., Dave Ryan, Miss Margaret, Floratica, Jonnayman, Marguerite, Alta Genos, Mollie Nurse, Gracefol George, Lena N., Billy Baker, Bill Frazier, Patsy, Searchlight, Zombro, Letter B., She, Mamie Griffin, Marin Jr., Wayland W., Stam B., Monterey, Montana, Danford, Anita, Humboldt Maid, Jefe, Meteor, Caryle Carne, Gilpatrick, Madera, Erastus C., Jib Albert, Joe, Desdemona, Magenta, May B., Faro Bank, Billups, Osito, Mand P., Rossie Moore, Shelby, Ludenia, Old Pack, Garratt, Alberta, Egyptian Prince, Silver Band.

MONROE SALISBURY of Pleasanton has leased the famous stallion Boodle, 2:12½. There were about ten mares booked to this horse at the time, but all engagements had to be broken on account of the departure of the horse in the charge of the "king maker." The owners of the mares wisely concluded to breed them to W. Vioget's stallions, Wild Boy and Wild Ntling. These stallions are at the Vioget Stock Farm, Lawrence, Santa Clara county. Wild Boy is by Gen. Benton, out of the one-time two-year-old champion trotter of the world, Wildflower, 2:21, by Electioneer. Wild Boy is the sire of Donchka (2) 2:24 and Sonato (3) 2:25. Wild Ntling is by Wildnut, a son of Woodnut, 2:16. The dam of Wild Ntling is that game race mare Helena, 2:12½, by Electioneer, second dam Lady Ellen, 2:29½, by Carr's Mambrino (with five in the list); third dam, Ida May Jr., by Owen Dale; fourth dam Ida May by Belmont, etc. Both stallions will make the Vioget farm famous.

THE trotters and pacers stabled at the Helena (Mont.) track are in charge of the well known Helena driver, Patsy Rice, and include Glen Artbur, 2:15; Lady Director, 2:19½; the pacers, St. Mary and Micker Priel, and the trotters Garnet (two-year-old), Brown Mand, a Director colt, and several others. Mr. Rice has several horses named in various stake races to be decided at Anaconda and Butte. Col. Hundley is said to be greatly interested in the stable. Walt Parks is expected at the track within a few days, and will place in training the well-known pacer George Ayers, and many other promising trotters and pacers. Britt, Dougherty & Higgins, better known as "the syndicate," will, it is said, place in charge of Mr. Rice the mare Kappa, who distinguished herself last year at the Anaconda meeting. Dava Johnson is now at work on Bourbon Wilkes Jr., who last year made his owners happy by winning in fast time many races from the best and speediest horses visiting Montana last year. All in all, Helena horsemen are enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful meeting across the range this summer, and it is hoped that the endeavors they are now putting forth will meet with the success they deserve. The idea of a meeting at Helena has not yet been abandoned, but plans have not as yet been sufficiently formulated to make the meeting assured.

THEY had Gymkhana races at Rocklin, May 15th, and in the way of a novelty were decidedly successful. Following is a description of them: No. 1—All competitors were lined up at the wire dismounted with their saddles laying beside their horses. At the word go, they saddle up, mount and ride to a given point, dismount, unsaddle, light a cigar and ride back to the wire with their cigar burning. It was very amusing, as in the haste to saddle some could scarcely get their saddles on right end front. There were five competitors, A. E. Garnett winning, with G. W. Garnett second. No. 2—Buckets filled with water, and a rubber ball in each bucket, were placed at equal distances apart across the track. The competitors were stationed a couple of hundred yards back of the wire. At a signal they ride to the buckets, dismount and take the rubber ball from the buckets with their teeth, mount and ride around the track, the one rescuing the wire first with the ball in his mouth being the winner. The ladies nominated the competitors. Of the first three to start H. M. Le Fleming, nominated by Mrs. Johns, won. Of the next three A. E. Garnett, nominated by Mrs. Nelson, won. In the final between the winners Garnett won easily, Le Fleming having a serious time in picking up the ball. It was very amusing to witness their frantic efforts to hold their horses and plunge their faces into the water in trying to get the ball.

THE SADDLE.

OLD DAVID won a mile race at St. Louis Monday in the good time of 1:41½, Linde second and Ulysses third.

FLOTOW, who won the Bluegrass Stakes, six and a half furlongs, at Louisville, Ky., Friday, is an own brother to O'Fleta and Decision.

SAN DIMAS, the Maxim colt of the Burns & Waterhouse estate that recently died, was from Santa Rita, by Virgil. He heavily engaged in stakes.

At Morris Park, May 13th, in five of the six races jockeys that have ridden out here were successful. O'Leary, Doggett, Hewitt, Thorpe and T. Sloan were the riders spoken of.

LILLIAN BELL, a winner at Lexington, Ky., and second to Mertha II at Louisville, is by Bermuda, whose dam was brought to California and died on W. O. B. Macdonough's farm.

COGMOOSEY, a Windsor winner, ought to be a rare good one, his sire being the good race horse, Teuton, his dam the famous Marion C., who beat Lamplighter, Racine and other celebrities.

FRONT DE BEUF, Tully Coulter's good colt by Fresno—Misfortune died soon after his arrival in Kentucky. Daily Racing Form says he was not well taken care of after he left California.

W. M. MURRY will leave for Seretoga at the end of this week with Rey del Tierra, Yankee Doodle, Michael, Perseus, Morelle, Royal Prize (half-brother to Wadsworth) and two others.

BLUE DEVIL, a winner at Morris Park, May 13th, is by imp. St. Andrew—Blue Dress. The second race that day was also won by a California-bred horse (Deerslayer, by imp. Midlothien).

OCTAGON won the Toboggan Slide Handicap Thursday at Morris Park, Irish Reel second and Lithos third. The winner is by imp. Rayon d'Or—imp. Ortegai and belongs to the Blemtou Stable.

MARITO, a winner at Newport, Ky., May 13th, is by the grand California-bred race horse, Volante, from Maori, the first galloper to beat 1:40 in a race in America, if memory serves us right.

CAPPY ran second to Charlie Reiff at St. Louis Wednesday, old David was third in a mile and twenty-yard race won by Macy in 1:42½, and Don Fulano came second to Democles in a six-furlong race run in 1:14½.

In a letter just received from the well-known trainer, James McCormick, he informs us that Col. Dan and Recreation were very sick at Council Bluffs on the way over to New York, and had to stay over a week.

It is estimated that the Balboa Boulevard, Woman's Exchange and Veterinary Department of the University of California will each be benefited to the extent of about $1,100 by the two days' races given this week at Ingleside.

EASTIN & LARRABE, the Montana turfmen, had two California-bred winners at Louisville on the 13th of May—Trolley, by imp. Martenhrst—May H, and Mary Black, by imp. Islington—Recmeede. Trolley was at 60 to 1.

ALLIE BELLE, winner of two races recently at Louisville, is, we believe, the same filly that ran second at Oakland a month or so ago. She's by imp. Pirate of Penzance, and was formerly owned by the Texas turfmen, W. L. Stenfield.

LONDON, May 18.—Richard Croker's brown filly Rhoda B. won the Exning plate of 500 sovereigns at the Newmarket second meeting to-day. Lord Zetland's St. Veronica was second and Leopold de Rothschild's Gellanthis third. The course was five furlongs.

BONAPARTE, a four-year-old by imp. Sir Modred—Stella, won a six-and-one-half-furlong race Tuesday at Morris Park, Mr. Buckley second and Harrington third. Kilkenny, by imp. Darebin, won the Knickerbocker hurdle race (two miles) at the same place.

GEORGE COCHRAN, the steeplechase jockey, ruled off for a ride on Candor, has been reinstated, but he will never make witnesses of that particular race believe that he was guiltless. However, the scare might have a good effect. It was surprising that he secured a reinstatement.

ORNAMENT Wednesday won the Clark Stakes at Louisville next to the Kentucky Derby the most important event of the meeting. Dr. Catlett was second and Panmure third and the time 1:55 for the mile and a furlong. The Dragon ran second to The Sockman in a mile race, run in 1:41½.

JOE ULLMAN has again blossomed out as an owner in the far East. He had Saverin in a race at Morris Park May 13th, with "Toddy" Sloan as his pilot. Joe owned Race-land as a yearling and two-year-old and sold him in the fall of his two-year-old form for $17,500, if we remember correctly.

EN CORRIGAN shipped twelve horses via Ogden Friday Redding, Ceyser, The Becheor, Indio, Sir Andrew, Jezebel and six two-year-olds, five of which are by Riley, made up the load. Mr. Corrigan will leave to-morrow, lay over one day at Sacramento and, if all goes well, catch up with the car at Ogden, where the horses will be rested for two or three days.

SAM HILDRETH, Louis Ezell, W. B. Sink and W. B. Sink, Jr., Ed Ryan and "Curley" Shields got in from San Francisco yesterday. The horses brought by them all look high and show no effects of their winter racing. Ed Ryan has Howard S., the Bromley new purchase, and will go right on East with him. Hildreth, Ezell and Sink will race at Joliet—Daily Racing Form, May 13.

ALF STANFORD leaves next Saturday night for Chicago, whether he goes to ride the timber-toppers of Ed Corrigan. Stanford has a most excellent reputation, and will doubtless enhance it greatly this season, for the Master of Hawthorne always has a good "lepper" or two in his string. It is only due to the great skill of Dr. George Shiels that the Australian horse pilot has any use of his right arm.

GEORGE WAKEMAN, the trainer of Stowaway, was recently suspended from all privileges as trainer at the Newport track for the rest of the season for sending the horse to the post on May 6 in a condition liable to break down in the race. The judges ordered Stowaway sent back to the stable and did not allow him to start, as they considered his liability to break down would endanger the lives of other horses and jockeys in the race.

BALSAMO, winner of the City and Suburban Handicap, at Epsom, England, on April 28th, and Voter, winner of the Metropolitan Handicap, at Morris Park, May 8th, are very closely related, says the N. Y. Spirit of the Times. Both are by Friar's Balsam. Balsamo is out of Snood, by Escaladine, and Voter is out of imp. Mavourneen, by Barcalaine. The dams are strictly speaking half-sisters. Now what is the relation of Voter and Balsamo?

SAN MARCO, winner of the fourth race Wednesday, is not only a good looker but is a half-brother to the celebrities, Don Alonzo and Hornpipe, latter winner of the Brooklyn Handicap of 1895. His sire is the Epsom Derby-winner, St. Blaise, sold at auction for $100,000, his dam the good race mare, Round Dance, by War Dance—Sue Dougherty, by imp. Mickey Free, her dam Blonde, by imp. Glencoe. Bred as he is, San Marco ought to be worth $3,000 or more for a stallion.

THE following officials have been appointed to take charge of the spring meeting of the Fort Erie Jockey Club of Fort Erie, Ont.: Presiding Judge, Joseph J. Burke (the same gentlemen who presided at Oakland all winter); Associate Judge, E. R. Pringle, of Toronto; Clerk of the Course, Samuel Whitehead; Clerk of the Scales, A. H. Mills; Handicapper, Frank Nelson, of the Toronto Globe; Starter, W. J. Fitzpatrick; Superintendent of the Betting Ring, Thomas Eagen.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The Ingalls Park meeting to-day opened with an attendance of 4000 people, a fast track and beautiful weather. One of the novelties was the absence of any beer or liquors. Harry Shannon and Abner were the winning favorites. Half mile—Algareta won, The Professor second, Miss Hoy third. Time, 0:48½. Five furlongs—Abner won, Ella Penzance second, Weola third. Time, 1:01½. Seven furlongs—Miss Young won, Pinky Potter second, Dorien third. Time, 1:27. One mile and a sixteenth—Harry Shannon won, King's Counsel second, Dr. Sheppard third. Time, 1:47½. Six furlongs—Olivia L. won, Warren Point second, Senator Morrill third. Time, 1:14½.

SENATOR FITZPATRICK introduced a race track bill in the Senate of Illinois on May 6th. It provides for 30 days' racing, with pool-selling privileges, but no foreign books, and no track will be allowed within two miles of any other track. The meeting must be held between May 1st and November 1st of each year, and the owners of the course must pay into the treasury of the county wherein it is situated five per cent. of the gate receipts. Penalties are provided for violations. It is to be hoped the Fitzpatrick bill will not fall into the hands of the Live Stock and Dairy Committee to be pigeonholed. The State of Illinois is greatly in need of a conservative racing law, and a strenuous effort should be made to get one through the present Legislature.

ST. CALLATINE, winner of the first race Wednesday in such easy style, is certainly bred in the purple, her sire being St. Carlo (about the best son of imp. St. Blaise) from Callatine (own sister to Getaway, Bella B. and Inspector B. and half-sister to Kosciusko), by Enquirer—Colossa, by Colossus. Getaway was the first horse to beat 2:03 in a race at a mile and a quarter in America, Bella B. holds the seven-furlong record of the world, Inspector B. was as good a horse as we had in his day, and Kosciusko, among other things, ran second to Modesty for the American Derby of 1884 (the first one), and many declare that the son of Kyrle Daly and Colossa was first that memorable day at Chicago. Anyhow, it was a close thing between the pair, and Boh Cook was "right ther" also.

It will be gratifying news to racing men to know that a South African millionaire is to cast his lot with the American turf this year. The gentlemen in question is Joseph Storey Curtis, an American, and of good family connections in this country. Mr. Curtis has amassed a fortune in South Africa and has been one of the pillars and supporters of the turf in that quarter of the globe, being in reality the Belmont of the South African Jockey Club at Johannesburg. He has won a number of important events there this year, including the Derby. He has a large stud and eighteen or twenty horses in training, all of which will be shipped to this country very shortly. Mr. Curtis intends to go into the breeding business here on an extensive scale.—N. Y. dispatch, May 13.

LORD ROSEBERY's bay filly Chelandy won the 1,000 Guineas Stake at Newmarket on May 7. Lord Rosebery was specially congratulated on winning this classic event on the anniversary of his birth, May 7, 1847. Chelandy won by two lengths, a length and a half separating the second and third horses. The course was the Rowley mile. Nine horses ran. The 1,000 Guineas Stakes of 1,000 sovereigns each, half forfeit, for three-year-old fillies, eight stone 12 pounds each; second to receive 200 sovereigns out of the stakes, and third to save her stake. Rowley mile. Lord Rosebery's b f Chelandy, by Gold Finch—Illuminata, was first, Mr. Reid Walker's b f Gelatine, by Galopin—Pamela, was second and Mr. Leopold de Rothschild's b f Goletta, by Gelopin—Biserta, finished third.

It seems that the Missouri Breeders' bill goes into effect, June 23—ninety days after the Senate of the State passed it. The bill, in short, provides that race meetings may be licensed for ninety days between April 15th and November 1st. It does away with night racing and pool rooms. The punishment for the violation of any of the provisions of the bill is fixed by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment in jail for one year, or both. Each bookmaker doing business on the tracks licensed to carry on racing will be expected to pay $2 a day to the State Auditor. Governor Stephens, in discussing the bill, said: "It is one of the most onerous measures that has ever come before me. That is the reason it has taken me so long to attach my signature to it. This law seems to me to allow gambling in certain places and prohibiting it in others. Consequently, I doubt if the act will stand the test in the courts. But it is not my province as executive to determine that matter."—Daily Racing Form.

COLONEL ROBERT AULL, Secretary of the St. Louis Fair Association, has been elected Vice-President and General Manager. He succeeds C. C. Meffitt, who retires because of the fact that he owns a stable of racers and he does not regard it as just to run his horses over the track with which he is officially connected. Judge Joseph A. Murphy, well known in Chicago and elsewhere among racing men, was elected Secretary to succeed Colonel Aull.—St. Louis (Mo.) dispatch, May 17.

BUT four horses out of the multitude of flyers congregated at Oakland and Ingleside tracks won ten or more races from October 24, 1896, up to and including last Saturday. They were: Salvable, fourteen wins; Reddington, twelve; Preston and Morfe Fonse, eleven. A peculiar fact is that Pat Dunne, nephew of Ed. Corrigan, owned Selveble and Preston, and for some time was the possessor of Morfe Fonse, while Ed Corrigan owns Reddington, the remaining galloper to win ten or more races.

THE illustrious Lilly Wright, I. P. Diggs' valuable mare, gave birth to another colt Friday morning which according to all appearances will be a parallel of his famous full brother, Diggs, the colt which made such a remarkable record in the East only a short time ago. His sire is Red Iron, one of the best bred horses in the country. This is the fifth colt, all of which are full brothers, and have sold, excepting the last two, for enormous sums. Mr. Diggs now has a yearling, a promising youngster, and the infant born yesterday, which is a large, perfectly formed animal. He is very proud, naturally, and will christen him with due solemnity in the near future and record his birth and pedigree in the records of the jockey club.—Woodland Mail.

QUITE a strong stable will be taken back East this year by Atkin & Lottridge. In addition to Scarborough, Scarf Pin, Buckwa, Manchester and Double Quick, they will have eight Rencho Paso-bred youngsters in their string as follows: Meximore, b c (3), by imp. Maxim—Daniella; Latinus, b c (2), by imp. Duncombe—Getrude; Briar Hill, b c (2), by imp. Duncombe—Briar Bush; Spinwell, b c (2), by imp. Duncombe—Spinning Time; —, b f (2), by imp. Midlothien—Ricardo; Milesio, b c (2), by imp. Order—imp. Ledy Cardigan; —, b c (2), by Morello—Leline, and a St. Andrew colt. Lottridge is a very careful conditioner and is pretty sure to win a fair share of purses on the metropolitan tracks. Duncombe, the sire of several of the youngsters, is the grandly bred Irish horse imported to California by the late Simeon G. Reed.

SANTA CRUZ, by Double Cross, out of Eliza, dam by Monawel, foaled a bay filly by imp. Ormonde last week. This makes the fourth living Ormonde foal this year, says the Examiner, and as there are already four cracking yearlings on the farm, it looks as though Mr. Macdonough would soon get some return for his outlay. The yearlings are two colts and two fillies; the latter are out of Dizzy Blonde, dam of Sir Reel, and Marilee, dam of Don Fulano. The colts are out of Jonglease, by Alam from imp. Presto, by Pretender, and imp. Countess Langden, dam of Count of Flenders. The latter colt is a horse all over, as big as the Count now and just as handsome. His breeding cannot be surpassed. Countess of Lengden was imported by Mr. Macdonough. She is by Kingcraft, from Josyan, by Adventurer, second dam Lady Langden, dam by Sir Bevis and Hampton, by Kettledrum, third dam Hericot, by Lanercost, out of Queen Mary, by Gladiator.

It is rumored that there will be racing at night by electric light in this city before many moons have waxed and waned. We are informed that it will be like unto the St. Louis, Newport and Australian merry-go-rounds, the owners of the horses turf outlaws, the horses "skates" of the most glaring description. It will never be a howling success (maybe it will, too, come to think about the "dogs" that will run), but doubtless there is much in the old saying, "A fool's horn every minute." They'd become separated from their money just as well in the cool of the evening as during the heat of the afternoon. The originators of this dog-galloping scheme will just hasten the death of the racing goose that has heretofore laid golden eggs in California, that's all. When the bacteria of the turf enters a State it is never very long before there's a creak on the door and a notice in the papers beginning with a first and reading "Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited," etc. No flowers.

TOM KILEY, who piloted Spokeno to victory in the American and Kentucky Derbies, leaves for his home across the Rockies about the end of next week. During his stay here he has made a host of friends by his gentlemanly demeanor and accommodating ways and the manner in which he took his "herd luck" medicine, the latter being given him in exceedingly large alaphatic doses. One horse after another that he brought out here lost got "off," and the climax of misfortune was capped by the death of Celesta K., of whom great things were expected by the Illinois turfmen. But there is a silver rift in the dark clouds that hovered o'er the house of Kiley, for in Selabar he has in our opinion the best two-year-old colt thus far shown in California this season, and in Towenda he has a more than fair filly. In a short time barring accidents, Kiley will more than make up for lost time, and when the racing season comes to an end we will be able to observe him any pleasant afternoon walking down the sunny side of Easy street. That he will come back to the Coast in the fall goes without saying. He thinks pretty well of California.

We have just received the following from Santa Barbara, Cal.: "I wish you would kindly inform the public of the death of imp. Paramatta, as I have received several inquiries about him lately. Respectfully yours, D. and E. J. Boeske." These gentlemen purchased the horse at B. C. Holly's auction sale, Bay District track, about three years ago. Imp. Paramatta was a dark bay horse, foaled in 1896, bred by A. Town, of Australia, and by Cheviot (the English horse by Adventurer) from Scrapy by imp. Lord of the Hills (son of Touchstone); second dam Ragpicker, by Fishermen; third dam the Pocahontas of the Colonies, Juliet, by Touchstone. J. K. Newton brought the horse to this country, B. C. Holly afterward secured and raced him with no little success, he was sold to Major B. G. Thomas, of Lexington, Ky., for a stallion, and got some winners (among others the good Parson), was repurchased by Mr. Holly, who won again with the horse, and he finally fell into the hands of the Boeskes of Santa Barbara. Paramatta was not raced until four years old, and was more than an ordinary performer, besides being royally bred.

NOTICES have been sent to all our subscribers; it is hoped these will not be cast aside. The subscription price, $3, is exceedingly low, for a class journal of this nature and we hope to receive liberal responses to our appeal.

MEMBERS of the P. C. T. H. B. Association who are in good standing do not have to pay cash when they forward their entries in the purse races to be given at the fall meeting by this Association.

THE trotting horse men of New York State gained their point at the last legislature regarding race meetings and fairs, and are in consequence very jubilant. The leading representative newspapers aided the turf journals in their struggle for victory.

AT a recent meeting of the directors of the P. C. T. H. B. A. a committee was appointed to confer with the directors of the San Francisco Horse Show Association regarding the opening meeting of the California Circuit, which commences July 26th. Great interest is being taken in it by every horse owner in this vicinity.

L. ROCKMAN, Secretary of the Fresno Jockey Club, under date of May 17, 1897, writes: The Fresno County Fair, under the auspices of the Fresno Jockey Club, will take place the week previous to the Los Angeles Fair. Our date will be from October 12th to 16th inclusive. We will make arrangements with the railroad company to allow horsemen to stop over at Fresno without extra charge, when going to Los Angeles.

THAT able and efficient Secretary, Lewis Thorne, of Los Angeles, has kindly sent us a set of large photos of the grandstand at Los Angeles, on "Silkwood Day," for which we tender our thanks. In a letter he speaks enthusiastically of the prospects for a big meeting at that place; it may be of two weeks' duration. Everyone is pleased with the circuit as arranged, and all the horsemen are waiting to see the size of the purses offered and a chance to make entries. The second payment in the colt stakes opened by the Los Angeles Association, January 1st, will close June 1st.

THE wide-awake manager of the Anaconda and Butte meetings, Ed. A. Tipton, wired us on the 19th as follows from the first-named place, and it shows that they are not afraid to put their money out for improvements: "New inside track three-quarters of a mile long and fifty feet wide is about completed here for runners. Seven-eighths inside track at Butte same purpose. Ed. A. TIPTON." Horsemen will please bear in mind that we have on hand a number of blanks for their trotting and pacing races, and we will gladly furnish the same upon application. Both tracks can now be kept as fit as the proverbial fiddle, one for the runners, velvety and yielding, the one for the harness brigade as hard as is necessary for the making of fast time, while yet preserving its snugness.

Review of Our Long Race Meetings.

The protracted race meetings in this vicinity have come to an end, and it may not be amiss to review them, giving their good points and their bad, as they appear to us. Beginning on the 24th of last October, the "regular" season closed last Saturday, May 15th. During that period the two big racing clubs paid out in the shape of stakes and purses the large sum of $463,125, divided as follows: Pacific Coast Jockey Club, $239,625; California Jockey Club, $223,500. It has been carefully figured up that from all sources the associations received about $696,000, leaving nearly $233,000 to be divided between them. Now the California Jockey Club spent about $250,000 in improvements at Emeryville last summer and fall, so that it will take another equally successful season of racing before they are "even on the deal." Of course, in expending this $250,000, rushing the work of building along as was done, an average of over 200 men were employed for many weeks at good wages, and it was a godsend to a host of laborers. When the racing season opened money began to pour in to other kinds of workers—the rubber, the trainer, restaurant man, butcher and baker to farmer for grain, hay and provisions of many sorts, to the hundreds of men employed in one way and another around the race course, from laborer to high-salaried official, the quick and sleek bookmakers' clerks, the waiters and bar-keepers. Last year we estimated that in a season of six months over $1,100,000 was put into circulation that would otherwise be kept locked up in strong boxes and never find its way into general circulation. Brother Brunell, of Daily Racing Form, said we underestimated the amount to the extent of about $400,000, and he was about right, so that $1,500,000 is about the sum taken out of obscurity and distributed among the butchers, the bakers and the candlestick makers in a period of six months, when the races are on. Add to this the amount the C. J. C. paid to contractors and laborers ($250,000), and it can be seen what a blessing the game of race has been to hundreds of persons in this part of the world during the past year.

It may be contended that a goodly share of the $463,125 hung up by our racing clubs will be taken back across the Rockies by visiting turfmen, but it must be remembered that it cost them thousands of dollars to bring their horses here, and in all probability if they have horses good enough to beat ours, there should be no complaint lodged, but a determination to breed intelligently and see if our great climatic advantages will not in the end enable us to rear horses far superior in point of speed and stamina to those bred in any other part of the world. But California horses have certainly held their own at the long meetings in Oakland and Ingle-side. The principal winner, Ruinart, is a product of the Golden State, as is the horse capturing the largest number of races—Salvage. The heaviest-winning string of horses belongs to a Californian firm (Burns & Waterhouse), and nearly every horse in their stable first saw the light in this land of gold, sunshine and cool nights. A world's record of nearly twenty-one years' standing was beaten four and three-quarter seconds only last Thursday by a California filly, Lucretia Borgia. The winter meetings here so far eclipsed any ever held elsewhere that they should scarcely be mentioned in the same breath, and without exception, whether visitors from the East returned home ahead or behind at "the game," they declare that California is "God's country," and the ideal winter racing point of the world. These people are firm champions of the Golden State and are worth a thousand columns of "write-ups" in Eastern dailies. They tell in glowing terms of the beauties of our country, its glorious climate, delightful scenery, rich soil and great race horses. Last winter the leading racing man of the far East, August Belmont, paid us a visit, and was charmed. A word of praise from such a man is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to a country like this, and Mr. Belmont was not chary in expressing himself about California and her people.

Our racing is steadily growing in excellence. Last winter we had scores of celebrities racing, and the class was so high that no "dog" could gather in a $300 or $400 bone. The associations threw no bones at the dogs either. They catered to the owners of the higher class of horses. There were claims made that races were made for this horse and that horse, but there always will be such claims, as long as owners of strings of race horses have large interests in race tracks. To stop all this talk it is absolutely necessary that active turfmen should not race any horses over a course in which they are interested. Mr. T. H. Williams Jr. years ago saw that an officer of an association and one interested financially should not race his horses over his own course, and, following out this idea, sold all his horses at auction, retiring from the turf. Mr. Maffit, of St. Louis, withdrew from the Presidency of the St. Louis Fair Association this week because he owned a large string of gallopers and expected to race them over the course of the association of which he had been President. These men set examples that others should follow. A man may be as fair as can be—not looking for "the best of it" at all—but there are lots of suspicious people with tongues in their heads that wag furiously at times, and often to the great damage of the racing game. But our idea is the gentlemen spoken of above were acting most honorably and for the best when they retired, one from racing, the other from track management. They showed by their actions that they only wanted a fair deal and were not looking for "a shade." There is not only talk about races being made for certain ones when a man is interested in a track he runs horses over, but there are claims made sometimes that the handicapper and even the judge is likely to lose his job if he does not favor the track-owning turfman. There may be great injustice in such a claim, and the only way to stop the claims is for Mr. Turfman to make a BONA FIDE sale of his share in any race course in which he may have an interest. Another thing we would like to see changed, and that is the sending across the Rockies for men to fill about all the positions in the jockey clubs worth having. Certainly there must be a few honest men in this part of the world capable of filling some lucrative position around a race track, and maybe these men might know more about the "robber barons" hailing from this vicinity than strangers from a part of the country far remote from California. Nothing has caused as much comment and "soreness" as this plan of sending away off for someone to fill a good position in the gift of our big jockey clubs.

There would probably be less scandal in turf circles, too, if there were no bookmakers transacting business. The totalizer cannot talk to crooked jockeys and owners, and we'll hail its introduction with joy. When it does come we will have as clean sport as it is possible to have, there will be no talk of "dead ones," "embalming tables," "cadavers," "choices of caucuses," etc., few cases of horses running last yesterday and first to-day, and the clubs will make more money than they do under their present plan. True, "the plunger" will not be as conspicuous a figure as in the past, but will some one tell us what a vast amount of good plungers have done for racing anyhow? They're not our greatest philanthropists. They build no orphan asylums or old people's homes, and most of them just gamble through pure love of gambling, going through their short lives without benefiting anyone in particular. The best proof in the world that the totalizer is a good thing is that after a fair trial of it there has been no case of going back to bookmaking, while in the Colonies the jockey clubs have been enabled to give three times as much in the shape of stakes and purses as they were able to do when bookmaking was going on and the totalizer was unknown.

Two Excellent Appointments.

During James Budd's incumbency as Governor there it has been very seldom he has merited the praises of the people, but last week, in the selection of Adolph B. Spreckels, of San Francisco, and Frank W. Covey, of Palo Alto, as members of the State Agricultural Society, we must say that we are so astonished and pleased to see this exhibition of rare good judgment on his part that we tender him our congratulations. The State Agricultural Society is the keystone in the gateway of the great circuit of District Fairs, and is one of the best in the United States, hence we want to see it kept in place as a solid and beautiful fixture to which we can all point with pride.

In the selection of these two gentlemen whom we have known for thirty years, not a dissenting voice will be heard. Young, active, energetic and enthusiastic, thoroughly Californian in the true acceptance of the term, they are eminently fitted for this position, and we earnestly hope that Gov. Budd will place as companions to these gentlemen as many deserving and capable men as he can find in this great State, for whom vacancies in the board are to be found. Men who will work with them to keep the interests of this great institution near the people and cause everyone to feel that it is a pleasure to assist it in every way to succeed.

The Fall Meeting P. C. T. H. B. A.

Every horseman in California is awakening to the fact that we are to have a racing circuit, consequently, there is a skirmishing all along the line to get horses ready for the races. More horses are in training to day in California, Oregon, Nevada and Montana than ever before, and horse owners in these states are determined to be at the State Fair in California, and then follow on through the entire circuit making every meeting a notable one.

The Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association will hold its fall meeting at the splendid track in Oakland the week following the one set apart for the Stockton Fair. A splendid programme is offered and every class, even the free-for-all, should fill, for twelve entries were received in similar events at the Montana meetings. The condition of entry, especially in the nomination events, are such that everyone who owns a good trotter eligible to the 2:20, 2:17, 2:13, 2:10 or free-for-all classes, trotting, or the 2:20, 2:17, 2:13, 2:10 or free-for-all, pacing, should make entries. There are numbers of 2:40, 2:30, 2:27 and 2:24 class trotters here and these classes as well as the three classes for pacers should fill well. Entries close, June 1st. A large entry list at this time will do more to re-establish confidence among horsemen and associations than anything else, and everyone should look at it in this light. Let us see a monster list for every race sent in. Entry blanks may be obtained at this office or from Secretary F. W. Kelley 22½ Geary street. Remember there is no time to lose. See the advertisement.

Our Form Guide.

The last issue of the San Francisco Turf Guide is one which should find a place in the library of every lover of a thoroughbred in America. Form charts of 1030 races are printed, giving the names of the horses, jockeys, weights, positions of all the horses at the various points on the track, opening and closing odds, a short description of each race, pedigree of the winner, fractional time, condition of track, kind of start and how purse is divided, etc. Besides these invaluable guides, rules for handicapping, betting rules, scales of weights, etc., are published, tables of principal winning horses, winning jockeys and amounts won by the progeny of all California sires, a complete index giving the names of owners, times first, second and third, etc. In fact it is acknowledged to be the best and most complete 400-page book of its kind published. It will be sent to any address postpaid on receipt of price $1. Only a few copies have been published. Send your order in at once.

The Breeders Futurity.

For the first time in years the P. C. T. H. B. Association is to offer stakes for trotters and pacers which should attract the attention of every owner of a good mare and foal in California. The stakes are for foals of 1897 which are to trot or pace in 1899 and 1900, at which time horses will be far more valuable than they are to-day, and especially if entered in rich stakes like these. The payments asked are very low, and the conditions so liberal that every youngster in California should be entered. The advertisement which appears in this issue is so simple and comprehensive that it is only necessary to refer our readers to it if they wish to understand what is expected. Hence, there remains only this to be said: "Do not overlook this opportunity to make entries in these events. The value of your colts and fillies will be enhanced thereby and you have placed them in a position where they will have a chance to make money." Entries will close June 1st.

The Montana Races.

The programme of races to be held at Anaconda and Butte during the meetings to be given there, appears in this issue, and every horseowner who contemplates going should see that there entries are forwarded in time. California will be well represented, and as Manager Ed. A. Tipton has a corps of assistants preparing everything for this meeting, we can vouch for the excellent manner in which horsemen and their horses will be received and entertained. The conditions by which the races are governed are very liberal and the arrangement of dates for the various events cannot be improved. The programme is only for races from June 26th to July 10th, inclusive. A full programme for the entire meeting to August 28th, will be ready on June 1st, on which date entries to the events, as now published in our business columns, will be closed.

Sacramento Track Notes.

If any lover of a trotter or pacer, with time hanging heavily on his hands, wants to feel that he is courting quicker through his veins, all he has to do is to go out on the track on one of these bright mornings on a "work out" day and see some of the Golden State's productions in the harness horse line step a mile, or reel off a quarter at close to a two minute clip.

The River View Stock Farm (Buckman & Carragher) has quite an extensive string in training, and the trainer in charge of this collection of trotters and pacers reports them as doing splendidly in their work. Ed Bennett, who has had considerable experience with the trotters and sidewheelers, is doing the conditioning and driving.

At the head of the string, or at least the first one seen, is a six-year-old bay gelding named Candy Joe, by Berlin, out of a mare by Norfolk. He is a green one, but has stepped a mile in 2:26, and has shown a quarter at a 2:09 gait, and his trainer thinks when he gets so that he can carry his speed over the route that he will prove dangerous in all of the classes to which he is eligible. Frauncin Dexter, a three-year-old, by George Dexter, on which the River View Stock pins its faith both as a game racer and producer of speed, is a very racy looking filly, out of a Monroe Chief mare. This filly is entered in $3,000 worth of stakes, is now working along nice and smoothly, and has stepped off a quarter in 34 seconds, seemingly with something in reserve.

Another speedy three-year-old, also by George Dexter, is the black pacer, Telephone. She has stepped a quarter at a 2:10 gait, but, like the rest, has not been gotten on edge yet to carry out a brush for a full mile.

The two-year-old Esther C., a pacer, by Sidmore, and he by Sidney, a sire of speedy pacers, is a promising young thing, and if she keeps on improving as she has since the harness was first put on her, will make some of the youngsters hustle to heat her to the wire this fall.

Blue Bell, by San Diego, is another green pacer in this string. She is said to have shown miles down in the teens last year, but was let up in her work and has but recently been taken in hand again.

In addition to these there are several two-year-olds by George Dexter that are receiving their preliminary education in the speed line.

These are but two of the several stables of trotters and pacers now located at the track.

The well-known and game little trotter, Stam B., 2:11½, by Stamboul—Belle Medium, is now at the track. It is said he will be campaigned by T. E. Keating, who was so successful last year with Outinger, Agitato, Laurel and others. Keating will arrive here with this balance of the string shortly, and Lee Shaner is also expected to arrive at the track with his horses before long.

Chris Jorgenson has quite a string, and one horse that he thinks will prove to be as good as "any that ever came down the pike" is Belle Madison, a brown pacer by James Madison, out of a mare by Costello. She belongs to Joe Allen, of Oak Park, and with two months' work stepped a mile in 2:24½, last half in 1:10. In her last "work out" she plunked in a couple of heats in 2:23 and 2:21.

Another promising green one is a five-year-old bay gelding called Lord Castleray, belonging to W. J. Irvine, of this city. He was taken in hand on March 1st, but has already gone a mile in 2:26, and a quarter at nearly a 2:16 gait. He is a nice actor and goes so smoothly and steadily that he "looks like ready money" when the hell taps.

A Los Angeles trotter which has a record of 2:23½, but was such a mean actor that nothing could be done with him, is said to be behaving nicely, working well and steadily in company, and from accounts, is liable to make them step some in this class. He also has a three-year-old brown mare by Mendocino, a son of Electioneer, out of a Piedmont mare, that is entered in the Futurity stake, worth $3,000, at the next State Fair. She has only had three weeks' work and shows a quarter in 39 seconds.

A two-year-old full brother to Bonesteel, belonging to James McCaw, with a limited amount of work has shown a quarter at better than a three-minute gait, and a yearling, by Waldstein, out of Flossie, by Prompter, entered in the Occident Stake of '99, has shown a quarter in 46 seconds, which is considered very promising for one of that age at this season of the year.

Mr. Jorgenson is also breaking and working a filly belonging to Mr. Williams of the Surveyor-General's office that is going along nicely and shows considerable speed.

Bill Ivey, who is working the staunch and game little bay stallion, Stam B., says his charge is going along nicely but as yet has not been given any fast work. When he is once keyed up, his record of 2:11½ will not be the limit of his speed, for in the last year he has shown miles much better than 2:10. The best that has been done with him up to date, however, are miles along in 2:25.

Among the stables of trotters and pacers at the track, O. J. (Tom.) Holmes has nine head, among which are several green ones eligible to all the slow classes. Tom has the speedy bay mare Laurel (2:13½), by Nephew. Laurel was raced here by Keating & Winsup a year or so ago and was very fast. She looks fine now, having filled out considerably, but has a "dickie" leg, so it is doubtful if she will ever be got fit for a huiusmodi race. Among the most promising in his stable, however, is a chestnut two-year-old pacer called Diawood, by Diablo, out of a mare by Woodnut. The youngster has already shown a mile in 2:19½, and has paced quarters at a speed that will make him dangerous when he looks up with the other two-year-olds at the various meets. Another good thing in the stable is a gray pacing mare called Blue Bird. She is a five-year-old, by Briardier, out of a Steinyway mare, and has plunked in a couple of miles close to :20 in her work, and as she is eligible to all the classes for the "green" ones, the stable feels rather rosy over her prospects. Among the rest in his string is Faro Bank, a Don Marvin gelding, with a record of 2:21, that is going along nicely; a "green" pacer by Easter Wilke, out of a Norfolk (thoroughbred) mare, that also shows considerable speed; Bonnie Bell, a five-year-old mare with a record of 2:20½, belonging to J. E. Terry, of this city, that is traveling along in good style and coming right up to expectations; Jesse P., a bay pacer, with a record of 2:20½, belonging to Dr. Welden, that is very speedy and can go a quarter in 33½ seconds—a 2:14 clip—when called upon to do so. In addition to these he has Pansy, 2:34, a pacer by Prompter, out of a Black Hawk mare, and bay mare Ethel, 2:34½, by Wild Boy, out of Benton mare. Both are working well and considered promising for the classes in which they will have to start.

BYRON McCLELLAND.

A Remarkable Riss—From Pressman to Rich Horseman.

LEXINGTON, April 29.—Byron McClelland, the most successful owner and trainer of race horses this country has produced in the last decade, is a native of Lexington, Ky., and about 40 years of age.

As a boy he worked around his father's stable, and when he was large enough to sit on a horse he began to ride. He essayed to be a jockey much against his father's will and rode a number of creditable races. He then retired from the turf temporarily and accepted a position as pressman and mailing clerk for a daily paper, where he remained for several years.

Later McClelland trained the horses of H. T. Duncan Sr., and with considerable success. He next trained for the late Congressman W. L. Scott of Pennsylvania. The first and second seasons he was with Mr. Scott his horses were uniformly successful, and he won a great deal of money for the millionaire lawmaker, both in purses and in the betting ring. Scott gave McClelland carte blanche to bet his money, but the third year the horses were not so successful, and Scott refused to pay the bets made on his horses.

McClelland went into the saddle ring that winter heavily in debt and with practically no money at his command. He paid $120 for a little yearling by imp. Ill-Used and when some one asked him what he intended to do with it he said he reckoned his ownership would entitle him to a hedge. His questioner suggested that he name the colt Budge.

Readers of turf history will remember how this grand little weight-carrier won thousands of dollars for McClelland, and with the money he paid every dollar of the Scott indebtedness which had been saddled upon him.

At the distribution sale of Roach & McClelland, a few years after he had left Scott's employ. Byron hid $2,000 and secured a beautiful chestnut filly by Hindoo, dam Red and Blue. He named her for his wife, Sallie McClelland's first important race was the Great American, worth $28,000 to the winner, and as the betting was 20 to 1 against her her owner won a big bundle of money on her victory. Sallie's winnings that year amounted to nearly $50,000.

In her three-year-old form she made her first start at the Lexington spring meeting in a selling race, she having been entered more for work than for anything else. She had swept into the stretch two lengths ahead when she fell, throwing her jockey. She injured herself so badly that she was never able to start again. Byron retired her to the stud, and he now has a two-year-old daughter of this grand race mare in training, which he calls Frances McClelland, after his little niece. She is a splendid-looking youngster, by Bermuda, and Byron thinks she will be a credit to her royal breeding.

McClelland's next star performer was Bermuda, that great son of Bersan and Fair Lady. He won about $20,000 for his owner, and in the Omnibus, which was worth over $20,000, Rey del Ray, ridden by the late Isaac Murphy, managed to beat Bermuda by a nose, so that he lost a small fortune by the superior riding of the colored Archer.

The next great horse to wear the McClelland colors was Henry of Navarre, the handsome chestnut son of Knight of Ellerslie and Moss Rose. He was a good performer as a two-year-old and in his three-year-old form he became famous.

McClelland sold Henry of Navarre to August Belmont for about $35,000. He won the Suburban Handicap for his owner and has since been retired to the stud.

McClelland's next great horse was Halma, by Hanover, dam Julia L. He paid a stiff price for him as a yearling and as a two-year-old he scarcely won his oats. In his three-year-old form he was one of the best horses of the year. Before the Latonia Derby McClelland sold him to Charles Fleischmann of Cincinnati for about $22,000, and the wealthy Queen City turfman won the Derby with him.

Following Halma came Prince Lief by King Eric, dam Mimi. Like Halma, he was a very ordinary two-year-old, but he developed into a first-class stake horse the year following, when he won the Phoenix Hotel stake at Lexington, the Oakley Derby and at St. Louis winning one of the most remarkable races on record, covering the mile and a half in 2:34 with 127 pounds up. Unfortunately he hewed a tendon at Milwaukee and may never race again.

Last year McClelland also owned a great two-year-old in Maceo, by Sir Dixon. He won four straight stakes, and then contracted rheumatism, which prevented his further racing. Among the other good horses which have been owned and trained by McClelland may be mentioned Frog Dance, The Commoner, Cæsarian, Buck Massie, Fred Barr and Moylan.

McClelland has an excellent string in training at the Kentucky Association track this spring, consisting of twelve two-year-olds and four three-year-olds. McClelland is also responsible for much of the success of his cousin, Will Wallace, who has become such a prominent figure on the Eastern and Western tracks. Wallace was his cousin's private secretary and commissioner for several years, until he bought horses on his own account and trained them.

Byron McClelland is probably the wealthiest turfman that ever came up from the ranks in Kentucky. He has invested his money judiciously in Lexington and Fayette County real estate, Lexington city bonds, real estate, first mortgages and other gilt-edge securities. He is a silent partner in one of the largest agricultural implement houses in Central Kentucky, and were he to quit the turf to-morrow he would have an income larger than any business man in Lexington outside of a few wealthy capitalists.

McClelland is very generous, and numbers his friends by the score. He expects to race in England in 1900.

The Best Blisters.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., March 10, 1895.

The Lawrence—Williams Co., Cleveland, O.—Please send me at your earliest convenience one of your complete pamphlets regarding Gombault's Canstic Balsam. I think it is the nicest blister I ever saw or used. I inclose stamp and will be under obligations for special advice in my case.

E. E. NUZZLE.

Juanita was rightly first in open bitches. Belle Cree, a new one, second. She has a good length of head and nice small ear, but she is a little heavy in skull. Her under coat is good, outer coat a bit short, body, head and legs excellent. Lassie P. was a good third. She is not as good in ear as Belle and not quite flat enough in skull. Outer coat good, under coat scant. Nellie, reserve, is thick in skull and has bad expression. She was shown much too fat. Maida, V

Santa Rosa Turf Talk.
There are more right good horses in Sonoma county than ever before. It seems to be the impression of horsemen, generally, that better prices for all kinds of stock will prevail soon. Indeed, there is already noted an advance.
W. J. Hotchkiss of Headshurg has purchased of George E. Gerner the mare Rosa Ludwig, by Anteo, and her Direct youngster. The price paid for the two is said to have been a fairly good one.

Silas Skinner 2:17, Grace Bros.' great horse, looks as fine as a peach, and fit to make the race of his life. Time was when Skinner was the sensational stallion in the California circuit. His colts are showing up splendidly.
George Campion is working Grace Bros.' Ole, by Skinner, out of Evelyn, the Nutwood mare. Ole is going well and promises to be heard from. Ole's dam was the dam of Tietam and Nick Russell.

Mr. Campion is working S. Purrington's Granville. Granville is by Skinner, his dam by Alexander II. He is four years old and is considered very fast. Mr. Campion has also in his string two good ones owned by Mrs. Stewart. One, a pacer, is by Director Jr.

Frank McGregor is working his fine two-year-old pacer Cock Robin, by Robin. He is an excellent fellow. Mr. McGregor turned out his Gossiper youngster Monday.

John Walker's yearling filly by Robin out of a Philosopher Wilkes mare has also been turned out. This filly has shown remarkable speed and has a future.

Mart Rollins is driving C. C. Belden's pacer and is getting some good clips out of him. He was sired by Bolton, he by Fearnaught, dam by Washington. A Press reporter saw Mr. Rollins drive this one a pretty good mile a few days ago.

Thomas Hehir has a two-year-old by Robin and out of a Bonnie McGregor mare, of which he is duly proud. Mr. Hehir is watching the development of the youngster with great interest.

The St. Blaise family was very much in evidence at Ingle-side Wednesday, St. Callatine and Joan (by St Carlo) winning the first two races, San Marco (by imp. St. Blaise) taking the fourth very cleverly.

"Tattersall's."
This name is familiar to every lover of a good horse in the civilized world. In every large city in America one of the leading salesyards is called "Tattersall's." Here in San Francisco Messrs. Street & Cresswell, one of our best known firms of auctioneers has established a Tattersall's at 721 Howard street, near Third, which is destined to become a leading factor among the many stock and salesyards here. The old car stables under Union Hall have been leased and fitted up so that 150 horses may be accommodated. An adjoining building 300 feet deep has been fitted up, one side as a repository for carriages and vehicles of all descriptions and on the other as a salesring. Accommodations for 600 spectators have been made and on salesdays (every Tuesday) the place is crowded with buyers and their friends. A horse-shoeing establishment and harness display room are also beneath this roof, while two immense corrals for the exercising of horses are set apart for this purpose. A. F. Rooker, the gentlemanly manager, is a thorough horseman, and J. Griffin, formerly of the Cook Farm, has charge of the horses sent there. The greatest care is taken of all horses consigned to this firm. The prices are extremely low, for stall room, including feed, has been placed at fifty cents a head. Horses boarded, including shoeing, at $18 per month. All stock consigned to Tattersall's will be met at the wharf or depot and led free of charge to the consignor direct to the salesyard. The strides made by this firm in enlisting public attention and patronage is remarkable, and if the success which has attended their efforts during the past four weeks continues this place will be filled with horses, carriages and vehicles until every Tuesday and emptied on that day. A cordial invitation is extended to all horse owners to visit this new sales place.

From the Home of Steinway.
We have received copies of the catalogue for 1897 issued by the Oakwood Park Stock Farm ("The Home of Steinway"). Typographically it is similar to all preceding ones that have come from this farm, but within its covers are the names of the choicest-selected broodmares and some of the best-bred colts and fillies in California. It seems as if the object has been to get descendants of every fashionable sire in America, and the effort has not been in vain. These matrons, bred to Steinway 2:25½ (sire of W. Wood 2:07, Agitato (3) 2:09½, Cricket 2:10, Algreor 2:11, Free Coinage (3) 2:11½, W. W. Foote (2) 2:15½, Promise Me 2:16½, Caesar 2:16½ and seventeen others in the list); Chas. Derby 2:20 in sixth heat, sire of game campaigners including Diablo (4) 2:09½, Derby Princess (4) 2:12½, Cibolo (4) 2:13½; and El Benton 2:23, one of the choicest bred sons of Electioneer, are producing colts and fillies that sell and sell well. Individuality as well as breeding has been sought after, and success has crowned the efforts of the gentlemanly proprietor

John F. Boyd. Every Steinway and every Chas. Derby that has been handled for speed has proven a game race horse. The attention of Eastern horsemen has been attracted to this quality through the few representatives that have been sent from this farm and sold at auction. William B. Fasig, the famous horseman and auctioneer, while on a visit here recently, declared that in all his travels he never saw a more uniform lot of better colts and fillies than he saw at the Oakwood Park Stock Farm. So delighted was he that he forthwith secured a consignment from this farm to sell at Cleveland this week, and the telegraph dispatches prove that his judgment was correct, for excellent prices were received for the untitled ones. We advise all our readers to send for a catalogue, and should they be in need of a first-class horse for any purpose in the world write and see if they will not be suited. There are in all 225 light harness horses and thoroughbreds listed in the catalogue; besides these, there are at least seventy-five carriage horses for sale on the place.

The Corbitt Sale.
The attendance of buyers at the sale of horses from the San Mateo Stock Farm was not well attended on Thursday last. Consequently the prices obtained were exceedingly low and many splendid bargains were obtained. The colts and fillies were in perfect condition and the fortunate buyers will never have cause to regret attending this sale. Several broodmares were withdrawn and two of the teams were not offered. Alex Brown of Walnut Grove, Sacramento County, one of the best judges of a good horse in this State, secured the gem of the sale in Nushagak (formerly Wil Direct) for $480. Det Bigelow, who is handling Mr. Brown's horses, will have him on the circuit this year.
Over $3,380 was realized, and following is a list of those that sold for $100 and over:

INFORMATION received here to-day by the last mail from Alaska clearly shows that the Cook's Inlet country will never be renowned as a horse country. A Port Townsend farmer sent sixteen horses there last year to operate a pack train, and, although they had plenty of food, eight died from the effects of cold during the winter. Another company operating thirty-one horses at the same place lost the entire outfit. The horses were common cayuses, and it is said they paid for themselves and their transportation north ten times over before succumbing to the cold.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dilator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONT'S.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—he is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues, Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal.

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcrone (son of George Wilkes, and Alma Mater, the famous broodmare by Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, he by Rhode Island, 2:23 1/4, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/4, Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, Wilmar, 2:23 1/4), by Hambletonian 10; granddam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great grandam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of six-teen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by Imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15.2% hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. The Fastest Son of Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1-4

SEYMOUR WILKES, 2:08 1/2

(REGISTERED 0232)

WILL MAKE THE SEASON OF 1897

— AT —

J. H. WHITE'S STOCK FARM, LAKEVILLE, CAL.

TERMS—$25 FOR THE SEASON.

SEYMOUR WILKES was sired by the King of the Wilkes family, Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, dam Early Bird, by Playmail (brother to Barney, 2:23 1/4); second dam Lucy, by Odd Fellow (son of Chloroform); third dam by a son of Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam by Blackhawk 767. Playmail was Mike 3403 (he by Vermont 322, out of The Peniger mare), out of Kate McDonough (dam of Ella Lewis, 2:27, and granddam of Saladin, 2:05 1/4).

SEYMOUR WILKES stands 16 hands high and weighs 1200 pounds. He is seal brown in color and in conformation is one of the most symmetrical of any in California. His qualities as a level-headed, game and speedy racehorse are known to all horsemen. He is the fastest son of the mighty Guy Wilkes and on his maternal side traces to the very best of sires and dams. He has an iron constitution, and all owners of good mares that want horses that will have breeding, size, bone, quality, good disposition and extreme speed should not overlook this horse. His service fee is placed at a very low figure considering his merits. He never was bred but to a few mares and his progeny are models of perfection.

THOS. ROACH, Laksville, Cal.

Mares can, but shipped direct to the ranch via Steamer Gold. The best of care taken of them on the farm, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $3 per month.

SAN MATEO STOCK FARM

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15 1/2 hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $25,000 Kentucky Futurity stakes as a three-year-old, and in his four-year-old form, until he met Azote, 2:04 1/4 (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:16, dam Ellen Mayhew, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26 1/4). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE, 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 15 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly-proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfection in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37 1/4. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, dam Obantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:48), by Nutwood, 2:18 1/4; second dam Creon (dam of Love's, 2:29, and Betsy Britton, 2:20 1/4, by Princeps 336; third dam Crane Lisse (dam of Bazarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $30 to $10, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All the highly-bred on a sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month. Hay and grain $10 per month.

Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

VIVA LA

Brown Colt, foaled in 1892, Bred by Jos. Cairn Simpson.

BY WHIPS, SIRE OF AZOTE, 2:04 3-4, COBWEBS, 2:12, AND SEVERAL OTHERS IN THE LIST

FIRST DAM—JOE VIVA, by Joe Hooker.

SECOND DAM—LADY VIVA, by Three Cheers (dam of Electioneer Rex, showed when a two-year-old quarters in 36 seconds.)

THIRD DAM—LADY AMANDA, by Imp. Hurrah (the dam of Electioneer Jr., formerly Advance, three-year-old record 2:22 1/2).

FOURTH DAM—LADY LANCASTER, by Imp. Monarch. The dam of Malcolm Regent, Ontario and several other winners. Marion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rev, Yo Tambien, and several other high-class race horses, is by Malcolm, and the breeding of Viva La—Electioneer, combined with strains of thoroughbred which have shown adaptability to acquire trotting action, is now greatly fancied by intelligent breeders.

VIVA LA is sixteen bands high, a rich seal brown in color and more than usually handsome, combining muscular power and quality in an eminent degree. He was trained a little in his yearling form and showed a 2:40 gait and was improving rapidly when his training was suspended. He can scarcely fail on the right sort of mares to get fast trotters, and with nearly a certainty of securing good-sized, fine-looking horses which even in these times are in demand.

The Trotting Horse.

BY CHARLES MARVIN.

This great practical horse book is a handsome, three hundred page octavo, bound in cloth, elegantly printed, superbly illustrated, and explains in every detail the remarkable success of CHARLES MARVIN and the whole plans and methods pursued at Palo Alto as to breaking, training, shoeing, gaiting, driving, keeplog, racing and breeding trotters.

Read what J. C. Sibby, the owner of St. Bel, says of this book: "In this work Marvin has let out all the mysteries of the craft, and it is so simple and plain that any breeder, owner, trainer or rubber who has any relish for his business can take a colt as a yearling and develop to the highest and fullest extent that colt's capacity as a trotter. The work impressed me so strongly that I have ordered twenty copies, and shall place one in the hands of every rubber on our farm."

The Standard-Bred Stallion

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

SIRED BY

ANTEROS 6920, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Mahoe (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:16¾, Antevolo, 2:19¼, etc., being by Electioneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Autidote, 2:10¼, Nelly F., 2:13¾, and seventeen others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan (4 sired Dan Voorhes, 2:23¾, St. Helena, 2:27¾, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14½, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. sires. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Trixie, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of hand some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

SACRAMENTO RACES.

Good Attendance and Excellent Sport—How the Events Were Won.

FOURTH DAY—THURSDAY, MAY 27.

There must have been more than 3,000 people at Agricultural Park yesterday to witness the five good running races on the programme. It was ladies' day, to be sure, and they were out in goodly numbers, but independent of the fair sex the attendance was large.

The betting ring was thronged with men, and the bookmen were kept busy as bees taking in money and handing out tickets. And the betting was not of the "chipping" order, either, for some very good-sized ones were made. It is not easy to see how the bookies could have handled many more bets than they did, and they certainly can have no fault to find.

SUMMARIES.

FIFTH DAY—FRIDAY, MAY 28.

The attendance yesterday was in keeping with that of the week. It was a big crowd for a local meeting, and the sport was good. There was one incident that did not look well—the defeat of Prince in the first heat of the 2:40 trot in 2:29½, and his winning of the next one easily in six seconds faster time. Outside of that, the only untoward event was the accident that occurred during the running race, when two of the horses fell and Jockey Holmes was so seriously injured. It was the only accident during the week.

SIXTH DAY—SATURDAY, MAY 29.

The spring meeting of the Capital Driving Association closed yesterday with the largest crowd seen at Agricultural Park since the opening day. There must have been upward of 3,000 people present, and many persons put the number much higher. As on previous days, the management was excellent, and the directors of the association may well feel proud of the result of their venture.

The announcement was made that under other auspices there will be racing every day this week. The events will all be running, and each day's programme will embrace five races. Ladies will be admitted free every day.

The special six days' race meeting inaugurated yesterday at Agricultural Park promises to be as successful as that which closed on Saturday, which was the best local meeting held in many years. The attendance yesterday was fully equal to, if not greater, than on the day of the preceding meeting. There were four books on the ground, and they were all well patronized. The races were all well contested, and good time was made. It was a good day for favorites, though some of them had close calls.

A fair-sized crowd attended the races yesterday at Agricultural Park and witnessed some very good sport. In two races five furlongs were covered in 1:02 and 1:01½ respectively, in the former instance by two-year-olds. Some of the finishes were close and exciting. The betting was spirited throughout, and the four hooks were kept pretty busy handling the money offered.

The judges' stand was occupied by J. W. Wilson and Wilber T. Smith, experienced and honest men.

The betting was not quite as brisk as on some previous days, but it was fair, and considerable money changed hands. Gen. Barrett end Wilbur F. Smith presided in the judges' stand, and William Gamble was in the timer's box, as usual.

GOLDEN GATE PARK DRIVING ASS'N

This Flourishing Organization Gives an Excellent Day's Racing at Ingleside to Swell the Balboa Boulevard Fund.

MONDAY, MAY 31.

About fifteen hundred lovers of a good trotter, pacer or galloper were attracted to Ingleside track this afternoon, the magnet being four races for harness horses and two for gallopers. The racing, which was under the auspices of the Golden Gate Park Driving Association, was excellent, and the Balboa Boulevard Fund was swelled materially. T. J. Crowley acted as presiding judge and starter, and he had for associates in the judges' stand the veteran trotting horse men Pat Farrell and W. H. Robinson. Dr. W. F. Egan, C. S. Crittenden and Alex. McCord acted as timers. The track was soft and yielding, precluding the making of any fast time by the harness horses. Close observers estimated that the course was about six seconds slow to the mile.

The first race, for trotters and pacers of the 3:00 class, had six starters. Kitty, a bay pacer, driven by A. Schwartz, took the first heat handily in the slow time of 2:48 1/4, Kittie S., a trotter handled by E. Levers, the second in 2:43 1/4, then Belle, who had apparently been out for a warming up, principally, in the first two heats, went on and won the next two and the race, leading all the way in both, with Kittie S. second, time 2:39 and 2:38 1/4.

Booth Barrett, a bay horse, driven by E. Cerciat, a son of Gaul, won the first heat of the second event by three lengths in 2:40 1/4, Lost Girl second, swerving badly the last part. There was a pretty contest in the second heat, the black gelding Nile looking a winner up to the last sixteenth, where he broke, Dandy Pat winning by a small margin in 2:38 1/4. In the third Cerciat drove Booth Barrett to the front and remounted there, winning off by ten lengths in 2:36 1/4, Lost Girl second and W. J. Simpson's Correct third this time, Norwood, the original favorite, driven by Dr. G. W. Leek, breaking badly in every heat and losing a lot of ground.

The third was for trotters and pacers of the 2:40 class. Ade R. made every post a winning one in the first heat, winning by four lengths in 2:32. Valley Jack won the second heat by half a head after a hair-raising drive, Ade R. second. In the third heat they got away on fair terms. Starter Crowley shouted "Go," but when they had gone less than a sixteenth of a mile one of the associates tapped the bell. N. C. Toft, driver of Valley Jack, the favorite, pulled up. Ade R. led all the way around, but was pressed somewhat by Pardee at the end. Mr. Toft promptly protested against Ade R. being awarded the heat, and a scene of wild disorder followed. Starter Crowley and Associate Robinson made speeches to the crowd from the stairs of the stand, defining their position, and Ade R. got the race. However, there were many dissenters from the opinion of the officials.

Vedette, once a well-known campaigner, took the 2:30 class race in two straight heats, time 2:25 and 2:24 1/4. Also, well driven by James G. Chesley, forced the pace out in the first, which was won by only a neck, and in the second Golden West, beaten but three parts of a length, was the contender. He made a head break in the initial heat. Vedette was handled hesitantly by J. Cusick, who is, we should judge, an old hand at the driving game. He came in for a lot of well-merited applause, for he was handling a pretty lame and very tired mare.

A mile dash for a $25 trophy "gentlemen" riders, was fifth on the programme. Aggie D. led by a block all the way around, making the circuit in 1:59 1/4. Kai Moi (W. Ober up), who finished second, could clearly have been closer up, if indeed he ought not to have won, end Pettijohn's Breakfast Gem, third, ran out and threw his rider, W. Williamson, who pluckily remounted and finished the circuit. All bets were declared off by the judges, who very correctly called it "no race."

The sixth was at half a mile, running, with three handsome ladies for pilots. Lady, ridden by Miss Haley, led for nearly a quarter, when she was passed by Ferewell, who, beautifully handled by Mrs. Neave, went on and "won a block" from Lady, who beat the swerving Blazes half a dozen lengths. The time was 0:55. The trio of fair riders showed great skill in the saddle, and it was hard to say which was best. Following are the

Pleasanton Items.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—On Thursday, the 27th ult., the Griffith-Selishbury outfit pulled out of town bound for Denver, taking the following horses: Trotters: Azote, 2:04 1/4, by Whips; Boodle, 2:12 1/4, by Strenger; She, 2:14 1/4, by Abbottsford; Time, 2:18 1/4, by Ethen Allen Jr.; Erastus C., 2:22 1/4, by Palo Alto; Jib Albert, five-year-old gelding, no record, by Albert W., dem the dam of Flying Jib, 2:04; Director Prince, five-year-old colt, no record, by Director, dem by Dexter Prince; Tebbie Stamboul, five-year-old mare, no record, by Stemboul, dam by Guy Wilkes; Lady Selishbury, three-year-old mare, by Directum, dem by Dexter Prince; Rect, three-year-old black colt, no record, by Direct, dem Lilly Stanley, by Whippleton. Pacers: W. Wood, 2:07, by Steinway, and Javelin, 2:13 1/4, by Creole.

Although thirty head have left here within the last two weeks, there are still enough left to make the track hum a little. Miles below 2:20 can be seen on every workout day.

J. M. Alvise has eighteen head of horses and colts under his charge. Directina, three-year-old trotter, by Direct, out of the dam of Directum; Miss Margaret, three-year-old pacer, by Direct, out of a half-sister to Flying Jib; Pettie D., pacer, 2:12 1/4, by Ultimus, and a team of hays, one by Richards' Elector, the other by Alexander Button, will go East in a second car that Mr. Griffiths will send for soon. They were not quite in shape to send East yet, and won't be fit to start in a race for a couple of months.

Alvise is looking out for the horses belonging to the Mr. Griffith estate here, as well as handling some on his own account.

Mr. Quinn, from Eureka, has four head: Iore, 2:23 1/4 as a two-year-old, now seven years old, trotter, sired by Ire, a son of Piedmont; Ruby N., 2:30 1/4, five years old, and her full sister are being worked along to lower Ruby's record, and has been bred to Diablo; three-year-old colt Arthur W., by Wayland W., and a two-year-old filly by Wayland W.

Lee Shaner has had Chris Peterson, 2:17 1/4, here all winter, and he is in fine condition. He stepped a mile in his workout the other day below his record. He started for Montana on June 1st.

Mr. McMenus has had Loupe, 2:09 1/4, pacing, and a brother in blood, pacer, no mark, seven-year-old; Mai Lonia, pacer, no mark, five-year-old, by Steinway, and a black colt by Guy Wilkes, belonging to E. J. Baldwin. Mr. McMenus has this week made a contract with the Patchan Wilkes Stock Farm at Lexington, Ky., to go there and take charge and do the home driving, and will start immediately. He has sent Loupe and Mai Louise to Jimmy Sullivan, Chico.

Barney Simpson has Paddy Miles, pacer, six-year-old, by Arthur Wilkes, no record, and perhaps he can't lift some. I think some of those gone to Montana had better have taken him and left some they took along to win with. He also has a full sister, four-year-old, and three head belonging to Mr. Bredbury. Merio Jr., a three-year-old filly, by Martin Carter's son of Director out of a full sister to Little Albert, and a colt by Direct out of the same mare.

Billy Murray has Diablo in the stand, and a two-year-old colt by him that can just march; paces helms faster than a lot of the old horses on the track can go. He also has a two-year-old filly by Direct, just breaking.

Jim Maguire has a five-year-old, by Guy Wilkes, dem by Anteeo; a six-year-old by Elector; a four-year-old by Anteeo Wilkes, dem by Nenbnc; and a two-year-old Directum, dem by Anteeo, all trotters, that he is handling.

J. Crow has a two-year-old, by Direct, dem by Sidney; a yearling full brother; a five-year-old by Anteeo Jr.; dem by Geo. M. Petchen Jr.; a black mare, pacer, by Director, dem by Hembletonien Jr.; a seven-year-old pacer by Bob Lee, out of the same mare, and a four-year-old by Anteeo Jr., dem by Geo. M. Patchen Jr.

And still the bell rings end around they go. Although not quite as many, but still enough things interesting for a month yet. Verions moves are being made in the Selishbury—Pleasanton Stock Farm Co., insolvency proceedings. This matter has hurt the horse business in this vicinity more than anything ever did. A horse man can't get trusted here any more for a pack of cigarettes.

Mr. Bredbury has cestrated his three-year-old Direct out of sister to Little Albert, 2:10.

Flying Jib, 2:04 has been turned out to pasture. They gave him up after Joe Neel left, as they could do nothing with him. It is a singular thing that Neel could handle him so easily, and he commenced his old trick again just as soon as Neel left. He probably has seen his last days on a race track.

Chris. Peterson was shipped Wednesday, bound for Montana with his trainer, who also takes Wm. Napier's thoroughbred filly by Imp. Mertenburst out of Cheerful, by Three Cheers, along with him.

Jimmy Sullivan was in Pleasanton, Wednesday. TOURIST.

"It Works Wonders."

Mr. H. G. Meson, a prominent horseman at Chester, Pa., writes as follows: "Enclosed find check for one bottle of Quinn's Ointment. I have tried it on wind galls, and it has worked wonders." This is the general verdict of leading horsemen everywhere. For curbs, splints, spevins, windpuffs and all hunches it has no equal. Price $150. For sale by druggists and dealers; also in San Francisco by J. O'Kane and J. A. McKerron. Sent prepaid to any address. If you cannot easily obtain it, write to W. B. Eddy & Co., Whitehall, N. Y.

Success With Spavin and Ringbons.

HEBRON, N. Dak., Dec. 10, 1894.

The Lawrence-Williams Co., Cleveland, O.—I have used your Caustic Balm with great success both for spavin and ringbone, both cases being over one year's standing. I also used the Belsom for swellings of different kinds with good results.

MORTE FONSE ran a poor third at Joliet on the 29th of May, the race being won by Pinkey Potter in time (2:09 1/4) that Morte has shown ability to make look very yellow. But the old horse opened a 1 to 2 favorite, and this perhaps gave him an attack of the "slows." Strange to say, The Cheet, Bebe Murphy and others of that stable used to run poorly very often when the odds were "on." They'd limber up, somehow, most wonderfully when the prices were long and juicy. Morte Fonse and Bebe Murphy turned a few very pretty somersaults here last winter and spring. However, they were not applauded by the close students of form, and the hope was expressed that few acrobatic owners or horses would make their way Californiward next fall—or any other time. Such performances, witnessed so often here, have caused the San Francisco racing public to show marked lack of appreciation of lete.

TIPTON, Ind., Dec. 31, 1896.

W. F. YOUNG, P. D. F.—Dear Sir: Enclosed please find draft for three bottles of your Absorbine. I know it will do the work, and when the horsemen become convinced, as I have been, it will be no trouble to sell. Respectfully,
J. A. LEWIS.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

TROTTING AT ALAMEDA.—There was bright sunshine and favorable temperature at the Alameda Trotting Park last Saturday afternoon. The track is in capital condition, and, outside of one drawback, nothing to mar the pleasure of those who attended. A high wind from the westward swept over the low grounds, carrying clouds of dust where it caught the filled-in part of the marsh. There is nothing to impede the progress of the blasts from the quarter than more than fresh breeze came from during the opening trotting event of the Alameda season, and during the prevalence of the trade winds there will be more or less annoyance until a high fence is erected on the western side of the course. A fence, close-boarded, as high as that of the California Jockey Club, will bring the homestretch and the turns into the eddy, and a few feet more of lattice work above the close boards will protect the backstretch in a great measure, and then anything short of a gale will not be so disastrous.

There were breaks in the programme owing to the absence of some of the horses engaged, and the two races which were carried through proved such easy victories for the winners that there was little excitement save that which arose from the speed shown. The horses which took part are in constant use as roadsters, at least their training has been limited and "Boh," the hero of the 2-35 class, had not been hitched, to a sulky for a year or more past. His work has been confined to hauling a road wagon, and that of ponderous proportions, weighing 350 pounds, and as Boh's owner, Judge Ellsworth, is also a heavy weight, 220 pounds, his "fitting" for the race was hardly in accordance with established usage. Boh has size, however, and still better than mere brawn and muscle, has the breeding that gives stamina and will power, being by Steiway and his dam by Lodi—the only horse which ever ran close enough to Norfolk to share in the honors of a heat. While the wind was a huge power to overcome, that was not the only handicap which militated against fast time. The drivers of the winners were a big lump overweight, Mr. Neal, who drove his own mare, scaling 175 pounds, while Mr. Cohen, who acceded to the owner's request to haul Boh, was within six pounds of an even two hundred.

By the way, if that extra forty-four pounds could be sweated away, there are few of the professionals who could give Mr. C—— an equal horse and beat him in a race. He has certainly the "knack" and apparently "at home" behind any horse I have seen him pilot, no matter how "strange" they were to him.

If the managers of harness-racing meetings would offer more inducements for "owners to drive," and owners second the efforts by making entries, it would add greatly to the public interest. A good idea, perhaps, to make 175 pounds the minimum weight, so many of the amateur reusman being in the heavy weight division. Mr. Neal handled his mare very well, and there is little risk in asserting that with a little more practice he will likewise excel in the art. With a favorable day and a few weeks additional training there is scarcely any question of Emma Abbott's capacity to trot well down in the teens, and the horse which was second to her in the race, Silver Button, is a sure enough member of promising class. Appropriately christened, by Silver Bow from a mare by Alexander Button, and then, too, as is well known to readers of ancient stories, there was great change from a leaden bullet to a silver button, torn from the jacket, when a "charmed life" was the heritage of the antagonist.

The races were conducted strictly in accordance with the rules of the National Trotting Association, in which the Alameda Club holds membership. With one minor exception, and that was rectified as soon as attention was called to the omission. The last code requires drivers to be reweighed after each heat, and with such an array of drivers as appeared in the solkies Saturday, non-observance was excusable. One driver had to carry weight and a messenger was despatched for the necessary amount of galea. One was exactly weight, the others ranging from 175 to 194 pounds.

Distance judge, clerk of the course, all officials required at their posts, and as a pattern for more pretentious clubs, "time between heats" was strictly enforced. Records were sought, not feared, and, therefore, every precaution taken that there should be no question of the validity of the returns. Purse were given, though I did not learn the amount, and hence the sum is omitted in the following

RULE 4, N. T. A.—"In all purses three or more entries are required, and two to start, unless otherwise specified. An association deviating from the above must specify how many entries and starters are required and both conditions must be fulfilled or the race is off."

That is the wording of the rule, and it is manifestly just and is a protection to owners. Notwithstanding the evident fairness of the law, the programme committee of the P. C. T. H. B. A. recommended that the directors should rule it out of the published conditions, and that N. T. A. rules to govern, excepting Rule 4, ha the pronouncement. I was under the impression that such a resolution was passed, but am pleased to see that the advertisement in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN does not contain such a condition. To follow the practice which formerly prevailed of declaring races on or off at the pleasure of the managers was productive of a great deal of ill feeling. When entries are withheld and no information published in relation thereto, until "the Board" passes upon them, there will be charges of "manipulation" to favor some, to punish those who are not in the good graces of the management.

That reprehensible phrase, "satisfactory to the directors," when it means whether a purse has "filled" or not, should be replaced by a distinct avowal of the number of entries and starters, and when these are in accordance with the requirements it is beyond reasonable argument that they can not be declared off. Directors have the right to reject entries, if even accompanied with the stipulated fee, from those who are likely to bring harness racing into disrepute. Not at all unusual for Jockey Clubs to refuse entries from those who are placed under interdiction, but notice, as a rule, precedes the refusal. The right reserved to deviate from the published conditions, by inserting a clause which specifies that a certain general rule shall not prevail, is a dangerous usurpation of authority which cannot fail, in the end, to work injury to the association that claims it, and also a bad example, therefore I am pleased to learn that former impressions were not justified.

I have not seen the "entry blank," but such an important proviso could hardly be left out of the advertisement in this paper.

QUESTIONS.—"D. C." San Francisco, propounds the following questions, which he requests me to answer:

Was imported Messenger a thoroughbred, according to the English standard?

If he had any defects in his pedigree what were they, or where was his lacking?

Was American Eclipse strictly thoroughbred?

As Messenger is in the English Stud Book and, according to my recollection, enrolment in that is accepted as a certificate of thoroughbred breeding in England when the strains set forth are not disputed the first query will require an affirmative answer. It has been claimed that the defects came through his sire, Mambrino, which was a grandson of Sampson, a horse foaled in 1745, his pedigree in the English Stud Book given thus: "Sampson (Mr. Robinson's) bred by Mr. Preston, 1745, by Blaze-Hip-Spark, son of Honeycomb Pouch-Snake-Lord D'Arcy's Queen. Mr. Robinson's Sampson won five Royal Plates at six years old, and was sire of Engineer (sire of Mambrino) Bay Malton, etc." Mr. Wallace claimed that Messenger was not thoroughbred owing to the Sampson strain, though the best authorities on thoroughbred breeding do not agree in that view. Col. S. D. Bruce, compiler of the American Stud Book, gives Messenger pedigree to the 10th dam, "Natural Barb mare," "Turks" and "Barbs" predominating.

American Eclipse, was a grandson of Messenger, his dam Miller's Damsel by Messenger, and his second dam, imported Pot 8-tos mare.

Duroc, the sire of American Eclipse, was by imp. Diomed, his dam Amanda, by Grey Diomed, and the pedigree is carried to the seventh dam in The American Stud Book.

To the best of my knowledge the question of what constitutes a thoroughbred? has not been authoritatively settled in this country. "Five uncontaminated crosses" secure admission into the American Stud Book without the "h. h." attachment, but whether a court of law would endorse that estimate or not is a matter of conjecture.

The origin of the idea that five pure crosses gave the animal possessing them the right to be classed thoroughbred came from the practice of restricting "cocktail" races to horses which were shorter than one part in thirty-two of recognized blood, and hence if an animal could not participate in half-bred races, it must necessarily be thoroughbred.

What constitutes a thoroughbred? Propound that question to every racing man encountered, and it is long odds that not one will give an answer that will stand the test of cross-examination.

Five uncontaminated crosses will not fill the bill, especially if the definition is to pass current in other countries. The land of the blood horse, "old England," will repudiate such a desecration of the title, and at the same time admit the progeny of parents, neither of which could win the cheapest selling plate at any meeting of regular jockey clubs in this country. A California-bred horse, Jim Renwick, with only one known cross of thoroughbred, could have made a howling farce of a race in which the pick of all Arabia started.

The best definition I can think of is that when the candidate for admission into the thoroughbred ranks can show a clear line of ancestry to animals recorded in the English Stud Book the title is perfect.

But it will not do to exclude from participation in races horses which cannot show an unbroken line of ancestors to Vol. I, E. S. B. Some of our greatest families would be ostracized were that the course pursued, and when meritorious performances for several generations have gained the members of these distinguished families admission into the A. S. B., that also removes the cloud from the title.

"Was American Eclipse strictly thoroughbred?" Emphatically so. Quips or fanciful quips should not invalidate his claim.

A racehorse that never lost a race, the sire of racehorses, and if the Messenger cross were to work injury, then his daughter, Ariel, with three additional strains of Messenger through her dam—and these close up—should have been far inferior to what she was. She ran fifty-seven races, winning forty-two of them, seventeen at heats of four miles, and with "foot" enough to beat the fastest of the short horses their favorite distances.

* * *

"OPENING MEETING"—I cannot understand the slow movements of the Trotting Horse Breeders, or rather the inactivity of the officers of the association in relation to the opening meeting. So much depends on this being carried through, a great deal, in fact, resting on prompt and energetic action, that the delay cannot be justified. The assumption that the entries for the September meeting were necessary to determine the standing of one the latter part of July was the only reasonable solution, and the most has been made of that point to induce people to enter. But one of the objections urged to making entries was that there was no like lihood of a circuit before the State Fair, and, therefore, it would not pay to train horses, the only chances for which would be to fight against the cracks which would gather at Sacramento and be in readiness for all subsequent events.

At this time of writing, Thursday morning, I am in the dark regarding the entries but am firm in the faith that if the managers of the P. C. T. H. B. A. were awaiting the returns from Tuesday's closing before acting, their fear will be dispelled and the "Opening Meeting" announced. It has been published that a resolution was carried at a full meeting of the Board that the circuit should be opened by a meeting under the management of the Breeders, but people are distrustful after that to be held in Santa Rosa last fall was declared off, and the hesitation shown to publish the programme. There were other reasons for mistrusting and, I was not greatly surprised that doubts prevailed.

An owner of several horses, good enough to engage in races was met on the 1 p. m. boat, June 1st, and he replied to the question if he intended to enter them that he had not fully made up his mind, the repelling force being the return of the horses from Montana, but was the opportunity offered to trot them in races previous to the State Fair entries would be made.

Should the meeting to open the circuit on the track of the C. J. C. the last of July, he given up the others, with the exception of Woodland and Marysville, will be somewhat doubtful. I have little fear of that, however, as when the question was acted upon by the Board there was no opposition, the vote being unanimous. At the last meeting of that Board, May 12th, a committee was elected to prepare a programme so that there are no reasonable grounds for the supposition that the meeting will not be held as agreed upon. While the dilatoriness in carrying out the resolution of the directors of the P. C. T. H. B. A. has given cause for apprehension, it cannot be possible that there will be anything in the way of all the meetings being carried through according to the resolutions passed.

Since writing the above I learn that the list of entries in all the purses offered at the September meeting is far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, and that should guarantee a still more comprehensive circuit than has so far been marked out or thought of. The flagging courage of those who were faint-hearted and weak-in-the-knees will have brought several degrees higher than the sticking point, and every well-wisher of harness racing and patron of the track will be enthusiastic over the outlook.

Galtee More Won the Epsom Derby.

EPSOM (Eng.), June 2.—The Derby was won to-day by J. Gubbins' brown colt, Galtee More, by Kendal, out of More ganette; Velasquez was second and History third.

The expectation that the crowd which would be present at the Jubilee Derby, as the race for the Derby stakes this year has been termed, would eclipse all records in point of numbers was not realized. The weather was unfavorable and Galtee More's victory was a foregone conclusion.

The stakes are 600 sovereigns, 300 to the second and 200 to the third. The course is about a mile and a half.

Prima Minister led until half-way down the hill, when Oakdena drew to the front, followed by Galtee More. After crossing the road Galtee More assumed the lead and won in a canter by two lengths. Eight lengths separated the second and third horses, Velasquez and History. The Prince of Wales' entry, Oakdena, was fourth. It was anticipated that Velasquez would get second place. The rest of the starters were far below the usual Derby form.

A quarter of a mile from home Galtee More seemed to be sailing home alone. Velasquez, however, continued to gallop on, and got closer and closer to the leader. Wood then called on Galtee More for the first time, and, directly after the jockey was seen to move, the shout arose that Galtee More was beaten. The Irish colt was far from beaten, and, responding splendidly, drew out in inimitable style and won very easily. The time was 2:44.

Mr. Keene's St. Cloud II, ridden by Bradford, was started with the betting 100 to 1 against him. He finished fifth.

A striking feature of the day was the large number of Irish people who came to see Galtee More. The Irish hosts during the past few days have been overcrowded with racing enthusiasts from the Emerald Isle. Fewer Americans were present than usual.

By Ed.—Though Daniel O'Rourke, an Irish horse, won the Derby of 1852, Galtee More is the first Irish-bred horse owned by an Irishman that has ever won England's blue-ribbon event. John Russell Gubbins, owner of the colt, owns two stock farms near Limerick, Ireland, and it was upon one of these that the Derby-winner of 1897 first saw the light. His sire, Kendal, is almost an own brother to the unbeaten Ormoude, being by the same sire (Bend Or) from Windermere, by Macaroui. Miss Agnes, grandam of Kendal, is the third dam of Ormoude. Galtee More's dam is Morganette, by Springfield; second dam Lady Morgan, by Thormanby (winner of the Derby); third dam Morgan La Faye, by Cowly (son of the unbeaten Derby winner, Bay Middleton). Galtee More won the Middle Park Plate last year, defeating Velasquez, and put three other races to his credit, his record being four wins out of five starts. He is undefeated thus far as a three-year-old, his wins including the Newmarket Stakes, Two Thousand Guineas and now the much-prized Derby.

HANDSPRING beat Requitul easily at even weights (121 lbs.) in a special mile race last Wednesday at Morris Park. Handspring was at 8 to 5, Requitul 1 to 2.

PRESBYTERIAN, a recent winner, is, we believe, the first of the get of imp. Prestonpans to win in America. His dam is Dareka, according to Daily Racing Form.

DIVIDE, winner of the Ladies' Stakes, one mile, at Morris Park this year, is a sister to Louis Ezell's Unity, being by imp. Rossington—Unite.

PRESBYTERIAN, first of the Prestonpans to win in America, was again victorious at Ingalls Park, Joliet, Ill., last Wednesday.

PATSY FREEMAN has been piloting old David for Ben & Arthur at St. Louis.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

DIABLO, 2:09½, will not be seen on the Montana circuit this year.

ALASKA, by Stamboul, dam by Gny Wilkes, trotted a quarter at Cleveland, recently, in 33½ seconds.

HAVE you seen what the Los Angeles Agricultural Association is offering in the way of purses this year?

THE programme of the summer meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association is earnestly sought for by horse-owners.

THE horse Bay Bird at Rancho del Paso is destined to become one of the best horses ever owned at this famous farm.

TWO SOON, the first son of Direct, owned by James McClenahan, will be a member of A. P. McDonald's stable this season.

IF you have a horse you desire to turn out to pasture we can earnestly recommend the Brentwood Farm advertised in this issue.

E. H. HARRIMAN has named his two-year-old black filly by Director, out of the dam of Nancy Hanks, Nanni. She shows great promise.

THE first new-comer to the 2:20 list for 1897 is Great Stakes, b h, by Billy Thornhill, who lowered his record at Norfolk, Va., from 2:20½ to 2:20.

TOM KEATING and Ed. Lafferty arrived in Anaconda on Thursday with their trotters and pacers. They will return to California in time for the State Fair.

IT is to be hoped that some one will lease the Stockton track and show to the "city fathers" that the city would be a gainer if a race meeting is held there.

W. H. CRAWFORD—"the Counsellor"—is lying very ill at his home in Evanston, near Chicago. His illness is due to dropsy and his condition is reported as critical.

W. H. PARKER, of Stockton, has had a very successful season with his grandly bred stallion Derby Ash, a son of Chas. Derby, 2:20, out of the dam of Cibolo, 2:13½.

THEODORE ARMSTRONG, Alliance, Ohio, and W. J. Carter, Richmond, Va., have been appointed supervisors for the National Trotting Association by President Johnston.

HARRY HAMLIN said that he and his father were thinking of selling annually their entire stable of trotters and pacers in training at the end of each campaigning season.

THAT the horse market is improving is evidenced by every sale reported within the past few weeks. Good horses are bringing good prices and becoming more valuable every day.

JUDOE ELLSWORTH, of Oakland, is the proud owner of a bay colt by Silver Bow, 2:17, out of a mare by Steinway, 2:25½ that is a model of perfection and is as stylish as a peacock.

WE understand that a large sale of trotting stock from Vina will take place in this city in a few weeks. These trotters were all bred at Palo Alto and include many splendid individuals.

R. S. PIERCE has purchased the Nevada Stables from Walter Byington. These stables are situated on Market street opposite Seventh and are classed among the best in San Francisco.

THERE will be an old-time combination sale of trotters, roadsters, stallions, mares and geldings, by Altamont, Sidney, Grand Moor, Silver Bow, etc., Wednesday, June 16, 1897, at Killip & Co.'s salesyard.

THE track at Ingleside last Monday was five seconds slow and the showing made by the horses owned by the members of the Golden Gate Driving Association was, under the circumstances, very favorable.

EVERYTHING points to a most successful meeting in Anaconda and this means another successful meeting at Butte, Montana. Trains are arriving every day loaded with horses and their managers and attendants.

SENATOR W. A. SHIPPEE is contemplating bringing about 300 head of finely-bred trotting stock to this city to be sold. They are by Hawthorne, Director, McKinney, Sidney, Dictator Wilkes, and other great sires.

MABEL (sister to Beautiful Belle) died at Rancho del Paso last fall, but she left a number of very promising youngsters, the most promising being a colt by Knight, 2:22, which is being handled on the Sacramento track.

M. HENRY, of Haywards, has a five-year-old stallion by Director, 2:17, out of Dolly, by Vermont Messenger, for which he claims the name Educator. This is a very promising trotter and will be heard from this year.

ELMER STEVENS has a big string, headed by Charlie Wainland's Dexter Prince gelding, James L., 2:09½, and the whit-faced California bred one is big and strong and look as if he might be quite prominent among the 2:10 horses this season.

CALIFORNIA farmers and stock breeders, with but few exceptions, report the prospects for fair crops of grain and hay have improved wonderfully during the past four weeks. That is one reason they are taking such an interest in our district fairs.

THE track over which the harness races were decided at Sacramento last Saturday was fully five seconds slow, as it was deeply harrowed for the running horses and it was impossible to have it put in condition for the trotters and pacers.

J. M. NELSON has Silvery Bell and Amadora by Silver Bow, and a son of Diablo, 2:09½, out of Grace (dam of Creole, 2:15, etc.), at his place near the Alameda race track. They were sent him from George H. Fox's farm, Clements, and are fine individuals.

THE popular New York horseman, Mr. Charles Weiland, who owned James L., 2:09½, by Dexter Prince, announces his willingness to match that horse against David B., 2:09½; Dan Cupid, 2:09½, and Page, 2:09½, for $250 a corner, the winner to take the entire stake.

HARRY HAMLIN, the famous breeder of light harness horses at Villaga Farm, after reading the long list of famous trotters that trace to Beautiful Belle and being made aware of the fact that she is looking like a four-year-old, said: "It almost seems she should be called the 'eighth wonder of the world!'"

LIKE most of the Nutwoods, Manager has a short, high foot and goes best with his heels kept higher than normal. This seems to be a Nutwood characteristic. An experienced observer of the family says that they inherited that from the Pilot Jr.'s, and that the Pilot Medium family has the same characteristic.

WE have it on excellent authority that the story about the death of the well-known turf writer, Alex. P. Waogh, ("Grim") in Hong Kong was a canard. The gentleman is alive and well and was living in Shanghai, China, last month. We understand it is his intention to return to California in the near future.

JOHN DALY has a stable full of good ones owned by Fred Steinway, the piano maker. Elf, 2:22½, trotting, is entered in the slow pacing classes all over the country, and, as she stepped a mile in 2:12½ last fall, she would develop into a star wiggler. She is doing well this spring, and great things are expected of her.

C. G. RAUB, of Meridian, Sutter county, claims the name, Susia R., for a bay filly (small star) by Clarence Wilkes, son of Guy Wilkes, dam Benecia, by Benefit; second dam Susie, 2:26, by Geo. M. Patchen Jr., 2:27. Benecia has been stunted to that grand looking stallion Lynmont, 2:23½, sire of Lynall, 2:29½, and Lynhood, 2:32.

JAMES BUTLER president of the driving club of New York, recently purchased in California the mare Rose Ludwig, by Anteeo, 2:16½, together with a filly by Direct, 2:05½, out of Rosa Ludwig. The Anteeo mare is the dam of Mr. Butler's fast colt, Directum Kelly, 2:23½, and her filly by Direct is a full sister to this speedy three-year-old.

A. QUADE, one of the leading grocers of San Francisco, has a yearling filly at Mr. Henry's place near Hayward, that moves like an old campaigner. She was sired by Dictator, out of Diamond by Smalley's Diamond; second dam Dolly by Vermont Messenger. A good saddle horse can hardly keep up with this young trotter.

"THERE is nothing a business man hates more than to dun a person for money owed." We might also add that newspaper owners are not omitted in this statement, and as hills have been sent to every subscriber of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN in arrears, we earnestly hope that these little reminders of a little debt will not be overlooked.

THE entry list to the P. C. T. H. B. Association's meeting exceeded all expectations and the returns are not all in yet. Secretary Kelley says he expects many additions from Montana, Nevada and Oregon. The BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN's predictions on the subject of having good light harness horse race meetings in California this year, "Budd, or no Budd," are verified!

A NUMBER of gentlemen in Stockton who are trying to conduct a fair at both the track and pavilion during the coming fall met Monday and the sentiment was favorable to the undertaking if the directors would make any reasonable contract for the leasing of the association property during the coming season. It is hoped to bring the matter to a definite understanding early this week.

THE Cleveland Leader says: Sam Gamble, who came from California with horses to the Glenville sale, left for home Thursday. He said: "We are satisfied with the prices, though it was undoubtedly the greatest lot of speed ever taken out of California. I will bring another load next year." Iago, 2:11; Derby Lass, Wm. Noyes and Flare Up were the horses that brought fancy prices. The four named sold for $7,050.

WILLIAM BRADBURY, the owner of Little Albert, 2:10, was arrested for spitting in one of the street cars of this city some time ago. This is contrary to an ordinance passed by the Board of Supervisors. He was fined for this offense and a few days after was arrested for repeating it. He is determined to fight the case in court and the metropolitan press have had many articles about his peculiarities, principally touching his frugality and love of the lucre.

IN a matinee race at Fleetwood Park, May 22d, three California-bred horses won easily. Smilax, by Sidney, won a pacing race in three heats in 2:25½, 2:23½ and 2:27. Smilax was bred by G. Valentin, Pleasanton. Memento, by Woodnut, out of Tricks by Hambletonian, 725, won the 2:25 trotting event, top buggies, in 2:40 and 2:36½. Memento was bred by Pierce Bros., Santa Rosa Stock Farm, and Russell T., by Albert W., out of Rosa, by Harry Clay, won a match race in 2:38½, 2:35½ and 2:33. He was bred at Rancho del Paso.

GUS WAGNER, Cleveland, picked up Derby Princess, 2:11½, for a song at one of the former Cleveland sales, and she proved first cousin to a gold mine for him, winning seven consecutive races through the big ring last year. The opening day of the Cleveland sale last week he bought Derby Lass, a four-year-old by the same sire for $1,400. Last year she had the pink eye, but before she got off had shown a trial to 2:29. Mr. Fasig timed her a quarter in 33½ seconds, and she is expected to be close to the 2:10 line this season.

LAPORTE, Ind., May 25.—(Special)—Buyers representing an Eastern syndicate are traveling through the southern tier of Michigan counties buying horses which are being shipped to Buffalo and New York, and thence across the sea to Europe, where they will be used to mount the cavalry of the great powers. Germany, England and Russia, it is said, are buying most of the stock. It is estimated that since the buyers made their appearance no less than 1,600 of the finest horses have been purchased and shipped. The horses command good prices. The Michigan horses were selected on account of the smaller size of the animals, it being believed that they are more endurable for traveling in the mountainous country than larger horses found elsewhere.

TOM GRIFFIN has sold Johnny Trouble, 2:22½, by Conifer, son of Lord Russell, to W. H. Emanuel, Denver, Colorado, for the reported price of $1,600. This gelding is five years old and showed last year that he could trot in 2:16. He was formerly owned by Willard Simpson, Los Angeles. It is understood that he is to go on the road and will not again be raced.

J. M. NELSON, the well-known trainer and driver who has a place near the Alameda track, is collecting a large number of very choice horses (with and without records) for a speed sale which he will hold immediately after the State Fair. Mr. Nelson is a careful, painstaking and reliable horseman and it is his intention to make this the best sale ever held in California.

THAT well-known and thoroughly capable trainer, M. McManus, left Pleasanton last Tuesday, for Lexington, Ky., where he has accepted a position, as trainer, on the Patchen Wilkes Farm, which is owned by Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes. Mr. McManus is noted as one of the best conditioners and most careful horsemen in California and we congratulate Mrs. Stokes on securing the services of such a valuable man. Orrin A. Hickok had him as an assistant trainer all winter and being more than pleased with his work, no doubt urged his appointment to this splendid position.

THIS is what the Willows Promoter says: "If we are to have races this year the time is here to make a move in that direction. The word has gone out that our citizens will raise a purse of $1,000 for that purpose, and the Trotting Horse Association has agreed under those conditions to take our track and give us a week's good racing. The data for our meeting has been set by the Association, and all that remains to be done to insure the meeting is the subscribing of the required amount, by our citizens. There are two classes of our citizens who reap the greatest benefit from our race meeting, and it is no more than right that they stand the major portion of the expense. If we cannot raise the required amount, or do not want to raise it, now is the time to decide, for their are other towns ready to step in and bid for our chances."

GENERAL GRANT was a born horseman, as the following anecdote of him when at West Point proves: One day, when the members of Grant's class were called out for drill on horseback, there were not horses enough by one to go around. Grant was one of the shortest men in his class, consequently was on the extreme left of the company, and he was the one for whom there was no horse. The officer ordered a horse brought, which was done. The animal was a vicious brute, which had proved so unmanageable that he had been discharged. The officer in charge did not notice the horse until just as young Grant vaulted into the saddle, when, horror-stricken, he ordered him to dismount. The horse did his part to assist his rider to obey, but Grant drove his spurs into the sides of the infuriated, plunging, kicking, holding brute, and guided him into an open field, where he gave such an exhibition of amateur horsemanship as no member of that class had ever before witnessed. Before the contest was ended the horse was thoroughly subdued, and from that time became a useful, obedient animal, but he was always ridden by Grant.

THE horses at Irvington Park are only hitting the high places nowadays, and it is no unusual thing to see them go away at a 2:10 clip and come home the same gait. Of course they pull up some on the backstretch, so as to keep their charges in the dark as much as possible. The program for the first thirteen days' racing at Anaconda is the cause of this, and many a horse is being driven an $800 clip these mornings bright and early. Even a strong gale blows through Bill Henry's whiskers as he comes down the homestretch behind Don Shaner, 2:17. George Misner seems to be perfectly dumb founded as he sets behind the whirlwind of a pacer, Bill Frazier, 2:14, coming down the homestretch with Kittitas Ranger, 2:18½, driven by R. C. Smith. Pathmont, 2:09½, Schilling's best, has not been out for a few days, owing to a bruised quarter, but he has entirely recovered now and ready to take his work. John Sawyer has a green pacer by Del Norte, 2:08, that seems to have the speed of his sire, while Maplemont, 2:21, is moving like a 2:10 performer this spring. Mac, the green pacer, by Democrat, in the Buca stable, is moving like a piece of machinery, and the horse that beats him at Anaconda will not be eligible to the slow classes at Butte. Cordray, the good three-year-old by Omer d'Alene, in W. A. Mack's stable, looks like, acts like and uses like he will be troublesome in his classes this year. Mr. Pratt has added to his stable a three-year-old, by Caution, out of the dam of Kitty Caution, 2:25, that is a Caution for both size and speed. W. G. Lermond has got back to Oregon again, and has two Caution colts that he is training for the fall races. His old standby, Kitty Caution, having gone lame has been put to breeding.—Rural Spirit.

LESSEE MILLARD SANDERS has a great string in his charge, and many of them will be heard of this season, says the Philadelphia Whip and Spur. One of the most recent additions to his string is the speedy mare Lady Garrison, owned by Mr. Jas. Evans, of Atlantic City, owner of the great pacer, Mignon, 2:10½. Lady Garrison has no mark better than 2:34½, but showed much faster than Mignon did at the same age, and this season is going very fast. Among the younger members of Mr. Sanders' string, one a three-year-old bay colt by Director, 2:17, dam by Mambrino Patchen 58; a three-year-old filly by Chas. Derby, 2:20, dam by Egmont, and a number of other equally as well bred. There is not a single one in Mr. Sanders' lot that is not showing great speed for this early in the season, and he will certainly ride in front as often as any of them this season. Among the older members are Mignon, 2:10½, a mare that we are certain will pace in 2:07 or better this year, as she was never in better shape than now; Valleria, a five-year-old bay mare by Vasco 10,996, dam by Magic (sire of Clemmie G., 2:15½, etc.); Sid Bell, a five-year-old mare by Sidney, 2:19½, dam by Williamson's Belmont; Joy Medium, 2:24½, an extremely fast mare, owned in Philadelphia, and can beat 2:20 a yard off; Wiltooten, a three-year-old by Wilton, 2:19½; Riffs, 2:11½, owned by Col. Snowden; Directum, a grand two-year-old by Direct, 2:05½, dam by George Wilkes, 2:22; unnamed two-year-old bay filly by Dr. Spreckels, out of the dam of William Penn, 2:07½; an unnamed two-year-old filly by William Penn, dam by Manchester; a two-year-old bay filly by William Penn, dam by Alliman; an unnamed black filly by William Penn; Eliza C., black mare, seven-year-old, by C. F. Clay, 2:18.

THE SADDLE.

JOE NAEVAZ rode two winners at Sacramento last Tuesday.

H. D. BROWN recently refused the position of starter at Kansas City, Mo.

DAN HONIG's good filly, Russella, won a mile race at St. Louis last Monday.

LONNIE B., quite a bread-winner in her day, recently dropped a foal by the dead Morello.

MANDOLINA, a recent winner of a mile and a sixteenth race at Ingalls Park, is by El Rio Rey—Oetia.

EVA RICE, a recent winner at St. Louis, is owned by Elmer Slaughter, and was ridden by Charlie Slaughter.

PAUL GRIGGS' forte is clearly speed. He won a six furlong race easily at Ingalls Park on May 28th in 1:14 flat.

PRESTON ran second to Floreanna, a California-bred filly, at Joliet, Ill., last Tuesday. Time 1:14 for the six furlongs.

THE Fair Association has opened war on the poolrooms in St. Louis by reducing admission to the race track to 50 cents.

WILHITE rode the winners of the first three races at Louisville on May 24th. A. Isom and T. Burns the remaining two.

SERRANO, with the California lad, Beauchamp, in the saddle, won a mile and seventy-yard race at Latonia last Tuesday.

CASH SLOAN rode Lew Hopper in a winner at Ingalls Park on May 24th. The horse belongs to L. A. Legg, well-known here.

MIDAS is a pretty good horse about now. Last Tuesday he took up 118 lbs. and ran five and one-half furlongs at Sacramento in 1:07 3/4.

"FRISCO" HOAG recently purchased Heartsease from Zeke Abraham for $175, and will try to win a little Montana coin with the erratic mare.

KOWALSKY, owned by Wada McLemore, just over an attack of lung fever, will be allowed to "grass up" during the summer months at the same place.

SAM SUMMERFIELD commenced making book at Ingalls Park, Joliet, Ill., May 26th, starting in a loser. "A bad beginning makes a good ending," they say.

JOHNNY WEBER is doing Barney Schreiber's heavy-weight riding at St. Louis. Last Tuesday he piloted old Hawthorne to victory in a mile selling race.

ADDIE CHIPMAN foaled a colt by imp. Trentola on the 22d of May, but it is reported to have died, which is very hard on William Dixon, the owner of the mare.

W. L. STANFIELD, the Texas horseman, has had his good sprinter, George Miller, fired by Dr. Fitzgerald, and will turn him out to pasture near Antioch until next fall.

GALTE MORE was bred in Ireland, and is by Kendall out of Marguerite, by Springfield II, bar dam Lady Morgan by Thormanby. He won four out of five starts last season.

EDDIE JONES is riding at St. Louis and put Time Maker first over the plate last Tuesday. The Jones set down at Sacramento was not the erstwhile idol of the San Francisco race-going public.

TAMPA, the mare which scored so many winning brackets in Montana and Oregon last summer while carrying F. Starkey's colors, is now a "roarer" and has been turned out on a ranch near Stockton.

DAILY RACING FORM has figured out Wheel of Fortune as starting in fifty-six races to date, of which she won twenty-three, was second eleven times, third eight, unplaced fourteen. She cost Joe Harvey just $500.

HOWITZER, a two-year-old brother to George Palmer, won a four and a half furlong race at St. Louis on May 27th, beating Nacma a neck. Hester, by imp. Midlothian—Nana, won a six furlongs on the same date.

B. J. JOHNSTON, who had the trouble with A. Ottinger here over the division of spoils, gathered by Wildwood (since dead), won two races at Joliet, Ill., May 26th, and another of his horses ran second. Evanatus was as good as 30 to 1 in the betting.

H. (SKEETS) MARTIN rode Howard Mann, winner of the Brooklyn Handicap of 1897. If a rider ever got into the front rank quicker than the California lad, we never heard of him. Eighteen months ago "Skeets" was scarcely known as a horse pilot.

CLAUDE BURLINGAME has sent his horses to Pleasanton. Charles Le Bel and St. Philip, two very useful two-year-olds, will be added to the list. Miss Pollard has been bred to imp. Sain. The latter English-bred colt will shortly be touched up with the bring-iron.

PAUL GRIGGS, a gray three-year-old colt by imp. Order—Lucy Lisle, beat Counter Tenor and four others at six furlongs on May 26th, at Ingalls Park. He won by two and a half lengths in 1:12 1/4, and went the first quarter in 0:23 1/4, the half in 0:47 1/4, five furlongs in 1:00 1/4.

A SINGULAR coincidence occurred in the stud of Mr. Tom Wallace, of Shelbyville, this year. Last spring he bred three mares and got all in foal—one to Harry O'Fallon, one to Duke of Montrose, one to Blue Eyes—and all the stallions died before the mares foaled.—Thoroughbred Record.

DICK LEDGETT's starting at Sacramento is pronounced "perfect." Dick's quick and undoubtedly knows how to swear artistically at the horse pilots. A steamboat mate on the Mississippi that can't swear beautifully can't hold his job. He fails to get any work out of the roustabouts.

KENMORE QUERN, a bay two-year-old filly by imp. Ben Strome—Roseleaf, won a four and a half furlong race at Morris Park, May 27th, in 0:52 1/4, which made her about a world's record. She had 109 lbs. in the saddle, and the fractional time was: Eighth, 11 1/2; quarter, 23; half, 46 1/2.

THE Texas turfman, W. L. Stanfield, who left here early this week, will have a shy at Montana purses with Mike Rice, Roltaire and Dr. McAllister. The sprinter, Jim Bozeman, and a couple of two-year-olds owned by F. Starkey went in the same car. C. Smith will also send along Trap-pear, Robin Hood II and Viking.

MEDDLER, the English horse that W. H. Forbes, of Readville, Mass., paid $75,000 for is getting some very fair racers, the best being Previous and Nosey. Meddler is by St. Gatien (Derby winner) from Busybody (Oaks winner), second dam Spinaway (Oaks winner), by Macaroni; third dam Queen Bertha (Oaks winner), by Kingston.

ON the 23th of May Barney Schreiber's jockeys (Slaughter and Johnny Woods) rode two winners apiece at St. Louis. Slaughter's wins were on Hawthorne (4 to 1) and Montgomery (2 1/2 to 1); Johnny Woods' victories on Free Fun (4 to 1) and Treopia (2 to 1). Slaughter was on Eva Rice, second to Free Fun and little Woods was third on Cappy.

DR. GEORGE SHIELDS, the wonderful surgeon of this city, has purchased the frequent winner, Silverado, of James Woods (father of Johnny Woods), and will use the old son of Rutherford for a saddle horse. Silverado is the hero of many a hard-fought contest on the flat and over the sticks, and has been returned a winner nearly fifty times during his career on the turf.

A HORSE race at the Lexington track terminated in a manner that will give believers in omens a good subject to talk about. Dominis finished first, Oxnard second and Banished third. Dominis the name of ex-Queen Lilioukalani, Oxnard is the name of one of the kings of the sugar trust, and Banished is appropriate for the quondam ruler's present circumstances.—Oakland Tribune.

THE Prix du Jockey Club or French Derby, second only to the Grand Prix de Paris in social and racing interests, was run to-day (May 30th) at Chantilly and won easily by Palmiste II, Baron de Schickel's three-year-old, trained by Webb. Twelve horses ran, and Palmiste went under the wire two and one-half lengths ahead, Doge and Falcon running a dead heat for second place. Palmiste II. was sired by Lesancy out of Perplexite.

ONE of the most prominent citizens of Yolo county and a conspicuous personage among California pioneers passed away when John Wolfkill died at Winters on the night of May 28th, aged ninety-three years. He came to this State in 1838 and was the first white man who set foot in what is now Yolo county. Mr. Wolfkill, a Kentuckian by both, went to Missouri when five years of age. He was a great lover of horses, and owned several good ones in his day.

THE defeat of Burns & Waterhouse's filly, Miss Rowens, in the Fashion Stake, at Morris Park, was caused by a delay at the post. The filly, which was second choice in the betting, ran away for over a furlong on a false start, crashed into the wire rail and fretted herself until she was unfit to race. When a start was at last effected she broke in front and ran lapped on Mekallet to the stretch, where she tided, finishing fourth to L'Alouette, Sagacity and Kenmore Queen.

THE brown Alta horse Don Fulano, owned for some time past by Tom Ryan, of Illinois, was heavily backed to win the last race at St. Louis in the Sausalito rooms May 23th, but was easily beaten by Montgomery. The latter horse was taken away from Felix Carr in a selling race at Ingleside before the close of the local season here by W. P. Magrane. Slaughter sat astride the sprinter, which looks as though Messrs. Schreiber, Magrane and Carr have reached an amicable adjustment of affairs.

WILLIE MARTIN recently signed a contract to ride for the Kentucky turfman, "Hops" Loadman. We hope the crack rider will conclude not to ride in California next fall, for his work here last winter and spring caused no end of dissatisfaction among a host of people, notwithstanding that he is one of the very best judges of pace and warmest fans in the country. Last Wednesday morning's Call says: "Perhaps Pat Dunne tired of Willie's left-handed whipping tactics, even if Judge Rees and a few other officials didn't."

B. C. HOLLY car started for Montana last Saturday night. The Flossen turfman took Daylight, recently purchased, Fusil Fortunate, Cavallo, Montallade and Sir Richard, and in the same car went Flashlight and Encino, owned by Farar & Tuberville, and La Blue and C. M. C., the property of John Green. In the past by Holly paid Montana several social calls, removing a ton or so of good pay ore, and there seems to be no valid reason why we should not repeat the experiment with such a good array of breadwinners.

LEE SHANER, who left for Montana this week, after dissolving partnership with Claude Burlingame, will have quite a formidable stable to campaign with. In the running division he will be represented by Lady Hurst, Irrigator, Alcatraz, Dr. Mizner, Barney Schreiber, a two-year-old purchased from Wm. Murry, and a maiden two-year-old filly by Morello—Peerless. Lee will also have a string of six trotters and pacers, among them Billy Frazier and Chris Peterson. The latter is expected to make 2:09 look pale ere the season is over.

THE success of Bannockburn and the winning of Van Rensselaer in the East, have brought the get of Hayden Edwards into prominence. The stallion died in August, 1895, and this is, therefore, his last crop of yearlings. Oakwood Stud has the following yearlings by him: Bay colt of Spenola; bay colt of Austria; chestnut filly out of Endless (dam of Boundless); bay filly out of Verbatim; brown filly out of Minnie Williams (dam of Lord Zeni and Will Fonso). Mr. Henry Miller and Mr. T. C. McDowell also have a yearling or two by him.—The Thoroughbred Record.

AT a meeting of the directors of the Vancouver Jockey Club, held in the Mining Exchange, Vancouver, B. C., May 20, 1897, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Jas. A. Fullerton, President; J. M. Howell, Vice-President; J. C. Woodrow, Treasurer; Robert Leighton, Secretary. The report of the Secretary showed the club to be in good financial condition. The club gave three meetings last year, and paid out in purses over $3,000. They have leased the track for another year, and will give a series of meetings this year. The first will be held June 18th and 19th. See programme published in this issue.

ILLUMINATA, the dam of Chelandry (the winner of the One Thousand Guineas), was the first mare mated to Goldfinch. Chelandry's time for the One Thousand Guineas (over the Rowley Mile), one mile and eleven yards, was 1:42, carrying 124 lbs. Galtee More, winner of the Two Thousand Guineas, did the distance in 1:40 2/5, carrying 126 lbs. and winning in a canter; so that horsemen in this country who imagine that there is no pace in any of these big English events are very much mistaken. The first six furlongs in the Two Thousand Guineas must have been run at a terrific clip. Galtee More is acknowledged by the best judges in England to be one of the grandest lookers ever seen on the English turf.

COL. E. F. CLAY, of the Runnymede Stud, is trying to persuade his fellow breeders in Kentucky to organize and have all light-boned and undersized yearling fillies operated on before being sold, so as to render them unfit for stud purposes, and when their racing career is over they will have to be utilized in some other way. Col. Clay has consulted a specialist, who assures him that the organs of generation can be removed without any injurious effects, the operation being simple and harmless. He further states that fillies so operated on would train and race better, as independent of their not being weakened from sexual causes at the stated intervals, they would be altogether harder, as it has been demonstrated that the removal of the organs of generation in the weaker sex causes them to become more robust and masculine, and as a consequence they will both train and race better. Young, of the McGrathiana Stud, is in favor of Col. Clay's scheme, and would go a bit further, saying that if the operation proves so beneficial to fillies in training, he would like to see some high-class fillies have the same advantage. The subject is well worth the attention of our wealthy gentlemen who are raising home-bred ones—as well as all other breeders—as if it should only serve the purpose that Col. Clay has in view, it is well worth being generally adopted.

IT is interesting to compare our records with those of England, and with this in view we will give a few: Six furlongs, English, Serpentina, 1:12 2/5, made at Epsom, May 28, 1895; American, O'Connell, 1:12 1/2, 121 lbs. up, at Oakley, July 18, 1895. Mile, English, Dornroschen, 1:36 2/5 made at Nottingham, Oct. 2, 1893; American, Salvator, 1:35 1/4, 110 lbs. up, straight course, at Monmouth Park, Aug. 18, 1890. Galtee More ran one mile and eleven yards (the Rowley mile) in 1:40 2/5, carrying 126 lbs. (fastest previous time over this course, 1:41 1/5, by Marco, May 16, 1895). Mile and three furlongs, English, Fatherless, 2:19 2/5, at Nottingham, Oct. 1, 1895; American, Sabine, 2:13 1/2, 109 lbs., Washington Park, July 5, 1894. Mile and a quarter, English, Florizel II, 2:08 1/5, at Gatwick, May 18, 1895; American, circular course, Salvator, 2:05, 122 lbs. up, at Sheephead Bay, June 25, 1890, when three years old. Banquet, 2:03 1/4, on straight course. Mile and a half, English, Bend Or, 2:40, made at Epsom in the Gold Cup in 1881; American, Lamplighter, 2:32 1/4, 109 lbs. up, Aug. 9, 1892, at Monmouth Park. Mile and three-quarters, English, Florizel, 2:59 1/5, at Manchester, in the Cup, June 7, 1895; American, Hotspur, 3:00 1/4, 117 lbs., in San Francisco, April 30, 1891. Taking into consideration the fact that Dornroschen's time was made in a race, Salvator's on a straight track against time, the English beat us just twice in races at six different distances—at a mile and at a mile and three quarters. Kildeer holds the American record for a mile in a race—1:37 1/4.

THE Coney Island Jockey Club has done a very wise, a very proper and a very just thing in perpetuating the name of the late J. G. K. Lawrence, once president of the Coney Island Jockey Club, who made the club what it is, and who revolutionized racing in this country, by changing the name of the Realization, the three-year-old sequel to the Futurity, to the name of the "Lawrence Realization." The name will be as fit a reminder of his services as that of the Rons Memorial is to those of the famous dictator of the English turf. The conditions for the race, which is to be run in the year 1900, have just been issued by the secretary of the Coney Island Jockey Club. They are as follows: For three-year-olds, foals of 1897, a sweepstakes by the following respective subscriptions: For horses entered as foals by July 15, 1897, $50 each, and only $10 if struck out by July 15, 1898, or $25 if struck out by July 15, 1899; for horses entered as yearlings by July 15, 1898, when the stakes shall be closed, $100 each or $50 if struck out by July 15, 1899. All starters to pay $250 additional, all of which shall go to the second and third horses as further provided, the Coney Island Jockey Club to add $5,000; the second to receive $1,000 of the added money and one-third of the starting money. In the event of a horse nominated as a foal winning the nominator, namely, the owner of the foal at the time of entry, to receive $500 of the added money. Colts to carry 126 pounds; geldings 123 and fillies 121 pounds. Non-winners at any time of $3,000 allowed 4 pounds; of $2,000 7 pounds; of $800, 10 pounds. Distance, one mile and five furlongs.

HIGHLAND PARK Detroit's newly-completed race track, will throw open its gates June 3, when the Detroit Derby, at one and a half miles, will be run. The track is oval-shaped, and its stretches are the longest ones in America, while the turns are banked high and entirely safe. The building of the track is an original idea with Secretary W. O. Palmer. Horsemen already here are of the opinion that Highland Park will be a very safe and fast track, as it is of the springy nature, and something like the old Garfield Park track here. On May 25 Patrick Stanton's Bill Ellison was the first to gallop over the new track, moving three-quarters in 1:18. Particular attention has been given to the comfort of the horses and horsemen. Six hundred horses can be stabled, while commodious kitchens have been provided for each barn, with hydrants and every possible convenience attached. The meeting continues to July 5, during which time seven stakes will be decided. The Detroit Derby closed with forty-seven nominations, and includes all the best three-year-olds in the West, and among which are Ornament, Typhoon II, Howard S., Meadowthorpe, Macy, Algol, Wicker, Miss Elsie Jones, Queen's Plate candidate who ran third in that event, William Hendrie's Cardinal and Leading Lady, Dr. Cattlett, Ben Brown, Dr. Sheppard, Aquinas, Sharon, Paul Griggs, Buckwider, and others. It is the point where all the mighty three-year-olds are eligible to try conclusions. Howard S., the Pacific Coast champion, will meet the champions of the East, while Wicker, Cardinal and Leading Lady will represent Canada. John J. Carter, assisted by Captain J. W. Price, will be in the judges' stand; Phil Gilman has been selected starter, and J. W. Ruswurm, secretary of Cumberland Park, Nashville, has been engaged as clerk of scales.

Spread the Glad Tidings.

Next week we will publish a complete list of the entries received for the fall meeting of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association and for the Pacific Breeders Futurity Stakes, which closed last Tuesday, the 1st inst. As entry blanks were sent to Washington and Oregon to all who made entries for the Montana circuit, inviting them to come to California and take in the fall meetings here, it is expected that a number of entries which were mailed in time will be received too late for publication in this issue. THERE ARE ALREADY ENOUGH ENTRIES RECEIVED TO INSURE THE GREATEST RACE MEETING THAT HAS BEEN HELD ON THIS COAST FOR YEARS, most of the classes filling with from FIFTEEN to TWENTY-FIVE entries! So far, there are about one one hundred and fifty entries made in the Pacific Breeders Futurity Stakes!

A meeting of the Board of Directors has been called for Tuesday, June 8th, at 2 o'clock, to take action on the entries and transact other important business connected with the affairs of the Association for this year.

F. H. BURKE'S consignment of trotters and pacers left for Montana, on Wednesday night. The mare, Alias, by Woolsey, that was campaigned last year on the California circuit, was also sent along. She has been leased by Mr. Burke. In the same care P. J. Williams' string of horses were shipped. They will all return in time for the Woodland meeting and the meetings which follow in California.

THE Golden Gate Driving Association, which gave such a successful meeting last Monday, should at once make application to join the National Trotting Association and protect the horsemen who raced their horses, got marks for them which are "hars" and are not credited as records in the Year Book. Every other organization of a similar character belongs to the association.

SHOULD the Stockton Fair drop out, the people of Santa Rosa will claim that date. This will bring the summer meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association one week further along. Everyone is anxiously waiting to see what the Stockton people will do.

AGENTS wanted for the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN in every city on the Pacific Coast. Send at once for our list of terms.

NOTICES have been sent to all subscribers and a prompt response will be deeply appreciated at this office.

SEO. B. HENRY of Sacramento is the duly appointed agent of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN in that city.

California's Turf Clock Needs Regulation.

Are special meetings, such as the one carried on at Sacramento this week, conducive to the best interests of the turf? It does not take much study to answer this in the negative. Why do we answer in the negative? Because such meetings tend to lower the "sport of kings" in the estimation of all who give such matters any serious thought. These horse-owners show a willingness to run for anything almost, and we are informed that first money at the Sacramento meeting averaged about $75. If horsemen are willing, yea, anxious, to run for such a pittance, what is to prevent a material cut in the purses at Oakland and Ingleside next fall and winter? Instead of $350 and $400 purses, the clubs might offer $150 and $200 ones. It looks very much as if many of those horse-owners at Sacramento regarded the purse as a secondary consideration, as if they were looking to the hookmakers who were managing the meeting for a "divvy." Those in receipt of such an article of course have mortgaged themselves to the pencilers who have come to regard themselves as pillars of the turf, and indeed some narrow-minded men look upon them in that light, which is incorrect. The proper way to regard most of the members of that guild is as parasites upon the turf body of this country, boring their way steadily toward the heart, and if something is not devised that will act as a check upon them in their onward march, death will soon follow.

The Sacramento meeting of this week has been likened to a "crap" game, where the game-keeper was using his own dice. If our horse-owners want to play such a game—well, we say a speedy raid would be a blessing. Can't they see that this running for a shoestring at a meeting conducted by hookmakers is lowering them in the estimation of those who like the sport for sport's sake, those who are not infatuated with racing, but would attend if it were given under the auspices of any reputable club. No wonder our wealthy breeders have quit racing and men have taken their places who are merely hunting money. Why, some of them would not care if another race meeting were never held in America—that is, if they had previously made a fortune. Decreasing the size of purses means a cut in jockeys' fees and many other things, too, and turfmen are blind to their own interests when they agree to race for such niggardly amounts, besides they lose all the dignity they once possessed.

When there was a crowd of 3,000 at the Sacramento track it is safe to say that 2,000 of this number were women who were admitted free. Nearly all the "touts" in this section were gathered at the State's capital. Rumors of "jobs," and talks of "cadavers," dead ones" and "stiffs" were as common as flowers in springtime.

In previous issues we have remarked there should be no horse-owners actively engaged in racing who have large proprietary interests in the race courses over which their horses run. We would suggest that those who love racing for sport's sake, and breeders of horses (who have a great interest in seeing things rightly managed and in a prosperous condition) be the owners of the race courses of the land, no man being allowed to have a very large interest in such property. Of course, men who subscribe to build race courses should be reimbursed and receive a good rate of interest on their investment. That is perfectly proper. But when this is attained, all profits should go to the turfmen in the shape of extra stakes. In no other way can the breeding interests be fostered. Racing is the game of the wealthy. The "poor horseman" must necessarily occupy a small place in the ranks of owners of thoroughbreds, and only when by luck such an owner secures a real "clinker" that can win in the best of company should he be placed upon the list of turfmen. To be more explicit, racing should not be "a business," but a sport, a recreation. Wherever the hookmaker wants "a finger in the pie" there is sure to be money in sight, but at present he is getting too deep into the management of racing in this country. The maxim of most of the hookmakers is: "Get money, my son; if you can do it honestly, do so; but get it anyway." With the rapid advance of such shrewd people the departure of the high-class racing man, the breeder, the one who raced for sport's sake, the man who thought there was more honor in breeding a great stake-winner than in accumulating wealth, was noticed.

There is little sentiment shown at present in racing in this part of the world. We are not as proud of California and her horses as we should be and have a right to be. Things have almost dwindled to a hand-me-down level, and the hookmaker and his friends are fast reducing a noble sport to a catch-penny affair—one where, in the end, the turfmen fail to catch many of the pennies.

The remedy for this is the formation of jockey clubs wherein no hookmaker is allowed to have a membership and no man is allowed to have over a $10,000 interest in the track and grounds. Five thousand dollars would be a better limit, perhaps. Abolish hook-betting, introduce the totalizator, and show the hookmaker that his presence on race courses is not material to the welfare of the turf. Give races for horses of good class only, and the "poor racing man" will soon find a more suitable and profitable avocation in breeding and developing horses to be sold for racing purposes to those who have wealth and a natural love for the grand sport. It is unpleasant to say this, because we have many friends within the ranks of the "poor race-horse owners," but in this article we are speaking plainly, hewing to the line, letting the chips fall where they may; looking for the best interests of all who have the welfare of the turf at heart.

The Breeders' Futurity.

Never before have the breeders and owners of colts in California responded so liberally in making entries to a stake as they did on the first day of June last to the P. C. T. H. Breeders Association Futurity for colts and fillies, foals of 1897, to trot and pace in 1899 and 1900.

It must be very gratifying to the members of the Association, and particularly to the Directors, that their unceasing work, by night and day, for the advancement of the light harness horse in all its phases, has at last been appreciated by the breeders, owners and general horse community of California.

The large entry list in this stake is a fitting recognition, a testimonial of the confidence the breeders of California place in the P. C. T. H. Breeders Association for their untiring and magnanimous efforts to advance the horse business of our great State in all its branches.

The number of entries received is the largest by far ever made to a harness stake in California. This clearly shows that the breeders and owners of trotters and pacers have awakened from the apathy of the past, and have realized that development is the open sesame to success.

Speed is now the qualification first in demand. A finely bred colt undeveloped is worth no more money in the market than the ordinary horse. It must not be construed by breeders that the speed requirement does away with high-class blood lines and that speed is the only qualification required. The purchaser asks now to see speed; if he is satisfied, then he looks at the individuality, then the blood lines. The breeder has been out of the market as far as purchasing is concerned in quantities for some time. The support of the raiser of horses now is the foreigner and the people who buy for racing purposes. Show this class of people speed and a good price is assured.

The market throughout the United States has during the past six months shown that good prices have been received for developed stock and a tendency to further increase.

The cost of development is now at the minimum, wages are low, material used in development lower than ever, hay hardly paying to ship to the market. True, oats and barley are a little high, but the price is more than equalized by the cheapness of other necessities used in developing speed.

This showing to the breeder must make it evident to him that he has the opportunity to create a revenue far above the cost of development by advancing a little capital in his plant already created.

Those breeders who continue to send to the market undeveloped stock will continue to receive undeveloped prices. Those breeders who grasp the situation, meeting the requirements of the market by developing their stock, will receive good prices and place their business on a profitable basis again.

It is the colt stakes that interests and encourages breeders to develop, and stakes like the Breeders' Futurity should be given by all associations throughout the State, for they will assist a great deal in forcing the breeder to develop his youngster and squeeze him into place where the speed he develops will secure him good prices for his stock and make his business profitable.

MESSRS. TOOMEY & Co., manufacturers of the famous Toomey sulky, have, after long litigation, won their suits against a number of rivals relating to improvements they have made in their sulkies, and in this issue will be found their announcement of this fact. As we shall have a splendid series of race meetings this year in California, notwithstanding Budd's veto, all who intend to race horses should provide themselves with the best sulkies. "The Toomey leads them all!"

The Los Angeles Meeting.

The attention of all horse owners is called to the advertisement of the Los Angeles fall meeting which appears in our business columns. Heretofore it has been customary with the association there to close the entries after or toward the close of the State Fair and horsemen have claimed that this arrangement did not give them a fair show with the horses that were eligible to the slower classes at the beginning of the season; but their can be no more complaints of this kind, for the association offers races for trotters and pacers (2:12 and 2:30 trot and 2:17 and 2:30 pacers) for purses of $1,200 each, entries for which will close July 1st, and the entrance fee has been placed at three per cent and five per cent from money winners. This gives every owner a chance to go for a $1,200 purse, for $36 entrance. Here is the chance horsemen have been looking for and a large entry list should reward this enterprising and progressive association. It will also be noticed that entries for the other ten events will close September 4th, the Saturday before the State Fair. It is also stated by the Secretary that fully $5,000 more will be given the running horsemen than they ever received before. Over $20,000 in all will be disbursed among horse owners and as soon as entry blank are received they will be forwarded to all applicants. We wish to congratulate the Los Angeles association for its "backbone" and its desire to foster the interests of California horse owners and want to see everyone make an effort to be there.

To Associations.

In an interview with Secretary Kelley of the P. C. T. H. B. Association regarding the publication of the long list of entries for the fall meeting, we learned that the stand taken by the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN regarding the feasibility of holding race meetings, "Budd or no Budd," has been fully sustained; and, were it not for the fact that many horse owners had other horses they would enter at this meeting, but preferred to keep them for the local meetings to be held in their vicinity, the splendid entry list to the Breeders' meeting would be fully thirty per cent. larger. Associations that have been in doubt as to the number of horsemen who were training horses, therefore, have no reason for not advertising their meetings AT ONCE. The prospects for crops in California are brighter than they were a month ago and many farmers who began to feel that their hard labors were for naught have been much encouraged and are anxious to have their horses trained this year.

At Chico, Willows and Santa Rosa, every one is talking about race meetings, while all hope is not abandoned for the Stockton meeting. And now that it is definitely settled that the directors of this and all other associations can rely upon racing a long list of entries, there will be an awakening among them that will boom the industry in a way it has never been before.

The croakers who have been predicting the "bottom falling out of the light harness horse industry," will be silenced now and as this journal has been the only one to stand up for this industry and encourage horse owners to develop their stock if they wish to enhance their value we take pride in the result, and anticipate with pleasure the good work to be accomplished this year.

WE were much pleased to see the California Jockey Club act upon our suggestion of last week and get up their conditions to stakes at an early date, letting turfmen all over the country see how liberal the famous California organization is in this respect. A big two-year-old stake, to be run in December, will be one of the innovations. The P. C. J. C. should and probably will follow suit, for it will be a trump card that will cause a list of entries to stakes to be sent to California unprecedented in her history. And should a wide-awake, conscientious representative be sent out to get entries to these goodly stakes we would, in all likelihood, have at Oakland and Ingleside next winter a large number of the racing celebrities of the country and turf contests that would be the talk of the world of sport-lovers. J. W. Brooks, who has been instructed by President Williams to get up a stake book at early date, would be a good man to represent both clubs on the other side of the Rockies, and it would not surprise us to hear that he had been selected.

It is understood that a sale of fine trotting stock from the Aptos Stock Farm will take place in this city in a few weeks. These horses were sired by Cupid, 2:18, Aptos Wilkes, brother to Hulda, 2:08½, and consists of all fine-looking, large trotters, well broken and of a class suitable for the road drivers in this city. There are several well matched teams among them.

THE City Council of Stockton at a meeting held last Monday refused to accept an ordinance proposed by his Honor, Mayor Baggs, to take down the prohibition against hookmaking. This has probably settled the question of having races at the track there this fall. Everyone in the "Slough City" is disgusted with the action of these city fathers, for the track is outside the city limits, and without betting and the excitement incident thereto there will be little or no inducement for horsemen or lovers of racing to go there. We earnestly hope something will be done, and that as it is proven by the returns to the P. C. T. H. B. Association that there will be more horses in readiness for the races this year than there has been for years, the Stockton folks will not allow this year to pass without having these horses trot and pace over their splendid track.

MESSERS. KILLIP & Co. will hold a combination auction sale of trotting stock at their salesyard, corner Van avenue and Market street, on Wednesday, June 16th. Among those to be sold is Vinmont, 2:21½, son of Altamont and Venetia (dam of two in the list), by Almont; second dam Tecora (dam of Chehalis, 2:07½; Del Norte, 2:08, etc.). Vinmont is in fine condition to race, and as a stock horse should be invaluable. Besides this stallion, there are sons and daughters of Sidney, Silver Bow, Altamont, Almont Medium, Melrose Boy, Don Lot, Piedmont (Patricia, by this sire, being a grand mare), Lottery, Clay 2:25, May Boy, Price's Wilkes, Eclectic, Fordstan, etc. Those in need of fine roadsters and well-matched teams should attend this sale.

ED CORRIGAN yesterday morning telegraphed his nephew, John Carroll, at Ingleside, to ship all his horses from that point to Chicago, as they were going to race at the Illinois metropolis. This looks as if a bill had passed benefitting the racing folks.

The Chico Fair.

If the same enthusiasm generally prevails that was manifested last night at the mass meeting held for the purpose of considering the proposition of holding a fair at Chico in August, the fair will be a "go." Nearly every chair in the Council Chamber at the City Hall contained an enthusiast for the fair last evening, when Major A. L. Nichols, as President of the Third Agricultural District Association, called the meeting to order. He briefly stated that the purpose of the meeting was to ascertain whether or not the citizens of Chico desired the fair, and if so, to take the necessary preliminary steps for securing it.

As chairman of the meeting, Major Nichols was selected; and W. J. O'Connor as Secretary.

In response to calls for a speech, Mesj. T. H. Barnard said: "I believe that the proposed race meeting is desirable. It will attract a greater crowd and better horses than anything of the kind we have had in many years. We should also consider that it is very important that the race track be maintained, and unless there is some prospect of racing in the future our track will go for good. It is probable that the appropriations for agricultural districts will be renewed, and if the track and buildings are gone we will not get any fairs in the future."

Colonel Park Henshaw, by request, addressed the meeting. He said that the original intention of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association was to give a fall and spring meeting, both on the Oakland track. With Major Nichols he had appeared before the Association and after considerable figuring they consented to change their program so that Chico and Willows could have meetings. This Association would have to have $1,000 and the privileges, to pay out on the meeting, and about $500 would also have to be raised to put the track in condition, pay for water, printing and incidental expenses. He explained that 10 per cent of the large purses to be hung up by the Association would have to come from gate receipts and privileges, hence the Association could not make any money, as about $7,000 would be distributed in purses. "Willows has raised $1200 already," he said, "and Santa Rosa must raise $1,500, the same as Chico."

"Whether or not we are to have a race track in the future depends upon whether we have a meeting and thus encourage racing. Mr. Sanborn has maintained it three or four years now without races, and now he proposes to charge us only for the cost of putting it in repair."

Colonel Henshaw also emphasized the importance of bringing outside people here, and said there will be between 160 and 200 horses to go in the races, there being only eight meetings in the circuit and all of the owners anxious to pull down purses. He thought it safe to say that 700 followers of the track would come and stay the whole week. "Horsemen," said he, "leave their money in every town, and most of them are broke when they leave the town and borrow money to get to the next place. They leave $2 where they take $1. We should also look at this proposition for its future effects."

L. H. McIntosh seconded all that was said by Colonel Henshaw, and hoped that some effort would be made to maintain Chico's record as the horse center of Northern California.

There will be trotting, pacing and running races, so that all lovers of horses will be pleased.

On motion the following committee was appointed to ascertain what can be done in the way of finances: T. H. Barnard, O. L. Clark, Jas. Barker, J. O. Simms, J. H. Mansfield, J. W. Lightfoot, Thos. Dooley, B. F. Allen, B. Cusick, Wm. Elliott, J. H. Sawtell, M. Oser.

This committee was instructed to canvass the town and report two weeks from to-morrow evening.

Interesting California Turf History.

The sensation of the week in racing circles has been the four-mile race against time at Oakland on Thursday, won by Charles Boots' bay filly Lucretia Borgia, by the imported horse Brutus, son of the Thousend Guineas winner, Macgregor. On the dam's side, this mare goes back into what is called "the old blood" of the State, that is, a family of horses brought here prior to the outbreak of the civil war. In 1840, Thomas G. Moore and James F. Bybee (the latter of whom was living at last accounts though hugging the lee-shore of 80 pretty close), took a famous Kentucky mare to Missouri and ran her under the false name of Mongrelia, her true name being Red Morocco. After winning one or two small races with her she was matched against the famous mare Betsy Miller, by Bertrand. Betsy was the favorite on the day of the race and whole warehouses full of hemp, tobacco, corn and other produce were bet off on the race. Mongrelia won in straight heats and after all the bets were paid off and one or two defalcations had occurred on account of losses on the race it was discovered that Mongrelia was really the great Kentucky mare, Red Morocco, by Medoc out of Brownlock by Tiger. This led up to the present rule that no change of name shall be recognized except the former name of the horse be also given on the entry blank, for one year after the change is given. This is now supplemented by a jockey club rule requiring a registration of the date of foaling of the horse, together with his color and all his marks.

Garrett Williamson of Springdale, Hamilton County, O., in 1848 bought a chestnut mare called Maria Downing from Joseph H. Downing of Lexington, Ky. She was by American Eclipse out of Brownlock, the dam of Red Morocco. Mr. Williamson bred her to imp. Margrave, winner of the St. Leger of 1832, and then to Boston, the greatest four-mile horse the world ever saw. He won forty-one races in forty-six starts, thirty-four of them being at four-mile heats. During his turf career he made no less than five journeys on foot between New York and Atlanta, Ga., as there were no railways in those days, and Boston was a very bad horse aboard of a boat. Maria's foal by Margrave died, and she missed getting in foal to "Old Whitenose." In 1852 his son Henry came home from California, and Mr. Williamson made him a present of Maria and a handsome five-year-old colt called Belle Mount, by American Boy, out of Prunella, a mare imported from England by Commodore R. F. Stockton, U. S. N., in 1844. There could be no higher-bred mare on earth than Prunella, for she was by Comus (grand sire of the famous Melbourne), out of a mare by Partisan, from Pawn (owner sister to Penelope, dam of Whalebone, Whisker and Wofnl), from old Prunella, by Highflyer, the latter being placed first in a list of forty English matrons by the late Dr. H. J. Walsh, who wrote over the signature of "Stonehenge," and was as far ahead of ordinary sporting editors as Marco Bozzaris was the superior of poor little Prince Constantine.

Belle Mount never could gain a recognition by his true name after he reached California. They always insisted on calling him "Belmont," and under that name he was known till his death, in 1855. He arrived at Stony Creek, Colusa County, in September, 1853, in company with Maria Downing and a very handsome brown mare called Liz Givens, by imp. Langford (another of the Commodore's importations by the way), he being by Starch out of Peri, the dam of the world-famous Sir Hercules. On the plains Maria gave birth to a chestnut colt called Owen Dale, and Liz to a bay filly called Bonnie Belle. The next year Maria had a chestnut colt called Joe Downing that was killed by being impaled on a picket fence, and her next colt, named after myself, was mysteriously shot on the marsh at San Pablo. Liz Givens in 1855 foaled a chestnut colt, first called Vigilance, and then called Langford. This little chap was the first thoroughbred horse foaled west of the Rockies, and first saw the light at Monroeville (now called Orland, in Glenn county), on the 26th of April, 1855. After winning several important races he was finally matched for $5,000 a side against the Kentucky horse, Ashland, owned by Hon. Nathan Coombs of Napa. The betting was 2 to 1 against Langford, as Ashland had beaten Owen Dale a year before and Owen Dale (who was a Sunday horse) had beaten Langford in a very fast trial at home. It would have "broken you all up in business" to hear the "chins" talk on the track at Sacramento on that day.

"Hoo-ray for Ashland! How kin they beat him? Raised half a mile away from old Henry Clay's house and a race-horse at any distance. Whoo!"

"Hoo-ray for Ashland! I've got a thousand dawlers to bet he walks off with all the soap. And they tell me that sor'l hoss was raised in Ohio—who-o-o the h—! ever heard of a race hoss comin' from Ohio? That's what's the matter of me."

And so it went. By the time the horses were ready to start Col. Lathrop had over $10,000 bet on Langford. I knew if Ashland won he would have to beat 740, and when he came out I saw he was too finely drawn. If Langford could beat him at all, he could beat him two miles as easily as four. I had just $100 in my pocket. "Twenty to a hundred Ashland don't get a heat!" They flocked around me like vultures around a crippled deer. I could have bet $10,000 the same way if I had the money.

Bang! went the drum and away they went. Four miles in 7:43 and Langford made every post in the race a winning one. Ashland crumpled badly after the heat (at least that was what Milton Morrison, his trainer, told me) and was withdrawn. The Ohio horse was fearfully in evidence about that time.

A year prior to this great race, which was run on the 29th of April, 1860, old Maria Downing foaled a bay filly called Miami. She won all her three-year-old stakes, and at five was sold to John D. Winters of Ashoe, Nev. He got broken up by had mining speculations, and Miami became the property of William Boots, a fruit-grower of Milpitas. Uncle George Bromley, no more jokes about Milpitas if you please. That place was the cradle of Lucretia Borgia, now the most famous mare in America. Mr. Boots bred Miami to imp. Hercules, a son of Kingston, who ran West Australian to a head for the fastest Ascot cup ever run, and then bred her to Lodi, the only good exponent of the Emilius line we ever had in this State. She produced a filly called Gypsy to Hercules, and a colt called Nathan Coombs to the cover of Lodi. Gypsy was mated with Nathan, and that produced Ledette, the dam of Lucretia Borgia. Although it looks somewhat incestuous to have Miami as grandmother in two places, yet I think Mr. Boots entitled to credit for preserving the good old blood of pioneer days as he has done. The ignorances that were howling about the Ohio-bred horses and hurrahing for Glencoe (the sire of Ashland) did not stop to consider that old Prunella, by Highflyer, the world's greatest broodmare, was not only the fourth dam of Glencoe, but also the fourth dam of the Ohio horse, Belmont, as well.

So far as the performance of Lucretia Borgia against the watch is concerned, I am not so much enraptured over it as some might imagine. She is a four-year-old mare, and under the English and Australian rules would have to carry 123 pounds, and 119 by those in vogue at Jerome Park. She only carried eighty-five, and while the performance was the fastest on record, it only serves to convince me that either Salvador, Henry of Navarre, Clifford or Drake Carter, with a like allowance of weight, thirty-four pounds, could have covered the same distance in seven minutes flat, and that either Carbine, Abercorn or Ormonde could have done it with 110 pounds on each.—"Hidalgo," in Los Angeles Times.

History of Ophir.

Curious stories have been written about the peculiarities of the phenomenal northern California trotting-bred horse Klamath, 2:07½, his good-hearted owner, Thos. W. Raymond, and his untimely death.

Raymond's own account of how badly the landlord of the Westminster Hotel at Los Angeles, California, used him, where he had often been a guest before, and where he was well known (when choking with a heart trouble had him hauled off to a station-house as a lunatic and locked up all night without medical aid) was brutal indeed, and doubtless hastened Raymond's death. It certainly suggests Bret Harte's query: "Is civilization a failure, or is the Caucasian played out?" With all of the prestige of this famous gelding it is amazing that no one has ever cleared up the history of the sire of his dam, viz: Ophir. Ophir was a remarkable individual of great courage and of more importance in horse history than hundreds of stallions who have been touted with an abundance of printers' ink. Some writers have shown their ignorance by using the term "unknown," while others have suggested that Klamath was bred up in an Indian county, and here a name strange in its origin. To all such writers we will say that there is a Klamath river and a town of "Klamath Falls" in Klamath Co., southern Oregon. The river flows from Klamath Lake in southern Oregon a generally south and southwesterly course through Siskiyou Co., northern California, and thence to the Pacific Ocean.

The inhabitants do not consider this an Indian country at the present time, neither do they admit they are Indians themselves. The wealthy and the wise who revolve around the regal throne of the Breeders' Registry at Chicago are equally ignorant upon this subject and of Ophir's history at this day.

Ophir was foaled July 15, 1869. His sire was Skenandoah by Kentucky Hunter, who was a son of Broken Leg Hunter of New York State.

Ophir's dam was by Easton's David Hill, son of Hill's Vermont Black Hawk, second dam by Prince Albert, owned by Wm. Reynolds, Colusa Co., Cal. In 1890 Ophir's dam was owned by D. C. L. French, Santa Clara Co., Cal., while his third dam was owned by D. M. Reavis, Butte Co., Cal.

Ophir was bred by Judge Lewis (deceased) of Oroville, Butte Co., Cal. At his death he was purchased by George D. Perkins (now Senator Perkins), who let a man named Kenny have the colt before he was broken to harness. Mr. S. L. Daniels, now in San Francisco, Cal., bought the colt from Kenny, developed his speed, and owned the stallion when he made his record of 2:35 to wagon in the fifth heat in the race, entered by D. Denison at Sacramento, Cal., April 18, 1877. While Daniels owned this stallion he made a desperate effort to get over a door to a mare passing by, in season, injuring one of his fore legs, which put an end to his trotting development. While Mr. Budd Doble was in California, he drove this horse a trial in 2:28. Mr. Daniels then sent Ophir from Chico, Cal., to Alex. Martin, in 1878, who was then at Jacksonville, Oregon, but who is now at No. 702 Tenth street, Oakland, Cal. Mr. Martin sold him to J. W. Manning in 1879.

Mr. William Clark of Yreka, Cal., Alex. Martin Sr., Oakland, Cal., and Dr. H. A. Wright, of Klamath Falls, have kindly answered my many letters and furnished the information herein. Ophir was in the hands of Wm. Clark at Jacksonville, Ore., from 1880 to 1882. In 1882 they were about covering the dam of Morokus, who had a colt by her side. The colt caused the mare to turn quickly when Ophir was coming to her with violent force, as he had been spoiled in that habit and was almost uncontrollable. In his rush he struck the mare's hip bone, which was prominent, with such force that it broke his forearm above the knee. The weather was very hot at the time and when the mortification set in it was deemed best to shoot the horse to put him out of misery. He died the property of J. W. Manning, of Jacksonville, Ore. He was a rich chestnut in color, of great muscular conformation, 15 hands, and weighed 1,200 pounds. The abuse inflicted upon him by a colored man who had handled him in his youth had left its showing upon his legs. But Wm. Clark drove him to win the last race he started in at Yreka, Cal., in 1897, winning the "free-for-all" class.

Ophir was a horse of great endurance, game and level-headed in a race. Ophir also sired the dam of Klamath Maid, foaled July, 1894. She is by Monwood, changed in the register to Woodman 29, 189, record 2:28½. With about two months' handling to high-wheeled sulky in August, 1896, at Yreka track, this filly, not quite 25 months old, went a mile in 2:24.

Wm. Clark and S. K. Ogle owned Morokus (the sire of Klamath) and his dam and bred Klamath. Morokus' dam was Minnie Rife, by Lionheart, second dam Minnie Rifleman (thoroughbred), by Rifleman. Minnie Rife (dam of Morokus) could show a 2:30 gait at the trot, but she had also been used on the running turf, which had made her very wild in harness racing.

J. W. Manning bred the mare Boh, dam of Klamath, 2:07½, and sold her to Curley Webb. He sold her to Wm. Clark and S. K. Ogle.

Klamath's dam was called Boh, but now known as Lady Ophir, by Ophir. Her first dam was the Gridley mare, by Penninger's Mike No. 3403, a son of Vermont No. 322, who was by Independence, a son of McCracken's Black Hawk. The first and second dams of Boh or Lady Ophir were bred by Wm. Cardwell, Jacksonville, Ore.

The foregoing shows what has been proven many times before, viz., that the best foundation stock for our trotting-bred families has been taken from the Eastern and Middle States. In the ancestry of Ophir, Pettinger's Mike and Klamath, Vermont and New York State play the most important parts. It matters not in what portion of the United States you find the trotting-bred horse, his best representatives will be found to have descended from our Eastern trotting-bred families. When properly understood Klamath is no more of a mystery than Nelson or A zote.—Cyrus Linkens in Trotter and Pacer.

THE SPRECKELS FARM.

A Model Institution for the Breeding and Training of Running Horses.

An ideal stock farm is that of A. B. Spreckels, situated just south of Napa, and comprising what was formerly known as the McCord and Lennon ranches.

Since the purchase of these valuable properties by the young millionaire horse-breeder many important improvements have been made, necessitating the expenditure of a vast amount of money, and the farm is now one of the best equipped for horse breeding and training on the Coast. New and substantial fences have been built and whitewashed. The broad fields have been subdivided into many paddocks and sown with divers kinds of forage grasses. New buildings have been erected and the old ones have been improved and renovated.

The John McCord ranch is used as a breeding establishment, and it is here you will find some of the best-blooded thoroughbred stallions and broodmares of the country. At the head of the stud is the coal black prince of stallions Imp. Idallium, a full brother to Sir Modred and Cheviot. The get of this valuable stallion have already demonstrated their superior speed and high character as race horses. Among them are Therese, Little T. G., Aluminum and a host of others.

On what was formerly the P. Lennon place is the training stable. This stable was built according to the ideas of Cy Mulkey, the veteran horseman who is superintendent of the farm. Parenthetically, it may be truthfully stated that Mr. Mulkey is without a peer in his profession and it is largely due to his energetic character that Napa county has within its borders this valuable farm. The training stable is elliptical in shape surrounding an interior court, and containing about forty box stalls. Each stall has a board floor and has two entrances, one into the court and one outside. They were so constructed as a precautionary measure in case of fire.

In the center of the court is a water fountain with two high cement basins placed one above the other. The court is further ornamented with beds of choice and rare flowers enclosed by a pretty railing, making a scene most artistic and pleasing to the eye.

One may stand at any point within the court and at a glance observe the interior of any of the stalls.

Immediately outside and encircling the barn is a miniature race track, one-eighth of a mile in circumference, bordered by a neat fence and sheltered from the sun and rain by the broad projecting eaves of the stable. Here the horses are "worked" during the winter months, and can be run at a two-minute gait.

On the lowland near the river is located the large track, three-fourths of a mile in circumference, with all the equipments, starting gate, etc., of a well ordered race course. The horses are worked upon this track during the summer months.

In connection with the farm are employed expert horsemen and jockeys who are learned in their profession. Quite a number of the jockeys are Napa boys and there are several "Tod Sloanes" among them.

A school teacher is employed for the instruction of the boys, and in addition to their duties at the stables and the tracks the youngsters are required to study the English branches. The school room is in the Lennon house and every afternoon the boys may be found there from 1 until 4 o'clock studying or listening to their instructor.

The water system of the farm is quite complete. On the McCord ranch is a windmill, and near the training stable a gasoline engine and 20,000 gallon tank. These furnish sufficient water for all purposes.

This farm, financially as well as otherwise, is a valuable institution to Napa, as the yearly expenditures run high into the thousands of dollars. From twenty-five to thirty men employed, on an average, all the year around, and all the hay and grain, as well as provisions, are bought from Napa dealers.—Napa Journal.

Notes From Santa Rosa.

The outlook for the horse industry is growing brighter in Santa Rosa and Sonoma county all the time.

Sonoma county horses have always had a good reputation, and that reputation is telling just now, for men in search of good stock are coming here every week.

Thursday afternoon Judge S. K. Dougherty sold for a nice sum his fine mare Niles Beauty, 2:19½ to James Cook of San Francisco. Niles Beauty is one of the fastest trotters ever owned in Sonoma county.

Niles Beauty was sired by Ulster Chief and her dam was by Shenandoah. She is a pretty little thing and can go as fast as a bullet. When Salishury had her she was sent a work-out mile in 2:13. Mr. Cook will star her in the circuit.

Mart Rollins' string is growing. He has now in addition to his others W. H. Morris' fine Robin filly Thesis, Harry White's Daly colt, M. V. Vanderboof's Secretary colt and Henry Baker's Robin colt Kenwood. He is doing some very good work with them at Pierce Bros. track.

Belden & Behr have two very eligible new ones. One is Nellie B., sired by Anteoq, dam by General Dana, second dam by Kilpatrick. The other is the Blackbird mare brought here by O. K. Westcott. Nellie B. was bred by Henry Baker. She is eight years old while the other is seven.

John Rodgers has received a notable addition to his string. He came up from San Francisco, and is a Dexter Prince four years old, owned by Prof. Heald. He is a sorrel and got a three-year-old record of 2:27. The sports expect to see "Johnnie" get some very fast time out of him.—Santa Rosa Press.

The State Tournament.

The fourth semi-annual tournament of the California Inanimate Target Association held at the Pacific Tournament Association grounds at Alameda Junction on Sunday and Monday last though probably not a financial success was unquestionably a success in every other way. The attendance was excellent, the management could not be improved upon, the traps worked well and the events were run off very quickly. T. R. Barney and M. C. Allen officiated as managers. L. Ph. Bolander and G. B. Barber attended to the clerical end, A. A. Borlini officiated as treasurer, and the prizes were posted and paid promptly.

The magatrop gave considerable dissatisfaction, many had never shot over it before, and the angles being new the scores were low on this trap. On Sunday the wind blew a half a gale and not a single straight score was made, but on Monday the weather was much better and the shooting much more satisfactory.

The E. T. Allen trophy match resulted in a tie between E. E. Mason of Los Angeles and G. G. Billington of the Empires, with 19 each. In shooting off the tie they tied again with 15 each out of 20. The second tie resulted in a win for Mason with a score of 17 to 13. Mason took the trophy and Dr. W. S. George of Antioch, the former holder, took $31.20, the entrance money less price of bluerocks.

The Gold Dust Diamond Medal match resulted in a tie between C. A. Merrill of Stockton and O. N. Ralphs of Los Angeles, with 18 each. In shooting off the tie on Monday morning they tied again with 18, and the third time with 16 each. In shooting off the third tie Ralphs won with a score of 18 to 17. R. H. McCoy of Stockton, the former holder, received $44.80, the entrance money less price of bluerocks.

The Overland Monthly team trophy match resulted in another tie between the Stockton Athletic Association Gun Club and the Los Angeles City Gun Club teams. The tie was shot off Monday morning resulting in a victory for the Los Angeles team with a score of 96 to 87 out of a possible 120.

The Los Angeles team took the trophy and $30. The Stockton team, $21; the Reliance team, $15, and the Olympics, $12. The scores were as follows:

Tacoma Won.

The long-talked-of shoot between the five-men teams of the Seattle Rod and Gun Club and the Tacoma Gun Club came off Sunday. The stake was the handsome silver cup put up by Shooting and Fishing and held by the Tacoma sportsmen, they having won it from Spokane two or three years ago. The five-men team from Seattle, namely: J. N. Hardy, E. E. Ellis, A. K. Churchill, Dick Stevens, and H. F. Norton. The Tacoma team, Pierce, Young Sheard, Dr. Smith and E. A. Kimball. The match was at fifty blue rocks to the man, known traps and unknown angles. The visitors faced the traps first for ten birds and lead the shoot until both teams had shot thirty birds each. Then it seemed as if cruel fate had placed the brand on the boys from the Queen City and kind Providence was hovering over the lucky sons of that quaint village on Commencement Day. The village boys shot like a house on fire and made by far the best scores of their lives, while our boys shot in only fair form. The scores stood: Hardy 41, Ellis 37, Churchill 39, Stevens 40 and Norton 35. The Tacoma team: Pierce 47, Young 44, Sheard 43, Dr. Smith 38, Kimball 35. The total standing 208 to 192 in favor of Tacoma. The Seattle sportsmen were by no means disheartened by their defeat and in a very short time will re-challenge the Tacoma men for another trial.—Seattle Argus.

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

There will be a live-bird shoot at Winters to-morrow.

The Visalia team were sadly missed at the tournament.

The Encinalas will shoot to-morrow at Birds Point, Alameda.

The California Wild Shooting Club will shoot at Ingle-side to-morrow.

The accompanying tables of scores includes all events except team matches.

The Olympic Gun Club is talking of holding a big live bird shoot on July 4th.

The Lincoln Club had fourteen men in the money in the first event of the tournament.

The Santa Maria Gun Club will give a tournament sometime during the month of June.

The late tournament was without question the best managed of any tournament yet given by the Association.

In the table of scores the total of breaks made by Otto Feudner and the percentage, is correct but the last two scores should be 15, 19.

E. E. Mason, of the Los Angeles team, won the average price of $25 at the tournament, with M. O. Feudner, of the Olympics, second, $15.

Achilles Roos will present the California Inanimate Target Association with a fine three-man team trophy before the next tournament.

The Lincoln Gun Club's 100 bird match will be shot after the regular monthly club match hereafter, on the third Sunday of each month.

The Gold Dust medal and the Golcher trophy were won with Smith guns. The Individual Championship with a Parker, and the Allen trophy with a Francotte.

Dupont and Gold Dust were the popular powders at the tournament, but Hazard, in the hands of J. McCutchan, Judy, McRae, St. John and Cowan was frequently in the money.

We are informed that Kodapp, Anderson and Merriweather, whom we did not interview at the tournament, used Smith guns. This would raise the number of Smiths used to 22 instead of 19.

The "Tampalpais" powder, a new smokeless, very similar to Gold Dust, was used for the first time at the State tournament. The only straight made in the individual events was made with this powder.

Why not hold the next tournament at Los Angeles? A train could be engaged and the rates made quite reasonable. Los Angeles would bring out a better entry than San Francisco, as there is more enthusiasm there.

The annual tournament of the Northwest States Sportsmen's Association at Anaconda will last four days beginning June 15th. One-half of the events will be shot over the magtrap. The entrance money ranges from $2 to $10 in each event.

The Empires shoot of May 23d was postponed on account of the live-bird shoot at Ingle-side. This event will be shot to-morrow, and following the regular event there will be a 15 bird match, $1 entrance, and a 20-bird shoot, $1.50 entrance, open to all.

The money event of the Empire Gun Club held on the second Sunday of each month is for members only. Several non-members have shot in this event by mistake. If these gentlemen will call on the secretary of the Empires their entrance money will be refunded.

With Charlie Budd as Du Pont champion, Charlie Grimm as cast-iron champion, and Sim Glover as the Star champion, the live-bird world of trapshooters have an elegant sufficiency of champions. Neither Brewer, Elliott nor Carver can now have any difficulty in getting on a match when they want one. All the above trophies are open to all, nobody and no powder barred.—Forest and Stream.

The scores made at this tournament this year are much lower than those of any previous tournament. It is only fair to the participants to state that the reason for this is the very high wind of Sunday, and the fact that one of the events was shot on the magtrap, an invention that is entirely new to the majority of the shooters that participated.

The Willows Gun Club is booming along in great shape. At the regular (shoot on Sunday last there were twenty-five entries in the club match at 20 birds, the scores were: C. Clarke 14, Thos. Ajax 14, H. W. Walker 13, F. Williams 13, J. A. Porter 13, G. Mullor 12, H. Keyes 12, F. Borgi 12, I. J. Bronx 12, T. Dawson 11, Chas. Branhall 11, J. Thessart 10, B. H. Burton 9, G. Q. Hoag 9, J. Hoever 9, M. W. Pratt 8, Wm. Winters 8, S. Marshall 8, P. Lyons 7, Roy Marshall 6, W. C. Powell 5, C. D. Howell 5, J. F. Sersanus 4, T. E. O'Brien 3.

The editor of Field Sports has been scouring the town for paid write-ups of the powders and guns used at the late tournament. This is not our method of doing business. The table of guns, powders and loads in another column was compiled by our gun editor and is accurate, and will be welcomed by all lovers of the gun. We recognize the rights of all our advertisers and deem it a pleasure to further their interests whenever and wherever an opportunity presents itself. It is against our policy to publish advertisements and then demand pay for write-ups for articles our advertisers are trying to sell. For fifteen years this rule has been followed and we will not deviate from it even if our would-be rivals resort to such low schemes.

THE KENNEL

Coming Events.

BENCH SHOWS.

Dec. 14—State Poultry and Kennel Club's second bench show, Sacramento; Matt. Coffey, secretary.

Golden Flash II.

J. B. Martin's fox terrier dog Golden Flash II, the subject of our illustration, is to-day one of the best-known terriers in America. He is by Blanton Reever 19,662, out of Blanton Spinaway 30,702, and was bred by his present owner. His career on the bench is one that any breeder might well be proud of. His winnings are: 3d, open, Los Angeles, 1896; 1st, open and special for best dog in show, San Francisco, 1896; 3d, open, Stockton, 1896; 1st, open and special, Stockton, 1897; 1st, open and special, Los Angeles, 1897; 1st, open and special, Oakland, 1897. He is now in the challenge class, and if he lives will soon be a champion.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

Seattle has been dropped from the roll of membership of the American Kennel Club for non-payment of dues.

The dogs placed second to Uncle Dick's equal firsts and third to his equal seconds will be pegged back one notch.

Mrs. Smyth of the Swiss Mountain Kennels is adding Skye terriers to her kennel of St. Bernards and cocker spaniels.

M. B. Biddle, of Santa Cruz, was found guilty of dog poisoning on Wednesday of last week. He was to have been sentenced last Saturday.

For several years the "boss" cried down the American Kennel Club and talked continually of the "clique" but now that he is one of the clique, it is all right.

The well-known cocker spaniel breeder J. P. Willey has received from England the cocker dog Arlington Jeff by Viceroy—Daphne, 24½ pounds and 10½ inches at shoulder.

The American Kennel Club has taken up the question of giving equal prizes in California as suggested by the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN and the matter has been referred to the Committee on Rules.

The New England Kennel Club will give an open air show at Braintree, Mass., on June 10th, admission will be free. The prizes will be the whole of the entrance fee divided in 50, 30, and 20 per cent. Entry fee $1. The show will last one day.

The "mischief-maker" has got all his dogs in the challenge class. His purpose is accomplished, and now he is petitioning the American Kennel Club to pass a new rule, or rather revive the old one and make it compulsory for exhibitors to show at San Francisco in order to claim the title of champion. In other words, Oakland is under the "boss's" hand and must be at upon. In still plainer English, the "boss" gave the hint, the Advisory Board endorsed the idea and the American Kennel Club has been petitioned to make a new rule providing that a dog to earn the title of champion must win at a show that offers at least one thousand dollars in prize money. How many more months will it take that august body, the American Kennel Club, to realize that it is being used as a cat paw to rake the "mischief-maker's" chestnuts out of the fire?

If any errors are found in the above list we would feel indebted if the gentlemen named would send in such corrections at once.

On Monday night the Olympic Gun Club gave a jinks in honor of the visiting sportsmen that was attended by over one hundred shooters and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The club's magnificent quarters at 1309 Van Ness Avenue were well filled, and the programme was all that the most fastidious could wish for. The Sancho String Quartette, Jas. Fogarty, Douglas White, J. Grodjens, W. R. Rosetti, Wm. Ogelvie, J. Leonsrd, Jabez Swan, Wm. Hohson, Wm. Lewis, J. Karney and Robert Mitchell entertained the boys with musical and vocal selections of rare merit, and the festivities were kept up until a late (or early) hour. President M. C. Allen presented the cups and medals to the different winners with appropriate speeches, and the tournament concluded, as have its predecessors, in a social success as well as being successful from the shooters' standpoint.

Patents Relating to the Sporting Interests.

The following list of United States Patents, relating to the Sporting Interests, granted May 27th and May 4th, 1897, is reported expressly for BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN, by James Bangster, Patent Attorney, Buffalo, N. Y.:

We have often stated to our patrons that the American Kennel Club had no agencies. We believe that every good dog should be registered and always advise breeders to register their stock. We are not authorized to receive a dollar for the A. K. C. and never claimed to be but as of yore if we can accommodate our patrons by mailing a letter for them or tabulating a pedigree our friends will find our letter string out and our pen always at their service.

Is it not rather a queer state of affairs that allows one club to rule the whole coast? Has it ever occurred to the American Kennel Club's delegates that the majority of the delegates to the Pacific Advisory Board are all members of the San Francisco Kennel Club. Has it ever occurred to Secretary Vredenburg that if he ever had occasion to investigate any action of the San Francisco Kennel Club that the Pacific Advisory Board would have to investigate itself. An Advisory Board composed of delegates which represented the portion of the country that their club belonged to, could do a great deal of good but the present arrangement is the worst kind of a farce.

Major Taylor says in his report of the Oakland show in the American Field, regarding the greyhound bitches: "White Cloud, Senorita and Fairy Queen were placed in order named. White Cloud far outclassing the others; she is a very symmetrical bitch, but a slightly longer neck would improve her appearance; she hears examination well, and there is little to criticize except her condition of coat. Senorita, a black is only fair." The following week Major Taylor judged the greyhounds at San Francisco and put Senorita (the fair one) first and White Cloud (the one that bears examination well) third. What else could be expected from the men who write over his own signature that a greyhound should not be deep-chested.

The same state of affairs exists now that existed last year before the $500 and 500 dog rules were abolished on this coast, and the same argument that caused the change in those rules applies now. San Francisco has held a show of over 500 dogs and offered $1,000 in prize money, but is that any guarantee that it will continue to do so from year to year? What is the object of the rule proposed by the Advisory Board? Is it the welfare of dog shows on this coast? Not by any manner of means. It is to force the owners of good dogs to show them at San Francisco. Is this proposed change the wish of exhibitors at large? Not by any means. Again we ask, has the Southern California Club authorized its delegate to vote for this change?

Secretary Vredenburg, smarting under the sting of a few truthful statements that the kennel editor of this paper has made about him and his method of doing business, has stooped to the level of his willing tool, the "mischief-maker," or still more likely has been advised by the letter and in carrying out a plan proposed to him, has charged the writer of these peregrinations with acting as agent for the American Kennel Club without authority, and neglecting to send on the registration of a St. Bernard or some other breed of dog belonging to a Mr. Hambruger of this city. In place of writing to the writer and asking him if he ever received any such registration, as any gentlemen would do, he, without a line of explanation or question, hands the matter to the Advisory Board, with instructions to investigate, publishes the accusation broadcast through the lead end does his best to injure the reputation of the writer, without giving him a chance to explain or refute the statement.

The "mischief-maker" without waiting for a meeting of the Advisory Board, immediately issues a commend to the writer to appear before the Board on Tuesday evening last, and calls his minions together to try the criminal. The writer knowing that the order was not authorized paid no attention to the letter whatever. Heppily for California there are men on the Board who have more sense than the secretary and the matter was not rushed through on Tuesday night as the letter had planned. The facts of the case are as follows: It has been the custom of the writer for the past seven years to certify to the correctness of pedigrees of dogs owned by the patrons of this paper and the papers that he has worked on during that time. Very frequently the party has requested us to register the same for them, sometimes because they were not familiar with the rules regarding same, sometimes it was a gentleman or lady not living in town, and sometimes merely as an accommodation to a busy man. As the receipts and number is mailed to the owner, the writer frequently never hears any more from the registration until it appears in the Stud Book. Some months ago we received five, not one, and after a month or two received a complaint of not having received a number, from E. Attridge; shortly after, another complaint from W. J. Norwood, and finally one from Mr. Hambruger. We replied to them all that we had mailed them as we certainly thought we had. On re-reading of Vredenburg's action in the American Field the whole office was rechecked for a trace of the missing pedigrees, but none could be found, but on Tuesday night, at home, in a bureau drawer, among a lot of old unimportant letters, we found one addressed to Secretary Vredenburg containing the missing blanks. For this crime we have been ordered before the P. A. B. to answer to a charge of dishonesty. We decline to be tried by a man that we will not disagree our tongue by speaking to on the streets and leave the public to judge, let the action of the Pacific Advisory Board be what it may, and we certainly do not care to pose as acting as agent for any organization that employs as its executive officer a man who vents his petty personal spite in such a manner as has Secretary Vredenburg.

NOTICE TO ANGLERS.

Every angler is invited to drop us a line occasionally, telling us of the condition of the streams they have visited and the killing lure; of the number and size of the fish caught, or any other item of interest to anglers.

Bass for the San Joaquin.

Andy Ferguson, the County Fish and Game Warden, was expecting a shipment of black bass from the State Commission last week with which to stock the San Joaquin and Kings rivers. But he received a letter instead, stating that the fish would not be sent to Fresno for a few weeks. The unusually cold temperature of the waters in the Russian river, where the bass are obtained, delayed their spawning this season, and the young fish were not as advanced in growth as it was expected they would be.

The State Commission will first transfer the bass from the Russian river to a reservoir in San Mateo County, and from there they will be distributed. Mr. Ferguson was assured that Fresno's quota would be no less than 5,000 of the fish. The county warden will stock the San Joaquin and Kings in the valley, and it will not be long till the city anglers will have to drive only a dozen miles to enjoy fine sport. Mr. Ferguson is taking steps to compel the irrigation companies to put in screens in the bulkheads at the rivers, where the canals divert. This will prevent the fish from going down the ditches, where they would be destroyed.—Fresno Republican.

Fifty Years Trouting.

"Don't you think there's something in luck?"

"Hey? yes; luck? yes; luck and patience. Patience is a great thing. In the spring before I begin fishing I always make some tincture of iron and drink it. I put a lot of old nails asoek in some water, and after the water's got rusty I swallow it. That gives me iron in the blood, which is one of the best things in the world for strength, and strength gives me patience. Now, I had just as soon tell you as not that baits that are covered with a few drops of the tincture of iron seed are attractive to almost any fish, and when I'm using worms or minnows I generally carry a box of moss scented with it, into which I put a little of my bait from time to time. As a rule, I've found that the fish don't like to run away from this scent, and I've caught more fish with it time and again, twice over, like enough, than the men that would be fishing next to me. Crushed nettle scent is good, too, if you can't get the anise. Still, with all my tricks, I have to have patience. And I've been badly beaten by luck after all. Was the other day, and so on.

"Tell us about it, do," put in a young angler, after it was plain that Mr. Baldwin's silence was likely to last.

"Hey? Yes, was badly beaten the other day by a case of simple, hull-headed luck. A boy came up where I was fishing in Blair's pool. He had never fished before, and he was carrying a heavy pole and some angleworms. I was casting a red hackle by in the best style I could muster. I couldn't get a thing. He dropped his worm in right where I'd been, and got a snap at once that yanked the pole right out of his hands. I jumped into the water and grabbed the pole, and played the trout into my landing net for the lead. The fish weighed over three pounds. Now that is what I call hull-headed good luck, end so on."

"What are your favorite flies?"

"Hey? flies? Aint got any favorites, except red heckle. I mostly use flies with the brightest colors, so bright that they look like nothing else on the earth, nor above the earth, nor in the waters under the earth. This trying, the way some of the city fishermen do, to copy all the flies in christendom and then pick out certain ones to use each month, is all gammon, according to my notion. What I'm after is something to attract the trout's attention. I've caught trout with my scarecrow flies in brooks where the best English flies were being cast and were not getting a rise. But I had one big fish last spring that I couldn't get with a fly. This trout lay over in Wadham's brook in a hole right under a waterfall, close up to the roots of a large ash tree. It wouldn't move a foot an hour, perhaps. I caught a smaller trout which was stationed down at the lower end of the pool, but nothing would tempt the big one. I dropped big fat hoppergrasses, worms, and everything else that I could think of before the lazy fellow. It was of no use. Trout you know, lie in certain feeding spots about brooks and stay there sometimes for weeks. I particularly wanted this trout, as I always get my best fish around the roots of big trees, end so on."

"Heh? Ever catch it? Yes; after about three weeks' work, off and on. I'd about given it up, and was telling Epephroditus Miner, one of my neighbors, about it at church one Sunday, and he said right off: 'Try some calf's liver.' Then he told me that his grandfather once told him that calf's liver was a sure bait for trout when nothing else would catch 'em. I started right off home, tackled up my horse, and set out to see who was butchering calves. I had to drive ten miles down to the Widow Parmenas Avery's before I could get a calf's liver, and I had to pay twenty cents a pound for it at that. But I was determined to have that trout. I went over to the brook and threw in a few pieces of liver, and the next day I went over there with my elder pole baited with another bit of liver. Mighty meckel! That seemed to be just what the doctor ordered, for inside of a minute I got a strike, and the next thing I knew I had the fish on the bank. Wasn't it a beauty? All green, end yellow, end red, end black, and purple. I never saw such a high-colored fish. Great difference in the colors of trout, you know. Fish from dark, swampy, still waters full of rotting wood are apt to be dull-colored end tasteless. You want your fish to come from lively, sparkling brooks. Well, that trout of mine was a monster. It weighed three pounds end ten ounces, end so on.

Johnnie Whitson and wife returned on Wednesday from a visit of three days at the ranch of Mrs. Whitson's mother near Bodega. The well-known Wilkinson ranch is situated on Salmon creek a short distance from Bodega, and the vicinity is noted for its excellent trout fishing.

When Mr. Whitson returned home he hunted up the largest market basket he could find. Then he sallied forth and proceeded to distribute 300 of the finest trout seen this season, to his numerous friends. Everybody ate trout for supper Wednesday night, herbors, merchants, editors, reporters, inventors and all. There have been trout teas before this season but Mr. Whitson returned with the evidence which was conclusive beyond a doubt. He also brought with him some interesting stories of his experiences in Salmon creek. When asked how many trout he had caught, Mr. Whitson replied, "Oh, about a thousand I guess; we've been living on trout since Sunday.—Petelumae Courier.

The Chicago Fly-Casting Club inaugurated its club prize contests for 1897 on May 7th, at Gerfield Park. At noon the weather promised fine, but before 3 o'clock the sky became cloudy and a drizzling rain fell for two hours, all events being off for the time. A puff wind blew from the west after the rain end destroyed the hopes of the contestants for good scores. The entries included Bellows, Crosby, Goodsell, Lettermen, Lippincott, Ludlow, Miller, Murrell, Newkirk, Orr, Peet, Strell end Strong. There was a fair attendance of members not competing end spectators. B. W. Goodsell won the long-distance fly-casting event with 85 feet, end the accuracy end delicacy event with 92 1-3 per cent. I. A. Bellows won the distance end accuracy event 93 2-3 per cent, end the bait casting with 96 3-5 per cent.—American Field.

Carlos G. Young, the well-known fly-caster, is introducing a fish end game preservative that has evidently come to stay. It is harmless and tasteless. The fish, after being soaked in a solution of the preservative for from 12 to 24 hours, according to the size of the fish, may be kept for a week in any weather. What angler has not seen the time that he would have given anything he possessed to preserve a big fish or a basket of fish caught in some distant stream? Those who have used this preservative say that it will do all that is claimed for it. It is for sale by the trade.

THE MARYSVILLE RACES.

Sutter County Wins the Farmer's Race, Bycyclics Races and Other Contests.

The Spring Meeting of the Marysville Jockey Club was quite well attended and a good programme of races run. The track was in fair condition, the management good and the sport put up was well worth the money. Betting was light on the majority of events.

THURSDAY'S RACES.

The first day opened with W. P. Harkey as presiding judge, assisted by Jas. Murray and F. H. Greeley, with W. S. Harkey and F. Quigley as timekeepers. The first race was a 2:25 trot for $80, in which Harris' Lochinvar, Onyett's Bird Pearl's Duke and Knight's Patti Rosa were entered. Lochinvar won the race the best time being 2:20, made in the fourth heat.

In the running race, a quarter mile dash and repeat for $60, Simpson's Myrtle M. won in 23.

The yearling match race with Leech's Silver Belles, Kerrigan's Mamie K and McGrath's Allone, was won by Kerrigan's colt.

The fourth race was a special trot for $50 with the following entries: McGrath's Falloney, Harris' Director H, Onyett's Taylor's Maringo. Falloney won the first two heats and Director H the next; best time, 2:28, made by Director H. Darkness found the race unfinished.

The running race, a mile dash for $60, was won by Turman & Marr's Chereide in 1:45.

FRIDAY'S RACES.

Friday's races began with the unfinished trot of the previous day, in which Director H. won two straight heats and the race; best time, 2:27.

A quarter mile and repeat running race for $80 that followed was won by Sprurgeon's Frank S. in two heats, best time 0:24.

For the third event there was a mixed pace and trot for a purse of $50, for which the entries were: Harkey's Clara H., Onyett's Mand, and Hanson's Goldie. Mand took the first heat and Goldie the other two, best time 2:28. Harkey's mare made a good showing and had many admirers, but was outclassed by the other two veteran racers.

The five-eighths dash for a purse of $70 was won by Laf-foon's Venns in 1:04.

The two-mile bicycle race for a handsome medal attracted much attention and the entries were Paul Wilkins, C. Hampton of Marysville, Frank Peck and Justus Greely Jr. of Yuba City. It was a string out for the entire two miles until the seventh-eighth post on the last was reached, when Peck got out of rut and spurred ahead. They finished, Peck, Hampton, Greely and Wilkins. Time, 6:04.

Following the bicycle contest came the Farmers' race for $60, with the following horses in line: McGrath's Brigade, Pearl's Jim B., Harris' Doro Do, Simpson's Eva Forbes and Charles McAlpine's Cuckoo Jim. The pool-players were strong on Cuckoo Jim. Their faith was justified. He won the race in two straight heats in 2:43 and 2:39.

SATURDAY'S RACES.

The first race on the card was a special half-mile mixed pace and trot, three in five, for a purse of $100. The entries were: Knight's Cora S., Onyett's Hobo, Baker's Tilton B. Won by Cora S.

A three-quarter mile dash for a purse of $80 was won by Venus in 1:14.

The third race was also a mixed special trot, mile, best 3 in 5, for a purse of $80, with the following entries: Hanson's Goldie, Knight's Patti Rosa, and Onyett's Bird. Patti Rosa won the race, the best time being 2:25. Goldie was the favorite and was not driven to win, being taken off in the third heat by his owner.

The fourth race was a five-eighths mile dash for a purse of $100 was won by Morgan's Lou L. in 1:04.

The yearling race, half mile, for a purse of $60, was the last horse contest of the day. The entries were: McGrath's Allone, Kerrigan's Mamie K., and Leech's Silver Belles. The race was quite interesting. Silver Bell's driver let his charge do considerable running at the start and though he finished first was put back for running. Allone won, Minnie K. second. Time, 1:45.

Two rather fake footraces closed the three days' meeting. —Sutter County Farmer.

THE BROOKLYN HANDICAP.

Won by Pittsburg Phil's Howard Mann—Wins Off by Himself.

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 31.—Twenty-five thousand persons saw George E. Smith's four-year-old Howard Mann win the great Brooklyn handicap at Gravesend course to-day. Eleven horses went to the post. Howard Mann, coupled with his stable companion, Belmar, sold a slight favorite over Handspring, the top weight horse, and admittedly the class of the race.

F. L. Parker's six-year-old Lake Shore was second and W. C. Daly's four-year-old gelding third. The race was worth $8,000 to the winner, $1,500 to the second horse and $500 to the third. The track was muddy, but the time—2:09½ for a mile and a quarter—was not slow under the circumstances.

The owner of Howard Mann is much better known to the world as Pittsburg Phil. He has made many brilliant coups since he bade good-bye to the smoke of his native town, but in none of his vast raids upon the ring has he displayed more cunning than in that which was brought to a successful conclusion to-day.

A few years ago Phil was credited with winning $100,000 on a single race won by the two-year-old, King Cadmus, and gossip said he took $75,000 out of various pool-rooms of the country when Belmar won five successive races last autumn. Those competent to judge say to day's winning was very close to the former figure.

But it wasn't the amount won so much as the clever fashion in which the public had the wool pulled over its eyes regarding Howard Mann. When the entries were sent out yesterday Howard Mann was not on the list. To-day Phil withdrew Tha Winner. Nothing was said about adding Howard Mann until three quarters of an hour before the horses started. It was not until speculation began that the public realized that Belmar was to have a helpmate, for 90 per cent of these present regarded Howard Mann as a mere pacemaker.

The race showed that Belmar was a second string to the bow, for while the gray horse was fighting in the first division with The Swain, Handspring, Sir Walter, Loki and King Arthur in the run up the backstretch Howard Mann was in the second tier, running under a double-wrapped rein, ready to stride over the field.

Castaway's runaway race for the same rich handicap was not more impressive than Howard Mann's when finally given a free rein. While the field was battling for second place he galloped in alone, untouched by whip or spur. Henry Martin, the California jockey, rode him. Belmar quit more than a quarter of a mile from home.

Six furlongs, handicap—Mistral, 103 (Maher) 8 to 1, won; Arabian, 111 (Lame), 4 to 1, second; Yemen, 115 (Shields), 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:13¾. At Daddy, The Maxman, Harrington, Tannis and Pass Over also ran.

Mile and a sixteenth, selling—Declare, 110 (Sims), 2 to 1, won; Bromo, 86 (Maber) 2 to 1, second; Parmesan, 89 (Powers), 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:51. Cromwell, Emotional and Easteride also ran.

The Expectation Stake, four furlongs—Handball, 113 (Sims), 5 to 2, coupled with Handspring, won; L'Alouette, 110 (Sloan), 3 to 1, second; Come Quick, 110 (Thorpe), 15 to 1, third. Time, 0:49¾. Frohman, Handpress, Mr. Baiter, George Kenne, Storm Quest, Cherry Picker and Fixed Star also ran.

The Brooklyn Handicap, one and one-quarter miles—Howard Mann, 106 (H. Martin), 5 to 2, coupled with Belmar, won; Lake Shore, 105 (Scherrer), 10 to 1, second; Volley, 95 (Lamie), 16 to 1, third. Time, 2:09¾. Handspring, Belmar, Sir Walter, Ben Eder, The Swain, Loki, King Arthur and Jefferson also ran.

Five furlongs—Sly Fox, 110 (Doggett), 7 to 5, won; Blueaway, 105 (Thorpe), 6 to 1, second; Demagogue, 100 (Coyle), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:03¾. False Pride, Commercial Traveler, Brentwood, Red Gild and Eileen D. also ran.

Kensington Stake, hurdle, one and three-quarter miles—Sir Vassar, 144 (Anderson), 4 to 1, won; Flushing, 163 (Slack), even, second; McKee, 161 (Dunlap), even, third. Time, 3:24. Dr. Grimes also ran.

Racing At Alameda.

SATURDAY, MAY 29.

The Alameda Driving Association gave its initial meeting for 1897 at its track on Saturday, the 29th inst. Quite a crowd of ladies and gentlemen were present to witness the sport. The wind blew a gale and carried the dust in such clouds across the track as to make it very disagreeable for both drivers and spectators. The conditions were such as to preclude the making of fast time.

The first race had for starters the black mare, Emma Abbott, driven by her owner, Charles S. Neal, the gray horse, Silver Button, driven by his owner, H. Transue, and F. P. Thwaites' bay gelding, Clay H., driven by Mal Holmes. Silver Button was heralded as a certain winner by many who consider themselves competent to "figger out sich things."

When the horses scored up for the word, Clay H. had the pole, Silver Button second and Emma Abbott on the outside. To an even start the three trotted together for the first sixteenth, when both Silver Button and Clay H. left their feet; Emma Abbott then took the pole and trotting leisurely along reached the one-half in 1:14½, and finished the mile in 2:25, her first record, with Silver Button forty yards away and Clay H. gazing at the wrong side of the red flag. For the second heat Silver Buttons was still the favorite with the knowing ones, his well-known gameness and bottom giving reason for their ideas. At the first score the two were sent away, Button flying off of his seat at the first turn. The black mare, trotting fair and square, reached the half wall in the lead in 1:14½; her driver then slowed down and gave the gray horse a chance to come up to her, which he did just before coming to the three-quarter pole, which was reached in 1:02. A drive was then made with the mare and she left the gray behind at the seven-eighths, and trotting the last quarter in 34½ seconds, beat him about thirty yards. Time, 2:26½. The winner is a very beautiful black mare by Abbottsford, dam by Rustic, and in the opinion of many of those present can do her mile in 2:15 or better. Several horsemen, present at the race, have tried to secure her on a lease for the purpose of racing her this fall, but without success, her owner preferring to drive her himself for the fun of the thing.

The second race had for starters Judge Ellsworth's black gelding Bob, driven by A. H. Cohen, Bart Coombs' pacing mare, Anita, driven by Sam Castro, H. T. Moran's pacing bay gelding, Count, and Sanford Bennett's bay mare, Lassie B.; the last two were driven by their owners. To a good start the four did the first turn without skipping. Anita soon forged ahead and reached the quarter in 36 seconds, the half in 1:15, when she commenced to dia away. Boh soon took the lead and kept it to the finish in 2:31½, Anita a close second, Count third and Lassie B. distanced. The last-named horse did not do as well as many think her capable. It is hinted that her owner is much afraid of a record, intending to send her East next season. The second heat was won by Bob in 2:30, with Count second, Anita third. The winner is by Steinway, dam by Lodi, and is used as a general family horse.

The judges were Dr. Latbam, presiding, Judge W. E. Greene and L. L. Borden. Timers C. A. Gott, D. W. Martin and O. L. Rogers. Clerk of the course, A. G. Burns.

Leading Sire of 2:10 Performers.

By Almont 33 Altamont 3600 Sire of

Will make the season of 1897, at Oakland or Alameda AT $100 THE SEASON, WITH USUAL RETURN PRIVILEGES.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTS.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—his without blemish. He has never shed a scurf, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

SAN MATEO STOCK FARM

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15½ bands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $5,000 Kentucky Futurity stake as a three-year-old, and in his four-year-old form, until he met Azote, 2:04½ (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam Ellen Maybaw, 2:22, by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hubbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26¾). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 bands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly-proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfection in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37½. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:45½, dam Obantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:05), by Nutwood, 2:38½; second dam Cronon (dam of Lovelace, 2:21), and Betsy Britton, 2:20¾, by Princeps 339; third dam Crane Lise (dam of Bazarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarterton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $30.

Especial attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $90 to $110, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred sires sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo County. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month. Hay and grain $10 per month. Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

As a Nine-Year-Old Stallion, McKinney's List Leads All Others in the World for Average Speed:

Jenny Mc, 3.....	2:12	Harvey Mc, 2.....	2:14	Sula, 4.....	2:25 3-4
McZeus, 4.....	2:13	Julia D., 3.....	2:16 1-4	Sula, 4.....	2:15 1-2
Zumbr, 3.....	2:13	Jenny Mc, 2.....	2:20 1-4	Olson, 2.....	2:30
Harvey Mc, 3.....	2:14 1-4	Sir Credit, 3.....	2:25	Pat Conney, trial.....	2:19

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal.

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcione (son of George Wilkes, and Alma Mater, the famous broodmare by Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20½, he by Rhode Island, 2:23½, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20½, Gov. Sprague, 2:20½, Wilmar, 2:25½), by Hambledonian 10; grandam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great grandam Worden mare, by Exton Edipsee (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Register. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

MCKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15.2½ hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. The Trotting Horse.

BY CHARLES MARVIN.

This great practical horse book is a handsome, three hundred page octavo, bound in cloth, elegantly printed, superbly illustrated, and explains in every detail the remarkable success of CHARLES MARVIN and the whole plans and methods pursued at Palo Alto as to breaking, training, shoeing, gaiting, driving, keeping, racing and breeding trotters.

Read what J. C. Sibby, the owner of St. Bel, says of this book: "In this work Marvin has let out all the mysteries of the craft, and it is so simple and plain that any breeder, owner, trainer or rubber who has any relish for his business can take a colt as a yearling and develop to the highest and fullest extent that colt's capacity as a trotter. The work impressed me so strongly that I have ordered twenty copies, and shall place one in the hands of every rubber on our farm. Mailed postpaid for $5.50. Address

Anteros is a full brother to Anteo, 2:16<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, Antevolo, 2:19<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, etc., being by Electioneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, Nelly F., 2:13<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, and seventeen others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of the entry one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 14 sired Dan Voorhes, 2:23<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, St. Helena, 2:27<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in California. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is a mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of hand some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

THE WALNUT GROVE STOCK FARM.

Home of Some of the Choicest-Bred Trotting Stock in California—Fitting Candidates for Low Records.

At this season of the year there is no more delightful ride than down the Sacramento river. The little steamer Fruitvale which conveys passengers (who are either on pleasure or business bent) up and down that monarch of California rivers is crowded. At almost every bend of the winding water course, there is a constant procession of arriving and departing passengers. Everyone seems to be acquainted, and as the fruit season is just opening this forms the principal topic for discussion. Beyond the high levees, as far as the eye can see, are fruit trees covered with foliage and fruit, the ground around them being carefully cultivated, while near the handsome residences are men seen getting ladders, boxes and wagons ready for the gathering and removal of the crops. Large stern wheel steamers, constructed after the style of those which ply up and down the Mississippi river, are passed as we steam along toward our destination, the Walnut Grove Stock Farm. On the northern side of the river lie those famous islands which a few years ago were inundated by the water of the river which forced its way through the levees, but by the expenditure of vast sums of money in heavy dredging, pile driving, pumping machinery, the land is more productive than any other in California. Orchards, vineyards and alfalfa fields, green as a sea of emerald, border the golden fields of ripening grain that, under the magic touch of the gentle breeze, nods and bends, forming a succession of waves which are the nearest approach to the waves of the sea. For many years the yield of grain on these rich alluvial bottom lands has been increasing but the harvest this year surpasses them all and as good prices for rye, wheat, barley and oats are almost assured the farmer feels happy and in his way wants everyone to have a share in his happiness.

The bow of the little boat is turned toward the big wharf at Walnut Grove where Alex. Brown, the best liked man on the river, greeted us, and in procession-like order we followed our host to the hotel where a hounteous repast awaited us. Det Bigelow, the well-known horsemen who for so many years was with that lamented prince of good fellows, George Woodward, of Yolo, was there also, and after dinner we rode to the stock farm which lies about three-quarters of a mile south of "The Grove." A mile track has just been finished, and a better place for training horses will not be found in California in a year or two. At present, like all new race courses built on silt, the surface "cups," but time and subsoil drainage will obviate that.

Before looking at the "string" in the box stalls, we concluded to visit the colts and fillies that were in the alfalfa fields, and as we marched knee deep through this succulent herbage, alfalfa and young barley, we thought of the thousands of horses in California that have never known what such feed was and we wished that they did. Over in the far corner of the field were the yearling colts, and what a handsome lot they were—fat as butter and sleek as moles, their coats shining in the sunlight as if they had been curried and cleaned every day. As soon as we came near they crowded around us and it was almost impossible to separate them. Mr. Brown and Mr. Bigelow have made it a rule to go among them every day, they showed that kindness brings its own reward, for with the exception of the colts at Palo Alto and George H. Fox's farm near Clements, we never saw more gentle youngsters. Good blood will tell, and when the pedigrees of the youngsters were repeated we did not wonder at the remarkably perfect conformation and blood-like appearance of every one of them. Mr. Brown has used remarkably good judgment in getting the best, and should these colts continue to improve as they have during the past three months he will have a valuable lot to bring to the races for they will be money winners.

There was a brother to the great Agitato, who got a record of 2:09½ as a three-year-old, and he is better looking than his brother. His sire is Steinway and his dam, Tone (the winner of the first premium as a broodmare at the Horse Show of 1899), by Ferguson. This youngster is brown in color like his dam.

A Denton Moultrie colt out of Chamois by Shamrock, the first two-year-old to trot in 2:25; he was driven by the late John A. Goldsmith at the time. Denton Moultrie was bred by the late Den J. Murphy of the Moorland Stock Farm. He was sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½, out of Cerrie Malone (sister to Ches. Derby, 2:20), by Steinway, etc.

A handsome colt and a very promising one was next looked at. He was sired by Steinway, out of Wildflower, 2:21, by Ansel, 2:20; second dam Meyflower, 2:30½, one of the best of the Palo Alto famous broodmares.

A Chas. Derby colt that captivated us was seen to trot away toward a field where the fillies were grazing. His action was perfect, and if he does not make a crackerjack there's no use in breeding. He was sired by Chas. Derby, 2:20, that great sire of early and extreme speed, out of Theo, by Le Grande, who was formerly one of Wm. Corbitt's best mares, and is now owned by Mr. Brown. A Direct colt out of Reka Patchen, black as his sire and a little inclined like him, to be double-gaited, finally struck a pace that would make his owner, Chas. Hug, of San Francisco, feel happy, it followed the Derby-Theo colt, and after them was a small Diahlo colt, whose dam was Effie Logan, by Durfee. He is a pacer also. Both of these youngsters were almost dead when they arrived here, but good care, plenty of feed and shelter has carried them through, and they may become as valuable as their larger and more fortunate companions.

While expressing our delight at the size and appearance of the colts, we had a greater surprise to meet when we walked among the yearling fillies, for, without fear of contradiction, there are few stock farms in this or any other State that can show for the number a more uniform lot of well-bred ones. Of course, their speed is problematical, nevertheless, there is no reason why they should not become as great as any of their illustrious relatives. The first one noticed was a sister to the fast pacer Flare Up, 2:22, that was sold for $750 at the Fasig sale last month, and for which $1,500 has since been refused. This filly is called Searchlight. She is by Chas. Derby, 2:20, out of Flash (dam of Javelin, 2:13½; Flare Up, 2:22; Walker, 2:23½; and Bee, 2:24½), by Egmont.

Princess Derby, a sister to Derby Princess, 2:11½, the greatest money winner in the East last year, for her opportunities, came over to us. She is like her sister in color and conformation, her dam, Princess, having had only two black fillies, Neva, 2:27, being a bay. This one will earn her share of purses, and if all the stories we heard of her speed in this twenty-acre field were true, she is the greatest Chas. Derby ever foaled.

Another black filly arrested our attention, she was also by Chas. Derby, 2:20, out of Coquette, by Wilton; second dam Julia Clay by Harry Clay. She will make an excellent mate to her chum by the same sire out of Arnaire, by Director, 2:17; second dam Roman Princess, by Ethan Wilkes; third dam by Kentucky Prince, etc. When it comes to breeding, these two will be hard to beat.

A Waldstein filly, one of the best Waldsteins we have ever seen, jostled up against us. She was out of Viola, by Gen. Benton; second dam Violet, by Electioneer; third dam Victress (dam of Monarch, 2:23½), by Williamson's Belmont.

Standing apart from the little bunch were two fillies one was Directa, a bay by Direct, 2:05½, out of Ruby, by Irvington Chief; second dam Alida (dam of Directa, 2:28), by Admiral, and a brown by Gossiper, 2:14½, out of Lottie, by James Madison, 2:17½.

The broodmares in the infield were Addie W., by Whips, 2:28½, out of Addie (dam of Woodnut, 2:16½; and Manon, 2:21), by Hambletonian Chief. She has a Dexter Prince filly by her side, and there is another daughter being handled here by Det Bigelow.

Theo (dam of Majella, 2:29), by Le Grande, is a full sister to Beaumont, 2:22; Belle Grande, 2:21, and Oronoco, 2:30½. She is the dam of a likely pacer here called Sable Grande that will be a factor in the races on the California circuit this season.

Penelope, by Mohawk Chief, dam Planetia, by Plisnet, etc. She is the dam of Pedlar, 2:18½, and Peko, 2:24.

Chamois, by Shamrock, 2:25, out of Fawn, 2:30½, by Marion, in foal to Alfred.

Lottie, 2:26½, by San Diego, out of Flora B., 2:24; Nosegay, by Langton, 2:21, dam Wildbud, by Nephew; Bonnie Red, by Red Wilkes, out of Bonnie Belle, by Simmons, has a handsome colt by McKinney, 2:11½; Woodflower, by Ansel, out of Mayflower, by St. Clair; Cora Bell, by Wild Boy, out of Cora (dam of Don Marion, 2:22) by Don Victor, besides Francesca, by Almont and several other grand looking mares, the cream of the most fashionable stock farms in California were there also.

In the large box stalls Mr. Brown had Nushagek, a very promising black horse by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, out of Fidelie, by Director, 2:17. He has no record but is able to get one as soon as an opportunity presents itself.

Majella, 2:29, a daughter of Nushagak, is moving nicely and will be among the best three-year-old pacers this year.

Sable Grande is another good one. He made his debut at Sacramento two weeks ago and did very well considering the heavy track and the fact that he was only broken last March.

Loraneer, by Alfred, out of Loraneer, by Electioneer, is a grand-looking, strong-moving, pure-gaited trotter. He is a good one.

A Dexter Prince, out of Woodflower, by Electioneer will need no urging to get a low record this year.

Tyene, by Chas. Derby, out of Maggie McGregor (dam of Algregon, 2:11 and W. W. Foote, 2:13), was only sent here from Pleasanton last week. She is one of the most perfect-formed mares we have seen. She can pace, and pace fast.

Sable Frances, by Sable Wilkes, 2:18, out of Francesca, by Almont, is taking her work regularly and will pay for it.

Rupella, by Rupee, out of Freda, by Fred Arnold, will not be worked for speed. She is large and very promising.

Zanita, a four-year-old by Electricity, 2:17½, out of Wildflower, by Ansel, is bred right and moves right. She will be ready to stand any number of hard heats when the hell taps.

Bonnie Boyd, by Chas. Derby, 2:20, out of Coquette, by Wilton, is a speedy black pacer, that, like many others on this farm, was bred on the Oakwood Park Stock Farm and selected by Mr. Brown on account of their superior individuality.

Alfred, the stallion that is siring the finest-looking youngsters ever seen in Sacramento County occupies a box stall, and has been bred to a number of good mares. People who are trying to raise horses that will always find a ready market have made no mistake in patronizing him, for no coach or carriage horse sire in California is more stylish, and as for perfect trotting action and speed there are few that can compare with them.

The last but not the least of the fine lot exhibited was the bay colt Demonio, a two-year-old brother to the great Diahlo, 2:09½. He was trotting when first handled but lately has shown an inclination to pace, and at that gait will lower his brother's low mark. He is a bay in color and is pronounced "the best colt Bertha ever had."

The excellence of the feed and water all the year round, the splendid climate, perfect fences (not a bit of wire on the place), facilities for shipping horses to and from the farm without danger; the vigilance of Mr. Brown and all his employees in watching the horses every day make Walnut Grove Stock Farm an ideal place. No better proof is needed of the excellence of the pasture lands than the appearance of the horses, the size of the youngsters and their perfect health. Sickness among horses is unknown here and owners who send their stock for pasture are lavish in their praises of the place and its proprietor.

The Rancho del Paso String.

At Agricultural Park, Sacramento, last week, we called upon Vet Tryon, one of our leading horsemen who has charge of a string of trotters and pacers that came from Rancho del Paso. As many of them will appear on the California circuit this year, horsemen who have had an idea that nothing but choice thoroughbreds are bred at this famous farm will be surprised to see how good, and how strongly-bred in trotting lines they are. Great credit is due Mr. Tryon for their splendid condition, and it is beyond all question of doubt, he will have all that are old enough ready for the word when the hell rings:

Chestnut colt (2) by Knight, 2:22 (son of Woodford Wilkes), out of a mare by Algona; second dam Eudora, by Nutwood; third dam by Volunteer, etc.

A filly (2) by Knight, 2:22, out of a mare by Director, 2:17; second dam by Monroe Chief, 2:18½; third dam by Gibraltar, 2:22. This is an excellent one, black in color and a type of a good hard candidate for any number of fast heats.

A handsome two-year-old by Knight, 2:22, out of a mare by Echo; second dam Mabel (sister to Beautiful Bells) was next led out, she is a pacer and a good one. A strongly-bred trotter to be a fast pacer!

One of the speediest-looking four-year-olds at the track was next shown; she is a four-year-old filly by Knight, 2:22, out of a mare by Alaska. Another instance of the virtue of a Wilkes-Electioneer cross.

A deep, dark iron gray colt, two years old, by Advertiser, 2:15, out of a mare by St. Bel, soiled us; he is a good one, his dam is out of a thoroughbred and he ought to "go the route." Mr. Tyron is well pleased with him.

A chestnut gelding, large and rangy, by Knight, 2:22, out of an Algonia mare; second dam Eudora, by Nutwood, looks as if he will be fit to race for a man's life now. A three-year-old by Knight, bred just like this one, is extraordinarily good, and will be up in the bunch, if not leading, in every race he starts this year.

A Don Marvin colt, brother to Bonaset, is in this lot but does not belong to J. B. Haggin. He is a large, fine looking horse and will get a low mark this season.

A six-year-old by Cornelios (son of Nutwood) is a "corker" or we are much mistaken.

Hylas Boy, 2:22, was there also, and Vet says, "He'll do this year!"

There is a four-year-old filly by Knight out of that gama old pacer mare, Pocahontas, 2:22, that Mr. Tryon used to go down the line with, was led out for inspection, and from a remark we heard she will be getting a share of the purses this season unless she runs up against some record breakers.

One of the attendants was leading a colt that looked so much like the Beautiful Bells family that before knowing what he was, we claimed he must be a son of Mabel's, and the answer was, "Yes, he is a two-year-old, by Knight, 2:22, out of Mabel and the best one she ever had! Mabel died last spring while in foal to Bay Bird and this one is the last foal she had. He is marked like Beautiful Bells and has the gray hairs on the hind leg like her. He is not large but there's plenty of quality there." This last remark explained nearly everything, but Mr. Tryon failed to say, "combined with extreme speed," which he has. Caballero would be a good name for him. It is Spanish for Knight.

Racing at Sacramento.

THURSDAY, JUNE 3.

There was little, if any, diminution in to-day's attendance at the races at Agricultural Park, and the followers of the sport were by no means diffident about backing with coin their judgment as to the merits of the respective horses. The weather was a little too warm for comfort, owing to the, dry north wind that prevailed, but it agreed with the horses and good time was made. The judges were Gen. Barrett and J. W. Wilson.

The Stockton Fair.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN—Dear Sir: I noticed in the last issue of your highly-esteemed and valuable journal a notice to the effect that the race meeting to be held in Stockton this fall was not figured on as being a certainty by horsemen. I want to say that the meeting has been definitely decided upon and the programme will be out shortly after the entries are published for the Breeders' meeting. The S. J. V. A. Association will not give the meeting, but have leased the track and pavilion for this year to the Stockton Driving Club, of which Mr. George Catts is President and Mr. J. W. Willy, Secretary. The writer will have charge of the track. We have recently elected a new City Council here and we believe that they are public spirited enough to rescind the pool-selling ordinance which prevented us selling pools here last fall. The ordinance prohibiting fakirs from exhibiting on the streets we believe will also be rescinded, and all in all we expect to have an old-time crowd here. Our pavilion exhibit will be the best in years, more than one hundred of the business men of this city having signed an agreement to exhibit.

There is no use of anybody else claiming our date, as it will only cause a clash and result in both losing money.

Our track is in first-class condition and will be kept so until after September. There are quite a number of horses in training here now, and our track is open for those who wish to train or drive over it.

Yours truly,

C. E. DOAN.

THE BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN's activity and confidence in the future of the light harness horse industry and its labors in behalf of the district fairs in California are rewarded. "We shall have race meetings in California, Budd or no Budd!" was the slogan, and new energy was expended in having that proclamation fulfilled.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

TURF DEMOCRACY.—"All men are equal on the turf and under it," a phrase that was often quoted in connection with racing in the olden time. Like so many other "usages of the turf" originating in England when it was used to picture the good fellowship that prevailed among racing men, however different their social standing, prince and servant, peer and peasant, in cordial companionship when field and paddock, heath and race course, were the grounds on which they came together. In this country owners of large plantations and many slaves, man high among the big men of the country, prosperous merchants, civil and military officers, President and members of the Senate and House bred race horses, ran them and welcomed those who joined in the sport, if their worldly possessions were small, all the vouchers necessary to secure consideration that honor and straightforwardness were rigidly observed. Quoting from a ritual, which has stood the test of thousands of centuries, turfmen "met on the level," seldom, indeed, when their actions would not harmonize with the plumb, and when the races were ended "parted upon the square," however fiercely battles had been fought, neither heart burnings or rancorous feelings marring the good fellowship that prevailed.

Racing was emphatically a sport in the olden days. Quite a large proportion of the active promoters of racing, breeders of the horses they raced, though the largest of the stud farms in the first half of the nineteenth century would present a small appearance now.

It is safe to assert that there are more thoroughbred broodmares in California to-day than there were in the whole of the United States fifty years ago. Even many of those who had the greatest number were induced to keep them from sentimental reasons. Strong predilections in favor of the highest type of the race, love for the beautiful in adding the handsome forms of mares and foals to fields and lawns, as it was no unusual sight to see some favorite and her foal awarded extra privileges, fondled and patted by all. Then it was considered part of the equipment of a genteel establishment to keep race horses and race them. In the same category as picture galleries, yachts, family jewels, gorgeous dress, liveried servants and equipage, and like these and other extravagances, entailing a goodly portion of their revenues to meet the cost.

But should a person engage in racing without the means to emulate men of wealth and recognized station, certain to be given an equal show with the highest magnates of the turf.

It did not matter if the colors were not so glossy as those worn by favored jockeys, nor the blood as fashionable as that which flowed in veins and arteries of the steeds of wealthy owners, there were cheers and congratulations for the man who had a fondness for the turf when his entries were victorious.

Emphatically a sport, a cherished sentiment, honor and glory galore, when the supreme attraction of the meeting—the four-mile day—proved that the breeding was staunch, in the days when the gentlemen of the "Eastern shore," the "F. F. V.'s" of the "Old Dominion," the gallant cavaliers of "the Carolinas," the planters of Alabama, and stalwart sons of Tennessee met the turfmen of the North on the racecourse, and victory alternated. The South on top when Flirtilla, John Escombe and Peytona won in the big matches, evening up the account which Eclipse and Fashion had put in the books. But now as eminently a business; a huge adventure with many millions staked, and, as in many other departments of active life, capital has the highest kind of a "pull" when the profits are counted.

This, I am convinced, was the lesson intended to be conveyed in the editorial of last week in which "poor owners" were brought into the discussion and the advice proffered that other branches of the "horse business" be chosen.

Misconstrued when it was thought to convey a reflection on owners of limited pecuniary means when, in fact, the purpose was not to lower a class which are warm friends of the author of the article, and on his part nothing but the kindest feelings for them. It does not follow that a person, however poverty stricken, will pursue reprehensible practices in connection with racing. While sadly true that want is a stern taskmaster, and that a poor owner or trainer may be tempted, as plenty of rich ones have been, but if a balance could be struck the poor might not be far behind in point of straightness. Still the poor racing man rests under suspicions when the same circumstances would not be taken as evidence of any weight in the case of big owners. The judges, too, are apt to make them the victims of vicarious punishment. As in the old days the king, in his chrysolis state, had a companion termed the "whipping boy," the unfortunate archer having to atone for all the faults of one altogether too august to as much as feel the rod, so in order to give proof of their watchfulness wearers of the turfermine are prone to exercise unusual severity when the delinquent is a resident of "poverty row."

Therefore, the advice of our associate and his recommendation to seek other branches of the horse business, are inspired by an ardent wish to better the condition of those who are certainly far from being "comfortably fixed" under present regulations, and he should be awarded praise in place of censure.

NO BOOK-BETTING. }
THE BLOCK SYSTEM. } At the last annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association the constitution was amended so as to put a stop to book-betting on the races under the management of that society.

Now as four meetings will be held by that association, and nearly a certainty of a fifth, there will be business enough to warrant the firm which secures the contract in preparing the necessary machinery. There are few mutual machines on the Coast, and as I am firmly fixed in the belief that the "block system" is superior to the "totalizer," am quite anxious to see it given a full and fair trial. Sorely the simplest method of recording wagers that has been devised so far, and as effective as it is plain. The surest guard against fraud on the part of those who sell the tickets and keep the record. No chance to "ring up" a lot of extra coupons when it is apparent a horse is going to win, the number of tickets sold being in plain view of the assemblage.

The only description I have read of the block system was contained in a couple of paragraphs, but even fewer words than those already printed are necessary to understand the foundation, at least, of this system. Thus, letters and figures can be taken as representing the board on which they are marked arranged for a race of the same number of horses, and over the figures the names of the contestants signified on this sketch by letters from the alphabet. A pack of tickets numbered from 0 to 99 is attached to a suitable support immediately under the figure. The tickets printed and perforated, the upper portion being a transcript of the lower, numbered alike and with checks that will guard against substitution. Before the sale is opened the packs of tickets will all exhibit the cipher (0), none sold. As the selling progresses the lower part of the tickets are torn off displaying the numbers of those unsold.

A	B	C	D	E	F

For instance when the signal from the judge's stand for selling to stop is given, A, 1, may show 60. B, 2—70. C, 3—50. D, 4—90. E, 5—20, and F, 6—80—the aggregate 370, and the purchasers of each after the percentage is deducted, get from one-twentieth to one-ninetieth in the above hypothetical pool.

People view the machine with its bells, wheels, cogs, etc., with a good deal of distrust. It may be out of order and work inaccurately. The manipulator may in the hurry of business fail in his duty, and more tickets sold than is returned on the dial. Scarcely a chance for claiming that fraud can be committed with this simple device, when a very spectator will be in a position to detect any effort to swindle.

The signal to stop should be such that it will be known all over the grounds, and there will be time enough to copy the figures displayed. These can, in fact, be kept in sight until a new series of packets of tickets are put up and another sale instituted.

The outcry against mutuels, which would have the same bearing on the block system, is that the odds are not fixed until long after the wager has been laid.

Those who buy the first tickets will be in the dark until the sale is well advanced, but that drawback exists in so many kinds of speculation that it has little bearing. None at all when it is assured that the odds fixed by the public will be more liberal than bookmakers will proffer, not one case in ten when the systems are tried together when the reverse will be true. In Australia laws had to be passed against laying "tots odds," that being the hacker putting up a specified amount, the layer agreeing to pay what the totalizer did. This should be good enough surely for the pencil, as the buyer of the tota ticket would be mulcted ten per centum, the law fixing that. The "glorious uncertainty" of the turf has awakened chapters of anconiums over that very feature.

Then in place of taking known short odds, to have a chance for something much better, is, without any question, a superior gratification of the groundwork of the calculation is the phrase quoted.

In order to secure a test of the block system before putting it in actual practice, the Breeders might give it a preliminary trial, small expense attending the venture and with more than good prospects of a satisfactory return.

BEFORE THE STATE FAIR.—The meetings from the State Fair on will require little more than advertising to secure success. Those which will precede the big exposition can be made pleasant and fairly profitable by united action on the part of the people who are the most interested. And there are a great many who should do all in their power to aid the earlier meetings.

It will not be good policy to regard them as minor affairs which can be passed without detriment, as there are features connected with these earlier gatherings of decided importance.

In the first place there will be an opportunity to earn some money without the competition of the horses which have gone to Montana. Then it is well known that actual racing can only be depended upon to perfect condition and accustom horses to the excitement of the track. Worth a good deal to the horses which will meet the returning crusaders, and in lieu of being at a disadvantage, in all probability he in better shape than those which have a long railway journey to make as well as a change of climate. And then, again, should the pre-circuit be satisfactory, if at Oakland, Chico, Willows, Marysville and Woodland there are numbers of horses and good racing, there will be a strong inducement to give a better bill next year and the opening he in June in place of late in July. Then the summer meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. A. will commence on July 24th and end on July 31st, Santa Rosa, August 2d, Marysville, August 9th, Chico, August 16th, Willows, August 23d, Woodland, August 30th, the following week the State Fair.

As has been oftentimes stated, the "opening meeting" at Oakland will be distinguished by a departure from the usual routine of harness-racing meetings. In addition to the regular programme of the day novel features introduced, but until these are decided upon, which will be in time for the next issue of this paper, prognostics are liable to be over-tuned.

There is a first-rate committee on this section of the programme, and if owners will do their share and make entries there are the strongest assurances that the summer meeting will be more than successful.

From the "general talk" at the late session of the Board of Directors of the P. C. T. H. B. A. due provision will be made for the "home horses" in the districts where the meetings will be held and places left for the races which give promise of being the most acceptable to the residents.

Thus the plan may be to "open" two class races for each afternoon and fill up with "specials" that will meet the requirements. Home horses are sure to awaken a great deal of interest in the inhabitants of country districts and the towns and villages where rival horses are owned, and the odds are very long that however high the enthusiasm when celebrities from a distance struggle for mastery, still more intense when neighbors' horses come together.

If even the programmes cannot be got in readiness for publication this week there is one thing settled, that being the certainty of fulfillment. Whatever the misgivings heretofore, the entries for the September meeting have demonstrated that there are plenty of horses on the Coast, besides those which are engaged in other parts of the country, to fill all the classes that are necessary to insure good meetings at all the points named.

In the list of entries, published in this number, fully three-quarters are now here, and it will be strange, indeed, should it be proved that only those which are named in the September classes will take part in the early circuit. When the programme is published there will be a better opportunity for comments, though there is little question that the bill will meet the approval of a large majority of owners and trainers.

THE ENTRIES.—"Refine pure gold, paint the lily!" Were that the command a person who endeavored to comply with the order would feel like his time was wasted. While it might be the reverse, in the case of the entries for the September meeting chapters could be written in reference to the horses named, none so obtuse—at least those at all familiar with track affairs, who need any posting in regard to the prospects. An array of talent never before assembled on this coast; a congregation of distinguished names and with breeding that cannot be surpassed in any country.

But the named animals only tell a part of the story. Subscribers to the "Nomination Purse"—and it must be borne in mind that these are the fast classes—ranging from 220 down—are as plentiful as huckleberries on Berwick Mountain in the late summer time. Nineteen who sign the contract to have in readiness a horse eligible on the 1st of September to the 220 class, or pay the forfeit, and even in such fast classes as 2:17 and 2:13, seventeen and eleven who are willing to accept the terms.

The pacers, too, make a gallant showing, and should there be a skeptic who doubts the future of this fastest section of harness-racers, he must be of the stamp who will not be convinced.

Owners have certainly exhibited landable spirit, and full determination to overcome as far as was within their power the obstacles presented, and if the breeders and agriculturists of the State had also endeavored to secure fairs, by taking the burden on their own shoulders, the result might have been flattering.

Still that would have been a far harder task, nearly impossible to keep up the former high standard when district fairs were State institutions.

"HIDALGO" ON THE FOUR MILES. In a very pleasant retrospect of the old-time thoroughbreds which figured in the early years of gold mining in California, Hidalgo rather heliotes the great race of four miles made by Lucretia Borgia.

He states, that in his opinion, several named horses with thirty-four pounds off English or Australian weights could run four miles in seven minutes, but from the data of past performances his estimate is not warranted. Hidalgo does Boston "the greatest four-mile horse the world ever saw," and through no possible reasoning can it be shown that Boston could have run within ten seconds of 7:00, whatever the weight carried. Whenever a heat was run inside of 7:40 in a race that Boston took part in he lost it, and crediting him with the time made by Fashion when she beat him in the great match, 7:32½, that would be 1053½ feet in the rear of 7:11.

American races are better for comparison than those of England or Australia. Lucretia had thirty pounds off the C. J. C. scale. The best son of Boston, Lexington, had twenty-five pounds off and ran in 7:19½, and the second best, Leconte, with the "light Southern weights," ran in 7:26.

A marvelous piece of long-distance racing machinery that which covers four miles in 7:11, and even if Hidalgo is not "unraptured" by the performance others will be "enthused," and even the most hypercritical award great praise to the "little mar."

JOE CAIRN SIMPSON.

Montana Notes.

The letting, like last year, will be handled by the association, and additional boxes and pay windows will be put in to accommodate the anxious public.

All the stables at the track, with the exception of those recently built, have received a coat of whitewash, inside and out. Lime adds to the appearance of the stables and at the same time acts as a disinfectant.

Manager Tipton is fast getting in shape for the races to begin. A day or two ago fifteen boxes of mutual tickets, two of auction tickets and two of hedges were received and are now stacked in the office of the association.

New horses are arriving daily. B. O. Van Bokkelen of Gilroy, Cal., arrived with a string of horses, mostly young ones. In his stable are a blk m May Be, by Altona dam Bina Ball, by Wapsia; br g Sam D. (3), by Salina Wilkes, dam Madeline, by Arthurton; h m Letter B., by Ward B., dam Brown Irish, by Judge McKinsty.

Scott Holbrook, in charge of a string belonging to Harry Wise, is here. Among other horses he brings h m Madeira, by Dexter Prince, dam Nigger Girl, by Peerless; h m Lena N., 2:13½, pacer, by Sidney, dam Helen Benton, by General Benton; blk g Patey, by Director, dam Kathrine, by Steinway and Vasto, 2:16½.

A number of well-known horsemen are now on their way to Anaconda. B. C. Holly will leave California with twelve runners. Frank Farrar, of San Francisco, has wired for eleven stalls to be reserved for him, and John E. Sawyer, of Portland, for six. C. D. Jeffries arrived from Missoula, with Antrim, Dr. Puff, Strawther and Quersit.

Pete Williams is at Ogden resting his horses for a few days before bringing them on. He has Monterey, who so unexpectedly worked his way to the front here last year, making a mark of 2:13, besides a half dozen others.

Andy McDowell is here. He has Gilpatrick, 2:19½; Wayland W., 2:12; Cayle Carne, 2:16½; Nettie Ham; Christabel and Capt. Hackett in charge. T. Keating has six horses, including Stam B., 2:11½; Strathmont, 2:14; Humboldt Maid, 2:17; Searchlight (a green pacer) and a colt by Knight, unnamed, he purchased from John Mackey, Rancho del

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

A RACE meeting will be held at Rocklin, July 4th.

The mare Lady Waldstein has been a mile in 2:14 at Denver.

KENTUCKY UNION, 2:07½, will be raced in the Montana Circuit.

CHICO comes to the front this year. What a meeting they will have there!

P. W. BELLINGALL, of this city, has a very fast pacer by Frazier's Secretary out of the dam of Nellie R., 2:17½.

If you want to reach the horsemen advertise in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. It is read by all of them.

THE thanks of the P. C. T. H. B. Association are tendered the horsemen for their liberal entries to their fall meeting.

THERE were 148 entries to the Breeders' Futurity Stake! Who says the trotting horse industry in California is dead?

CAN anyone tell us about a horse called Sunrise, by Abbottsford, 2:19½. Who bred him, and what was his dam?

LOTTIE, the game daughter of San Diego that got a record of 2:26, has a handsome filly at her side by Chas. Derby, 2:20.

HAZEL MCKINNEY, by McKinney, 2:11½, won at Denver on Tuesday in 2:21½, 2:19 and 2:20. Pretty good for a debutante.

JAY EFF BEE, the great yearling that got a mark of 2:26, has been gelded. He was by Chas. Derby, 2:20, out of Bertha by Alcantara.

KLAMATH, 2:07½, will be driven by Dick Tilden in his campaign East this season, an arrangement made after Tilden sold McVera.

JOE THAYER's young horse Norvin G., which trotted to a record of 2:20½, is now pacing, and at that gait has been a mile in 2:18½.

IN looking through the entry lists of the principal meetings to be held in the East this year, California-bred horses are looming up strongly.

A MARE called Blue Bird won a heat in 2:24½ at Rocklin, May 2d. We would be pleased to have her pedigree forwarded to this office.

THERE has not been such a long list of entries sent to the P. C. T. H. B. Association since 1893, and the horses are a far superior lot, too.

WE wish to direct the attention of our readers to the list of entries to the fall meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association. Isn't it a good one?

WALDSTEIN, 2:22, has almost finished a very successful season in the stud at Sacramento. Waldstein will be as great a sire as he was a race horse.

HARRY AGNEW returned from Honolulu, Wednesday morning. He reports the horse market dull and money very scarce in the evergreen islands.

MOSUL, by Sultan, is a newcomer to the list. He got a mark of 2:24½, and won the first race he started in on May 26th. This was at Baltimore.

THE dam of the champion two-year-old pacer, Directly, 2:07½, foaled on May 21st, a chestnut filly by Diablo, 2:09½, and has been bred to Altamont.

AZMON, by Azmoor, won the May purse at Paris May 12th, defeating Maod Wright, Robbie P., Bellwood, Lorena, Honeywood, Glorian and Marinot.

L. C. RUBLE, the leading horseman of Rio Vista, has bred the fast pacing mare Phecol, 2:11½, to Chas. Derby, 2:20, this year. The produce ought to be very valuable.

WE will deem it a favor if all who are interested in horses would send us in items. Everyone is becoming more and more interested in the doings of the trotters and pacers.

THE horses at Palo Alto are doing very well. J. Phippin and R. Havey are using good judgment and great care in having them in condition for the race meetings this year.

THE first three-year-old to enter the 2:30 list in the United States was D. E. Knight's handsome colt Lynall, who got a record of 2:29½ at the Colusa meeting. He was driven by W. Hogueboom.

A. B. SPRECKELS has sent a string of trotters by Dexter Prince, Eros, and Capido to the Salinas race track where they will be prepared for the race by Mr. T. V. O'Brien of the Aptos Stock Farm.

THE man who purchased Ed Lafferty, 2:16½ (brother to Diablo, 2:09½), for $475 at the Fasig sale, in Cleveland, last month, refused $1,200 for him next morning. He ought to be worth that as a sire.

KLATAWAH, brother to Chas. Derby, 2:20, Sunlight, 2:25, Steioer, 2:29½, and H. R. Covey, 2:25, is said to be the most promising representative of this great family foaled at the Oakwood Park Stock Farm.

MARYVILLE will drop in line now with its meeting. There will be plenty of horses to go there and as the programme will contain many events for local horses an enthusiastic time can be relied upon.

MESSRS. SULLIVAN & DOYLE, the well-known auctioneers, conducted a very successful sale of the livery stable and stock in this city belonging to F. P. Chapman, on Monday last. The prices realized were very fair.

WE understand that the body of G. Valensin is buried in the potter's field, Cleveland. We can hardly believe this is for everyone who knew the genial little horseman who is pained to hear of such a disposal of his remains, and some of us must have attended to his burial in a better place.

GEO. F. MORRIS, the famous artist, visited the Oakwood Park Stock Farm last Friday, and made a number of life-like pictures of the leading broodmares there. Mr. Morris will leave for Chicago in a few days.

THE bay gelding Candy Joe, who took a trotting record of 2:25 at Colusa, Cal., the first week in May, is by Berlin, son of Reavis' Blackbird, 2:22, out of a mare by the famous thoroughbred race horse and sire, Norfolk, by Lexington.

THE horsemen of Marysville should feel encouraged to see what a splendid showing has been made by the owners of trotters and pacers for the Breeders' meeting. Let them announce a meeting and a big list of entries will be sent in.

CRESCENT, by Stamboul, out of Trosseau by Nutwood, won the 2:50 trot at Parkway, L. I., on Tuesday, earning a record of 2:29½. He is owned by J. H. Outhwaite, of Cleveland, and is a half-brother to La Honda, by George Saunders' stable.

GEO. L. JENKINS, of Marysville, purchased a very fine horse from L. Todhunter, of Sacramento, last week. He is a five-year-old and was sired by Sterling, out of Huntress, 2:21. It is Mr. Jenkins' intention to have this horse's speed developed.

BICARA, the great broodmare, dam of Pancoast and a number of others, died at Woodburn Farm on the 26th, immediately after having given birth to a foal which survived her. She was foaled in 1871, and was by Harold, dam Belle (dam of Belmont), by Mambrino Chief.

ISAAC, the pacer by Clay (2:25), that was so fast as a yearling, and that took a pacing record of 2:23, has been put to trotting by W. R. Brasfield, who is driving him. He goes without toe weights or hoppers, and Mr. Brasfield thinks he can trot a quarter in 35 or 36 seconds.

THE races at Anaconda commence June 26th, and all the horsemen who have their horses there are writing glowing reports to their friends of the splendid reception they had, and how well Mr. Tipton is looking out for their interests. Would that we had many more men of Ed A. Tipton's class.

TO F. W. LOEBER, of Vineland Stock Farm, should credit be given for his strong stand and earnest advocacy of the subject of Futurity Stakes, which were adopted by the P. C. T. H. B. Association, and through him mainly was this splendid event brought to the notice of the horsemen of this State.

EIGHTEEN applications for membership to the P. C. T. H. B. Association have been received this week. Horse breeders and owners are awakening to the fact that unless a well-bred horse is developed he is not much better than an ordinary farm horse, and this association is looking out for their interests.

OUR readers will excuse us this week for the non-appearance of a number of articles, as they were crowded out to make room for the magnificent entry lists, which appear this week. We have not published any items in three years that will be more welcome to thousands of horsemen on the Pacific Coast than this entry list.

WILLIAM BELOND, the owner of several fast horses, including the pacer Royal Jib, left recently for Colorado Springs, accompanied by Walter Ayers. Belond's horses are now at that place and will start in such races as Belond may nominate. It is Belond's intention to follow the circuit, finally ending the season with the meets at Anaconda and Butte.

H. S. HOGBOOM, of Sacramento, has a sister to Arthur Wilkes, 2:28, that some day be classed among the famous broodmares. She dropped a filly sired by Waldstein, 2:22, the other day that is perfect as a picture. In her, we have Director, Electioneer, Guy Wilkes and Arthurton blood, a pretty good combination to have even in these hard times.

BOYDELLO, by Boydell, out of Florence C., by Durango Chief, driven by Hodges and owned by C. A. Winship, won a hard race at Denver in the 2:40 class in 2:23½, 2:22, 2:23½ and 2:23½. Boydell, his sire, was bred at Palo Alto and was sired by Electioneer, out of Sontag Dixie (dam of Del Mar, 2:20, Sonnet, 2:24½, Commotion, 2:30, etc.), by Toronto Sontag.

THERE is talk of a race meeting being held at Sacramento during Fourth of July week. If so, the horses will proceed to Nevada City the following week to take part in the meeting at Glenbrook Park there. Secretary Giffin and the Board of Directors of this park association are working hard to have a splendid meeting, and it is a foregone conclusion they will succeed.

WE have received a copy of the Empire City Stock Farm Catalogue for 1897. Within its covers are to be found the names and pedigrees of some of the finest bred trotters in the United States. Hummer fillet by Electioneer, Orangelander, 2:16½, Stately, 2:11½ and Spalpeen, 2:17½, both by Hummer, Gunner by Artillery, and several other highly bred stallions are at the head of the stud.

THE subject of giving two good races each afternoon at the summer meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association and having special events to complete each afternoon's programme is meeting with favor. Messrs. John T. Boyd, J. Kirkpatrick, A. H. Cohen and W. G. Layng will take hold of this subject with a will and do their best to devise a programme that will prove a popular drawing card.

THE Parkway Driving Club had a most successful opening on Saturday, May 15th. The regular events on the card were a members' race for the 2:27 class, trot or pace, and a 2:25 class for professionals. The former was won by the black mare Hortense in straight heats. In the 2:25 class the chestnut gelding Harrison T. defeated the pacer Abram S. and the California colt Hunyadi in 2:28½, 2:28½, 2:28.

W. O. BOWERS, of Sacramento, has a number of very fine roadsters which he drives in and around Sacramento; one in particular attracted our attention. She is a sister to Mary Lou, 2:17, and for conformation, style, size, gait and disposition, is one of the most perfect animals we have seen. If exhibited at the recent Horse Show she would have taken the first premium. Tom Benton, her sire, is known among horse lovers to be one of the best horses ever brought into Sacramento County.

THE Illinois racing bill received what seems to be a death blow on Wednesday of last week. The bill was brought up before the Senate for final action, and, contrary to previous indications, was summarily slaughtered, only eight votes being cast in its favor. At this distance it appears that the only trouble with the bill was that its "slush fund" was too small, as it is notorious that the present Legislature in that State has devoted its energies in the interests of trusts, combines and "jobs," and not in the interest of the people.

TO CURE harsh wire cuts or any other old sores on horses, procure at any drug store one-half pint spirits of alcohol, one-half pint spirits of turpentine and one ounce pure glycerine; mix all together. Before using shake bottle well, and apply on sore by feather or small brush twice a day, night and morning. Also wash the sore clean every morning with castile soap and soft water before applying medicine. We have known this remedy to cure half a score of cases of long standing, some more than a year, after all other remedies have failed.

LAST Friday, Kelly Briggs, of Winters, Yolo Co., received a letter from the manager of the Pleasanton stock farm which contained a check for a good round sum, the price agreed upon for the purchase of the well-known trotting horse "Billy Button." The horse was taken on trial and the parties were so well satisfied with him that they concluded to purchase him. Billy Button will be sent East to race on the Montana and Eastern circuit. He is a horse of great promise and may bring his new owners many dollars in purse moneys during the coming season.

F. P. KENNEY, Assistant Secretary of the Anaconda and West Side Associations said to a correspondent: Enough entries have been received to fill all races. In regard to improvements at Anaconda, a three-quarter mile track has been built for runners, and at Butte, a seven-eighths mile track, over which short running races will be run. Over one hundred thousand dollars for improvements have been expended in addition to the $150,000 heretofore spent on the tracks. Mr. Ferguson will act as starter and Maj. P. P. Thompson will preside over the harness races. Betting to be under the entire control of Ed. A. Tipton.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER HARRY HELMS, of Glendive, is working Lady A., 2:24½, by Arthur Wilkes, and three yearlings by Shadeland Onward, two of whom are entered in the Kentucky Futurity of 1898. Trainer Koch, who is handling them, is very much pleased over the way they are going. The youngest one is only eleven months old and jogs along with the older ones like an old timer. Joel Gleason is handling Roselle, 2:18½, a two-year-old by Rimac and Modesty and Motred. Next year Mr. Helms will have a much larger stable out. He is very enthusiastic over the way Mr. Tipton is managing racing in Montana and predicts a brilliant future for racing in the West under such able management.—Anaconda Standard.

DON'T be discouraged and vote it a failure if a foal is small, homely and crooked when first dropped. Remember that many of the famous sires were such, including Andrew Jackson, Vermont Black Hawk and Santa Clara, 2:17½. The latter was so small, crooked-legged and inferior-looking that the owner of his sire, Strathmore, tried to induce the owner of the foal to kill him, for fear that his unpromising appearance would injure the patronage of his horse. The owner of the colt declined, however, and when Santa Clara took a record of 2:17½ the owner of Strathmore was probably glad that he did. Large, straight, handsome foals are much more pleasing to the eye than the smaller ones, but if the latter have the right sort of an inheritance, and are properly cared for, they may prove the more valuable of the two at maturity.

A FEW years often bring about a great change in public opinion in regard to the merits of some particular trotting sire. Not more than six or eight years ago at longest some turf writers did not hesitate to assert that the Electioneers were not breeding on, and that his sons were rank failures as sires of trotters. When the writers who put themselves on record in that fashion now look over the rapidly-increasing list of Electioneer's successful sons, and note the high rate of speed which their offspring has shown, as attested by the records, their confidence in their ability to prophesy correctly is liable to be somewhat shaken. Sixty-six of Electioneer's sons and twenty-three of his grandsons have already sired standard speed. Eleven of his sons have each sired from fifteen to forty-eight in the 2:30 list. Several of his sons have sired extreme as well as early speed.

THIS is what Gil Curry has to say about European racing: "You people over here kick about the treatment you get from the judges' stand. You don't know when you've got a good thing. I saw the judges fine a driver $10 because he hadn't a clean-shaved face. And they wouldn't let him drive that race, either. He had to get some one else to drive it, and so get shaved. If you smoke a cigar, and go to the post with a big cud of tobacco in your mouth, you are liable to be ruled off for a considerable time, or fined very heavily. No man can drive in a race over there without clean eik jacket, cap and tights, jockey hoots neatly polished, clean standing collar, cuffs, kid gloves, and a clean shave. And you never saw anything look nicer than a lot of well-groomed horses, bright sulkies, and drivers dressed like that, engaged in a race. It would be a great thing for the business over here, and I wish the big associations would do it."

THE American Horse Breeder published in Boston, Mass., prints an extended interview with James Dustin in which the following appears and may prove valuable to horse-owners and trainers: "Last season Mr. Dustin campaigned some of the Palo Alto string and in his hands Helena, by Electioneer, reduced her record from 2:29½, which she made as a two-year-old in 1891, to 2:12½. Helena had been used as a brood mare after taking her record as a two-year-old until Mr. Dustin put her in training. She had some pretty bad curbs, but frequent applications of gum camphor dissolved in alcohol kept her going very nearly sound. Mr. D. thinks this the best remedy for curbs that he ever tried. He puts about fifteen cents worth of gum camphor in a large glass bottle with a wide mouth, adds a quart of alcohol, corks it tightly, shakes it occasionally, and lets it remain until the camphor is dissolved; then keeps a small bottle of it near the stall, and applies three times a day, rubbing in well with the hand or an ordinary scrubbing brush."

THE SADDLE.

THE excellent performer, Tolare, is reported to have gone wrong.

T. BURNS rode three winners at Latonia last Tuesday, Nitt two.

SLAUGHTER rode three and little J. Woods one winner at St. Louis last Tuesday.

SACRAMENTO is to have four or five days' racing during the Fourth of July week.

MISS ROSS won a seven-furlong race for Tommy Griffin last Saturday at Latonia.

CHARLEMAGNE ran second to Cherry Leaf at Denver last Monday in a six-furlong race.

THE crack Ben Ali colt, Geyser, won a six-furlong race in 1:14½ at Latonia last Tuesday. He belongs to Ed Corrigan.

JOE WEBER rode two winners at Sacramento last Saturday—San Carlos and Cogent. The latter ran seven furlongs in 1:28.

GREEN MORRIS' good Lo Bengula won a mile and a furlong race at Highland Park, Detroit, last Tuesday, the opening day.

DR. STIMPSON, the clever Oakland veterinarian, went up to Sacramento late last week and fired Boreas and the good filly, Etta H.

THE Rancho del Pas, yearlings left Ben Ali for New York last Sunday evening. They are said to be an exceptionally fine lot.

FLORANNA, the California mare that best Preston and other good ones at Ingalls Park June 1st, was at 100 to 1 in the betting.

THE lightweight jockey, Holmes, was not injured as badly at Sacramento as at first supposed, his leg being rather badly sprained, that was all.

CARRIE U. was badly cut down at Sacramento and it is extremely doubtful if she will be able to race until next winter, if indeed by that time.

GREAT BEND, a winner at Gravesend recently, is a full brother to Potomac and Chesapeake, being by imp. St. Blaise out of the great mare, Surquebanna.

EODIE JONES rode Our Bishop in a winner at St. Louis June 4th. Garner rode two winners that day, Tuberville, Slaughter and T. Murphy one apiece.

JOHNNY WOODS rode Remember Me in a winner at St. Louis last Saturday and Patsy Freeman piloted Empress Josephine, victorious at odds of 4 to 1.

BILLY SHORT will remain at Sacramento all summer with Midas, Road Warner, Sport McAllister and Robin Hood II. He also has Bert Edsall's Decision in charge.

SERVICE, owned for a long time by Barney Schrsiher, won a six-furlong race at St. Louis last Monday with Johnny Weber in the saddle. The old horse carried 125 pounds.

A CARLOAD of horses left Sacramento Tuesday night for Anaconda. In the consignment were Quicksilver, Cogent, Nic Nac, Walter J., Irma, Ezekiel, Sooladain and Red Bird.

TOM KILEY left for Chicago last Sunday. He shipped Salabar, Towanda, George F. Smith and two others from Sacramento. Galen Brown's Libertine went on the same car.

A BOY named Nutt has been riding with great success at Latonia. On the 4th inst. he rode three winners and two seconds. All were at good prices, ranging from 4 to 1 to 10 to 1.

In order to guard against accident, the famous mare La Flecha, whose life was recently insured for £10,000, is kept in a walled paddock at Sledmere, the stud of Sir Tatton Sykes.

On the 22d of June the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club directors takes place. At this time the reports of officials will be read and officers for the ensuing year elected.

LEE SHANER purchased the fast colt Barney Schreiber of W. M. Murry and took him along to Montana last week. Charley Murray is with Shaner now, and went to Anaconda with the Shaner horses.

BYRON MCCLELLAND, the famous turfman that has owned and trained such celebrities as Henry of Navarre, Badge, Sallie McClelland and Prince Lief had a stroke of paralysis and is not expected to live.

AMONG the winners at St. Louis last Tuesday were Sugar Foot, The Dragon and Cappy, well known to our race-goers. Mandolina (by El Rio Rey) won at Ingalls Park, also old Redskin (later six furlongs in 1:13½).

MARTIN HUGHES ("Hughesey") one of the big bookmakers at the tracks in this vicinity last winter and spring, is to make a hook on Eastern races at Sausalito. He will "take the money" until the cows come home.

SIR PLAY won a light-weight handicap at Gravesend on the 8th inst., distance six furlongs. On the same date Miss Rowena ran unplaced in the Clover Stakes and Paul Kauvar, ridden by Thorpe, won the Fleckness Stakes.

COUSIN KATE, dam of the good winners, Damocles and J. H. Fenton, also of Harry Weaver and Harry Lewis, died recently at the Goodwood Farm of Joseph D. Lucas, near St. Louis. She was by Uncle Vic, dam Kate Leonard, by Epsilon.

BOB CAIRNS and CHARLEY MACKLIN did some excellent riding at the Sacramento meeting which came to and end last Saturday. Cairns will be remembered as the crack hurdle rider that was so severely injured in Montana last season. The accident had the effect of so reducing Cairns in weight that he can ride at about 110 pounds now. His success will be pleasing to his host of friends. Macklin came out here with Galen Brown, but got somewhat out of practice last spring, for some reason not getting many mounts.

COL. SANDERS D. BRUCE, compiler of the American Stud Book and for years editor of the Turf, Field and Farm, was recently stricken with paralysis, verbal and facial, but a dispatch from Lexington, Ky., says his condition is somewhat improved.

A DISPATCH from New York of last Wednesday night says: "P. J. Dwyer to-day settled his differences with David Gideon with a written letter of apology for remarks made some time ago against Mr. Gideon, which resulted in a suit for damages for $50,000."

OLD YEMEN won a six-furlong race over a sloppy track at Gravesend last Saturday, defeating a good field. The Carlton Stake, one mile, was won by Don de Oro, with Henry Stull's Braw Lad in the place. Howard Mann won the Parkway Handicap with 118 pounds up, Tod Sloan in the saddle.

SUPERINTENDENT JOHN MACKAY, of Rancho del Paso, recently made an offer in behalf of J. B. Haggin for the fast mare, Decision, who is by imp. Wagner (son of imp. Prince Charlie) out of Fleta, by imp. Hurrah; second dam Minnie Boston, by imp. Bonnie Scotland; third dam Kate Boston, by Lexington.

At the fourth day's racing of the Epsom (Eng.) summer meeting (June 4th) Tom Jennings' chestnut filly Limason won the Oaks stakes. Lord Rosebery's Cheladry was second and Lord Ellesmere's Fertile third. The Oaks stakes is of 4500 sovereigns for three-year-old fillies, distance about one and a half.

THE once grand performer, Ducat, is being gilliped at Sacramento, and though he has a very suspicious-looking right hind leg, his owner, Luke Flowers, thinks he will stand up. If he does he is likely to beat almost anybody's horse. Ducat, who is a brother to The Bachelor, ran six furlongs in 1:13 flat at Bay District track in 1895, carrying 105 pounds.

In connection with the curiosities of horse breeding, it is a remarkable fact that St. Simon, true to the traditions of Voltigeur and Vedette, has never sired a chestnut and, it is thought, never will. Galopin, the sire of St. Simon, never sired a chestnut until recently, and this change of color in his offspring is thought by experts to be a sign of imbecility. —Sydney Mail.

WHAT a gold mine St. Simon has proved may be gathered from the fact that the fees paid for his services have brought in the highly respectable sum of $80,000 to the Duke of Portland during the last two seasons. Next year the horse's fee is to be raised to 500 guineas, so that if he has a subscription of 40 mares there will be a clear profit of upwards of $100,000 for his owner.

A. P. MILLER, one of California's oldest owners and trainers, died at Stockton on the 1st of June. He had owned and trained some good ones in his day, the best in later years being May Day and his brother, Favoxy. Years ago he conditioned Black Willow. Mr. Miller had been paralyzed from the hips down for seventeen years, but was patient and manly and had a host of friends.

UNDER the new rules of The Jockey Club jockeys need no longer incur bad debts from owners for whom they have ridden. Every racing association is now compelled to collect the regulation fee for mounts. Mr. H. G. Crickmore went down to the Brooklyn track yesterday and paid off every rider who had had mounts during the Morris Park meeting. The amount paid out was $4315. The money was paid to the individuals themselves. Middlemen or agents were not recognized. This is as it should be. —N. Y. Com. Advertiser.

PAUL GRIGGS won the Detroit Derby at the new Highland Park track last Tuesday. The track was very muddy and but few started. Griggs led nearly every jump of the way. The winner is a gray colt by imp. Order (now at Rancho del Paso), from Lucy Lisle, by Virgil; second dam Ella Jackson, by the gray horse Lightning, Cogmoosey ran second and Goose Liver third. P. Dunne threw his jockey, Beauchamp, after going six furlongs. Paul Griggs, who is owned by B. J. Johnson, was the favorite in the betting, P. Dunne second choice.

UP to June 1st, the dead Morello and imp. Deceiver stood even up in front in regard to the number of two-year-old winners sired, each having eight to their credit. Those by Morello were Recreation, Richard J., Morelito, Morana, Morea, Cherry Bounce, Sadie Schwarz and Elsmore. Imp. Deceiver's winners were Arcturos, Dousterswivel, Dr. Blakely, Grpeiver, Purity, The Cheat, Anger and Denial. Hindoo, Strathmore and Bramble had sired seven two-year-old winners apiece, Himyar and Hanover following with six.

THE San Clemente race track proposition seems to us at a standstill, though considerable activity was noted last week. We have reason to believe, however, that the scheme will be proceeded with, as J. J. Crooks, owner of a tract of land there upon which there is already a half-mile course, is considerably interested in the proposed plans. A prominent politician of Marin county thinks well of the proposition, and it would not surprise us to hear that he would be at the head of the San Clemente organization. Boats could land close to the course and speculators could play the California horses to their heart's content, and perhaps the Eastern flyers as well, all for a small admission fee.

CAPT. THOMAS B. MERRY ("Hidalgo"), one of the closest students of breeding in the world, being well posted on the blood lines of American, English and Australian horses, writes us of Howard Mann, winner of the Brooklyn and Parkway Handicaps this season: "For a horse that contains neither Stockwell, Rataplan or King Tom blood, he is the best bred horse I have ever cut up in my life, and I have over 1,400 tabulations in this very room. He has four crosses of Touchstone, two of old Melbourne, two of Gladiator, five of Catton, ten of Orville, six of Emilius, four of Muley and fourteen of Benningbrough. But the strangest thing is that he has six winners of the Oaks and a full sister to another one. I know of no other horse on earth that is bred in the same way, although I found four to-day that had five and several dozen that had four. [The Oaks winners are Eleanor, Shoveler, Cohew, Miss Letty, Crncifix and Mendicant, while Diversion is a sister to Deception, the winner of 1899.] * Howard Mann has five crosses of Catton, and I have no other horse that has four. * There is no other such horse in America to cross on mares descended from Stockwell and King Tom."

OLD YEMEN ran second to Elton Jacket at Gravesend recently, distance five furlongs. Babe Murphy won a mile race at Ingalls Park, Joliet, Ill., track muddy. Floreanna ran second to Dr. Sheppard at five and one-half furlongs at Latonia. Griffith's Marbha II was second in the Clipsetta stakes to Affamada. Sea Robber beat Montgomery a nose at St. Louis, six furlongs in the mud. Russell ran second to Dan Fuger at a mile and seventy yards.

THE greatest horses of recent times (writes the Special Commissioner of the London Sportsman) have all, with the exception of Isinglass, been the foals of mares who could race. Persimmon's dam, Perdita II., was quite a good mare on the turf, and Isabel (dam of St. Frusquin) was by far the best animal ever sired by Phleban. The dam of Ladass was very speedy on the turf, and Ormonde's dam, Lily Agnes, was a really first-rate mare over a distance of ground. St. Angela, the dam of St. Simon, did not train on after the early part of her three-year-old career, but she was a good two-year-old, winning a Maiden Plate at the Newmarket Second October Meeting from eleven runners, and a Handicap Plate at the Houghton Meeting from fifteen runners, which included Speculum and Tibbtorpe—for this race she was, however, disqualified. Her only defeats were in first-class company, as for instance, when she was behind Green Sleeve, Rosicrucian, Lady Coventry and Lady Elizabeth for the Middle Park Plate.

EVERY now and then racetrack officials are seized with a fit of reform, and the very first persons to be reformed are the members of the bureau of information, commonly called touts. Just why the officials always pick on this class to reform is a mystery, for the only thing a tout is guilty of is making some one bet. And if there is no betting what would become of the racetracks? It is the same old story—if there was no crime there would be no work for policemen and detectives. But all touts are not alike. A legitimate tout should be tolerated on a racetrack just the same as bookmakers or any one making his living on the turf. A legitimate tout is entitled to pay for his labors. As a rule he is a fellow who has come up the line. He has seen every horse run, and knows just what the horse can do. He knows whether the hangtail likes a distance or is a sprinter. He knows if he can run in the mud or must have a dry track to win. He is well posted on the weight-carrying powers of all the starters, and this, with the information that he gathers about the track when the public is at home, gives him a line on the horses which is valuable. This information costs him time and experience, and if anyone thinks well enough to bet on, then why should not Mr. Tout be paid if his judgment is correct? But the tout should not be placed in the same class with those who are around race tracks telling first past the post tales. They are neither competent to judge a horse nor anything about race. They simply gain one's confidence with a plausible story, taking a chance that their guess will win. The legitimate tout is a necessary evil, and race track officials could do better in commencing to reform others than the legitimate tout. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

UPON the subject of the racing situation in the West, Byron McClelland, whom all turfmen know as the original owner and trainer of Henry of Navarre and many other of our best thoroughbreds, made some pertinent comments to a New York Spirit representative not long ago. He said: "There is a plethora of racing in Kentucky and the vicinity of Cincinnati, and public sentiment, I think, is being gradually aroused against it. The best of our breeders, who, though they now realize the danger of the situation to the breeding interests, do not seem to appreciate the fact that they are in a large measure responsible for its existence, as the great majority of them have not only ceased to raise any of their horses themselves, but have retired from the turf associations with which they were formerly connected. Lexington, of course, is the exception which proves the rule, but before it is too late the breeders of the West should come to the front and race as well as breed, and, moreover, once more take an active interest in upholding all that is for the best interests of the turf and discouraging in every way the excessive racing that has been in progress this season." In this connection, and a cheering omen it is, too, Mr. A. S. Labold, President of the American Turf Congress, expressed himself very freely as to the necessity of some action to restrict the long drawn out and competing meetings, and stated as President of the Turf Congress he would be glad to co-operate with the Jockey Club Stewards in the East, or in any other way take a stand in the interests of the permanent welfare of the sport. Mr. Labold is of the opinion that something must be done else the turf fabrics of the West will go under, as the community will not stand continuous racing in any part of the country.

THE Pacific Coast Jockey Club contemplates the inauguration of a $25,000 or $30,000 stake, in all probability to be called the International Handicap, the distance not as yet determined upon. However, a two or two and a quarter mile journey would be most popular, the latter especially, being "a cup distance." International Cup would sound better than International Handicap. Vice-President Henry J. Crocker, in an interview last Tuesday, said: "We have sent communications to Australian racing men, and our plans are now known to them," he said. "Probably we shall send an agent to Melbourne to interview personally the owners of the great handicap horses. We shall proceed the same way in England and Ireland. In this country I do not think we will have any trouble securing the entries of the cream of the handicap division. It will be a great race if we can bring it about." San Francisco could scarcely be situated better than she is in these days of rapid traveling. We have direct lines of steamers running to Sydney, N. S. W., and a great overland railroad that would bring race horses over from New York inside of five days. An international contest of the sort proposed was written of in these columns about five years ago, and we have never ceased devoutly hoping for a consummation of the plan that will bring the celebrities of at least three great nations together in this, the pleasantest city in all the world. Let us hope that the P. C. J. C. directors will not cease their endeavors to bring about this race, which will attract fully 50,000 people to Ingleside course and make San Francisco famous the world over as a racing center. A strict weight-for-age race, to our minds, would be better than a handicap, for their would be no "ifs and ands," and the winner could be hailed as a real champion of champions. The contestants from abroad would come here six months or a year before the big race was to be run, and, as in the Melbourne Cup, the betting, begun months in advance, would keep the affair in the public mind and arouse interest that could be aroused in no other way.

The California Horsemen's Rally.

Previous to the time when Gov. Budd vetoed that important District Appropriation Bill the feeling prevailed among the directors of the associations, all intelligent horse-owners, breeders and trainers, that he would sign it and the great industry which he almost killed in 1895 would then revive. But, alas! He could not keep his word. For the sake of economy he refused to sign the bill, but frittered away nearly $450,000 for other purposes that only benefited a few rich corporations and his most intimate friends. In every newspaper in California, with the exception of one, The Illustrated World, whose editor is in durance vile on a charge of blackmail, Budd received a merited "roasting," and the statement was made, that all he could thereafter do would not erase his bare-faced scheme to injure farmers, stockbreeders, manufacturers, and all who have been striving for thirty years to bring California's leading industries into prominence everywhere.

This journal "let him down" very gently. He did not receive all he knew he richly deserved, but in one of the articles published at the time under the caption, "Budd! Budder!! Buddhist!!!" knowing the feeling among horsemen, we stated: "Race meetings will be held in California this year, Budd or no Budd!" and this prediction is in a fair way to be verified.

The game quality of our duped and persecuted horsemen who had, up to that time, every reason to hope for better times, began to manifest itself. The editor of this journal, although beset by innumerable difficulties, at once communicated with all horse-owners and trainers on this coast, and urged them not to relinquish the hope that we would have good race meetings. The able and stirring articles contributed by Mr. Jos. Cairn Simpson and Mr. Frank W. Covey, were written in the same spirit.

When the directors of the P. C. T. H. B. Association met in this city, and learned how many horses were in training and how hopeful the owners seemed, they were astonished, but not more so than when they read the long list of entries which came in response to the call to the fine programme of events the Speed Committee had prepared. Their enthusiasm at the meeting last Tuesday, when the entries were read and passed, knew no bounds, and everyone left those rooms with more confidence in the coming success of our California race meetings and the trotting horse industry than they had felt in the past three years.

Communications from Willows and Chico were read, stating the requisite amounts of money for the holding of race meetings at these places has been subscribed, and the people were anxious to have their meetings advertised.

Mr. D. E. Knight, of Marysville, said there would be a good meeting in that city.

Mr. Ira Pierce, one of the owners of the Santa Rosa race track, believed the money would be ready at Santa Rosa for their meeting, and if the Stockton people concluded not to give a meeting the week following the State Fair, the Santa Rosa meeting would be held then.

The summer meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association will be also a good one. The committee appointed to arrange the programme promised to have everything ready as far as the regular racing events were concerned, for next week's issue of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. The other fairs are all assured.

This completes the circuit as outlined in this journal over six weeks ago. A vote of thanks was tendered at the meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. A. to all the devotees of light-harness horse racing for their loyal support and liberal responses to the call made for entries, not only in the regular events, but in the Breeders' Futurity. It is hoped other associations in California will now offer similar stakes, for they will pay for themselves and do more to encourage the breeding and developing of horses that will always sell for high prices than any other means that can be devised. The complete list of entries appears on another page of this issue.

Best-on-Records of Four Great Racing Countries.

It is only within the past few years that much attention has been given to "time" in England, but during that period much has been said and written about our system of training, our "trials against the watch," etc., the result being that the time made in races is more frequently given to the general public than formerly. In Australia and New Zealand they have given this matter more thought than our English cousins, and for many years past have carefully kept account of "best-on-records." Believing that a record of the fastest runs in these countries (only circular courses in America being given) would prove interesting to our readers, we have given it to them so far as we are able, being unfortunately unable to tell the weight carried by foreign horses in many instances:

AMERICAN.			AUSTRALIAN.

3/4 mile — Loyalist, 102.....	1:14		1 mile — Dornroschen.....	1:35 2-5

2 miles — Rosefeldt, 109.....	3:29
2 1/4 miles — Enroclydon 107.....	3:37 3/4

It will be noted that over our tracks horses run as a general thing much swifter than over the English, Australian or New Zealand courses, which are of turf, and without any "throwing up" of turns. However, the performances of our horses are eclipsed by Dornroschen, who ran a mile in a race in 1:36 2-5, our best race record (straight track) being Kildee, 1:37 1/4. Florizel II's record in England at a mile and three-quarters also casts our Hotspur's record in the shade, while Carbine's two mile in 3:28 1/2 with 145 lbs. up is vastly superior to Newton's 3:27 1/2 with 107 lbs. in the saddle. At three miles Wallace (son of Cabine) and Quiver ran a dead heat in 5:23 1/2, Drake Carter holding the American record, 5:24. While our horses have made faster time in most instances, the conditions are much different, foreign horses usually carrying more weight and running over turf courses, which are about two seconds slower than our springy tracks of clay and loam.

There are few "turf" tracks in America, but two, if memory serves us right, yet the following records have been made over them, and they compare quite favorably with those made in England or the Colonies, being as follows:

3/4 mile.....	1:18 1-5	1 1/4 miles.....	2:07 1-5
5/8 mile.....	1:27	1 1/2 miles.....	2:36 4-5
1 mile.....	1:40 3-5	2 miles.....	3:33
1 1/4 miles.....	1:54 4-5

Will They Step Backward or Forward?

It would not be at all surprising if within three years all the racing associations west of the Alleghenies discarded the present system of betting (bookmaking) for the "block system," written about in a very comprehensive manner in this week's issue by Joseph Cairn Simpson. Like all really good inventions, the chief charm of the block system lies in its simplicity. It is really a considerable improvement upon the totalizer, at present the only legalized form of wagering money on races in New Zealand and South Australia, and likely to be in general use in New South Wales and Victoria ere long, judging from advices recently received from the land of sport-lovers and the kangaroo. The bookmaker will not disappear altogether, for he can do much to keep up interest in the big stake events by making a future book on them, beginning several months before certain great events are to be run off. But the pencil will not be the great figure on the turf that he has been for the last four or five years. We predict that members of racing clubs will soon see that it is to their interest, both in a monetary sense and in the interest of clean racing, to substitute the "block system" of wagering money for bookmaking. The former is so easy to understand and can be operated at such small expense to racing associations that there will be little trouble experienced in securing men to operate it, and race-goers will be able to comprehend its workings much easier than they would the rather complicated Paris mutual machines they have seen in use at meetings in this vicinity in years past.

The totalizer is immensely popular wherever it has been in use, and it must be remembered that ten per cent is deducted in the Colonies and in France, half of the amount going to the Government, which has legalized the machine. In this country five per cent would be the maximum charge, hence the change should be hailed with twice the amount of delight manifested by our cousins across the big ocean. Many persons do not stop to consider that it is seldom that a bookmaker has not at least a "ten per cent book"—that is, if he could make a "round hook" he would only pay out $900 on every $1,000 received. In the old days of the Bookmakers' Association in San Francisco it was not uncommon to see a race where Mr. Pencil had even 50 per cent. the best of the dear public that paid their dollars for the privilege of seeing the races and wagering their coin upon the flyers of their choice. Nothing would increase the gate receipts like the institution of the "block system" or the totalizer. Confidence would take the place of a decided feeling of uncertainty. If one felt that every time a horse started it was at least "trying," was "out for the money" and not for a health gallop, there would not only be gained thousands of admirers of the sport, but money would be wagered with more freedom, all being to the benefit of racing clubs in a financial way. And so we say again that after the managers of racing associations give the "block system" or the totalizer proper consideration it will not be so very long before they embrace the opportunity to cleanse the sport and at the same time greatly fatten their bank accounts.

State Board of Agriculture.

Gov. Budd has completed making appointments to the State Board of Agriculture. On Tuesday he sent in the name of that capable and genial gentleman, one whom everyone esteems—George H. Fox, of Clements,—to succeed John E. Budd, of Stockton, and then, to still further make that association one of the best in United States, he reappointed C. M. Chase, John Boggs, J. W. Wilson and W. P. Matthews. We have not congratulated Gov. Budd for much since we noted his peculiar actions on several important measures that came before him, but in this case of the State Agricultural Society, we doff our hats and say, "Well done!"

A meeting of the new board will be held in a few days and a programme arranged for the coming State Fair. Secretary Edwin F. Smith is as proud of the showing made by the light harness horsemen of this Coast as we are, and will issue a programme of racing at the Sacramento meeting that will result in bringing out the largest fields of horses seen at the State capital for many years.

WE would esteem it a favor if all owners of horses that have trotted or paced in 2:30 or better in California since January 1st, 1897, would forward the names, pedigrees, time made, and where, to this office, as soon as possible, as we desire to publish the list shortly.

THERE was printed in the Examiner a few mornings ago a report to the effect that the Pacific Coast Jockey Club intended giving a $20,000 or $30,000 race, to be called the International Handicap, distance probably one and a half miles. The chances are some enterprising reporter made a mountain out of a mole hill. In the first place, the stake would have to be at least $50,000 if it were to be international in its character, and in the next a handicap would never do. If it were a weight-for-age event, however, with a proper allowance given Australian or New Zealand bred horses (most of the gallopers there are foaled from July to December), the winner would be pretty nearly a world's champion. There are three or four races given in England of the value of $50,000, including the Prince of Wales and Jockey Club stakes, and for years the Melbourne Cup was worth $50,000, all told. It was, however, cut to $25,000 about three years ago. We have no race for all-aged horses worth over $12,500 at present, but if San Francisco offered a $50,000 stake race and a fit representative of the club were sent to England and Australia to secure entries, say nine months before the race were booked to be run, and the contest were properly advertised, there can be but little doubt that we would have a number of very good horses from England, Ireland and the Colonies, besides the cream of the American race horses. It would be necessary, also, that future hooks be opened at least six months before the event were run, so that interest in the race would not be allowed to flag. In that way (San Francisco being better situated for the holding of an international racing contest than Melbourne) we would have that event (call it the International Champion Cup) upon the tongues of the lovers of racing throughout the world, the race would eclipse the far-famed Melbourne Cup in point of interest manifested, and the outcome would go further toward determining what was the real world's champion race horse than anything yet devised. Nearly five years ago we advised the institution of a champion stake that would attract universal attention, and it will be exceedingly pleasing if one is given upon the lines drawn so many years ago in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN.

NEXT Wednesday, June 16th, Messrs. Killip & Co. will hold a combination sale of trotters and roadsters, stallions, mares and geldings, sired by the great Altamont, Sidney, Grand Moor, Silver Bow, May Boy, Fordstan, etc. Among the grand-looking ones to be sold are Vinmont, 2:21½, a son of great Altamont, out of Venetia, by Almont 33; second dam, Tecora (dam of Chehalis, 2:07½, Del Norte, 2:08, Touchet, 2:15, etc.) by C. M. Clay Jr. 22, and several choice broodmares, double teams and roadsters. They are the property of Sam Elmore, Astoria, Oregon; K. O'Grady, San Mateo; Peter Casey, San Mateo; W. H. Mixer and H. V. Armstead. Send for catalogue. Sale will commence at 11 A. M.

THOUGH racing was killed in Wisconsin, the Ideal Park Racing Association, of which Martin Nathanson was Secretary, paid every dollar of its indebtedness to newspapers for advertising their big stakes that had to be declared off. The money paid in by owners was returned and everybody was honorably dealt with. It gives us pleasure to chronicle such facts in these days, when an advertising bill, for some reason, is always placed last on the list by debtors, who do not seem to realize that without the use of printers' ink their institutions would never have been known to the people.

At the last directors' meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association, a number of communications were read from horsemen asking that their entries be allowed, as they had not heard anything about them until it was too late. If they would read the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN and has kept posted on these and all other matters relating to the meetings in California and elsewhere these mistakes would never occur. We were pleased to see the directors promptly reject every one of these "late" entries.

If the horsemen who intend to take their horses on the circuit this season will sign an agreement not to desert the cars which brought them to the cities (where races are held) for the steamboats to convey them to other points, the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will make special rates for them. Horsemen can have the same cars from Oakland throughout the entire circuit. We hope they will agree to do their share toward getting this concession.

Who says "the bottom has dropped out of the trotting horse industry in California?"

ON June 22d there will be an auction sale of choice trotters and roadsters held in this city. They were bred at the Aptos Stock Farm, and include descendants of Aptos Wilkes, Cupid, 2:18, Leon W., and other sires out of some of the best-bred Hambletonian mares in California. Messrs. Killip & Co., are the auctioneers, and from whom catalogues may be obtained.

Now is the time to show your appreciation of the efforts of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN in behalf of the light harness horse industry by sending in your subscriptions and striving to get some one whom you might think would like to read the paper to subscribe for it also.

THE advertisement of the summer meeting will appear in this issue next week, and we would be pleased if our readers would make any suggestions regarding the "extra features" in the way of novelty races; if they have merit, the probabilities are they will be adopted.

WE expect to print in next week's issue the complete programme of the Glenbrook Park Association. This organization is to give a meeting next month, immediately after the one at Sacramento, which is the week of July 4th.

COUSIN JOE, the three-year-old brother to Uncle Giles and Caliente, died in Sacramento recently of pneumonia. He was by El Rio Rey out of Hettie Humphrey and was quite a promising colt.

HAVE you read the advertisement of the Los Angeles Fair? Do not overlook this meeting, whatever you do. Entry blanks will be in this office on Monday next. Send for one.

WITH the showing of entries made by the P. C. T. H. B. Association, every district association in California should feel encouraged to offer good purses.

A SALE of choice Parcheron horses from A. W. Fester's stock farm at Hopland will take place at Killip & Co.'s salesyard, June 22d.

A SALE of about fifty Palo Alto trotters, roadsters etc., is booked for Tuesday, July 6th, at Killip & Co.'s salesyard.

A Manifesto From Salisbury.

DENVER, COLO., June 7, 1897.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—Monroe Salisbury is at Overland Park and begs to inform all inquiring readers of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN that he never felt stouter and pluckier in his life; that there is no "mix-up" in his affairs whatever; on the contrary, all is very plain (especially to him). He made a million dollars by his own exertions; lost it all, and don't give a —, for he will make it again. Has plenty to eat now, always had, and always expects to have, and that is more than he can say for some of those who are continually keeping up the yelping after him.

A Valuable Remedy.

CUDAHY, WIS., Nov. 9, 1894.

The Lawrence-Williams Co., Cleveland O.
I have used for the past two years Gombault's Caustic Balm and found it a valuable remedy. I still have a supply on hand, but have lost the directions for using. Please send me full directions and oblige

M. J. McNAMARA.

Answers to Correspondents.

SUBSCRIBER, SANTA BARBARA, CAL.—Would you kindly inform me of the address of J. Naglea Burke, owner of Crescendo, Bellicoso, etc? Answer—San Jose, Cal.

WE do not understand why it is that our subscribers fail to send in their subscription to this paper. It is the only one that is struggling to keep their interests before the people and the associations. It costs a great deal of money to conduct it, and as we have placed the price of subscription at three dollars per year, we hope our friends will forward the amounts they owe at once. They can have no excuse, for the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN has done more to strengthen California's light-harness horse industry than all the publications on this Coast combined. And its work this year will be more interesting and valuable than ever. We must get Eastern buyers here for our horses, and as nearly all the leading ones in the East, in Europe, the Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Central America and Canada subscribe for this paper, it is easy to see how necessary it is that the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN should prosper. Our prosperity is your prosperity, and therefore all who are in arrears for subscriptions on this coast will please respond to our modest request at once.

EMMA ABBOTT by Abbottsford has a record of 2:25, which she earned at the race given at the Alamada race track last week. She is out of Julia by Rustic (ha by Hambletonian 725, out of a full brother to Venture, son of Williamson's Balmout), second dam by De Long's Black Hawk; third dam by Novato Chief; fourth dam by Eureka a horse that was considered a thoroughbred, but trotted in 2:42. Emma Abbott is a black mare but she has a fine chestnut colt by her side by Gossiper, 2:14½.

PINE BUSH, N. Y.

Please send me another bottle of ABSORBINE. It will do all that it is recommended to do.

Australasian Turf Notes.

THE V. R. C. Committee, by a large majority, decided to strongly support the introduction of the totalizator, and to ask for the co-operation of country clubs.—Melbourne Cor. Sydney Mail, April 27. The Australasian, who throughout has been a warm espouser of the cause of the totalizator, in a recent issue says: "Where the totalizator flourishes the prizes are always good, and the whole tendency of good stakes is to discourage heavy betting. In England it is constantly pointed out that the days of heavy gambling have gone, never to return, and that the cause of the change to mild speculation is the raising of the stakes. Men of the Lord Rosebery and Duke of Portland class have no cansa to bet as the Marquis of Hastings and his set bet in 1866, when half the prizes were plates worth from £50 to £100. Even our large owners in Victoria and New South Wales are getting very tired of the present system of betting, and there are very few of them who would not be glad to see our Parliament follow the South Australian and New Zealand example with regard to the totalizator."

The well-known stallion Neckersgat was found dead in his box at Morphetville April 29th. Neckersgat was one of the most valuable stallions in Australia. He sired a large number of brilliant performers, amongst which was the Melbourne Cup winner, Duolop.

The Australian race-goers are enthusiastic over the performances of the two-year-old bay colt Aurum, by Trenton—Aurum, and owned by Mr. W. R. Wilson. Of his race for the Easter Stakes, seven furlongs, in which he carried 127 pounds, the Sydney Mail said: "The Hypnotist led to the head, where Aurum shot to the front, and made hacks of the field, winning by four lengths. Time, 1:23½." The race was run during a heavy rain that had begun early in the afternoon. Aurum's a brother to the great mare, Anraria.

In the Doncaster Handicap, one mile, won by Superb with 98 pounds up, one of the dead-heaters for second place, Cromorne, carried 135 pounds. He was beaten a length in 1:40½, this over a grass track. How many of our horses can beat Cromorne's time with such weight up?

The going of the famous Newhaven to Eogland is considered doubtful in this extreme, perhaps on account of the inability of the colt's owner to trace his pedigree on the dam's side of the house to a mare in the English Stud Book and the lack of a demand for short-bred horses, no matter how good they might be on the turf. Newhaven is, notwithstanding the shortness of his pedigree, one of the greatest "stayers" ever uncovered for a race in the colonies.

H. A. Knight sold his well-known thoroughbred stallion Apremont to Mr. W. Rathbone, the Hawke Bay sportsman. Apremont will be sent to his new owner's headquarters in charge of H. Thomson in about a fortnight. I hear Mr. Rathbone mates only his own mares with Apremont. The price paid for Apremont has not transpired.—Auckland Sporting Review.

The three-year-old filly Quickfira died last week at Ellerslia from an attack of inflammation of the bowels. Quickfira, who was a daughter of Caribina and the Grandmaster mare Hestia, was purchased as a yearling by Major George, at the break-up of the Lerderberg stud in Victoria a couple of years back, and she carried that gentleman's colors as a two-year-old. Last year she was purchased privately from the owner of Wapiti by the local trainer, Koss Heaton, in whose name she has since raced. At the Auckland Racing Club's Summer meeting in January last she distinguished herself by winning the Ascot Handicap, but since recording that performance she had run somewhat disappointingly. As being one of the few daughters sired by the "champion of champions," Carbine, during the short time he was at the stud in Australia, the death of Quickfira is much to be regretted, for if she had never raced a yard she would have proved most valuable as a broodmare.—Sydney Mail.

Goldan Fleece, a pony about 14.1 hands in height, is a joint holder of the Australian half-mile record, 0:47. He carried 109 pounds.

Coming Events.

June 8—Regular semi-monthly meeting of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club. Office of State Fish Commission, Flood Building, San Francisco.

June 12—Regular semi-monthly Saturday contest of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, Stow Lake, Golden Gate Park.

June 13—Regular semi-monthly Sunday contest of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, Stow Lake, Golden Gate Park.

NOTICE TO ANGLERS.

Every angler is invited to drop us a line occasionally, telling us of the condition of the streams they have visited and the killing lure; of the number and size of the fish caught, or any other item of interest to anglers.

The Speckled Beauty.

In brooklet's icy deeps,
For the fly,
Now the trout before he leaps,
Skims his eye.
For he fancies in his speckles,
All equivalent to freckles,
That he knocks the urban beakels
High and dry.

On the hyperbolic curve
See him jump,
Like the milkman full of nerve
At the pump.
And the angler's madly spitting
Wild profanity belittling,
The occasion while he's sitting
On the stump.

Now, this youthsome, toothsome fish,
Spick and span,
As the dainty of the dish
Leads the van.
And he makes the poet flatter
When his tail begins to sputter
In the bacon or the butter.
Of the pan.

Oh, the trout's a bigger fish
Than the whale.
There is music in the swish
Of his tail.
'Neath his light, the perch and catfish
And the tbin fish and the fat fish
And the fish ball and the flat fish
All must pale.

For the "speckled beauty" 'hip,
Hip, hooray—
For he makes our fancies skip
In the play.
From our piscine visions never
Can the trout his glory sever—
He's the fish of fish forever
And a day.

—R. K. Monkittick in Western Field and Stream.

Fifty Years Trouting.

(CONCLUDED.)

"Liver curious bait? Sho, I've caught trout with more singular bait than that. Went over to Case's tannery this spring to fish out the deep hole just below the vats, same as I do once every year. Always get some good trout there, for the fish are attracted there to feed on the grubs which fall out of the tanbark into the water. I went out on the board walk over the hole, and about the first thing I did was to knock my bait box into the water, and it sunk in a minute. Old Lem Stevens was with me and he was disgusted. There we were, three miles into the Sharon sand plains, with no bait. 'By thunder,' says Lem, 'this is a nice mess—no bait. Let's liquor up and go home.'

"No," says I; 'but I'll tell you what I will do; I'll liquor up and stay. This pool is full of trout, and they're hungry enough to bite a spike.'

"Well, but what ye going to do for bait?" says he.

"What's the color of your undershirt?" says I.

"Red," says he.

"Good," says I. 'Can you spare a piece of it?'

"Yes," says he, 'if it'll help catch any trout.'

"At that we cut off a piece of one of his flannel undershirt sleeves and cut some little patches out of the cloth. These we frayed out at the edges and then put 'em on our hooks. Then we just stood there and skittered 'em lightly over the water. It wasn't any time before I had a rise and a snap at my hook, the fish were so hungry. For about an hour we kept the fish a-coming. We took thirty-two fish with the red flannel rags before they stopped biting. Yes, sir, thirty-two fish that weighed over fifty pounds sir, and so on."

After a somewhat prolonged halt on Mr. Baldwin's part the young angler wanted to know how large a trout the old man had caught.

"Heh? Biggest one? We don't get such trout here as they say they do down in Maine, but I've seen some good fishing here, especially before they began to use flies. Worms were regarded as the proper bait and sure, too, in them times. I've taken fifty-one trout in a forenoon out of the Shepaug river with nothing but worms. The biggest trout I ever got weighed 6½ pounds. But I didn't get it on the rod. I caught it through the ice on Bantam Lake on a pickerel tip-up year ago.

"Didn't tell you my yellow frog story? That was something out of the usual. My place is the Baldwin homestead and has been in the family for about 130 years. In 1832 my father put a trout in the spring out back of the barn. This spring is quite large and deep, and the water runs cold and clear winter and summer. We children named the trout Tommy and played with it for years. It was so tame that it would take crumbs of bread and meat from the hand, and it seemed right glad to see anyone. But we could never persuade Tommy to have any other trout in the spring for company, for as fast as we put 'em in Tommy would eat 'em up.

"One day along in the eighties I was fishing up in Blackberry Brook when I came across a frog that was so yellow and handsome that I took it home with me. You don't see a real yellow frog very often. I caught with my landing net and put it in the spring with Tom. But Tom kept the frog a-jumping for a long time before becoming anyway reconciled to it, although finally they seemed to get on quite well together; at least I thought they did, but it seems they didn't, for the frog was simply waiting for a chance to get at the trout. It was in '83, the year of the big drought and long hot spell. This year, for the first time in my life, I saw our spring dry down so low that there was only a little thin stream of water trickling out of the ground, and the old trout had to go to work and bury itself down in the cool mud and lie by. This was what the frog wanted. It hopped on to Tom's head stuck there and scratched the trout's eyes out. When I found the fish it was gasping its last. I was so mad that I smashed the yellow frog against a stone wall. Well, sir, Tom we know was over fifty years old, and yab be weighed only two pounds, which goes to show that it isn't age that gives the trout size, and so on."

"How about swearing, Mr. Baldwin? Do you believe it prevents men from catching fish?" This question was the one the young angler had been most desirous of putting during the whole conversation.

"Patience and ingenuity are the things, as I said before. There's Peleg Marsh, another of my neighbors. He cusses and swears like a pirate, the worst of anybody I ever saw, and although I'm not much on superstition, I declare he doesn't catch fish. He's got a good trout hook on his place and in one hole under a stone bridge a two-pound, red-bellied trout, as handsome as a picture, had been hanging about for a year or more. Peleg and I both spent some time trying to catch it, but the trout wouldn't touch a thing. All it seemed to want was to lie still. Finally Peleg got thoroughly mad, and he says to the trout: '—ye, if I can't catch ye, they shan't nobody else, you ——— son of a sea cook!' Peleg has been a sailor, you know, and as he said this he threw a big stone at the trout and we saw no more of it then. But I made up my mind to get that trout, and two days later I got up at four o'clock in the morning and went and dropped a worm down under that stone bridge. Sometimes the biggest trout will bite very early in the morning and just after nightfall, but won't look at a bait or anything else in the middle of the day. Well, sir, that worm hadn't been down five minutes before the red belly had snapped it and I was swinging the fish out on dry land. I didn't dare to tell Peleg for fear he'd fly to pieces, and so on."—New York Sun.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN — The following catches were made last week at Glen Ellen: Dr. J. J. Richard's and Messrs. Otto Schrvana's and J. Nordman's catch for Decoration Day amounted to one hundred and twenty, fishing from the hotel to Doherty Canyon. Mr. S. S. Hooper and J. J. Cowan made the catch of one hundred and thirty-three, fishing over the same ground last week in three days. Numerous small catches running from twenty five to seventy-five have been made during the last week around Glen Ellen. A. R. HARRISON.

The trout fishing at Ukiah as reported by L. J. Johnson in vicinity of Orr's Hot Springs last week was as follows: P. B. Bekeart, 460 trout; Mrs. Bekeart, 50 trout; H. L. Miller, 550 trout; Mrs. H. L. Miller, 51 trout; Master Jack Miller, 30 trout. Caught on Lennon Creek, Soda Creek, Hanly Creek, Dougherty Creek and Big River. Bekeart largest, weighs 8 pounds, 22 minutes to land. Miller largest, caught 6 pounds, 29 minutes to land. Several caught weighing from 1 to 4 pounds.

A petition to the supervisors of San Francisco county will be circulated shortly, asking them to reestablish the office of game warden. Mr. Mogan did excellent work while in office and every sportsman and angler should sign the petition. The new game laws, while they do not please the sportsmen have materially strengthened the game warden's power and enforcing them should be considerably easier than formerly.

Fishing at Lake San Andreas continues good. J. S. Turner and W. E. Daverkosen caught 41 last Sunday, and Geo. Hinkle 20. The lake was very calm all day. The trout rose to the fly well in the early morning and later took the Wilson spoon. Chas. Precht caught 13 fly fishing at the landing from the shore while waiting for a boat. The fish averaged ¾ of a pound each.

There is probably no lake of its size in this portion of California that contains more trout than Lake Lagunitas. Permits are only issued to a limited number of anglers. Fishing is prohibited on Sunday, and no one is allowed to fish before 7 a. m. or after 5 p. m. No one is allowed to use bait except the directors of San Quentin.

The contests of the Fly Casting Club promise to be poorly attended for a few weeks. Lovett, Muller, Bacheller and Smyth are away on their regular summer outings, and Turner, Reed, Daverkosen, Mocker, Miller, and several others, are much more likely to be whipping some stream than Stow Lake.

F. H. Reed made a fair catch at Sims on the Sacramento River last Sunday. The north wind has been blowing for some time and the moment it changes the fishing will be excellent.

W. E. Bacheller will try his luck with the salmon and yellowtail off Monterey Bay this coming week. We will be surprised if he does not forsake old ocean for the Carmel.

W. A. Cooper, Hon. J. P. Kelly, Thomas Sullivan, J. Reis and Bradford are enjoying splendid trout fishing in the McCloud River. The sportsmen are camped near Sisson.

Al Hall, of the Hotel Olema, and a friend will leave on Saturday for a week's fishing on Garcia River. They will be joined in camp by Messrs. Moorhouse and Jones.

The San Francisco Fly Casting Club failed to secure a quorum last Tuesday night. But ten members were present and the evening was spent in telling fish yarns.

The Supervisors of San Bernardino County are looking for the miscreant who has been killing trout by the whole sale with dynamite in Bear creek.

The trout fishing at Allen Springs, Lake County, is reported good. H. W. Langenour caught 76 in two hours' fishing recently.

The San Francisco Fly Club will cast its ninth regular club contest this afternoon and to-morrow morning at Stow Lake.

A yachting party caught seventy-six barracuda and one large yellowtail off Redondo in one afternoon recently.

Horace Maun, John Butler and Mr. Peltier of this city had good luck on Bear Creek the first of the week.

Carl Sanders caught two striped bass with hook and line in the Sacramento near Willows recently.

A. C. Bassett is fishing the McKenzie and doubtless enjoying the sport of a lifetime.

Shad are running up the San Joaquin in larger quantities than ever before.

M. Buja and Herbert Henshall made a good catch at San Andreas Sunday.

The members speak with one voice, and we state without hesitation that the St. Bernard Club of California is the strongest specialty club in America to-day. The active membership numbers thirty-eight.

The Opinions of His Friends.

Our Eastern contemporary Turf, Field and Farm of June 4th contains the following para, relative to the "mischief-maker":

"Payne's wonderful English Setters were beaten for the specials at Oakland under Mr. Mortimer, and this is Payne's opinion of the judging: 'The placing of the specials at the Oakland show became such a farce that even those most shamefully treated couldn't help but laugh at the brazen-faced work.'

"At San Francisco Payne's dogs were winners of the specials, and this is the opinion of the judging: 'Major Taylor carries more weight and has risen to a higher level by several inches than any other authority in kennel matters.' The latter opinion is undoubtedly correct, although Major Taylor does not carry more weight and has not risen any part of an inch from awarding the specials to Payne's dogs.

"Payne wrote in his diary May 12, 1897: 'Countess will lose special at Oakland, and offered to bet two to one on it.' The offer was as sure a thing for Payne as were the specials at the previous shows. The show opened May 12, and Payne had been in the building and seen the dogs. A diary has often before proven a dangerous thing, and Payne should have kept it up, with the remains of his axe.

"The reports of the Oakland Show which appeared in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN and Field Sports would look well side by side. The BREEDER says the judging was well done and the Oracle's sheet is filled up with how badly Mr. Mortimer performed his work. Those on the fence get lots of fun by stirring up the small man with the little paper.

"Payne says he has no axe to grind, but those on the inside know the reason; the one he has is ground down to the handle. It is said that a cattery establishment is being built as an annex to Field Sports and that the grind from now on will be ceaseless.

"As we anticipated, Mr. Mortimer's awards surprised a few of the owners of previous winners, and one of the losers displayed had taste in draping his stalls in black. It is surprising the number of men who will try their colors at a dog show.

"A writer for H. T. Payne says that Major Taylor's photo had to be much reduced to get space in Field Sports. We should imagine so."

A Question Answered.

GILROY, May 27, 1897.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN—Will you kindly answer the following through the columns of your paper: A. breeds his bitch to B's dog. Should the bitch whelp, how many of the pups is B. entitled to. Yours Respectfully,

S. W. KILPATRICK.

[He is entitled to as many as the agreement calls for. If no agreement is made it is a decidedly open question. We have given one-half of the litter and considered ourselves lucky to get the service at that price. At other times we have given first and third pick and again where the dogs were not very valuable we have bred a dog for first choice and bred hitches to dogs owned by other parties on the same terms. The comparative value of the pup and the stud service should determine the question. An advertised stud fee of $10 is not worth more than one pup and one of $100 is worth at least two if not half of the litter.—Ed.]

Evolution of Sex.

The English Stock-keeper has contained several articles of late on determining the sex of puppies, but the first that we have noticed which gave facts and figures, is that of R. A. Grant. Hon. Registrar of the Queensland Kennel Club in the current issue. The article is as follows:

My own opinion is that, by allowing the service to take place during the last days of oestrus, or if possible on the very last day when it can be determined, will invariably lead to a larger percentage of male progeny. I would point out that I am now speaking of dogs only, of other animals I have not had sufficient experience to warrant an expression of opinion.

The Santa Rosa Gun Club.

Next Sunday the members of the Santa Rosa Gun Club will begin a shooting for two trophies. The one is a twelve bore repeating Winchester shot gun offered by the Selby Smelting and Lead Company. It is valued at $20. The other prize if offered by C. E. Haven & Co. This is a blue enameled six shot Smith & Wesson pistol, 38 calibre with a 5 1/2 inch barrel.

The gun must be won three times. The rules of competition are as follows:

The marksman must put up 50 cents for birds and trap springing. He is allowed 20 shots. The one making the biggest "killing" out of this number is winner. At the next shoot the winner is handicapped one shot and if he succeeds the second time he is handicapped three. The marksman who stands next below the winner receives the second prize.

As there are a number of "anti-Sunday" men in the club these will be permitted to shoot for the prizes during the week following the day of the shoot.

The regular club days are the first and third Sundays of each month.

The California Wing Club.

The regular monthly shoot of the California Wing Shoot-Club held at the Olympic Gun Club grounds at Ingleside last Sunday resulted in a win for C. A. Haight with a straight score. The attendance was light but the birds were a good lot and the wind quite strong. F. L. Judd officiated as referee. The scores were as follows:

Tournament at Monterey.

MONTEREY, June 7, 1897.

BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—At a meeting of the Monterey Wing Shooting Club it was unanimously decided to hold a tournament on the fourth of July. All clubs in the State will be invited to participate. We wish your assistance to help bring this to a successful issue. Circular letter will be forwarded in a day or so. Yours, etc.,

C. H. RODRIGUEZ, Sec'y.

Greeting to Lovers of Gun Sport.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—At a meeting held June 7th, it was decided by the Monterey Wing Shooting Club to entertain the gun sportsmen of California with a One Day's Bluerock Tournament to take place on Sunday, July 4, 1897, at Del Monte Grove, Monterey.

In addition to the many events now being arranged for said shoot, various other enjoyable entertainments will be tendered our visitors the day preceding and following the 4th.

The above-named organization will use every endeavor to make this occasion a happy memorable one for all who participate—no expense or labor will be spared with this end in view.

Special attention is called to the fact that the cash prizes for the day's events will be the largest ever offered at any event of a like nature.

We have an abundance of room for all and all are most cordially invited to visit us, participate in the programme, and become the welcome guests of the fair city of Monterey and the Monterey Wing Shooting Club.

Shooters desiring to practice previous to the events should arrive in this city not later than on the evening of July 2d, and those entering the events not later than on the evening of July 3d, events beginning at 8 o'clock A. M. on July 4th.

Every bluerock shooter who reads this announcement may consider it a special invitation to be in attendance at the tournament. All detailed information as to events, prizes, rules, etc., will be found in the programme which is now in the hands of the printer.

Yours Respectfully,
CHARLES H. RODRIGUEZ, Sec'y.
Monterey Wing Shooting Club.

P. S.—"Papa Carr" says he wants you all to come.

Live Birds at Madera.

The pigeon shoot by the Madera Gun Club at the club grounds last Sunday was participated in by several shooters from other towns, the visitors being A. T. Hyde, Kibby and G. M. Mears of Merced, H. V. Armitage and Arthur Machen of Fresno, H. A. and A. E. Skelton of Raymond and J. W. Bearup of Berenda.

A stiff breeze blew during the day which caused a number of pigeons which should have been scored as "dead birds" to be put down as "lost birds." Several scores were injured in this manner. Notwithstanding this drawback the shooting was good, several splendid scores being made. The most of the birds were lively and were on the wing as soon as the traps sprung.

Five events were shot off, all live birds. In each event five prizes were given, the first three being cash, the fourth and fifth being merchandise prizes.

Machen did the best shooting of the day, killing 38 out of 42 birds shot at, a percentage of 93. Kibby was second, killing 37 out of 42. Harris and Hyde were next each having 36 out of 42 to his credit. Hyde won more in prizes than any other, dividing first and second money in two events.

Z. E. Drake acted as referee and Robert Atchinson of Merced as scorer. The scores were as follows:

Duck Egg Albumen.

Forest and Stream has taken exception to the widely published alarmist reports that the extinction of the wild duck supply was threatened by the gathering of their eggs for albumen. It has shown that, as far as can be ascertained, no such trade in duck egg albumen exists, and that the decrease in the number of ducks is due rather to spring and market-shooting and an increased number of gunners than to any other cause.

The correctness of this position is substantiated by the statement of a prominent New York importer. This gentleman some time since received from foreign correspondents an importation of five cases, or about 1,100 pounds of duck egg albumen manufactured by a French company in Tonquin. It was distributed in the usual course of trade among confectioners and print manufacturers, the two trades which absorb most of the albumen of commerce and was by them given a thorough trial, with the result that it was found utterly unsuited for their use.

The calico printers could not use it, as it did not properly fasten the colors on the cotton cloth. The confectioners could not use it for making macaroons and other confections, as they found that this albumen would not heat up as required for their work. In fact, the duck egg albumen in both cases seemed to lack the qualities which gave the albumen from hens' eggs its value.

As a result of these experiments, the part of the consignment which had not been used was returned to the French company.

This disastrous shipment is the first and last importation of duck egg albumen into the United States of which my informant has knowledge, and his business position is such that he would know if there was any regular demand or supply of this article. He says that he understands that in Europe they have had no better success than in this country in trying to utilize duck egg albumen, and that the expectations of the French company, who thought they were going to make a fortune from the business, have never been realized.

All of which goes to show that the gentlemen who would have us believe that the trade in albumen was the cause of the lessening supply of our wild ducks, and that the Alaska Indians were to blame rather than the excessive shooting all over the North American continent, are wrong in their premises, as if there is no commercial demand for duck albumen there can be no incentive for securing it.

Young Quail and Duck Plentiful.

The season has been most favorable for the hatching of game birds. The absence of late rains and accompanying cold weather gives Mr. and Mrs. Quail nothing to fear for the rearing of their offspring except their enemies in the bird and animal kingdom. In the foothills young quail are very plentiful and on almost every hillside nests with eggs may be found.

On the low lands near Plumas the young wild ducks are making their appearance and a resident of that district gives it as his opinion that there will be thousands of flossers this year where ordinarily there are hundreds. The reason for this increase is the absence of high waters and cold rains, which ordinarily comes in season to destroy the first nestings.

This favorable season will undoubtedly bring our pheasants to the front. By this time it is safe to say that there are two dozen full grown pair on the river. A favorable nesting season means that this number will be increased from twenty to sixty-fold.—Wheatland Four Corners.

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

The single trigger gun seems to have come to stay in England.

H. A. Blodget won the gold medal at the Bakersfield Gun Club's shoot on May 30.

The latest is the prospective base ball game between the Olympic Gun Club and Lincoln Gun Club.

Gold Dust has won both first and second average prizes in all four tournaments of the California Inanimate Target Association.

The Encinal Gun Club will give an open-to-all tournament on June 20th, at Birds Point, Alameda. Some good prizes will be offered.

The scores made at the regular monthly shoot of the San Luis Obispo Gun Club on May 30 were: Will Fuller 16, George Badger 15, C. T. Greenfield 13, Fred Knight 13, Pat McCaffrey 12.

Dr. W. F. Carver, the world-famous shot has decided to make his future home in Spokane. He has purchased a site for a residence there and will shortly let the contract for its construction.

Capt. A. H. Bogardus, of Springfield, Ill., and Mr. J. L. Breitenstein, of Burlington, Ia., on May 21, shot a match of bluerocks at Springfield. Captain Bogardus winning one score of 32 to Breitenstein 28. The match was at singles and pairs. Breitenstein beating the Captain two birds on the singles, but the old veteran scored 15 on the pairs and Breitenstein 9, thus winning the match by four birds.

The Willows Gun Club has forty-one members, but only fourteen have competed in every match for the club medal. Following we give the number of birds to the credit of each illegible contestant: J. H. Porter 57, W. H. Walker 53, Chester Branham 52, F. Burgi 51, Geo. Mellor 50, Chas. Branham 49, Chas. Clarke 49, Harry Kres 45, Thos. Ajax 44, Frank Williams 44, C. D. Howell 38, Geo. Q. Hoag 37, Thos. Dawson 35, Thos. O'Brien 24.

A party consisting of City Treasurer Charles H. Swett, W. F. Leavitt, driver of hose cart No. 2 of the fire department; C. M. Maxwell, engineer of engine No. 1; W. J. McDonald, driver of the hook and ladder truck; Deputy County Recorder Arthur Machen, James Cadigan and George W. Hart left Fresno Tuesday for the Chiquita Joaquin, a tributary of the San Joaquin river in the mountains of Madera county, on a hunting trip. Thirteen bear hounds and Frank Russell, a guide and expert hunter of the mountains, have been engaged, and the party expect to slaughter big game.

We understand the largest manufacturers of high explosives in the world, the Nobel Company, of Great Britain, has concluded to establish a plant on this side of the Atlantic for the purpose of making all the various compounds that it now manufactures, principally in Scotland. With this end in view 400 acres of land have been purchased in Spottswood, N. J. This is a little village on the line of the old Camden & Amboy railroad and about thirty-five miles from this city. It is also mentioned that another company, the Troisdorf Powder Company, is hand and glove with the Nobel Company in the enterprise.—Shooting and Fishing.

A delegation from the Santa Cruz Gun Club on Sunday week. After the friendly contest at the bluerocks the club members enjoyed a fraternal barbecue. The meats, side dishes and refreshments met with harmonious approval, and the dinner was topped by a second contest at bluerocks. The Elkhorns scored 163 to 154 for the visitors. During the celebration at Santa Cruz of the National birthday the club will have another trial both at bluerocks and the barbecue board; and while the Santa Cruzans may possibly win at bluerocks we will stake our nickels on the Pejaro heavy weights when the barbecued meats are brought on.—Watsonville Pejaronian.

There is already considerable talk among trapshooters about the annual tournament of the Pacific Northwest Sportsman's Association which will be held in Anaconda, June 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th. It is estimated that 125 men will take part, which, of course, will include the best men in the Pacific Northwest. The Anaconda Standard says that the railroads will make a one and one-fifth rate from all points. There will be about thirty events in the programme and counting the added money and entrance fees, each purse will average between $250 and $300.

Seattle will be represented at the tournament by E. E. Ellis, Dick Stevens, Dr. P. A. Purdy and H. F. Norton; Victoria, B. C., by Fred Maclure, Charles Minor and Ben John; Vancouver, B. C., by Charles Maclure; Whatcom, by Dell Cooper and William Van Zant; Tacoma, by W. F. Sheard, W. C. Pearce, E. Young, F. V. Caesar and Harry Denham.

The Mongolian pheasants planted in various parts of this State by the Fish Commission and various private parties are for the most part doing well, though some of them have not been heard from at all. Game Warden McKenzie reports seeing several broods in Santa Clara county. Wm. Tevis reports that his are doing finely at Bakersfield. Of those put out by the State Prison Directors at Folsom, Capt. Murphy reports seeing three or four flocks all doing well. One pair of those planted by the Commission in Tehama county were seen last week. One heavy out of those planted by some Los Angeles sportsmen were seen recently near Azusa. Quite a number have been seen recently by Com. T. Morrison back of Yreka in Siskiyou county. These have unquestionably come down from Oregon as none were ever liberated in the county. Those planted near Visalia have not been heard from and of the dozen planted in Humboldt county by the Commission no reports have been received. Quite a number of feathers found. It is stated that 10,000 birds were sent to Oregon last year and if they do not one would point out this State they will soon become plentiful. Her animals are rare and pot hunters will let them alone. At an expression

Bringing Up An Orphan.

It is a comparatively easy matter to bring up on cow's milk any young colt unfortunate enough to lose its mother; but care must be taken to bridge over the period of changing the milk in such way that no violent inflammation is set up and the patient subjected to an attack of diarrhoea. A subscriber residing in Knoxville, Tennessee, writes us under date May 24, 1897, as follows:

I have a colt that lost its mother and want you to send me a sucking outfit for him—an outfit that will be complete in every way. You know just the thing I want in a case like this. Please send it to me at once—by first train, and either by c. o. d. or otherwise. I have been a subscriber to your paper for many years. C. F. T.

Yes, we know the very thing our correspondent wants, but it is a very homelike contrivance, and consists of two parts, to-wit: an earthenware teapot of the old, long-spouted, brown variety, holding about a quart, and the thumb of an old glove. Take the entire thumb of any good kid glove, no matter if it has been worn, and be sure that it is clean. Tie this securely over the spout of the brown teapot in such a manner that when the contents of the pot are turned into the glove thumb, the shape of the mare's teat is formed. Then, with a darning needle of large size, prick four or five, or more, holes in the kid, so that the colt, when sucking it, may obtain a liberal supply, and the glove thumb still retain the shape of the teat. This outfit does not cost very much, and the kid may be removed as it wears out. The hot milk will moisten it each time it is used, and the entire outfit should be kept as clean as possible. After every time of using, scald it inside and out, being careful enough with the kid not to destroy its fibrous composition. With a very young colt, less than four weeks old, dilute the warm cow's milk with one-half water. After the eighth week add but one-third water, and after the twelfth week the cow's milk may be given "neat." After a couple of weeks of drinking the new whole milk, the colt may be put on skimmed milk, to which has been added flaxseed jelly. Buy, for example, say one pound of the genuine ground flaxseed at the drug store. Place it in a large shallow vessel, like an old-fashioned milk crock, and add one gallon of water, allowed to come to the boiling point, then taken from the stove and applied at once. This will in a few hours form a regular jelly, which may be measured by the handful. To every half pail of milk offered the colt, add two handfuls of this jelly, stirring the whole for a couple of moments, so that the two substances become thoroughly blended. Always give the milk at blood heat to an orphan colt. After a time they will take it cold, but they do not thrive as well on it as when it is warmed. At first—indeed, at all times—follow the equine habit as closely as possible, letting the youngster have a suck at his old teapot about as often as he will. To obtain a correct knowledge of the number of times a colt will suck during the early stages of his life, watch the habits of about such a colt as you are treating. You will be surprised to find what he drinks, and a mare gives far more milk than you have formerly credited them with consuming and producing. Wean a hand-raised colt at about sixteen, seventeen or eighteen weeks. Give broiled oats and bran as soon as the orphan will nibble it—he will begin before he is a month old. Don't let his box get sour from his slobbering in it; clean it out very often, and always have it sweet as a nut. Give him all the good grass he will pick, and he will make about as good growth as he would if his mother had lived all right. In conclusion, we would say that there is such a tremendous difference in the sizes and capacities and necessities of colts, and in the richness of cow's milk, that it is well nigh impossible to lay down hard and fast rules, and then there is a vast difference in even flaxseed. You must carefully watch your subject, and at the appearance of any trouble modify the treatment. If at first the youngster goes to scouring, increase the quantity of water added to the milk, and give a little scorched flour of wheat with his drinks. There is often a difference of one-half in richness in the milk of the cows. Perhaps some old residenter of a scrub may give milk with but three per cent. or two and one-half per cent. of butter fat in it, while a well-bred Jersey or Guernsey may give milk with five or six per cent. of fat in it. What would he just right with one would be just twice out of the way with the other. Hence, we can but give general instructions, and the man who looks after the orphan must use common sense in doing the rest. And remember always that the more simple the contrivance the better it is, and the more nearly natural the treatment the more luck will the operator have and enjoy.—Horseman.

What the Willows Folks Have Done.

That we will have races this year is now an assured fact, says the Willows Journal of June 6th. The only thing that has stood in the way of our having a race meeting this year was the question of raising the sum of $1,200, and that task has now happily been accomplished. Every business man with the exception of one has contributed his share toward that end, as will be seen by reading the following list, and it is to be hoped that he will yet stand in line. There is yet some $60 to raise, but this will not worry the committee. Following is a list of the contributors:

QUINN'S OINTMENT

FOR HORSES

stands at the head of all veterinary remedies. Such troubles as Spavins, Curbs, Windpuffs, Splints, Bunches have no terrors for a horse if the master keeps and applies Quinn's Ointment. All well-known horsemen speak of it in the highest terms:

Miller & Sibley, of Franklin, Pa., owners of St. Bel, brother of late Bell Boy, write, "We have used Quinn's Ointment with great success and believe it fulfills all claimed for it. We cheerfully recommend it to our friends." For Curbs, Splints, Spavins or Bunches, it has no equal.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTS.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. F. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

ORO WILKES, 2:11.

ORO WILKES, black horse, 15½ hands, weighs 1,100 lbs., of splendid conformation and without a blemish or weak point. As a four-year-old he got a record of 2:11, and was timed separately in races in 2:08. His winnings as a two and three-year-old exceeded that of any other trotter at these ages. He never was outside the money, and earned a reputation as a campaigner second to none in America. He won the $5,000 Kentucky Futurity stake as a three-year-old, and in his four-year-old form, until he met Azote, 2:04 (the aged campaigner), never was beaten, and in one of his races with this horse he was at his shoulder, being timed separately in 2:08. Sired by Sable Wilkes, 2:18; dam Ellen Mayhew, 2:22; by Director, 2:17; second dam Lady Ernest, by Speculation 928; third dam Lady Hibbard (dam of Lou Whipple, 2:26½). Terms for the season, $75.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045.

PRINCE AIRLIE 28,045, bay stallion, foaled in 1892, stands 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds. He is a remarkably handsome horse, stylish, evenly-proportioned, and is considered by all who have seen him to be perfect in every respect. Owing to an accident he has not been trained, but as he has entirely recovered he will be put in training this year. As a yearling, when only partly broken, he trotted quarters in 0:37½. He is sired by Guy Wilkes, 2:15½, dam Chantilly (trial 2:23, last half in 1:08), by Nutwood, 2:18½; second dam Creon (dam of Lovelace, 2:20, and Betsy Britton, 2:20½), by Princeps 356; third dam Grape Lisse (dam of Balzarine, 2:27), by George Wilkes, 2:22; fourth dam the dam of Tarleton, 2:31. Terms for the season, $50.

Special attention is called to the progeny of these two stallions. Everyone who has seen them says they are models of perfection, having size and style, and being beautifully proportioned. The speed they show is remarkable, and it is only a question of a few years until they will be noted campaigners. The few weanlings by Oro Wilkes consigned to the recent sale from my farm brought from $300 to $410, and some were resold shortly after the sale for a large advance. They brought the highest prices of any weanlings sold at this big sale. All other highly-bred ones sold from $25 to $75. Anyone breeding to this horse can rest assured they will get horses that will bring high prices anywhere.

Excellent care will be taken of all stock sent to the farm, but no liability assumed for accidents or escapes. Mares may be shipped direct to me at Burlingame, San Mateo county. All bills are due at time of service, and must be paid by August 1st. No stock allowed to leave the place until all bills are paid. Pasturage $5 per month. Hay and grain $10 per month. Season commences February 1st and ends August 1, 1897.

The Trotting Horse.

BY CHARLES MARVIN.

This great practical horse book is a handsome, three hundred page octavo, bound in cloth, elegantly printed, superbly illustrated, and explains in every detail the remarkable success of CHARLES MARVIN and the whole plans and methods pursued at Palo Alto as to breaking, training, shoeing, gaiting, driving, keeping, racing and breeding trotters.

Read what J. C. Silby, the owner of St. Bel, says of this book: "In this work Marvin has let out all the mysteries of the craft, and it is so simple and plain that any breeder, owner, trainer or rubber who has any relish for his business can take a colt as a yearling and develop to the highest and fullest extent that colt's capacity as a trotter. The work impressed me so strongly that I have ordered twenty copies, and shall place one in the hands of every rubber on our farm. Mailed postpaid for $5.50. Address

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

—SIRE BY—

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trahern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Mahone (granddam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:15 1/4, Antevolo, 2:19 1/4, etc., being by Electioneer, out of Columbine by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10 1/4, Nelly F., 2:13 1/4, and seventeen others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 144 sired Dan Voorhees, 2:23 1/4, St. Helena, 2:27 1/2, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14 1/2, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

Best description—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in Calif. rnia. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Trilby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of hand some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

MILO KNOX, Haywards, Cal.

To show how well Diablo's colts have shown it is only necessary to say that five were handled for speed in 1896. Following are their trials: Two-year-old, one quarter, 36 seconds; a two-year-old, one-quarter, 31 seconds; a two-year-old, one-half, 1:09; a yearling, one-quarter, 35 seconds; a two-year-old, six weeks' work, one-quarter, 35 seconds, and El Diablo, trial mile, trotting 2:24. ### NEW YORK RACING GOSSIP.

A Poor Lot in the Brooklyn Handicap—The California Horses Now at the Far East.

P. J. Dwyer's Apology.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Comparisons are odious. To say that one section of a country is better than another, to compare the manners and customs of one city in order to decry that of another place, smacks of local egotism and a narrow mind. A gentleman will not do it. He would as soon break all laws of hospitality by accepting a friend's invitation to dinner and then making disparaging remarks about the service as to make odious comparisons of manners, customs and things in general of an alien nature. And yet, in the face of all this, I am compelled, through force of circumstance, to draw a comparison—I hope it will not be thought an odious one—between the racing as seen in California and the "sport royal" as witnessed in New York and its environs.

The struggle for the Burns Handicap was sharp, long-drawn out and brilliant; the one for the Brooklyn Handicap tame, of short duration and mediocre. The winner of the former stake, Ruinart, was, and is undoubtedly the best horse in California at the distance—a mile and a quarter. Howard Mann, the winner of this year's Brooklyn Handicap, is of a class far below Ruinart's. The son of St. Carlo carried 116 pounds and overcame difficulties; Howard Mann carried 106 pounds, and, with everything in his favor, won a "classic." The struggle of Ruinart's may be aptly termed grandly magnificent. He had nothing in his favor and won his race solely on his merits, carrying weight and beating a fast, strong field of handicap horses after a severe struggle from start to finish. Howard Mann, on the contrary, had everything to his liking, weight, condition of track and non-interference. But "Tod"—he of the pink shirt, large cigars and susceptibility for ladies of elephantine proportions—took the leg up on Belmar in preference to Howard Mann. "Pat" Donno, speaking of the weight last winter, one day at Ingleside, remarked that Howard Mann was "thrown in" with 106 pounds and that the race was as good as won, provided the colt kept his health and the track was muddy. Time has demonstrated that Mr. Donno was right in his prognostication.

In any other year but this it is doubtful if a horse of Howard Mann's class would have won. Since its inception there has never been such a poor field of horses sporting silks as there were on Decoration Day. Handicapping, who carried top weight of 125 pounds, is considered by some people to be a first-class horse. On what ground they base this high opinion of Handicapping's capabilities I fail to see. Excuses are always forthcoming from his admirers for his disappointments. It is either cracked heels or a howed tendon, say they. Now and then they shout, "He will do to day," but alas, something invariably intervenes to delay the promised fulfillment of prowess. Why his friends nearly worked themselves into a fit because he defeated Requitat a few days before the handicap, a mile in 1:45. Requitat was in such bad shape that he was beaten when five furlongs had been covered, and this in 1:05. Yet in the face of this poor showing Handicapping's worshippers make him an even favorite in the betting on handicap day with "Pittsburg Phil's" entry. Handicapping ran in the first division for a mile and then fed away, finishing fifth.

Whenever Handicapping's "greetness" comes up, it recalls to my mind the story of a certain son of Erin who was always "a-going to free Ireland." But whenever you wished to find Pat he was always in the same old hole in the bog. Fate, in the shape of death, finally cut short his "a-going to," I am afraid the same thing will happen to Handicapping.

The race for the handicap was a bad one from every point of view. There was not the slightest particle of a struggle from first to last, Howard Mann virtually leading all the way and winning pulled up by four lengths from two selling platers, Lake Shore and Volley.

The majority of the two-year-olds are like a great many mines in California—utterly worthless. There is not one of them, with the exception of Firearm—he has only started once—who has not been beaten. They are defeated so ignominiously that they appear to be utterly worthless, when presto they come to the surface with a sort of "here we are again" style. At present everybody thinks Firearm is the best simply because he has won a race. In all probability he will start again next week, and then the bubble of his constancy is liable to explode. Miss Rowena ran a race this week that makes me think that Recreation, good, will more than hold her own with the youngsters here. Miss Rowena ran second to Jada, a fair filly, being beaten a head. As she was giving away seven pounds to the winner, her performance was at least creditable. She is not as good as she was in California—and her showing there was not brilliant—the trip across the continent having had a baneful effect on her nerves. She is crazy at the post now and cuts up in very bad style. The first time she started she ran into the fence. Altogether she is not within ten pounds of herself. So you see on the showing she made Recreation is more than liable to give a good account of herself. The latter, however, I'm sorry to say is no at her best. She caught cold on the trip and had only just begun to round to when a splint, which had been in its incipient stages in California, developed, and she had to be treated for it. She is rounding to nicely now, but will hardly start before the Sheephead meeting.

Jimmy McCormick is giving the Burns & Waterhouse horses his personal attention, but he far from being strong it will take all of this summer for him to recuperate. His sickness wasted him considerably and the agony he went through has left its mark, his hair being turned gray. What he has suffered has only been physically, as he is just as sharp and shrewd as ever. When his horses get well he will just about make some of the "layers" think they have been taken with a bad case of mal de mare.

A new track will open on the 16th inst. It is located at Fort Erie, in Canada. It is opposite the thriving city of Buffalo and handy to Toronto. Joe Ullman is behind the new venture and it looks as if it will be a go, as a great deal of interest is being taken in it by horsemen in the western part of the State. Judge Burke will officiate.

The Thompson Brothers, owner of the Brookdale stud and Requitat, have determined to retire. They have given notice of an early sale of all the horses in training. From present indications the stud property will not be disposed of till a later date. The reason for this determination to dispose of the property left them by their father is not given, but well-informed men say that the shrinkage of stocks held by the young men has had as much to do with it as Requitat's bad showing. The latter's poor performance, it seems, was the last straw, and when it came they threw up both hands and said: "We have had enough. Requitat's bad form is in no wise due to his trainer, Jimmy Rowe, but due to a cold which he contracted while en route from the farm in New Jersey to Morris Park. Mr. Rowe has done wonders with others in the string and his employers have nothing but praise for their trainer. It's a pity that Messrs. Thompson are going to retire, for the turf can ill afford the loss of such good sportsmen.

No sooner had Riley Grannen struck this section of the earth with his feet again than he began to pick winners. He has not made any big coups yet, but he has won, and that is quite a novelty to the genial young plunger, after his disastrous trip to the land of the setting sun. Speaking the other day about his three years of bad luck on "the Slope," he laughingly said "the climate" must have been responsible for his ill-fortune. He has nothing but praise for California, however, and says that if he has money he will be back again next winter. I sincerely hope he will, for there is not a more popular man on the track than Riley Grannen. His case was to have come up a few days ago, but as yet no decision has been rendered.

Ed Lorer's horses, in charge of Bill Murry, made their trip overseas safely as far as Chicago without a mishap. Then Yenkee Doodle, who is a glutton, eat himself sick and the string had to lay over in the windy city for a couple of days till "the Doodle" rounded too. The flyers are now at the "Spa." Ruinart shipped in fine shape. His trainer, Fred Merckle, writes me that he never was in such good shape as he is in at present. As he is a warm weather horse, Fred thinks he will take a lot of beating in the East. As I always had a high regard for Ruinart, I sincerely hope he will go to the post fit and well. That is all I ask of him. He will do the remainder.

The old fable about the lion and the lamb lying down together is somewhat exemplified in the trouble between P. J. Dwyer and Dave Gideon. After two years of bitter animosity, which has been aired both on the race tracks and in court, the trouble seems to be at an end; at least the following letter would tend to show a return of better feeling on the part of Mr. Dwyer. Mr. Gideon found the letter in his mail yesterday (Wednesday):

DEAR MR. GIDEON: Some time ago, in a heated discussion, I made some remarks on hearsay which were believed by you to have reflected on your character. Failing on investigation to find proof to maintain them, I offer you a sincere apology, and hope that the pleasant relations formerly existing between us will be renewed. I am, Yours truly, P. J. DWYER.

Mr. Gideon accepted the apology in the same cordial manner as it was extended, and mellow peace now sheds its hallowing influence over the one-time belligerents. Gideon's case against Dwyer will now be dropped, as all "Dave" wished for was vindication. In the words of U. S. Grant, "let us have peace." SAN JUAN.

TRAINING RACE HORSES.

Observations on the American and Australian Systems of "Cooling Out"—Where to Place a Saddle on a Horse.

The following observations and illustrations of the different ways of treating and caring for running horses after racing or "working out" in different countries may be interesting and beneficial to students of the same. The writer has made an exhaustive study of the various methods practiced in different parts of the world, where his experiences have extended for about twenty or twenty-five years, being continually among race horses in training. I will merely endeavor to enumerate a few of the most perplexing and contradicting points of each system, leaving it to the common sense and sound judgment of your readers to judge which is right:

In California, where we have so much racing in the winter, in the wet, cold, foggy and inclement weather, I think the comparison of the two styles would result in a beneficial discrimination of which was best adapted for this climate. In the first place, the style of cooling out horses practiced here proves very injurious to racers, and the writer has come to the conclusion it is the main cause of producing so much catarrhal fever, lung fever and pneumonia. When a horse is brought in here hot it is "hurry up and scrape him," they get somebody each side to rub on body wash, then scrape off, quickly blanketing and covering every part of the body, then put leg dopes and headgears on, giving him to a boy to walk about outside several times, stopping, stripping and rubbing until the animal is cooled out.

Now, Californian trainers do not think for a moment of the terrible risks they are taking. They seem to have but one fear, viz., "cording up." They do not consider the exposure of the most vital part (the lungs). Horses in this country, when overheated from work, are taken right out into the cold, damp and often foggy atmosphere to inhale the dampness and produce a chill on the heated lungs. How different and so much more rational is the system practiced in England, Africa, India and Australia! When a horse comes in heated in those countries he is taken at once to his stable, scraped and rubbed thoroughly dry from head to foot, thereby allowing the lungs to cool off thoroughly before being exposed to any outside atmosphere. When dried off he is taken to the "rolling place," where he will find great relief in rolling over and over, limbering up all the muscles and joints which may have been slightly jarred in his gallop. He is then taken in again, wiped over once more, his clothing, saddle and bridle put on, and then he is ridden at a gentle walk home, sometimes two or three miles. He is then groomed, afterwards being watered and fed. I think any fair-minded man will agree with me in saying the latter style is better than the first, as you study the body and legs in the former at the sacrifice of the lungs, whereas in the latter you protect the lungs, without exposure, while the body is cooled off.

In no country where the writer has been has he heard of so much catarrhal fever as in California. Some remark that this style of cooling out has been practiced many years with good results. But do they ever consider that cooling out trotters in beautiful summer weather is very different to cooling out running horses in winter, when we often feel the cold and fog penetrating through overcoats and nearly freezing us, this while watching the races being run?

does not follow because this style of "cooling out" answered for trotters in summer weather it is also beneficial to runners in winter weather.

One thing I noticed in particular, and that was: In no country where the writer has been has he seen such care and attention bestowed on horses' legs as in California, and this is necessary on account of the hard tracks on which they race and the way in which they are saddled up for races.

I wish to write of another thing. In other countries they always put a saddle where nature intended it to be put—in a spot forming a cushion, just where the withers slope downwards and backwards. In placing a saddle there you distribute the weight on the fore and hind quarters proportionately, but here in California the saddle is placed in front of where nature intended it to be carried, thereby bringing all the weight and concussion on the front legs, and in particular the shins and ankles, producing hock shins and ossicles, which are very scarce indeed in other countries. By saying in America I refer more particularly to trainers of runners, where they saddle up a horse to carry 90 to 100 pounds. But again, a ranchero or cowboy will place his saddle on the flat of his horse's back, behind the withers, often riding as heavy as 250 or 300 pounds, and for hours at a time. I therefore cannot see where the benefit of placing a saddle on top of the withers comes in, but can see where it is radically wrong. Really, on account of the hard nature of American courses, more care should be exercised in saddling a horse here than in countries where turf tracks are used, so this is to my mind a very important matter.

Another very contradictory thing I have noticed is in "warming" horses up for races in this country. A horse is first taken out on to the track and worked at whatever pace and distance the trainer thinks necessary for his horse. He is then brought in and scraped, if requisite, then clothed and given to a boy to walk about until time to go to post. The writer remembers being taken to task by a well-known trainer and asked why he did not warm his horse up before sending him to the post. I remarked I could not see the reason in doing as is customary in this country, because if I worked a horse out and clothed him after being scraped, gave him to a boy to lead about to cool out, why should I do the same thing to warm a horse up? Surely the two extremes could not be accomplished by the same treatment. I may therefore state that I did as was done in Australia, where the hell rings a quarter of an hour before starting time, when we send our horses out on the track all ready to start. They are generally sent at a smart gallop up the stretch to the home turn and raced back at the pace the trainer thinks requisite, when they are pulled up, ridden back in front of the saddling paddock, their girths and other accoutrements examined and tightened, when the rider receives his whip and instructions and gallops away to the starting post, where he arrives thoroughly warmed up, eager to jump off and race true to his physical condition, which I think is better than this practice in vogue out here—that of warming a horse up, then clothing him and stripping him to go to the post exposing it to the inclemency of the weather—stripping after being clothed up well previously. If the clubs out in this country were to allow a quarter of an hour to warm up, as in other countries, it would prove more beneficial and satisfactory to all, I think.

I sincerely hope my reading friends will not consider me egotistical or bigoted in my endeavors to explain the two sides of an argument, but will persevere with deliberation the above facts, and if found conducive to improvement I will be most highly satisfied, and, if not, I hope a pen more able than mine will do fuller justice to such an important subject—one of benefit to man and horse.

Death of Byron McClelland.

LEXINGTON (Ky.), June 11.—Byron McClelland, the well-known turfman, died at 8:15 o'clock to-night. Pneumonia developed last night. He had been unconscious since yesterday. He was 45 years of age and worth $500,000, all made in racing in about fifteen years. He leaves a widow and an adopted child.

Byron McClelland was as well known as any horseman in America. As the trainer and owner of the great Henry of Navarre, which ran such sensational races with Clifford and Domino in 1894, he became one of the most talked-about men on the turf. He was born and raised in Lexington, Ky., a place which turns out more racers and racing men than any other spot in the country. His father was a horse trainer, and all his brothers are trainers.

Young McClelland's baby days were almost spent in a racing stable, although his mother never took kindly to the calling. She made a desperate effort when he was just merging into manhood to get him out of the race horse atmosphere, and secured a position for him on the Lexington Press. But it happened that, like every other prominent man in that section of the country, H. C. Duncan, owner of the Press, had a racing stable, and quickly appreciating McClelland's valuable horse knowledge, induced him to take its management as trainer and jockey.

He spent five years with Mr. Duncan and then began to build up a stable of his own. Later he took charge of W. L. Scott's horses, winning many great stakes with Greystone, Blue Grass Belle, Cherity, All-Hands-Around and a score of other good ones.

Byron fell in love with a Lexington young lady one day, but he made the resolve that he would not marry until he had at least $50,000. He was a long way from having fifty thousand then, but while in stable partnership with Dick Roche of St. Louis he got hold of that great little horse Badger. In bets and purses Badger earned more than $50,000 for McClelland in a season, and the wedding followed. All racing men remember the great two-year-old Sallie McClelland of four years ago. That filly was named after his wife, and to-day is having a very time on McClelland's Kentucky farm.

During his career, McClelland brought out many good horses, among the number Prince Lief, Maceo and Halma.

Ferndale Ranch.

A trip to Ferndale ranch, situated in the Santa Paula Canyon, about five miles from the town of Santa Paula, on the road that leads to the Ojai, is a most enjoyable one and a surprise to all who visit the ranch. A striking change greets the eye as you approach the entrance; the cool waters that flow continuously from the solid masonry walls are refreshing in the extreme, after traversing a hot and dusty road. The broad avenues are ornamented with various natural trees and flowers. The playful waters in the brook that outlines the main avenue is bordered with ferns, and, leading to fish ponds and fountains, cannot but be appreciated by the lovers of nature. A beautiful valley, surrounded by high mountain peaks, leads to and beautifies the approach to Echo Falls, as well as the head waters of the Santa Paula creek, where there are deep gorges and cascades almost equal those of the valley of the Yosemite. Nature's architects have been most liberal in embellishing this beautiful spot, now the country home of A. C. Dietz, of Oakland, the owner of Ferndale ranch, now principally employed as a breeding farm for high-bred horses for road and speed purposes. The lovers of the horse could scarcely fail to appreciate the high-bred colts which are from noted race mares, which extend to such fashionable breeds as the Electioners, Wilkes, Nutwoods, Hambletonian, Moors and Patchens. The present head of the stud is one of the most beautiful in Southern California, being from Sabia Wilkes, he by Guy Wilkes, he by George Wilkes, he by Hambletonian 10, the first dam being the noted race mare Olivette, by Whipple's Hambletonian; second dam Bell, by Dave Hill, he by Black Hawk. This is one of the most beautiful stallions that I ever looked upon. He is now five years old, color black, with white stockings, high carriage, perfect in speed lines. The pleasure of looking upon such a horse well repays a day's ride in the dust and hot sun, and I must say that Ferndale is well represented in the horse land and we congratulate Mr. Dietz as being the fortunate owner of Ferndale Ranch and Sabia Czer.

The Horse Show.

A conference of the Directors of the Horse Show Association and a committee representing the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association was held on Tuesday at office of George Newhall. Henry J. Crocker, Major Rathbone and George Newhall represented the Horse Show Association, while the committee of the Breeders' Association was composed of Captain N. T. Smith, John F. Boyd, J. C. Kirkpatrick, E. P. Heald, F. H. Burke, John A. McKerron, Frank Covey and Charles Hug.

The prospects of the horse show this year was fully discussed. President Crocker pointed out the disadvantages under which the association labored, especially in regard to securing entries for the different classes, notwithstanding the offer of fair premiums. The members of the Breeders' Association promised their assistance in conducting the classes in the harness horse department and assured the horse show directors of a big entry list.

While no definite action was taken at the conference, the assurance given by the Breeders' Association will doubtless result in a show being held this year as heretofore.

The Lorrillard-Beresford stable's three-year-old brown gelding Sandia won the Fern Hill stakes of twenty sovereigns each, with 300 sovereigns added at the second day's racing at Ascot Heath last Wednesday. Leopold de Rothschild's Galinbia was second and A. F. Alexander's Mandoria third.

An Amateur Driver's Experience.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:

In the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and ever so long ago, I first met the talented author of "Horse Portraiture," fell a victim to his eloquence, and after reading his excellent work upon the training and handling of the trotting horse, I felt there was nothing really very difficult in developing speed, and that I, too, might train a star which would dim the luster of Dexter, then in his prime and the king of trotters. That I had never owned a horse and knew as little about them as the average race track tout was "no bar." Some day I would be the proud proprietor of an equine gem and he or she should be fashioned after my old friend Simpson's whose ideal is as near a thoroughbred as possible, and a quarter of a century has slipped away since then, and I have owned a lot of pretty hard cases, but until the last two years I never stumbled across just exactly the thoroughbred to experiment upon; then I struck it rich, but "in the back of the neck." I refer to the mare Lassie B., pretty well known on the Alameda race track as "Bennett's skate," sired by Mountain Boy, dam by the celebrated four-miler, Lodi; wiry, nervous, finished like a high-class running horse; sixteen bends high, and built like a greyhound; legs clean, dry and flat; withers slanting well into the sway of the back; broad knees, strong hocks, stiffler well let down, pasterns slender but strong, hoofs perfect, sound, and then just five years old. Here, I thought, is the horse I long have sought, and if ever she trots fast that Lodi blood will pull her through a race, and never mind how the heats might be broken. I didn't know then that five first-rate professional trainers had tried their hands on her and had all made dead failures of the contract, or I would not have bought the mare, but I did. Her gait was unusually long and high, and of that unhandy character known as dwelling; that is, she would lift her long, slim front leg, stick it out straight, and then seem to be lost in reflection until she had decided just where to place her foot. Behind she bounded along in a hippity-hop manner, which seemed to be utterly independent of her forward action, and as a young lady friend of my wife said, it was very picturesque and so romantic. I have hated that girl ever since. Other well-meaning friends urged me to sell her, or, if I couldn't do that, to hang her tail and make a runner out of her, but I simply couldn't sell her and had to stay with the job. I bought her in the early spring of '95, and she kept along in her uneven tenor and hippity-skip methods of progression until late in September of that year. In this awkward way of going she could get through a mile in about 3:25. I shod her during this time with every style of shoe I could think of, but without any satisfactory results; then I got hold of a copy of Roberge's work on shoeing, read up thoroughly upon leveling the foot, and finally tried the rolling-motion shoe, as recommended by Mr. Robert Bonner. The result was remarkable. On Saturday morning I tried her half a mile with her regular shoes on; i. e., 12 oz. in front and 8 behind, and she finished the half miserably in 1:41, or a 3:22 gait. That afternoon I put on a pair of 12 oz. rolling motion shoes, as directed by Dr. Roberge, and within one hour afterwards she trotted over the same track a half mile in 1:20½, or a 2:41 gait; two days later finished one mile out in 2:42. Then I was sure I had a trotter. My old friend, Simpson, was right; the thoroughbred with trotting action was the only horse worth experimenting with, etc. That is about one year ago. Since that time the mare has stuck persistently at that 2:40 gait. Sometimes it is true, showing a great deal of speed for a forlong, but dropping back if called upon for a mile to about that figure. By reason of carefully leveling her feet she no longer hopped and hitched behind in her former romantic fashion, as described, but she would not improve. Her action in front still continued unusually high, reaching and "dwelling"; in short, anything but satisfactory; and although she had managed to crowd a mile out in a race in 2:35½, she was distanced, and, being Bennett's skate, she and her driver received quite an ovation from a searctic and highly-amused crowd who knew to a man just how to drive that or any other difficult equine puzzle.

This race nearly discouraged me. I knew the mare had speed, but couldn't get it out of her. Her action was so high that, by the advice of any number of experienced horsemen, I shod her as light as possible, finally adopting 6½ ounces all round as the weight best suited to her peculiar way of going, and so I stumbled along until about two weeks ago. Then I tried the much lauded and much abused toe weights, with 6½ oz. shoes all round. A slight benefit was evident. The action was quickened, but she still dwelt provokingly. I had all of this time been driving her without a check or checking up only to a medium height, as she naturally carried her head high. I started back to the stable in disgust, but met on the track a trainer driving a trotter with his head set up very high with a kind of derrick-acting check. "Raymond," I think it is called—unsightly but powerful. It was the only thing I had not tried, and it seemed a very forlorn hope, but I borrowed a check like it, and the next morning (Sunday) jogged down to the track with the mare rigged out in the bird-cage-looking affair, head checked up into a most uncomfortable, star-gazing position, and her 2-oz hress toe weights glancing in, to me, very irritating style, for I am afraid of those inventions. My driver sent the mare round the track at a jog, and a wonderful change was at once apparent, for in spite of the strained-up head, bird-cage and toe-weight attachments, she was going light and sharp, no dwelling or hitching, and the gait quick, decisive and clean. A pacer with a record of 2:26 or 2:27 joined her at the half-mile pole, and away they flew. I could hardly believe my eyes as I looked at my watch, which marked the first furlong in 18 seconds and the second in 17½, or a 2:20 gait. The pacer went up twice, and, Leslie B., the skate and equine puzzle, had solved her difficulty, finishing the half mile with ease in 1:13½ without a skip and evidently perfectly capable of doing it in 1:12, and if I hadn't been such a pig-headed party and refused to use the bird cage, high check and toe weights, I might have converted that slim, racy-looking skate into a trotter long ago. But this accidental conversion of a very ordinary trotting horse into a rather fast one in one day, and the method by which it was done, reminds one of Mrs. Partington's celebrated recipe: "You put a piece of indigo into a pail of water and if it is good it will either sink or swim," I have forgotten which. Mayha bird cages, high checks and toe weights might not suit all skates handled by amateur trainers, but I struck it and struck it "all of a sudden." Mr. Editor of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN, is it usual for horses to suddenly develop in this way, or does this happen only to amateurs who experiment with skates? Yours, Alameda, June 14, 1897. SANFORD BENNETT.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

WHAT THE OBJECTION? I cannot imagine any valid reason for the P. C. T. H. B. A. refusing to give the "block system" a trial while there are sound arguments in favor thereof. It may be that when I am favorably impressed with a scheme there is a tendency to overrate its importance, especially when there is novelty to recommend, as well as other tangible grounds for approval, but in this case the value is too great to be overlooked.

A momentous question that of race course speculation, demanding careful consideration and every endeavor on the part of those who control race courses and trotting tracks to eliminate the features which awaken the most violent opposition.

Therefore when this new plan, so new in this country that it is yet untried, gives promise of being vastly beneficial in the way of eradicating admitted evils; one who believes in its efficiency, and is a well-wisher of sports of the turf and anxious for their future prosperity would be derelict in his duty if he failed to urge the adoption of what he considers a potent remedy.

The staunchest advocate of book-betting must concede that it virtually offers a premium for fraud and rascality.

That and a system of auction pools, which prevail in the East, are the only methods whereby, in a field of horses, there is a direct return for robbery. Stealing simplified. Doors of vault and safe left open, coin in plain sight, and with so many crooked passages ways leading to the treasure that detection is troublesome, the most astute of judges and other race course officials being unable to cope with the sharp operators. They occupy vantage grounds which are almost impregnable, and though there are some bunglers, who essay the same tactics, caught and punished, those who have acquired skill by long practice, and that allied to natural shrewdness, go "unwhipped of justice." "Sure money," when all that is necessary to obtain the reward is a bad start, to get in a pocket, an incurva, apparently due to over-anxiety of the jockey to win, killed by the pace at an early stage of the race, a shortened martingale or misplaced saddle, laying too far back, left at the post, it is scarcely necessary to "dope," "fill up," start short of work, or too much of it, and endanger the animal by "fixing" so that it cannot win. But jockeys have to be taken into the partnership when the race is to be lost by their connivance, and hence cautious people prefer other courses.

The analogous practice in harness racing is to sell one horse and the field, and then the chances of profiting are the same as bookmakers afford. Should mutuels, or the block system, be allowed to pursue this course, the same objection, but if privileges are sold it will be easy to incorporate a clause in the contract forbidding that or other reprehensible features.

Mr. Tipton leased the pooling last season on the Anacosta and Butte tracks, and he discovered that there was reprehensible work that he was powerless to correct. This year he retains full supervision, refusing to sell, and he has added another valuable lesson to those which were placed on the blackboard of 1896.

Now, the P. C. T. H. B. A., by adopting the block system, engaging the necessary clerks and cashiers to do the work, would secure whatever profit there is in this business. There must be profit as salaries would be a small part of the five per cent. commission, and there is no risk. The outfit is comparatively small, the cost of one Paris mutual machine being far greater than a dozen boards, with little difference in the outlay for tickets. The privilege of the auction pools might be awarded to the best bidder, though with the French and Australian reports for a guide, with properly managed block or totalizator, sales by "public outcry" would not be large.

The breeders taking the initiative, proving that a better system was within reach than the old plans, showing by actual demonstration that associations could realize as much or more than was derived from books, it might be that the State Fair directors would follow, and, with that testimony favorable, the two big Jockey Clubs take up the reforming measure, and then the greatest of all the obstacles in the way of the continued prosperity of turf and track removed.

That the present system of speculating on races has been the primary cause of adverse legislation and engendered opposition that would not have been arrayed against racing under other circumstances, is so palpably manifest that long arguments are unnecessary to sustain the allegation. The objection already presented that fraud brings an immediate reward, while forcible and beyond successful contradiction, is not the only clause in the indictment. Book-betting is accompanied by an array of camp followers, a horde of mercenaries ready and willing to go into a scheme from which a few dollars can be gathered. Bookmakers, at least the prominent ones, are not responsible for these hangers-on any more than the good citizens of San Francisco are chargeable with the crimes and conditions of the slums. Under whatever measures racing is conducted there will be objectionable classes, but with a change radical and sweeping as that proposed will be, the occupation of a large proportion will be gone, the others forced into a smaller field of operations. The revenue from bookmakers has been so large that it will be difficult to convince associations that losses will not be encountered by dropping them, and when some $2,000 are credited on a daily average it does not appear that five per cent. on the business will return that much, with a chance for a big reduction. Could the percentage be hidden as it is to all but experts in the books, the ratio might be increased. But to offset a probable loss there is a certain gain in popular favor and a diminished risk of the passage of laws such as have followed the introduction of book betting in several States. As has been exemplified in Illinois, Pennsylvania and Connecticut prohibitory laws, when once enacted, are extremely difficult to change, and, as in the case of Wisconsin, where book betting has had full swing for a time, clamors are raised which influence legislators to pass stringent laws to suppress it.

California, while not so badly off as some of the other States in the way of harboring bigots who would fain make everyone walk to the narrow line they mark, is not entirely exempt from danger, and this method of speculating on races is about the only weak point there is to strengthen.

Personally, the sola objection I have to the foreign system is that, as heretofore stated, it offers a direct premium for fraudulent racing, an immediate recompense for villainy. Brings on an "irrepressible conflict" between the officials of jockey clubs and those who are inspired by the sola motive, plunder.

If speculators are satisfied to accept the rates fixed by the "ring," that is a matter which concerns them alone. But when all the interests connected with racing are jeopardized, when it is only a question of time when the embargo will embrace the whole country; when all the capital invested is hopelessly sunk; when the magnificent racecourses are dilapidated wastes, the glorious recreation a shadowy memory, a history of the past, people bound by the shackles which bigotry fastens on wrists and ankles, with collar-encircled necks haunted by the sting of remorse that the fire which heated the iron was fanned by themselves, it is time to reflect on the situation and adopt reformatory measures without delay.

AND THE CONTRAST! Surely when decorum is something to be valued, when order is given preference over turmoil and confusion, when there is an opportunity to gratify the wish to invest on the coming contest in peace and comfort, in place of being pushed about, almost forced to fight to obtain a ticket, this new method, conducted in a way that will be easy to carry out, is far superior to the old. In lieu of a score of men on the "blocks," vociferating and gesticulating, boxes crowded so closely together that passage is barred, all that is required as many booths as are necessary to afford everyone a chance, hoards and packets of tickets in full view, railings such as are used in railway ticket offices to compel buyers to form in line, one man to take from the packet the tickets demanded, another to receive the price, and a third to cash the checks.

Sheet writers, bookkeepers, and ticket clerks, supernumeraries. The only book required one that will show the race, the horses engaged, the tickets sold on each, the aggregate of the tickets, the gross and net amount of the pool, and the sum to be paid winners.

It seems as though there must be some weak spots in the system, something to counterbalance the many advantages proffered, and that close scrutiny will bring them to view.

One objection was answered last week, that being that a purchaser would not know the odds obtained until the pool was closed. In my opinion, that is a trivial charge, and another urged that large investors cannot get their money on is not such a huge bug-a-boo as it is claimed. It will be as well, however, to make these and other issues the subject of future articles, and this is closed with the ardent hope that the P. C. T. H. B. A. will give the "block" a fair trial.

It may be that the ultra-conservatism which now prevails may be in the way, or the demoralization consequent upon the late scare not entirely overcome, though if a portion of the spirit which animated the association a few years ago is still available, a trial would be given.

DOUBTS DISPELLED. } It will be better to write misgiv-SUMMER PROGRAMMES. } ings partially overcome, as while the programmes for the summer meeting at Emery-village and the meetings at Chico and Willows are advertised in this number of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN, the dates are not given. Very good bills, classes well chosen, and purses more liberal than could have been expected when the drawback of coming before the State Fair is taken into consideration. At all three meetings the classification is the same. Trotting, 2:40, 2:30, 2:24, 2:19, 2:16, 2:13—colts two and three-year-olds. Pacing, 2:25, 2:20, 2:17, 2:13, 2:10—colts, two and three-year-olds.

At Chico and Willows four additional purses for horses owned in the district, viz., 3:00 class trotters, the same class for pacers, three-year-old trotters, three-year-old pacers which are eligible to 3:00 class. Entries close on the 15th of July. This is all the intelligence presented in the advertisement, but in order to put intended nominators on their guard, the last sentence reads: "For further conditions and entry blanks send to F. W. Kelley, Secretary, 22½ Geary Street, San Francisco."

Thankful that the programme of the meeting at Emery-village—fixed upon about two months ago by the Board of Directors—has been made public, I am not disposed to criticize at all harshly, though a few more words would tell when the meetings are to be held, the length of the races, the entrance fee, the number required to fill, starters necessary and division of the money. The entry blanks referred to will in all probability supply that important information, and in the meantime surmise that Emeryville will open on the 24th or 31st of July, dependent on a meeting at Santa Rosa coming between Emeryville and Chico, that and Willows preceding Marysville and Woodland, the last named being set for the week before the State Fair. A fair supposition that the races will be heats of a mile, best 3 in 5, with the exception of those for two-year-olds. I will not hazard a guess of the number of entries exacted or number of starters required to make a race, the division of the money not so intricate, there being few divergences from the customary 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent. of the amount of the purse. Entrance fee may be five per cent. and five per cent.
additional from "money winners," and eligibility, presumably, dates from July 15th, the time of closing of entries.
Few words required to embody the important information in the advertisement. Emeryville commencing July 24th or 31st, Chico August 16th—21st, Willows 23d—28th. Entrance
5 per cent., 5 per cent. additional on full amount of purse from winners of money. Two-year-old races heats of a mile 2 in 3, all others 3 in 5. — entries to fill —. Starters.

"Published conditions" are the contract between the association and those who make entries. Others than "parties of the second part" are interested. Not only members of the association, as other associations are seeking for goidas to determine the course they will pursue. "Further conditions," to obtain which demands must be made on the Secretary, are in great measure hidden from public view. Whether justified or not by the facts when learned, it is a likely conclusion that newspaper publicity is interdicted from fear of criticism.
When conditions are plainly stated, and made a part of the programme, those who enter into the contract do so with full knowledge of what their engagements mean, and compliance therewith absolve them from breach of contract. But should an entry be sent on basis of the advertisement which has seen in the paper, and learns afterwards that the conditions are entirely different, he would have good cause to kick. Then again the advertisement giving so little information, it is thrown aside and no further thought given to the matter.

If withholding material conditions was merely an oversight it is easily remedied, as the closing of entries is far enough off for the correction to be noted.

Whatever the faults, however, owners must attend a liberal support. So much depends on these preliminary meetings being well sustained that no one, however slightly interested in harness racing, can afford to stand aloof, and the programmes, in regard to the classification and amount of money offered, are beyond reproach. From $500 to $600 at the Emeryville in the all-ages division, from $400 to $500 at Chico and Willows is equivalent to double these amounts in the latter part of the circuit. It will help greatly if Marysville and Woodland will publish their programmes soon, as there will be an assurance then that every weak will be occupied from the commencement to the close of the circuit.

"WELL DONE."—If anyone objects to adding the rest of the words, that are usually quoted, to the above sidehead, the "kick" will not be owing to the action of the Governor in filling the Board of Directors of the California State Agricultural Society. The old members of the Board retained are Hon. John Boggs, C. M. Chase, Dr. W. P. Matthews and John W. Wilson; the new, George H. Fox of San Joaquin.
If long and efficient service merits reward, the gentlemen named are well worthy of far greater honors than that bestowed, and while it may be considered somewhat invidious to give any one of them the highest place, where all are so eminently worthy, I cannot refrain from selecting the two who have filled the presidential chair so ably.

To the best of my recollection Mr. Boggs has been a member of the Board nearly every term—it may be all of them—since I landed in California in 1874, and Mr. Chase, while not serving so many years, was an active worker to promote all the interests depending years before he became officially associated with the Society.

A strong and efficient Board surely. The new members A.
B. Spreckles, F. W. Covey and George W. Fox who, in conjunction with the veterans, cannot fail to handle the big exposition in a "masterly manner."

STOCKTON MEETING.—Somewhat after the will-o-the-wisp phantasm the reports of a harness-racing meeting in Stockton. One week Dama Rumor said, "positively there not be races," the next that there would.

Definitely settled now that the week after the State Fair will be utilized, in accordance with the usages of the past, but not under the control of the San Joaquin Valley Association. The track has been leased to a club which will give liberal purses, and it is safe to say that the new body will receive liberal support. If there were misgivings about entries these must have given place to confidence when the Breeders' list was made public. Three months' harness racing is now assured; lively times from the last of July to the first of November.

Stockton Fair Assured.

It has already been announced that Stockton will have a fair this year, both at the pavilion and track. It may be further stated that the promoters propose to make it the biggest affair in years; in fact, it will be a revival of the old-time successes, with features objectionable eliminated. There was a meeting recently to further the project and the committee of enterprising young men who have the matter in charge find that they have matters well in hand and in due time will be ready to announce their definite program.

George Catts, of Lauren & Catts, is president of the new organization which is to conduct the association property this year under the lease. John W. Willy is the Secretary, and C. E. Doan, who is thoroughly familiar with the affairs of the association, will manage the track end of the entertainment.

As soon as the Oakland race meet is ended the track committee will go to work securing the best horses for the fall meeting here. It will be the aim, in fact, it is the fixed purpose of the managers, to secure only the best attractions.
The races will come under the National Association rules and due care will be exercised to see that all formalities are complied with in that respect.

The pavilion will have its full share of attractions. There are now over 100 merchants, manufacturers and agents of outside concerns that have agreed to come in and place exhibits. Last year there were only about twenty-one bona fide exhibitors, and when it is considered that five times that amount of space is already spoken for, some idea can be had of the good start this project has made.

The promoters believe the success is already assured.
They have energetic citizens interested who believe that a good, rousing fair will not only bring people here to see the city, but will leave money with the trades people and wage-earners. The reports received at the meeting last evening were highly encouraging and the success of the fair seems assured.—Stockton Independent.

Quick in Results and Safe.

NEW ULM, MINN., Oct. 29, 1896.

Regarding the merits of your Balsam I purchased, can say my pacing mare strained her suspensory ligament so badly that she could hardly walk. This was in the middle of June, and every horseman expressed his fear that she would not be able to race again this season. I gave her a stiff blister with Canstic Balsam, repeated it 10 hours later, and left her in the barn for two weeks. July 4th I started her in a half-mile race and won, best time, 1:20. From August 28th to September 17th I started her five times and never was behind the money, being second four times and third once.

TURF AND TRACK.

THE SULKY.

CRICKET, 2:10, has been bred to McKinney, 2:11.

LIKE LIKE, 2:25, by Whippleton has been bred to Diablo, 2:09.

THERE will be no bookmaking on the California circuit this season.

THREE of Altamont's 2:10 performers will be on the turf this year.

LITTLE MAID, 2:18, by Rockwood, has foaled a black colt by Altamont.

THE great stallion Waldstein will make his home in Humboldt county after this year.

HAVE you seen the advertisement of the spring meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association?

THE crop reports throughout California are more encouraging than they were a few months ago.

SEND in all the items you can. All of our readers are interested in horses, dogs, the gun and the rod.

REMEMBER the Los Angeles race meeting. You cannot afford to overlook it. Entries will close July 1st.

THE western pacer Byron, by Lord Byron, son of Gen. Benton, is said to have paced a half in 1:02. He has no record.

ALL the Palo Alto horse are doing well. There has not been a sick horse, mare, colt or filly, on this immense farm this year.

WINSHIP is starting off with his usual success. He has won four races out of five starts at Denver and was second in the other.

THE BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN is the best advertising medium in California for all who deal in horses, harness, and carriages.

COPELAND, 2:11, by Del Mar, is in great form, and is regarded as capable of holding his own with the trotters he will have to meet.

A LARGE number of horses are being trained at the San Jose track, but very few appear among those entered at the Breeders' meeting.

WALTER MABEN has entirely recovered the use of his arm and will be seen in the California circuit behind some good horses this year.

THE Directors of the Napa and Petaluma Associations were astonished to see such a splendid list of entries for the P. C. T. H. B. Association.

PALON, a bay gelding by Palo Alto, started in a race for 2:30 class trotters at Readville, Mass., June 2d, and was second in the fourth heat in 2:21.

FRED SECHTEM's Vevo and E. House's Gracie P. both by Altamont, worked out over the Irvington track last Sunday in 2:29, which is pretty good for roadsters.

SO GREAT was the crowd at a recent trotting meeting at Vienna, Austria, that the gates had to be closed, and as a result the grounds will be enlarged for next Fall's races.

McKINNEY, 2:11, has had a most successful season. His crop of colts and fillies this year has been a large one and better still, every youngster is a counterpart of his sire.

BERTHA, dam of Diablo, 2:09, has a chestnut colt by her side, the first of that color since Diablo came. He is a heavy-boned, big-jointed youngster, and will make a large horse.

ED GEERS thinks that Athanio, 2:11; Rex Americus, 2:11; and Walter S., 2:12, make him a trio of horses eligible to the 2:10 and 2:11 classes, which will be hard to beat.

IRA PIERCE of Pierce Bros., Santa Rosa Stock Farm, has been in Santa Barbara all week. He will start in to "boom" the Santa Rosa meeting and will do all he can to make it a success.

GEO. J. MORRIS, the artist who made a short visit here, was married to a very wealthy young lady named Dorothy Kinzel last Thursday, and departed with his bride to his home in Chicago the following day.

GREAT speed is credited to Ingomar, a green son of Sidney now in training at the Glenville track. Pirie, another green one, by a son of Smuggler, is also credited with some excellent work at the same course.

THE bay mare, Vic Wood, that won a good race at Baltimore June 2d, was bred at Rancho del Paso. She was sired by Cornelius (son of Nutwood), and trotted the three heats in the race in 2:21, 2:19 and 2:22.

JOS. CAIRN SIMPSON has a Chas. Derby gelding that makes him feel twenty years younger every time he drives him. It would be very gratifying to everyone in California if this youngster proves a record breaker.

THE clubhouse contingent at Fleetwood look upon Fred Steinway's converted trotter, Elf, by Steinway, as being about the best green pacer in sight around New York. Charley Thompson says she ought to beat 2:10 this year.

THE sum of $150 is now offered for every horse suitable for cavalry purposes in California and they are scarce at that price. Last year they could be had for $95. This shows whether horses are increasing in value or not.

SILVER BOW, 2:16, is now in J. M. Nelson's stables at the Alameda track. He is better looking and better fit for a good preparation than he has been in two years. He has had a good two years' rest at his owner's farm, Clemente, Cal.

LAST week we published an inquiry about Sunrise, 2:25. C. W. Smith of Redington & Co., sends us the following: Sunrise, 2:25, brown gelding, foaled 1883, bred by P. Evaris Oakland, Cal., sired by Abbottsford, 2:19, dam Belle by Igual.

AGITATO, 2:09, is doing well under Mr. Hodge's guidance. He won his race at Denver last Saturday. This track was heavy, and his rival, W. Wood, 2:07, never would and never will pace over a heavy course. The harder the track the better he will go.

A SALE of all the horses now at Vina Stock Farm (about fifty head) will take place in this city, Thursday, July 8th, at Killip & Co.'s Stock Farm. Some of the greatest Palo Alto campaigners came from this farm, viz.: Azote, Cobwebs, Vina Belle, Alejadre, etc.

WM. MURRAY, owner of Diablo, 2:09, reports having more mares sent to his stallion than during the season of 1896. He has been handling several two and three-year-olds this summer, but concluded not to race them. They are speedy, level-headed and sound.

THE Arthur Wilkes pacing gelding, Paddy Miles, (no record) was sold to a well-known horseman of Willows for $800. He has been handled by Barney Simpson at Pleasanton and is very promising. Barney has a full sister that is equally as fast, and she is also for sale.

W. H. CRAWFORD, known among horsemen as "the Counsellor," died recently at his home in Evanston, near Chicago. Crawford was one of the old guard, becoming best known when he managed the J. L. Case stable, which contained Jay-Eye-See, 2:10, and Phallas, 2:13.

A RACE meeting for light harness horses will be given at the Walnut Grove Stock Farm race track on Saturday, July 3d. A splendid programme has been prepared and a good time is expected. A large number from Sacramento, Rio Vista and San Francisco will be on hand.

GEORGE DEXTER, 2:18, by Dexter Prince, is the sire of one of the first three-year-olds to take standard rank this season. His daughter, Telephone, won her race at Sacramento, May 28th, in 2:25, which is her first record. She is a pacer and is rated as one of the sure 2:15 performers of the year.

THE Oakwood Park Stock Farm will only have three horses out on the circuit this year—Owyhee, 2:24, by Cibolo, Klatawah, brother to Chas. Derby, 2:20, a pacer, two years old, and Oakwood Prince, a two-year-old by Dexter Prince out of Slight by Electioneer. The balance of the horses which were in training having been sold to W. B. Fasig.

"COLUMBUS," in Western Horseman, says of John Tilden's stable: Ella T., by Altamont, 2:08, never looked as strong and good as now. She worked a mile May 15th, in 2:18. Don't estimate her short of 2:04 or 2:05 this year. Another speedy pacer is Byrnes, a black four-year-old, by Nuthurst, son of Nutwood, dam Lady Daphne, 2:21, by Altamont.

AT Stockton, on Monday last, C. L. Ortman and Henry Oechler sold their black stallion Delphi to C. Whitehead of the St. Lawrence stables. Delphi is a promising young animal by Director, the dam being by Dexter Prince. He holds a record of 2:16. The figures are not given but it is understood that the animal brought the owners a very good price.

THE four-year-old trotter, Ante Dawn, 2:19, by Guy Wilkes, stepped a mile in 2:21 in his work at Fleetwood a few days ago. It was the first time he had been asked to trot below 2:38 this year, but he finished the mile within himself. The Fleetwood trainers think he is a 2:15 trotter. The gelding belongs to Fred Steinway, and is trained by John Daly.

J. J. SUMMERFIELD, D. V. S., one of the brightest young men who ever graduated from a veterinary college has chosen Santa Rosa as his future abode. Dr. Summerfield was for years with Dr. Egan and proved one of the most careful, studious and successful young men the latter had ever known. We take pleasure in recommending him to the horsemen of Sonoma county.

FALONEY, a four-year-old by Falone, got a mark of 2:29 at the Marysville spring races. Faloney was sired by Falone (he by Fallis, 2:28, out of Fanny Malone, granddam of Maud C., 2:14; Chas. Derby, 2:20; H. R. Covey, 2:25; Steiner, 2:29, and Sunlight, 2:25), by Niagara, and was bred by J. J. McGrath of Marysville. At Sacramento, two of Falone's yearlings won easily.

PENNOCK has been a mile in 2:24 with Iago 2:11. Mr. Hanna has driven this fast gelding a mile in 2:25 to wagon, however. Mr. Hanna says that Iago will be prepared for the 2:11 class at Cleveland, and will be seen in other races this year, besides the matinees. Last week, Iago was entered in the Asbland $4,000 stake for 2:11 class trotters for the fall meeting at Lexington.

THE following is credited to W. B. Fasig: "A pacing horse loses seventy per cent. of the price he would bring as a trotter. A little more care would make fifty per cent. of the pacers, trotters. If associations would care a little less for gate receipts and foster the trotters more, they would soon develop the trotters. As it is, the pacers will drive out the trotters in a few years."

DR. G. W. STIMPSON fired Rosordmonde last week and if she will do as well as all others this surgeon has operated upon she will be ready to race at the next meeting. There is no doubt of that, however, as Dr. Stimpson's improved method of firing is original with him and has been the means of attracting attention from all horsemen. No scars are to be seen and it is not so severe as the old way.

A NUMBER of horse-owners who did not make entries in the P. C. T. H. B. Association are doing just as we predicted, i. e., sending regrets that they did not make entries. At least one hundred and fifty horses are in training in California which would have been named had the owners been confident the races would fill. It is the same old story, but a few lessons like this may prove valuable.

GOOD horses of all kinds are practically as high as they ever were. Many a breeder's yard is entirely empty, and the dealers are hastening from point to point in the breeding districts, striving hard to pick up loads to fill out their contracts. The healthiest possible sign of any branch of the agricultural interest is hung out when buyers scour the country seeking to purchase from the producers.—Western Horseman.

THE following foals are reported from Fair Meadow Farm St. Johns, Or., this year—b c by Monterey (son of Malheur), out of Clara Belle by Ashland Patchen 48; b c by Fred R. son of Altamont, out of Belle by Rockwood 1467; h f by Altamont, out of Lady S., by Sheriff son of Kishar.

J. McDONALD, the young man who has been training the well-bred colts and fillies on the Sulphur Creek Stock Farm, Contra Costa county, resigned his position last week to superintend a consignment of horses which are to join the Salisbury-Griffiths string in the East this month. Mr. McDonald was delighted with the progress made by the youngsters which he handled and next season they will be old enough to give a good account of themselves in any company.

FOR some reason our California horse, Soudan, by Sultan, was omitted from the great table of sires in the last Year book. In volumes 8 and 10 he appears as the sire of Nubia, 2:27. Soudan has a good one out this year in the black pacing mare Octoroon, who has taken a record already this season of 2:29. There is room of some dispute as to the trotting record of Soudan. It is given in the table of 2:30 performers in volume 8 as 2:27, and the same under his sire but in the great table he is credited with a mark of 2:20, and this latter error, if error it is, is perpetuated in volume 10.

A LARGE crowd gathered at the ranch of J. G. Hill, on Saturday, many coming from a distance, for the fame of horses bred on the Hill place, is not confined to Ventura county by any means. After partaking of an excellent barbecue, the horses to be sold were exhibited and put up at auction. About fifty head were sold, bringing very good prices, considering the present dullness of the horse market, and the sale can be considered a success. Those who attended from Ventura speak very highly of the manner in which they were entertained and the way the sale was conducted.—Ventura Press.

THE Willows Promoter says: "Is it not about time that we knew what we are going to do about our race meeting? The time is getting short, less than eight weeks yet remaining before the date set rolls around. It is true that the Breeders Association has promised to give us a week's racing if we raise them $1,200, and we have, through Mr. Sullivan, accepted the proposition. The money has with the exception of a very small sum been subscribed, but further than taking the subscriptions we have done nothing. We should get together and appoint a committee at once whose duty it should be to confer with the Breeders Association in matters pertaining to the races. The Association should be given plenty of time to advertise its meeting and make such other arrangements as are necessary. So far they have nothing but the bare word of Mr. Sullivan that we want the meeting and will do our share towards making it a success. Let us get to work and settle this matter at once, as time is short."

WE do not understand why it is that our subscribers fail to send in their subscriptions to this paper. It is the only one that is struggling to keep their interests before the people and the associations. It costs a great deal of money to conduct it, and as we have placed the price of subscription at three dollars per year, we hope our friends will forward the amounts they owe at once. They can have no excuse, for the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN has done more to strengthen California's light-harness horse industry than all the publications on this Coast combined, and its work this year will be more interesting and valuable than ever. We must get Eastern buyers here for our horses, and as nearly all the leading ones in the East, in Europe, the Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Central America and Canada subscribe for this paper, it is easy to see how necessary it is that the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN should prosper. Our prosperity is your prosperity, and therefore all who are in arrears for subscriptions will confer a great favor if they will please respond to our modest request at once.

FREQUENTLY, horses which have been trotting many miles on the hard, macadamized roads, are found to lose their freedom of movement, and are said to "stump." The loss of elasticity is most noticeable when the animal is being ridden, and it imparts a feeling of uneasiness to the rider. This condition is due more often than not to the inflamed condition of the sensitive laminae of the hoof, which being enclosed in their hard and unyielding horny covering, are the cause of pain each time the animal puts his foot to the ground. The pleasure with which such a horse changes from high road to the turf is most marked, and the rider will also find in thus changing that the horse has almost, if not entirely, regained his previous elasticity of movement. The moral of this is that a horse's hoofs, especially those of the fore legs, on which the greater weight is thrown, should during dry and hot weather, be well wetted several times daily. Any of you who have experienced the effects of walking in tight boots for 10 miles on a dry and dusty road, will understand how much the horse suffers under the circumstances described.

A. J. WELCH's latest scheme for the advancement of harness racing at Charter Oak Park is to enforce "dress reform" at all meetings hereafter held on the Hartford track. Mr. Welch has taken up the Tewksbury idea in a modified form, and is going to require all drivers to be neatly and properly dressed and groomed before they mount their sulkies in public. Blue jeans jumpers, overalls, shirt-sleeves, unshaved faces, pipes, cigars and the like will all be barred. Every driver must wear appropriate colors in cap and jacket and be otherwise presentable in appearance. If he has no suitable cap or jacket of his own, the clerk of the scales will furnish them, and they must be worn in all races. Of course there will be no attempt to rival the elaborate and luxurious furnishings of the Tewksbury stable, where even the swipes are to be dressed in gold and black, but a good, long step will be taken in the direction of doing away with all that is slovenly in the appearance of those who take part in the racing spectacle at Hartford. The low standard, or rather the lack of any standard, of neatness in dress on the trotting turf has long been a reproach to the sport. Those who go to the races in holiday attire are naturally more or less disgusted when they see the men who furnish the entertainment gotten up in blue jeans jumpers, overalls, and perhaps driving in their shirt sleeves, unshaven and with cigars in their mouths. Everybody knows that such scenes are common on the trotting turf, and everybody ought to know that they are calculated to give offense to refined spectators, especially women, and to create the false impression that trotting-horse drivers are a tough set.

THE SADDLE.

RILEY GEANNAN was booking at Gravesend last week.

JOE PIGGOTT rode a winner and a second at Latonia last Tuesday.

CHARLEY SLAUGHTER rode three winners at St. Louis on the 11th inst.

HAMLIN, a recent winner at Ingalls Park, is by Fonso out of the dam of Hazel D.

THE Jockey Club has adopted a rule allowing two recalls from the rise of the barrier.

In the fifth race at St. Louis last Monday, Miriam G. fell, seriously injuring her rider.

THERE will be running, harness and bicycle racing at Hollister on Saturday, July 3d.

JOHNNY LAMLE has been engaged to ride Marcus Daly's horses this summer in Montana.

DeVAULT's win at Highland Park, Detroit, June 9th, was an easy one. J. Shields rode him too.

SPENCER rode Lobengula the day he won at Detroit. Beauchamp is riding at the same meeting.

JOSEPH J. BURKE is mentioned by the Eastern press as a likely official at the coming Brighton Beach meeting.

TOD SLOAN rode three winners at Brooklyn last Saturday, including Previous, winner of the Great American Stakes.

JOHNNY WOODS, the California featherweight, piloted Stockholm to victory at St. Louis last Saturday, odds 5 to 1.

DAVID GIDEON headed the list of winning owners at Morris Park, with $13,315. August Belmont was second with $11,045.

BENAMELA has developed into such a rank actor at the post that he was recently barred in the betting in a race at St. Louis.

BABE MURPHY was run up from $300 to $700 after her last win at Ingalls Park. Ezell retained the mare by bidding the extra $5.

LOGAN ran second again at Detroit last Tuesday, this time to R. Q. Ban. That hundredth victory for Logan is a long time coming.

FAYIDA, winner of the Clover Stakes, is by Owes (sire of Outlay) from Cynama, by imp. Glenelg, and was bred at Rancho del Paso.

ED CORRIGAN won a big lump of coin when Geyser won at Latonia on June 9th, backed from 7 down to 2 to 1. The colt won in a furious drive.

UNDER the new racing law in Missouri the poolrooms in St. Louis, as well as the electric light merry-go-round, will have to close up at the end of this month.

GEYSER, Ed Corrigan's crack colt, won a mile race at Latonia last Saturday, beating a fine field and running the distance in 1:41. Joe Piggott had the mount.

ED POWERS, a well-known turf correspondent who was out this way last winter, is racing the gelding Midlo in the East. Ed probably purchased him from 'Gene Leigh.

COL. WRIGHTMAN is pronounced by Daily Racing Form the best jumper at Latonia. He easily defeated Zaldivar by two lengths and gave him a little weight besides.

DAN HONIG is quoted by an Eastern exchange as saying that "Typhoon II is the greatest race horse I ever saw." Dan thinks he could beat Magnet doing anything.

OLD LOGAN ran second to Paul Griggs in a six-furlong race at Detroit last Monday, and Devault, also of Shields' stable, ran third to Ka'tan and Goose Liver in a mile race.

THE Messrs. Thompson, for which firm Jimmy Rowe is trainer, intend to retire permanently from racing. They will retain their breeding stud and offer yearlings for sale annually.

SAMARITANA, who paced in 2:20½ last week, is a three-year-old, and is the fastest three year-old of the season. She is by Mercury, 2:21, son of Sidney, dam by Masker, son of Brown Hal.

REDSKIN again ran six furlongs in 1:13½ at Ingalls Park on the 11th inst. Imp. Percy won a mile race in 1:42½, and The Cheat ran second to Hardly in a fast four and one-half furlong race.

BURNS & WATERHOUSE's fast filly, Shasta Water, ran second to Lou Bramble for the Latonia Oaks last Saturday, time, 2:08½ for the mile and a quarter. White Frost, the favorite, ran third.

THE genial Teuton, Barney Schriber, is credited with making a big clean-up at St. Louis on June 8th. Slaughter piloted three winners on that day. He hacked down Sugarfoot from 5 to 1 to 3 to 2.

BARTISO and San Blas, winners of the third and fourth races at St. Louis on the 9th of June, are sons of Volante, the famous California race horse that gave the best in the East more defeats than they gave him.

THE once famous racehorse, Longstreet, by Longfellow, is siring some very fair performers. Bonito, a bay filly by him, won a four and a half furlong dash at Ingalls Park, June 10th, defeating Dounsterswivel and six others.

SIR ANDREW, the St. Andrew—Gypsy colt in the Corrigan stable, ridden by W. Martin, won a six-furlong race at Latonia on June 11th. Time, 1:15½. Montgomery won at St. Louis on the same date. Time, 1:15 for six furlongs.

AUGUST BELMONT's chestnut horse Keenan ran second in the race for the Manchester Cup at the Manchester (England) Whitsuntide meeting, June 11th. The race was won by Mr. Debell's chestnut horse Piety. Nine horses ran. The cup is valued at 2,000 sovereigns in plate, the rest in specie, and the course is one mile and three-quarters.

SWING, a brown colt by imp. Quicklime—Semaphor, won a five-furlong race for two-year-olds at Latonia, June 11th. Ed Gardner's English horse is getting some very good winners. Mszarin, also owned by Mr. Gardner, won on the same date.

DAN HUGER, a frequent winner at St. Louis, is by imp. Simple Simon from Salara (dam of Toano), by English Salvator (son of Dollar); second dam imp. Lady Stockwell, one of the few Knowsley mares in America. Knowsley sired Merssy, dam of the famous Carbine.

GALTEE MORE is aptly named, says "Centaur" in the New York Commercial Advertiser. The Galtees are a range of mountains in Leinster. The highest peak is called Galtee More, so the name of the colt freely translated, might be said to be "The Greatest of the Great."

SAM MORTON, the well-known patrol judge, is to bloom as a professional starter, and will be barrier-raiser at the next Sacramento meeting as well as at Glenbrook Park. He was once a star baseball player, and should, with that quick eye of his, make a starter of more than average ability.

A DEAL was closed to-day for the sale of the Thornton ranch near here by the heirs of the Thornton estate to John W. Mackay, the New York millionaire. The ranch consists of over 100,000 acres and it is one of the finest in Texas. It is reported that Mr. Mackay will stock the place with thoroughbred horses.—San Antonio (Texas) dispatch, June 15.

At a yearling sale at the American Horse Exchange in New York on June 8th John E. Madden gave the top price, $3,750, for Glenheim, a brown colt by Hanover—imp. Cinderella, therefore a brother to Handsome and half brother to Hastings and Ferrier. Jimmy McCormick paid $1,250 for a brother to Counter Tenor at the same sale.

IMP. JULY, the brother to Sir Modred, Cheviot and Idalium that is now at Rancho del Paso, got his name through being foaled in July. That month, to New Zealand breeders, is like December to our breeders, for when he was three days old he was forced to be classed a yearling. It was a big handicap and of course disqualified him for all their two and three-year-old produce stakes and kept him out of Derbies, St. Legers and like events.

THE Thoroughbred Record says Lucretia Borgia's lowering of the Kentucky-bred Ten Broeck's long standing record at four miles attracted very little attention anywhere but in California, but that our people were much excited over the event. After telling of the lack of interest in four-mile races, however, we notice they copy both our regular report of the great trial against time and that of Joseph Cairn Simpson. It therefore must amount to something in their eyes after all.

THE last issue of The Thoroughbred Record contains pictures of several good-looking yearlings and some older horses. In the list of youngsters we noticed an extra good looking named Mark Hanna. This is a full brother to Kowalsky, well-known to our race-goers. A race-looking machine is a brown filly by Kingston out of Hypocrite. A very fine and likely-looking filly is the one by imp. Albert from Hoodoo, by imp. Darebin, and the brother to Terrify (Terra Cotta—Alarming) is a well-built fellow from his picture.

JOCKEY W. MARTIN is seen in the saddle now and then, but not often. He rode Ramiro to victory the first day of the meeting. His employer, Pat Dunne, went East to race over a week ago, and the reason Martin did not go along is that he was suspended by the Jockey Club last fall, and has not yet secured an Eastern license. I believe Dunne is trying to secure one for his jockey, but in case he does not succeed Martin has engaged to ride this season for W. H. Laudeman, who has a pretty fair string, including Ramiro.—Latonia Cor. N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

THE mare L'Abbesse de Jouarre, who won the Oaks in 1839, recently died in England in giving birth to a colt by Isinglass. The colt died in foaling and the mare succumbed. The mare's win in the Oaks was a surprise to her owner, Lord Randolph Churchill, for so little did he think of her chances that he did not go to Epsom to see her run. The loss of the colt by Isinglass is a great one, for he would have been worth at least £20,000 had he lived. The mare's unusual name had the effect of causing her to be nicknamed "Abscess on the Jaw."

THE race track at Agricultural Park presents a lively appearance these mornings, says the San Jose Herald. There are over 150 head of racehorses kept at the park, among them many record-breakers. Mr. Boots has twenty-four head, among them Lucretia Borgia, the mare that recently lowered the four-mile record to 7:11. Mr. Boots has a fine string of colts that are worked pretty hard every morning. Chas. Bunch has several good trotters on the track and is doing a great deal toward promoting racing interests. The Belmont Stock Farm has six horses on the track, Ben Corey has three, Goldworthy has a couple, Wm. Cecil has nine, John Gordon six, H. Frankly, Johnny Morehead and J. Crippen have four each, and there are fifty or sixty head belonging to other parties. Burns and Waterhouse have a fine string of runners. Dr. I. N. Frasse, of San Jose, has a very promising two-year-old that trots a mile in 2:30. There are several horses at the track that stepped a quarter in 30 seconds. Mr. Bunch informs us that there will be some good racing events in the near future.

A MISSOULA (Mont.) dispatch of June 14th was as follows: At midnight the great stable owned by Higgins Brothers, two miles west of Missoula, was discovered in flames. Within an hour the building was burned to the ground. Five race horses and a practice boy, Frank Ryan, aged 16, who comes from San Francisco, perished in the fire. The burned building formed a square containing a one-sixteenth-mile practice track. When the fire broke out there were seven race horses in the building. After covering their heads, two were rescued. Brino Tricks, Fire Stone, Fly, Spider and one unknown were burned. After the two horses were saved Ryan entered the stables on the north side and was overcome by smoke. The stablemen could do nothing to save him. When the flames were fiercest the spectacle was horrifying, as through the open doors the poor horses could be seen dropping in the fire. The fire was of incendiary origin. Within a year a depot building, owned by the same parties, was burned, and a week ago an attempt was made to burn the Higgins block here, valued at $120,000.

GALTEE MORE won the £10,000 Prince of Wales Stakes at Ascot, Eng., last Tuesday. Capt. Baird's Ovando was second and Mr. Lebaudy's Golden Age third. The winner, J. R. Gubbins' colt, was at 1 to 35 in the betting. The Prince and Princess of Wales and several others were present, besides Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Levi P. Morton and others of note from this country. The Lorillard Berezford from colt, Elfin, by Sensation—Equality, won the first of the fortieth Ascot Biennial Stakes, 10 sovereigns each, 500 sovereigns added, on the same date. Ten horses were in the race won by the American colt.

THE Great American Stakes of $12,500, for two-year-olds, was won last Saturday by M. F. Dwyer's colt Previous, son of imp. Meddler, first dam Sunnyside, by imp. Mortemer; second dam Sly Dance (dam of Walzer) by War Dance; third dam Sly Boots, by Rivoli, etc. Imp. Meddler, the sire, cost W. H. Forbes, of Readville, Mass., $75,000, and would have been favorite for the Epsom Derby had his owner, Abingdon Baird, not passed away. Meddler is a remarkably well bred horse, being by St. Gatien (winner of the Derby), while his first, second and third dams (Busyboddy, Spinaway and Queen Bertha) won the Oaks in England. Previous is said to be a tough, wear-and-tear sort of colt.

THE great racing and mining men, Burns & Waterhouse, through their trainer, J. H. McCormick, have already made a liberal purchase of thoroughbred yearlings. Nine were secured at the recent American sale of Kentucky youngsters held at New York by such well-known sires as imp. Deceiver, imp. Ben Strome, Falsetto and Hindoo. This lot will be supplemented by other yearlings from Rancho del Paso that are to come under the hammer next week. The breeding of the yearlings purchased last week is as follows: Bay colt (half-brother to Logan) by imp. Ben Strome—Part, by Pantaloon, $350; bay colt by imp. Deceiver—Anna Grey, by Free Knight, $300; bay colt (sister to Counter Tenor) by Falsetto—Pearl Thorn, by Pat Malloy, $1,250; bay filly (sister to Mabel Glenn and Catalpa) by Hindoo—imp. Calphurnia, $500; brown filly by imp. Pirate of Penzance—Miss Thomas, $350; Chestnut colt by Macduff—Bandy, $300; bay colt by imp. Ben Strome—Gypsy, by Glenlyon, $550; bay colt by Long Side—Gain, by imp. Pizzaro, $290. Pat Dunne also purchased three or four youngsters at the same sale.

ZEALOT, sire of the Auckland stallion Castor, died in England in February. Foaled in 1877, he was by Hermit out of Zelli, and was bred by Lord Bradford, whose colors he carried as a two, three, and four year old. Though not standing in the front rank of thoroughbreds, says the Sportsman, he won a few good stakes while on the turf, the most important of them being the Prince of Wales' Stakes at Ascot in 1880, when he beat The Abbot, Petronel, and other horses of repute at the time. Later in the year he accounted for the Thirty-second Triennial Produce Stakes at Newmarket. Though he had many sons and daughters to represent him, Zealot did not achieve much fame as a stallion, and perhaps the best of his get was Castor, who did a lot of useful service for Mr. W. I. Anson in 1885, '86, and '87. He was only beaten twice in eight essays as a two-year-old, and in his next season won ten races out of thirteen, though they only represented small values. At four years he was an easy winner of the Liverpool Summer Cup. Other progeny of Zealot at various times may be mentioned in Martinist, Zest, Sweet Alice, Assassin, Livingstone, Sir Dominic, Palm Singer, Lady Evelyn, Catacol, Deacon, Ranter, Guardian, Mock Orange, Zisca, Merry Shepherd, and Arctic. The whole of them, however, were exponents of little better than plating form.—Otago Witness.

In a recent issue we printed a few English time records, and Denver Field and Farm takes us to task. The writer says Bendigo ran a mile in 1:36 flat with 117 pounds up. The race he is supposed to have made it in is probably the Lincolnshire Handicap of 1885. The English Racing calendar gives no time for that race, and where the Field and Farm writer gets his figures is a mystery. Some of the "times" he gives would make a stoic split his sides with laughter, for instance, Bay Bolton's four miles in 7:43 in 1710, with 168 pounds up, and Bay Malton's four miles in 7:42½ in 1763. At that period the watches (or their holders) were notoriously "fast," and if you wanted to "stop on a horse" you'd have to get an axe and break the watch. At Lincoln the course is a straight one and down hill most of the way. Brag is credited with running a mile at Brighton, England, in 1:35 and a fraction. Flying Childers, it says, ran three and a half miles in 6:40, 128 pounds up, in 1721, and Inheritor two miles in 3:25, 86 pounds up. Then there's Isinglass' mile and a quarter in 2:02-2-5. Who believes that is correct? An Englishman, familiar with all the race courses of the "tight little isle," remarked, upon reading the Field and Farm article: "Why didn't he put in O'Kelly's Eclipse? He's credited with running a mile in a minute. Some of these 'times,' must have made with the parish clock, for on many of the tracks you can't see the start at all."

THE Fitzpatrick racing bill introduced in the Senate at Springfield, Ill., was killed last week, it only securing eight supporting votes. It was a reasonable measure and had the support of the best men connected with the trotting and running turf. It not only prohibited all the objectionable features which have combined to make racing unpopular, but it also provided a revenue for the agricultural societies. It prohibited winter racing, and that parody on sport, racing by electric light. It prohibited the foreign book and provided against an undue increase in race courses. It limited racing on any one track to thirty days in one year and made the season from May 1st to November 1st. It imposed a tax of five per cent. on the gate receipts, the said revenue to be used for the benefit of the State board of agriculture and the county societies. The Spirit recently published a circular, which was sent to every member of the two houses, on behalf of racing legislation, in which it was conclusively shown that the absence of racing had cost the State millions of dollars and that prices of thorough and trotting bred horses in the State had fallen in value 40 per cent. If the statesmen of Illinois live up to the meaning of their oaths, if they meet at Springfield to legislate for the benefit of the people it is difficult to understand why they reject this bill.—N. Y. Spirit of the Times. If it be true, as claimed, that the Illinois law-makers are a set of boodlers, and received $1,000,000 to pass two measures alone, no surprise need be felt.

The Opening Meeting.

After much delay caused by the lack of information regarding the work done at Chico and Willows the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association have arranged programmes for the opening meeting, and the ones to follow at these places, and they will be found in our business columns. Entries will close Thursday, July 15th. Besides the regular events to be decided at the meeting in Oakland, there will be many "special features" offered which will, it is believed, increase the attendance and make the meeting one long to be remembered by all who attend. Owing to the fact that the Santa Rosa people have not had a meeting yet to decide what they will do, the dates when the meetings advertised will take place do not appear in the advertisement. However, that will be arranged in time for our next issue.

The Los Angeles Fair.

The officers of the Los Angeles Fair Association are to be commended for the splendid programme of events they have devised for their fall meeting (the last one where light harness horses appear this year in California). The meeting commences Oct. 18th and ends Oct. 23d. There are four events which will close July 1st, and all that is necessary to secure an entry in these is the payment of three per cent. of the purse. The purses are for $1200 each, and the races are to be as follows: 2:30 class trotting, 2:12 class trotting, 2:30 class pacing and 2:17 class pacing. Only five per cent. will be deducted from money-winners, so here is an opportunity for horsemen to get large returns for a little outlay. The double team race for trotters will be an exciting event. The purse offered is $600; horses to be named with entry and to be owned or controlled and must be in possession of party making entry July 1st, the day on which entries must be closed.

By reference to the advertisement it will be noticed that splendid purses are offered for trotters and pacers in events for which entries will not close until September 4th. Such a showing is most commendable and proves conclusively that the Los Angeles Association is determined to aid the horse industry in every way possible.

The track has been put in first-class condition, a new layer of soil has been laid on the course, the old stables have been repaired and whitened and many new ones have been built.

We want to see a liberal response made to this call for entries. Special railroad rates will be made for horse-owners, their horses and men.

The Marysville Association will hold a regular race meeting this year, if the meeting is not held at Santa Rosa. The people of Marysville will have the horses which will leave the Oakland track at the conclusion of the summer meeting there.

New Racing Richmond in the Field.

Ground will be broken next week for a six-furlong race track with a quarter mile "chute" at San Clemente which is situated between the Tiburon ferry landing and San Rafael. The matter of having racing at this point all summer has been under consideration for the last two months, and it now looks as if a jockey club would be formed at an early date and the plans carried to a successful end. The course will be shaped much like the figure "6," owing to the topographical character of the site. With a mile track to race over, and with good men at the head of affairs, the new club bids fair to become a rival of the C. J. C. and P. C. J. C. No less a person than Hon. Frank L. Coombs has accepted the presidency of the organization, which is likely to be called the Marin County Jockey Club. Mr. Coombs is one of California's leading men, ex-Minister to Japan and Speaker of the last Assembly. His father, the Hon. Nathan Coombs, owned and bred many famous horses in his day, Lodi for years gracing his Napa county farm, as did Billy Cheatham, Emma Taylor and many other celebrities of the turf. With such a man as Frank Coombs at the helm the new club will be given an immediate standing to be proud of, and it is affirmed he has accepted. The principal men mentioned as being interested in the San Clemente proposition are A. W. Foster, President of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad; A. P. Hotelling, a leading merchant of this city; Joseph Harvey, a wealthy sporting man, well known to Californians and well liked too; Warren & Malley, the big contractors, and Henry Schwartz, the pioneer penciler and first horseman to send a string of thoroughbreds to race in the East, will own some shares, and two great capitalists are also mentioned as being likely to lend financial aid.

The officials of the new jockey club will be Californians, the projectors deeming it likely that men can be found in the Golden State capable of filling the various positions with credit. In the neighborhood of $40,000 will be expended in building the course, erecting grand stands and stables and other necessary buildings. At least 300 stalls will be built, and the grand stand and betting ring will be commodious. It is altogether likely that a foreign book will be operated at well as the one on the local races. The idea at present is to fix the price of admission to the track at 50 cents, which includes transportation to and from the course. That large crowds will attend, is certain, for there is a great speculative population to draw upon in San Francisco and vicinity. The San Rafael people are overjoyed at the outlook, for the establishment of this racing plant at San Clements means the bringing of considerable money to that beautiful place. Ed Tade has been offered the Secretaryship of the jockey club, and it is to be hoped that he will see his way clear to accept. Mr. Tade is an able young man and made a host of friends during his term of office in the Pacific Coast Jockey Club. It is understood the new club will close its gates during the State Fair meeting, and will not conflict with the C. J. C. and P. C. J. C. However, it is in no wise certain that war will not be declared by President T. H. Williams, Jr., of the C. J. C., for that gentleman made public his intention to resume racing if a third track were put in operation. The Ingleside folks, too, have doubtless been observing how the San Clemente affairs are progressing, and at next Tuesday's meeting they may decide to take some measures in the premises.

It is anticipated that the course will be made and the buildings erected at San Clemente in thirty days, and one of our most popular, sport-loving millionaires will probably start a horse in every race on the opening day. With good men filling the various positions at San Clemente, the racing above reproach, and the management satisfactory in every way, it is extremely probable that California will be the racing center of the country inside of two years, and the best of all markets for thoroughbreds in the land.

Interesting Historical Facts of the Turf.

In the following article we will endeavor to give a list of happenings on the turf of interest and group a number of the curiosities in racing. They will be answers to many inquiries often made to us and be facts well worth remembering:

The tallest thoroughbred horse of which there is any record was Stormy Petrel, bred in New Zealand. He stood 18 hands 2 inches, and his other measurements were: Forearm, 26½ inches; lower thigh, 25½ inches; cannon, 9¼ inches in smallest part; girth, 82½ inches.

The largest number of starters on record was in a six-furlong race at Osulfield, Victoria, won by The Ghost. No less than forty-two faced the starter.

The largest number of wins credited to any jockey went to the late Fred Archer, of England. He piloted 2,744 winners from 1872 to 1886.

The oldest jockey to ride in a public race was James Welsh, who had a mount at Bay District track when he was over seventy years of age.

Racing colors were first introduced in 1760, in England.

The largest amount ever added in a stake race was $50,000, or £10,000, given in the Melbourne Cup. Besides, a $750 trophy was added for the winner and a $125 whip for the jockey riding the winner. The year Carbine won this great event the stake footed up over $69,000. The Futurity of 1890, won by Potomac, was worth in all $67,675. That was the largest stake ever offered in America, though the added money was not nearly as much as in the Melbourne Cup. In England there are three stakes of a guaranteed value of £10,000—the Eclipse, Princess of Wales and Jockey Club. The largest three-year-old stake ever offered was the World's Fair Derby—$50,000 guaranteed. The next largest is the Grand Prix de Paris, with about $40,000 this year.

The largest winners among the race horses of England, America and Australia were respectively Isinglass, Domino and Carbine. The former won over $290,000 during his turf career, Domino about $210,000 and Carbine over $150,000.

The Assyrian, an Australian horse that won the Melbourne Cup, carried 187 pounds to victory in a welter handicap. This is the largest impost ever given a horse in a race on the flat.

Nancy Till is credited with winning over 100 races in Ireland. Logan has won in this country ninety-nine races to date. Fisherman won seventy races in England. Kingston (by Spendthrift) won eighty-four races in America.

The largest winner among the three-year-olds of America was Tournament, a California-bred colt, who put over $89,000 to his credit that year.

One of the most remarkable racing feats on record is that of the Australian horse, Redleap, who carried 194 pounds to victory over four miles of ground, making thirty jumps on the journey, not one of the obstacles being less than four feet two inches, the highest four feet eight inches. Trouble carried 180 pounds in this country and won.

Kincsem, an Austrian mare, won fifty-four races and was never defeated. Grand Flaneur, an Australian horse, won nine races and never met defeat. In America the black Tremont won thirteen races, imp. Monarch, defeated ten races, American Eclipse eight, Sensation eight, El Rio Rey seven, French Park six. All these were undefeated. Among the undefeated horses in England were: Ormonde, sixteen races; O'Kelly's Eclipse, fourteen races; Bay Middleton, the Derby-winner of 1836, was never beaten, and the Irish horse, Barcaldine, won every race he started.

Hickory Jim was running in races at Brighton Beach at the reported age of twenty-one years and John Davis (by Harry O'Fallon—Bettie) was racing when seventeen. Hickory Jim was supposed to have been bred in Oregon, and raced in Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Texas, Louisiana, Kentucky and at the far East.

The lightest jockey on record was Kitchener, who weighed but forty pounds when he rode the winner of the Chester Cup in 1844.

The largest price ever given for a horse was $150,000 paid by W. O'B. Macdonough, of San Francisco, to Senor Bocan of Argentine Republic, for the thoroughbred stallion Ormonde, winner of the "triple crown" in England and never defeated. The price paid for the Electioneer trotting stallion, Arion, was $125,000. The largest price ever realized for a horse at auction was for imp. St. Blaise, Charles Reed, of Fairview Farm, Galatin, Tenn., giving $100,000 for the horse. It was the first bid. The largest sum ever realized for a mare was about $66,000, paid for La Fleche, winner of the Oaks, St. Leger and other races in England. For the Australian gelding $23,000 was paid, this being the largest sum ever paid for a gelding.

Probably as remarkable a series of performances as was ever chronicled in America was that of Little Reb, son of Rebel and Virginia. On February 25, 1881, at New Orleans, he won the last race of the day, one and one-half miles, and the next afternoon won the first, second and third races, at a mile and a furlong, mile heats and mile and a quarter. In Woodonga, Victoria, Australia, on January 1, 1878, the black mare Coquette, by The S.well—The Doe, won the second, a two-mile race with 126 lbs. up, and in the fourth race, six furlongs, won with 131 lbs. in the saddle. On the 17th of January, 1878, at Albury, N. S. W., she won the fourth race, one and three-quarter miles, with 127 lbs. up, and the fourth event, one and one-quarter miles, with 125 lbs. On February 7th, at Beechworth, Victoria, she won a mile and three-quarter race with 151 lbs. up, the second and third horses carrying 102 lbs. apiece. The chestnut gelding Wanderer also did some wonderful running, on July 4, 1878, at Townsville, Queensland, winning at one and one-quarter miles and two miles, carrying 126 lbs. and 130 lbs. and the next day captured a two and a quarter mile race with 133 lbs. up. At Chartres Towers, July 17, 1878, he won at two miles and at one and one-half miles, carrying 128 lbs. and 126 lbs. The next day he won a three mile race and a two-mile race, carrying 126 and 137 lbs. respectfully.

At Melbourne, one day in 1882, Tom Corrigan, the famous steeplechase and hurdle rider, rode the winner of the maiden hurdle race, two miles, the winner of the maiden steeplechase, two miles, also the Grand National Hurdle Race winner (distance of the race three miles), and in the Grand National Steeplechase, three miles, his mount, carrying 134 lbs., was beaten a neck. Corrigan had received odds of 500 to 1 against his chances of riding the four winners that afternoon.

The largest private stock farm in America and probably in the world is Rancho del Paso, near Sacramento, Cal., which comprises 44,800 acres of land. On this farm there are more than 400 thoroughbred mares, about thirty stallions used, besides about 500 trotting bred animals. On this farm is the record-breaker, Salvador, Firenze, Miss Woodford and Lizzie Lucas, ex-queens of the turf, the New Zealand bred stallions Sir Modred, July and Artillery, Kyrle Daly (raised in Ireland) stood there for years, besides the famous English horses, Goldfinch, Star Ruby and Watercress now make their home there.

THERE is much food for thought in the dispatch that came from San Antonio, Texas, one day this week announcing that John W. Mackay had purchased 100,000 acres of land in the Lone Star State, upon which he would breed fast horses. The thought that comes uppermost is that Mr. Mackay is an old Californian, for a long time a resident of San Francisco. During that residence he made the colossal fortune that is now his. The Bonanza King believes in spending his money where he made it, and has many times declared his intentions in that respect. Knowing the kindly feeling he has for the Golden State and her people, the question of course arises: Will not Mr. Mackay, in stocking his Texan principality, think of California, which has been aptly termed "Horse Paradise"? Within her confines were raised some of the most famous track horses that have contested in races in America during the last ten years, and as time rolls 'round the merit of California-bred horses becomes recognized more and more. The best blood of three continents flows in the veins of our thoroughbreds, and that admixture has resulted better than the most sanguine of our breeders ever imagined it would. And to this State the late Senator Stanford, Seth Cook, L. J. Rose, William Corbitt and other progressive breeders brought hosts of trotting celebrities, for which they paid fabulous sums, and had the gratification of seeing their descendants go forth, defeat the best harness racers of the land and establish records that were talked of wherever the light harness horse was fancied. Now that the Bonanza King has decided to stock his 100,000 acre rancho with fine horses, we hope and feel that our best ones will receive his attention, because they were reared in his old home, and, furthermore, they have no superiors upon the earth. Our breeders were brainy men who had given the subject of scientific breeding much thought before they embarked upon the sea that had tossed many before them upon the rocks of disaster, but the deep thinkers and persevering men kept away from the shoals and sailed their crafts smoothly into the haven of success. If Mr. Mackay desires, we can place him in communication with some of the most successful breeders in the country, and one, who has attained great fame as well as fortune, desires to dispose of his entire establishment, not through any lack of success, but simply because weight of years will not enable him to give the attention to the business that it requires. Those breeders with first class stock for sale will do well to advertise their offerings with us at an early date, so that men like Mr. Mackay, on the lookout for the best stock to be obtained, will know where they can secure animals of fine individuality and royal breeding.

Sale Next Tuesday.

It has been several years since any stock was sold at auction from the Aptos Farm, and the announcement made that there would be a sale next Tuesday has caused many who are in need of a good roadster to apply to Messrs. Killip & Co., the well-known auctioneers for catalogues. The foundation stock of all the fine horses on this place came from the stock farm of that excellent judge of trotting stock, S. B. Whipple, Esq., of San Mateo. Mr. Spreckels purchased a number of excellent mares elsewhere, among them being Jennie, the dam of Hulda, 2:08½; Gracie S., 2:22; Gus S., 2:30, etc., and many other fine individuals. He purchased Cupid, 2:18, "the gamest Sidney that ever lived," and the trotting stock which is to be offered at this sale are by him: Aptos Wilkes, brother to the great Hulda, 2:08½; Chris S., by Abbottsford, 2:19½, out of Young Ceta, by Speculation, and Leon W., a son of Antevolo, 2:19½, out of Young Martha, by George M. Patchen Jr., 2:27, second dam Martha Washington (dam of Hambletonian 725 and Speculation 928). All of the horses are broken single and double, and are perfect roadsters. Some of them are young enough and bred well enough to make fast records if handled for speed. Many very promising ones are among them, and all who are anxious to get horses that have size, style, perfect limbs, good dispositions, breeding, speed and endurance should attend this sale, which is to take place next Tuesday, June 22d, at 11 A. M., at the salesyard, corner Van Ness avenue and Market streets.

An Interesting Race.

In all parts of the United States interest in light harness horses is reviving and the latest news is to the effect that in New York City information has been received as follows:

Prominent horsemen in various parts of the country have practically decided to stimulate interest in trotting races by offering a purse of $25,000 open to all trotters, at the entry fee of $500, the race to be decided in New York or Chicago early in October, or a race in each city, the entries to be eligible for both races.

Some of those whose names are mentioned as being connected with the project are F. H. Harriman, owner of Stamboul; Nathan Strauss, James Butler, president of the New York Driving Club; ex-Mayor Grant, John D. Rockefeller, President McMillen of the Park Board, August Belmont and his brother, O. P. Belmont.

In the East Colonel J. Malcolm Forbes, Colonel John F. Thayer and his brother, Bayard, and Montgomery Sears are all taking an interest in the big stakes.

At Cleveland, Ohio, there are Frank and William Rockefeller, and at Lexington, Ky., Major McDowell, president of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, and the far West's interests are cared for by Marcus Daly. Some of the horses already talked about as possible starters are Fantasy, William Penn and Cobwebs.

THE Evening Post, which falsely claims to be the sporting authority of the Coast when the running meetings are in progress, and then shuts up like a clam for the rest of the year, had a scurrilous attack on the new race-track proposition last Thursday evening. It used to accuse the two older associations in the same manner until it saw an opportunity to make money out of them, and then its articles had a different tone. We expect, however, to see them issue a noonday edition as soon as the race track at San Clemente opens with the same old scare heads, reprinted items of news and tips. As a sporting authority it must live up to its claims or else step down and out.

GOV. BUDD's reputation as a shyster lawyer received an airing in the Craven case which probably makes him turn over his files of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN and find, if he can, some one act that might be recorded therein which he could use to prove himself worthy of the respect of the people of this State. With "Old Junk" Martin Kelly, as his lieutenant, there is no doubt that under such guidance he will get the position of Senator to succeed Steve White; get it (to use a common expression), in the hack of the neck. Allah! Budd, Budder, Buddhist! Thou art the King of Fakirs!

THE splendid showing made by the light harness owners in the list of entries to the fall meeting of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association is most encouraging, and has infused new life into many who were "on the fence" regarding the training of their horses. Another thing noticeable is the long list of exceedingly well-bred ones named; especially is this true in the Breeders' Futurity Stakes. Should other associations in California offer similar stakes they would receive as many, if not more entries. Now is the time for them to make their wishes known.

AFTER the sale of A. B. Spreckels' horses at Killip & Co.'s salesyard next Tuesday, there will be a number of pure-bred Percheron horses and mares, besides some graded Percherons sold. They were imported and bred by A. W. Foster, Esq., owner of the Hopland Stock Farm, which is situated on the line of the North Pacific Railroad, of which he is President. Mr. Foster is one of the best judges of horses in California, and all who are seeking to get first-class, large, well-formed, active and handsome horses should attend this sale.

THE Golden Gate Driving Association has appointed a committee to confer with the P. C. T. H. B. Association regarding the novelty races to be given at the summer meeting of the latter organization at the Oakland track.

WHEN a horse passes his oats, corn or barley whole, it is a sure sign that there is a deficiency of saliva. Without it he will not masticate his feed thoroughly, and the result is a poor, scrubby, hide-bound horse. To correct this some roots or herbs containing tonic properties should be fed, in order to bring about a healthy action of the salivary glands, causing the saliva to flow readily and mix with his food as the animal chews it into pulp preparatory to swallowing it, and when in contact with the gastric juices. The digestion will then be perfect, the animal will then steadily and surely gain in flesh and working power. Such roots and herbs are contained in Manhattan Food, Red Ball Brand. It purifies the blood, corrects digestion, stimulates the urinary organs, and, in fact, puts the horse in the pink of condition as verified by some of the best horsemen and veterinary surgeons throughout the United States. For sale by all first class feed and country stores.

CHARLEY BOOTS, who sent to the post the record-breakers, Lucretia Borgia, Installator and Victor, besides The Roman, Hohenzollern and many other good ones, paid us a visit yesterday morning. Mr. Boots, who has taken to training horses as a health measure more than anything else, formerly being professor of Greek and Latin in the College of the Pacific, informs us that he has thirty horses in training at present, and has not taken up to train the twenty Brutus yearlings, owned by himself and father, either. He has a yearling filly by the New Zealand horse, Del Mar, out of a full sister to Lucretia Borgia, and considers her a quite promising youngster. At the Milpitas stock farm (Elmwood) there are five Tiger weanlings. Tiger won all his races but one, and was a close second in that. The elder Mr. Boots is much pleased with the youngsters by the son of Three Cheers and Ricardo, and believes Tiger has a brilliant future before him, as a sire.

THE stockholders' single-or-double-go-as-you-like huggy race for a valuable trophy is creating a stir. Pools on the event will be sold, and hundreds of dollars will be wagered on the result. The drivers are taking lessons from Charles Taylor, and a red-hot contest may be expected. The fat men are trying to thin out, whilst the thin ones are swallowing malt to give 'em endurance. Colors, numbers, clothes and language will be worn. Take your field glasses along. Glenbrook Park, June 17th.—Nevada City Transcript.

A MEETING was held last Saturday night for the purpose of organizing a Jockey Club. W. G. Tremper was elected president; W. McBee, treasurer, and Charley Noel secretary. The Club will give a number of races on the Fourth of July, free to all horses in Lake county, for which liberal purses will be offered. A track is being made near town and a day of fine sport is assured.—Lower Lake Bulletin.

The Fly Casting Club.

The ninth regular Saturday and Sunday contests of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club were cast at Stow Lake last week. The attendance was very light and the wind bad. Dr. E. N. Lowry won the long distance medal on Saturday and Sunday, and the delicacy and accuracy medal on Sunday. W. D. Mansfield won the distance and accuracy medal on Saturday and Sunday, and H. E. ### Big Trout in the Catskill.

CATSKILL, N. Y., June 9—A monster German trout has been caught by Cecil Brusie of Philmont, Columbia County. It was 24 inches long, 15 inches girth, and weighed 6 1/2 pounds.

Dynamite in the San Joaquin.

It is reported that a gang of five or six men are using dynamite to kill fish in the San Joaquin river a short distance above Pollasky, says the Fresno Republican. It is said that they have slaughtered thousands in this unlawful way for the purpose of procuring fish for the market, in which business they are engaged. The men have carried on their operations secretly, but citizens residing in the vicinity have frequently heard the explosions under water. Fishermen along the river below have been complaining of late because so many dead fish came floating down, and these were undoubtedly some of those killed by the dynamite.

The people of Pollasky object very strongly to the depopulation of the stream, and could they procure sufficient evidence against the law-breakers there would be no hesitancy in instigating prosecutions. But the law-breakers are wary, and so far no one has caught them in the act of using the dynamite. They keep well in hiding while engaged in their forbidden business.

The dynamite is exploded in the stream near the bridge, which crosses the river about a mile above Pollasky. People driving along the road and on the bridge have also heard the dull sound of explosions issuing from under the water. The dead fish are probably gathered at some point lower down on the river. The law inflicts a severe penalty on those who use dynamite to kill fish, and it would probably go hard with violators of the law who engage in the business so extensively as this gang is doing at Pollasky were they caught.

The county is paying a game warden $65 a month to enforce the laws in such cases as these, and if reports be true Andy Ferguson, who at present occupies the position, is not attending to his duties as he should.

J. W. Moore, whose home is on the North Fork, informed a Republican reporter yesterday that last Friday he notified Warden Ferguson of the operations of the gang. Mr. Moore had met E. W. Smutz that day, and together they set out to find the warden. They say that they found Mr. Ferguson engaged in playing cards in a Merigosa street saloon, and when they told him they would like to see him for a moment he asked them to wait a little as he was busy with the game. The two citizens waited in the saloon for a while and then went out on the sidewalk. They waited there an hour before the officer came out and listened to the important information they had for him. Mr. Ferguson then said he would attend to the matter at once. The warden made a trip to Pollasky on Saturday, but his investigations availed him nothing. He announced that he was the county game warden, and the result was that the law-breakers were soon aware of his presence. Messrs. Moore and Smutz say that they advised Ferguson to proceed quietly to the river, and not let it be known who he was.

Sonoma County Streams.

A description of the big and little Austin Creeks with their tributaries will conclude Werlock's series of papers on the noted trout streams of Northern Sonoma county in the Santa Rosa Farmer. Nearly all our trout streams rise on mountains from two to four thousand feet high, and many flow through canyons hundreds of feet deep. In many cases to fish the best places you enter canyons that you have to fish through from one to two miles, as it is almost impossible to climb out; but the scenery is grand, varied and awe-inspiring, and the trout fisher is a great lover of nature and enjoys the wild and beautiful scenery and healthy exercise, and is not easily tired out. If he comes from some large city with its narrow walls and ill-smelling surroundings, his mind, thoughts, and even his body, will expand until he feels free—in fact a boy again. The head waters of this region can be reached from Healdsburg by a three hours' drive up Mill Creek, over the ladder to Little Austin.

Big Austin Creek rises on the south side of the divide and the Gualala on the north side, near Stewart's Point.

The Austin Creek flows almost due south, receiving many tributaries and enters Russian River below Guerneville.

Ward Creek rises near the ocean and flows almost east and enters the Big Austin at Cazadero.

Kidd Creek rises on Mt. Ross, which is 2200 feet high, flows southeast and enters Big Austin near Guerneville.

Between Ward and Kidd Creeks are several small creeks that furnish good fishing very early in the season.

Little Austin rises above Ingram's, flows south and joins the Big Austin four miles north of Guerneville. Several small creeks feed this stream, and Grey Creek, which has its source near the ladder, flows southwest, and joins Little Austin.

Two odd looking snake-like fish were caught yesterday by Fred Perez. They are wolf fish named from their ugly wolf-like head. They are also called deep water eels and are good eating, says the Santa Cruz Surf.

These were undoubtedly lampreys, a fish commonly called eels, but not an eel. Dr. Chas. Gilbert in his lecture to the Fly Casting Club described this fish very minutely. They run in all of the Coast streams to Alaska during the month of February and March to spawn. They make nests of stones and the small ones bury themselves in the mud of the streams where they stay for months or until they have grown to sufficient size to take care of themselves. They will ascend the most rapid streams by hanging to the rocks by their mouths and when rested will dart up another foot or yard and hang to another rock until rested. They will ascend a perpendicular rock at a fall by working straight up the face of the rock on an inch worm walk. Dr. Gilbert states that the sense of smell of the lamprey is something wonderful. He told of throwing a piece of dead salmon on the top of a rock where large numbers of them were hanging. They instantly let go their hold of the rock and changed their quarters. A piece of string drawn through the fingers will cause them to vacate just as quickly. They grow to a length of 2 1/2 feet. The only other fish that our contemporary could refer to would be the hag fish, a fish so repulsive in its habits that one would be loath to call it good eating. This fish goes in at the mouth, anus or gills of various kinds of large fish and eats everything in sight but the bones and skin.

It has long been the general idea that salmon in the Columbia would not take the fly, as they do in the rivers of Great Britain and Canada. One thing which has probably prevented the matter from being thoroughly tested is that the Columbia cannot be scientifically whipped by a fly fisherman, nor wedded dry shod in the long gum boots. On his recent visit to Great Britain the Laird of Dunmore, of Pillar Rock, was presented with a magnificent salmon rod and hook of salmon flies by a friend, who wished him to give the Columbia a thorough test. He accordingly detailed Wm. Starr to give the noble Chinook a chance at a real salmon fly, and, after fishing for several days from a point on the shore of the Columbia, which made a swirling eddy below, he succeeded in landing two good-sized salmon. Probably a man tall enough, with a rod long enough, and a line long enough to make a cast clear across the Columbia, could land as many fish as can be caught in the Tey or any other stream—Portland Oregonian.

The Fish Commission planted 3,000 black bass in Clear Lake a couple of weeks ago and last week they sent 5,000 to Merced, 5,000 to Fresno and 5,000 to Lemoore. This week they have shipped 500 to Modesto for the Tuolumne river; 500 to points in Los Angeles county; 500 to Orange county; 1,000 to San Diego county; 1,000 to Marysville and 500 to points in Alameda county. This concludes the black bass work from Russian river for this season. There was considerable comment some time ago that the Commission should take so many bass from Russian river, the only point where in this section where all were free to fish.

These bass were taken from landlocked waters of the Russian where most of them would have died and large proportion of them were put back in the river. Moreover the anglers forget that the whole State paid for the bass planted in the Russian and other portions of the State are certainly entitled to a portion of the increase.

W. J. Street and wife left town on Thursday with his gun, rod and camera for a three weeks' trip to the Yosemite. He will peck in from Berenda, and a bear hunt in the foothills and trout fishing at Wewona and Crescent lakes will occupy his time en route. In the Yosemite he will join the Camera Club party consisting of A. S. McFarland and wife, H. C. Owens, E. Motte, Mrs. Leele, Miss Benks, Prof. Argenti and wife, D. B. Bent, Miss Height, Mrs. Runyon and children and several others who will drive from Stockton via Chinese Camp and Big Oak Flat. The party will return via Calaveras Big Trees.

Al Cumming returned from the McCloud this week and contrary to general report he found the fly fishing very good. He fished the McCloud six days, four of them with very fair success and the last two with very good success. The trout ran from eight inches to two pounds and rose in the late afternoon very well, to the light winged caddis brown heckle and grey heckle. The salmon are just commencing to run and by the first of July all fly fishing will be over and if one wants trout he must use the deadly salmon roe.

The scores of W. D. Mansfield, Dr. E. N. Lowry and H. C. Golcher in the long distance fly casting contests should be a source of great satisfaction to every California angler. In no other club in the world can such scores be seen as these three men make as a regular thing. At nearly every contest one of the three make over 100 feet and in good weather all three can do it; 103 1/2, 103, and 100 in competition and from 105 to 110 feet in practice cannot be equaled in the world.

It is the custom of all athletic clubs to present members of the clubs with medals when they break coast records of any kind. H. C. Golcher broke the world's record at long distance fly casting last year and W. D. Mansfield broke it again this year. Both should receive medals suitably inscribed as a slight reward for the honor they have brought the San Francisco Fly Casting Club.

Harry F. Smith and John Sigrist drove to Rocky canyon in Marin county on Friday and returned in the evening nearly worn out, hearing in triumph 150 of the finest trout seen this season. Few were smaller than a foot in length, and they were all fine specimens. The successful catch made a big sensation among the local piscatorial artists.—Petaluma Courier.

Striped bass fishing is quite the rage now. They have been caught on spoon and bait at Napa slough, Vellejo, off Goat Island, at the mouth of San Leandro creek and between the railroad and Bay Farm Island bridge in Alameda. The spoon and squid are the best lures.

J. Marsden, commissioner of agriculture in the Hawaiian Islands, was at Sisson this week and visited the McCloud on a fishing trip. He intends to use his influence to secure the planting of some young trout propagated in California in some of the island streams.

Mrs. L. E. Coppin and Mrs. John Leibert, two ladies each over 50 years of age, caught thirty trout fishing from Caliente to Glen Ellen the first of the week. They were from 7 to 14 inches in length, and were caught in 3 1/2 hours.

Webber lake opened on the 8th, three weeks earlier than last year. The fishing at Lake Tahoe continues fine, and Independence should be good, though we have no authenticated reports from that lake.

Miss Etta Butler, the well-known and talented daughter of John Butler the veteran angler had a very narrow escape from drowning while swimming a big pool in Boulder Creek last week.

Al Cumming noticed a peculiar state of affairs in the McCloud. The big ones rose to the fly and only the small ones took bait. Just the reverse of the usual habits of trout.

E. T. Allen, the well-known and justly popular sporting goods dealer of this city, is taking a much-needed rest at Paso Robles Springs.

The most killing fly on Lake San Andreas is the improved Governor. The best spoons are the Wilson and Emeric No. 3.

Schuster, Purdy and Sorenson made a good catch of rock cod at California city and off Alcatraz last Sunday.

Troot ara hiting fina in Donner lake and rising fairly wall to tha fly in the streams of that section.

Sid Monasco sant H. E. Skinner a fina box of trout from tha McCloud on Monday last.

G. T. Wildar will fish tha Big Rivar in Humholdt county this coming week.

Several fine striped bass were caught on Wednesday with hand lines.

Larga numbers of shad are being caught in the Feather river.

A. B. Finch will spend next weak at Lake Webber.

The Monterey Wing Shooting Club, ever alive to the interest of all lovers of sport, extends an invitation to all shooters in California to participate in an open-to-all Blue-rock Tournament to be held on the Club grounds at Del Monte Grove, in the City of Monterey, on Sunday, July 4, 1897.

Monterey is world-famed for its beautiful and historic surroundings, as also for its equitabla and salubrious climate. Visiting sportsmen and friends, who do not care to take part in the tournament, may spend the day in divers ways in pleasure and amusements. We have the celebrated Hotel del Monte and its beautiful surroundings, including the bath house, where one may take a salt water plunge in the tanks—the water always being tempered to suit the wishes of the bather—or he may wade in the beautiful waters of Monterey Bay; or if so desirous he may enjoy the day in fishing, boating, etc. Again, he may take in the Seventeen-Mile Drive, affording some of the most beautiful views imaginable; taking in Moss Beach, Lake Majallo, Saal Rock, Point Cypress, Pescadero, or Pebble Beach, and Carmel Mission, founded in 1770. In fact, the visitor will find no cause to complain of lack of places to visit that are both very delightful and instructive to the intelligent eye.

The accompanying programme has been arranged on the most liberal basis possible, and through the unceasing efforts of the members of the Club and the liberality of the citizens of Monterey, more and larger cash prizes and trophies will be offered by this Club than have heretofore been offered by any other Club in the State.

Two sets of traps will be used and the equipment electrical throughout. Competent and experienced judges and referees will be in attendance, and all scoring will be done before the eyes of the shooters, so as to avoid errors and delays.

Headquarters of visiting sportsmen during their stay with us will be at the club rooms of the Monterey Wing Shooting Club, on Alvarado street, Monterey. The Secretary's office will be open for the receiving of entries and other business after 7:30 p. m., on July 3d.

Shooting starts promptly at 8 o'clock a. m.

Epidemic Among Deer.

Sam Rice, who recently returned from a visit to his mine in Trinity county, reports that the deer are suffering from an epidemic, and that countless carcasses of the animals may be found throughout the mountains in the vicinity visited. The disease is said by Mr. Rice to be similar to the botis, and is generally fatal in its results.—Ukiah Press.

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

Captain Acker killed a 100-lb. wild hog at Old river, near Stockton last week.

Tha Golden Gate Gun Club has changed its shooting day to the first Sunday in the month, commencing with July.

Clabrough, Golcher & Co. have just received a full line of the improved Golcher hunting boots and hunting shoes. Call and examine them.

Charles Van Valkenburg, John Hauerwaas and Godfrey Fritz will open the deer and dove season at the Liebra ranch in the northern part of Los Angeles county.

The Calistogan says the sportsmen of Sonoma county are stocking the hill with pheasants, and the Napa journal is asking the sportsmen of Napa county to follow suit.

Tha Healdsburg Gun Club held an interesting match shoot at McCutchan Bros.' hop yard last Sunday week. J. B. McCutchan and W. H. Lowry were the champions of the day.

The Lincoln Gun Club will have a good attendance tomorrow. After the club shoot the 100 bird record medal match will be shot followed by a California freeze-out and a "base-ball" shoot.

There was a good attendance at the South End Shooting Club's bluerock shoot at Colma Sunday. McCutchan won the medal with eighteen breaks. The wind was high in the morning, but fair in the afternoon.

There will be a big bluerock shoot at the Red Bluff race track on the 27th between teams from Shasta and Tehama counties. The Committee on Arrangements is Paul Beuthe, W. A. Fish, Wm. Luning, H. Nottelmann and A. W. Baker.

A private match at bluerocks was shot by the San Francisco Gun Club on Sunday, with the following result: John Conway won, breaking 15 straight; Fred Stanley, 13; Thos. Brown, 7; Harry Barber, 4; Richard Simons 3, and Frank Clancy, 0.

Note the programme of the Monterey tournament in another column. It is the best programme ever offered in California for a one-day tournament, and will unquestionably draw an excellent attendance from this city. We look for from 60 to 80 shooters at the least.

At a meeting of the Fresno Sportsmen's Club on the 8th, H. V. Armitage, O. M. Judy and Gus Naher were elected delegates to the Board of Governors of the California Inanimate Target Association. The club accepted the challenge of the Merced Gun Club to shoot a ten-men team match at Merced on July 4th.

Tha Golden Gate Gun Club's regular monthly shoot at the Pacific Tournament Association grounds at Alameda Junction last Sunday resulted in the following scores at 20 bluerocks: Mitchell 18, De Pue 14, Josewski 14, Palmer 12, Tellerson 11, Phillips 8, Geo. Cook 7, Lewis 6, Michelson 5, Kumli 4, Meussdorfer 3, Rigney 2.

While J. H. Logan was out hunting recently at Hungry Hollow his dogs chased some coyotes into their den. He made a fire in the hole to smoke them out, and after a few minutes a coyota stuck his head out of the hole, and Mr. Logan hit him a rap over the head with a club, which killed him, after which two more came out to get fresh air, but were killed as fast as they stuck their heads out. Some more were in the den, but succumbed to the heat and smoke before they could get out. The hole being too small to crawl into it, and it being in solid rock, which was too hard to dig into to get at the coyotes, he had to leave them without getting their scalps, which are worth $7.50 apiece at present.—Woodland Mail.

I. Phillipson, E. Dais, Jules Barges, and Frank Angonet were at San Andreas last Friday. The wind was strong in the morning and the fishing was entirely from shore. They caught 55 fish from six inches to ten inches in length and one two-pounder. C. G. Young, P. B. Quinlan, Frank Dolliver and several others fished from the shore on Saturday with varied success. G. T. Wilder, of Honolulu, W. N. Wetmore, A. Russell Crowell and wife tried trolling and fly casting from boats and caught 43 fish from eight to fourteen inches in length. They used Wilson soons, Emeric spinners, the improved Governor and Bennis' musquito flies. Nearly one-half of the trout were caught on these flies. Chas. Precht, Geo. Hinkle, Frank Dolliver, Thompson, Smith and many others fished this lake on Sunday with fair success. The wind was too strong for trolling and most of the fish were caught from shore, casting and bait fishing. The trout were all clean and fat and of good flavor.

Pacific Mastiff Club.

The Pacific Mastiff Club promises to be fairly on its feet before the month is out. The following circular letter was mailed to prospective members last week:

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., June 10, 1897.
DEAR SIR: During the late Bench Show of the S. F. K. C. at the Mechanics' Pavilion a number of Mastiff fanciers held a meeting at which a club was organized for the breeding and improvement of that noble animal. The club to be named The Pacific Mastiff Club, the entrance fee established at two ($2.00) dollars payable at election, and the subscription fee at one ($1.50) dollar and fifty cents quarterly. As must well be known to you, the Mastiffs bred and raised here fail largely in approximating to the ideal standard of excellence, and it is only by mutual aid and care in breeding that the status of the species on the coast can be elevated.

These clubs are eminently effective is shown in the notable improvement apparent both in quality and quantity in the St. Bernards and Fox terriers, which improvement is for the most part due to the intelligence and enterprise of these respective clubs.

As an owner and breeder of the "King of Watch Dogs," we appeal to you to lend us your moral and material support. It will conduce to your own profit and gratification, inasmuch as the Mastiffs you own will enhance in value.

As noted above, entrance fee and subscription have been placed at an almost nominal figure, in order to induce all lovers of Mastiffs to enter. Cups and medals will be offered at the Bench Shows for competition by the members and you will have an equal chance of winning them.

A meeting will be held on Saturday, 26th inst., at the office of Field Sports, 531 California St., S. F., at 8 P. M. for the purpose of electing officers and completing our organization, and you are earnestly invited to attend. If, however, you are unable to do so, it is requested that you promptly fill out the enclosed application for membership and return the same to the Secretary pro tem.

Trusting to have the pleasure of greeting you as fellow charter members of the Pacific Mastiff Club, I am, dear sir,

Yours very faithfully,

J. P. NORMAN, Secretary.

The Dog Poisoner Acquitted.

Dibble was out on the street recently dressed in a happy smile and trimmed whiskers. It happened this way: He had been convicted of dog poisoning but the court allowed him a new trial upon a technicality. He appeared recently in the Superior Court and after another thorough hearing was discharged from custody by the grace of twelve good men.

The prosecution went over the testimony in much the same facts as at the former trial and brought out from a number of witnesses that Dibble had so far transgressed the law as to place poison in frequented places.

It seemed pretty clear sailing for Mr. Lindsay and his host till the time came for argument; then Lawyer McGuire threw forth his eloquence, pointed to the grey hairs and gentle nature of the man charged, and sent the jury into retirement to either acquit the defendant or hang themselves; they acquitted the defendant. The old man is happy, but I'll wager my old hat that he don't ever touch poison again. Once was enough for him.—Santa Cruz Press.

One by One They Fall in Line.

Mr. Mortimer is again the recipient of some harsh knocks on his work at Oakland. Field Sports sets up a terrible argument, and although it is actuated in great measure through personal disappointment in the turning down of Countess Noble, still, for the sake of his honor as a judge and a man, he cannot afford to pass it over. A more libellous tirade has never been printed in our Kennel history, not even by our most expert Eastern mud slingers.—American Stockkeeper.

Boston Terrier Club Standard.

The following is the standard of the Boston terrier as altered at the last meeting of the club.

The general appearance of the Boston terrier is of a smooth, short-coated, compactly-built dog of medium station. The head should indicate a high degree of intelligence, and should be in proportion to the dog's size; the body rather short and well knit, the limbs strong and finely turned, no feature being so prominent that the dog appears badly proportioned.

The dog conveys an impression of determination, strength and activity. Style of high order, and carriage easy and graceful.

Skull—Broad and flat, without prominent cheeks, and forehead free from wrinkles.

Stop—Well defined, but indurate not too deep.

Eyes—Wide apart, large and round, neither sunken nor too prominent, and in color dark and soft. The outside corner should be on a line with the cheeks as viewed from the front.

Ears—Small and thin, situated as near corners of skull as near corners of skull as possible.

Nozzle—Short, square, wide and deep, without wrinkles. Nose black and wide, with a well-defined straight line between nostrils. The jaws broad and square, with short, regular teeth. The chops wide and deep, not pendulous, completely covering the teeth when mouth is closed.

Neck—Of fair length, without throatiness and slightly arched.

Body—Deep and broad at chest, well ribbed up. Back short, not roached.

Elbows—Standing neither in nor out.

Fore legs—Wide apart, straight and well-muscled.

Hind legs—Straight, quite long from stifle to hock (which should turn neither in nor out), short and straight from hock to pastern. Thighs well muscled. Hocks not too prominent.

Feet—Small, nearly round, and turned neither in nor out. Toes compact and arched.

Tail—Set on low, short, fine and tapering, straight or screw, devoid of fringe or coarse hair, and not carried above the horizontal.

Color—Any color, brindle, evenly marked with white, strongly preferred.

Other alterations will be made at the next meeting.—American Stock-keeper.

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

E. M. Oldham and Mrs. Smyth of the Swiss Mountain Kennels sailed for England on the 5th.

The celebrated English St. Bernard Champion Duke of Florence died on May 23d of heart failure.

The St. Bernard Duke of Firmont, a winner of thirty first prizes, died the first of the month of apoplexy.

C. Carpy has presented to J. P. Norman the mastiff Chino Don 40,560, by Chino Lion—Chino Beauty. This is one of the best mastiffs in the State.

One of the most enthusiastic lovers of a good dog is L. G. Dorsey of Grass Valley. He has a splendid pack of fifty-four foxhounds and a number of Llewellyn setters, most of the latter are descendants of Champion Gladstone.

Every breeder of dogs of any breed should have a copy of Ashmun's Kennel Secrets and Diseases of Dogs. With these two books a man can successfully raise and exhibit the most delicate breed. Breeders of pointers and setters cannot afford to be without Waters' Kennel Training and Handling. For sale at this office.

The well-known black cocker spaniel Champion Black Duke by Champion Obo II—Woodland Queen died on June 7th. He was one of the biggest winners ever exhibited and the sire of many good ones, among them Champion Woodland Duke, Champion Pickpania, Champion Woodland Prince and many other winners.

The mischief-maker wants Major Taylor to judge the next field trials. We do not question his ability as a field trial judge, but neither Major Taylor, E. Waters or any other man is qualified to judge a California field trial until he has studied the habits of the California quail. A good judge would class some of our best dogs as duffers if he did not know what everlasting runners our birds are.

The fifteenth annual Derby of the Pacific Coast Field Trial Club will be run at Bakersfield commencing Monday, January 24th. If you have not entered your dog remember that you must before July 1st. It will cost you $5 to enter each dog, and the second forfeit is due October 15 $10 additional to start. Prizes 50, 30 and 20 per cent. The entry blanks are now out and may be obtained of Secretary J. M. Kilgariff.

J. B. Martin, of this city, has sent his fox terrier bitch Champion Golden Jewel (Blemton Reeper—Champion Blemton Brilliant) to the kennels of George H. Gooderham, of Toronto, Canada, to be bred to his dog Veracity (Visto—Violet de Vere). Certainly good results should come from this union, and we hope that Mr. Martin will be repaid for the expense and risk of sending such a valuable bitch to that distant point by receiving some good pups from this cross.

The Glenmore Kennel's Irish setter dog, Barrymore, by Ch. Finglas—Ch. Ruby Glenmore has proved himself one of the best stud dogs in America as well as a winner himself. His get have won as follows: Lad of Glenmore, 1st puppy, San Francisco, '95; 2d, Oakland, '96; 1st, Stockton, '97; 2d, San Jose, '97; 2d, San Francisco, '97. Girl of Glenmore, 2d, Stockton, '96. Daisy Glenmore, 1st puppy, Oakland, '97. Jesse Moore Whiskey, 1st puppy, '97. Glenmore Tribby, 2d, Oakland, '96. Mischief, 1st puppy, San Francisco, '96. Lightning C., 2d, San Francisco, '97. Seminole III, 2d, Sacramento, '96. Eye, V. H. C., Stockton, '96.

The Pinecroft Kennels advertise in our regular business columns a fine litter of St. Bernard puppies by Lord Haulpa (Alton—Keapsake) out of Lady Christobel (Reglov—Cleopatra). Write for prices.

Geo. A. Newhall's black poodle Franchette was poisoned Tuesday morning. The animal was found in the yard back of the Newhall residence on Van Ness avenue and Sutter street, frothing at the mouth and rolling about in great pain. A veterinary surgeon was summoned and the life of the animal was saved. A large piece of meat was found in the yard near the stable on the Post street side. It was powdered with arsenic. A portion of the meat had been eaten. Franchette was imported from France two years ago. She took the first prize in her class at the show of the San Francisco Kennel Club, the first in the dog shows in San Jose and Stockton. Last year she was awarded first prize at the show of the Alameda County Kennel Club, held in Oakland.

John I. Sparrow is disposing of his entire kennel. He is thoroughly disgusted with a kennel world that is dominated by one man. At San Jose and Stockton, the mouthpiece of Secretary Vredenburg—the secretary of the Pacific Advisory Board, informed the bench show committees, that there was no objection to Harper Whiskies winning in the regular classes but if his owner brought him in for specials, he would protest against the win in the name of the American Kennel Club. In still plainer English. One of the men who have pronounced this dog deaf, and an officer of the American Kennel Club, virtually says: I know this dog has no right to compete under the rules, but as long as he does not defeat any dog owned by a particular friend of mine, I will not object. The bench show committee, anxious to please, followed his instructions. Harper Whiskey won in the open class all around the circuit, but was not allowed to compete for specials against Fly and others. After it is all over and Whiskey has won all the honors he possibly could, his wins are all disqualified. We do not wonder that Mr. Sparrow is disgusted.

If the "mischief-maker" is wise he will resign from the Advisory Board before he gets fired. A little high-flown talk about resigning his personal interests for the good of the dog, etc., will hoodwink his few remaining friends into thinking him a martyr and he can have the reputation for a few weeks of going down with colors flying. Otherwise he will be ignominiously kicked out. The bull terrier club were disqualified for commenting on the action of a couple of the delegates to the American Kennel Club on the ground that such comment prevented the delegates from talking and voting as they thought was right. Here on this coast we have the Secretary of the Advisory Board publishing in his paper that another member of the Board has been a disturbing element (he undoubtedly has disturbed the mischief-maker's schemes for self-aggrandisement) since he was first elected and with plenty of choice Billingsgate accuses him of all sorts of things. Perhaps he can explain why he allowed Mr. Barker to act on the Board when he knew he was not a member of the Board but we fancy he will have hard work to do it. Secretary Vredenburg will undoubtedly try his best to retain his dear friend but we question if he can retain him with all his power.

The list of thoroughbred foals dropped at Joseph D. Lucas' Goodwood Stud, near St. Louis, this year, comprises fourteen colts and twelve fillies. Dr. Hasbrouck, a good race horse, is the premier stallion at Goodwood. The first of his get were foaled last spring, and will be sold in New York shortly. Mr. Lucas has great faith in Dr. Hasbrouck's capabilities as a stud, and is breeding him to the best matrons at Goodwood. Nattie Hamilton, the dam of Carrie B. and Lady Hamilton, both frequent winners, has a nice chestnut colt by Hasbrouck at her side. Grisette, the dam of Anna Race, First Chance and Potash, is the mother of a slashing bay colt by the Doctor. Lucille Manette, C. C. Maffi's old race mare, also has a chestnut colt by Hasbrouck. Dr. Hasbrouck will be remembered as a race horse of extreme speed; in fact, he was one of the fastest horses ever trained in this country. In breeding him, Mr. Lucas has been careful to select mare capable of producing substantial horses. Every matron served to the great son of Sir Modred traces back to families that have been distinguished for their ability to go the route.

The Harbin Hot Sulphur Springs in Lake County, Cal., established in 1855, have been reopened at great expense by Mr. James Hayes, who takes pleasure in announcing that fact to his many friends. It will be remembered that the hotel and cottages were burned down some time ago.

Australasian Turf Notes.

Secrecy, winner of the First Handicap Hurdle race at Auckland, is by Foul Shot, now owned by Barney Schreiber.

The Indian Planter's Gazette, the principal sporting paper, in referring to steeplechasing in Australia, says:—If a man in England rode a horse at high timber at the pace that our Australian cousins do, he would not only be considered a fool, but he would break his neck to a certainty. In Australia, of course, the horses are timber specialists, they jump little also from their foalhood upwards; but, nevertheless, it seems to us that asking horses to go at hurdle-racing pace over iron bound obstacles of the order of those on the Flemington course is hardly humane. There is not, so we have often been informed, a ghost of chance for a horse who strikes a fence—down he goes—and more times than not it lays him up, as well it might when we come to consider what the consistency of the obstacle is that he has taken the liberty with. Of course there is a lot of truth in the safety of a big fence, but there is, or there ought to be, a line dividing the big fence which is fair and the big fence which is inhumane. To win the Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase there is a lot to jump, and the fences will not permit many liberties being taken with them, but they are not by any means of the unfair order. A fence can be made stiff without converting it into an agent for the undertaker.

Mr. R. Gibson, the owner of Daimio, who is at present in England, has come to the conclusion that steeplechasing, as practiced in Australia, is far too severe both for man and beast, and says it would be an undoubted improvement to model the fences on the English style. There are, he says, far too many accidents in Australia, which would be greatly minimized if followed as you suggest, and adds that now that Australian horses can hold their own in England, as proven by their running, there would be a good market for horses that were weighted too much in Australia, and they could readily be sold here; but at present the style of jumping is against that, as a horse now has to be taught quite a new business, and trainers, he says, know how hard that is, for anyone to bring a real good timber jumper down so that he would crash through hedges. Horses that jump like Daimio are no good here; they lose too much at the jumps, through trying to jump five feet, when English horses are going quite a foot lower. This is a great handicap on any horse, however good he may be. Daimio ran at Lingfield, top weight 12st 10 lb., in very heavy going. Mr. Gibson says he never saw anything in his life like it on a course. He seemed to be quite astonished, and, besides jumping over a foot higher than the others, he was badly beaten. Mr. Gibson gives it as his opinion that a really good bold hurdler could win many steeplechases in England.

W. R. Wilson will try to sell his great colt, Anom, in England, where there is a great "boom" in Australian horses at present. Mr. W. wants a good price for the brother to Auraria.

At the Auckland (N. Z.) April meeting the St. Legers and Castors were very much in evidence, the former winning a majority of the races the first three days. Lady Anna won two days in succession—at a mile and at seven furlongs, while her sister, Miss Anna, followed her on the second day with a win of the Onslow Stakes Handicap.

There is in Australia a half-sister to Trappean and Fort Angustus named Idolatry. She is the dam of two winners in Hindoo and Maldon. The Sydney Referee of the 14th inst. gives the following description of the Hawkesbury Autumn Handicap, which was won by Mr. S. Hordern's Adoration (Nordenfeldt—Idolatry): "Hopscotch was always favorite on the course, and started firm at 5 to 2, with Adoration next in demand, and Right Honorable third favorite. After that trio long prices were going. The Meddler being in better request than anything else. * * Right Honorable was the unlucky horse in the first scramble for places, and he got knocked on to the rails. This treatment he resented by refusing to gallop for a time after it occurred, and his many backers were afforded a sight of him when the field was going along the backstretch, toiling about ten lengths behind the last horses of the main body. Between him and the rest there was a cloud of dust, and his chance looked hopeless. Meanwhile Thespian was making the running, attended by Rockwall, and so they ran until after passing the half-mile, when Freedom ran up on the outside and got to the front before beginning the home turn. Though he led into the straight and Queensland could not sustain his effort, and once more Rockwall took up a leading position and Adoration appeared on the outside. Right Honorable had been missed, but he was now seen again, having made a remarkable run on the inside and got almost up with the leaders inside the distance. He could not do any more, as Adoration drew out and won by half a length, with Rockwall second, a head in front of him. It is a wonderfully good run in a fast race, and though he did not win the performance was very meritorious. It was bad luck for Mr. Macken and Allsop that Right Honorable was so badly served at the start, for otherwise he could hardly have lost. Adoration got somewhat knocked about, as was proved by her jockey's leg having come into contact with the rail, several splinters from which were extracted by a medical man afterward. The Nordenfeldt filly is not a big one, but of rare quality. * * Adoration is out of Idolatry (dam of Hindoo and Maldon), one of the mares selected in England by Mr. F. W. Day for Mr. Hordern's stud. This mare is by Isomy from La Trappe, by Hermit, and her union with Nordenfeldt has turned out well enough to make her purchase a payable investment apart from Hindoo's success." Marcus Daly brought La Trappe to America. Idolatry went to the stud when but two years of age.

In the Champagne Stakes, run at the recent meeting of the Australian Jockey Club, Musket blood was much in evidence. Anom, by Trenton, won; Amberite, by Carbine, was second, and El Norte, by Nordenfeldt, third.

Neckersgat, the sire of Portsea and Dunlop, that recently died, had two crosses of Pocahontas very close up. His sire was Talk o' the Hill, whose grandam was the famous Pocahontas. The dam of Neckersgat was Miss Giraffe, by King Tom, who was by Harkaway from Pocahontas. Portsea, who ran three miles in 5:23½ with 131 pounds up, has still another Pocahontas strain, his dam being Lady Lovelace, by Gang Forward, son of Stockwell (he by The Baron—Pocahontas). And in receiving this blood of Pocahontas it is noted that the celebrated daughter of Glance was mated with three different sires—Irish Birdcatcher, Harkaway and The Baron.

The Australian horses are great stayers, as a class. A few months ago we told of a horse in the Colonies that ran four times in one afternoon. Recently a mare named Mollyhawk won two races in succession at Charters Towers, in Queensland. A chestnut gelding named Wanderer carried 12½ pounds and was just beaten in a two-mile race, third on the programme. In the fifth race, the same afternoon he carried 12½ pounds and won at a mile and a half. The next day, in the third event, three miles, he won with 127 pounds up, and in the fifth race took up 137 pounds and won at two miles. Some years ago the jumper Readleap carried to victory 194 pounds over thirty obstacles, four feet five inches and upward in height, including stiff fences, stone walls and log jumps, doing the distance in 8:30.

An Absolute Necessity.

For many years we have suggested to the compiler of the Trotting Register the necessity of publishing in each Year Book a chapter containing all corrections of pedigrees and records that were in the preceding Year Books. The year book as now compiled needs something of this kind to make it valuable. Secretary Steiner is not to blame for this, but the secretaries of the various associations as well as the owners are, for they do not give pedigrees in full. For instance, the following list of horses does not appear in the Year Book, and it will be noticed they have marks which are bars and yet they do not get credit for having records, and many of them are placed under the doubtful "s. t. h." list. Secretary Steiner sends us the following and we will deem it a favor if all owners of these horses as well as owners of the sires would make any corrections they might see. Give the year in which performer was foaled, name and address of breeder and all the information possible about the pedigree on the dam's side:

Pleasanton Items.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN:—Nothing very exciting has been going on here at the track lately.

The gelding, Paddy Miles, by Arthur Wilkes, the pacer that Barney Simpson has been working here, has been sold to a Mr. Skushaw of Chico, and Jimmy Sullivan has taken him to the Willows. He can step some. Simpson is working the Bradbory horses.

Directina, 3, by Direct, out of dam of Directum, is working easy miles in 2:30, finishing the last quarter in 35 seconds. Miss Margaret, the three-year-old black pacer, is working miles in the same time and manner.

Patti D. is going sound again, although no effort is being made to go fast with her.

These three, with others, will soon be shipped East to join the Salisbury string.

Mr. Quinn's colt Arthur W., by Wayland W. is stepping some pretty glib miles once in a while. So is the mare Iora, by Ira.

A three-year-old trotting mare by Diablo, that Alviso is working, is stepping right down the line, every work-out lowering the time made previous. She has been close to 2:20 already. She will not be raced this year.

Olympic Circuit bicycle riders are billed for Pleasanton next Sunday.

The Combination Sale.

It has been a rare occurrence for visitors at auction sales to see a better lot offered, not only in breeding and individuality, but in appearance, than those which were sold by Messrs. Killip & Co. last Wednesday. Great praise is due Messrs. Sam Elmore of Oregon, K. O'Grady of San Mateo, Peter Casey of San Mateo, W. H. Mixer and H. V. Armshead for the well-groomed appearance of every one they offered. Vermont, 2:21½, is one of the finest made and most promising rotters ever brought to California, but, as several horsemen who promised to attend the sale failed to be there, Mr. Elmore decided not to have him sacrificed. He is worth $2,000 and is able to trot in 2:15, perfectly sound, handsome as a picture, and one that will be a credit to anyone. The following sold for $100 and over:

Sidney Moore, by Sidney—Mamie Harney; J. Moore ..... $145
Silver Bug, by Silver Bug—Mamie Harney; Jabez K. Simpson ..... 135
Lady Wentworth, by Altamont—Kitty Kisber; Wm. Kerrigan ..... 250
Becky Sharp, by Almont Medium—Mamie Harney; Alex McDougal ..... 115
Loleta, by Melrose Bay—Lookout; D. E. McDraw ..... 135
Patricia, by Piedmont—Lillian Clay; Marcus Hoffman ..... 100
Seale, by Seales' Nutwood—unknown; G. F. Markley ..... 100

THE large infirmary erected by Dr. C. Masoero on the ocean beach near the Igle side road was destroyed by fire May 27th, loss estimated at $6,500, insurance $800. It had been filled with horses, but nearly all of them had been sent to their owners a few days previous to the fire, and although the loss is a very serious one to this eminent veterinary surgeon he said: "I am glad no horses were destroyed." It is hardly likely he will rebuild.

HOOF-BEATS.

TOD SLOAN rode four winners and a second at Gravesend last Wednesday.

THE CHEAT beat Official at Ingalls Park last Thursday, time, 9:57½ over a slow track.

ORNAMENT won the Himyar Stakes at Latonia last Thursday, having only Boanerges to beat.

CHEARY BOUNCE, by Morello, won a four and one-half furlong race at Ingalls Park last Thursday.

JOHNNY WOODS, Patsy Freeman, E. Jones and Hinkley rode winners at St. Louis last Wednesday.

ENTRY blanks for the Los Angeles meeting meeting may be obtained at the office of this journal.

CHARLEY THORPE, Tod Sloan, H. Martin and Willie Simms were on winners at Gravesend last Thursday.

A MEETING of directors of the State Fair was held yesterday at Sacramento. The programme for the State Fair will appear in this issue next week.

THE growing demand for Speed Sustaining Elixir is made by thousands of horsemen who are anxious to have every horse they have in perfect condition.

LITTLE JOHNNY ("DUGAN") WOODS put Loyalette over the plate a winner last Thursday at St. Louis and Eddie Jones had the mount on the victorious Gold Top.

RUDOLPH SPRECKELS has sent in his application to belong to the P. C. F. H. B. Association. He will have some good trotters and pacers on the circuit this season.

ANYONE wanting a first-class driving mare, one that anyone can drive, should read R. H. Opperman's advertisement in this issue and write at once to him for further particulars.

K. O'GRADY's finely-bred stallion, Hart Boswell, will have a few sons and daughters on the California circuit in 1898. They are all (without a single exception) superior individuals.

HALMA, the famous black horse, which has been retired from the turf for some time past, won a mile race in 1:42½ at Gravesend last Wednesday, beating Brandywine, Arabian and four others.

SECRETARY T. J. FRAZIER of the Overland Racing Association, under date of June 15th, writes: "Our meeting was a success and in 1898 we will more than likely give at least a two weeks' meeting."

AT the Fort Erie track, near Buffalo, last Thursday, Jim Flood won a six furlong race in 1:15½. He will be remembered by our race goers as the favorite for the $10,000 stake at Bay District a few years ago.

SOME time ago Mr. H. K. Vingt shipped several horses to England, and among the lot was a two-year-old bay filly by Salvator—Badotte. This filly was sold to Baron Rothschild and has since won in his colors.

LIMASOL, winner of the Oaks this year in England this year, was bred in France and is an own sister to imp. Maori. Maori was the first animal in America to beat 1:40 in a mile race. This she did at Washington Park, Chicago.

GREAT BEND, brother to Potomac and Chesapeake, won the Roslyn Stakes at Gravesend last Thursday. Ben Brush won at a mile, beating Belmar, The Swain and other good ones. Kilkenny, the Darebin horse, won a two-mile hurdle.

AT Ingalls Park last Monday, Philomena ran second to Tenele, The Cheat ran second to Official (five furlongs in 1:01), imp Percy won a six and a half furlong race in 1:21. Babe Murphy finished up second to His Brother in a mile race.

"BOB" LAW will train his stable of gallopers in Newman, Cal., this summer instead of going to Montana. In his stable are Rene S., Blossmury and a two-year-old colt by Flambeau, dam Blossmury. Blossmury should win many races this fall with a good rest.

"PIKE" BARNES, the once noted jockey, is here, but is too heavy to ride. Suval, another old-timer, I saw the other day. "Tiny" Williams and "Monk" Overton, also old-timers, are still in harness, and riding about as well as they ever did.—"Broad Church" in N. Y. Spirit of the Times, Latonia Correspondence.

THEODORE WINTERS, who has bred more turf celebrities than any man alive, was in our office last Thursday, and he informs us that he intends thoroughly breaking his yearlings before the sale comes off next fall. "As I have no track," said Mr. Winters, "they can't accuse me of putting any culls on the market."

ROYAL DANCE, a recent winner at Latonia, is by Starter Ferguson's Prince Royal out of Ban Dance, and Argus, a winner on the same day, is by the California sire, Argyle, out of the good mare, Lake Breeze. Amphitrite, another victorious one, is a half-sister to Mary S., being by Strathmore—Ocean Wave.

WALTER J., the running horse, whose owner, McDermott, has made a pretty penny from the events he has landed, was stolen from his paddock at Agricultural Park about 7 o'clock last evening. The horse is one of the swiftest sprinters that went to the late spring races in this city, and is a very valuable property.—Sacramento Record-Union.

MR. E. J. COWNIN, of New York, has purchased from Scoggin Brothers, of Kentucky, the famous broodmare Longshore, by Longfellow—Sea Shell, by imp. King Ben. The price paid was $6,000. Longshore has distinguished herself by producing in three years the stake winners Applegate, 4, Winged Foot, 3, and Kitefoot, 2, all by Buchanan.

HENRY BAKER recently purchased John Bailhache's Anteo Richmond, with a record of 2:24. He is eight years old, the youngest of the progeny of the noted sire in Sonoma county. Henry had him hitched up Monday afternoon and says he is as fast as he ever was and that nothing here can touch him. This is a challenge.—Santa Rosa Republican.

SURE CURE FOR PILES.

BALMOLINE is endorsed by the leading horsemen of this country, such as Andy McDowell, of Pleasanton, Cal., who has successfully banded and given records to some of the fastest horses of the age, viz., Alex. 2:03 3/4, Azote, 2:04 3/4, Directly (2 yrs.), 2:07 1/4, Cricket (high wheel sulky), 2:10, Directum (King of the turf), 2:08 1/4, etc. With the following excellent endorsements, can you for a moment doubt that "BALMOLINE" possesses true merit, and will do just as is hereby represented?

A FEW TESTIMONIALS FROM PROMINENT HORSEMEN WHO HAVE USED IT.

We, the undersigned, have used and seen used DeHuy's Balmoline for cracked heels, hobbie chafes, cuts, etc., and found it perfectly satisfactory in every respect: Andy McDowell, Ben Kenney (trainer and driver for Marcus Daly, Hamilton, Mont.), W. # VIVA LA

Brown Colt, foaled in 1892, Bred by Jos. Cairn Simpson.

BY WHIPS, SIRE OF AZOTE, 2:04 3-4, COBWEBS, 2:12, AND SEVERAL OTHERS IN THE LIST

FIRST DAM—JOE VIVA, by Joe Hooker.

SECOND DAM—LADY VIVA, by Three Cheers (dam of Electioneer Rex, showed when a two-year-old quarters in 36 seconds.)

THIRD DAM—LADY AMANDA, by imp. Hurrah (the dam of Electioneer Jr., formerly Advance, three-year-old record 2:22 1/2).

FOURTH DAM—LADY LANCASTER, by imp. Monarch. The dam of Malcolm Regent, Ontario and several other winners. Marion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rey, Yo Tambien, and several other high-class race horses, is by Malcolm, and the breeding of Viva La—Electioneer, combined with strains of thoroughbred which have shown adaptability to acquire trotting action, is now greatly fancied by intelligent breeders.

VIVA LA is sixteen hands high, a rich seal brown in color and more than usually handsome, combining muscular power and quality in an eminent degree. He was trained a little in his yearling form and showed a 2:40 gait and was improving rapidly when his training was suspended. He can scarcely fail on the right sort of mares to get fast trotters, and with nearly a certainty of securing good-sized, fine-looking horses which are in these times are in demand.

And 32 others.
All race records.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTS.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his blindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

EXTREME SPEED AND RACE HORSE QUALITY

THE KING OF ALL RACE HORSES AND SIRES.

McKINNEY, 2:11 1-4.

Will Make the Season of 1897, Commencing February 1st at

Oakland Trotting Park,

AT $100 THE SEASON.

As a Nine-Year-Old Stallion, McKinney's List Leads All Others in the World for Average Speed:

Jenny Mc, 3.....2:12	Harvey Mc, 2.....2:18	Sola, 4.....2:25 3-4
McZeus, 4.....2:13	Jolla O., 3.....2:16 1-4	Sola, 4, trial.....2:15 1-2
Zombro, 3.....2:13	Jenny Mc, 2.....2:20 1-4	Oslo, 2.....2:30
Harvey Mc, 3.....2:14 1-4	Sir Credit, 3.....2:25	Pat Cooney, trial.....2:19

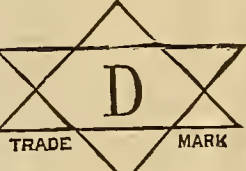

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal.

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcyone (son of George Wilkes, and Alma Mater, the famous broodmare by Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/2, he by Rhode Island, 2:23 1/2, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/4, Gov. Sprague, 2:26 1/4, Wilmar, 2:29 1/4), by Hambletonian 10; grandam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great grandam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. I. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15 1/2 hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. —Sired by—

ANTEROS 6020, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Mahoe (grandam of Voucher), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteeo, 2:16 1/2, Antevolo, 2:13 1/4, etc., bel. g. by Electioneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10 1/4, Nelly F., 2:13 1/4, and seven others in 2:30 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 144 sired Dan Voorhees, 2:23 1/4, St. Helena, 2:27 1/2, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14 1/2, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DEATH HITCH—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in California. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and as for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Trilby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of hand some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—horses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address

IN THE SALINAS VALLEY.

A Most Prosperous Section of the Country—
What Has Been Done and What is on the Tapis—The Fine Horses Around Salinas—Racing Prospects—
The Iverson Trotters.

Notwithstanding the hue and cry of "hard times" we hear almost everywhere we go, there is one place in California where the people claim times were never better, and that is at Salinas, Monterey county. The people there are wide-awake and progressive, and ever since those great Pacific Coast advance agents of prosperity, Claus Spreckels and his sons, Adolph and John D., called the attention of the people of the great Salinas valley to the fact that the soil and the climate could not be surpassed for the cultivation of sugar beets, everyone who has a farm within ten miles of the city has set aside a portion of it and planted beet seed. The results proved that the prediction of Mr. Spreckels, the elder, made fifteen months ago, was correct. Not satisfied with this, and determined to see Salinas and the surrounding country made famous, Mr. Spreckels purchased thousands of acres of rich bottom lands along the banks of the Salinas river, called a meeting of the leading farmers, instructed them regarding sugar beet culture, got them to promise to plant as many acres of beets as they possibly could, and at once set about to build railroads (as feeders) in every direction to tap the fields wherein the beets were cultivated. The site of the immense sugar beet factory has been selected. It is on a level plateau not far from the Salinas river, where water can be had in abundance, and as if to make the place more suitable, a limestone quarry, situated on the Silacci place, about four miles from Salinas, was discovered. As much of this material will have to be used in constructing the foundation of the immense refinery, Mr. Spreckels purchased it and built a railroad from it to the field, where the ground will soon be broken to lay the foundations. The question of disposing of the beet pulp did not worry this projector of so many enterprises, for he purchased an immense tract of land on the opposite side of the river, where he will build silos in which to place this pulp and keep it for feeding the cattle, of which he no doubt will have many hundreds.

To make these improvements and to help the other farmers or beet planters to plant seed and gather these root crops, hundreds of men will have to be employed. Even since the talk of the refinery has started many new-comers from all parts of the United States have purchased property adjacent to Salinas and erected neat homes thereon. On every avenue and cross street for at least two miles from the City Hall substantial residences can be seen in course of erection, and contracts for as many more have been let, still the work is only in its infancy. Farmers who have heretofore depended entirely upon their annual crops of cereals are satisfied there is more money in beets, and every foot of available land is being plowed, cross-plowed, harrowed and rolled until it looks as smooth as a billiard table. The beets that were raised last year have all been sold at a profit to the refinery at Watsonville, and many a mortgage has been raised, and many a heavy debt lifted from the farmers by these saccharine products.

Salinas itself seems to have taken on a new lease of life. The principal streets are all bituminized, the stores repainted and many of the old frame buildings razed, and in their stead substantial stone and brick edifices are to be seen. There is not a vacant store (even though rents have been increased 25 per cent) in the city, and as for a suitable vacant residence, none can be had. A street railroad will soon be built to connect Salinas with the sugar factory, and along the line many houses will be erected this summer.

The residents are enthusiastic over the prospects. For years they have been boasting of the "glorious climate," "splendid soil," beautiful scenery and immense crops of grain they have raised; but the crowds did not flock to see the place. It grew slowly for over thirty years until now it seems to have awakened to its great possibilities, and every one feels that it has a bright future. And it undoubtedly has. But there are other resources, other industries which will in a few years add wealth and fame to this rich valley by the river. As a stock-raising country, long before Gen. Fremont crossed the mountains overlooking San Juan and Salinas, this country was noted for the excellence of its live-stock. Its immense ranches were the homes of many thousands of cattle long before the "Gringo" came. After the cattle had had their day, the immense pasture fields were divided, fenced and cross-fenced into grain fields, and the immense crops harvested attested the value of the soil. Very little attention was paid to the breeding and raising of fine horses, drafts, thoroughbreds, or trotters, but with the influx of new people and the increasing demand for better horses more attention was paid to this industry. Some of the finest draft horses now in use in San Francisco were bred in Salinas valley, the farmers there never spared money when they saw what they thought suited them best. The large farms on which heets will be sown will need hundreds of good horses, for only the heaviest and strongest ones can be used advantageously in these places. They will be found right here in the country; many of them were included in the purchase of land made by Mr. Spreckels and his sons. Of thoroughbreds very little has ever been done, but in light harness horses a decided advance has been noticed, commencing with the importation of Jessie D. Carr's famous horse Mambrino, better known as Carr's Mambrino (1789), a son of Mambrino Patchen 58 out of a mare by Mambrino Chief. He was bred by Dr. L. Herr, of Lexington, Ky., and was well patronized by farmers and horse-owners in the valley. Vermont 322, a son of Independence, out of a Gifford Morgan mare, was also used in the stud in Salinas, and left many descendants. Junio, 2:22, was here also, and when the track was built on the Sherwood place, about a mile and a half from town, every race meeting was well attended and the interest in good horses increased. Messrs. Carr, Iverson, Hebert, Ball, Vanderhurst, Corey, Lynn, Trescony and a score of others had representative trotters and pacers, and every one was driven to win. Of these, there are very few deeply interested in trotting horses, but all retain a few good ones. The one who has the most is J. B. Iverson. He has a pretty stock farm on the edge of the town, where he has built a three-quarter mile track, box stalls, paddocks, etc., and while on a visit there recently I was much impressed with the uniform excellence of the horses, young and old, I saw there. At the head of his stud Mr. Iverson has a son of Electioneer, out of Lady Ellen, 2:29½ (dam of Helena, 2:12½; Ella, 2:29; Eugeneer, 2:23½; Elleneer, 2:21½; Nellie May, dam of Besita, 2:27½; and Montura, 2:22½), by Carr's Mambrino; second dam, Ida May, Jr., by Owen Dale, a son of Williamson's Belmont; third dam, Ida May, by Williamson's Belmont; fourth dam, Mary, by Red Buck. This horse was called Eugeneer, and was purchased from Palo Alto for $10,000, and then passed to Mr. Iverson. He is one of the strongest bred sons of Electioneer, and from the appearance or his progeny he is destined to be a sire of good-looking, well-formed trotters.

Mr. Iverson used good judgment in the selection of his broodmares, and one is at a loss, when looking at the little band that gathered around us in the field, to select which was the best. Daughters of Vermont 322, Steinway, 2:25½; Antevolo, 2:19½; Kentucky Prince (sire of Dexter Prince), Messenger Duroc, Carr's Mambrino, O'Donnell, Altoona 8550, Erwin Davis, Junio, Elmo and other famous sires. Some of these have been bred to the best horses Mr. Iverson could secure, and the fillies by McKinney, 2:11½, and Dictatus are grand-looking, but those by his own horse, Eugeneer, do not suffer in comparison with them. Salinas Belle (dam of Ivolo, 2:20½, and Monter, 2:30), has a colt by her side that is a grand one, and the same remark can be made about the fillies out of Belle, by Kentucky Prince and Altoona, by Altoona; Clarissa, by O'Donnell, and Bertie, by Cropsy's Redwood. They have size, bone, style and good color, very little white, except the usual Electioneer marking (two hind heels white). While trotting by the side of their matrons, they moved with ease across the alfalfa paddock, and showed that trotting is their natural gait. Mr. Iverson is a liberal feeder. His land yields five tons of hay to the acre, and such rich hay, too! while his alfalfa fields are as green as a lawn throughout the year. Vet Kent, one of the most capable horsemen and careful reinmen in California, has charge of the horses here, and his idea of "never sparing the feed to make the colt" is rigidly adhered to. Sickness among the stock in this valley is seldom known, and as Mr. Iverson drives out to this farm and goes among the youngsters every day he quickly notices if any of them are ailing.

In the box-stalls, knee-deep in straw, Mr. Kent has all his horses looking healthy and strong, and it was with pleasure I noted their fine appearance. The first one led out did belong to Mr. Iverson. Mr. Kent brought him over from Hollister, he belongs to the Shaw Bros., editors of the Advance, published there. He is called Uncle Johnny, and was sired by Benton Boy, out of Nellie, by Brown Jug. He appeared at the State Fair last year in the 2:40 class for two-year-olds, and was second to Owyhee, by Chas. Derby, in 2:24 and 2:30. He is a faster three-year-old than he was a two-year-old, and will get some of the money this season.

Ivaneer (brother to Monter, 2:30), by Eugeneer, is a fine-looking three-year-old. Prince Gift, 2:20½, by Good Gift, is a very large four-year-old. He has a faultless gait and were it not for an accident which he met with last year every race for three-year-olds in California was at his mercy. He is such a growthy fellow, Mr. Kent is using great care to have him good and strong when the bell rings. If he is fit and well, it will take a record-breaker to defeat him in any race. He is level-headed and never makes a break.

A very handsome two-year-old bay filly was next led out. She was by Eugeneer out of Steinway Maid, by Steinway Jr.

Eugeneer was the name of the next one. He is a brown, and sired by Eugeneer out of Clarissa, by O'Donnell.

Dictatus, a pacer which looks like his sire, Dictator, was in the adjoining stall. His dam was Salinas Belle, one of the best broodmares in Monterey county, she having two in the 2:30 list and one, Mambrino Boy, with a record of 2:31½. Dictatus is a pacer and a good one.

Mr. Kent has done very little with these yet, but from this time he intends to give them sharp work.

We were much pleased with a gelding by Whips out of a mare by Messenger Duroc, and believe there will be no trouble for him to get a mark below 2:30 when the opportunity presents itself.

A full brother to Prince Gift, 2:20½, that promises to be equally as large, is being worked for speed, and if he keeps on improving will make as fast a horse as his illustrious brother. All the mares on the farm have been bred to Eugeneer this year, and this horse will have a better chance than he has ever had, for Mr. Iverson is one of our progressive horsemen who believes in enhancing the value of all his colts and fillies by good feeding and so developing them. He has as fine a lot of yearlings as any one could wish to see, and all those which do not show they will pay for their development will be sold for whatever they will bring. However, there is little fear of the majority of them. In two years Mr. Iverson will have as fine a string of horses as any breeder in California, and will take a leading position among the horsemen of the Golden State.

Mr. Iverson is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the coming race meeting at the Salinas track, saying: "There were no complaints last year. I know there will be none this. Mr. Spreckels has sent his horses to the track to be prepared for the circuit, and we can entertain all visitors to this city during the race meeting as well as any other folks in California. We have a splendid track, a prosperous community, a board of directors who are as enthusiastic lovers of good horse and true racing as I am, and I promise you that you can anticipate having a good time if you come." Having attended the Salinas races for the past five years, I can vouch for all Mr. Iverson says, and believe that when the programme is published the number of entries will exceed any ever sent in to this association; and the names of those who have brought horses to Salinas before will be at the head of the list.

ARNABEE.

IODINE does not sound like a very promising substance with which to treat a severe burn, but nevertheless a British veterinarian has used it with success in a very bad case. In a gas explosion a coach and his driver were so badly burned that the case seemed hopeless. Dr. A. N. Porteous handled the case. The body of the horse was very badly hurt over almost its entire surface. The doctor took three ounces of iodine and mixing them with a pint of water thoroughly soaked the burned parts, covering them afterwards with a paste composed of starch and water, to exclude the air. Relief was apparent and the treatment was renewed next day wherever the starch dressing had been broken away from the skin. Recovery followed in about twenty days and not only was the horse successfully brought through the scrape but the driver almost as badly burned used the same dressing and treatment and was well as soon as the nag.

AT SALINAS RACE TRACK.

Some of the Horses That Are Being Prepared for the Fall Meetings.

There is a marked degree of interest manifested at the race track now, since it is ascertained that California will have good circuit exhibitions. Some of our local horsemen who had planned to take their horses on the Montana route have abandoned the idea and much prefer to stay at home. James Dwain, who is the present lessee, has put a good deal of work on the track; he has plowed it deep, bringing new soil to the surface, regraded and settled it, and the present condition is very satisfactory, with the prediction that it will be exceedingly fast for the fall meeting. There are probably twenty-five well bred and promising horses being worked there now, and it is a very pleasant way to spend the morning hours observing the exercising of the young hopefuls, and occasionally witnessing a surprisingly fast quarter or a half, for it is nearly too early yet to see full mile work-outs. The genial sunshine tempers the fresh sea breeze to the most invigorating conditions, and nowhere else are horses trained with better facilities for track work, proper feed, housing and climate. Everything necessary seems to be provided, and anything requiring special arrangement will receive the obliging attention of Mr. Dwain, who is always ready to accommodate his friends. He is busy, as he has some half-dozen animals under his direct supervision, as follows: Bruno, filling the role of a pet, as he is having a well-earned rest, and will not be driven on the circuit this year:

Hon. J. D. Carr's black gelding Upsoar (4), by Sidney, dam by Abbottsford, is a large, strongly-made horse, and in his two-year-old form gave great promise.

Will Jacks of Monterey has in this list a beautiful bay filly by Napa Wilkes, which he is having broken for road use, but which threatens to develop into a race horse.

Cheri Hebert is having educated a race-looking filly (2) by Bruno, dam Laura H. by Altoona. Mr. Dwain looked wise when he said she would pay for the care she gets.

Dr. Gonzales has sent up a five-year-old bay gelding to be improved as a roadster; one of Prince Red's sons out of a daughter of Junio. It is hard to tell what these roadsters may develop into.

J. D. Carr thinks enough of a three-year-old bay colt called Civilian by the grand black stallion Electricity and out of Lucky Girl by Carr's Mambrino to have him trained. Mr. Dwain broke the hearts of several bystanders by remarking that he was the best colt ever raised around here. Well, it must be proved, for Monterey county is producing some splendid colts these days.

The genial Cavill Rodriguez has a string of five equine prodigies. In the first stall is located H. P. Brown's two-year-old pacing stallion Lu B. by Diablo, dam by Prompter. This colt is entered in the Breeders' meeting, and will also go at Salinas this fall.

C. B. Dawson has a sure trotter in his two-year-old colt Valentine by Boodle, dam Kate, by Carr's Mambrino. He already shows quarters in 38 with but a few weeks' handling. He is entered at the Breeders' meeting and will go at home.

Henry Pierce, the wide-awake agent at the narrow gauge depot, attended the San Mateo stock farm sale last month and bought a two-year-old black pacing filly by Sable Wilkes and out of Annie G., by Mambrino Boy. She is to be broken for a roadster, but it is predicted that "blood will tell," and certainly road work will be too slow for her.

A. B. Spreckels has sent a number of fine horses over from his Aptos Stock Farm, where there is a half-mile track, to Salinas to prepare them for this year's campaign. They are in charge of T. V. O'Brien and two assistants. Mr. O'Brien was the first assistant driver at Palo Alto when Marvin was doing such marvelous work with the great colts at that noted stock farm. He is a splendid reinsman and very courteous gentleman.

At the head of the string is Dione, a speedy mare by Eros, dam Gracie, by Speculation 928. Dione last year as a four-year-old trotted to a record of 2:18.

Countess, by McKinney, 2:11, dam Miss Valensin, by Valensin, 2:23, is a green one, but will make a trotter sure. Her breeding is gilt edged enough to justify great expectations of her.

Venus, by Cupid, 2:18, a son of Sidney, dam Lillie S., by Speculation, is without a record; as is also Psyche (3), by Cupid, dam Emma S., by Speculation.

The only pacer in the lot is a fine-looking, sweet-gaited two-year-old gelding by Antos Wilkes, full brother to the great campaigner, Hulda, 2:08.

Henry Delsney & Co. have the following stable of well-bred equines to develop: Hiram Corey's buckskin gelding (5), by Napa Wilkes, dam Blue Belle, by Wapsie. He promises well.

Nick Jensen has sent to Mr. Rodriguez from San Lucas a pacing bay gelding, Frank Murphy by name, with a record of 2:29. His sire is Brown Jug and dam by Tom Vernon.

Alfred Gonzales has put in training a three-year-old filly by Sable Wilkes, dam by Granger. She is just beginning to get her gait and gained five seconds in one quarter in a week's work. If she continues at this rate she will be interesting to develop.

Hiram Corey's five-year-old black Sidney stallion, dam Kate Ewing, 2:21, he has been in school about four weeks and trotted a quarter recently in 37 seconds.

The beautiful Anita, 2:17, whom we all know, is sired by Junio, dam by Fallis; she has gone in her work this season, a mile in 2:19, demonstrating that she has her speed.

Shelby is an affectionate bay gelding four years old, bred as follows: Sir, Wilkes Moor, 2:27, dam Queen by Odd Fellow, he by Echo. When asked how speedy he promised to be, Mr. Delsney's expression indicated a desire to be obliging, counteracted by a mysterious reticence. Shelby will be an interesting horse to keep in mind.

F. M. Hammett, a former lessee of the track, is handling some valuable animals. He has a matched team of hay mares (4), by Eugeneer, dams by Kingston. They are the property of J. W. Tholcke, who is having them specially broken for a carriage team.

A gray mare belonging to M. J. Smeltzer, by Altoona, dam the mother of Billy Baxter, is being investigated as to speed qualities.

Wm. Ford is having Mr. Hammett prepare for a roadster a four-year-old Brown Jug colt which is a fine fellow.

This concludes the list of horses now at the track, and it is not considered there is a call among them. Besides these there are a number being put in shape at J. B. Iverson's stock farm, among which is the great Prince Gift. J. H. Harris also has a small stable of trotters, some of which he expects to start in several events this year. One is a fine Boodle colt belonging to Mr. Carr.

A new impetus to the light harness horse industry seems to be in existence throughout the State, as shown by the biggest list of entries in the circuit events for many years.—Salinas Index.

LOGAN "THE IRON HORSE."

What Aleck Shields' Big Bay Horse Has Accomplished During His Long Turf Career.

Logan, "the iron horse," was generally credited with winning his one hundredth race on the afternoon of Friday, June 18, 1897, at Highland Park, Detroit, Mich. While not wishing to depreciate the doings on the turf of so honest an animal as Logan, we wish to state that Goodwin's Official Guide does not credit him with nearly so many wins. However, the son of Voltigeur and Pert has probably taken part in more turf contests than any racer that ever galloped over a course and besides has traveled more miles in the cars than any horse on record. Logan has raced as far north as Montreal, Quebec, as far south as New Orleans, La. San Francisco was as far West as he proceeded on his racing tours, and if he had gone any further in that direction he would have been forced to wear a life preserver. Providence, Rhode Island, was his Eastern limit, and that's about as far in that direction as they have galloping races. Between these points he raced at Saratoga, Coney Island and Brighton Beach, N. Y.; at Guttenburg, Gloucester, Clifton and Elizabeth, N. J.; Washington, D. C., St. Asaph, Va., Cincinnati, O., Detroit, Mich., Ideal Park, in Wisconsin, Toronto, Windsor, and Hamilton, Ont., St. Louis, Mo.

A rough estimate of his traveling from the time he was purchased in Kentucky when a youngster up to the present is 23,350 miles, or nearly around the earth. As Logan is still hale and hearty and apparently good for a couple more seasons on the turf, we shall look for him in California in the fall and to return East in the spring of 1898, thus adding at least 4,500 more to the string of miles he has traveled. There are more than a dozen horses still racing old enough to be father to Logan, but they have not the springy step nor the "colty" look of the hero of so many hard-fought contests and have not broadened their minds so much through travel. Old Logan (he's a nine-year-old only) actually gets fat and "sassy" on the cars and kicks and cavorts so giddily at the unloading place that two-year-olds on the same train hang their heads in shame. The steel-like solidity of the horse's legs and feet and his ability to run early and often can perhaps be accounted for by the fact that he was only raced on two occasions as a two-year-old and not once, according to the Official Turf Guide, when three years of age.

Logan's sire, Voltigeur, stood down in the interior of Kentucky and sired comparatively few foals, while his dam was Pert, by Pantaloon (son of imp. Leamington and Emily Fuller, by imp. Eclipse). The second dam of Logan was Bird, by West Roxbury (he by imp. Barlowine, half-brother to Blink Bonny and Bonnie Scotland); the next dam was Birdy Bird, by Revenue; the fourth dam of Logan was Variation, by imp. Ambassador; her dam imp. Britannia, by Muley. Foster, Voucher, La Verite, Jericho and many other turf celebrities traced to this imported English mare, and altogether Logan can be accounted "well-bred," though not according to the Kentucky school-boy's definition of the term, for he hasn't "two crosses of Lexington."

The following table, compiled with great care by William Sparling, shows what "the iron horse" had accomplished up to last Wednesday, and will doubtless prove interesting reading to the many admirers of "old Logan" throughout this country and Canada, latter the home of his owner, Alex. Shields. Two new features will be observed—the total weight carried in his races and the total distance raced:

BEN BRUSH WINS THE SUBURBAN.

The First Time America's Most-Coveted All-Aged Stake Has Gone to One of the Dwyer Brothers.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 22.—Michael F. Dwyer's four-year-old Ben Brush, son of Bramble and Roseville, won today's Suburban handicap at Sheepshead Bay in the presence of 15,000 people. Pittsburg Phil's four-year-old The Winner was second and Joseph F. Seagram's five-year-old bay Havoc third. The race was won in 2:07 1-5. Ben Brush won by a length, The Winner beating Havoc half as far for second place. The race was worth $6,000 to the winner, $1,000 to the second horse and $500 to the third.

It was a very smoothly run contest, barring some crowding by Lake Shore, which caused some inconvenience to Sir Walter and Volley in the first quarter mile, and the best horse at the weights assuredly won. Ben Brush was admirably ridden by Willie Sims, the famous colored jockey, who placed his horse early in the contest when the pace was slow and moved up in earnest when the time came for prompt and vigorous action. He knew he was astride as game and speedy a horse as was in the race, yet he took no liberties with him. Starting on the extreme outside, he rode for position the first furlong, and was never worse than third after passing the stand the first time.

For years Dwyer Brothers have striven to win one of the big spring handicaps, and year after year they have sent to the post the best of horses, among them champions of their day, but until to-day the horse from their stable has failed to win the coveted trophy. Other and greater prizes in value have fallen at their feet, but the Brooklyn and Suburban hung tantalizingly out of reach. The spell was broken to-day, however, and by a horse of which Mr. Dwyer is particularly fond.

The Winner was first to show, but was passed by Havoc when he had gone a furlong, Semper Ego moving up second. At the end of a mile, run in 1:42 1-5, it was Havoc first by a neck, Ben Brush second, one and a half lengths before The Winner. Havoc appeared to be going easily in the home-stretch and Ben Brush was under the whip. The game Bramble colt responded, and crawled up inch by inch, finally passing Havoc. The danger was not all over, for the crowd dropped the shout of Ben Brush and Sims heard The Winner's name. He glanced over his shoulder and saw the determined Sloan driving The Winner as only he can, and rapidly gaining ground. Then he looked ahead, saw the finish only a sixteenth away and dug his spurs into Ben Brush's sides, madly flogging him. It was a desperate race. Nearer and nearer drew the finish line and nearer and nearer came The Winner. One vicious cut to Ben Brush, one frantic push with knees and heels and he was over the line in safety, winner of the coveted Suburban, with The Winner half a length away and Havoc, stopping fast, in the third place, five lengths in front of the rest of the field, all badly beaten, with Belmar leading them.

SUMMARY.

M. F. Dwyer's b c Ben Brush, 4, by Bramble—Roseville, by Reform, 123, 2 to 1, by Favor—Imp. Happy Sally II., 115, 3 to 1, The Winner, b c, 4, by Favor—Imp. Happy Sally II., 115, 3 to 1, Havoc, b h, 5, by Himyar—Elletta, 102, 6 to 1, H. Lewis 3 Time, 2:07 1-5.

Belmar, Sir Walter, Volley, Dutch State, Semper Ego and Lake-shore, also ran. Fractional time—1-8, 0:13 4-5; 1/2, 0:51 1/2; 3/4, 1:16 2-5; mile, 1:42 1-5; 1 1/4, 2:07 1-5.

Clifford, another son of Bramble, beat Harry Reed and other swift ones at five-furlongs, run in 1:01 3-5 with 126 lbs. up.

Ben Brush is a good, game colt, a regular Bramble in conformation, chunky and deceiving—"all horse." He was the best of the Western two-year-olds and won the Kentucky Derby and a few other good stakes last year. Like good wine, he seems to improve with age.

Following is some Suburban Handicap history, in tabular form:

Year.	Winner.	Age and Wt.	Sire of Winner.	No. Starters	Time.

The race has been run fourteen times, and four-year-olds have been successful no less than nine times, five-year-olds four times and a six-year-old once. This goes far to prove that a horse is at its best as a four-year-old. A California-bred horse (Montana) won the event in 1892 and imported horses flashed in front at the finish on two occasions. Salvator, now in California, and owned by an old Californian, ran the best race from a time and weight standpoint. Gen. Monroe's race was the slowest, considering the track was put down as "fast." Troubadour and Eurus won in the mud. Three times there were twenty starters, but there had been a remarkable dwindling in the size of the fields since 1888. Two real champions were winners of the race—Salvator and Henry of Navarre. The victories of Eurus, Elkwood, Loantaka and imp. Lowlander were great surprises. Lowlander was as good as 300 to 1 once in the winter books, yet in a review in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN in February, 1893, "Rezor" declared that Lowlander had the best chance at the weights, considering his performances in 1892. A three-year-old has never been better than second in the race in all these years, and it will take a rare good one to win the race. Foxhall is one of the very few three-year-olds that ever captured any of the big English handicaps, and in Australia Newhaven and Wallace were exceptions.

VENUS, the dam of Adonis, 2:11, Cupid, 2:18, Lea, 2:18 1/4, has been always claimed to be a daughter of Capt. Webster, a son of Williamson's Belmont. Dennis Gannon and a number of horsemen who remember her when she was a foal claim that she was by Venture, 2:27 1/4, another son of Williamson's Belmont, an entirely different formed horse and one that was noted for quality. Venus was a perfect counterpart of Venture. She had the same fine head and neck, short and strong back and loins and the same straight hock and legs of her sire. She was a trotter, too, having earned a record of 5:04 in a two-mile race. It is too bad that the late G. Valensin did not attend to the search after this pedigree.

To THOSE wishing to study the performances of horses, as well as to those who wish accurate records of performances, Quarterly Racing Form, published by Daily Racing Form Publishing Company, 126 Fifth Avenue, Chicago, Ill., is absolutely indispensable. A special edition of this handbook has recently been issued, including charts of American racing from March 19th to May 22, 1897, inclusive. The charts cover San Francisco, Oakland, Little Rock, Nashville, Windsor, Memphis, Washington, D. C., Morris Park, Newport, Aqueduct; in fact, all high-class tracks of the country.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED AND CONDUCTED SOLELY BY

JOSEPH CAIRN SIMPSON.

SAN CLEMENTE JOCKEY CLUB—Rather premature to state authoritatively the title of the jockey club which is now such a prominent topic of conversation in racing circles. While that which is taken for the side-head of this article is somewhat euphonious, it is hardly expressive enough to command attention or insure adoption.

As a rule the title of jockey clubs is given to signify the country, district or city to which they belong, and "common custom" is a difficult thing to overcome. The California Jockey Club absorbed the Pacific Coast Blood Horse Association, and then the Pacific Coast Jockey Club partially resuscitated the name. I have oftentimes pondered over the fatality which appears to compel adherence to a name which conveys to many people an idea variant from that which should be the appellation of a body of prominent citizens. It does not remove the opprobrium attached to the most conspicuous word by these people to tell them that dukes, earls, lords and other high dignitaries of the nation are members of the English Jockey Club, and that the French Jockey Club is the most exclusive and aristocratic of all the Gallic social institutions. If decided in their opposition to racing, they gloat over the definitions of noun and verb, as given in Webster, hurling the third illustration of a name at you with malicious uncton, and with all the pomposity of supposed superior knowledge propound the question, "How can you expect anything but fraud and robbery when a cheat is the synonym of jockey?"

Sanctioned by the best part of a century's usage (organized before, the E. J. C. in 1833 adopted rules quite similar to those which now prevail) the offensive definition of jockey has little bearing. Still there are no valid reasons for adhering to the custom, however generally it is followed, and (racing association conveys the same meaning), while carpers are deprived of the opportunity of frivolous complaints and malodorous criticisms.

In suggesting the name of Pacific Racing Association for the club which will manage the Marin county race course, I sincerely hope that in addition to being appropriate for the locality, better than Occidental, inasmuch as it implies that good will to all other clubs will be the motto and nothing left undone to pacify those who might be in opposition.

There is little necessity for dilating on the inevitable consequences of a "race course war," none at all to people who are conversant with the history of the turf for the last fifteen years.

As to the merits of the project of establishing a new race course at San Clemente, I can only look at it in one light. Marin county is just as well entitled to a race course as the baliwicks of San Francisco and Alameda, and if the business be conducted with scrupulous attention to secure honest racing and rigidly taboo all objectionable practices well worthy of support.

Tha P. C. J. C. and the C. J. C. have an undoubted right to insist that racing shall be conducted in a way that will be the least likely to awaken opposition, the large amount invested in their "plants" demanding protection. Every breeder of race horses is interested in the sport being conducted so as to secure the co-operation of the conservative people of the State in case there be attempts to obtain enactments of laws which would seriously cripple, perhaps entirely abolish, what are designated "sports of turf and track." I have no reasons to imagine that those who will be in control of the proposed racing grounds will not be as diligent in the performance of the duties connected with proper management of the somewhat hazardous business than the officers of the clubs now in existence, and until it is shown that they are derelict, or in any way fail to meet the exigencies arising, will take it as granted that a straight course will be the one followed.

No one, in all probability, expects that the Marin county race course will be as magnificent, in all its appointments, as those at Ingleside and Emeryville.

Even if reports be true, the course will be only three-quarters of a mile in circuit, with a chute of sufficient length to give a race of one mile with only one circuit of the track; if properly "laid out" this is not such a drawback as many consider it to be. By making the semicircles of the same radii as they are on a regulation track the turns will be as easy, and in races of a half mile, seven furlongs and one mile just the same distance for straight running as the mile course presents. One advantage gained is a better view, and in all save the start for a race of a mile the horses will be closer to the stands than they are on the regulation.

Too soon to indulge in speculations on what will or may be done by those who have no better information than that contained in the papers, and if, as seems very probable, the project is to be carried out without fail, it will not be long until there is reliable intelligence.

GETTING THE MONEY ON.—There is no questioning the claim that when once a passage is forced through the crowd and the point gained where money can be handed to the bookmaker, the job of getting the money on is near completion. Provided always that the individual addressed and proffered the money is ready and willing to accept the wager.

The main objections urged against the mutual pool system are that until the pool is closed the purchaser will not be cognizant of the rate he has obtained, and that one who wants to invest a larger sum is unable to do so. The third fault sometimes advanced is that when an owner or trainer purchases tickets a cue is afforded to those who are waiting for an intimation of that kind, and the result a rush for the horse, cutting the odds far below what they would have been if the "tip" had not been discovered. The first objection mentioned had nearly an analogue during the early days of auction pools. At the first introduction of the system limited pools were offered. Thus the auctioneer would announce, "How much am I offered for first choice in $—, pool or no pool?" When all the horses were sold if the amount fell short of the stipulated sum, if not sanctioned by the purchasers, it was declared off.

The unlimited pool was introduced, in which there was no fixed total, and the limited was practically driven from the field. A few of the sort that cannot be pried out of the old ruts at times would insist on the "good, old plan" being followed, but the waste of time, objectionable to a large majority of the purchasers as well as the poolseller, could not be allowed, and even the most inveterate sticklers for the limited at last acknowledge that the innovation was beneficial. Next to all kinds of speculation is a subject to contingencies. A person may have a contract that fixes the price of a certain article definitely, and in that case he is aware of the amount of profit or loss there will be when he buys the article contracted. Even then there may be unknown quantities that will upset his schemes. "Variety's the spice of life" which gives it all its flavors" sang a poet of the long ago, and the "glorious uncertainty of racing" has been quoted thousands of times without anyone attacking the philosophy of the statement.

With the mutual boxes or booths for conducting this block system, to do the business, tickets ranging from one dollar to as many dollars each as the public desire, and proper facilities for doing the work expeditiously, a man must be determined to venture hugely if he cannot invest his funds. Bettors "on the nod" will have more trouble when "ready money" has to be exchanged for pasteboards, and this class will not take kindly to the change. However good such customers may be, and a large proportion of them are as solid as the Bank of England, "markers" are not quite equivalent to cash, and then it is a kindness to a share of credit bettors if they are forced to "pay as they go," which John Randolph of Roanoke declared to be the philosopher's stone, that saving them the trouble too of "hustling" for the "needful" when their time could be better employed.

Supposing that as many booths are required as there were bookmakers at Emeryville and Ingleside—though in my opinion one-half could do as much business—and the booths arranged the same as the boxes, on each side of the bourse. In front of each booth a railing, such as is used at railway ticket offices, to keep buyers in line, and the stop would be a few seconds for each purchaser.

A circuit of all the booths could be made in a few minutes if even a ticket was bought in every one of them, and this might be preferable to taking ten or twenty tickets of each as rates might vary, and in this may the average would be secured.

Some few years ago a New Yorker, not credited with being a "big better" by any means, won, in one day on the races at Paris 40,000 francs, and that, too, when he had to look after a companion to whom he had to pay strict attention. On the shady side of life as well, so that it is a fair inference that an active sport could triplicate the work, a real hustler get on ten times as much, so that under the French system from $20,000 to $100,000 might be won in an afternoon.

As to the third claim that the stable secrets cannot be preserved or made as effective as when bookmakers are in charge, that is more fanciful than real. Very true that the tickets sold will demonstrate the relative standing of the horses in the opinion of bettors, but that a rush will be made to get on the favorites is not absolutely assured. Very frequently intending supporters of horses in the mutuels delay buying until the other horses show an increase of the tickets placed upon them.

But, as is well known, bookmakers are prone to "rub" when money comes in, and there is also an eager and catching-on throng around the ring, whether the person making it is connected with a stable or a total stranger.

That each of the systems of race track speculation is faulty in some points is beyond just contradiction, and I am far from asserting that the "block" will be entirely exempt, and yet have unlimited faith that it will be, from all points of view, superior in very many respects.

TRUTH IN PLACE OF ERROR.—Very many times I have called attention to the erroneous practice of giving false in place of true time for both running and trotting races.

Every watch used in marking the length of the interval from start to finish might show fifths of seconds, and still the figures posted at the track, entered in the records, and telegraphed above were given in vulgar fractions. Like many other usages of race courses and trotting tracks, this "vulgar" error was petted and cherished, and though Time is such a potentiality in this country in estimating the value of a performance, lies, in lieu of truths, were promulgated.

Quite a difference between the ground covered in a quarter of a second and a fifth. At a 2:40 rate there would be a gap of 2½ feet, and the horse which made 2:40 1-5 would beat the one which was 2:40½ a good neck. Then two-fifths can be called a quarter or a half as the timers saw fit, and three-fifths balanced by a half or three quarters. There is a break, however, and now that one club has the courage to prefer truth to fiction, and that one of the prominent racing associations, it may be, that others will follow. The Suburban, ran at Sheephead Bay on Tuesday, was run in 2:07 1-5, and so stated, and the other races were scheduled on the same scale—five furlongs, 1:01 2-5; one mile, 1:42 1-5; eleven-sixteenths, 1:09 1-5; one and a quarter miles, 2:07 1-5; five furlongs, 1:03 2-5.

Latonia, St. Louis and Detroit adhere to the clumsy old habit, and there is little doubt that the good example will not be followed until the turf papers insist on correct returns of time.

And by the way, a turf editor was the cause of fifths of a second being replaced by quarters. In the old days of racing in California the time of some of the races was given in fifths. George Wilkes in his autocratic way gave public notice in his paper that thereafter he would not publish fifths, and when time was sent to Wilkes' Spirit with the offensive decimal attached he would substitute fractions.

NO INTERFERENCE.—In proposing the name of Pacific Racing Association for the club which will have control of the Marin county race course, allusion is made to the necessity of avoiding whatever is likely to engender opposition.

Since the article was written I have learned that some of the harness horse people are apprehensive that racing will be continuous, and through the summer and fall months there will be no break, the gate never closed from Monday morning to Saturday night, months in, none out.

While it must be kept in view that my information is of the slightest, it can hardly be possible that a course will be pursued that will be sure to antagonize the influential body of citizens connected with light harness horses. Had they withheld their support the Emmons bill would have been passed, and that hearty co-operation was due to the contract between the C. J. C. and the P. C. J. C. that their meetings should not be held in months that would conflict with fairs and trotting meetings. Should, for instance, the Marin J. C. continue to race when the meetings of the P. C. T. H. B. A. are in progress at the Emeryville track, harness horse men from San Diego to Sisikyon, from Truckee to San Francisco would insist on retaliation.

But I cannot see that there should be any apprehensions on that score. The man who is to be the president of the new club, Hon. Frank L. Coombs, has been so thoroughly identified with harness-horse interests; second vice-president of the N. T. A., breeder and owner of fast trotters, and withal a man of sterling sense and acumen, altogether unlikely that he will favor interference. Mr. Harry Schwartz is said to be the active manager, and in the twenty-odd years I have known Mr. S— never discovered any evidence of a lack of superior qualifications for business.

Time enough to worry when it is proved that measures are likely to be pursued which will require attention, and until adverse action has a more tangible basis than rumor and surmise will not fret over the question that a sensible body of men will sanction a course that could only end in self-destruction.

A GOOD CHANCE for trotters and paces now at Emeryville. Mr. Williams, president of the C. J. C., very kindly has given the harness horses the use of the magnificent track, outside and inside courses being open to them to exercise upon. The only restriction being use of stalls, and these can be obtained on the outside.

They are busy now renovating the boxes and completing improvements, but will be in readiness to accommodate all the horses having engagements at the Breeders' meetings in time for the finishing preparation.

The outer track is soft, the inner hard, but as smooth as a table, therefore trainers have a choice of the ground that suits them best. A grand place for harness racing, the race course of the California Jockey Club. Not the least risk in asserting that larger fields of harness horses can be started there in good positions than any other track, the great width of the homestretch permitting so many abreast that such a thing as three tiers will be unknown, unless everyone of the twenty-seven entered in the 2:40 class should face the starter.

OF THE GREATEST IMPORTANCE that owners give all the support possible to the meetings which will come off before the State Fair. With a good list of entries for the three meetings given by the P. C. T. H. B. A., Emeryville, Chico and Willows, then there is no doubt of every week being occupied until the first of November, giving the harness horses a better chance than any one should have thought possible for this season.

The purses at the three places named are certainly liberal, and the classification so well arranged that few indeed are barred.

There are so many reasons for all, even those who have a small interest in harness horses, to extend the "helping hand," that I shall be greatly disappointed if the hope of a big lot of names is not fulfilled.

JOS. CAIRN SIMPSON.

Answers to Correspondents.

J. S., City.—To decide a wager, kindly state which American horse has won the most races and the number of wins credited to him in Official Turf Guide (Goodwin's). I claim Kingston (by Spendthrift) is entitled to the credit; my opponent (T. F.) declares that Logan has won the largest number of races. Answer—J. S. wins. Kingston won 87 races and Logan, up to June 19th, had only won 73, according to Goodwin's Guide.

W. E. K., Modesto, Cal.—Will you please answer the following question through your paper? Is a racehorse clear of the ground for an instant while running with a stride of eighteen or twenty feet? I claim he is, other horsemen here say one foot is on the ground all the time. I mean he is clear just before he strikes the ground each time. Answer—You are right. A horse has all his feet off the ground just before he strikes the earth. He gets his propelling power and spring from the hind quarters, landing on the fore feet, recovering with the hind legs, springing on again. It stands to reason that a horse could not stretch eighteen to twenty feet, for the average length of a racehorse is a few inches under eleven feet.

Harness Racing at San Jose.

St. JOSEPH (Mo.), June 24.—The track was heavy and slow. The results:

First race, 2:17 class, pacing—Green Seal won, Diug second, Belle Colly third. Best time, 2:18½.

Second race, 2:09 class, pacing—Agitato won, Kansas second, Hal Crago third. Best time, 2:10½.

PALO ALTO, 2:06½, son of Electioneer and Dame Winnia has added another 2:20 performer to his list. June 17th last, at Mystic Park, Boston, the bay gelding, Palon, out of Calena, by Gen. Benton, grandam Gazelle, 2:21, by Hambletonian 10, won the 2:30 class in 2:18½, 2:19½, 2:22½, 2:20½ losing the third heat. This gives the king of stallions to high-wheel sulky a total of eleven in the list, out of a possible forty, many of these never having been developed. Six of his performers got records from 2:19½ to 2:16, at three years old and under. His oldest performer is a five-year-old. Wittie Palon, Pasante, out of Sontag Dixie, Iran Alto, out of Elsie, and Alla, out of Lula Wilkes, are on the turf this year, and the great racer and sire Palo Alto should have fresh laurels added to his memorial list of performers.

Do not overlook the date, July 1st, for entries to the Los Angeles $1,200 event, which will close on that day and the entrance is only three per cent.

THE Agricultural Association directors of Monterey district held a meeting Monday and discussed matters appertaining to the proposed fair next fall. It was decided that if a committee of the citizens of Salinas, to be hereafter appointed, would raise $1000, a fair would be held; otherwise, none.—Salinas Journal.

A LARGE number of California-bred horses that were sold in the East at the different auction sales during the past three years are to start in nearly all the events this year on the grand circuit. It is like reading from the Palo Alto and Corbitt catalogues to peruse the names entered for the trotting and pacing races.

ANYBODY can raise a horse now with curbs, ringbones, spavins, weak eyes, uncared hocks, short necks, pig eyes, twisted heels, ewe necks, etc., but it takes a practical horseman to raise a fine, up-headed, good, substantial, useful horse. Persons who raise the former are of the slipshod kind, the kind who are shiftless and are of but little value to any community, but the latter kind are persons who make good business men, useful husbands and the best of citizens.

AMONG the horses that have been named in the $4,000 Ashland stake for 2:11 trotters at the Lexington fall meeting are: Bouncer, 2:10½; Baron Rogers, 2:10½; Fred B., 2:11½; Stam B., 2:11½; Gazelle, 2:11½; Franklin, 2:10½; Newcastle, 2:11½; Grace Hastings, 2:12; Cephas, 2:11½; Baron Crisp, 2:12½; Gov. Strong, 2:10½; Boodle, 2:12½; Pilot Boy, 2:10½; Baron Dillon, 2:12; George G., 2:12½; Que Allen, 2:10½. This race should eclipse the Transylvania in interest and speed.

WE do not recall a time when values of pedigree live stock were so strictly upon the basis of utility as they are right now. Utility, and not pedigree or fancy points, governs the market at present. The buyer of a pure-bred animal wants an individual that will pay a good price for itself in the improvement of his stock. He wants pedigree as an assurance of purity of blood and prepotency, but he does not let the pedigree take the place of individual merit. This indicates a healthy condition of the trade, for it is the proper condition.

BLUE BIRD, 2:24½ over the half-mile track at Rocklin. This mare belongs to D. O'Bannon of Marysville. She is a gray in color, stands 16 hands, can trot inside of 2:50, and does not wear hobbles or hoots. She paced a half in 1:06 over this track on the outside of six horses, last quarter of the mile in 31 seconds. Her breeding is as follows: Sired by Brigadier, second dam by Constantine, by Steinway, 2:25½.

A MAN who formerly lived in Sonoma county used to take horses to pasture. One particular horse that was in his pasture used to top off a hearty meal of grass by eating wood, his favorite place being the gate that led into the pasture, which he nearly chewed up. One day the pasture owner's attention was called to the wood gnawing horse and he sent for the owner and directed him to take the horse out. "Why, what for?" asked the horse's owner. "Because," said the owner of the pasture, "this is no place for him; you should send him to some lumber yard."

AT Anaconda, last Saturday, Meadowville stepped Nettie Ham an easy mile in 2:21, and the filly, Christabel, a quarter in 0:34½. Dick Benson worked the bay colt Journeyman a mile in 2:21, and the chestnut mare Argente in 2:22. The half was made in 1:09. Tom Keating drove Strathmont a mile in 2:19, quarter in 0:32 recently. Alto Genoa went a mile in 2:23. Holbrook drove Lenna N. in 2:18½, doing the last quarter in 30½ seconds. Van Bokkelen sent Letter B., a couple of easy miles recently in 2:25 and 2:24. Pete Williams held the reins on Monterey, and the big fellow jogged a couple of miles in 2:25½ and 2:23½. Williams also sent a two-year-old by Silver Bow for a little jog. The colt is a very promising one, and will surely be heard from.

A RUSSIAN veterinarian, by name Grunner, insists that he has discovered a specific for tetanus. A very severe case was cured by him by the subcutaneous injection of iodine, his formula being iodine, 1.0; iodid of potassium, 5.0; distilled water, 100.0. Five grammes of this solution were at first injected as a dose twice a day and increased until eight injections per day were made. The dose was gradually decreased as convalescence set in and in nineteen days effected a cure. In all he injected into the patient 300 grammes of the solution. This is a valuable "pointer" for any veterinarian, for lockjaw is one of these diseases in which one might as well kill in the attempt to cure, for death is likely to ensue anyway. Therefore experiments may be made with freedom without fear of making a bad job worse.

THE Alameda Driving Association has reduced its membership fee to $10 instead of $20, hoping to increase its roll of members and also get a larger number of entries for the races to be given under its auspices. President C. G. Bull says: "We intend to give some valuable prizes: harness, robes, etc., and perhaps some purses at our race meet to be held in the early part of July. We expect to have a free-for-all trot and a free-for-all pace as special inducements, and Allie Cresco, 2:13½; Promise Me, 2:16½; Arthur L., 2:15½, a fast pacer of Mr. Bellingall's, sired by Frazier's Secretary. King Cadenza, by Steinway, and others are promised as entries for the pacing event. My filly, Much Better, Morris' Inez M., Combs' Anita, Moran's Joont, and Fisher's Derbaltar will probably form another class. Chas. F. Neal's Emma Abbott, Burnett's Lassie B., Fransee's Silver Button, Thwaite's Clay H., and Wichman's Wild Piney will be in the free-for-all trot.

ALL recent sprains of the joints and tendons are generally best treated by the application of cold water, says "Saddlery and Harness." This is best applied by means of the hose. This should be used frequently, but not for more than five minutes at one time. The horse's rug should be put on at such a time, or he is liable to take cold. If the horse shows symptoms of much pain, it may be necessary to foment the part; that is, apply warm water instead of cold. This will ease the pain, but will probably increase the swelling, and the reduction, afterwards, of this swelling, will retard recovery. The inflammatory processes at the lesion mean increased blood supply to the part, and consequent effusion into the surrounding tissues. Thus, with a sprain, we always get more or less "thickening," and the getting rid of this "thickening" is often more troublesome than relieving the actual pain. The application of cold water by constricting the blood vessels has the effect of lessening the amount of blood which would otherwise be conveyed to the part, and so result in less effusion and swelling. After applying the cold water, a woolen bandage should be bound fairly tight around the affected part, preferably interposing a layer of cotton wool between limb and bandage. Should the animal show symptoms of being in much pain, remove the bandage at once, for it is then probably pressing too hard on the injured part. The bandage, however, must not be left off, but replaced. Bandages in sprains, other than in those of the limbs from the foot to the trunk, are out of the question.

OUR attention having been called to the peculiar inbreeding of Javelin, 2:13½, by R. P. Miller, of Keokuk, Io., we offer the following: Javelin, a bay mare, whose pacing record of 2:13½, at three years old, was obtained in a winning race at Los Angeles, Oct. 29, 1895, was bred by Dr. M. W. Hicks, of Sacramento, Cal. As a race mare, she was very successful her first year out, having started eleven times, gaining a record of 2:20 in the first race, was three times first, five times second, two times third and once unplaced. We consider the above a great showing for a three-year-old mare, when it is remembered that her competitors in every race were the crack pacers of the Pacific Coast, i. e., Chehalis, 2:07½; Pathmont, 2:09½; Seymour Wilkes, 2:08½; Loupe, 2:09½; Birdroe, 2:11½; Ruby M., 2:12½; Ottinger, 2:11½; pacing, 2:09½; trotting; Roan Wilkes, 2:12½; Ed. Lafferty, 2:16½; Welcome, 2:10½; Ella W., 2:17½; "Al Gregor, 2:11, and Phenol, 2:11½. Javelin was sired by Creole, 2:15, son of Prompter 2305. Her dam Flash, by Egmont, being out of Lightfoot, by Flaxtail 8132. Grace dam of Creole, was sired by Buccaneer 2656, while her dam, Mary, was a daughter of Flaxtail 8132. Prompter, sire of Creole, was a son of Blue Bull, and his dam, Prairie Bird, was sired by Flaxtail 8132. Buccaneer, sire of the dam of Creole, was a son of Iowa Chief 528, while his dam, Tinsley Maid, was a daughter of Flaxtail 8132. To make use of an old saying, here are more crosses "than you can shake a stick at," that trace to Flaxtail 8132. Dr. Hicks, the great exponent of pacing blood, was a strong advocate of inbreeding, and was bold enough to give the experiment a thorough trial. There are so many peculiar reading pedigrees in the Register and Year Book, but one will have to look a long time before finding the counterpart of the one given above.

THE SADDLE.

OLD LOGAN ran second to Umbrella in a mile race at Detroit last Monday.

THE California lad, Beauchamp, rode two winners at Latonia last Saturday—Serrano and Sidkel.

SAM HILDRETH's charge, All Over, won a mile high-weight handicap at Gravesend last Saturday.

PIGGOTT had the mount on Ginger, a 7 to 1 shot that won a mile race in 1:41 flat at Latonia last Tuesday.

CHARLEY SLAUGHTER rode two winners at St. Louis last Monday—Cavalry at 8 to 1 and Sorrow at even money.

UTOPIA, a good winner this season, is an own brother to A. B. Spreckels' bay colt George Palmer, being by Ecuador—Kitty Gunn.

HANDELL won the Belmont Stakes for M. F. Dwyer last Saturday, carrying 118 pounds. The time for the six furlongs was 1:15.

A FULL brother to Morello (a yearling) was to have been sold at auction at the American Horse Exchange, New York, last Monday night.

AT Latonia last Monday, among the winners were Red-dington and Miss Ross, well-known to our race-goers. Both were at 4 to 1 in the betting.

OLD LOGAN is said to have won his 100th victory on the 18th inst. It was at Detroit, in a mile race, and the old fellow galloped in front all the way.

JOE ULLMAN writes to a turfman in this city that he is about $40,000 loser thus far this season East, and has taken a vacation, hoping for a change of luck.

SWEET WILLIAM and Benamela, Californians and "mudders" of high degree, won races at St. Louis last Tuesday, the going being sloppy and muggy to their liking.

BARNATO, a bay colt by Bradford—Minerva, won at Ingalls Park the day after Barney Barnato, the famous multi-millionaire, committed suicide from the steamer Scott.

TO THE list of unbeaten racers of the world should be added Espoir, by Liverpool. She won ten races in England. Several of the good gallopers of America trace to this mare.

ROSORMONDE (the daughter of the great Ormonde), fired by Dr. Stimpson a short time ago, has recovered nicely, and will undoubtedly come to the post in fine form this coming fall.

SIVA ran second to Dr. Coop in a five-furlong race at St. Louis last Saturday. Etholin captured the Champion Stake, five and a half furlongs, at the same place, carrying 118 pounds.

JUDGE PARKER, of the Lexington Circuit Court, has ordered the Kentucky Association property to be sold July 12th, to satisfy the mortgage of $30,000 held by Chas. Green, of St. Louis.

GARNET BEACH, a recent winner at Highland Park, Detroit, is by the famous sprinter, Bobby Beach, raced with much success six or seven years ago by J. G. Brown, father of Galen Brown.

PAUL GRIGGS, the gray colt by imp. Order—Lucy Lisle, won a six-furlong race at Detroit last Saturday in 1:14, Lady Callahan second. Griggs is a rare good one, showing ability to go any sort of route very fast.

WHAT has become of that good brown colt, Howard S.? And we await anxiously the starting at the far East of another brown fellow, Ruinart by name. We expect to hear of both doing their fields up brown.

THOSE excellent race horses, Sly and Fly, have been put under the skillful treatment of Dr. G. W. Stimpson to be prepared for the fall races. They have both been successfully fired and are now taking regular exercise.

AT Latonia, June 18th, two of the three two-year-old races were won by Quicktimes, owned by E. S. Gardner. The winners mentioned are Frogmora and Seaport. This is certainly a great showing for Mr. Gardner's English horse.

HURLY BURLY, a recent winner for E. Corrigan at Latonia with Joe Piggott in the saddle, is by Riley (winner of the Kentucky Derby, etc.), from imp. Helter Skelter. Both Riley and Helter Skelter were raced with great success by the Master of Hawthorne.

TWO of the winners at Ingalls Park on June 15th (Dr. Sharp and Irene Woods) were by Pontico, son of imp. Mortemer and imp. Agenoria, by Adventurer. He bids fair to become a much better sire than his half-brother, imp. Pontiac, winner of the Suburban Handicap at Coney Island.

EVA RICE, the imp. Masetto—Miss Rye filly that won at St. Louis on the 15th inst., carried 115 pounds, which was seven pounds more than any of her opponents were asked to carry. Her margin at the finish was four lengths. Elmer Slaughter owns the filly, and his brother Charley rode her.

MAJOR DOMO who has for some years been in the stud, was put in training again this season, and is now at Latonia, but W. J. Speirs, his owner, has decided that his legs will not stand, and will retire him permanently to the stud. He is the sire of Wilfred Laurier and some other promising two-year-olds.

ARGENTINA II., bay filly, 4, by Longfellow, dam Reine d'Or, by imp. Rayon d'Or, the property of W. M. Wallace, fell recently and was so badly injured that she had to be destroyed. Argentina II. was a good filly in 1896, and her racing quality in addition to royal breeding makes her loss a severe one for Mr. Wallace.

CALDRON, the black colt which beat a field of eight over a mile of ground at Brooklyn on the 15th inst., is by imp. Calvado (now at Charles Kerr's Bakersfield farm) from Dareka, and is owned by William Astor Chanler, a newcomer to the list of American turfmen. Caldron carried 116 pounds and won easily by three lengths.

DOGE, winner of the Grand Prix de Paris on the 13th inst., is a brown colt by Fricandean (son of Pintos), from Dogares, by Vigilant (son of Vermont); second dam Dovedale, by Beadsman; third dam Columbia, by Trocadero or Ruy Blas. J. Armand is the colt's owner.

CAPT. S. BROWN, the Pittsburgh millionaire coal operator and turfman, has purchased the farm of Colonel Todhunter, five miles from Lexington, Ky., on the Richmond pike. The farm contains 347 acres, and was purchased for $76.25 per acre. It will be used as a breeding farm for thoroughbreds.

TIME-MAKER, winner of the Meramec Stakes, one mile in 1:40, is by imp. Kantaka (half-brother to Hermit), dam Nellie Stanley, by Springbok; second dam the California race mare Fanny Hall, by Norfolk; third dam Miami (third dam of Lucretia Borgia and dam of Nathan Coombs), by William-son's Belmont. We were astonished at this breeding, it was so rare, taken all in all.

AND now it is said that Eugene Leigh will soon retire from the turf. His yearling sale will come off in Chicago the 25th inst., and shortly afterwards—so it is said—he will dispose of all his horses in training. After that he intends to devote his time and attention to his breeding farm and the portable stall business he has established in Cincinnati—"Broad Church," in N. Y. Spirit.

MR. MILT. YOUNG was at Latonia on Saturday, and in a talk about the racing situation in the East he had this to say: "There seems to be a boom in connection with the Eastern racing game that reminds one of the time when racing was at high tide. There is a marked improvement over recent years, for the attendance is good, the betting brisk and healthy, and there is a general air of life and vim about the sport. That the conditions show improvement is evidenced by the fact that the various clubs are arranging to raise their purses at the late summer and fall meeting. Yes, the racing situation in the East is in a very healthy condition."

GEORGE VAN GORDEN, the well-known turfman, is back from Mexico, and reports racing in a bad way down there, and Col. Boh Pata has given it up, temporarily, as a bad job. Mr. Van Gorden says there was a bad of jealous scoundrels down there who tried to poison all the best horses brought to the track. The well-known performer, Scimeter, was poisoned and died. Articus got quite a dose of it, but will survive. Several others narrowly escaped death at the hands of the villains. The sport is virtually killed in the land of the Montezumas, and if there is any more racing there will have to be a reorganization and a change in the plan of operation.

FOLLOWING are the stake races down for decision at the Sheepshead Bay track next week and the following week: Tuesday, June 29—Surf and Tidal Stakes and the Grand Inaugural; Wednesday, June 30—Spring Stakes and the Bay Hurdle; Thursday, July 1—The Pansy Stakes; Saturday, July 3—June and Spindrift Stakes; Monday, July 5—Great Tidal Stakes, Sheepshead Bay Handicap and Coney Island Grand National steeplechase; Wednesday, July 7—Purse events; Thursday, July 8—Vernal Stakes and Long Island Handicap; Saturday, July 10—Double Event (second half) and Realization Stakes.

SEA MEW, the dam of Howard Mann, winner of the Brooklyn and Parkway Handicaps of 1897, was sold at auction for $25, and the now-famous horse fetched $25 at the same sale (Tattersalls' May 1 at Lexington, Ky.) when a yearling. The buyer let his former owner, G. Lee Waincott, have him back for the same amount, and the latter gentleman let an old darky named Scott Williams have a half interest in Mann for training him. "Pittsburg Phil" gave Waincott and Williams $3,000 for him last year, and Phil's winning on Howard Mann in the Brooklyn Handicap are put down at little less than $100,000. It is doubtful if $20,000 would buy the horse now. He will go down into history as pretty nearly a champion "find." We cannot recall any racer so distinguished that brought such a measly sum as $25 when put up at auction.

THE Illinois Senate made a record for itself during the session of 1897. It did many bad things and left undone many good things that it might have done, but the meanest thing it did, the most disgracefully dishonest act in its whole history, was the killing of the race track bill, when only thirty minutes prior to the vote being taken the supporters of the bill had been assured that it was "all right." When a legislative body, proven thoroughly dead to the public interest, works an injury to thousands of honest men for the benefit of a few gamblers, none too scrupulous at the best, it is high time to call a halt, and if the other acts of the members of that famous majority in the upper house had not been quite sufficient to relegate them to private life, the action taken on the racing bill, or rather the manner in which that action was taken, should turn every honest man's vote against the men who practiced such abominable deception.—The Horseman.

A JOINT meeting of the Committee of Appeals and the License Committee of the Turf Congress was held last week, all the members of each being present. It was decided that the cases of jockeys should only be acted on, the appeals of owners, trainers and officials going over to the regular annual meeting in the fall. The applications of the following outlawed and ruled off jockeys were absolutely refused: Chas. F. Kuhn, Nate Hill, A. G. Heinrichs, H. Chevalier, Chas. McIntyre, John Street, W. Mooney, Chas. Feeney, J. Brendle, Chas. Neel, Ben Rigby, V. T. Button and Wm. Bloss. Heinrichs and Chevalier were ruled off at San Francisco over a year ago in connection with the "Little Pete" scandals. The following jockeys, who had ridden on outlawed Eastern tracks, made applications for licenses, but they were refused until such time as the Jockey Club may take action in their cases: G. McLaughlin, John Keeper, L. G. Hoyt, Chas. Heuston, A. Hancock, M. Burns, B. Ransome, George Taylor, C. J. Zeller, W. Narvaez, W. Pines, J. W. Gnest, E. Ellis, W. F. Coleman and George Seamon. The License Committee has power to act on these cases after the Jockey Club has acted favorably. A number of other applications, over a score, were passed over for the present and referred to the License Committee, and the latter will investigate the standing of the applicants. Ed Burns was granted a license, and Tom Britton a conditional license to ride only for John Huffman. S. Thompson ("Two Bits") was reinstated after being indefinitely suspended by the Little Rock Jockey Club.

AT the Haggin sale of thoroughbred yearlings at Sheepshead Bay last Tuesday, the following brought $500 or upward: B. c. (bro. to Candor), by imp. Darebin-Miss Clay, A. J. Joiner, $550; b. c. (bro. to Motto) by imp. Sir Modred-Miss Motley, P. Lorillard, $1,100; ch. c., by imp. Golden Garter-Mollie Walton, J. McLaughlin, $650; br. f., by imp. Watercress-Parthenia, D. Pulsifer, $625; o. c., by imp. Goldfinch-Poesy, J. H. McCormick, $800; h. f., by imp. Sir Modred-Prose, J. McLaughlin, $550.

BEN BRUSH's victory in the Suburban Handicap last Tuesday was a popular one. The race had been run thirteen times and the Dwyers were generally well represented, yet their horses (the best in the land, too, taken all in all) could never pull down the most coveted of all American all-aged stakes. Ben Brush's time, 2:07 1-5, has been beaten four times, but, everything considered, Brush's performance was eclipsed only by Salvator, Henry of Navarre and Ramapo. Ben is a most deceiving horse, trainers say, weighing 100 or 150 pounds more than most persons would guess and being taller, too, than you would think unless you carefully scrutinized him. The same can be said of the good colt, Howard S.

LAST Saturday E. J. Baldwin shipped to Saratoga, N. Y., the following gallopers, all bred at his Santa Anita rancho, in the San Gabriel Valley, Los Angeles County: La Maroma, ch. f., by Emperor of Norfolk—Los Angeles (a disappointment in public thus far, but working wonderfully well of late); Rey el Salto, by Emperor of Norfolk—Jennie D.; Rey Salazar, by Emperor of Norfolk—Cleopatra; La Goleta, by Amiga—Rosebud; San Vapado, by imp. Duncombe—Lizzie B.; San Antonio, by imp. Cleveden—Orange Leaf; La Ventura, by Emperor of Norfolk—Violetta; Zaraida, by Emperor of Norfolk—Magdalena; La Frotera, by Emperor of Norfolk—Josie C.; Bernardillo, by Emperor of Norfolk—Jennie B. With the exception of the last three named, all are two-year-olds. Though it is a little late in the season, the temptation to send a string out to do battle was too great for the old turfman to withstand. Saratoga is undoubtedly the best place at the far East to send a string of race horses to, the pine forests and glorious water of "the springs" making man and beast feel as if given new life—of a sort they never possessed before.

THE prices received for the Rancho del Paso yearlings this week were most encouraging, the Goldfinches bringing up the average in fine style. The first day the following brought $500 and upward: Ch. c. by imp. Goldfinch—Cachuca, to R. W. Walden, $1,550; ch. c. by imp. Goldfinch—Carina, to Matt Byrnes, $8,000; br. c. by imp. Darebin—Cuisine, to A. J. Joyner, $1,000; ch. f., imp. Goldfinch—Delight, to F. C. Cowdin, $500; b. c. by imp. Sir Modred—Ethel, to M. Byrnes, $3,000; b. f. by imp. Goldfinch—Explosion, to C. F. Cowdin, $2,000; b. c. by imp. Sir Modred—Fauxpas, to S. C. Hildreth, $850; b. f. by imp. Goldfinch—Firefly, to S. Trowbridge, $1,550; ch. c. by Fitzjames—Harmony, to S. C. Hildreth, $1,050; ch. f. by imp. Goldfinch—Kiss-Me-Quick, to M. Byrnes, $5,000; b. c. by imp. Midlothian—Loleta, to S. Trowbridge, $1,850; ch. c. by imp. Tehy—Loto, to W. H. Karry, $1,000; ch. f. by imp. Midlothian—Mabel, to M. Byrnes, $500; ch. c. by imp. Goldfinch—Marigold, to S. Trowbridge, $1,050; b. f. by imp. Sir Modred—Memento, to J. McLaughlin, $750. The $3,000 colt is a half-brother to St. Carlo, St. Carolus and Prince of Monaco. The $5,000 filly is a half-sister to Annia Bishop, Warrenton, Wanderoo and other good ones.

IT is not often that a good thing goes through at the race track in these days. It is difficult to keep a good horse under cover or to work him at any of the tracks without some one noticing the work and telling of it to friends. But Hamburg, a maiden, two years old, by Hanover—Lady Reel, in the stable of John Madden and Charley Patterson, was the medium of a successful killing Wednesday, June 10th. Everyone at Sheepshead Bay saw Hamburg work, but they did not know the colt's name, nor have any means of identification, other than that he had a blaze face and both forelegs were white. Hamburg worked in 1:02 at Sheepshead. When he was brought over from the Bay yesterday it was in company with several other two-year-olds, so no one really knew which of the bunch was Hamburg, or whether it was the fast fellow with the blaze face. Not until the money was down did the smart contingent learn all about Hamburg. Hamburg won very nicely and gives promise of being a good colt. The stable probably won $30,000 over his victory, and $30,000 more was won by outsiders, who got on at post time. The highest price seen was 20 to 1. The lowest was at post time, 9 to 5. The Martin crowd telegraphed a big commission on from Latonia, and after their money was placed there was not much left for others who wanted the good thing.

A CLEVER English turf writer, in commenting upon Stockwell, known abroad as the "Emperor of Stallions," who is now scoring so heavily upon the English turf through Galtee More and Chelandy, makes the following interesting remarks: "Last year the stock of St. Simon swamped everything and supplied the first and second in the Derby, as well as the winners of the Two Thousand, One Thousand, St. Leger and all three of the ten thousand pounds races. This year, as far as we have gone, his position in the list of winning sires is a very humble one, and he does not look like being represented in the greatest races. Now it is the turn of the Stockwells to score, and Chelandy well supports Galtee More. Some deny the right of the latter to be styled an Irish horse, seeing that his sire and dam were both English. Inasmuch, however, as he belongs to an Irishman, and was born and bred in Ireland, we admit to the full his nationality. Moreover, that his greater ancestors were Irish there can be no denying, and it is Ireland that we have in the main to thank for the Stockwell line. It is for a descendant of Irish Birdcatcher that an Irishman has refused £30,000. How near we are to losing this grand blood will be gathered from the fact that at the Doncaster September Meeting, 1893, Lord Longford sold off his racing stud, including Sir Hercules, the sire of Birdcatcher, for 750 guineas to an American gentleman. Fearing to send him across the sea at that late period, he re-sold him, and he remained in this country. Such was the vitality of Sir Hercules that at the age of twenty-eight he begat the well-known horse Lifeboat. Other big winners by him were Coronation, Gemma di Vergy and Faugh-a-Ballagh; whilst the latter's son, Leamington, who was a double winner of the Chester Cup, in America got Iroquois, who crossed the sea and won the Derby, being the first Yankee horse to do so. We are of a truth hit by an arrow feathered from our own wing."

Rally to the Call of Liberal Los Angeles!

There should be a liberal response next Thursday to the call of the Los Angeles Association. The events closing on that day, in addition to a double-team race, are the 2:12 and 2:30 trot and 2:17 and 2:30 pace for purses of $1,200. These purses should secure a splendid entry list, especially as it costs but three per cent. to start a horse. The inducements held out by the Los Angeles Association are unusually liberal, and it is to be hoped that the horsemen on the Pacific Coast will do their duty in this matter, as for years they have been advocating a lower rate of entrance money.

Los Angeles has grown into quite a city and can now boast of a population exceeding 105,000. The track is one of the finest in the State, while the hotel accommodations are first-class. The people living in the metropolis of Southern California have always evinced the liveliest interest in light-harness racing and the attendance on big days runs over 12,000.

The innovation adopted by the Los Angeles Association in closing several of the classes two months earlier than usual should prove popular with horsemen, and no one who has either a promising trotter or pacer should hesitate to make an entry at Los Angeles, as it only costs $36. Although only five events for the Los Angeles meeting close on Thursday, July 1st, the complete programme, with the exception of several specials, appears in this issue of the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN. It is the strongest and most liberal programme that will be offered in California this year and the giant strides made by the Los Angeles Association should move other associations to greater effort.

The Los Angeles Association has been reorganized with John Lynch, ex-speaker of the Assembly, as President, and the coming meeting promises to be one of the best-mixed meetings ever held in the State and will last over nine instead of six days as heretofore. Over twenty thousand dollars are to be distributed in purses and stakes, and the liberality of the association is shown by including six twelve-hundred-dollar purses for the light harness horses.

All our readers should remember that entries for Los Angeles close on Thursday, July 1st.

The Opening Trotting Meeting.

While over twenty-five per cent. of the number of trotters and pacers entered in the fall meeting of the P. C. T. H. B. Association will not be here to participate in any of the meetings preceding the one at Woodland, owners of trotters and pacers who are anxious to get low marks for their horses should not neglect the splendid opportunity offered them by racing them at EVERY meeting to be held in California previous to the State Fair. The first one is to be at the new Oakland race track, under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders Association. Splendid purses are offered, as can be seen by referring to the advertisement which appears in this issue, so it is of great importance to every horse-owner in California and Oregon to make entries at this meeting, for on its success must, in a measure, depend the success of all other meetings on the California circuit. Many horse-owners did not make entries to the fall meeting and have been regretting it ever since, but now there is a way open for them to make entries for this meeting and the splendid meetings to be given under the same auspices at Chico and Willows. This association, in assuming charge of these meetings, aided by the progressive people of these two cities, is trying to lift the light-harness horse industry to the level it has reached in the Eastern States, where everything pertaining to it is at fever heat and the breeders and owners are more enthusiastic over the prospects for good sales and better prices than they have been for four years.

We again urge upon all horsemen to enter their trotters and pacers for these events at the three meetings, entries for which will close July 15th. The circuit, so far, is complete as outlined in the BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN five weeks ago—Oakland, Marysville, Chico, Willows, Woodland, Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose, (Salinas and Fresno), Los Angeles and perhaps Santa Ana. The people of Santa Rosa will hold a meeting this week and decide what they intend to do. If well advertised, this meeting would be a grand success, for everyone in that great horse-loving County of Sonoma would like to attend a race meeting this year.

The Bookmaker and the State Fair.

As matters look at this writing, the loud and oily brigade of bookmakers will take a seat far in the rear when the State Fair meeting at Sacramento begins. They have been weighed in the scales of the race-going people, (those who attend fairs on the "big California circuit" every season), and do not come up to the standard set by the paying public. They have seen books made with such "cinchy" odds that the veriest tyro could scarcely be tempted to accept the prices offered, and they have heard more rumors of "jobs" in one season of bookmaking than in half a dozen when Paris mutuels and auction pools were sold, hence the almost certain return to a system where the public establishes its own odds, not being dependent upon the whims of pencilers, who, paying large sums for the privilege of plying their vocation, naturally even up by offering poor prices. The bookmaker, in a position of a monopolist (it was a case of play my game or do not speculate at all) was not to be blamed for making a "cinch book," either; but it was the people who supported the institution that suffered and finally had to "pay the fiddler."

If anyone deserves to be protected it is the person who oils the wheels of progress. He may be fooled one season, maybe two, but he refuses to be fooled all the time. The first year he may not be able to figure that Mr. Bookmaker, while rubbing his hands gleefully and looking so awfully good and obliging, is making about a "40 per cent book"—that is, if a "round play" were had the gleeful gentleman would have taken in $1,000 and pay out but $600 when the race was over. But the second year the speculator can easily figure for himself the percentage in favor of the game-keeper, and he does not play with the enthusiasm he felt the first season on the turf. It reminds us of Col. Jack Gambill, the Alabama gambler, who died here a few years ago. The story goes, he had never seen a hand-organ, and on strolling up Canal street in New Orleans one day he observed a gentleman come out of a house and put down a quarter on the green cloth which covered the organ. Col. Jack, fresh from a plantation in the wilds of his own State, thought it was a game of some sort, so he put down a quarter. Mr. Dago bowed low and swept the coin into his pocket. Then the Colonel put down half a dollar, and finally a dollar, the Italian bowing lower each time. At length, when the play had reached two dollars and the organ-grinder had bowed clear to the ground, Col. Gambill paused and slowly remarked: "I've gambled a good deal at different games in my time, if I ain't so very old, but you will allow me to remark right here that I never played a game where the percentage was so much in favor of the dealer as this one."

The time has arrived when small boys, touts of all ages and both sexes should be kept from playing the races. If that is to be accomplished and racing elevated to the place it once held, and not he considered a money-making, sure-thing gamble, then let us have no more book-betting at the State Fair, the greatest mixed race meeting held in America, and return to the auction pool-selling and Paris mutuels, having mutual tickets sold on every horse in every event. This would be an improvement on the old system of selling two choices and a field. Bookmaking will not be allowed anywhere on the circuit in California, and Sacramento has had enough of book-making for all time to come. The following is to be sung by a quartet, the air to be mutually agreed upon by the singers:

The books have gone, those "cinchy" things,
We ne'er shall see them more,
They clipped and clipped Dear Public's wings
Until that bird is sore,
And when a bird is sore's a rule
It's liable to peck
Or walk away to an auction pool
To cool its beak and neck.

What's in a Name?

Many persons will tell you there is nothing in a name but when one stops to consider the large number of horses named identically that were great racers or producers, or both, it dawns upon you that it is certainly lucky to name after a really famous horse. The following examples will serve to show what we mean:

Kingston was the great "cup horse" of England in the fifties, and afterward became a most successful sire. A son named Kingston went to Australia and there proved a fair sort of sire. In this country Kingston, by Spendthrift, was probably the best racer Americans ever saw, winning no less than eighty-seven races and $114,757 in stakes and purses, and retiring from the turf when ten years of age as sound as a dollar.

In England, The Bard was the best horse of his day, barring Ormonde, and the latter was the only racer that ever defeated him. The American horse, The Bard, was as good a race horse as we had in the late eighties, and one of the best sons of mighty Longfellow.

Bend Or, the Derby-winner of England and sire of Ormonde, was a grand race horse, and the American Bend Or was a record-breaker and one of the best horses in this country in the early eighties.

Eclipse (O'Kelly's) was never defeated in England and no horse of his time could make him stretch his neck. The American Eclipse likewise never met defeat, and won many notable contests.

The English Salvator won the Grand Prix de Paris and other great stakes and proved a good sire. Our Salvator was easily the champion racer of his generation, and established a mile record of 1:35½, besides winning the greatest of American all-aged stakes, The Suburban, with 127 pounds up (this at four years of age), running the mile and a quarter in 2:06 4-5.

Cremorne has been a lucky name, there being an English Derby-winner and winner of the Grand Prix de Paris of that name, a good American horse and a crackerjack in Australia is running in that country at the present.

There was an unbeaten race horse in America named Asteroid, and the English Asteroid was a stake-winner and sire of note.

In Australia, Tim Whiffler was a crackerjack, and the English Tim Whiffler was a celebrity of the race course, too.

Wallace was the winner of the Hudson Stakes at Gravesend and other races, and Wallace, son of Carbine, ran a dead heat with Quiver in Melbourne last year in a three-mile race, establishing a world's record—5:23½.

There was a good Irish horse named Fitz James, by Artillery, dam by Gladiator, and our good Fitz James is by Kyrle Daly, who was a son of Artillery.

The famous Harkaway, sire of King Tom, was so good a racer that he was called "the Irish Eclipse." In the seventies we had a good race horse in America by that name.

There were high-class horses in India, America and Great Britain bearing the name of Blarneystone.

Bravo won the Melbourne Cup and other great races, and there was a renowned English Bravo and a stake-winner in this country, by Bramble, of that name.

Tramp won the Foxhall Stake at Saratoga and other races, and the English horse, Tramp, sired Lottery, Barefoot and other great racers.

John Davis, a successful horse in England, had a namesake in this country that raced well until he was fifteen or sixteen years of age and won many big stake races.

Wellington won the Champion Race in Australia in 1879, and Wellington was a good race horse and sire in England.

Glencoe won the Two Thousand Guineas and Goodwood Cup in England and sired famous horses in both England and America. A Glencoe won the Melbourne Cup and the A. J. C. St. Leger.

The Duke (by the Kingston that went to Australia) won the A. J. C. Derby and other races, and the English horse, The Duke, won the Goodwood Cup in England in 1866, and sired many celebrities.

Melbourne, the English horse, sired West Australian and Blink Bouny, the best racers of their day, and in 1875 an Australian Melbourne (by Panic) won the V. R. C. St. Leger.

Other names that seemed to be lucky were Alarm (the first horse to beat 1:43 in a mile race in America) and Alarm, winner of the Cambridgeshire, etc., in England. There were good Surinams, Patrons, Saunterers, Poca-hontases, Fleur-de-Lises and Sir Johns, in fact so many of note that had namesakes in other lands that, after all, there seems to be something in a name.

Palo Alto Sale.

On Thursday, July 8, 1897, there will be sold at auction by Killip & Co., at their sale yards, corner of Market street and Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, fifty-one head of horses from the Palo Alto Stock Farm.

The last sale of Palo Alto stock held at the home farm has turned out very satisfactory to purchasers, many valuable horses having been secured by them at very low figures.

The sale of July 8th will contain a very fine lot of high-bred stock, selected for their fine individuality and soundness. All classes of horses can be found in this sale, stallions for stock purposes, broodmares, fillies and geldings for road or track purposes, and one car-load of work horses.

Catalogues are now ready and can be had by applying to Killip & Co., 11 Montgomery street. Stock can be seen at sale yards Tuesday, July 6th.

The Stockton Fair.

The matter of a fair is now in statu quo. Not all the directors have signed the lease to the citizens who want to undertake the enterprise, and some will not sign it. It is thought, however, that the matter will be satisfactorily arranged, but nothing will be done until after the Fourth of July. Then a meeting of the Fair Directors will be held, and an attempt will be made to have the matter finally settled. A life member of the association suggested to-day that the life members forego their usual privilege of free admission to the Fair this year in order to help the citizens in their undertaking. There are about 400 life members, and if all should pay their admissions as other citizens it would be a big help.—The Mail, June 23d.

The people of Santa Rosa are anxious to have the week claimed by the people of Stockton, but have been balking back to see what the latter will do. It is hoped that some definite arrangements will be made at once. Time is precious and this procrastination is not aiding the horse-owners of California a particle.

A MEETING was held last week in the office of the representative turf journal of the North, "The Rural Spirit," of Portland, for the purpose of trying to induce Ed. A. Tipton to form a circuit, including Portland, Sponane and Salem meetings to be held previous to the Montana meetings in 1898. The following committee was appointed to confer with Mr. Tipton on the subject and make all necessary arrangements for the meeting: F. C. Baker, L. W. Robertson, R. B. Smith, Dr. Ellis McLean and D. M. Wisdom. Such an arrangement would meet the hearty support of every horseman in California, and we hope it will be made.

THE attention of all horse-owners is called to the advertisement of the Marysville race meeting to be held this year. Over $7,000 is to be given in purses, and as the track is in perfect condition and a regular race meeting has not been held in Yuba county in years that will approach the one to be held in August, considerable interest is manifested in it. The long list of cracker-jacks that left for Montana leaves the way open for, those having horses here to make money; so it will pay to make entries at this meeting.

At the conclusion of the sale of Palo Alto stock Thursday, July 8th, that splendid Guy Wilkes-Nutwood stallion, Easter Wilkes, will be sold to close an estate. This horse is not only one of the finest-looking, but is destined to be one of the most famous sires in California. All his progeny are noted for color, size, style, perfect form, good dispositions and early and extreme speed. There are few Guy Wilkes stallions standing for public service in California and this one will pay for himself the first season.

WE are sorry to hear that several of our California-bred and owned horses have been "under the weather" since they arrived at Montana. It is hoped they will be acclimated by the time the bell rings for them to "go down and score."

THE enthusiasm over the return of prosperity to the light harness horse breeders in the East is remarkable. At every race meeting held the attendance is greater than it has been for years. In New York State every county has its race tracks, and whenever meetings are advertised entries come in so thick and fast that secretaries are surprised. In Michigan a number of new race tracks have been opened, and the interests of the owners of trotters and pacers are receiving a "solid boom."

D. E. KNIGHT, one of the best men in California, is satisfied that the meeting to be given at Marysville this year will do more toward awakening the people of that good city to the fact that they have an excellent track, and that they have been too long "in the dark," than any meeting ever held there. We want to see a big entry list sent in. Remember, this meeting follows the Breeders meeting at Oakland and precedes the Chico and Willows meeting. We will all be there!

REMEMBER, entries to that great Los Angeles meeting will close next Thursday, July 1st. It is of paramount importance to every horse-owner in California to make entries there. Special railroad rates will be furnished for men and horses.

ALL our leading horse-owners have signified their willingness to sign an agreement with the Southern Pacific Railroad Company relating to transportation and rates of fare on the California circuit.

THE programme of the State Fair will appear in our next issue. Horse-owners will notice with pleasure many decided changes for their benefit.

WOODLAND'S meeting will be a "corker" this year. Everybody in that thriving city is enthusiastic.

BOOK-BETTING at the State Fair this year will not do!

LATE BRIEFS.—Hon. Frank L. Coombs, of Napa, sent a telegram declining the Presidency of the proposed Marin Jockey Club; reason assigned, has not time to give the enterprise the required time.—Bob Isom has received an offer from Marcus Daly, and named a stiff price.—George Van Gorden, recently returned from Mexico, tells that the frequent wins of Lulu Pry, an Indian Territory mare belonging to a man named Skaggs, were not on the level. A valet was observed slipping a lead pad to the mare's rider on the way to the scaleroom, and the judges merely warned the boy. In the next handicap it was discovered that the rider's cap contained fifteen pounds of lead. This was dropped soon after the start was made, picked up by the valet and banded to the jockey, who made his weight with it. After the exposure of this, the California-bred horses began to win, and Morgan G. and Scimeter were poisoned, the latter dying. The Government investigated the matter and found carrots to be fed to the horses scooped out and sufficient arsenic inserted to kill all the animals at the track. The owner of Lulu Pry was arrested and is now in jail. Mr. Van Gorden sold Articus to a Mexican turfman. Sepoy and Brametta were raced there. The latter did not win. Joe Ellis, well-known here, is conducting a pool-room in the City of Mexico and is reported to be coining money.

HARVEY MAC, the speedy son of McKinney, will be seen trotting in the circuit this season. He is considered a wonder by horsemen who have seen him perform of late in Golden Gate Park. It is not so much his speed that they wonder at, but the fact that he is double-gaited in a marked degree. Without the use of hobbles or boots this horse will pace a mile at a very fast clip, and after being shaken up and having his head raised, he falls into a trot. He trots as fast as he paces. The fact that the horse changes his gait entirely without any preparation is causing considerable talk among harness-horse men. There are many other double-gaited horses, but like Ottinger they need to be specially prepared for either trotting or pacing. This horse's peculiarity lays in the fact that he can pace a race and then trot a race right afterwards. The horse is owned by J. C. Kirkpatrick, manager of the Palace Hotel, and is being trained by Pat Farrell. In 1894 Harvey Mac was a two-year-old, and he won the Coast championship at Woodland with a record of 2:18. The following year he paced in 2:14 at Los Angeles. His advent on the circuit as a trotter will be watched with interest.

IMP. PURSEBEARER, the property of Mr. O. H. Chevalier, proprietor of Spendthrift stud, died suddenly on Saturday last from strangulation of the bowels. Pursebearer was 18 years old and was purchased by Mr. O. H. Chevalier in December, 1865, from John Jacob Astor. Pursebearer was by Scottish Chief out of Thrift, by Stockwell, his third dam being Queen Mary (dam of Bonnie Scotland, etc.) He was a good race horse and half brother to the great race horse Tristan. He was highly esteemed as a stallion in England, but in Mr. Astor's New York breeding establishment he had little opportunity. He was bred to a number of good mares in Kentucky in 1896 and this year. He was an exceedingly handsome individual and is a decided loss to Kentucky breeding interests.—The Thoroughbred Record.

THE deed has been signed and delivered to Mr. J. B. Haggin to Horseman Headquarters, and now the Californian is the sole owner of Treacy & Wilson's stable, in Lexington, and its splendid business. It is understood that Mr. Garrett Wilson, Capt. Treacy's former partner, will have charge of the establishment.

Do not overlook the date, July 1st, for entries to the Los Angeles $1,200 event, which will close on that day, and the entrance is only three per cent.

Death of A. T. Gallagher.

JUNE 20, 1897.

More than the ordinary notice of passing away is due this young man, for by perseverance, intelligence and practical experience he rose from a supernumerary position to head trainer in the kindergarten at Palo Alto, a position he has held for many years, his death alone causing a vacancy to exist. Audy, as he was familiarly called by all at Palo Alto, was born in the Santa Clara valley over forty years ago. He was a member of Menlo Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West. Descended from a family of horsemen, he naturally chose the horse business as his profession. Entering the employ of Palo Alto Stock Farm in 1880, he has, with the exception of a short period, worked steadily and faithfully for the best interests of his employer, gaining recognition from time to time for his worth and ability as a steady and efficient man. Gov. Stanford recognized in him one peculiarly adapted for the head of the kindergarten and paid him many compliments for his success in developing speed in that place. The praise he received from the Governor, for whom he had a great admiration, more than repaid him for his unceasing effort and untiring labor in making the kindergarten one of the successful methods of developing early speed. The Professor, as he was called by some, has developed many of the world's record-breakers in their early work. The perfect control under which he had colts has gained him praise from many of the most prominent people of the world, thousands having visited Palo Alto and seen him at work. But no praise was as great to him as when his master said: "Mr. Gallagher, that colt makes me have great hopes of his future; his early education has been of the best."

Audy was a natural horseman, kind, though positive, a good doctor, few his equal, and in the position he held he had no peer.

He will be remembered by thousands as the dark, gentlemanly young man, who always paid a visit to the kindergarten, a pleasing and instructive remembrance. Children he took particular delight in entertaining, and many a child on leaving the kindergarten has remarked: "Why, mamma, those horses understand what that man says to them."

He has passed over to the silent majority to await the Resurrection Day. Who knows but that he may meet that master mind who originated the kindergarten system of development, where he so long found employment, and in his master's eyes so often found favor for his meritorious work?

Sad news was the death of this man to his friends and relatives, and yet another sorrow was to come, greater in its severity to the family, for while on his way to attend to some business in connection with his son's funeral, the aged and respected father of Audy dropped dead.

The sympathy of the residents of Santa Clara county is heartfelt, and their expressions of condolence to the bereaved family such as can only be expressed by kind and loving friends.

Mr. Gallagher Sr. has been a resident of Santa Clara county for almost fifty years, has been a prosperous and respected citizen. His sudden death, though he has been a sufferer from heart disease for some years, will cause sincere sorrow to his many friends and acquaintances throughout California.

The death of his son Audy will cause many heartfelt regrets that one so young, beloved by all, should be called away so soon, but pleasant memories of his true worth will help to soften the sorrow of parting.

God in his infinite judgment doeth all things well,
Brother! Native Son! Hail and farewell!

F. W. COVEY.

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained,"

He caroled as he started.

When he returned he sighed: "A fool

And his money soon are parted."

The Anaconda Tournament.

Rain, dark cloudy weather and high winds made things rather unpleasant for the shooters at the big tournament at Anaconda last week, but the attendance was good and the tournament a success despite the bad weather.

The tournament was the thirteenth annual of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest and the fourth annual of the Montana State Sportsmen's Association. The first day's shooting resulted as follows:

Monterey Wing Shooting Club.

MONTEREY, June 21, 1897.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN—The Monterey Wing Shooting Club held its eighth official shoot yesterday. The best score was made by Varlen, making 19 out of a possible 25. Work, Rumbia and Carr claim that the tamblor of yesterday had much to do with their poor showing as they had not yet got over the scare when the shooting commenced, however, they are satisfied to have Mr. Varlen sport the gold-headed cane for the present. Following is the score:

Varlen.....1101111111010011011110-19

The members of the club are very much enthused over the prospects of having a grand shoot at their coming tournament on the 4th of July, as everything points to a big gathering of shooters from all over the State. The visiting sportsmen will not regret their coming as the members are making preparations to make it as pleasant as possible for the entertainment of the visiting sportsmen and their friends.

C. H. RODRIGUEZ, Sec'y.

Bluerocks at Bakerefield.

The members of the Kern County Gun Club held their semi-monthly official shoot Wednesday afternoon, the 16th inst. The magatrap worked satisfactorily and some excellent scores were made. The first shoot was at twenty-five bluerocks for the Goldman gun, which was won by J. E. Seroy a "D" class man. The balance of the afternoon was devoted to prize shooting, the money being divided on the Rose system. The score:

The Buck Ague.

In less than three weeks the open season for deer shooting will be on. Are you a novice? Did you ever have the buck ague? T. S. Van Dyke describes this disease very accurately in a recent issue of the Los Angeles Herald as follows:

"The buck ague" has so often been referred to in a humorous way that many think it a pure creation of fancy. It is, however, quite a stern reality, and although few confess it, most hunters have been troubled with it more than once.

I am not ashamed to admit that I have had it in about all its forms, and had it several times in some of them. Only nerves hardened by constant familiarity with blood can always remain tranquil in the presence of noble game, and the hardened hunter is about the only man who never had the buck ague.

That most provoking of all its forms is when a deer is running before a pack of hounds. No man can remain calm when he first hears the wild waves of sound rolling from hill to hill and surging higher and higher in a tumultuous crescendo that tells him the game is coming towards his stand. Cold shivers begin to crawl up your back and hot flashes gambol along your spine, while your heart struggles into your mouth as fast as you can gulp it down. Often the deer is far ahead of the hounds and runs with little noise, glides softly through brush and skips like a sunbeam over fallen logs. With head down and body half hidden, he may almost pass the anxious watcher with the gun before he fully sees what it is. And when he does see it the game often looks so entirely different from the picture that heated fancy had printed that the gun is forgotten until a single jump or a slight twist around a bush or tree takes the game out of sight forever.

In my first experience with hunting with hounds I was standing on the edge of some timber, keeping remarkably cool, as I thought, while the ringing racket kept coming my way, but was not yet near enough for certainty. I thought I heard a gentle splash in some water just above a little knoll and as I rose to look there was a grand whirl of grayish blue surmounted by a banner of white. It curled gracefully over a fallen log while I, feeling as cool as a cucumber, exclaimed:

"Golly! It's a deer!"

There was a crack of brush and rustling of leaves as a hush beyond closed over it and in a twinkling there was nothing there. Then, for the first time, it occurred to me that I had a gun and that I had come there to use it. Had the deer not been too smart and held his course along the low ground he would have been safe. But large game often has a fatal weakness for running up hill where it can take a look at you as it flies. This one showed himself for an instant on the crest of the next ridge at which I sent a charge of buckshot with all the quickness of one accustomed to shooting woodcock and quail in thick cover. It was a long shot, but it broke a leg and the dogs ran him down.

There is another form that every hunter of much experience has had. The size of the game has little to do with it and the result would probably be the same with the largest moose as with the smallest deer. Perhaps you have almost given up hunting for the day as a failure, and with gun across the back of your neck and both arms resting over it, are sauntering slowly along debating whether to go home or try some new tack, when there suddenly arises in your path an apparition of glossy fur, high thick neck, flaring ears, dark shining nose and jet black eyes. It is not often you have such a battery opened upon you and at a distance, perhaps, of only fifteen or twenty paces. The wildest animals are careless at times and you have surprised this buck in bed, where he has concluded that all danger was past for the day, and had fallen into a doze. He awoke at the sound of your feet along the ground, and, almost as dazed as you are, he stands for a moment looking to see whether he was scared at anything or nothing.

You whirl the rifle like a flash from your shoulder, but you raise it with marvelous coolness and seem to take most deliberate aim at the heavy chest. At the crack of the rifle there is a flash of white waving on high for a moment and a thump of hoofs and all is still. Vainly you scan the ground for traces of blood or hair cut out by the ball, and you follow the trail for many a rod without finding a sign of faltering in the step.

He was "too close." You were too certain and "did not draw the sights down fine enough," as they say. You probably shot a foot or more above him. And you could have performed the same with a shotgun or a blunderbuss that would scatter two feet at that distance.

Another very attractive form of the buck ague is when you have jumped a deer, shot at him on the jump and missed him. Curiosity to know what the noise was often overcomes him, and he wheels suddenly around to look at you. You feel that he will stand but a second, and the rifle is empty. It seemed very easy to shoot with coolness as long as the game was running. But now there is a wondrous change when you feel that every quarter of a second is invaluable. He who has never been through this with the old-time muzzle-loader and old-fashioned caps, with bare hands, on a cold morning, has missed one of the most interesting phases of existence.

This infirmity is quite apt to attack one when one first tries to shoot large game at any considerable distance. The most expert target shot is appalled when he first draws sights upon game instead of the target. The antelope that in the market or picture looks so big and clear dwindles to marvelous obscurity through the sights of a rifle at a point where it would be a child's play to center the regulation target with its clear outlines and sharp contrast of black against white. No matter how the nerves may be hardened by practice at the target, this new experience and the fear of missing that at once arises from it are apt to make the sights dance all the more, instead of settling to that clearness and steadiness needed for a certain shot at game. You are apt to finish by giving the trigger a nervous jerk that sends the ball too high.

About the worst buck ague I ever had was after I had shot many hundred deer and had "shot at" three times that many. The winter was the extremely rainy one of 1883-4 in Southern California, and in the mountains where I was we had been unable for over a month to go anywhere with a horse. The railroad had been washed out, the stores were out of everything, and seed wheat, ground in the coffee mill, had for many days been our chief reliance. At last it stopped raining long enough to let me hunt, and before long I saw the white rump of a deer projecting from a live oak bush. I was so anxious to get it that a perfect shower bath of chills and shivers deluged me. It might be another month before there was another chance for meat of any kind, and it was a case of woodchuck logic. The more I felt that I must get it the more I shook when I raised the rifle. Fortunately the deer had no idea of my presence, so that I had plenty of time. But I took down that rifle no less than six times before I could hold it steady enough to hit the mark at only sixty paces.

Fishing for Squirrels.

E. R. Barroll, a hardware merchant of Colfax, was in Spokane on business Tuesday. Among other things he purchased while there was a quantity of large fish hooks. When asked if fishing had become suddenly good in the Palouse country he informed a Chronicle reporter that it had not, but that the farmers were using the hooks to catch squirrels with. This is new and novel but quite a popular and successful one. A large fish hook is fastened to a small piece of board by means of a nail driven through the eye. The board is placed in the mouth of the hole with the point of the hook pointing out. The squirrel comes out by it in safety, but when he starts to run back by it the hook catches him in the throat and holds him fast.—Colfax (Wash.) Gazette.

CARTRIDGE AND SHELL.

Papa Carr says come to Monterey on the 4th.

Deer are reported very plentiful about Cloverdale.

The Merced Gun Club will give a tournament on July 4th and 5th.

The Empire Gun Club will give a merchandise prize shoot on August 1st.

Humboldt county is the only county in the State in which snipe are protected.

The "additional attractions" at Monterey will bring quite a number of shooters that will not shoot.

The BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN prints more news items than all other sportsmen's papers in California combined.

The Merced Gun Club wants 500 live pigeons. Any one having any for sale would do well to advertise them in these columns.

Quite a number of dead deer have been found in Santa Clara county this past week. One party found five near a small spring.

Some of the local shooters will enjoy a clam bake, rabbit hunt and pigeon shoot on the 4th. For further particulars see Edgar Forster at Clatsrough, Golcher & Co's.

The King Powder Co. has placed upon the market a new powder called the King Semi-Smokeless. It is neither black nor smokeless. It is an entirely new compound.

The Red Bluff Gun Club will hold a tournament tomorrow. A team shoot between Shasta and Tehama county crack shots will be one of the features of the shoot.

At the New York State tournament, J. S. Fanning, broke 337 out of 385 birds shot at. An average of 87.5 per cent. H. McManchy 91.9 per cent. Ed Fulford was high with 94.5

An attempt to stock the region about Murphys, Calaveras county, with Mongolian pheasants will be made this season. The sportsmen of that town have secured six and will turn out the increase.

The open season for deer in Alameda and Napa counties, as quoted in our game laws last week, was incorrect, both of these ordinances expired by limitation last year. The table issued this week is correct.

The Stockton Gun Club made the following scores Sunday, June 13th: Rex, 19; Condy, 15; G. Ditz, 14; Peterson, 13; Knight, 13; A. Tinkham, 13; N. Brown, 12; Livebird, 12; Riley, 11; Lonjars, 11; Keyes, 10; Graw, 10; Barnett, 9; W. Ditz, 7; Umlauf, 5.

When the next Legislature meets the sportsmen of California, the respectable market hunters and the trade should band together and insist on a law being passed prohibiting the shooting of ducks between one half hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.

The attendance at the Monterey Wing Shooting Club's tournament of July 1st promises to be very good. It is the best programme ever offered in California for a one-day event, and the club should receive the support of all bluerock shooters that can possibly get there.

It is unlawful to hunt deer, moose, caribou, mountain sheep with dogs, or to kill more than four deer or more than two moose antelope, caribou, mountain sheep or goat, or to shoot ducks between one hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise in the State of Washington.

The railroad fare to Monterey and return will be $4 from July 2d to 7th inclusive. The Monterey club expect to trap 14,000 bluerocks. The Santa Cruz Gun Club has postponed its shoot to attend and the attendance from this section will be very large. Mr. Gunzendorfer will meet the 2:30 train from San Francisco on Saturday, to place the shooters in suitable accommodations. If you don't go you will miss a rattling good shoot.

Colonel J. Fernando Connors has returned from his trip to Yosemite. He killed fourteen mountain lions, ten black bears, eleven grizzlies, seven cinnamon, forty-five deer, twelve antelope, one and one-half buffalo, sixteen skunks, twelve ostriches, six eagles (one a member of the bald-headed row), fourteen sheep, three cows, seven pigs, two goats, five buzzards, one jackrabbit, fourteen coyotes (without scalps), eight wildcats, seven crows, two Newfoundland dogs and one Spitz, eleven gophers, three mocking birds, thirteen snakes, four squirrels, two horned toads, seven mules, fourteen chickens, three ducks, two house cats, eleven mice, nine rats, four peacocks, 5,648 fleas, three calvary horses and a whole lot of time.—Oakland Tribune.

Following are the scores made at the regular shoot of the San Luis Obispo Gun Club, Sunday afternoon, June 13th. Twenty-five birds—Tracy, 17; Greenfield, 11; Vollmer, 11; H. Knight, 14; Genter, 9; Fuller, 12; Gaxiola, 17; F. Knight, 12; Call, 14; Badger, 11; Fry, 15. Ten birds—H. Knight, 8; Fry, 4; Genter, 3; Tracy, 7; Greenfield, 3; Badger, 7; Call, 2; F. Knight, 2; Fuller, 2; Vollmer, 7.

Captain Powles and Mate Hole of the ship James Kerr have secured a trap and are practicing on board of the vessel, with a hope of winning the first and second prizes at the Martinez Gun Club. We understand they are not shooting according to rules, however, and that owing to lack of room on the vessel, stand only four feet from the trap. The other members of the crew arm themselves with stones and seem to have better luck at short range than the shooters as they break all birds missed by the guns.

SANTA BARBARA, June 14.—A good joke is going the rounds in sporting circles here, on several local nimrods, who went into the mountains and amused themselves by shooting a stuffed deer full of holes. Hiram Pierce and Ed C. Tollant are the men who perpetrated the joke, and Francis Wilson is one of the victims. As the season for hunting this game will not be open before July 15th, these hunters are having a difficult time explaining their presence in the mountains with rifles.—Los Angeles Times.

There seems to be a whole lot of spunk in the make-up of the Exeter Gun Club, says Powhot in the Visalia Delta. Not satisfied with wiping us off the earth twice, they are still after more glory. An Exeter man called me off to one side the other day, and confidentially informed me that the Exeter Club was going to send in their best shots on July 5th—those having competed heretofore being the poorest marksmen in the club. Well, all I have to say is, we will make you shoot your best, Exeter. We let you win two events just to give bluerock shooting a stimulus in poor thriving little huf; out now we are going to show you what we can do.

ROD.

Coming Events.

June 22.—Regular semi-monthly meeting of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club. Office of State Fish Commission, Flood Building, San Francisco.

NOTICE TO ANGLERS.

Every angler is invited to drop us a line occasionally, telling us of the condition of the streams they have visited and the killing lure; of the number and size of the fish caught, or any other item of interest to anglers.

The Fly Casting Club.

The standing of the members of the Fly Casting Club that are competing for the season's medals is as follows:

Saturday Contests: Event No. 1. (Long Distance)—Lowry 4, Mansfield 3, Lovett 1, Bachelier 1.

Event No. 2 (Distance and Accuracy)—Mansfield 5, Skinner 1, Lovett 1, Edwards 1, Smyth 1.

Event No. 3 (Accuracy and Delicacy)—Bachelier 7, Skinner 1, Smyth 1.

Sunday Contests: Event No. 1—Mansfield 6, Lowry 2, "Emery" 1.

Event No. 2 (Distance and Accuracy)—Mansfield 4, Lovett 2, Lowry 1, Young 1, Bachelier 1.

Event No. 3 (Accuracy and Delicacy)—Lovett 3, Mansfield 3, Lowry 2, Young 1.

In brief Lowry leads the Saturday contingent in Event No. 1 and Mansfield the Sunday. Mansfield leads the Saturday Event No. 2 and Sunday Event No. 2, Bachelier leads the Saturday Event No. 3, and Lovett and Mansfield tie for first honors in the Sunday Event No. 3.

How Many Trout Are Left?

The Pendleton Oregonian of June 7th contains the following: These came home Sunday evening from the mountains. It was at first thought easier to publish the names of those citizens who remained at home, so numerous were the fishermen. But so many fish were caught and such big baskets brought home that the men are entitled to full credit for their prowess with rod and line. Here are the names:

H. L. Hashouck, Mart Hashouck, Ed Weaver, Charlie Bean, Fred Judd, Theron Fell, Ed Harlow, Mark John, Charlie Wilkins, Charles Cranston, Jake Mordecai Bentley, Frederick Lampkin, Jacob Martin, Mike Keating, Jim E. Krause, Ed Baker, Al DeSpain, Hal Dickson, Fred Stine, Cliff Cleaver, Lea Teutsch, et al.

These gentlemen caught 155 fish apiece, calling last Sunday's crowd and and going them just five better on the average. The total number caught was 3255, or about one fish for every man, woman and child in town. There are only about 450 families in Pendleton, consequently, each family today had seven trout apiece, if all were remembered by their friends.

Viviparous Perch.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19, 1897.

EDITOR BREEDER AND SPORTSMAN—Dear Sir:—Will you kindly grant me a reply to the following question, and enlighten a reader of your valuable paper. I would like to know whether the male or female perch delivers the young, and in what manner. Please answer and greatly oblige

J. O.

The common yellow and handed fresh water perch spawn like other fish. The perch of Clear Lake (Hysterocephalus traski), a fish that grows to about eight inches in length, and the surf perch, common in this bay and about Monterey, is viviparous, the female giving birth to her young, as animals do. How the ova becomes impregnated is as yet a mystery to science.

How to Fleh for Bass.

If the fisherman is visiting a lake where he is unacquainted with the conditions of the bottom, he should seek out the rocky ledges, says an old-time angler. Down among the rocks, which form a fine home for his bass-ship, he is quietly resting, apparently asleep, but with an eye open to all that is going on around him. Put a nice little live minnow on the hook, and drop it as gently as possible, and let the little fish swim slowly down toward the bottom. If that bass is hungry he will make a swift dart for the minnow. He will not stop to examine the fish.

If there is any life in the minnow the bass will open wide its jaws and gobble the little one up. The minute he feels the prick of the hook he will attempt to get rid of it. For that reason a quick strike should be made—not a yank or a jerk, but a little turn of the wrist to fasten the hook. This maddens the fish. It probably does not hurt him so much as it annoys him. The angler has two things to do—to keep him from under the rocks and keep his line taut. He will finally tire out and come to the landing-net or gaff.

A bunch of worms, a grasshopper, small frog or cricket are good bait when the bass are feeling well. Even a red reg will tempt them. Sometimes when fishing for perch with a red-painted bob or cork, a bass will jump at it. In trolling for bass a minnow is the best bait. In cloudy weather a gold spoon will prove more tempting than the common silver one. A few feathers should be attached to the spoon-hook. Fly-fishing for bass is pretty sport. They do not rise so quickly as trout, but are more suspicious than salmon. They never play with the flies like a trout, jumping up and down just for fun, but dash directly at it.—Sportsman's Review.

Two kinds of black bass are known, the large-mouthed and the small-mouthed. These can be readily separated by well-known characters; the large-mouthed species has a dark band on the side, extending from the head to tail; its upper jaw extends backward far beyond the eye; it has seven rows of scales between the beginning of the spiny back-fin and the lateral line. (This line is marked by short pores on the top of the scales.) The small-mouthed bass has no dark stripes on the sides; its upper jaw does not extend backward beyond the eye; it has eleven rows of scales between the beginning of the spiny back-fin and lateral line. The large-mouthed bass grows to a length of thirty inches; a specimen weighing twenty-three pounds is on record. The largest small-mouthed bass known weighed about ten pounds.—Amateur Sportsman.

W. J. Street and wife left town on Thursday of last week with gun, rod and camera for a three-weeks' outing in the Yosemite. They will drive from Berenda and expect to enjoy a bear hunt en route. Fishing on Wawona and Crescent lakes will occupy a portion of their time. At the Yosemite they will join the Camera Club party, consisting of A. S. McFarland and wife, H. C. Owens, E. Motte, Mrs. Leale, Miss Banks, Professor Argenti and wife, D. B. Bent, Miss Haight, Mrs. Runyon and children and several others, who will drive in from Stockton via Chinese Camp and Big Oak Flat. The party will return via the Calaveras big trees.

In describing the lamprey last week we omitted to tell of its habit of hanging to other fish by its sucker-like mouth. Its tongue is covered with rasp-like teeth, and by rasping away the scales and skin of the fish that it attaches itself to, it soon reaches the flesh and blood upon which it feeds. Although Dr. Gilbert did not mention the possibility of the lamprey attaching itself to salmon or like fish when they go up stream to spawn, it looks to us like a very feasible idea that they would avail themselves of this means of locomotion in traveling up rapid streams.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Charles Kimball, Miss Daisy Kimball, G. T. Wilder of Honolulu and Mr. Bennett left this city on Thursday of last week on the steamer Noyo for Fort Bragg for a three-weeks' fishing and camping trip to the head waters of Big river. H. Bentley of Woodbridge left on the same steamer for a fishing trip in that region.

H. F. Muller returned from the San Lorenzo last week. He found fair fishing around Ben Lomond, but the best of all was at a small village further down the river. The hotel dams have backed the stream up, so that fishing in the vicinity of Ben Lomond is rather poor.

Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Rosenfeld, who are spending part of their honeymoon at Catalina, went out on the Fleetwing on Monday of last week. Mrs. Rosenfeld (neé Smedberg) caught one albacore, 22 pounds; two yellowtail, 23 and 27 pounds; 18 barracuda, 180 pounds; total catch, 252 pounds.

The State Board of Fish Commissioners have received the Fish and Game laws in pamphlet form. They are for free distribution. Send for a copy or apply in person at the office of the Commission, Flood Building, Market and Fourth streets.

Admiral Kirkland, commandant of Mare Island, and ex-Senator James McCudden returned from Lake Tahoe on the 16th. The admiral landed one nine-pound trout, and together the two gentlemen caught 73 handsome fish.

At the next meeting of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club the members will vote on the question of sending a delegate to the Chicago Fly Casting Clubs tournament in August.

The world may stand ready to hear of new world's records at long distance fly casting at any time. Golcher and Mansfield are making respectively 110 and 117 feet in practice.

The San Francisco Fly Casting Club will hold its tenth regular Saturday and Sunday contests this afternoon and tomorrow at Stow Lake, Golden Gate Park.

R. T. and J. W. Vandervort, of Pasadena, the former, the well-known field trial judge, caught ten yellowtail at Avalon with rod and reel one day last week.

W. R. McFarland and Al Newman fished Alameda lagoon Sunday for striped bass and caught a tiger shark and a 75-pound rat-tailed ating-ray.

Capt. Fred Walker caught 115 trout at Rocky Canyon near Tomales on the 18th. They weighed 15½ pounds dressed.

Joe Hollingshead, of Wheatland, caught a 13-pound pike in Plumes lake last week.

John Butler and Dr. Von Hoffmann are fishing the Big Meadows this week.

The fishing at Donner lake is the best that has been for many years.

Salmon trout are running in the Tuolumne.

More Hot Shot.

The following pars re the mischief maker and the late dog shows are from the editorial notes in Turf, Field and Farm:

THAT transparent humbug of the Pacific Coast (Payne) who keeps on preaching about honor, honesty, uprightness, manliness, beauty of character and everything else that is sweet and lovely, reminds us of the six-footer who was anxious to join a crack cavalry regiment and asked to be enlisted on the strength of a photograph which he enclosed to the Colonel. He was told that he must present himself for inspection, which he did. "My man," said the recruiting officer, "you look mighty fine on paper but d—d had on parade."

OUT of the thirteen entries from Stockton two only were unnoticed at Oakland—one the Irish terrier with the flesh-colored nose, and Rowdy, a so-called Field Spaniel. Eight were awarded first prizes; one a second prize, one a third prize and one the reserve card. This scarcely looks as if Mortimer "had it in" for "Uncle Dick and the Stockton exhibitors" and is another lie tailed.

THE Foxterrier Club will have to revise its standard, as Mission Idol, a foxterrier bitch shown at San Francisco, is described by Major Taylor as being too fat in skull!!!

DOINGS IN DOGDOM.

The Del Monte Kennels have three entries in the Eastern Field Trial Club's Derby.

Some worthless rascal poisoned nineteen valuable dogs on the 8th at Grand Forks, B. C.

One hundred and forty-nine fox terriers were registered in England in the month of April.

Hurhert White's recent purchase, the R. C. St. Bernard Eboracum, is improving rapidly.

We are sorry to learn that so good a fancier as Chas. R. Harker is going out of St. Bernards.

John Grace has declined to judge the Altcar and American Coursing Clubs meetings for business reasons.

G. R. Butler of Salinas will accept our thanks for a fine photo of his English setter bitch Chica Noble and litter.

The thirteenth annual Derby of the Eastern Field Trial Club has forty-two entries, thirty setters and twelve pointers.

Dogs are booming in Los Angeles. There are 616 dogs licensed this year in comparison with 331 up to the same time last year.

Frank D. Cobb of Stockton has purchased the well-known fox terrier Warren Crack, one of the winners at Boston Providence and St. Louis.

The winners in collies at the late Paris show was a white dog. Shales are getting unpopular in France, the black and white and black and tan being preferred.

Major McKinley, the winning St. Bernard puppy at Oakland weighs 139 pounds at eight months of age and is, as it promised at Oakland one of the best pups ever raised in California.

The entries to the Pacific Coast Field Trial Club's annual Derby close on July 1st with J. M. Kilgariff, secretary. The entry promises to be very good this year. If you have a promising young dog enter him by all means.

Dr. E. N. Lowry has entered his English setter dog Nimrod II., by Nimrod—Sybil S., in the Blue Ribbon Stakes. There are nineteen entries, 13 English setters and 6 pointers. This is the only California dog to compete in Eastern trials for many years, and we certainly wish the Doctor all the success he deserves.

Chas. R. Harker, proprietor of the Rose Lodge Kennels, advertises in our business columns his entire kennel of St. Bernards, including Champion Melrose, the best smooth coat in California, Champion Alta Berna, Nellie Queen of Wasatch, the dam of Roxie Savage Taylor, and a lot of other well-bred dogs, hitches and puppies at half price. Write him for full particulars.

This is the latest Great Dane news from Germany: "Since cycles have been introduced into the army German officers seem to have been considering how their advantage could be neutralized, and they have come to the conclusion that the dog, a Great Dane by preference, because of his weight and strength, is the best instrument to employ. The training of the animals is going forward in the garrisons of Berlin. They are trained in the first place to distinguish German, Austrian uniforms from those of French and Russian soldiers, and when their education in this respect is sufficiently advanced they are trained to throw themselves upon the cyclists who wear the uniforms of the supposed enemy. Cyclists clad in various uniforms and padded so that they are protected against bites, ride past or among the dogs, and these instantly rush at men costumed as Frenchmen or Russians, and throw them over. If by any chance a dog should attack a representative of the Triple Alliance he is severely flogged, whilst a reward is given him when he assails the man who impersonates an enemy."—Turf Field and Farm.

The American Stock-Keeper says: The Committee on Rules of the A. K. C. will recommend at the next meeting in September, a change of classification that will revolutionize our present system. This is nothing less than adoption of the English method of classification—Limit, Winners, Maiden, Novice and Puppy classes. The open class will not be a misnomer as at present, but will admit to competition any dogs over six months of age, and irrespective of winnings. This will be a much needed reform, and there is little doubt it will go through at the September meeting. The Committee has also drawn up a list of penalties for non-conformity to A. K. C. show rules, both for clubs and exhibitors. In future, entries will be rigidly scrutinized, and the system of entering dogs with simply John Snooks, agent, will receive a call down in the way of disqualification for the dog so entered. The name of the owner must be given in every case. Likewise dogs entered as pedigree and breeder unknown, when the contrary is the fact, will also receive the attention. It is also proposed that the forfeit deposit of $25 will be in the nature of a bond from clubs for a proper adherence to A. K. C. Rules, and instead of one infraction of a rule being visited with the forfeit of the entire money deposit, as heretofore, the different infractions will have a graduated penalty of so much each, so that if a club breaks a rule in, say two instances, that club will simply pay the penalty of those delinquencies and the balance of forfeit will be returned. But the limit that a club is liable to be penalized is covered by the original deposit. If all these rules go through, as they most probably will, clubs and exhibitors will, with the new classification in vogue, have to be very careful in both entries and the conduct of the shows.

It is rumored that J. H. Kaifer has been elected to represent the Southern California Kennel Club on the Advisory Board in lieu of the "mischief-maker." We are delighted to learn that the Southern contingent has come to its senses at last—better late than never. We congratulate the sportsmen of Los Angeles on their selection of this delegate and the doggy world in general for their partial release from the evil influence of the "mischief-maker." Mr. Kaifer is an upright, honorable sportsman, a man deeply interested in the welfare of his club and who will work for the doggy interest of the Coast first, last and all the time. He will not become one of Payne's tools and can be relied upon to vote as his conscience dictates. The good of the dog and not self-aggrandizement will alone guide him, and with his advent we look for a brighter year in dogdom. We do not desire to cast any reflections upon the balance of the Board, but it is an undeniable fact, Payne has "worked" the Board and the American Kennel Club for all it was worth. The good of the cause never entered into his cranium for a single instant, and there is not a vote or motion on record that he made while in office that was not solely with the object of either booming him (Payne), his dogs or his paper, or was actuated by pure personal spite. While the "mischief-maker" is old in years he is young in dogdom, and his colleagues have nearly all been still younger. He has oft-soaped them and with his smooth tongue prevailed upon them by his oily arguments and lies to do as he desired. Through this power as secretary he has taken the reins in his own hands; on several occasions he has acted underhanded and totally without the knowledge of his colleagues in reference to matters which belonged solely to the Board and which should be decided by them before being acted upon. There is only one thing wanted now and that is his total disqualification—a matter which is only a question of time.

The State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture held a meeting last Friday at the office of the Secretary to arrange the premium list and adopt a speed programme for the State Fair this year. There were present: Directors Boggs, Matthews, Wilson, Covay, Cox, Fox, Land, Spreckels, Terry and Chasa.

The dates for the State Fair were fixed from September 6th to 18th, two weeks.

The premium list was taken up and considered and the following changes were ordered:

The dairy department premiums were referred to a committee consisting of Director Boggs and Secretary Smith.

The offer from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America to duplicate all premiums won by cattle of that class was accepted.

In the swine department it was ordered that the names and numbers of all classes be placed on the entry cards, and that all animals be required to be registered in their respective herd-books.

Additional premiums were offered for wire fencing.

In the horticultural department an additional premium was ordered given for the best variety of dried prunes.

A special premium of $25 was added for the best formula for preserving fruit for exhibition purposes.

With these few changes the premium list remains the same as in 1896.

John A. Stanton of San Francisco was elected Superintendent of the art department.

At the evening session of the board, organization for the ensuing year was effected. Director Spreckels nominated C. M. Chase for President and he was elected by acclamation.

Director J. W. Wilson was elected Superintendent of the Park, and Director Matthews Superintendent of the Pavilion.

The President appointed the following committees:

Executive—Cox, Spreckels, Mackey, Wilson and Terry. Finance—Boggs, Cox, Matthews, Land and the President. Printing and Publication—Land, Fox, President Chasa and Secretary Smith.

Library—Gird, Covay, the President and Secretary.

Speed Programme—Fox, Covay, Spreckels, Wilson and Secretary Smith.

The Speed Committee formulated the following trotting and pacing programme:

First Day—Occident Stake, 2:40 class trot, purse $600; 2:17 class pace, purse $800.

Second Day—Two-year-old trotting stake, closed; 2:24 class trot, purse $600; three-year-old pace, free for all, purse $600; three-year-old trot, 2:25 class, closed.

Third Harness Day—Two-year-old paca, 2:30 class, closed; 2:17 class trot, purse $800; 2:14 class paca, purse $800.

Fourth Harness Day—$3,000 guaranteed stake, closed; three-year-old paca, 2:25 class, closed; 2:30 class trot, purse $600.

Fifth Harness Day—2:21 class trot, purse $800; 2:19 class trot, purse $800; 2:20 class paca, purse $600.

Sixth Harness Day—2:15 class trot, purse $1,000; 2:13 class trot, purse $1,000; 2:10 class pace, purse $1,000; Stanford Stake, closed.

The entrance fee was fixed at 5 per cent., with an additional 5 per cent. from winners of money; entries to close August 1st.

It was ordered that the races begin on the first day of the Fair with a trotting card, and that trotting and running races alternate each day thereafter.

The usual admission tickets will be adhered to for the current year, except that a special coupon ticket of twelve coupons will be sold for $3 for admission to the Pavilion only.

The Chico Fair.

The racing meeting for August is now assured and all that is now required to make it a success is energetic work in arranging for it.

The committee appointed to solicit subscriptions has completed its work, and reports that the $1500 required to get the meeting have been raised.

The Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association has been notified of this fact.

The date of the meeting may be changed, as Marysville wants to be included in the circuit, and is now trying to raise the required amount of money. In the event of Marysville being included, the meeting at Chico will be one week later than heretofore decided upon.

Several letters have already been received by Chico people from horsemen who intend to put their "flyers" in the races here. Chico's track when in proper condition is considered very fast, excellent records having been made upon it. The work of getting it into proper shape will be begun at once and nothing will be left undone toward making the meeting a success. Those who have interested themselves in this meeting are not looking only to the temporal benefits to be derived, but they count that a rousing meeting this year will act as a stimulus for the future and tend to make good horses more sought for. This meeting will also encourage the owner of the race track to refrain from cutting it up.

The circuit for the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association will include several cities and towns in Northern California, and the meetings will be held in the following order: Oakland, Marysville, Chico, Willows, Woodland and Sacramento.

To make this meeting here what it should be, every person in Chico who is interested must manifest some interest. It has been a long time since Chico has had a race meeting, and the opportunity now is a rare one. The same horses will be here that will race at the State Fair.—Chico Record.

Almost Performed Miracles.

SALISBURY (Tex.), Oct. 30, 1894.

THE LAWRENCE-WILLIAMS CO., CLEVELAND, O.

The bottle of Gomball's Caustic Balm I ordered some three months ago came all right. I am liable to order almost any time, for I am running a 2,000-acre horse ranch here and a 480-acre horse ranch in Cass Co., Iowa, where I was when I ordered my first trial bottle. My first bottle almost performed miracles. It took a hard calloused leg down in five or six applications. The lump was nearly as large as the horse's knee, and I put him in races afterward and he didn't show any lameness. H. A. BURTON.

Pacific Coast Jockey Club Stockholders Meet.

Last Tuesday, in Parlor A, Palace Hotel, there was a meeting of the stockholders of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, at which officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, S. N. Androns; vice-president, Henry J. Crocker; secretary, F. H. Green; directors, Henry J. Crocker, W. S. Hobart, J. Malowansky, Edward Corrigan, M. F. Tarpey, S. N. Androns and F. H. Green.

President Thos. H. Williams, of the California Jockey Club, and Henry Ach, representing absent directors of that organization, who are also stockholders in the Pacific Club, were present and took part in an informal discussion of racing matters and President S. N. Androns said that the nine days' race meeting at Los Angeles in October would undoubtedly be a great success. The purses to be completed for aggregated $20,000, and ranged from $800 to $1,400 in the different events. A fine programme for the Sacramento (State Fair) meeting was also reported.

It was decided to transform the rooms at Ingleside track now occupied by the secretary and entry clerk into jockeys' quarters, and build a balcony from which the boys can view the racers. Their present quarters will be remodeled, so as afford accommodations for the entry clerk and for the transaction of general business, and a private room will also be arranged for the secretary.

The secretary reported that the steeplechase track, now in course of construction, had already cost close to $5,000, and the additional expense to complete it would be about $3,000.

The directors also took action in regard to the plan proposed shortly before the close of the racing season for the remodeling of a section of the track for the purpose of securing better drainage. This improvement, which it is estimated will cost $1,500, was ordered, and work was commenced on it last Wednesday. The change involves a reduction in the width of the track, but only the upper end of the oval will be affected. The part subtracted will be in the form of a segment, which at its widest point will measure sixteen feet. As no starts are made at the part of the track that is to be affected, the curtailed space will in no way be a detriment.

The matter of stakes for the fall meeting was informally discussed, and the trend of opinion was in favor of increasing the number of such events, but abolishing the $5,000 and $10,000 events or reduce the amounts materially. Definite action will be taken later.

No reference was made to the proposed race track scheme at San Clemente, Marin county, spoken of at such length in the various newspapers of late.

Bad-Tempered Engleish Turf Heroee.

Apops to the account of the death of Preakness, a famous man-eater, "Augur," in a recent issue of the Sporting Life, of London, says:

"There are no good reasons for the difference of tempers in thoroughbred horses, as although some people assert it to be hereditary, there have been numerous cases to refute that argument. My opinion is that some of the best and highest-couraged horses have been made bad-tempered by some accident, probably unknown to their owners or trainers, or else by carelessness or mismanagement. A savage kick or a bang over the quarters with a pitchfork may be done in a second, and no one has the wiser, but the singularly highly nerved animal does not forget it, and maybe it rankles in his aggrieved mind to make him touchy at first and then absolutely ill-tempered.

"The more high-couraged he is the more likely he is to lose his temper, and hence it is that some of the best horses ever known have been the worst-tempered. Lottery, the son of Tramp, was so bad-tempered that when he was a two-year-old it was proposed to shoot him, and when he ran in the St. Leger in Barefoot's year he would not try a yard. Fortunately for the turf in the future, he mended his ways so far as racing is concerned, and proved himself the best four-mile horse of his day. If he had remained the same sulky, as well as bad-tempered brute, he would most likely have been unsexed, and the world would have lost Sheet Anchor, and from him downwards Weatherbit and all the Beadsmen family. It is true the tribe have been labeled high-couraged and some of them had tempered. Beadsmen was a savage, and he cost Sir Joseph a pension of £50 a year by hitting a man's hand off. Rosicrucian would stand no nonsense, but many who had to do with him declared he was not bad tempered, and the last time I saw him he was like a pat lamb. Again, The Palmer, brother of Rosicrucian, was a particularly quiet horse. At least he was when I saw him as a stallion at Mr. Cookson's.

"The Baron was such a demon as a stallion that the bargain with the French government would have been repudiated if it had not been for the fact that when the Haras inspector came to England to buy him he was left in his box with him for some minutes, and the horse allowed him to pick up his feet and handle his legs. When the report came in, therefore, of his savage ways, the inspector, who was a great authority, declared it was an infamous falsehood, as he had found him quiet as a cow. There was no doubt about his being a savage though, and yet he got such good-tempered horses as Stockwell and Rataplan out of a grand-daughter of Sultan (a very fine one), besides a lot of temperate animals in France, such as La Touques, Noelle and Nobility."

Why You Should Use It.

John C. Boyd, Gentry, Tenn., writes: "I can recommend Quinn's Ointment as being the only remedy I ever tried that would remove a splint. I consider it invaluable. Don't fail to use it. For Curls, Splints, Spavins, Windpufts and all enlargements it has no equal." Price, $1.50. For sale by druggists and dealers, also in San Francisco by J. A. McKerron and J. O'Kana. W. B. ## HOOF-BEATS.

SIXTEEN of A. B. Spreckels' gallopers are at Napa resting up for the fall campaign.

AGITATO won a splendid pacing race at St. Joseph, Missouri, on Thursday; best time, 2:10½.

REDDINGTON, with Alf Stanford in the saddle, won a mile and a quarter hurdle race at Latonia last Wednesday.

THE list of horses burned in Missoula, Mont., are: Fire stone, 3; Hattie Willis, 2; Tha Spider, 2, all by Eolian, and Brino Tricks, p. 2:13½.

JOE KENNEDY, of Boise City, has sent his runners, Miss Idaho and Clacquer, to Montana in charge of "Brick" Fortune.—North Pacific Rural Spirit.

GATH gave David twelve pounds and best him at six furlongs in the mud (David's favorite kind of going) last Wednesday at St. Louis. Eddia Jones and Garco rode two winners apiece that day.

TRIMMOLO, a Victorian steeplechaser, was recently measured, and lifted the bar at 18 hands. He is the tallest timber-topper that ever competed in that colony. Merder, another jumper, measured 17.2½ hands.

THE first consignment of the very latest and best Toomay sulkies has arrived, and they are beauties. Nothing like them has ever been seen here before. J. O'Kane, 767 Market street, is the Pacific Coast agent. If you want to win money buy one of these.

DARE II. established a new track record for a mile and a sixteenth at the Fair Grounds in St. Louis last week, running the route in 1:46½, with 87 pounds on his back. The best previous record of 1:47 was made by Pat Dunn's Flying Dutchman, with 122 pounds up.

HARRY KUHLE, the experienced and efficient assistant secretary of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, has received an offer from President D. J. Campana to fill the same position at the track over which he presides at Detroit, and will depart for that place on Friday, returning here again in the fall.

THE famous old racehorse Semper Lax, who raced out here for the past two seasons, died at Plymouth, Ind., Tuesday night of huns received when en route from Chicago to New York. Semper Lax won the first race ever run over Ingleside track, and has been a more than ordinary performer.

EVERY horseman is praising Messrs. Bunch & Hables for the splendid condition they are keeping the San Jose track in this year. It never was better and the way the horses are moving over it without getting sore sets afloat the rumor that more record breakers and money-winners will come from this course this year than from any other in California.

RICHARD CROKER'S Rhoda B. by Hanover—Margarine, ran second to H. McCalmont's ch c Florio Rhattino for the New stakes at Ascot, England, June 17th. On the same date the Prince of Wales' great Derby and St. Leger winner, Perimmon, won the Ascot Gold Cup. Sandia, of the Lorillard-Beresford stable, won the first of the thirty-fifth New Biennial Stakes, and Mr. Fairie's h c Elgar captured the Rous Memorial Stakes.

At Ingalls Park, June 19th, sons of Morello (Charry Bonanca II. and Richard J.) ran one-two in a five-furlong race. It was a calamity to the turf when Morello died. He would have proven a king of sires, truly. There are few yearlings by the famous Futurity winner, and probably not over half a dozen for sale at any price, so well have they shown this season. In the first crop were such real crackerjacks as Recreation, Morello, Thorpe, Cherry Bounce, Morana and Richard J.

THE Montana multi-millionaire, Marcus Daly, last Wednesday cabled from Chicago to J. Russell Gubbins, of Knocknany, Ireland, an offer of $125,000 and half his turf winnings for the great Irish three-year-old colt, Galtea More (son of Kendal and Morganette), that has won the 2,000 Guineas, Derby and the Prince of Wales stakes and is almost a sure starter and winner of the St. Leger. This is the largest price ever offered for a three-year-old, and if Mr. Daly gets the big colt he will not race him much, but put him in the stud at his Bitter Creek farm, Hamilton, Mont.

THE Coney Island Jockey Club is out with its list of stakes for the autumn meeting of 1897, and they are tempting morsels to turfmen surely. Horses of all ages are given a chance to earn glory and coin. We notice the Twin City Handicap and Autumn Cup are $5,000 races, and two handicaps are to be run over the turf course—the Autumn Handicap and the Russet Handicap, the first-named at a mile and a quarter, the Russet at a mile and a half. The Coney Island Jockey Club always has a lot of interesting stake events, but this year the racing bids fair to eclipse that of other years.

It will pay farmers to attend the Palo Alto sale to be held in this city Thursday, July 8th, for bargains will be secured in fillies and colts that will quadruple in value inside of two years. It will be the last opportunity to get such splendid descendants of Electioneer, 2:17½; Clay, 2:25; Whips, 2:27; Truman, 2:12; Lottery; Hugo, 2:24; Azmoor, 2:20½; Alfred, 2:25; Piedmont, 2:17; Dexter Prince; Boxwood; Bernal, 2:17; Langton, 2:21½; Advertiser, 2:15½, etc. Many of them would do to take in hand at once and prepare for the races. Some splendid teams and fine, stylish geldings fit for roadsters will be found among them.

At last Wednesday's sale of Rancho del Paso yearlings at Sheephead Bay track the following brought $400 and over: B c by imp. Prestonpans—Queen's Taste, A. B. Joyner, $400; b c by imp. Watercrest—Queen B., W. B. Gilpin, $750; h f by imp. Sir Modred—Rosemary, Matt Byrnes, $550; b c by imp. Golden Garter—School Girl, P. Lorillard, $600; c b c by imp. Sir Modred—Sweet Briar, P. #### A FEW TESTIMONIALS FROM PROMINENT HORSEMEN WHO HAVE USED IT.

We, the undersigned, have used and seen used DeHuy's Balmoline for cracked heels, hobbie chafes, cuts, etc., and found it perfectly satisfactory in every respect: Andy McDowell, Ben Kenney (trainer and driver for Marcus Day, Hamilton, Mont.), W. ## VIVA LA

Brown Colt, foaled in 1892, Bred by Jos. Cairn Simpson.

BY WHIPS, SIRE OF AZOTE, 2:04 3-4, COBWEBS, 2:12, AND SEVERAL OTHERS IN THE LIST

FIRST DAM—JOE VIVA, by Joe Hooker.

SECOND DAM—LADY VIVA, by Three Cheers (dam of Electioneer Rex, showed when a two-year-old quarters in 36 seconds.)

THIRD DAM—LADY AMANDA, by imp. Hurrah (the dam of Electioneer Jr., formerly Advance, three-year-old record 2:22 1/2).

FOURTH DAM—LADY LANCASTER, by imp. Monarch. The dam of Malcolm Regent, Ontario and several other winners. Marion, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rev, Yo Tambien, and several other high-class race horses, is by Malcolm, and the breeding of Viva La-Electioneer, combined with strains of thoroughbred which have shown adaptability to acquire trotting action, is now greatly fancied by intelligent breeders.

VIVA LA is sixteen hands high, a rich seal brown in color and more than usually handsome, combining muscular power and quality in an eminent degree. He was trained a little in his yearling form and showed a 2:40 gait and was improving rapidly when his training was suspended. He can scarcely fail on the right sort of mares to get fast trotters, and with nearly a certainty of securing good-sized, fine-looking horses which even in these times are in demand.

LIMITED TO TWENTY-FIVE MARES.

ALTAMONT is the champion sire of 2:10 performers, being the only horse living or dead with six to his credit. He has taken a leading position among the foremost trotting sires of the country under such conditions that phenomenal ability alone has saved him from oblivion. A very small proportion of his progeny has been trained, and an extremely small number of these by competent men. As a partial illustration of his meagre advantages, it may be stated that he has never produced a colt from a pacing-bred mare, or from one with a fast record. Nor has he ever yet been crossed with a descendant of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Dictator, Sidney or Dexter Prince. Oregon and Washington have produced seven 2:10 performers, and EVERY ONE of these are ALTAMONTs.

ALTAMONT is a horse of iron constitution, and at twenty-two years of age is in the full vigor of his prime, a sure foal-getter, and, except for his hindness—the result of an accident—is without blemish. He has never sired a sorrel, all of his colts having been solid colors—bays, browns or blacks. He is now located in Alameda, at Herbert's Stables, on Sherman street, between Santa Clara and Central avenues. Alameda local S. P. and Narrow Gauge trains from San Francisco, stop within two blocks of stable, and Oakland and Alameda electric cars, half a block away. Residence two doors from stable.

EXTREME SPEED AND RACE HORSE QUALITY

THE KING OF ALL RACE HORSES AND SIRES.

McKINNEY. 2:11 1-4.

Will Make the Season of 1897, Commencing February 1st at

Oakland Trotting Park,

AT $100 THE SEASON.

As a Nine-Year-Old Stallion, McKinney's List Leads All Others in the World for Average Speed:

Jenny Mc, 3.....2:12	Harvey Mc, 2.....2:18	Sola, 4.....2:25 3-4
McZeus, 4.....2:13	Julia B, 3.....2:16 1-4	Sola, 4, trial.....2:15 1-2
Zombro, 3.....2:13	Jenny Mc, 2.....2:20 1-4	Ostro, 2.....2:30
Harvey Mc, 3.....2:14 1-4	Sir Credit, 3.....2:25	Pat Cooney, trial.....2:19

No stallion of his age and record has such a showing for early and extreme speed. Four three-year-olds with records better than 2:15. Out of 73 mares bred to him in 1896, 70 have proven with foal.

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 was foaled June 12, 1887, sired by the great Alcyone (son mare by Mambrino Patchen), dam Rosa Sprague, by Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, he by Rhode Island, 2:23 1/4, out of Belle Brandon (dam of Amy, 2:20 1/4, Gov. Sprague, 2:20 1/4, Wilmar, 2:29 1/4), by Hambletonian 10; grandam Jenny, by Young Bacchus (thoroughbred); great grandam Worden mare, by Exton Eclipse (thoroughbred). The second dam of McKinney was Rose Kenney (dam of Messenger Chief, sire of sixteen in 2:30 list) by Mambrino Messenger, one of the strongest-bred Messenger studs in the Registry. Third dam J. L. Kenney mare, dam of Gen. G. H. Thomas (sire of seven in 2:30) by Mambrino Chief 11. Fourth dam Jesse Bryan mare, by imp. Napoleon (thoroughbred). Fifth dam by Tempest (thoroughbred).

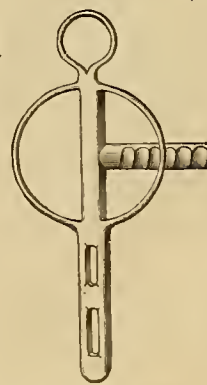

McKINNEY 2:11 1-4 is 15.2 1/2 hands, weight 1140, and is one of the most perfect-made horses in America, having plenty of bone and substance. He started in twenty-eight races and won twenty-five of them. His reputation as a game and consistent performer is world wide. As a sire the few of his progeny that have been handled for speed have demonstrated that they inherit all his extraordinary good qualities.

In case mare does not prove with foal, I agree to give a return service free next season if the horse is in my possession. In case he is not, I will return one-half the money paid. Mares shipped to 16th Street Station, Oakland, will receive prompt attention. The best care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. Pasturage $5 per month. Spavins, Curbs, Ringbones, Sprung Knees, Capped Hocks and Knees, Saddle Galls, Rheumatism, Shoulder Lameness, Wind Puffs, Navicular Disease, Joint Lameness, Fistulae, Shoe Boils, Quittor, Tumors, Muscle Soreness, Splints, Thoroughpins, Sprung Tendons, Enlarged and Suppurated Glands, Soft Bunches, Bony Growths, Etc., Etc.

W. A. W. TURNBULL, V. M. D.,

Formerly resident surgeon in charge of the Veterinary Hospital, University of Pennsylvania.

CURINE is the most powerful paint known, and supersedes all cautery or firing. It contains no grease and will not blanch or remove the hair. Its effects are absorbent, alterative, penetrative and antiseptic, and is the only preparation capable of reaching the deepest seated troubles.

Horses can be worked as usual while using this marvelous paint. It is used with phenomenal success in Europe, and in the leading trotting and running stables in the United States and Canada. Any person who purchases a bottle, and after using half of it according to explicit directions, and finds it will not do what we claim, can return the bottle and money will be refunded. Reference: First National or Citizens National Bank, Latrobe, Pa. WE WILL WAGER $100 that one bottle of CURINE used according to explicit directions will reach deeper seated troubles, produce better effects for the same troubles than any other compound in the world.

DUDLEY

RECORD, 2:14.

—SIRE BY—

ANTEROS 6920, dam LILY LANGTRY, by Nephew; second dam Miss Trabern, by Gen. McClellan; third dam Belle Maboue (grandam of Vouber), by Norfolk; fourth dam Maid of Oaks, by Jack Hawkins. Anteros is a full brother to Anteo, 2:16 1/4, Antevolo, 2:19 1/4, etc., being by Electioneer, out of Columbine, by A. W. Richmond. Anteros is the sire of Antidote, 2:10 1/4, Nelly F., 2:13 1/4, and seventeen others in 230 list. Nephew is the sire of twenty-one in the list, and is considered one of the strongest-bred sires ever brought to California. Gen. McClellan 144 sired Dan Voorbees, 2:23 1/4, St. Helena, 2:27 1/4, etc., and the dam of Beauty Mc., 2:14 1/4, etc. The rest of the pedigree of Dudley rests upon the very stoutest of thoroughbred lines.

DESCRIPTION—DUDLEY is a bay in color, black points, stands over 16 hands, and is one of the most symmetrically-made horses in California. He has the kindest disposition, is level-headed, and for his speed, it is well known that his record of 2:14 is no mark of him. His progeny in Humboldt County are spoken of as marvelous. One of them, a two-year-old called Tribby, got a mark of 2:32 in a race, scored thirteen times. His breeding is unsurpassed, and with his individuality he should make a great name as a sire of band some, level-headed horses, fit either for track or road—borses that will sell.

DUDLEY will make the Season of 1897 at my place, Haywards, Alameda County.

TERMS—$50 THE SEASON.

Only a limited number of mares taken. Good pasturage at $3 PER MONTH. The best of care taken of mares, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes. For further particulars address WILKES, 2:22, and DOLLY, dam of DIRECTOR, 2:17, THORNDALE, 2:21, etc.), sire of 113 in 230 list; dam NANCY LEE (dam of NANCY HANKS, 2:04, and DIRECTOR WILKES, sire of six in 230 list), by Dictator; second dam SOPHY (grandam of Mike Wilkes, 2:15 1/4, Ira Wilkes, 2:23 1/4, and the sires Adrian Wilkes and Ira Wilkes) by Edwin Forrest 49; third dam Sophronia, by Brown Pilot; fourth dam by Bertrand; fifth dam by Lance, son of American Eclipse; sixth dam by Gray Dungannon. This is the acme of fashionable breeding. In conformation, disposition, color and pure trotting action, HART BOSWELL is perfect. He has never been worked for speed. His progeny are strong-limbed, level-headed and very promising, and are conceded by competent judges to be the finest-formed youngsters in California. Terms $50 for the season. Address K.
